TWO CLERKS NEEDED

The Winsted, Conn., Evening Citizen, recntly ran a little advertisement of its own, directed at its advertisers. It said: 'A store that doesn't advertise still needs two clerks-one to carry out the other who faints when a customer comes in. Advertising is the life blood of business."

That goes for the sellers of goods and services-and for concerns that want to build up confidence and public interest, which are touchstones of commercial success. Advertising isn't an expense in the ordinary sense-by building business, it helps to lower costs to producer and consumer both. And the newspaper, large or small, remains the most effective advertising medium .-- Industrial News Review.

still enjoy that distinction. If a business gets too monopolistic, or otherwise fails to serve the people better than any other, competition, time and obsolescence will soon remedy that wrong."

EAST HAMPTON, CONN., NEWS: "A growing bureaucracy, a continued lust for power among those who govern us, can lead but inevitably to dictatorship

HIGHLAND, ILL., NEWS LEAD-ER: "Economic freedom is the freedom to risk everything on an idea and get into the thick of competition, in the hope of building a profitable enterprise. By contrast, socialism discourages risktaking, stops competition, and profits hardly anyone."

SAC CITY, IOWA, SUN: "An individual who gets into debt so far that he can never wiggle out, soon goes bankrupt. What happens to a nation that remains head over heels in debt and makes no payments on that obligation? Certainly the credit of that nation will hang in the balance."

CARLSBAD, N.M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "The proposed bill to free natural gas producers from federal control has payed hob with party lines in Congress. The issue is not whether natural gas rates may be raised or lowered; that is a side effect. The real issue is whether the federal government should be granted the power to go to a gas well and tell the producer what price he can get for his product as it flows into the line and heads for a city. It seems to us this is an unwarranted grant of power to the federal government."

"Last month, my husband came home early one Monday, and there I was, in the basement, doing my regular weekly wash.

"Of course, there was water all over the place, wet clothes were piled in the baskets and I was looking like anything but a sweet young housewife.

FEESERSBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

The Lehigh Cement Company will face some competition in 1958 when the Alpha Portland Cement Co. of Easton, Pa., plans to have its proposed plan in Frederick County completed and in operation. Three tracts of land have been purchased in the area of Buckeystown and Adamstown. It is reported that the tracts were purchased for $417,500 and consist of about 850 acres. It is understood that work on the multi-million dollar plant will begin in the early spring and will take about 18 months to com plete. It will be the ninth in the chain operated by the Alpha Com-pany which was established in 1895. When finally completed it will employ 250 men. In view of the proposed road building program by the Federal government new cement plants are greatly needed by the nation. During the last war cement was as hard to get as soap powders. There seems to be no let up for the demand for cement now or in the near future and so our local cement plant should not have to fear any competition from any source. Since our economy is based on the free enterprise system a little competition might prove to be a nealthy thing for both the public and he company.

If you like to read the farm sales advertisements you will have proba-oly noticed that there is one item nissing from most ads and that is the horse. Once in a while a riding horse is listed but not often. The farm work horse is almost extinct. Just as the farm horse has had his day and departed I predict that one day the row will disappear too. The research aboratories will one day put bossy out of a job. If this seems farfetched the dairyman then all we have to say is live 20 more years and the cow will be replaced by the chemist. Report cards were distributed this past Friday at our local school. Sometimes we think they are a modern form of torture. It is a rare boy or girl who believes the teachers have made a fair estimate of his or her work, and put it on a report card in the form of an A B C D or F. I would never want the responsibility of writing an F on any boy or girl's report card, because I could never make mycard, because I could hever make my-self believe that the child had failed, but rather I, as a teacher had failed. Every child has potential abilities and to mark failure on a report card is adding another unnecessary burden to a child's frail shoulders. There should be a kinder way to call attention to a child's lack of interest in school work. It may come as a shock to some teachers to learn that children blame the teacher for their lack of enthusiasm for certain subjects. Some teachers have the ability to make even the dullest subjects come alive, while others can put even the brightest pupils in the class in a state of coma by being bored. Report cards are necessary, bored. Report cards are necessary, no doubt but often they do more harm than good. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Fuss and Mrs. Samuel Valentine spent Sunday after-noon with Mrs C. RED CROSS DRIVE FOR FUNDS MARCH 1st

To meet the heavily increased needs for the humanitarian services of the American National Red Cross and its 3,700 chapters in the 1956-57 fiscal year, an army of 1,500,000 volunteers will take to the field March 1st in the will take to the field March 1st in the organization's annual campaign for members and funds, Paul M. Beck-with, Fund Campaign Chairman, an-nounced today. 500 of these volunteers will be working in Carroll coun-

The 1956 campaign coincides with the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Red Cross in this county by Clara Barton. Red Cross leadership in the alleviation of suffering and the pursuit of world peace has grown steadily ever since.

"In the present world tension we cannot afford to slacken our efforts", Mr. Beckwith stated. "Instead, we must be ready for any eventuality. The American people also expect their Red Cross to keep pace with the nation's increasing need for Red Cross

Mr. Beckwith said the organization's budget committee has set the gross budgetary requirements for the coming fiscal year at $11,300. A portion of this will go to the national office and the remainder will be used for local purposes. "During the past 75 years the American people, through their Red Cross have assisted their neighbors in about 6,000 disaster relief opera-tions" Mr. Beckwith pointed out. "They have also made possible health and welfare services to untold thousands of servicemen in the four wars; have financed the collections of millions of pints of blood for military and civilian use; and have helped raise the health standards of millions of Americans through Red Cross courses in first aid, water safety and nursing services." "All these services must be continued in the nation's interest", Mr. Beckwith said in urging that the people of Carroll county "make it possible with their usual understanding and generosity."

In Loving Memory of my wife, RHODA CLINGAN,

who departed Feb. 14, 1952

All to myself I think of you, Think of the things we used to do, Think of the things we used to say, Think of each happy yesterday. Sometimes I sigh, sometimes I cry, But I keep my thoughts inside, If from my heart I could make a wish, I'd whisper soft and low. Dear God, let me have by dear wife back, Because I miss her so, Time may pass and bring its changes, Fresh with every coming year, But her memory will be cherished, By the hearts that holds her dear. Loving Husband.

JERRY CLINGAN.

way up town and either walked down or hitch-hiked! Everyone was in a or hitch-niked: Everyone was in a jovial mood. Cars were being tagged by the Law here and there and each time, I saw this being done I said to the policeman, 'Oh—how could you at such a critical time? Orto-be-a law!" That brought a big grin and he replied, "Just have to do my job, Lady! Mrs. Housewife don't start clean-ing house for the Spring by having the house all up side down. Clean one room thoroughly at a time and it will be much easier for you plus keeping all the members of your home happy Start earlier this year so you can be outdoors when the days are ideal.

Are you keeping on that diet which you started at the beginning of the year? When you desire to eat any-thing sweet, just bite into an apple or any kind of fruit and that will stop the craving for sweets. One does not have to go on a severe diet-the one real way is, do not ask for any second helping. Eat plenty of greens. The next time you are in Baltimore be sure and visit the Walters Art Gallery. It is free and the hours are Mondays, October through May 1:30 to 5, 7:30 to 9:30 other weekdays, 11 to 5; July and August weekdays 11 to 4; Sundays and Holidays 2 to 5. Closed on New Year's Day, July 4, Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve and Christmas. There are 20,000 and more objects housed in this building illustrate the artistic history of most of the important civilizations from the ancient empires of Mesopotamia and Egypt down to Europe in the 19th Century. As I walked up Charles Street, I stepped into this building and only wish that I had more time to brouse around. All the things in this place were gathered over a period of 90 vears by Wm. T. Walters and his son Henry. During the Civil War, Wm. Walters lived broad. Henry was his ompanion as a boy on jour neys to the museums and the artists' studios and developed his own zest for collecting along with practical lesson in judging and acquiring works of art. At his father's death, he set out to expand the accumulation. The paintings and sculptures of the Gallery have always attracted interest but one must give it close study to enjoy it all and take time. Upon entering, the visitor finds himself in a Central Court devoted to the arts of ancient Greece and Rome. There is so much more to write about it all. There is always much charm and distinguish in this section of Baltimore. It is located near the Washington Monumentwhich is not too far from the shopping district. There are four guides who district. There are four guides will explain much interest to you.

Have a grand week-end, Folks. Drive carefully. Leave earlier for the destination always for it is better to be glad than sorry. So long until next week. D.V. I am, Faithfully,

Because of Him we are all here today And because of Him we shall always stay.

Such wisdom mortal man has never known; It belongs to God, and to Him alone; How He made the flavors shall always be The puzzle of puzzles on this earth to me.

It all goes to show that, in His great plan God has never ceased to think of man; And, mortal man should bow his head in shame When he fails to hallow His Holy name

The tomato is an example of what you shall see, When Time is lost in eternity; From a little "love berry", the size of a pea, See what a giant it has grown to be.

Just so, all the fruits throughout the land Shall grow in beauty and expand; The cornfields like forests shall seem to be When Earth celebrates her great jubilee.

The Bible tells how conditions shall be When we celebrate that great jubilee; The lion and the lamb shall together feed; And, no longer kill, because of greed.

Man Can Choose

Lesson for February 19, 1956

T HE difference between man and the other animals is not in one thing but in many things. But one of the most important facts about man is his power of choice. Some little creatures of the sea just sit in one place their life long. Others drift with the tides. Higher animals like dogs and horses make some choices; but only man makes, what time he will Dr. Foreman get up; but man sets an alarm clock. A dog does not select his breakfast; man does (or would like to). A human being decides what to wear, where to work, whom to marry, whether to have children, whether to be a good citizen or no citizen at all. He selects a school or college, he selects his friends, he picks out a lot in the cemetery, he makes a will. Man is the choosing animal. And he is this because he is more than body. He is mind and Everybody knows that some choices are more important than others. At least everybody should know this; but for some reason,

people will put more thought into trifling decisions than they do into big ones. People need to learn what is important and what is not. A woman who had had a nervous breakdown told the writer that it all started when she couldn't make up her mind which of two hats to buy. One was only one dollar more than the other, and she could afford the dollar. But she actually lay awake all night worrying about whether she had a moral right to spend that extra dollar when there were so many people in the world. So she worried herself right into a sanitarium because she built up a trifling decision into a Terrific Problem. What makes a choice important? Surely a choice that lasts a long time is more important than one that makes a difference only a few hours or days. A choice that affects one's whole life is more important than one that affects only one part of it. A choice that lasts beyond this life into the next, a choice for eternity, is surely the most important of all.

Choosing Christ

Becoming a Christian can be described in various ways: one of the most meaningful is "choosing Christ." Jesus himself used to say "Believe in me" or "Follow me," which mean much the same thing. Choosing, or believing in Christ, is much more than just adding certain beliefs to whatever else you happen to believe. It is more than adding one more person to a list of persons you already admire. Choosing Christ is a far more profound thing. Real choice of Christ involves a turning-about of the whole personality. The captain of a ship headed north does not merely believe that North exists; he heads the ship that way, he keeps it moving toward the north star. So a person who chooses Christ does not simply believe that he exists, or that he is Son of God. He turns the helm of his life toward him, he keeps moving in the direction of Christ the "Morning Star." If that rich young man whom Jesus loved had followed instead of turning away, who knows what a changed man he would have been? We do know that the dishonest grafter Zacchaeus, a man of whom his neighbors could have expected little good, once he let Jesus into his life, was a radically different man.

Time and Eternity

Choice for Christ is a choice for a lifetime; so is choice against him. It is not a choice you make once and that's an end of it. It is a choice that has to be made again and again day by day. Every day brings you some moment of decision, where the way you decide is really a choice for Christ or against him. Deciding for Christ affects all your other decisions. For now you are his, and all your life's course is steered by his star. More than this: decision for Christ is a choice for Eternity. You enter the life beyond as his friend, or not his friend. He is the Light of the world. To turn from him is to choose the dark. "There are only two roads through life: with him, or without him. There are only two ends of life: with him, in the light, or without him, in the dark. The light is his gift; but the choice is your own.

WOMEN OF KEYSVILLE LUTHERAN CHURCH

The United Lutheran Church Wo-men of the Keysville Lutheran church met Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Gilbert Stine and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner as leaders. The topic for discussion was "Lutheran Work Among Indian Americans". The scripture lesson from John 13 chapter and Matthew 28 chapter was read by Mrs. Baumgardner. She offered the Mrs. Baumgardner. She offered the prayer and asked questions concern-ing the topic which were answered by Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Mrs. Carroll Dougherty, Mrs. Harry Clabaugh and Mrs. Robert Stine. The Indian finds himself between two cultures. He clings to the old life, yet must adjust himself to the way of life set by the White Man.
