TANEYTOWN OBSERVES MEMORIAL DAY

Appropriate Ceremony Held at the Park Entrance

Taneytown annual observation of Memorial Day on May 30 was marked by beautiful weather, a fine parade, a moving and appropriate program at the new Memorial, plus good attendance.

The parade this year was one of the largest ever formed for a Memorial Day observation in Taneytown. It contained four music organizations; Hesson-Snyder Post, American Legion Drum Corps; Wm. F. Myers Band, Westminister; Westminister Band, and Taneytown High School Band. Marching groups consisted of the Taneytown Legion Color Guard; Taneytown Firemen, Emmitsburg Legion Color Guard and Drill Team; Littlestown VFW Color Guard; Littlestown Legion Color Guard; Harney VFW Marching Unit; Taneytown Boy Scouts; Taneytown Girl Scouts with their float. There were also several cars bearing the principal speaker, town officials and officers of the various civic clubs and groups of Taneytown.

Highlighting the days activities was the ceremony at the beautiful new Memorial which is situated at the entrance to the Taneytown Recreation Park.

The program, which was well attended, commenced with the playing of our National Anthem by the Wm. F. Myers Band. This was followed by the invocation by Rev. Jennings of the Taneytown Lutheran Church. Guests on the speakers rostrum were then introduced by the Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Neal W. Powell. The new Memorial was then formally dedicated and presented to the Recreation Park Board, in very moving terms, by Mayor Raymond Perry. Mr. Harry Dougherty accepted for the Park Board. Memorial wreaths were placed at the Memorial by Commander John Myers, Hesson-Snyder Post 120, The American Legion and Mrs. David Shaum, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Hesson-Snyder Post. Father Melcher, of the Taneytown Catholic Church, followed with a Memorial Prayer. Next, the Westminister Band played America. Following this selection, the immortal, challenged words of our sixteenth President, delivered almost 100 years ago, a scant 13 miles from here, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, was most ably repeated by Mr. Larry Ohler.

At this point, the principal speaker, Mr. Dave Brigham, delivered one of the most impressive, thought provoking Memorial Day utterances we have been privileged to hear in Taneytown. Mr. Brigham spoke in quiet, well modulated tones, and made his presentation in language everyone could understand. There was a complete absence of showmanship and flair in Mr. Brigham's manner but quite refreshing was the unmistakable fervency with which his words were uttered. Most surely, everyone hearing him, has a better understanding of the best of Americanism.

Mr. Brigham is a graduate of the University of Maryland, currently serving as Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association of that school. He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Pacific Theater. He has been most active in the American Legion, serving in almost every capacity in his home Post; was American Legion Department Commander, State of Maryland, and is presently American Legion National Executive Committeeman from Maryland.

Rev. Andreas of Grace E & R Church, Taneytown, gave the benediction.

The day's activities were concluded with a salute by the Firing Squad, followed by Taps.

KIWANIS NEWS

A very interesting meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown was held Wednesday evening at Taney Inn with President Edward Howarth presiding.

Leonard Reifsnider presented the Assistant State Soil Conservationist, Mr. Paul Galbreath. Galbreath spoke on the question of water use and water conservation.

He emphasized the need for careful planning on the part of communities to provide for an ever increasing quantity of water, and pointed out that our whole way of life is dependent on an abundant supply of it. The need for water in the future, Galbreath said, will double every five years.

Galbreath gave some rather startling and interesting statistics. To produce just one copy of the Sunday paper requires 100 gallons of water. To produce 1 ton of rayon cloth requires the use of 300,000 gallons of water. To produce 1 ton of meat requires 2 1/2 million gallons.

He pointed out the difference between consumptive and non-consumptive uses of water, and had much to say about the riparian rights of landowners that was of considerable interest to those present who have streams running through their property.

Guests present were Louis Michea and John Myers of the T. H. Key Club, Carroll Wilhite a progressive farmer of this community and Mr. Buchman, Carroll County Conservation Supervisor.

Next Wednesday evening the Club members and their wives are the invited guests of the Coco Cola Company at Westminister. Plenty of refreshments will be provided by the company. Every member is urged to be present at the Company's plant at 6:30 P. M.

NEW POST OFFICE FOR TANEYTOWN

Proposals to Lease New Quarters Advertised

The Post Office Department is asking for proposals on furnishing quarters for the Taneytown, Maryland Post Office, Postmaster Jas. P. Burke announced today. The closing date for submission of proposals is July 19, 1957.

Specifications call for a facility containing approximately 2,000 square feet of floor space, loading platform and a paved parking and maneuvering area. The Department will enter into a ten or twenty-year lease with the successful bidder. Alternate proposals to include air-conditioning are desired, and proposals will be accepted without heat, light and water.

An assignable land option is held on property owned by Mrs. Hazel D. Shriner of Taneytown, located on the corner of Middle Street and a public alley.

Postmaster Burke said the present quarters, which have housed Taneytown Post Office many years, are entirely inadequate to meet the postal needs of the community. He also stated that additional maneuvering and parking space is needed to more adequately accommodate the Highway Post Offices that serve the Taneytown office.

Proposals should be submitted to Postal Inspector A. E. Helmick, Post Office Box 1820, Washington, D. C., or Regional Real Estate Manager, 2012 City Post Office, Washington 25, D. C. Either office will supply information regarding proposal forms, building specifications, lease provisions, etc., the Postmaster said.

A copy of lease proposal with requirements and specifications may be found posted on the bulletin board in the local Post Office lobby.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINION"

PANHANDLE, TEXAS, HERALD: "With a socialistic trend developing in government, more and more people are losing their initiative. They are wanting security with smaller prospects. This information has been learned from surveys of high school and college graduates. Let's hope there are enough fighters left in America to keep the small, independent business man going."

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "Newspaperdom can take pride in this year's Pulitzer prize awards to newspapers. Recognition of The Oregonian for its expose of the vice and corruption involving municipal officials and officers of the Teamsters Union and the Chicago Daily News for determined and courageous public service in exposing a $2,500,000 fraud in the office of the state auditor of Illinois is recognition of one of the prime services of good journalism."

TELL CITY, IND., NEWS: "We usually criticize the post office department. It wouldn't be playing fair if we failed to give it credit when it is due. This is on the brighter side. A mountain of red tape consisting of 1,685 different government forms has been eliminated by the department's forms control program since January, 1953."

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., TIMES: "Washington has no consideration for money. Once it is allocated, the bureaucrats insist it must be spent."

LENOX, S. D., INDEPENDENT: "One hears a great deal about the 'big oil monopoly' that supposedly controls the U. S. supply of petroleum products. Yet, since 1925, while the price of clothing has increased 67 per cent, household furnishings 62 per cent and food 71 per cent, the price of gasoline has increased only 15 1/2 per cent. And the gasoline you fill up with today is a vastly superior product to what you purchased in 1925."

MOOSELAKE, MINN., STAR-GAZETTE: "As early as 1653 there appeared this sign on a businessman's door: 'I have laide aside business, and gone a-fishing', which proves they were smart in those days, too."

WINSLOW, ARIZ., MAIL: "Home accidents in America cause one death every 18 minutes, one non-fatal injury every 13 seconds. Among the nation's 17,000,000 children under six years of age, accidents cause more deaths than disease."

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "Americans snicker when the Russian Government repudiates all payments on its savings bonds but their own government has not repaid its bond holders in terms of the purchasing power since World War II. No one who buys a U. S. savings bond has to worry about getting his money back plus interest. There is no element to risk involved here. He should, however, take into consideration the factor of inflation—something that continues to penalize thrift."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "Many responsible congressmen have been saying, 'The reason we spend so much is that the people demand it . . . ! These congressmen are right, says the New Mexico Taxpayers Association, which claims: 'Too many Americans shout "economy" with one voice, and yell "gimme" with another.'"

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES LEADER: "The United States will participate officially in a trade fair behind the Iron Curtain for the first time this summer. . . at the Poznan Fair in Poland. The Exhibit is designed simply to show the people of Poland what typical Americans wear and what they pay for their clothes, but the revelation may explode a chain reaction of dissatisfaction when these people starved for consumer goods weigh their lot with Communism and ours under private enterprise."

Modern submarines can travel faster submerged than on the surface. They can fully submerge in less than one minute.

Fred Furbelow says he's going to watch his waist line. It's sure out where he can see it.

May Butcher, the new school teacher, is pretty as a picture and as Ez Tike says—nice frame too.

To rig for diving in a modern submarine, the crew must conduct 225 individual operational and equipment checks.

The submarine was not generally recognized as a legitimate instrument of warfare until the Civil War.

Children are a great comfort in one's old age—they help you get there faster, too.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

"Bolivar" arrived on Thursday evening, somewhat disabled, but if the coming of warm weather depends on him—as some seem to think—he is welcome.

The annual ice cream and strawberry festival, for the benefit of St. Joseph's church will be held on the school house lawn, June 13th to 15th. Supper each evening.

Boyd-Fogle.—Miss Odella Fogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fogle, was married at high noon, June 5th, to Mr. Charles Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd at the residence of bride's parents in Taneytown, Md. The bride and groom preceded by ushers, G. Walter Wilt, Charles Miller, Samuel Ott, and William Bricker, entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin played by Mrs. Dr. Charles E. Roop. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Pastor of Grace Reformed Church.

Bollinger-Myerly. —Notwithstanding the threatening weather, June 5, quite a large crowd of friends and relatives assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Myerly, near Frizellburg, to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Bessie Mae, to Harry B. Bollinger, promptly at half-past two to the strains of Lohengrin on the organ rendered by Helen E. Zepp, cousin of the bride. Rev. R. L. Crawford performed the ceremony.

During the month of May, at the Clerk's office of this county, 87 deeds, 25 mortgages, 4 bills of sales and 16 marriage licenses were recorded.

Frizellburg.—Our people are still wearing overcoats and straw hats. No wonder! It was reported here that Mayberry folks were sleighing. This sounds like fiction, but the atmosphere really felt that way.—The corn is short and is looking frail. The locust bloom theorists claim that the coming crop will be far below the average.

The Fire Company received a check of $30.00 from Mrs. Mary L. Motter, in recognition of their services in saving her dwelling and other buildings during the barn fire on Decoration Day.

Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival, June 14-15 at Walnut Grove School. Proceeds for the purchase of a school library. All are invited.

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are! They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff! Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makes of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford.* Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

The Rev. C. Reynolds Simmons delivered the sermon to the Elmer Wolfe's graduating class Sunday evening in the Church of the Brethren. He chose for the theme of his talk "Past, Present, Future, and God." He pointed out that the only important thing for every person to remember is to live for today. The yesterdays should be forgotten and the tomorrows should be allowed to take care of themselves. To carry over the mistakes of the past into the present accomplishes nothing but frustrations, unhappiness and illness. To worry about the tomorrows is to admit that one has little faith in God. It was a sermon that everyone present could think about because most of the troubles that haunt people today are caused by the mistakes of the past that we insist on carrying around with us. That is one reason why tranquilizers in the form of pills are selling by the millions. But pills are no substitutes for faith and that is what everyone must have if life is to hold any worthwhile meaning. The High School Chorus sang the anthem "The Green Cathedral." Miss Fairy Frock, music teacher at Elmer Wolfe played prelude organ music and directed the chorus. The seniors wore white gowns and mortar board caps with red tassels. The girls in the chorus wore white summer dresses and the boys dark suits and white shirts with dark ties.

The annual Children's Service at the Mt. Union Lutheran church was held Sunday morning with the church filled with members, friends and parents. The children numbering forty presented an interesting program consisting of recitations, songs, and short skits. Those taking part were: Dale Miller, Ricky Lesight, Barbara Broadwater, Jimmy Eyer, Jackie Bair, Douglas Bohn, Newton Staples, Barbara Fink, Sharon Beard, Joyce Nelson, Marsha Sparkman, Judy Eyer, Lena Fink, Zeldia Sparkman, Sheila Tregonning, Onilea Sparkman, Virginia Fink, Mary Ecker, Michael Grossnickle, Judy Lambert, Susie Eyer, Joan Crabbs, Sandy Miller, Verl Angell, Ruth Clabaugh, Michael Martin, Douglas Lesight, Barbara Lambert, Joyce Eyer, Brian Broadwater, Eddie Bair, Wilson Colbert. The junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Elaine Broadwater sang seven songs. Members of the choir were: Lewis Bohn, Robert Royer, John Angell, Linda Miller, Deanne Crouse, Brenda Lighter, Mary Royer, Dorothy Snook, and Nancy Roelke. Mrs. Paul Walter, Mrs. Scott Crabbs and Mrs. Samuel Lesight directed the children's program.

This was the week to be kind to all rural mailboxes. So says the post office department under the direction of Mr. Sommerville. Being kind means mounting the box on a firm base within easy reach of the mailman, and having one's name on it in clear letters. It is said that strangers riding through the country side judge people by the mailbox they keep. Lately most people take more pride in the manner in which they display their mailbox but some years back farmers especially stuck the box on any kind of a post and sometimes on a piece of worn-out farm machinery. Often the box was hid from view by weeds, poison ivy or honeysuckle vines. How the postman ever found them is a mystery. May the owners never get any mail. Anyway, most people do take more pride in their mailboxes, but there are still a few who should do something about their rusty, downy in the rut out of reach box. Taking a cue from city mailboxes may be we should paint them red and blue instead of the traditional aluminum color.

A friend of ours with tongue in cheek was explaining to us why he and his wife had been married happily for over fifty years. "We agreed," he said, "when we were first married that my wife would settle all the minor problems that arose and I would take care of all the major ones that came along. We stuck to our bargain. She buys all the clothes, groceries, machinery, cows; she pays all the bills; she brought up the children and saw to it they were properly educated and went to church. In the mean time I took care of all the major problems such as World War I and II; the Korean War, the H bomb and what to do about our National debt."

Schools will soon be closed for summer vacation here in county, but before everyone gets interested in more carefree tasks, we would like to put an idea into their minds that was given to us by an outstanding citizen of our community. The suggestion he offers is a good one and can be thought about until the next term of school begins and then we hope responsible citizens will take some action on it. This is it: "May I suggest that we institute a scholarship program at our local school? Many times there have been students with excellent qualifications to become fine teachers but due to lack of money take up some other form of work. A State teachers college scholarship presented each year to a deserving student would be an inexpensive way to assure our school or county, teachers in the future. The person receiving the scholarship would have to agree to return to Elmer Wolfe as a teacher for a specified time. Within four years there would be one teacher returning each year and soon there would be no teacher problem. A scholarship isn't expensive—roughly about $250.00 per year. If citizens clubs and business men responded it wouldn't be too much to ask of anyone. It looks like school problems must be solved by each community and I am sending you this suggestion hoping that you will want to publish it and maybe get the public interested too."

We think the above idea is a good one. Think about it during the summer and next fall the idea may develop into a reality if enough citizens are interested. In a midwestern school, the teacher assigned the pupils to write a short essay on "Who is a True American?" A Chippewa Indian boy wrote his essay with two words: "I am."—Ruth Roelke.

Mr. and Mrs. Rauland Hancock and son, Harold; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and son, David, spent Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock and son of this place. What money cannot do. People get strange ideas about value and power of money. Now there is no denying that money fulfills a very necessary function in present day living. Money itself is not an evil, it is the love of money that is condemned in the Bible as the root of all evil, that love for money is often based in false confidence in the power of money. Some think they could be popular if only they had the money to buy clothes and entertain in style, some think they would be happy if only they could have all the money they would like to spend. When people go after money as if it were the key to popularity and happiness, they are likely to be disappointed, when they make it the chief end to accumulate it they miss life completely.

REINAMAN—In loving memory of my dear wife LEILA C., who passed away one year ago, June 7, 1956.

When one you care for has departed And you sit alone broken hearted, There's something in a kindred mind That always leaves a sense behind Of true companionship, I know The pain it was to see you go. Yet memory softens everything The grave its victory, death its sting I, who loved you sadly miss you, I, who held you dear, I, who in lonely hours of thinking Often feel your presence near Tho God has taken you away You are with me every day.

Loving husband, E. RUSSELL REINAMAN.

Oven-Fried Chicken Takes on Blush With Paprika Use

FRIED chicken is a favorite of millions, but it doesn't always need to be prepared on top of the range. You can use an oven-frying method for a change with somewhat less effort and still have a crusty chicken with wonderful flavor.

Paprika, that pretty red spice which flavors so tastefully yet deli-

Paprika Oven-Fried Chicken has a rich brown crust with a flavor to match. The chicken is batter-dipped and placed in butter in a baking dish. The oven will do the rest. Serve with succotash in cream for a flavor-rich meal.

cately is an ideal condiment for this method because it will give an agreeable blush to the frying chicken.

- Paprika Oven-Fried Chicken (Serves 4) 1/2 cup butter or substitute 1/2 cup all-purpose flour 2 teaspoons paprika 1/4 teaspoon salt 1 egg, beaten 1/2 cup milk 1 1/2-pound frying chicken, cut

Melt butter in shallow baking pan. Combine flour, paprika, salt, egg and milk. Beat thoroughly. Dip chicken in this mixture and place skin side down in butter. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 45 minutes. Turn chicken and bake 30 minutes longer or until chicken is tender.

For cold evenings you'll like these braised short ribs which have a country-kitchen flavor:

- Braised Short Ribs (Serves 4) 1 tablespoon melted fat 2 pounds beef short ribs, cut 2 tablespoons paprika 3 medium-sized onions, cut 12 small carrots 1 cup water 1/4 cup chili sauce Salt to taste

Heat fat; add short ribs and cook until browned on all sides. Add paprika, onions and carrots. Mix well and cook until onions are lightly browned. Add water; heat to boiling point. Cover and simmer gently until tender, about an hour. Add chili sauce and salt; mix well. Cook, covered for 15 minutes. Serve on rice or noodles, as desired.

Hot, Tasty Breads Will Pep Meals

There's nothing like a hot bread on a cold day to add real pep to your menus, be they breakfast, lunch or dinner. If you use an easy method, there's no reason why you shouldn't have them often.

Dates and oatmeal go into this loaf which gives a nice bread for sandwiches or a nice bread to serve with a main course. Bake with an oven meal.

- Date Oatmeal Loaf (Makes 1 loaf) 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats 1 cup chopped dates 1 1/4 cups scalded milk 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour 4 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon salt 1 egg 3/4 cup light corn syrup

Add rolled oats and dates to milk. Let stand for 10 minutes. Add egg, slightly beaten, and corn syrup. Mix and soft dry ingredients and add to milk mixture, stirring only slightly. Bake in well greased loaf pan in a moderate (375°F.) oven for about an hour.

Bran flakes often go into cereal bowls for breakfast but they can also go into delectable muffins to serve for any meal. Measure and place the ingredients on a tray and you can have them in the oven within minutes for breakfast:

- Bran Muffins (Makes 12) 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 3 1/2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons sugar 1 cup bran flakes 1/2 cup milk 1 egg 2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together all dry ingredients except bran. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add to dry ingredients, including bran. Mix quickly but do not beat. Fill well-greased muffin pans 3/4 full and bake in a hot (400°F.) oven for 20 to 30 minutes.

Fertilizer Pays Great Dividends

Important Factor in Increased Profits

A Missouri farm economist reports that fertilizer pays dividends at a rate almost "unbelievable" to farmers.

Gordon B. Nance, extension farm economist of the University of Missouri, said that tests indicated that the first $6 worth of fertilizer per acre returned 291 per cent on below average land planted to corn that was priced at $1.20 per bushel.

The second $6 paid off 227 per cent, and they had to use $40 worth of fertilizer per acre, before the return from the last application declined to 5 per cent.

Nance predicted that sooner or later, farmers will use fertilizer

Higher profits—the extra dividend in farming—go to the farmer who knows when and how to use fertilizer.

the same as other business men use other factors of production to increase their net profit.

Then, he said, fertilizer use will be perhaps six to 10 times the present 30 to 40 pounds now used on the average acre of cropland and pasture in the United States.

"This is likely to be some years hence," said Nance, "but I am certain the increase in the use of fertilizer in the next 10 years will be two or three times as rapid as in the past decade."

New Treatment Saves Diseased Chicks

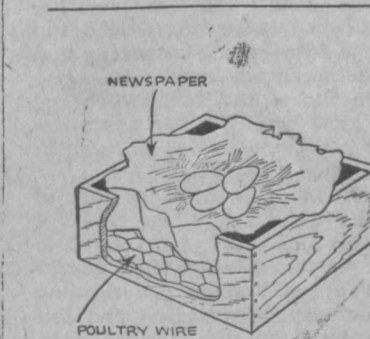

A new combination treatment, using the antibiotic aureomycin with sulfamethazine, has proved 100-percent effective in preventing mortality of chicks infected with cecal coccidiosis under experimental conditions, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. Affected chicks treated with these two drugs made faster gains than healthy ones fed the same ration without the treatment, USDA experiments showed.

Sulfamethazine is known to act on certain stages in the life of coccidial organisms. Antibiotics, on the other hand, apparently act to stimulate growth, so that stock and poultry so fed may thrive in spite of the presence of certain pathogenic organisms. Feeding both aureomycin and sulfamethazine in these experiments controlled the coccidial organisms and at the same time stimulated chick growth above normal.

In these experiments, chicks one week old were inoculated (with spore-laden cysts of Eimeria tenella) to produce severe cecal coccidiosis. Those receiving sulfamethazine were given the drug in 0.125-percent concentrations in the feed for the first seven days following inoculation. Aureomycin, when used, was given during the entire experiment. Healthy chicks and some inoculated chicks, fed the same ration without either drug, were used as controls.

The most favorable results of the treatments were obtained from feeding 100 grams of aureomycin per ton of feed with 0.125 percent sulfamethazine. No deaths occurred in chicks given this treatment, compared with a mortality rate of 43 percent in the inoculated, untreated group. The inoculated, treated chicks made better gains than healthy, untreated chicks.

Clean Nests

Sanitary and easy to clean are hen's nests with poultry wire bottoms. Covering wire with old newspapers keeps the nesting material from falling through the wire bottom. To clean, simply dump out the newspaper and nesting material and replace it.

SHORT STORY

Cup of Coffee

By F. L. Rowley

JENNIE sighed as she surveyed the row of empty counter-stools. Business had been dropping off ever since the new highway had gone through. Only a handful of loyal truckers dared travel the old dirt road to reach her place. The road was dry now, but when the snow came it would be all over. A man couldn't be expected to risk his job by miring his loaded truck in three feet of mud—not for a cup of the best coffee in the world.

3-Minute Fiction

A warm light came into her eyes as she thought of big Ben Smith and the promise he had made yesterday. "Jennie," Ben had said stoutly, "as long as there's a drop of coffee in that there urn old Ben'll keep stopping in—road or no road!"

She knew Ben meant it. Ben hadn't missed a working day in three years now, not since that chilly day when he'd first come in to beg a free cup of coffee. She could tell by his eyes that he wasn't a real bum. After she had given him a hot meal Ben had insisted on sweeping the floor. That's what he was doing when Art Hennessy found him—and Art had changed Ben's way of life on the spot.

Jennie shook her head grimly. How fortunes change. Ben was now a man of means while she teetered on the brink of bankruptcy.

"How about a cup of coffee for old times sake?"

The door bell jangled. It was Bill Ward, driver for Happy Bakeries.

"Hi Jennie!" he boomed. Then, after a pause: "Afraid I got some bad news for you."

Jennie raised her eyebrows. "My order too small?" she asked.

"This is worse than going to a funeral," sighed Bill.

Jennie held out her hand and grinned. "You've been swell, Bill. How about a cup of coffee for old times sake?"

"Sure Jennie—and thanks. What do you plan to do now that things are—are—"

"Washed out?" Jennie said bluntly. "Maybe I can get a job as a waitress in town—if I'm not too old."

"Shucks, you're not old Jennie. And you're pretty."

"It's the truth. Ask Ben Smith. He thinks you're a knockout."

"He does? Really?" Jennie was aware of a warm glow.

The glow vanished; Jennie's hands went to her throat. "What's happened to Ben?"

"Take it easy, Jennie. It's nothing serious. Besides, I thought you knew. Ben and Art are going to form a big trucking outfit on the coast; we just won't be seeing them around here much longer, that's all."

"That's all?" Jennie's attempt to smile was a failure. She had taken it for granted that Ben planned to build his new company on familiar ground. It wasn't like Ben to keep things from her. She turned her back on Bill.

He took the hint and left quietly. It began to snow—a fitting climax to a miserable day. With a sigh she decided to look up and go home. At the door she paused. A real storm was stirring. Perhaps it would be wiser to remain in the shack. Jennie had removed her coat when there was a loud rap on the door—a well-known rap that made her heart leap.

She flicked the light switch and the glow was with her again—inside and out. Ben was grinning at her through the glass.

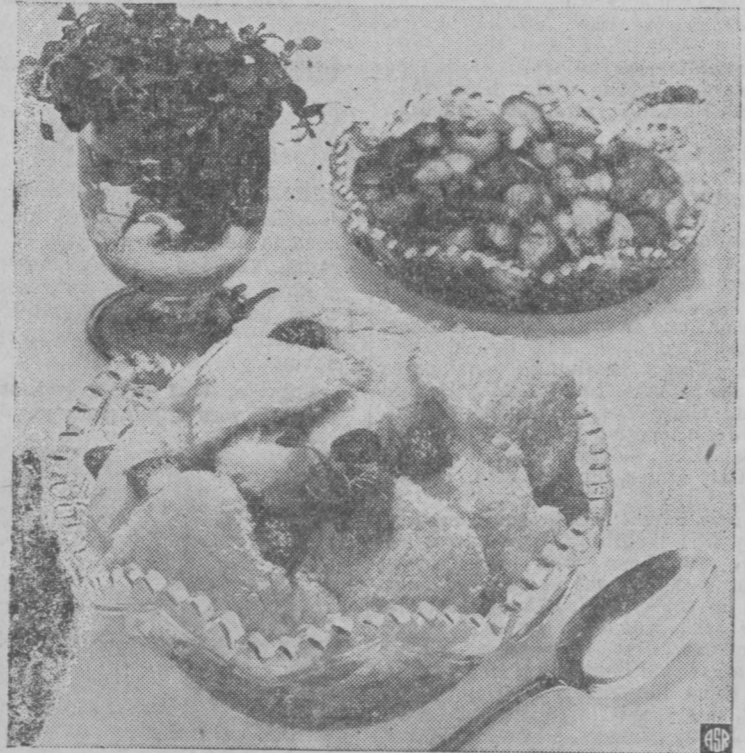

Ben rolled in with a gust of wind. "What a day!" he cried. "I got big news, Jennie! I tried to call you but the line was dead."

"I've heard about you forming a company on the coast and I'm glad for you, Ben. It was darn nice of you to stop in to say good-bye."

Ben's face clouded. "I—I don't know exactly how to say this Jennie, but—well, you and I shouldn't say good-bye—ever. Ever since you gave me that first cup of coffee I've been in love with you. Why do you think I've been working so hard? Would—would you marry me, Jennie?"

Then she was clinging to him and watching the rain beat against the glass. She had sold her last cup of coffee.

'Spring Freeze' Has Diet Appeal

Rhubarb and strawberries are luscious fruits, but they require quite a bit of sweetening to make them palatable. This can pose a problem for conscientious weight-watchers.

In this delightful dessert, "Spring Freeze", which features both fruits, all of the sugar has been replaced with the non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl. The rhubarb sherbet, a delicately pink and refreshingly frosty affair, has a sweet yet tangy flavor. And the strawberry sauce which serves as a topping is so sweet and tempting, you'd never guess it was made without sugar.

Best news is that "Spring Freeze", which includes both the sherbet and the topping, contains just 49 calories per serving. Had sugar been used, calories would jump to 145 per serving. You cut almost 100 calories with Sucaryl, and you can't taste the difference!

SPRING FREEZE

Rhubarb Sherbet

- 2 cups diced rhubarb
- 4 teaspoons Sucaryl solution or 32 tablets
- Dash of salt
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 cup skim milk
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- Few drops red food coloring

To make sherbet, combine rhubarb, Sucaryl, salt and water; simmer over low heat until tender; cool. Combine milk, egg yolks, lemon juice, vanilla and food coloring; add to rhubarb mixture. Pour into freezer tray and partially freeze. Remove to mixer bowl and break into small pieces with a fork. Beat on high speed of mixer until creamy but not soft. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; fold into frozen mixture. Return to freezer tray and freeze until firm. Serve with strawberry sauce.

Strawberry Sauce

- 2 cups strawberries
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon Sucaryl solution

To make sauce, slice strawberries; stir in Sucaryl and water. Let chill for an hour or more before serving.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 49 CALORIES; 3 grams protein; 1.6 grams fat; 6 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 145 CALORIES.

Reconciled

Lesson for June 9, 1957

AT THE heart and beginning of the Christian life there is not a theory, or a set of propositions, but an experience. It is the experience which is sometimes called healing, for the broken tissues of life are made whole again. It is sometimes called conversion, literally a turning-around, for in it the direction and course of life is changed. It is sometimes called forgiveness, so that the church is called the fellowship of the forgiven. But there is another word still which sums up and expresses this central experience: Reconciliation. What this means can be seen in the story of a man who never really found himself—as no one does—short of being reconciled both with God and with man.

Dr. Foreman

Peace With God

There are two meanings (and more) of this word Reconciliation, and at the risk of insulting some reader's intelligence the difference between these meanings must be pointed out. In one meaning of the word, we say we are reconciled to something we can't help, as a cripple becomes reconciled to the loss of his legs, or a man is reconciled to his old age. Some people are "reconciled to God" only in this sense: they recognize his power and they bow to it—but they still don't like it and they do not love him. This is not true reconciliation in the Bible sense. True reconciliation means restoring a lost harmony, it means meeting with God in such a way that all the resentment, all the hostility and fear in our hearts is burned away by his Presence, and we feel ourselves at home with him. This is what happened, essentially, to Jacob at the brook where he wrestled with the mysterious stranger. Whatever we make of that story, it is plain what Jacob thought about it. "I have seen the face of God," he said. Before that day, Jacob had had only one center of his interest: himself. After that day, he was God's man. He was really born again. He had been at cross-purposes with God, now he was reconciled. God's will was his will. Thinking correct thoughts about God is never enough. One must personally meet him, personally yield to him, be personally reconciled.

Peace With Man

Right along with reconciliation with God comes reconciliation with man. In Jacob's case, as with most persons, there was one particular man to whom he had to be reconciled—his brother Esau. When a man is converted, there is usually some particular person with whom he needs to become a brother again. It is an interesting fact that Jacob knew this well before his all-night meeting with God. But his idea of being reconciled with Esau was to buy him off, pay him to be friendly, by sending him large presents of fine cattle. After Jacob met with God, he somehow knew that this was not the way. The only thing was to meet his brother in person. What happened between them had to happen in their hearts, it was nothing that could be measured in money. And Jacob said a startling thing, something he could not have thought of saying 20 years before: "To see your face is like seeing the face of God."

Neither Without the Other

Peace with God and with man—they cannot be separated. No one can be really reconciled to God who cherishes hate or envy or anger toward his fellow-men. And no one can be heart-reconciled with other persons who is a stranger to the love of God. The New Testament makes it quite clear who needs to be reconciled to whom. It is never said there that God needs to be reconciled to man; but always that man must be reconciled to God. It is man's heart that needs to be changed, not God's. Jesus put both of these reconciliations inseparably together. Matt. 5:23,24. If you are offering your gift at the altar—and this was a token of reconciliation with God—and at that very moment remember that your brother has something against you, stop right there. Leave your gift, and go. Be reconciled to your brother first, and then come and offer your gift to God. God desires the gift of man's heart, but he does not desire the gift of a heart which is unreconciled to a brother-man.

Serve a Summery 'Sundae Selection'

Most of us never outgrow our fondness for ice cream sundaes, but we usually do grow quite definite about our preferences in toppings. And catering to such preferences is a new version of this favorite summertime dessert which sets the scene for a "sundae selection."

Instead of using just plain ice cream, first fashion these Frosty Ice Cream Balls for a new touch of glamor and a lot of delicious flavor. Simply shape vanilla ice cream into balls and roll them in crushed Kellogg's Sugar Frosted Flakes. Then serve with a variety of sauces and let your guests select their favorite. Here, the Ice Cream Balls are shown with butterscotch, fresh strawberry and chocolate sauces.

Frosty Ice Cream Balls

Crush Sugar Frosted Flakes slightly. Shape ice cream into balls. Roll quickly in crushed flakes. Serve with suitable sauce—sweetened fresh fruit, chocolate or butterscotch.

Note: Frosty Ice Cream Balls may be held in freezing compartment of refrigerator for a short time. Do not store longer than 2 hours, however.

Throw-away Magic

In this miracle age of disposables, the modern housewife doesn't scour her dirty cleaning tools—she just throws them away! Old-fashioned bristle brushes have given way to the long-handled all-plastic Jonny Mop. Spoon-tip slips into detergent filled mitten which works clean-up magic on kitchen pail, lavatory, and other distasteful targets. A touch of the button atop the handle and the pad gets tossed away without ever touching your hands. Extravagant? No, cheaper in fact. The refill pads, under 3¢ each, cost less than application of caustic cleaners and, unlike the bristle brush, plastic mop lasts indefinitely. Jonny Mops are now on sale in supermarkets, hardware and department stores.

Make Iced Tea in Cold Water With New Instant Tea

How would you like to make perfect Iced Tea in an instant—without boiling water? Now you can, thanks to a new instant tea product at your market. Make delicious Iced Tea with a clear, amber color right in the glass at table, or make it in a pitcher with cold water. There'll be practically no dilution of flavor when you add ice cubes to this Iced Tea that is "brewed" cold.

For Iced Tea by the Glass:

To a glass of cold tap water add 1 rounded teaspoon of Nestea®, use more or less according to strength desired. Stir briskly. Add ice, sugar and lemon to taste.

For Iced Tea by the Pitcher:

Fill a pitcher with 6 cups cold tap water. Add 2 heaping tablespoons of Nestea. Stir briskly and pour over ice in tall glasses. Serve with sugar, and lemon to taste. On brisk days, you'll enjoy the convenience of delicious hot tea, made in an instant right in the cup. For hot tea, use 1 level teaspoon of Nestea per cup (more or less according to strength desired). Add boiling water. Excellent tea is ready to drink. Take along a jar of Nestea on trips and vacations. It's a comfort and convenience.

Li'l Cake for Little Birthdays

New! This little gem of an angel food cake comes in a small 8 1/2 oz. package mix, (just half the size of a large angel food) perfect for family desserts or the small party of 8 to 10. Recently introduced by Betty Crocker, it's the perfect cake for a children's birthday party; decorate it with creamy butter icing and pipe names of each small guest in chocolate on the top. There'll be no fighting over who's getting the biggest piece!

Birthdays Loaf

1 package Li'l Angel Mix	3 tbsp. cream (about)
1/2 cup soft butter	1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar	1 square unsweetened chocolate

Bake cake in loaf pan according to directions on package. For icing, blend butter and sugar together. Stir in cream and vanilla and beat until smooth. Ice cake, saving out 1/2. To this add 1 square of unsweetened chocolate (1 oz.), melted, into blended mixture. Squeeze chocolate frosting through pastry tube or envelope to form names. If any icing remains, place between graham crackers for after-school snacks.

She thought her goose was cooked—when she saw this Savings Bond in her roaster!

Once a young couple, saving to buy a home of their own, elected the wife custodian of the family fortune.

So each time the husband received a Bond through the Payroll Savings Plan, he'd hand it to his wife to put away.

One day when he did this she was busy in the kitchen whipping up a cake batter. So she slipped the Bond into her electric roaster to keep it from getting messy. Then she forgot it.

That is, she forgot it until the following Sunday when she was preparing to roast a goose. After letting her roaster pre-heat for a few minutes, she thought she smelled something burning. She did—the $50 Savings Bond!

Naturally she thought her husband would be burned up, too, when she showed him the charred fragment of the Bond. But he wasn't. He simply wrote a letter to the Treasury Department, enclosing what was left of the Bond, and asking that it be replaced. Not only did the couple receive a duplicate Bond but the husband insisted that the wife remain custodian. He knew it would never happen again. And it hasn't.

This true story illustrates the safety—the indestructibility—of U. S. Savings Bonds. Any of your Bonds that are lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced without charge by the U. S. Treasury.

Now Savings Bonds are better than ever! Every Series E Savings Bond purchased since February 1, 1957, pays 3 1/4% interest when held to maturity. It pays higher interest, too, in the earlier years, and matures in only 8 years and 11 months. Now, more than ever, it's smart to save with guaranteed-safe U. S. Savings Bonds. Buy them regularly where you bank or through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Part of every American's savings belong in U. S. Savings Bonds.

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. The Treasury Department thanks, for their patriotic donation, the Advertising Council and trip. Transfer your fire insurance so you will be covered in the new home. Contact milk, laundry, newspaper and other services notifying them to discontinue service and when to start service at your new address. Ask your postman for the Form to fill out so as the mail can be forwarded. Don't forget the magazines. Some folks think that the moving man will roll up your rugs but I have known of companies who prefer you to have them already rolled. Leave the large mirrors and pictures on the walls for that way the moving man will take them down and place them in the Van so as they are not broken.

If you are going any big distance it is best to engage the packer of the moving company who is to move your furniture and he will pack all dishes and anything that is breakable. Professional packing is particularly desirable on long distance moves. They will be responsible then and your things will be insured. Thinking of insurance a very special card came to me last year and it read like this—Mutual Joy Insurance Co. Policy No. 4—U. Type of Policy—Happiness endowment, Pay in Event of everything, Name of Beneficiary, U. A. LONE—Address . . . on Easy St. Always O.K.—Seal of Good Luck—Happiness of Endowment Policy! Now, that kind of insurance, Folks, Your Observer sure does have faith in! Eh?

Congratulations to the June Brides for the coming month! June seems to be still the wedding month and the big favorite of all brides to be.

And don't forget next Sunday June 15 is Father's Day—the big day for that man around your house.

Now, here is to the Gemini Born from May 20 to June 20.

The sign Gemini or The Twins—indicates a peculiarity, which is frequently to be observed in a dual personality. It is often difficult to understand them in fact they very rarely understand themselves. One side of their nature impels them at times to be loving while at the same instant they may be indulging in sharp criticism and dislike those very people. One minute they are bold and aggressive while the next minute they are timid and conservative. Figuratively speaking they "blow hot and blow cold" in the same breath. These people have a firm Will, love to command, yet are without any conceit, tyranny or pride. Many of them are quite handsome. These people are always most sympathetic and become great comforters and aid their friends at the time of trouble and sickness. They are genial, warm hearted, courteous and unselfish or the exact opposite. As wage earners they are not a success as they give away their earnings as fast as they can and should learn moderation. They are great bargain hunters and delight in driving sharp bargains. They always try to help struggling humanity. These people have more and new and clever ideas in a week than most people have in a life time. They have brilliant and imaginations and are deep schemers. When in a sympathetic mood these people are delightful companions but one must step lively to follow the versatility and changeableness of the Gemini nature. Many suffer from nervous troubles and this can be overcome by fine thoughts. They are great for moving furniture about and are excellent housekeepers. They make fine Nurses. These people many times will ask advice from friends and yet run off headlong in the way that seems most attractive regardless of the advice they sought.

They should learn to take one thing at a time otherwise when they start something they leave it unfinished. They cannot stand anything that is monotonous in any line of work. Patience and silence must be the watchwords for those born under this Planet and who have resolved to live in the higher plane. They make excellent salespeople!

Have a grand week-end. Folks. Drive carefully. Be seeing you soon "around the town". Until next week. D.V. I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.
