KIWANIS ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

Program Followed Dinner at Taney Inn

The Kiwanis Club was pleased to have 34 Taneytown teachers as their guests last evening at the Taney Inn. President Eddie Howarth, who was in particularly good form, introduced those guests who were present other than the teachers. They were as follows: Key Clubbers John Reeve and Allen Baumgardner, Mrs. Miles Reifsnider and her son Sammy, Miss Marsha Reifsnider, Mrs. Brilhart and Mrs. Kemper of Uniontown, Mr. William Osgood of Westminster, and Mr. Samuel Jenness, the superintendent of the Carroll County School system.

Mr. Wagny, the principal of the Taneytown Elementary School, introduced the following persons: Mrs. Gass, Mrs. Stonesifer, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Mohny, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Koutz, Mrs. Perry, Miss Shreeve, Mrs. Lanier, Mrs. Wagny, Mr. Leese, Mrs. Crawford, who very graciously "agreed" to lead the group in singing "funny" songs, and Mr. Miller. Mr. Wagny made some very pleasing and appropriate remarks and introduced Mr. Mason, the principal of the High School, who introduced in turn the following High School teachers: Mrs. Sanders, Mr. Weigle, Miss Bankert, Mr. Musser, Mr. Neal, and Mr. Massie, Mr. Minnick, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Shipley, Mrs. Osgood, Miss Feeman, Mrs. Welker, Mrs. Yeecke, Mrs. Seibel, Mrs. Rebert, Miss Brown, Mr. Decker and Mrs. Eddie Howarth who has been substituting for Mrs. Yingling, who only recently returned from the Gettysburg Hospital.

Mr. Mason was in charge of the program and introduced as speakers four recent and very attractive "pilgrims" to the old country: Miss Mary Jim Wantz, Miss Carol Jean Ensor, Miss Alene Brown, and Miss Carol Jeanette, who was "Miss Maryland" in a very recent year.

Miss Wantz spoke of her tour, which had been arranged by the American Travel Co., and which took her through the Scandinavian countries and Holland. She was particularly impressed with a train ride above the timber line in Sweden, with the dungeons at Elsinore Castle, the amusement parks which go far toward replacing the gloomy night clubs which are so frequently found in most other countries of the world, and with the art museum at Copenhagen which is supported by the Carlsberg Brewing Co. of that city. Miss Wantz had trouble finding any wooden shoes or baggy bloomers in Holland, but apparently short leather pants and suspenders are still frequently seen in Germany.

Miss Ensor spoke interestingly of England and Scotland. Her trip was planned by the Bureau of University Travel, and she was much impressed with the leadership provided by that Bureau. She related an interesting anecdote concerned with Sir Walter Raleigh and the famous Spanish Armada which she heard from a kindly lady in Plymouth, England. She explained the interesting origin of the term "red tape", and enjoyed the opportunity of seeing Vivian Leigh and her husband in "Titus Andronicus" on the evening of the day that Miss Leigh was thrown out of the British Parliament.

Miss Brown, who likes Coco Cola cold, chronicled her visit to Switzerland and Belgium. She reported that her efforts to learn the word for ice in many languages were crowned with success when she finally, in Italy, received a Coco Cola properly cooled—not hot, nor submerged in ice cream as had been the case more frequently than she cared to admit. She enjoyed unusual accommodations in the remains of a building of the feudal period in Bruges.

Miss Jeanette rode Vaporettes and gondolas in Venice, was submerged with art in Florence, had a "semi-private" audience with the Pope in Rome, came within two feet of the bones of St. Peter, was charmed by the blue grotto in Canri, interested at Pompeia, grateful for Latin, disappointed at seeing so many tourists in France, made dizzy with 3400 reflections of Boy Scouts in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles, and was pleased with Parisian coats, the Venus de Milo and the "Winged Victory".

The girls were fluent and exceedingly interesting speakers. The Kiwanis Club was very grateful for having heard them.

President Howarth provided the "pinale" with appropriate and not-so-appropriate remarks, and exhorted Kiwanians to bring "food-stuffs" to the Fire House on the morning of the annual Kiwanis "Kids' Day".

STATEMENT FROM C. & P. TELEPHONE COMPANY

"Naturally, the Company is disappointed that their rate proposal cannot go into effect immediately under bond. We will not be able to proceed at once with the service improvements and the plan for wider range calling we had hoped to put into effect and the greatly needed rate relief will be delayed for several months. However, we are confident that the evidence to be presented at the forthcoming hearings will fully justify all of our rate proposal."

WESTERN TRIP

Baumgardners Describe Visit with Relatives and Friends

On Labor Day week-end Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Baumgardner, Taneytown and Mr. and Mrs. Lake F. Baumgardner and son Harry, Baltimore, returned home from a three week trip through the Middle West which included 13 states and also part of Province of Alberta, Canada.

While they were in South Dakota we visited the Ranch of Mr. John Smith, of Reva. This was a very fine cattle ranch. Mr. Smith was in a nearby town that particular day to a cattle sale and we were very sorry we missed seeing him. While in that same state we traveled into the Badlands and Black Hills. The Badlands is a federally owned tract of 122,972 acres of scenery which is an outstanding example of soil erosions caused by sand and storms. There is very little vegetation if any. Here also is the remains of prehistoric animals from the Badlands you cross the Praries and go into the Black Hills. These timbered slopes really look black in contrast to the praries that surround them. There are two small towns in the Black Hills which are a real part of the old west. "Deadwood" which is known for such characters as "Wild Bill Hickok", "Calamity Jane", "Poker Alice" and many others. Also "The Broken Boot" gold mine and although there is still gold in the ore, the mine isn't operating at this time. Another Gold Mine we visited was the "Hosesake Mine" in Lead, S. Dakota. We took a planned tour through this mine and we were told this was the largest operating Gold Mine in the United States. During the tour we were also told that it takes one (1) ton of black ore, which is mined as far as two miles in the earth to produce 3/10 of an oz. of Gold. All the gold mined here is bought by the U. S. Government.

Another small town that lies in the Black Hills is Spearfish. This town is noted for the summer home of the greatest of all plays, "The Passion Play" starring Josef Meier. Mr. Meier who originally came from Germany has prepared for this role of the "Christus" from childhood. As everyone well knows "The Passion Play" is the story of the Resurrection. The play takes place in a natural amphitheatre in the Hills outside of the town of Spearfish. The stage alone takes up two and one-half blocks. The natural background is a perfect setting for this truly great play. During the winter months this same play with the same principal actors and actresses is given in Lake Wales, Fla. (Continued on page 6)

LIONS CLUB CHARTER NIGHT

The Taneytown Lions Club celebrated their 10th Annual Charter Night Tuesday evening at the Peter Pagn restaurant, Urbana, Md.

About ninety-four members and guests enjoyed a fried chicken dinner. The charter night committee composed of Merwyn C. Fuss, Delmar Riffe and Robert Feaser secured a fine program which opened with the singing of "America", followed by the pledge to the flag. Invocation was offered by Rev. Edmund P. Welker. Group singing followed by greetings from the toastmaster and introduction of guests and presentation of clubs. A quartet from the Gettysburg Lions Club was enjoyed by all present. Remarks from the president, Ralph W. Stonesifer followed, and presentation of awards was made.

The evening's speaker was Rev. Charles M. LeFev, pastor of Washington Square Methodist Church, of Hagerstown. His topic was "Sleeping Giants."

Representatives from the following clubs were present: Frederick, Hagerstown, Mt. Airy, Union Bridge and Gettysburg.

Official guests present were District Governor Carl Thomas and Mrs. Thomas of Frederick, Deputy District Governor Russell Marsh of Union Bridge, International Councilors Alvin Renn and Mrs. Renn of Frederick and Murray Ryan and Mrs. Ryan of Mt. Airy.

All past presidents of the Taneytown Club were present except Robert E. Thomas. They are: J. Hoke Ommert, M. S. Ohler, Robert W. Feaser, Harry B. Dougherty, S. E. Remsburg, Homer Y. Myers, Wilbur O. Thomas, Raymond J. Perry and J. Alfred Heltebride.

TRIP TO SWEDEN

Mrs. Otto Olsson returned home Tuesday, Sept. 3, from a trip to her native country, Sweden. Mrs. Olsson left New York, May 29th, on the steamer Gripsholm and arrived June 6th at Gothenborg, Sweden.

Just a short time before the boat landed, Mrs. Olsson, hurrying to see it dock, fell and broke several small bones in her foot. Because of the swelling she had to remain in bed three days before the foot was put in a cast. The cast was on for five weeks.

After three and a half years away what a warm welcome it was for her to see the flags of her country waving, for it was the Swedish flag day.

At Helsingborg, she visited her father, Mr. Helge Johansson and a brother and sister, also Mr. Olsson's mother, Mrs. Nathalia Olsson and other members of his family. While there, she visited two other sisters, living at Landskrona and Karlskrona.

On the return trip at the boat near New York Harbor, and she got a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty, she had a fine feeling on being back in the U. S. A.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The most unusual dry weather lasting for so long a period surely has caused many to put on their thinking caps. Eh? The huge lawn next to the stream here at the bungalow has remained a beautiful green due to the moisture each night and the dew is still most evident on the blades of grass each morning. The two beautiful pink dogwood trees are filled with red berries as on Holly at Christmas time which I have been told means that those signify the trees are getting ready for winter!

The little bridge just for "Your Observer" has been built by a neighbor across the stream due to the fact that I fell in one day trying to jump across to the Zenia flower bed!

Many mothers, no doubt were happy this week to have school open once again. Here's to you Teen-ager. What ever you do be sure and graduate from High School as it is impossible to secure a position without that certain piece of paper!

Gentlemen, I do hope you did not miss the Rocco bout last night with the Jap Wrestler. Rocco is loved more by the public than any wrestler anywhere. He surely took much punishment last night with the artful tactics of his opponent.

What a sweet note arriving from Kathryn Murray of the T.V. Show which will go off the screen for the winter! That nice little woman who always says, "Now for a little fun in your life 'try dancing!'"

Now, for those unanswered letters—A lady who says she is a teacher in the public schools and who has had another position offered her which pays her more money wants to know if she should accept the new position or keep on with teaching. Reply: If I were in your place, I don't think that I would want to give up that wonderful profession of teaching. Nothing equals it only Nursing. From your letter it reads as though you really love children and that is the entire secret of being a teacher. For a few more dollars that you would get with this other position, you would begin to realize that it was not worth the change and besides someday—who knows—you may have taught A FUTURE PRESIDENT OF THESE UNITED STATES!

"I am a teen-ager and the reason I am coming to you with this letter is because we always read your Columns in our house and that will mean your answer will satisfy the entire family! I have been wanting to quit school as I just am not a real scholar, and it seems that it all is so dense to me that I cannot grasp subjects in fact I hate school. My parents do not approve of me quitting as I have two more years to go before I graduate (that is if I ever do). I like to go out on dates but my parents do not agree with that one also stating girls should not remain out late at night. I know you will understand. Please answer soon. Thank you!" Signed, Well, Miss Teen-ager, I must agree with your parents deep down in my heart for the two reasons which you request the replies. First of all, your letter which I could not place all in the Column due to lack of space sounded pretty nice if you wrote that yourself and intelligent and not the dense scholar as you stated. Please, do go back to school at least until you are handed that little white paper—the certificate or diploma as that is the very first thing you must hand in when you seek your first job! As to going out on dates, I do not think your parents would object if you could about 10:30 or the latest at 11 P. M. It is always nice to go out in couples and that way there is more fun. By all means listen and take heed to your parents then you will never, never have any regrets!

And this from a Widow—"I have been a widow for a little more than a year. All my children are married and I have a large home which I find very lonely and I cannot seem to get accustomed to it although one hears that time erases everything in sorrow. I have been left comfortably wealthy. Please advise me." Answer—Why not sell the big house and get a new one just to your liking. Be interested in others—not yourself. Giving love to others will pay off big dividends. Go to church where you can mingle with many fine happiness right there. You will not be lonely if you always keep close to God. As for marrying or as you stated having the chance—that does not sound so good—for it would be taking a chance as you did not state you love the man—and that should come first by all means. You can apply yourself to much by doing charitable work. Good luck!

So long, Folks. Will be seeing you next week D.V. when I will write about the "VIRGO" individual. Until then, I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

HARD TO BELIEVE

The taxpayers of the nation rubbed their eyes in disbelief the other day to see in cold type the news that 18,000 civilian employees of the Navy will walk the plank—most of them by the end of October, all by June 30—for a saving of $6 million a month!

Even though there will be 371,717 left on the payroll, the realization that an actual start is being made in reducing the swarm of Government workers, is something to cheer about. And while a similar announcement is expected from the Army, we hope that this reform will gather momentum rather than to stop with the armed services.

These, after all, are only token reductions, in terms of what could and should be done in throwing out entire bureaus that presently duplicate the work of one or more other bureaus. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for instance, could well be cut back to the bureaus from which it sprang, and which, except for the administration of social security, are superfluous anyway.

Nor, in this campaign to sweat our Government down to size, should we continue to overlook the matter of those hundreds of Government-owned-and-operated businesses, that are competing with tax-paying business and industry—and which were slated for disposal long ago.

Heretofore, in writing this sort of a piece, we have inevitably thought, "we can dream, can't we?" But with cutbacks actually under way, there is at least new hope for that "economy-in-Government" plank that has been standard equipment in every political platform within the memory of the oldest citizen.—U. S. Press Association.

WILL THE BEST MANAGER WIN?

Soon over this fair land, a complaisant captive of Indian Summer, will spread America's annual moon-madness—World's Series fever. Early symptoms are discernible. Grown men, still boys at heart—rich or poor, salesman or scientist, clergyman, cobbler or company executive, already are arguing happily over whether playing skill or managerial strategy will determine the winner.

Some of us, a lucky few, will be on hand personally to test our observation of "inside baseball", exemplified best by the secrets of signaling, as against individual skill and prowess. This being a workaday world, however, it is before a radio or television set that millions of fans will gather to follow breathlessly every play of the October classic.

But these fans too, through an ingenious offer by a razor company to its customers, can follow and perhaps anticipate the ever-changing play on the diamond. This World's Series premium is a vest-pocket sized collection of finger-tip movies on "Signals. The Secret Language of Baseball". It features live-action photos of Paul Richards, Baltimore Manager, demonstrating eight basic types of signals, with the inside story of just how signals are transmitted, concealed and intercepted, told by Bob Broeg, vice-president of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Equipped with a gadget like these finger-tip movies on signals, a fellow might on occasion amaze family or friends with a right guess on whether the third-base coach is relaying from manager to batter a signal to bunt, take the pitch with bat on shoulder, or hit away for the fences on the next pitch. Remember the hitter is not always a free agent—he must interpret and obey signals, and sports-writer Broeg says the man to watch is that extra man, the innocent, looking cat, at third base.

Most important, forget your cares and have fun during the Series. We're going to.—U. S. Press Association.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Under the heading, "WHAT THIS TOWN NEEDS", Editor D. J. McCausland of THE FORSYTH (Mont.) INDEPENDENT, points out a lack that is nationwide, and that—if you recall your Horatio Alger—may account for the disintegration of the old American spirit that we see all about us. So, if you are shocked at the shameless willingness of your fellows to live on handouts when the going is rough, and the failure of our bravest citizens to fight the bureaucracy, the socialism and the globalism that are not too slowly devouring this country—read on:

"We firmly believe that every worthwhile newspaper should have a campaign of some sort," writes Editor McCausland. . . . "What this town needs is a shoeshiner. In this modern day of scientific achievement, the little things of life are being overlooked. Why, we're even about to get TV reception in this locale. That puts us on a par with most other Americans in this land of the free which boasts the highest standard of living in the world."

"But we ain't got no shoeshiner."

Editor McCausland goes on to point out that "we have a number of enterprising youngsters in Forsyth" (for which we congratulate the community) and even considering the sad state of the dollar, ten of them in exchange for a few hours effort at the local barber shop should not be sneered at.

"Also, he says, 'the shoeshining industry is the only business I can think of off-hand that can be launched today without an initial investment of several thousand dollars. And if a fellow works for himself, he isn't likely to be bothered with labor troubles."

"We'll see what can be done on this. Might even take the job myself," concludes Mr. McCausland.

We wish this crusading editor all success . . . especially if he undertakes the job himself, and which he may well have to do in order to give his town the lustre he desires for it.

It is true that most of us can watch TV, may even be killed doing so by fantastically modern long-range missiles that can seek us out at our fire-sides. But let us try to get our shoes shined! In Washington, at one time, there was a shine stand in most every downtown block, and eager bootblacks playing their trade in between. Today, it is hard to find a competent bootblack—even in the swank barber shops. In all New York we know of two stands where it is still possible to get a good shine—and one of them is slipping.

If Don McCausland can restore the glow to Forsyth feet, we hope he will undertake to make his campaign national in scope. . . and retrieve America's morale.

Sincerely,
BOB TAYLOR.

Poultry Colds

Infectious coryza, commonly called a "cold" occurs often during fall and winter months. It is characterized by watery eyes and swelling of sinus areas. It reduces egg production and causes culls.

My Recommendation:

Keep alert for early signs of "colds." Check drafts and ventilation. Keep Dr. Salsbury's Ar-Sulfa on hand for early treatment. Ar-Sulfa, a drinking water medicine containing sodium sulfathiazole, checks infectious coryza symptoms, usually within forty-eight hours.

FEESBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

"Back Seat" driving has been the cause of many bad jokes and many family arguments, but just recently some people have come to the conclusion that rear seat driving can be more helpful than harmful. Pilots of airlines depend on both a co-pilot and a navigator. With traffic conditions being what they are it is only logical to assume that an assistant driver in a car could prove very helpful. But drivers of cars seem to resent any kind of help. Maybe they think it's a reflection on their driving ability. A back seat driver can be a pest if he or she doesn't obey some simple rules. The first is to be calm and to give directions to the driver in a quiet, pleasant voice. Arguments have no place in a car. Do your family squabbles in the kitchen or basement. If children are riding in the car, one can keep them from annoying the driver. In a city the assistant driver can watch for addresses on streets and also for directions. When driving at night one can watch the driver to detect the first sign of sleepiness and to keep up an interesting conversation to ward off highway hypnosis. The right kind of back-seat driver can become a real co-pilot. But any passenger in a car that sees his life endangered and doesn't speak up is not only a good prospect for a parking place in a morgue but a fool combined.

We hear and read so much about education for our children that few know that nearly 50 million adults are taking part in some sort of adult education program. What do adults go back to school to learn? Mostly for some practical course like carpentry, automobile mechanics, painting, dress-making and cooking. Besides the enjoyment they get from adult education classes, many people point out how much money they save from learning to do things for themselves. Many times young girls get married not knowing anything about getting meals or running a sewing machine. Necessity makes them learn to do these things and they return to the classroom to become experts. Boys get married and learn that there is more to it than saying "I do". They learn that being a handyman around the house is as important as being a bread-winner and so they return to school to learn how to mend furniture, fix a leaky faucet, or to tear apart the heating system. Adults are becoming as smart as their children and even smarter. For they learn that school days can be practical as well as theoretical and that learning to use one's hands as well as brains pays off in happiness and in skill. Our county officers adult classes in many subjects during the fall and winter and more and more interest is being shown in them. Many persons have come to the conclusion that there is always something one can learn.

Cooper's Hawk is a bird that inhabits Carroll County, although it is found in most every part of the United States. It is commonly called "chicken hawk" because occasionally it catches small chickens. But it is really a valuable asset in keeping down rats and other rodents. Often poorly informed persons shoot the hawk and in so doing destroys one of our valuable birds. We use to have several of these hawks at Merry Knoll and we loved to watch them circle gracefully over the meadows in search of mice. But someone shot them and nailed them on the fence and that was the futile ending of our lovely Cooper's Hawks.

The Saturday Evening Post and the Governor of New York have finally taken a look at the way migratory farm workers and their families are treated. Here in Carroll County where this form of farm labor is being used more and more we too should become more alert to how they are housed and paid. What kind of system do we have that forces a man to put his wife and children to work just to have something to eat and a shelter over their heads. How do their children receive schooling? Or don't they receive any? Here is something that should concern every citizen in our County but we wonder how many people even know migratory farm workers are used here. Maybe Westminster people do because they see them on the streets. But how many farmers know about them out in the country. Here is another example of how little farmers interest themselves in something that is vital to their own future.

We haven't seen the new Edsel car yet but from all we hear it must be some vehicle. Others may have the Edsel... just find me a model A Ford in good running condition and you will have a buyer.

The biggest change that we see from the twenties to the fifties is that the two chickens in every pot have changed to two cars in every driveway.

Black and Decker, makers of portable electric tools located in Hampstead will hold open house to the public at their new plant one mile south of Manchester Sunday, Sept. 22, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Visitors will be taken on a short tour of the plant and will see the products displayed. This should prove interesting to many of our local people work at this plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hoff of New Windsor are taking a trip to Wisconsin to look into the price and quality of hay in the western states. Drought-stricken farmers in Carroll County will be in need of hay before long and will be forced to buy it from the west where they tell me the cows are standing in alfalfa up to their ears. It looks like the farmers are going to have to band together and solve their own problems if they are to survive the disaster of the dry summer. For farmers have become a minority group and their voice in politics has dwindled to a whisper. "Self-determination" should be a by-word for farmers from now on and the memory of Concord should reheat the old "do or die" spirit that flows in the veins of all farmers.

The Horse Show held at Middleburg Sunday was an outstanding success. There were many spectators and the entries performed well. Horse shows are becoming quite popular and horse-back riding is growing into a major recreation.

Here is a warning to farmers who use the new powdered fly killers on the backs of their cows. Don't use it on young stock that you are raising. We tried it on four month old heifers and they licked it off of each other. Some died within twelve hours. A word to the wise is sufficient.

MEETING OF CARROLL COUNTY ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

At the first fall meeting of the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children held Tuesday evening, Fern L. Smith, president, introduced Mrs. Bonnie Boyer who has accepted a position with the Board of Education as teacher of one of the Davis Library Special Classes. The vacancy which Mrs. Boyer is filling was created through the expansion of the school program by the Board of Education to include a third class for retardates in Westminster.

The other two Westminster classes are taught by Miss Louise Bankert and Mrs. Agnes Allgier with Mrs. Milson. Bill assisting. Mrs. Mary Myers teaches the Mt. Airy Special Class with Mrs. Lula Mullinix and Mrs. Arthur Shipley as assistants.

Mrs. Boyer attended the University of Maryland and has had experience working with children at the Maryland-General Hospital.

Mr. Smith also introduced Col. Jos. R. Hess of Mt. Airy who has been named chairman of the 1957 Carroll County Fund Raising Campaign for Retarded Children.

Mr. Smith announced with grateful acknowledgement that the jungle gym donated by the Westminster Jr. Woman's Club was recently installed through the courtesy of the City of Westminster.

Charles E. Abel, past president of the Maryland Society for Retarded Children, was introduced by Dr. Lyndon B. Myers as the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Abel said that the Maryland Society has adopted the slogan, "A program from the cradle to the grave." He said that the emphasis in Baltimore City, as in Carroll County, is now being put on a program for the older children—those who have been missed by this recent surge forward toward school training. He warned parents of children in school against complacency pointing out that some day these present school children will be beyond school age—then what? "Parents must work in the future toward the future for all retarded children—not just their own," he said.

Mr. Abel announced with much pleasure that the first sheltered workshop for retarded children in Baltimore City is being opened this month by the Maryland Society with the cooperation of the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

CIVIL DEFENSE WEEK, SEPT. 15-21

"W. Warfield Babylon, Director for Carroll County Civil Defense, has announced the county's activities for Civil Defense Week, September 15 thru 21st, 1957.

The ministers are asked to stress religious activity on Sunday, September 15th. It is urged that every clergyman, through church authorities, will make some announcement of comment from the pulpit on this day.

On Wednesday of that week, there will be a state-wide air raid drill. Carroll County hours will differ a little from other parts of the State. The "alert" signal will be sounded at 6:15 P. M. and the "duck and take cover" signal will be sounded at 6:45 P. M. There will be no traffic moving for eight minutes. The "all-clear" will be automatic at 6:53 P. M. There will be no signal given for the "all-clear", but traffic will be informed when to move. The 6:45 P. M. signal carries extra caution to all persons on the streets, or on foot in any manner, and they are requested to get off the streets and go into nearest building.

On Thursday, it is suggested that industry and government hold appropriate drills on this day. Industry and government are urged to rehearse their Civil Defense procedures at this time. Installation may sound their own internal alarm signals.

Friday will be school day. Samuel M. Jenness, Superintendent of schools, has announced that the teachers have been advised to hold one or both types of drills; evacuate and pretend to go to their homes or take refuge in the corridors.

Edward Wilkinson, Deputy Chief of the Auxiliary Police, has requested that all auxiliary police in Civil Defense in the county man their posts on the above time on Wednesday for that state-wide air raid drill."

was also a director of the Detour Bank, and active in the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 11 a. m. at the funeral home in Taneytown, conducted by Rev. William Brown, pastor of Haugh's Church. Interment was in the church cemetery. C. O. Fuss and Son, funeral directors.

Pallbearers were George Winemiller, Charles Mehrling, Leo Zimmermann, Keefer Martz, Wm. Flickinger, and James Coshun.

ACCIDENTS THREATENS MILLION PEDESTRIANS IN NEXT FOUR YEARS

More than one million pedestrians may be traffic casualties in the next four years unless they improve their walk practices, says Robert L. Zentz.

Last year, more than 8000 pedestrians were killed and over 225,000 were injured—a pedestrian casualty every three minutes. These deaths and injuries topped the previous year's toll by 11 per cent. If this trend continues, our annual pedestrian casualties will exceed the 300,000 mark in 1959.

Zentz suggests that pedestrians adopt a defensive walking attitude to avoid a traffic accident statistic.

Defensive walking requires that the pedestrian know and observe traffic laws, anticipate what

TRIP THROUGH MIDDLE WEST

While we were in Montana we visited on the cattle ranches of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs and Mr. Harvey Jacobs of Sand Springs. These ranches lay next to one another and are quite large. As far as the eye can see is grazing land for the cattle. This was really a very interesting experience as none of us had ever visited on a ranch as large as these before. After leaving the Jacobs' ranch we traveled north into Canada. While there we visited the farm of Milton Baumgardner of Airdrie, a town located about 19 miles north of Calgary. This was a very beautiful farm where Mr. Baumgardner farms wheat and oats. He also has a few horses and at the time before his retirement also raised cattle. The farms in this section are very large and the land is very productive. For miles around all the eye can see is fields of corn, wheat and oats. The homes are quite far apart and the farms are very beautiful. From Calgary we traveled south into Glacier National Park which extends from Canada into Montana. This is a very beautiful National Park where the mountains are covered along their tops with glaciers. There was still quite a bit of snow and ice on them. We stayed over night on a Blackfoot Indian reservation, in this area, in cabins owned by a man and his wife who were full-blooded Blackfoot Indians. We talked with some of them and found them to be very interesting. Our next large park was Yellowstone National Park. This was really an experience to be sure. One just has to stop and wonder at the beauty of the hot springs, geysers, which includes "Old Faithful", the waterfalls and, of course, the mountains and earth formations which are all a part of this beautiful National Park. Here at the park one can see herds of moose, deer and elk. Birds and other small wild animals abound here also. Last but not least we have to mention the bears which are quite an attraction and lots of fun to watch. We saw one of the largest herds of buffalo in the Custer National Park in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

We traveled south along the Teton Mountain range and on to Jackson Hole, Wyoming after leaving Yellowstone Park. This was a beautiful ride through some of the most scenic part of the trip. The Tetons had quite a few glaciers and snow-peaked mountain tops which you can see as you drive along the highway. The lakes in this region were very pretty, also. After a brief visit to Jackson Hole, which is really a small town nestled at the foot of a group of mountains, we headed south to Denver, Colorado. While there we stayed overnight with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nevin and family who originally are from Baltimore and are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lake Baumgardner. After saying goodbye to them we started east. We traveled through Kansas and upon our arrival in Hannibal, Missouri on the Mississippi we visited the home of Mark Twain who is famous for the book "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer". We then crossed the famous "Old Man River" and went to Springfield, Illinois and visited the home of Abraham Lincoln. While in Indiana we visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burkhardt and family, who live a short distance from Decatur. We really enjoyed our visit with them and from there we traveled down to Celina, Ohio and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Burch Baumgardner. Before leaving Celina we also stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cisco on their farm. Mrs. Cisco is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burch Baumgardner of Celina. When we arrived in Dayton we stopped over for a short visit with Mrs. Leatha Reindollar and her sisters, Mrs. Fryhopper and Miss Baumgardner. We also visited with Mr. Ed. Ohler in Miamisburg, Ohio, who is a close friend of Mr. Clarence Baumgardner. In Columbus, Ohio we stayed over night and then started for home and arrived safe and sound on Saturday night. It was certainly a wonderful trip and one that will surely be long remembered not only for all the friends we made and visited but for the beautiful sights that are to be found in this wonderful country of ours.

THE YORK FAIR

With names like Bob Hope, Webb Pierce, Julius LaRosa and Ted Mack sharing top billing, patrons of the York Inter-State Fair, September 10 through 14, have a wide range of entertainment features from which to plan their visit to America's most complete fair.

That Samuel S. Lewis, president and general manager, is enthusiastic about the talent lineup is understandable. Never before in the history of York Fair have so many top names from show business been represented. Popular Ted Mack, who assumed the late Major Bowes' mantle, will bring a large group of talented amateurs to the stage on Thursday. Producer of the "Amateur Hour", which has "discovered" many of today's stars, Mack will present his winners of the past year, all of whom will compete in his National eliminations over TV this fall.

Friday will be fun day, with Bob Hope dishing out quips and laughs. Just returned from Europe, where he made a new movie, "Paris Holiday", Hope can be expected to run the bamut of comedy situations as he directs his barbed gage at everybody from Bing Crosby to the President and Congress.

Thrills and chills of the type expected by fair patrons on Saturday will be tossed around with wild abandon on closing day by Bill McGraw's Motor Circus.

SAFETY FACTS

CHICAGO—The sinking of the Titanic, the Chicago fire and the San Francisco earthquake were headline-getters of yesteryear—and they won't soon be forgotten.

But the combined death toll from those and 49 other major disasters since 1865 is only 28,094—for short of the 40,000 persons killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1956, according to "Accident Facts", statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, just off the press.

The Pastor

Lesson for September 15, 1957

A POPULAR name for the minister of a Protestant church in America is "Preacher." It is an unfortunate title, because it suggests that the minister's job is all talk. People by the thousands think of their minister as only a preacher, and it must be admitted that some "preachers" are that and nothing else. But talking for half an hour a week isn't the main job he has, there is something else that (if he works at it) takes up far more time. It is being a pastor.

Dr. Foreman

In churches with a paid ministry, the minister's salary is not payment for services rendered, for if he does render a pastor's service, what he does cannot possibly be measured in money. His salary is a subsidy enabling him to resign all other work and spend all his working days at being a pastor.

What is a Pastor?

Most people don't realize that the word "pastor" was originally a figure of speech; it comes from the Latin word for shepherd. Like all figures of speech, this one does not tell the whole truth, but it is very useful. The prophet Ezekiel was called a pastor or shepherd, so is Timothy in the New Testament. In one of Jesus' last interviews with Peter, that apostle was commanded: "Feed my sheep." Jesus, in fact, spoke of himself as the Good Shepherd, and in the 23rd Psalm the words are familiar, "The Lord is my Shepherd." Both Roman Catholic and Protestant churches think highly of the pastor and constantly seek better ones. Much time and expense is devoted to their training. Saint Paul (Eph. 4:11) mentions being a pastor as a special divine gift, distinct from that of the evangelist or the teacher,—though indeed was paid by the royal court, and like many salaried men, when ordered to do something against his conscience and religion, might have shrugged it off: "Well, I hate to do it, it goes against the grain. But this is my job and who am I to talk back to my employer? I've gotta play ball if I stay on the payroll." Daniel was made of stouter stuff. When he knew that God said one thing and his boss said another, even if the boss was a king with powers of life and death, Daniel saw no choice but to obey God rather than men.

Against Custom

Daniel "bucked" not only an old-fashioned, oriental dictator, all dressed up in crown and gown, but something that is just as tyrannical: public opinion and long-standing customs. If he had had the public on his side, he might not have been reported (for example) in the incident of the prayers at the open window. Back home in Palestine many would have known that he was right; here in Persia almost no one agreed with him. To go against "what everybody does"—usually meaning by "everybody" the more important people of a community—takes nerve. It can be wrong, too, for very often public opinion is just about right. One ought to think very carefully before flying the opposite course to every one else. But when Daniel knew he was right, he knew that fifty thousand Medes and Persians could be wrong; and he acted accordingly.

Against Personal Interests

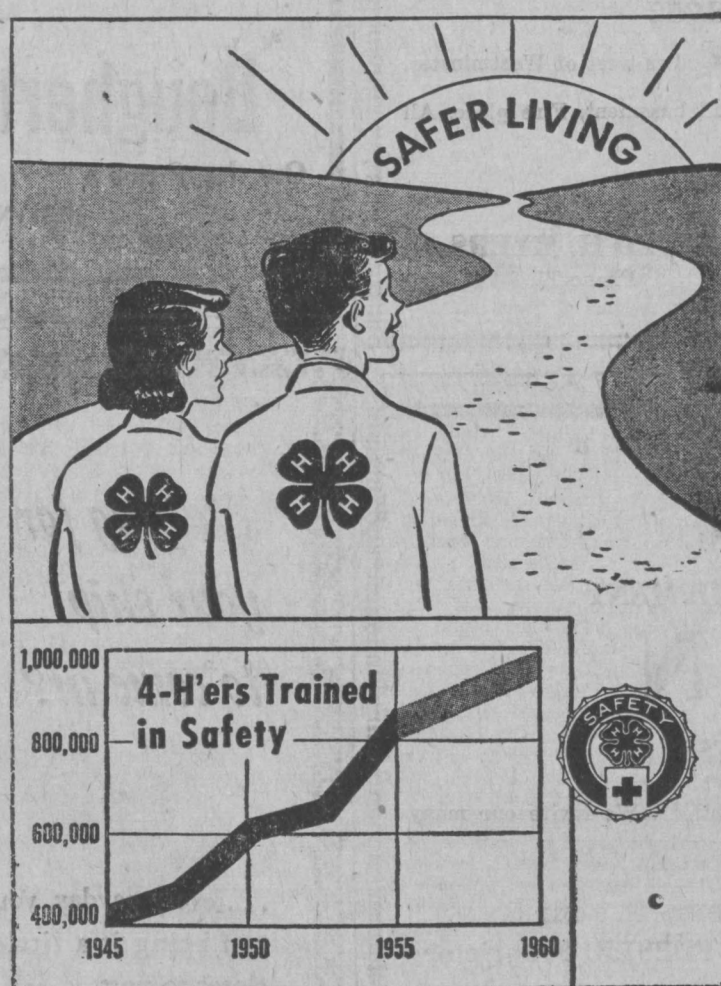

Many people take the easiest way. All they ask is, "What does this get me? Where does it get me? Will this bring me more prestige, will it end in my promotion, will it help me up the ladder?" If the answer is Yes, then they go ahead. They don't dare do anything contrary to their own interests. But Daniel dared. More than once he had the courage to do something or to say something when it looked as if by doing or saying it he would put an end to his career. But the king always kept him on, though for a while he might turn against him. Men admire courage of all sorts, especially Daniel's kind. The king and everybody else knew that here was a man who could be counted on to say and to do what he was convinced was right, even if it hurt him,—even if it killed him. Here was a man who could not be threatened, could not be bought. Such men were not plentiful then, they are not thick as blackberries now. But they are God's men always.

4-H's Lead the Way to Safety

The future looks brighter for more people because more 4-H Club members than ever before are being trained and educated in safety. Participation in the 1957 national 4-H safety program enables them to make their homes, farms and communities safer places in which to live and work.

Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 throughout the state are learning safe practices that will pay dividends later in life whether they reside on the farm or in the city. Conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, the 4-H safety program has been supported continuously since 1945 by General Motors.

Incentive awards offered to 4-H'ers for superior achievement include distinctive medals, college scholarships, and educational trips to the national 4-H Club Congress held annually in Chicago.

Magic Lemon Petal Tarts For Teen-Ager Treats

WITH THE OPENING OF SCHOOL even the resourceful mother is sometimes put to it to provide refreshments for the youngsters' treats and parties. Bite-size lemon meringue tarts with sweetened condensed milk filling are sure to win the approval of even the most critical teen-ager and from the mother's point of view, they are a real treat, too. The sweetened condensed milk filling needs no cooking and is always magically smooth and creamy.

To add eye appeal to the tarts, make the shells in your smallest muffin or cup cake pans like little cups of petals. Top with meringue or whipped cream.

MAGIC LEMON MERINGUE TARTS

1 package pastry mix
made into petal shells
1 1/2 cups sweetened
condensed milk
3/4 cup lemon juice

1 teaspoon grated
lemon rind
or 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
2 egg yolks

Stir sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, lemon rind or lemon extract and egg yolks until mixture thickens. Pour filling into chilled baked tart shells. Top each with a fluff of meringue or whipped cream.

For petal shells, roll pastry out 3/8 inch thick. Cut pastry circle for bottom of each muffin or cup-cake pan and put in pans. For petals, cut circle pattern of stiff paper the depth of muffin pan, plus 1/8 inch, and cut five rounds of pastry for each tart. If you have a round cookie cutter approximately the right size, use it instead of the paper pattern. Place circles around sides of each muffin pan, overlapping for petal effect. To hold together, brush with unbeaten egg white where surfaces touch. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool and remove from pans.

Little girls beget big heartaches

From the moment they're born, girls are a lot of trouble. Little ones wiggle too much. Big ones shed too many tears. And Mothers and Dads never stop worrying about them as they take each difficult step from babyhood to adulthood.

Is your little girl starting school this year? If so, she's taking her first step towards growing up. There's so much you want her to learn. So many things she needs to know to grow-up into the kind of wife and mother you want her to be.

One of the important lessons for your daughter to learn is the meaning of thrift and the value of a regular savings program. And that's what the U. S. Treasury's School Savings Program will teach her.

By the purchase of 10¢ and 25¢ Savings Stamps in their schools, children can save up for U. S. Savings Bonds of their very own. Is your child's school participating in this important program? Why not speak to your principal, school superintendent or P.T.A. group about it? And start the U. S. School Savings Program in your school today!

Your Savings Bonds State Director will gladly help you. Phone or write him—or contact the Savings Bonds Division, U. S. Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. Savings Stamps point the way you want your child to grow!
