TEACHERS' WORKSHOP

Elementary Instructors Met With Supervisors

A workshop for the elementary teachers of Carroll County was held in Westminster during the two weeks' period, June 11th to 22nd. This was the third successive year in which a workshop has been held. Eighty-six teachers voluntarily participated. All of the elementary schools of the county were represented. The theme of the workshop was The Basic Skills in Today's Schools. The program included four days devoted to the teaching of reading; one day to the teaching of writing; two days to the teaching of oral and written languages, and two days to the teaching of oral and written languages, and two days to the teaching of oral and written languages, and two days to the teaching. guage; and two days to the teaching of arithmetic. Educational consultants were secured to direct the work in the various subject areas. Miss Lyn Tilland, New York City, was in charge of the work in reading; Mr. William Dixon, Philadelphia, in spelling; Miss Druscilla Worthington, Columbus, Ohio, in writing; Miss Eugenia Muller, New York City, in oral and written language; and Dr. Robert M. Wayman, New York City, in arithmetic metic.

The responsibility for the planning and the general directing of the workshop was assumed by the elementary supervisors.

These workshops serve to acquaint teachers with newer trends and improved techniques of teaching and also form a background for curricu-

A CONSERVATION PROGRAM FOR WATER RESOURCES

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, Jr., Director of the Maryland Department of Geology, Mines, and Water Resources, reports several noteworthy conclusions unanimously agreed upon at the Southern Water Conference in Memphis. These include: (1) There is no scarcity of water resources. (2) The problem of adequate water supplies is an economic problem. (3) The doctrine of riparian rights requires modifying legislation. An extensive inventory has been conducted by the Maryland Department of Geology, Mines, and Water Resources cooperatively with U. S. Geological Survey to determine the condition of our surface and ground water resources. Since 1943 nearly $1,500,000 has been expended for this survey, and 21 of Maryland's 23 counties have completed this detailed inventory of their water resources. Maryland has more quantitative knowledge of its water resources than any other state.

The State's average annual rainfall exceeds 7,000 billion gallons of which 60 per cent is consumed by nature by evaporation. Nevertheless, there has not been one public water system in Maryland which has been unable to secure adequate water resources. The only pressing water problems of the Sunday school the following went to State is a soldison of supplemental Camp Nawakwa for a week Susan irrigation needs irrigation needs.

SUMMER CAMP FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

Approximately Thirty-five Children Have Been Registered

The two summer day camps by the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children, Inc., are scheduled for July 9 to 27 inclusive. Approxi-mately thirty-five children have been registered.

The Westminster camp to be held at the East End Elementary School on Center and Green Sts., will be directed by Miss Helen Lindsay of Marston. Miss Lindsay, a graduate of Towson State Teachers College, taught a class of slow learners this past year in Baltimore County and has worked three summers with the children in the Rosewood State Train-

Mrs. Langdon was graduated from Western Maryland College and has had five years teaching experience, has served as a counselor in two summer camps, and has been an active member of the Association for Retarded Children since its organization in 1954.

The Mt. Airy camp will be held in Legion Hall, Wildwood Park, Mt. Airy. It will be directed by Mrs. Mary Myers with Mrs. Arthur Shipley assisting. Mrs. Myers, a graduate of Western Maryland College, has taught seven years in the county. Last summer she took a six week course in special education at the Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti, Michigan, and this past year she taught one of the classes for retarded children established in the county under the public school system.

As Mrs. Myers assistant, Mrs. Ship-ley's great love and ability to work with these children were demonstrated during this past school year.

The camp activities will include a great deal of music (singing, records, singing games, and a rhythm band) and other activities such as finger painting, coloring and cutting, use of educational toys, stories, outdoor play, and the daily tea time and rest period. The older children from Westminster camp will be given two week's swimming instruction at the Meadow View Swimming Pool in Union Mills.

The children of the Mt. Airy camp will work on a circus unit which will be climaxed by a circus parade.

A day's outing has been planned on Monday, July 23, when both camps will meet together in Wildwood Park, Mrs. James R. Langdon, chairman of the summer camp committee, re-ports the following: Mrs. Lula Mullicanteen chairman for the Mt. Airy camp; in Westminster, Mr. Wagner Miller, transportation chairman; Mrs. George Wagner, canteen chairman; and Mrs. Glenn Matthias, participation chairman.

Parents of children attending this camp are advised to have their child given a complete physical checkup before camp time so that precautions can be taken to prevent any child from participating in a activity for which he is not physically fit.

There is no tuition charge for this This year the people of Carroll County have made it possible for its retardates to benefit from a secand camp experience by generously supporting the local Association for Retarded Children.

Miss Louise Bankert, of Union Mills is taking a course in special education offered under the Syracuse University summer school extension program in Silver Springs, Md. Miss Bankert taught one of the Davis Library classes for the retarded last

TENTH ANNUAL 4-H CLUB FAIR AND FARM QUEEN CONTEST

The tenth annual Carroll County 4-H Fair will be held at the Agricul-ture Center on Wednesday and Thursday, July 18th and 19th. In the past decade this fair has grown from a small girls achievement day held at various places over the county to the present day with thirty-four clubs and 600 girls and boys participating. From 1947 the fair has progressed from the old Taneytown Fair Grounds to its central location in Westminster with fine cattle sheds and a beautiful auditorium for girls' exhibits and style review.

Panents, local leaders, Club agents and club members are making final preparation for the big day when they can display and compare their achieve ments with those from all over the Highlighting the round of two-day events will be girls exhibits in foods, clothing, home furnishings, flower arrangements, booths and demonstrations. Boys activities will include demonstrations, tractor operacontest, 4-H judging contests, and showing of dariy, swine, beef, and poultry.

In addition to the 4-H exhibits the Farm Queen Contest, sponsored by the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau, will be held Thursday evening following the girls Style Review According to entries received this fair should have more entries and greater participation than in any previous year. The youth of the county have worked diligently during the past year and the public is invited to view the fine accomplishments of these young people.

Mt. Airy, Md., Mar. 3, 1956 Dear Mr. Stonesifer: I am enjoying the Record so much, I must write again, tho each time I see something so interesting I feel the same. How do you get the Record to hold its high standard-and so superior to other rural town papers!

This time I was so pleased to see the reference to my grandfather's vote for Lincoln? Believe it, could have been Daddy's as I think he was drafted and just missed going when Gettysburg happened. It sounds like him and his father too, very inde-pendent thinking, regardless of what others thought of him for doing it. I do remember how he made us young ones almost reverence the name of Lincoln and everything he did-almost as if he were God.

Each time I wonder who that Ruth Roelke is. She is rather remarkable isn't she? Missed the Reindollar poen last time. But all the splendid little side remarks, quotations, etc., you use as filler ins—wonder where you get so many good ones?

Didn't think I would, but each week find myself reading it through as I saw my mother and Daddy. I pass them on to my brother Ben. Thanking you, RENA FLEAGLE KENNEDY.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

HOLDS JUNE SOCIAL Approximately 200 attended the first June Social held in Trinity Lutheran Church on Thursday evening, June 28. The program was in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Stanley B. Jennings, who opened the evenings activities with devotions. Next time was devoted to the fellowship singing led by Mrs. Stanley B. Jennings, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Henry I. Reindollar. The pastor then introduced those new members received. introduced those new members received into the congregation since June 1, 1955. During this period of time fifty members were received into the congregation. Pastor Jennings then spoke of the significance of fellowship in the Christian Church; and on behalf of all Trinity's organizations and auxiliaries expressed invitations for the new members to become associated in all phases of congregational life. As a special feature of the evening the much publicized film, "The Life of Martin Luther" was shown. Mr. Merle Ohler served as projectionist. The evening was concluded with a period of fellowship during which refreshments were served by members of the Mite Society.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD

The July meeting of the Taneytown Presbyterian Men's Brotherhood was held in the church sanctuary last Tuesday night, with the ladies as guests. The entire program consisted of spiritual fellowship in group singing, prayer, and a message given by the Rev. John D. Tate of the Hamilton Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, Rev. Tate, was introduced by the President of the Brotherhood, Mr. Harold J. Hamilton. The Brotherhood, as well as the lady guests, have received much inspiration from Rev. Tate's dynamic talk on "What Makes a Christian." He pointed out that to be a Christian one must be a Churchman, an Evangelist, a Steward, a Moralist and a Citizen.

After the meeting, members of the Berean Circle served delicious refreshments on the back lawn of the Manse.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column) With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Your Observer and the family were guests again at the annual reunion of "The Webbs" on Sunday after church services which always is held at Shanberger Park, Fawn Grove, Pa.

The Webbs present (and there are guits a number) were descondanted.

quite a numbzer) were descendants of Joseph and Salome Webb.

It is a wonderful get together and has been going on like this for many years and everyone knows the other individual regardless of the marriage. A Ministerial Student studying in Tennessee at the Maryville College asked the "Grace" before the big feast and I do mean feast—truly fit for a King and Queen.

Immediately following a grand program was scheduled which everyone envived.

First the 23rd Psalm was repeated in Unison and then a fine young Methodist Minister of Fawn Grove who also was a guest, Rev. Thomas Stewart prayed. His beautiful wife was art prayed. His beautiful wife was right there, too with their year old adopted baby. A vocal solo by Mr. Robert Cramer, "Blest Be The Tie!" A trumpet solo by little Rachel Scarborough; a vocal solo by Miss Nancy Susan Love, "Oh, Perfect Love."; a little decendant, Donnie Webb pleased the audience with a vocal solo.

Mrs. Irene deLeon Love read a poem from the "Methodist Woman" magazine titled, "Meditation!" (Every wife should read that one).

The entire group sang hymns.

The entire group sang hymns.
There was that cute Joan Kaltreider from Red Lion who is very much talented playing several numbers on the accordion.

Another vocal solo by Mr. Harry De Voe from Cambridge, Md.
A prayer and talk by Rev. F. H.
Love of the North Harford Circuit who was also a guest. A special vocal number by Miss Jeannette Wilson and then the lovely and appropriate hymn by the entire group, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again!" The benediction closed the services or program by Rev. Thomas Stewart.

The nice part, the day was so much cooler than the previous one which made it all the more enjoyable.

There was a business meeting of the group and beautiful gifts were presented to those who were married the longest, the new bride, the oldest lady and oldest gentleman, the smallest baby and youngest.

Then the president announced all those who enjoyed hard shell crabs to dive in and as we looked around there were bushel baskets being unloaded with that special sea food. (on the long tables)!

Many of the younger group went bathing in a lovely pool there, operated by the Shanberger Park Company. Supper is served later on in the evening as there truly were gobs of food as plentiful as one sees in the windows in the New York restaurants. It is a day which all the big and little Webbs anticipate yearly. It is grand to up keep this custom and if you have a big family why not start it this very year?

If you have a dog in your house or around your place don't forget to give him a drink of water several times a day in this hot weather. And don't forget to remove your shoes and stockings and walk around in you bare feet—let them breathe! Each day a card arrives from a friend who is again making the trip from San Bernardino to Baltimore and that all alone —this makes the third time she has attempted this. Nothing can beat the power of a woman! Eh? She drove across the desert at night. Each day she is nearer and nearer but I'll be glad when the suspense is over.

Have a grand week end, folks. Be most careful as you drive and if you are tired at any time do not attempt to drive or turn the wheel over to Ir on the highway. So long. Until next week. D. V. I am, Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER

CIGARETTES' TAX HIGHER

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes announced that retail dealers in cigarettes will have to pay $27.50 instead of the present $25.00 in license fees when the new Unfair Cigarette Sales Act went into effect on July 1. This act passed at the last session of the General Assembly, prohibits retailers from using cigarettes as "loss leaders" and "bait advertising". The law is to be administered by the Maryland State License Buheaded by Edward J. Dyas, Chief Inspector.

Because the new act did not become effective until July 1, and since tobacco licenses are normally renewable May 1 for a period of one year, additional licenses required by the law will be effective this year for only ten months. Retailers will be required to purchase the usual $25.00 annual license as well as a special $2.50 license, the proceeds of which will be used to pay for administering the act. The retailers will be required to have two separate licenses, the $25.00 and the $2.50 rather than one $27.50 license. This is necessary because the political subdivision in which the retailer is located gets 97 per cent of the $25.00, and the State retains 3 per cent. However, the entire proceeds of the $2.50 license are to be retained by the State to defray the administrative expense involved.

The new law also affects cigarette vending machine operators and cigarette wholesalers, requiring them to secure additional licenses.

AN EARLY REMINDER

If we have reflected even for a moment on the deep significance of Independence Day, it is none too early now to begin reflecting on how each of us can, come November 6, do his part to assert that independence, acknowledge our freedom.

The one big way to do it is to begin informing ourselves on the campaign issues—and then firmly to resolve that when Election Day comes, we will Fewer than 44,450,000 independent and free Americans bothered to vote in the Congressional elections of 1954—less than 52% of those eligible. That is a sad, almost disgraceful commentary on whatever noble thoughts were entertained on the Fourth of July.

MALTA, MONTANA, NEWS: "We are opposed to any plan for federal intervention in education financing beyond those in which the government is already engaged. We pay a huge price for every service or commodity we receive from Washington." AMBRIDGE, PA., DAILY CITI-ZEN: "Religion, as a well known professor of philosophy once said, 'is a life of adventure, born in aspiration. with fidelity and courage."

It matures in purpose and comes to its fulfillment in commitment.' There is a lot of chewy intellectual meat in those

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor, We have considerable sympathy for we have considerable sympacty for the views of Publisher Landon Wills of the McLean County News, of Cal-houn, Ky., and may even qualify as a Daylight Waster too. In fact, if the sentiment builds up a little, we could doubtless be persuaded to join the Daylight Wasters of America, Un-

"We see by some of the big city daily papers," writes Mr. Wills, that all the city slickers are now on Daylight Saving Time.

"We just want to let you know that this editor is on Daylight Wasting Time. We understand that DST means that you get up and start everything just an hour earlier so you can get out and play golf sooner. (Everybody who is anybody plays golf. Now you take President Eisenhower. He never misses a chance to play golf. So all other good citizens ought to follow the President's example.)

"The trouble with me is I can't play golf. Even if I had the money to buy me a ball and bat, I wouldn't know which end of the bat to take hold of. Since I can't afford to play hold of. Since I can't afford to golf, I'll be dadburned if I am get up an hour earlier so somebody else can. "But I figure if getting up an hour earlier is daylight saving, then get-ting up an hour later is daylight wasting. And I always figured less daylight would be a good thing. The sun gets kind of hot during the dayight, and makes a man sweat at work And sometimes the sunlight shines in a man's eyes and blinds him to the big goal he's driving toward over on

"Another bad thing about daylight A man gets to looking at all the thing about him that need to be worked or maybe some improving to be done And he gets to thinking about it an may start worrying, and that's bad So the best thing to do is for a man not to stir around too much in day light so he'll see all those things.

"Besides, when a man goes to al the club meetings, political meetings board meetings, PTA meetings, uplif meetings and sin meetings, he lose so dad-gummed much sleep he has to waste some daylight in the morning to get any sleep at all. That's wher daylight wasting time comes

"Altogether, we figure that carefu observation of daylight wasting time will enable a man to live better and longer. Especially if he is a pool

"From now on, we are on DWT." For our own two-cents-worth, we might remind our readers that Day light Saving Time was invented as war measure, which not only prove that Sherman was right, but sug gests that this talk about being a peace is not too firmly based. Further DST was invented before athletic field lighting, and the consequent night games; and before we were being urged to light up backyards so we can play badminton or run-sheep-run all hours without inadvertantly knocking over the garbage pail batting our brains out on the clother posts. Getting up an hour earlier to begin this extended recreation tha much earlier hardly seems worth

Now take that fellow beside you: Do you consider it smart To hurt his dignity—pride, too? Democracy starts in your heart!

Have you ever once tried to Think you were equal, to start? Think of the things he's denied? You may not be too far apart.

Democracy's more than just teaching, More than an orator's art; Let us all practice our preaching Each in his innnermost heart. -Carl Helm.

DO YOU KNOW —that the government issues more than two billion stamped envelopes (valued at over $80 million) each year and that the law requires that these be manufactured under private contract to the lowest bidder for a four year term.

But Do You Know -that these two billion stamped envelopes constitute only a very small part of the total number of envelopes used in this country. Most businesses prefer to have their own imprinted envelopes.

Born on the Fourth of July were George M. Cohan, American actor-playright, who wrote a song about it ("I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy",) and laconic Calvin Coolidge, 30th President of the United States (who never said much about it.) Three Presidents died on Independence Day—John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, in 1826, and James Monroe, in 1831.

Nathaniel Hawthorne, who wrote
"The Scarlet Letter" and "The House of the Seven Gables", was born July 4, 1804. On Independence Day, 1894, French sculptor Bertholdi's famed monument "Liberty Enlightening the World", known to us as the Statue of Liberty, was formally presented to the United States, in Paris.

July 4, 1776—In his lodging room in Philadelphia. Thomas Jefferson, 'without reference to book or pamphlet", wrote the immortal Declaration of Independence, accepted by Continental Congress this date.

July 9, 1776,—By order of Gen. Washington, the Declaration was read to his troops "as an incentive to act

When a fuse blows out it is easy to till whether you have a short creuit or an overload. Take out the fuse and screw a 25-watt bulb into the socket. If the bulb gives a normal light you have a short. One by one, disconnect lamps, overhead lights and appliances on the circuit. When the fuse socket bulb goes out you have located the short. If the fuse socket bulb gives a dim light when you screw it in, or no light, you have an overload. Take one or more of the lamps or appliances off the circuit. (ANS)

When you use Dr. Salsbury's Wavac drinking-water vaccine, "easy" is the key word. You just put Wavac in the water, chicks vaccinate themselves. Choose from 3 Wavac types: (1) Newcastle, (2) Bronchitis, or (3) Combined. Vaccinate at 4 days, 4 weeks, and again at 4 months to assure greatest immunity. Entire program costs about 2¢ a bird, saves you time and labor. Ask for genuine Wavac, the original drinking-water vaccine, from the Dr. Salsbury dealer below.

MY COLLEGE DAYS-Written for the Penna. State College

When I went to college, I was young, had plenty of cash, My only thought was to cut a dash;
I brushed up, as they say, on the old "Rule of 3",
But pleasure and sport took first place with me.

But, one thing, it did, which I now think was grand As I grow older, it taught me how to expand; For years I have studied and what little I know Is because I learned there how to do and to go.

I have studied and pondered night and day—
It was that college which showed me the way
To find many things which I did not know,
And which laid out the path for me to go.

The Pennsylvania State College will always be to me A place of learning and much gayety to me; I shall never forget those halcyon days Which prepared me for life in many ways.

It has been 70 years since the joyous days
When we went to the lunch room, across the way,
To regale on a bowl of oyster stew
When our work for the day was through.

The College was my home for nearly three years; So, for my life there, I now give three cheers! On its campus the boys and girls would roam, And we all were as happy as when at home.

The conestoga river was not far away;
So, on the ice there, we used to play;
Skating was our chief sport in those early days
When people traveled in buggies and sleighs.

In my memory, the things we did there, From all sorts of games to the county fair, Shall linger, and never pass away, For they tell of my life in that early day.

Those tall trees, and the buildings so stately and grand Now, all belong to the Keystone State land; But, to me, it is still a boyhood home Over whose campus I used to roam.

I should like to tell more of that wonderful place; But, can not do so for lack of space; Enchantments which ravish the heart of a boy, The fingers of time shall never destroy.

If you have the money, but do not know
How to do certain things and the right way to go,
Try my plan—(it seemed to help me)!
And also made plain the "Old Rule of 3".

Do as I did, when you go off to school; Take along a motto of the "Golden Rule," Hang it in a conspicuous place on the wall, And many loyal friends shall call.

Ducks

Remember, also, some lessons will escape your head;
But, don't forget what the teacher said,
It is all a part of God's great plan
To make of you a perfect man.

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

The farmers received their instruc-tions about the "Soil Bank Plan" last week and to some, including this farmer's wife, it was a sad disap-pointment. Not that we don't think taking land out of production a very good idea—indeed we think it is the only practical solution to over-production and to over-cultivation of tired and poor land. But Congress must have known when it passed the bill that it was unworkable for the average farmer or else the members of Congress have never met an average farmer or visited an average farm. The incentive payment for retiring land is so small that it wouldn't pay a farmer with 200 acres to use the soil bank plan, no matter how much he would like to do so. If this plan is the best Congress can do for the farmer then it shouldn't have done anything at all. The farmer would have known then that what he could do was "root hog or die.

Two things Congress has done this term which will effect every American was passing the large road building bill and the Medical research bill. Both are greatly needed. Now if they will get busy and pass a reasonable school bill we will overlook what they didn't do for the farm industry.

Lately, there has been a lot of comment against "rock and roll" music and as a parent we feel we have a right to express our two-cent opinion. A great many experts have been saying that it is having a very bad effect upon teen-agers—that listening to it drives them into a form of hysteria causing them to lose control of their emotions. We don't doubt but what this may be true of some, but the youngsters we know appear very calm and cool when they listen to it. Indeed, there seems to be nothing more exciting about "rock and roll" then there was about "Jazz" when our generation were the teenagers. About thirty years ago "Jazz" combined with the Charleston dance, plus skirts above the knees, rolled stockings and shingled hair were according to pre-dictions ruining that generation and sending them to the dogs. Each generation must find itself going where Fido goes-wherever that is. For 1956 years no one has ever found out where "going to the dogs" is, but it must be a pleasant place for one has so much fun getting there. We sort of strayed from the subject of music although to call "rock and roll" music s an insult to the musical scale. Nevertheless there is a beat to "rock and roll" that makes one want to dance and that is more than some music can boast about. So we think the experts should let this generation have the type of music it prefers. In another FAIRVIEW

We would like to be able to write music something that would be long remembered about July 4th, our Independence Day, but already so many vivid words have been penned regarding the day and so many forgotten that it would be presumptuous to write any more. Daniel Webster wrote eighteen words about Liberty which sums up the meaning of the Fourth of July briefly and neatly. "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it. "The liberty we enjoy today was brought for us by men and women the hard way 180 years ago. To us they left the challenge of keeping it for the men and women who will follow on behind us. Will we be equal to that trust or will we meekly stand aside and see the liberty intrusted to us nib-and see the liberty intrusted to us nib-bled away a little at a time in the name of "internal security." The electrical storm Monday eve-ning was terrific. In the past twenty years I have never seen lightning so vivid and terrifying. It lasted well over an hour and each second it seemed t would strike the buildings. Finally it did, with a jolt that rocked the house, but the only damage was a burned out light bulb. Here, at Mt. Union there was only a sprinkle of rain with the storm, but Union Bridge had an hour of steady downpour along with hail. One member of the family thought the lightning beautiful and sat by the window and watched it until it was over. But I was too frightened to see anything beautiful

The Government has finally scared the T.V. industry into doing some-thing about the shows they put out over the air and into the family living what their reactions are to commercials or anything else they want to express an opinion on. The industry is going to try and please the ma-jority of viewers so now is the time to write your views and have them acted upon. There is no doubt that some changes should be made. There is too much crime and violence on T. V. Also there is too much unhappiness written into the plays that are shown. Life may be full of misery but not to the extent some of the characters in the plays portray it. Of course T.V. has many fine programs that need no improving—they just need to be given a decent time on the air. Gelatin Salad Molds Go On A Picnic

BLUEBERRY CHEESE SALAD MOLDS, a cool and welcomed change from the usual picnic salad, can be easily and safely transported to woods or shore in a 9-inch layer cake pan that slips in the top of a picnic cooler. This soufflé salad combines lemon-flavored gelatin and mayonnaise with blueberries, cottage cheese and crushed pineapple to make a deliciously different taste treat for outdoor eating.

BLUEBERRY CHEESE SOUFFLE SALAD 2 tablespoons lemon juice

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin 14 cup mayonnaise

1/4 teaspoon salt 1 cup hot water 1/4 cup cold water 34 cup pineapple juice

1 cup blueberries ½ cup cottage cheese

1/2 cup drained canned crushed pineapple

Dissolve lemon-flavored gelatin and salt in hot water. Add cold water, pineapple juice, lemon juice, and mayonnaise. Blend well with egg beater. Pour into refrigerator freezing tray

Quick-chill in freezing unit (without changing control) 15 to 20 minutes; or until firm about 1 inch from edge but soft in center. Pour mixture into bowl and whip with egg beater until fluffy.

Fold in blueberries, cottage cheese and drained pineapple.

Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm in 20 to 60 minutes. Unmold and refrigerator (not freezing unit) 30 to 60 minutes. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (ANS)

Son of God

Lesson for July 8, 1956

NE thing the Christian church has believed from the beginning: Jesus is divine. Now the Bible never says that in those words. A more vivid and personal way of expressing it is the Bible way. There he is called Son of God. Theologians have written volumes on top of volumes & to explain what it means to call Jesus the Son of God, and some of these volumes are pretty hard to understand. It is important to look into the Bible it-

God Speaks by a Son

The first thing we are told here is that God, who has been speaking to men for thousands of years in various ways, has at last spoken to us by a Son. Jesus Christ is God's answer to man's questions, he is the answer to man's call for help, he is God calling to us. Men have long wished the sky were not so silent. They wish they could read the inscrutable mind of the most high God. Well, God has spoken, he has given us his last and best Word. And this Word is not in the form of a textbook, not in the form of an answer-book for all the riddles of existence. God's message to man is not a creed, however good it may be. His message is in a Person, a Life. We want to know what God thinks. We wish he would say something. Well, God has said . . . and what he says is Jesus Christ.

Through Him, the World The line that divides all things that exist into two different kinds of things, the first and most important line, is not the line dividing spirit from matter. The real dividing-line is that which runs between Creator and Created, or to put it in another way, the line between God and everything else that is. When you take time to think about it, you can see that only God can be on the creatorside of creation. God alone, of all that exists, is because he is and not because something or somebody else made him be. Every man must say to himself, "If it were not for such and such a person, or such and such an event, I would not be here." But God could not truly say a thing like that. He does not depend on something or some one else for his very existence, as we do. It is by his good will that we are in the universe at all; it is by his will that the universe is here for us to be in. Now the letter to the Hebrews declares that Christ is God's active agent in creation. In the simple words of the writer, we read that through the Son, God created the world. No wonder the early church soon saw that this puts Jesus on the God-side of that line dividing Creator from Created. This is part of what we mean when we say that Jesus Christ is divine.

Reflection and Stamp

Another part of what we mean is expressed in those two words "reflection" and "stamp." The old Greeks had a story about a creature called a Gorgon, with snakes for hair, so horrible that the very sight of her turned the beholder to stone. Only when a brave man thought of going up to her, not looking directly at her but into a mirror, was any one able to enter her presence and live. In quite the opposite way, God is not too horrible, but too holy, for mere men to gaze at. We too need a mirror to reflect the unbearable glory of God; Christ is that reflection. He is likewise the "stamp" of God's nature. He is as it were God's signature, his handwriting, his personal seal.

"Therefore . . . Closer Attention"

The divinity of Christ, of which these sentences in Hebrew are only a few of the New Testament testimonies, was never thought of, in those clear early days of the church, as a mere doctrine in a book. It meant and means something intensely practical. If Jesus is really divine, then, we cannot just take him or leave him. If he is God's Son he is no more optional than God is. Deciding for or against him is the most important decision in life. What he tells and teaches is not "one man's opinion," is not even the voice of genius; it is the Voice of God.

DECLARATION OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE

Four years before Independence was declared, Samuel Adams wrote that the colonies had the natural rights "to life, liberty, and property."

In his famous oration before the Virginia Convention of 1775 in Richmond, Patrick Henry said, "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purphysed at the price of chairs and large the same and the price of chairs." chased at the price of chains and slav-ery, Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty, or give me Independence offered such a challenge in the early days of our new country that Thomas Paine, an Englishman, came to America and assisted the colonists by his pen to win their independence. His pamphlet, called "Common Sense" (1776), wielded blow after blow, of sledge-hammer magnitude to hurry the Declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson, the writer of the document, thus became the mouth-piece of a liberty-loving world. And one of his final acts was an order that there be inscribed in the first place on his monument: "Author of the Declaration of Independence."

Every red-blooded American could do no better than to wipe the dust from an American history or civics text, and read on the birthday of American Independence, the Declaration of Independence, which is universally considered "the noblest human utterance concerning freedom."

How significant are the fundamental principles of the Declaration of Inde-

Buying Feeder Pigs May Pay Off

Saves Equipment, -Labor Expenses

Buying feeder pigs may be the solution for farmers who can't afford to house or provide labor or equipment to farrow as many pigs as they can profitably feed out for market.

According to the nation's live stock publication, the National Live Stock Producer, there's a limit to what you can afford to pay and still make a profit feeding

It's best to get paper and pencil and do a little figuring before making any decisions. There are four things to consider: What price are you expecting to get for market hogs; How much does the feed cost; How much feed will it take to get your pigs to market

The wise farmer will take note of the above four important considerations in determining whether or not he should buy feeder pigs or do his own breeding. Buying feeder pigs is something less of a risk, since farmer does not have to predict market for a full year ahead.

weight; What costs are you going to have-labor, equipment, veterinary or death losses?

The answers to these questions will give you a good idea of what you can pay for pigs and still make a profit.

The farmer who buys his pigs has the advantage of only having to predict what is going to happen four months ahead. The man who must decide in September how many sows to keep for breeding purposes is actually trying to predict the market a year ahead.

LP Gas Must Be Stored, Handled Carefully

Like all other fuels, LP gas if you're going to get the safest, most satisfactory results and you can determine whether your installation is the best possible by looking at the "code."

The code is a pamphlet on safe storage and handling of liquefied petroleum gas. It is published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and the rules set forth in the code have been accepted as law in many states.

Every LP gas dealer and fire insurance company inspector should have a copy of the code book. If your dealer has done a good job of installation, he won't mind checking your system against the code. If he doesn't know the code, better call on your fire insurance company inspector. As a starter, check the location of your tank. If it holds between 125 and 500 gallons, it must be ten feet from any important buildings. A tank holding 500 to 2,000 gallons should be 25 feet from buildings, and if you transfer the gas into a tractor or other tank, the job should be done at least 50 feet from buildings.

SUGGESTION WELL RECEIVED

In this column last week we suggested that Route 27 should be taken around Mt. Airy. That move would eliminate from the downtown business area the congestion and hazards brought about by the endless procession of heavy stone trucks and giant conveyances moving concrete blocks.

On Monday afternoon traffic was momentarily tied up while a school bus and empty block truck were un-The street was not wide enough for the vehicles to pass, what with cars parked on both sides of Main street.

If Route 27 bypassed Mt. Airy, the long block truck would not have been snarling traffic down town; it would have been racing around Mt. Airy, on its way to Pennsylvania for another load of concrete blocks.

Long-time residents with whom we have discussed the matter are in accord—Route 27 should by-pass Mt. Airy and the sooner the better.—The (Mt. Airy) Reporter.
