THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1957

JOSEPH R. McCARTHY, the most fearless public figure of our time and the most vilified man who ever sat in the US Senate, has lost his last fight. He is mourned by all who knew him for the courageous, warm-hearted, high-spirited man that he was, and by many who maligned him—out of ignorance or out of fear. He was guilty of being an extremist—in his dedication to his country, his hatred of traitors, his determination to fight Communist infiltration and treachery. And he paid with his life.—U. S. ### HOW TO SIZE UP A COMMUNITY

Don't let yourself be a round peg in a square community.

Unlike selecting a new car or T.V. many shopping for a new home, have only a vague notion of what they want.

The picture of the pathetic pioneer, with a mortgage in the bank, a tax bill in the mail box on a road full of chuck holes is unfortunately not just a cartoon. Such a dismal prospect need not await us if we regard home buying as community buying.

Homes are bought to last a lifetime so you will want to compare each community with others and the one you are leaving behind. Always remembering that communities like the people who live in them have personalities and special peculiarities. Not every one will like the same place or even like a place for the same reasons.

Your family and its needs won't be well suited to some communities nor those communities to you.

Realize also that your decision—and those of others like you—will determine the eventual shape and character of the community. Try to visualize its future at present growth trend and how newcomers are likely to mold it to suit their need and desires.—The Carroll County Civic Council.

Recently, Purina research workers asked poultry staff men in 9 leading poultry states to estimate the total amount of feed required—on the average—to grow a pullet in their states. Shown here is the average of the figures they supplied, compared with Purina feed requirements based on records of thousands of pullets raised at the Purina Research Farms.

FEED REQUIRED TO GROW OUT PULLETS*

	Light Breeds	Heavy Breeds
9-state average.....	23.1 lbs.	28.0 lbs.
Purina Program average...	19.3 lbs.	23.8 lbs.
Saving per pullet on Purina...	3.8 lbs.	4.2 lbs.
Saving per 1000.....	3800.0 lbs.	4200.0 lbs.

*From day-old to laying

here's how to grow 1000 sturdy, big-framed Purina pullets on 2500 pounds less feed

Most poultry raisers recognize that Purina Growing Chows have the quality and ingredients to grow sturdy, big-framed pullets. But not all realize that Purina Chow efficiency often makes it much lower in feeding cost than feeds with cheaper price tags.

The comparison in the table above shows the important difference in number of pounds of feed needed to grow out Purina pullets, compared with the average in 9 leading poultry states. Rather than to claim the full amount of saving shown in this comparison, the Purina Research staff rounded off the figures to 2500 pounds less Purina Chow for light breeds, and 4000 for heavy breeds.

This saving of feed increases the feeding value of Purina complete Growing Chow by 60¢ to 80¢ per bag (100 lbs.)...or $1.20 to $1.60 a bag extra value for Growing Chow fed with scratch grain.

Thousands of poultrymen have found that they can use high-quality feed...and make money doing it. We know this, and we're anxious to show you how you may cut feed cost with your pullets.

Pullet Health Hint—Now, with Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer, you can worm each 100 pullets for less than 25¢! Best time is when they are 10 to 12 weeks old, with a second treatment just before housing if your ranges are used heavily. It takes only one dose in the drinking water. Order Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer right here at the Store with the red-and-white Checkerboard sign.

County Papers of July 1858. Through the thoughtfulness of Postmaster McKinney we have the pleasure of examining copies of "The American Sentinel" and "The Carroll County Democrat," dated July 15, 1858. They contain the announcement of the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. Solomon Sentinier (July 13, 1858) the latter having sent Mr. McKinney the papers. The editor of the Sentinel was Mr. Wm. H. Grammar, and of the Democrat, Mr. Joseph Shaw. Among the items in the "Sentinel" we note the following:

"Brass dollars, nicely gilded, to imitate very closely the genuine California dust, are in circulation, also pewter quarters and halves."

"The Baltimore markets are given as follows: Flour, $4.25 to $4.37; wheat, $1.18 to $1.33; corn yellow, 82c; Rye 69c to 72c; Oats 33 to 37; Shoulder, .06, sides 8c, hams, 9c to 12½c."

The "Democrat contains: A very familiar notice was one to subscribers to the "Democrat" to "pay up" using the following sensible and business like language: "It is absolutely necessary that we have funds to enable us to discharge our obligations to our creditors; no excuse can be pleaded for our neglect to do so, and yet people expect us to trust them year in and year out. Those indebted to us, would, therefore, do us a great favor, and save us much trouble, if they would pay up at once."

Among the advertisements is the following: "A Private Sale—a colored woman, aged about 21 years, to serve for the term of 16 years and her increase slaves for life. She is a good cook, washer and ironer. For further particulars inquire at this office."

Also the following Negroes for sale! A young colored woman and two children, one a girl in her fifth year, the other a boy at the breast. The woman is a first rate house servant, the children are sprightly and healthy, all slaves for life."

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

Just as we were congratulating ourselves on a perfect Maryland spring and getting our garden off to an early start, winter decided to make a return engagement. The frosts this past week nipped the noses of many plants and also apple and peach blossoms. But not too much damage was done, and even with the frost we have enjoyed one of the loveliest springs in our memory. Right now the farmlands of Carroll look like the garden of Eden without the tree of Knowledge and the trouble-making snake. Beauty is everywhere and blind is the person who cannot see it.

Death came to Joseph McCarthy last week as it must come eventually to each of us. If there is a common denominator for all men, it is death. Shakespeare said in Julius Caesar: "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often interred with their bones." No one can judge Senator McCarthy but his Maker. His aim was to rid America of communists. No one could quarrel with this high purpose, but many deplored the methods he used to achieve this. His friends and foes will agree that it is tragic that he should have had to die in the prime of life. McCarthy was not a great man, nor even a great senator. But he was for a time a popular figure in American life for he said what many wanted to hear. He was a man over whom the best of friends violently disagreed. Future generations of Americans are likely to find this period in our history fantastic and as harmful to our country as that of the Salem witch-hunts, the post-Civil War reconstruction or the Ku Klux Klan. But history may also point out that McCarthy could never have been so powerful if the American people had been a little more courageous. The evil that men do lives after them and the evil that Joseph McCarthy did seems destined to live for a long time.

Congress is getting ready to launch another investigation which may make some headlines, but no progress. This time they intend to find out what is keeping the cost of food up for the consumer. Everyone is going to testify including food-processors, consumers, farmers and organized labor. Congress will try to find out why food surpluses continue to pile up while many families could use more food only they can't afford to buy it. Farmers are pretty discouraged with investigations as they have been going on for years while the surplus food and low prices to farmers keep getting worse. No one needs to have an investigation to learn that when a person has the money he eats high on the hog, but when he has to cut expenses he eats potatoes. The way to get nowhere is to set up a committee. That is a sure sign that no one wants to assume responsibility.

A modern wife is a woman who, instead of cooking meals, just thaws them.

The calendar tells me that next Sunday will be Mother's Day once again. Just how does a bonafide mother feel about all the squashy sentiment spread around on that day. Truthfully, I don't think much of it.

Breakfast served in bed just isn't my way of eating. I always get the orange juice down my neck, that is, on the outside, and the crumbs from the toast have a way of snuggling in the sheets out of sight until night and then come out to shiny up my back when I least expect it. The eggs and bacon end up on my bedspread and the spread winds up in the laundry Monday morning which does not make me any happier. The first cup of coffee sets my mood for the entire day. It must be boiling hot when I take the first sip or I am not fit to live with. A cup of coffee from the kitchen to my bedroom drops its temperature about forty degrees so one can figure my temper drop that much too. On Mother's Day this just wouldn't do for mother is supposed to be a saint on that day if it kills her. So, please, no breakfast in bed. What about candy? That is alright for I don't have to eat it. My husband takes care of all the sweets that arrive. Flowers? I never get tired of flowers but I have them the year round. Sentimental cards? Ugh! Please don't waste postage stamps. Well, what do you want? Nothing special. Just treat me like another member of the family on Mother's Day. Every day can be mother's day if she knows her job as a wife and mother has been a success. And she knows it has been a success if her family enjoys their home and would rather be in it than out of it. If the family prefers her meals to eating out in a restaurant; if the family listens to her counsel instead of seeking it elsewhere; if the family works as a unit and enjoys doing things together and if the family puts up with her 365 days out of the year and seems to enjoy having her around even with all of her faults, then there is no need for a special day with trimmings to let her know she is needed and wanted. It is in mother's power to make the entire year into a grand and wonderful space of time for her family and for herself. For in spite of many changes in our way of living nothing will ever be as self-rewarding as that of being a mother.

The exchange has been in effect a week now and can be summed up in these words: "More dialing and less phoning." By the time we dial SP-5, we have forgotten the last four numbers so we hang up in disgust. Sometimes it is impossible for an old brain to learn anything new.

For the first time in our county women will serve on the jury. Sixteen women have been drawn to serve in the May term of the Circuit Court. Among the list are Mrs. Pauline Zimmerman for the 10th district and Mrs. Beatrice Gladhill for the 12th district. From now on the attorneys will address the jury with "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury."

Do something every day to make people happy even if its only to let them alone.

—Ruth Roelke.

MEMORIES OF TWO MOTHERS

My own dear Mother,
MRS. SARAH E. GLASS
and my sweet mother-in-law,
MRS. RUBY E. DALTON

"What is home without a mother?" Tender, oft-repeated thought. Yet we know not half its meaning Until by experience taught.

Then we come home sad and lonely, Listening for her voice once more, And in fancy hear her foot steps Passing through the kitchen door, Will we find her in the garden

Always busy as can be? Will we find her busy churning Neath the shady apple tree, Where so oft we saw her working Singing some familiar air?

No, dear Mother's gone forever And we will not find her there. Still in vain we look and listen For the voice now hushed and still, And her chair stands lone and empty She her place no more will fill.

God saw fit to take her from us To that home that knows no pain, Where no earthly cares, nor trouble, Nor distress shall come again.

I've a picture in my memory Which was stamped there long ago; Mother in her arm chair sitting Gently rocking to and fro—

Sweetly singing, softly singing, From the hymn book in her hand; Now we think she's with the angels, Singing with that happy band.

Oh I saw her read her Bible, Sweetest message, old, yet new; Since I gave my heart to Jesus, I have learned to love it too

Oh, how oft I long to see her And the news to her impart, And to ask that she forgive me For the times I grieved her heart

Some day I expect to meet her In that land so far away, Where there is no hour of parting, Where all tears are wiped away,

She'll be glad, I know, to see me, For I know her heart did yearn For each one of her dear children, That we might to Jesus turn.

Dear young readers who have parents, Do you love them as you should? Do you heed their words of warning Which they mean but for your good?

Do you turn away rebellious And their loving counsel spurn— Laying all the blame upon them, Thinking them unkind and stern?

For each disobedient action To your parents you have shown, Some day you will reap the harvest From the seed which you have sown.

When their forms lie cold and silent Then you'll see your sad mistake, You'll remember how you grieved them, But, oh then, 'twill be too late.

By her daughter and daughter-in-law, MRS. NELSON E. BELL.

Candidates for next year's Student Council officers were introduced to the student body at an assembly sponsored by the Student Council on Tuesday, May 7.

Council president Connie Arvin reviewed the purposes of the council and related those things it had accomplished this year. Carol Myers, Robert Clingan, and John Reeve, campaign managers, gave the qualification of the following slate of candidates: for president, Marion Michea, Frances Groshon, and Kenneth Reifsnider; for vice-president, Elaine Welty and Allan Baumgardner; for secretary, Doris Bollinger and Anna Little; for treasurer, Patricia Lambert and Douglas Gunther; and for reporter, Elaine Harner and Sandra Shorb. Each candidate for president gave his platform.

Elsewhere, Taneytown turned back Cashtown, 5-2, and Fairfield scored early and often to subdue Emmitsburg, 19-10.

Harry Dougherty and Bob Weaver combined to hurl Taneytown's success. Weaver came on to get the final out of the game after Dougherty faltered a bit in the ninth inning.

CALLING ALL GIRLS: TIME DRAWING NEAR FOR SELECTION OF "MISS CARROLL COUNTY"

Calling all Carroll County girls! Less than two months remain before the gala beauty and talent contest, the Miss Carroll County Pageant, gets under way in the Westminster high school auditorium, and a shorter time remains for the selection of contestants in the big event.

Pasquale Donofrio, general chairman of the Pageant for the Westminster Lions Club, said recently that they are still seeking girls with beauty, brains and talent to compete for the local title and a chance to win the Miss Maryland crown and even a shot at the title of Miss America 1958.

"Don't hesitate any longer," Donofrio cautioned. "Fill in an entry blank, or write a letter with the name of your favorite local beauty - daughter, niece, sister, girlfriend or acquaintance - and get it off to us at once."

Donofrio added that the Entries Committee must interview all nominees, whether suggested by an individual or a local organization, before the 10 finalists for the Miss Carroll County contest are selected.

One of the most beautiful local contests of the year, the preliminary Miss America Pageant eliminations has been prepared for the large throng expected to attend the Miss Carroll County Pageant. Ticket sales will be "beyond our fondest expectations," he added, underscoring the interest which has attended the search for the local beauty during the past few months.

Four contestants have been selected by the Entries Committee so far, others are to be interviewed in the near future, and new applications are still being accepted. The girls already entered in the Miss Carroll County Pageant are:

Miss Margaret Whitfield of Westminster; Miss Sylvia Keeney of Keymar; Miss Gail Miller of Westminster; and Miss Peggie Anna Gunther of Eldersburg.

Contest rules state that entrants must be single and never married; between the ages of 18 and 28 on Sept. 1, 1957; they must have been a Carroll County resident for six months prior to the local contest - although this regulation is waived for college students attending an institution in this area. Contestants must be high school graduates at the time of the Miss Carroll County contest.

Girls desiring to enter the contest, or individuals or organizations having an applicant they would like to enter, may mail their applications to Mr. P. Donofrio, Chairman of the Miss Carroll County Contest for the Westminster Lions Club, Box 310, Westminster, Md., or phone TL 8-5422.

PHONEY WIT

"And if they don't have them," said the tough foreman, "Call me at home, Capital 2-6786."

The new apprentice stood in complete silence after he had heard the ordered to pick up the needed parts on his way home. Finally, the foreman said, "Well, what's wrong? Don't you understand English?"

"Yeah, I get you" was the reply "but I sure don't know how to dial a capital 2."

JEST IN FUN

It was the bobby-soxer's turn in the busy phone booth. As she entered the booth, she turned to the line behind her.

"Don't worry, I won't be long," she said. "I just want to hang up on my boy friend."

The father for some years had been telling what a good shot he was. Finally his young son was grown and the father had tutored him painstakingly so the boy would be as good a shot as the father. On their first duck hunting trip the boy and the father waited patiently in the blind for the ducks to appear. At last a lone duck flew overhead.

"Watch me carefully, son," said the father as he took aim and fired. The duck flew out of sight. As the boy watched the duck the father said, "Son, you're looking at a miracle—there flies a dead duck."

The owner of the house answered the bell to find a friend whom he hadn't seen for some time was at the door along with a large shaggy and rather muddy dog. Inviting them in they sat in the living room and talked about old times. The dog, after sniffing around finally hopped on the couch and settled down for a nap much to the host's dismay.

Finally the guest rose to leave. "Aren't you forgetting your dog?" said the host.

"That's not my dog," said the guest. "I thought he was yours."

The father, passing through his son's college town late one evening, thought he would pay his son a surprise visit. Arriving at the son's fraternity house, he rapped on the door but was unable to rouse anybody. Then from a second floor window came a sleepy voice.

"Whaddya want?"

"Does Steve Jones live here?" said the father.

"Yeah," replied the voice. "Bring him in."

GOD—MAN—AND THE STARS—

God made millions of stars. Astronomers say, Before He made the one on which we stay; So, ages before, to build this earth, He began, Many mortals on the older planets ran.

So the story about Adam and Eve, they say, Is only an allegory of that early day; Then, men thought, God was like me and you So they pictured Him as doing how they would do.

But, "God is Spirit", not a physical being like you and I they say; So, that changes the picture in every way; "Our ways are not like His ways", they also say; So, they did not know Him as we do to-day.

It is the real you who is like God, they say, Not the mortal on earth in a body of clay; God made the real you in His image, they say; So, you must be like Him, in every way.

The body we see is not the real you— (That, too, is something the ancients never knew); It is only a temple in which we all stay; And, in which we are taught how to go God's way.

That, my friends, is why we are all here; To me, each day, the reason is more clear; Since "we are all gods", as the Scriptures say, God teaches us here how to go His way.

Were it not for God this beautiful earth of ours Would not glide through space with people and flowers; Nothing, they tell us, here would be, Not even a man, a flower, or a tree.

The Scriptures tell us that "God is all in all"; So there is no other Presence, on this great ball He sends us here to learn of His plan; And to learn why He made the earth and man.

We are all like Him, the scriptures also say; So, listen to Him, and, try to go His way; He sent Jesus here to tell how things shall be, When we all go from time to eternity.

God's mercy, they tell us, is broader than the sea; And, His only thought, now is of you and me; So, one of His reasons for our birth after birth Is to help Him make a heaven of earth.

It is here God intends we all shall be At the end of Time, in Eternity; And here, what Jesus said, shall come true, That God shall make a god of all of you.

I cannot even imagine how things shall be When the time arrives for Earth's great jubilee; And the Scriptures too, say the scope of God's plan Is beyond the wildest dreams of man.

So, that is why, I say, we all should know More about God; and, of how we should go; Since He has done so much for you and me We should make ourselves fit for Eternity.

The day is coming when the earth on which we dwell Shall be a heaven, not a fiery hell; And, here, God intends, we all shall be, At the end of Time, and through all Eternity.

Since God is like us, I have often thought, How proud He must be of the wonders He has wrought; He not only has made the earth, the flowers and trees; And, He did it all His great family to please.

Such a God as our God is worthy of praise, they say; So praise Him; and try to emulate Him, from day to day; Gratitude is also a part of God's plan; And, until a man shows it, he is not a man.

God gave you a tongue—use it! Every place you go, Tell of His wonders; and, let all people know That this earth of ours, and all the stars they say, He is now making fit for His great family.

So, I say, once again, let us praise our Great God! Let Him be the only god on his sod! Not even a man, a flower, or a tree! For, without Him, they tell us, nothing would be;

If we all knew God, and did as I say, Things, here, would be different in every way; Instead of a land of cripples like this is said to be God's face would be the family mark of humanity.

That is how God wants this old earth to be; His face on the face of all mortals we must see, And, that is how conditions shall be, When we all go from Time to Eternity.

Orioles Begin 17-Game Home Stand; Play Yankees May 10,11,12

Off to their best start since their return to the American League in 1954, the Baltimore Orioles will inaugurate a 17-game home stand with three games against the World Champion New York Yankees on Friday night, Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon, May 10, 11, and 12.

Now concluding their first Western swing of the 1957 campaign, the Birds return home on Friday night for one of the longest home stands of the season. Following the Yankees into Memorial Stadium will be the Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, Kansas City A's, Detroit Tigers, and the Boston Red Sox. Thus, every team in the junior circuit with the exception of the Washington Senators will visit Baltimore.

The New York Yankees, featuring Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, are probably the biggest attraction in baseball today. Last year, over 200,000 fans came to Memorial Stadium to see 11 games between the Birds and Manager Casey Stengel's power-packed team.

The Orioles enjoyed a good deal of success against the Yankees in Memorial Stadium, too, as they won 6 games and lost 5. To date this season, the two teams have met only once and the Orioles fought the New Yorkers on even terms until Mickey Mantle hit an eighth inning home run to help the Yankees to a 3-2 triumph in New York.

Following this trio of games between the Yankees and the Orioles, the Cleveland Indians will come to Baltimore for three night games on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, May 14, 15, and 16. The Chicago White Sox, formerly managed by Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, will play a night game in Baltimore on Friday, May 17 and will play a single game on Saturday, May 18 beginning at

Originally scheduled as an afternoon game, the contest was switched to a later time in order to comply with a proclamation issued by Baltimore Mayor Tommy D'Alesandro naming the week-end of May 17-18-19 as Baltimore All-Sports Week-End. Thus sports fans will be able to see the Pre-kness in the afternoon and to witness the game later in the evening.

The Kansas City A's, challenging the Birds' sixth place finish of last season, will be in Baltimore for the second double-header of the year on Sunday afternoon, May 19 at 2 P.M. The two teams will play again on Monday night, May 20.

On Tuesday night and Wednesday night, May 21 and 22, the Detroit Tigers will furnish the opposition for the Orioles. Aiming for a fifth place finish or better this season, the Birds must out the Bengals from the No. 5 spot where they finished last year.

Following an open date of Thursday, May 23, the powerful Boston Red Sox, with Ted Williams, will play in Baltimore on Friday night, May 24, Saturday afternoon, and followed by a double-header on Sunday, the 26th.

It is not unlikely that, during the coming home stand, George Kell, veteran third baseman of the Orioles, will reach the coveted 2,000-hit mark. The likeable farmer from Swifton, Ark., was only 38 hits away from that goal at the beginning of the season and he will become the 100th player in Major League history to reach the 2,000 hit mark. Other active players with over 2,000 hits are Stan Musial, Mickey Vernon, Ted Williams, Enos Slaughter, Pee Wee Reese, and Red Schoendienst.

Ticket Manager Elmer Burkart has announced that plenty of tickets are available for all games during the coming home stand.

Poultry Worms

Always a threat to flock profits, large roundworms, cecal worms, and tapeworms may result in slow growth, feed waste, low production, and more disease. Even a healthy-looking bird may be wormy, so don't take needless risks with your flock.

My Recommendation: Treat regularly with Wormal in the feed to remove all 3: large round-, cecal, and tapeworms. If you can be sure that large roundworms alone are present, I can recommend Wazine (water wormer). See me for the poultry help you need.

Friend of God

Lesson for May 12, 1957

COUNTED a saint by three religions, Abraham is unique among the great men of the world. The Mohammedan name for him is simply "The Friend," meaning Friend of God. His greatness is not in anything that is especially admired and paid highly for in America, so that his reputation among us is not what he deserves. He was not a noted business man, executive, or popular novelist; no oil was ever discovered on his property. However, he might be introduced to an American audience as a successful cattleman. Even small boys might be interested to know that he was extra good as a deputy sheriff. But these facts were not the main point about him.

Dr. Foreman

Faith That Works

The big fact about Abraham was his religious genius. To some persons God seems very dim. Even Abraham's father worshipped "other gods"—we have no idea how many. But Abraham, out of an idolatrous home, came forth a man for whom God was his closest and most real Friend. To use the Bible word, Abraham was a man of faith. In one book of the New Testament (Romans) Paul says that Abraham was "justified"—that is, God looked with approval on him—for his faith.

Belief

"Abraham believed God," it is said. No living man now knows how God spoke to Abraham. Long ago Saint Augustine debated, but did not decide, the question whether God spoke in tones that the ear could catch, or in a voice audible only in the soul. The point is that when Abraham knew it for God's direction, or God's promise, he believed that what God said was true. God made some pretty unlikely promises to him: that he would have a son at all was very unlikely; that this son's descendants would be more numerous than the stars was equally unlikely; that they would live in and own the countryside where Abraham was a landless nomad was still more improbable; but most incredible of all was that through Abraham's descendants the whole earth should be blessed. Yet we are told that Abraham believed all these things; and indeed they all came true.

Obedience

It is one thing to believe that what God says is true; it is another thing to set about living by that truth. Many a person will stand up for the proposition that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, but simply won't act and live in accordance with what the Bible plainly teaches. Such "faith" as James said is "vain"—but Abraham's faith was not vain. He took God at his word; when God said "Go," he went, and he went all the way. "Whate'er my God ordains is right" is a song Abraham could well have sung.

Patience

Abraham's faith was shown also by his patience. Most of us are like small children, whose clocks show only two times, NOW and NEVER. If Father has promised a ride, or Mother a lollipop, the child wants it right this minute. If it's not to be had, tears fall and wails arise. If I can't have it now, I'll never get it! So we pray and expect an answer as if it were by return mail. We can't trust God to time his blessings. Abraham knew better. He was willing to wait. Indeed some of the promises God made to him he never lived to see. But he did not think that God had cheated him.

Sacrifice

The story of Abraham's sacrifice (or near-sacrifice) of Isaac shows the endless lengths to which Abraham's faith would go. Psychologically and morally impossible for a sane American today, the act of child-sacrifice was not so impossible for Abraham, living as he did among people for whom human sacrifices were all too common. But it is impossible to exaggerate the meaning of this sacrifice to Abraham. It meant cutting off, so far as he could see, all the promises of God. Indeed it may well have seemed to him that God had changed his mind and was taking back all he had promised for the future. All this added to the deep love Abraham had for this child of faith, the child for whom he had waited so many years, made the act seem especially terrible. But Abraham's faith went the last mile.

A Rhubarb Pie for Spring Dieters

Come Spring, it seems that, along with thoughts of gardening and house cleaning, many of us once again become diet-conscious. We go scurrying to the scales filled with new resolve to lose the pounds which have crept up during the winter.

Surprisingly enough, there seems to be a way to cook almost everything so that it has fewer calories, yet still tastes good. Our Orange-Rhubarb Pie is a good example.

This rhubarb pie is as sweet and tangy in flavor as any you ever tasted. Yet calories have been whittled to less than one-third of the usual count. Secret is that, instead of sweetening the pie with sugar, we've used the non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl. This sweetener makes it easy to cut calories from many of your favorite dishes. And because it gives a natural sugar-like flavor, you just won't be able to tell the difference!

ORANGE RHUBARB PIE (Low-Calorie)

Filling:
2 lbs. rhubarb, cubed
1/2 cup water
4 teaspoons Sucaryl solution
or 32 tablets, crushed

3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon butter

Combine rhubarb, water and Sucaryl; cook over medium heat until rhubarb is soft. Blend in cornstarch and cook until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; blend in orange juice and butter. Cool and pour into a 9-inch baked pie shell. Garnish, if desired, with low-calorie whipped topping.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving, not including pie shell, contains 52 CALORIES; 0.6 gram protein; 2.0 grams fat; 8.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 181 CALORIES.

To make 1 cup of low-calorie whipped topping, combine 1/4 cup nonfat dry milk solids, 1/4 cup ice water and 1/2 teaspoon Sucaryl solution (or 4 tablets, crushed). Beat on high speed of mixer until of consistency of whipped cream.

Now
U.S. Savings Bonds
pay you higher interest
...faster!

If you've always bought U. S. Savings Bonds for their rock-ribbed safety, their guaranteed return, the way they make saving easier—you've got one more reason now!

Every Series E United States Savings Bond you've bought since February 1, 1957, pays you a new, higher interest—3 1/4% when held to maturity! It reaches maturity faster—in only 8 years and 11 months. And redemption values are higher, too, especially in the earlier years.

About your older Bonds? Easy. Just hold onto them. As you know, the rate of interest a Savings Bond pays increases with each year you own it, until maturity. Therefore, the best idea is to buy the new—and hold the old!

The main thing about E Bonds, of course, is their complete safety. Principal and interest are fully guaranteed. They are loss-proof, fire-proof, theft-proof—because the Treasury will replace them without charge in case of mishap. Your Savings Bonds are as solid as a rock—backed by the full faith and credit of the United States.

Maybe you already know about Savings Bonds—as one of the 40 million Americans who own them today, or as one of the other millions who have used Bond savings to help pay for new homes, cars, or college educations, or to make retirement financially easier. If so, this is familiar territory to you—you know there's no better way to save.

But if you're new to the game, find out about Savings Bonds and what they can do for your future. Ask your banker, or check with your employer about the automatic Payroll Savings Plan that makes saving painless and easy.

OPEN LETTER TO TEACHERS

County Commissioners Reply to Teachers' Salary Committee

May 6, 1957
Mr. Stephen A. Lerda, Chairman,
Teachers' Salary Committee
Hampstead, Maryland
Dear Mr. Lerda:

After full consideration of your request for an increase in teachers' salaries, we have unanimously and finally determined that an increase of $300.00 per year per teacher, over current rates, is warranted and will be allowed and made available by us, beginning September 1, 1957; subject, of course, to approval by the Board of Education.

This increase to be provided from County funds is contingent, however, upon the minimum rates as fixed in state law being allowed to remain where they now are. That is, in the event the Governor's veto of the recent salary increase bill is overridden by the Legislature, either at a Special Session or at the regular session next February, then we expressly reserve the right to re-study the whole matter, with the possibility of reduction, or re-adjustment of the County's contribution toward salaries in excess of the State minimum. The same reservation of the right to re-study and re-adjust will hold in the event the 1958 Session makes provision for an increase in the State rates by new legislation which might be enacted independent of the vetoed 1957 bill.

We calculate that on the basis of a 400 teacher average the cost of this increase to the taxpayers of Carroll County will be $120,000 per year, and since no provision was made for any part of it in our 1957 budget, an additional $40,000 will have to be raised by us for the remainder of the current calendar year, making a total to be included in our 1958 budget of $160,000, which is the equivalent of the amount that would be yielded by a tax increase of 16c per hundred dollars of taxable basis.

We are confident, of course, that you and your group fully realize that in addition to teachers' salaries and other operating and maintenance expenses, we are presently confronted with the apparent need for the expenditure of millions of dollars of borrowed money for new school construction. Both construction costs and interest rates are high, and the pressures for increased spending are without remission.

Therefore, in the interest of the County's future fiscal solvency, it is our earnest hope that those of you who are directly associated with the problem of free public education will give immediate and profound consideration to the matter of more efficient use of the expensive school plants and equipment that we have and are acquiring than is customary under present educational practices. And whenever in the future you decide to petition this Board for any additional salary increases, we hope such application will be accompanied by a full statement of what has been accomplished as the result of our suggestion.

Since the County Board of Education has the necessary power and authority to prescribe and implement reasonable and acceptable innovations, additions and changes in school plant use and in certain curricular practices, we are sending a copy of this letter to the Board's office and to the County press.

It naturally is our duty, and we believe we have shown evidence of complete willingness, to work and plan cooperatively with your Board of Education, its professional staff, and with the several teacher organizations and groups, in the interest of consistent extension and improvement of our County educational system, and we invite suggestions and criticisms from any of our citizens concerning our official acts and the stand we feel constrained to take from time to time upon the issues and problems that confront us in the burdensome but important matter of providing adequately for our county schools.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN D. YOUNG

MEETING OF ST. PAUL'S AID SOCIETY

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney, held their regular monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, May 7.

Mrs. John S. Harner, the vice-president, had charge of the meeting. The meeting was opened by singing two songs, "Give of Your Best to the Master" and "Faith of Our Mothers". Mrs. John S. Harner read Psalm 121 for the scripture, followed by prayer by Mrs. Earlington Shriver.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, followed by roll-call with 27 members and several visitors present. The payment of dues was accepted by the secretary.

The annual Mother and Daughter Banquet will be held May 15, at 6:30 in the parish house.

Mrs. George Clabaugh, Mrs. Nevin Ridinger and Mrs. Charles Schildt were appointed to nominate officers for election at the June meeting.

Mrs. John Waybright, Mrs. Ralph Weikert and Mrs. Katherine Wise were appointed to arrange a program for the June meeting.

The following program was then given: Mr. Gene Cline sang several solos, "Stranger of Galilee", "A Garden of Peace and Prayer", and "Great is Thy Faithfulness"; a duet, "Oh, Who Can Make A Flower", by Connie Mummert and Kenneth Strickhouse; a recitation by LaMar Wagerman; a duet, "Memories of Mother", by Mrs. Melvin Patterson and Mrs. Ralph Weikert.

The meeting was closed by singing "Like As A Mother Comforteth" and all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

KEYSVILLE LUTHERAN CHURCH WOMEN MET

The Keysville Lutheran Church Women met Monday evening to discuss the topic "World Lutheran Welcome to North America", with Mrs. Charles Cluts and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner as leaders. "The Church's One Foundation" was used as the opening hymn. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Baumgardner reading Ephesians 4:1-7 and offering the prayer. Mrs. Cluts gave remarks concerning Lutheran World Federation and the Minneapolis Assembly to be held Aug. 15-22; also stressed the importance of prayer for the leaders and delegates of the LWF as they meet for their first meeting in North America.

An introductory conversation was given by Mrs. Gilbert Stine and Mrs. Robert Stine. They spread enthusiasm concerning the importance of attending the Minneapolis Assembly in Aug. Mrs. Gregg Kiser told "What the LWF is". Mrs. Carroll Dougherty told "How the LWF developed" and Mrs. Dixon Yaste told "What the LWF Does". Mrs. Edward Coshun told of "Things we as a group of individuals can do to further the work of the Federation". The meeting was closed by a period of directed prayer by Mrs. Charles Cluts.

Mrs. Ralph Shoemaker had charge of the special. She read a poem, "White Carnation" and Mrs. Bernice Study gave a very impressive reading "The White Carnation". Both paid tribute to Mother's Day. Mrs. Robert Stine conducted the Thank offering and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty held a short business meeting. She presented to Mrs. Dixon Yaste in behalf of the ULC Women a shadow light picture of the "Good Shepherd". It is a three way light picture. This was a going away gift and in recognition for her faithful services and the high esteem the organization holds for her. She will be greatly missed. May God richly bless her and Pastor Yaste in their endeavors in their new field.

Mrs. Luther Keeney, Mrs. Russell Stonieser and Mrs. Harry Clabaugh were the hostesses for the evening. Chicken sandwiches, pickles, cookies, mints and coffee were served. During the social period Miss Stella Mae Study and her mother, Mrs. Bernice Study each entertained with a ventriloquist act. Elmer was quite popular. Their numbers were greatly appreciated.

MEETING OF PAST CHIEFS CLUB

Mrs. LaReina Crabbs was hostess to the Past Chiefs Club on Tuesday evening, May 7. Meeting opened by singing "America The Beautiful", followed with Mrs. Wm. McNair reading the 100th Psalm, with all praying the Lord's Prayer in unison. Minutes of previous meeting were read by the secretary and approved as read. Roll call was answered with 15 members and 6 guests being present. A donation was given the Pythian Sisters Temple toward flowers for the Memorial Service, May 26th at 10:15 a. m., in the U. B. Church.

Mrs. Harry Clingan invited all members to be her guests on June 4 at her home.

Meeting adjourned by singing "I Would Be True", followed with the benediction. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Catherine Hahn, president, presided.
