KIWANIS AND LIONS IN JOINT MEETING

The Theme: "Maryland Land Week"

Kiwanian Charlie Stonesifer presented Mr. Lawrence Welsh who in turn introduced Mr. Bob Jones to a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs of Taneytown.

Mr. Jones, who has been associated with the county agent's office of Carroll County since July 1, brought the greetings of Landon C. Burns and presented a filmed program which served to mark Maryland State Land Week. The film was in part a timed exposure and depicted quite effectively—even beautifully—the story of the world at your feet.

From catching on film the miracle of germination and some of the mysterious tropisms of plants, the editor of the film then recorded as nearly as possible the still largely unexplained processes of photosynthesis—the accumulation of carbon dioxide and water which somehow strangely in the chlorophyll becomes the sugar and starch necessary for the sustenance of animal life on the planet.

Proceeding from what is relatively unknown, the editor of the film then reviewed those things which are more generally understood, the origins of the various soil types, the part that organic matter—humus—plays in the structure of soils, and how the amount of humus affects the water-holding capacity of the earth. The film left no doubt as to the effects of mineral deficiencies on plants raised on poor soil, or of the effects, in turn, of such mineral-deficient plants on animal life. The problem of plant disease was touched upon, and the bacteriology of soil was made somewhat more understandable.

In some of the best pictures of the film, the predatory instincts of insect life were strikingly depicted. The ecological cycle, the balance of nature—these things will surely always remain wonderful to observe.

The relationship between soils, plants, and animals is of paramount importance. The future of the world, the destiny of the earth, its nations, and its peoples all depend on good husbandry—on good farmers. Carroll County is fortunate to have so many. Two of its service clubs were fortunate to have had the opportunity last night to be reminded of the relationship of soil condition and animal physiology.

CLAUDE B. REIFSNIDER CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY

A surprise party was given Claude B. Reifsnider at his home on the Taneytown Road, near Westminster, Md., on Saturday evening, Oct. 5, 1957, in honor of his 80th birthday by his family and friends from Baltimore, York, Pa., Finksburg and surrounding community.

Although he had received a shower of greetings cards he was unaware of the evening's festivities. At about 7:45 the group walked in. Mr. Reifsnider was privileged to have his wife, their children and their families, his only sister and his granddaughter and many of his closest friends around him on this happy occasion.

The table was lovely in pink and white and candle-light, the centerpiece was a three-tiered cake with 80 lighted candles, made and decorated by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cashman of Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Reifsnider was the recipient of many lovely gifts. He enjoys good health and keeps quite busy. He loves teaching his class of boys each Sunday in the Frizellburg Church of God. He is a life long Elder in this church. His favorite past-time is fishing in nearby waters. His many friends wish for him continued good health and God's blessings for many, many years.

SPECIALY DESIGNED CAKE BAKED

The Baumgardner's Bakery supplied a very unusual cake for an anniversary recently. St. Luke's Lutheran Church at Point of Rocks, the Rev. Gordon C. Hite, pastor, celebrated its seventieth anniversary and cornerstone laying of the parish hall, Sunday 29th. Mr. Walter Stonesifer, an employee of the bakery, was given the order for the cake. Norris Sell and Vernon Stely, employees of the bakery, went to Point of Rocks and made a study of the architecture of the church, and then came home and made an exact replica of it. The cake, made of gum paste and Royle icing, was 18x25 inches, and the church, on the cake, was 10x15 inches, height 24 inches to the top of the weather vane on the steeple. In the steeple of the church there was a bell, and on the front of the church a bulletin board with the regular announcements and the name of the pastor.

The cake was placed in the show window of the bakery, and all who saw it considered it a work of art. These two men who decorated the cake are indeed good in that line.

The dedication service was held at 2:00 p. m., with Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, Baltimore, as guest speaker. The Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, Waynesboro, Pa., laid the cornerstone. At 3:00 p. m., a social hour was held and at this time the anniversary cake was cut by Governor McKeldin.

Mr. Stonesifer delivered the cake the night before the celebration.

DRUM CORPS FARES WELL THIS SEASON

Successful Organization Sponsored by Hesson-Snyder Post

The Taneytown Drum & Bugle Corp wishes to present to the community a record of their achievements during the past year. We are proud of our accomplishments and we want the community to share our pride. Even though the corp is sponsored by the American Legion, it, in the eyes of other communities, represents Taneytown as a whole. Therefore, it, in effect, becomes a civic endeavor, and merits the support of the entire citizenry of our community.

The corp attended twenty-four parades this year in affiliation with the Pleasant Hill Fire Company's marching unit in all but a few instances. The rest of the parades were attended in company with either Irishtown Firemen or the Frederick Jr. Firemen.

Our group is inordinately proud of being awarded the $300.00 first prize for the best appearing marching unit (the corp marching with the Irishtown Firemen), on August 24, 1957 at the Waynesboro Firemen's Convention. We consider this feat a major accomplishment in view of the fact that we were competing with some of the best Corps in the state of Maryland as well as outstanding Corps from Pennsylvania. It is also noteworthy that we have received prize money for almost every parade we have participated in.

Following is a list of the parades we have participated in. Uniontown, Taneytown, Littlestown, Union Bridge, Harney, New Windsor, Taneytown, Emmitsburg, Gettysburg, Arcadia, Manchester, Reese, Pleasant Hill, Hampstead, Thurmont, Rocky Ridge, Dover, Waynesboro, Littlestown, McSherrystown, Hampstead, Centenal, Gaithersburg, and Mt. Airy.

There are yet a few parades in which we are invited to participate in.

There is always a sour note beneath the surface of something bright and gay. In our case it is the urgent need of new uniforms and equipment. These items are extremely expensive, so require an extensive, vigorous fund-raising campaign. The Corps has and is doing everything possible to raise the necessary funds through their own efforts, thus keeping the group self-sustaining. To this end a big game will be held and at the same time a pony colt given away. Donations are now being received to offset the cost of the colt and to realize a profit for the Corp.

Show us that you share some of our enthusiasm. Your support will prove to us that our efforts are not in vain and that you want Taneytown to continue to be represented by an outstanding Drum Corp.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The many rabbits scamper lively over the lawn and I did see just one lonely deer run gracefully away as the car approached his path. The geraniums now are looking kind of droopy after I potted them outdoors and placed several on the sill of the picture window in the kitchen and most of them on a flower wrought iron stand in the dining room. They will soon appear as beautiful as ever. The gardenia plant is also in the dining room and the leaves already are as shiny as though they had been waxed and a few buds are appearing.

Hearing from our nice Senator Beall in answer to my letter in reference to the bill of S. S. of which I requested you to write. Here is his reply and I know it will interest you. Those who have not written by all means do so immediately which will mean eventually that you will be permitted to earn more even though you may be getting S. S., now that the top ceiling will not mean just that meager 1200 a year! "The Bill is still pending, which was introduced last year, so writes the Senator, and that all S. S. legislation must originate in the House of Representatives. Therefore, we in the Senate cannot act upon it until the House has done so before hand." So hurry off that letter and here is the number of the Bill again: H. R. 7141, as after Congress convenes in January, I am positive that the public will agree to this one. Eh?

And as for those "Charity Sisters" loaning out hospital supplies and necessary items such as bed pans, crutches, and etc., Louis Azrael replies the name is Mrs. Phoebe Lub. (Continued on page four)

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This year Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, will mark another milestone of organized fire prevention activities in this country.

The anniversary will emphasize the value of fire prevention work in the form of concentrated annual campaigns, town inspections, engineering surveys of the fire protection facilities of cities, extensive research by insurance companies, and the many and varied contributions by public and private agencies outside the fire insurance business.

At the same time losses this year may exceed a billion dollars for the first time in history. So far they are averaging about $90 million a month. This naturally poses a question: Do the fire prevention activities of the fire insurance business and the public really help prevent fires?

In answer, James C. Hullett, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, gives a resounding "yes."

He explains: About the time fire prevention activities began on a basis that was not spasmodic, the estimated value of the nation's reproducible tangible assets was $71 billion. That included residential and non-residential structures, farm buildings, institutional and government buildings, and inventories, including crops and livestock—mostly structures and goods that were insurable. Fire losses that year were $165 million.

By 1952, when the latest figures were available, the burnable national assets had increased about twelve times over the 1905 figures, and fire losses had increased only five times.

Undoubtedly other factors besides fire prevention work have affected the widening gap between the values of structures and goods at risk and the actual fire losses in the last half century. But the gap is large enough, and has coincided near enough with the increasing fire prevention activities, to support the assumption that safety work has been effective.

We believe, with Mr. Hullett, that our nation has made a good start in fire prevention and that real progress is being made. Let us not relax our efforts to do better.

PREVENTION THE ONLY CURE

National Fire Prevention Week, from October 6th to 13th, is important to Americans everywhere. It is a time for everyone to consider how and whether he can improve his own fire protection. But in the country and on the farm, this annual reminder is of the most vital and dramatic significance.

The farmer is not only isolated from the water mains and at a distance from community fire-fighting equipment, but must face the hazard of fire from many more causes than the city man. Further, he is in grave danger of losing not only his home but his barns and all his buildings, his livestock, his machinery, his harvest - all the means by which he makes his living. And everyone who has ever seen a fire in the country or joined in the battle against the flames is reminded of the fact that farm fires claim three thousand lives a year.

Yet, despite these risks, there are mighty few farmers who can afford to do all the things they would like to do in the way of fire prevention. A farmstead is a matter of evolution. It is not created all at once, with all its buildings and equipment of the same quality and up-to-dateness. Old buildings, like old machinery, gradually give way to new, and about the best most farmers can do is to see that replacements and repairs give the utmost in fire protection.

For this reason, asbestos-cement building materials, in the form of fire-proof roofing and siding, board and corrugated sheets, are increasingly popular with thoughtful farmers. An asbestos-cement roof for the house or a barn, if you can go no farther, is probably the best protection against the building catching fire from the flaming brands of another. Later on, board or siding of this same stone-like, unburnable, impervious material can be added. And when new buildings are needed, asbestos-cement will make them virtually indestructible - proof against rats and mice, even termites!

Fire Prevention Week is a warning and check-up week. It's not a week in which you can accomplish - especially on the farm - all the corrections and improvements that might or even should be made. But it is the time to start, the time to see what should be done first, the time to remember that fire is no respecter of good intentions.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

"A few weeks ago we printed parking tickets for the City of Hartwell for the first time," writes J. Wesley Hughes in the "Hither and Yon" column of THE HARTWELL (Ga.) SUN. Today our profit on the job was whittled to the tune of 50 cents. They returned one of the tickets - under our windshield wiper."

Which reminds us that in mentioning, on July 12, that Mount Holly, N. C., is experimenting with a courtesy program wherein the police put coins in the meters for overtime parkers, we started quite a discussion.

From Neosho, Mo., came word that this idea had been in successful use there for three years, and that it had originated some years before in West Plains, Mo. Then came a note from Editor Ed Apking, of THE ORD (Neb.) QUIZ - written on the back of a courtesy parking slip issued by the town of Hastings, Neb. Mr. Apking reported that while "only a few Nebraska towns have parking meters", the idea used in Hastings prevailed generally throughout the state:

"WELCOME TO HASTINGS!!!" says the slip. "If you receive tickets for parking violations during your visit in Hastings, just sign this slip and turn your tickets over to the Chamber of Commerce in the Clarke Hotel.

"Police are required to make no exceptions in placing tickets on all vehicles violating parking regulations. As a courtesy to our convention guests the Chamber of Commerce will handle your tickets for you."

The visitor fills out a coupon at the bottom of the slip with his name and address and the name of the convention he is attending.

Now comes the latest repercussion from President and Treasurer Claude H. Heintzelman, of THE COATESVILLE (Pa.) RECORD, who says editorially:

"The Coatesville Record tried this plan (Mount Holly, et al.) a number of years ago, and our recollection is that we got the idea from a Texas newspaper. We went so far as to have notices printed for placing in automobiles, indicating that The Record had paid for additional time, merely as a courtesy, and hoped the car owners would return to this city frequently to take advantage of our splendid stores.

"We thought the idea was a good one . . . until we informed Walter Greenwood, then city solicitor, of the 'smart thing' we were doing. Walter quickly took the wind out of our sails. He informed us that parking meters were so designed as to make it possible for a large number of patrons to use them, and this feature would be lost if parkers continued to . . . occupy the space longer than the hour or two-hour periods for which they were designed.

"In other words, were we to place coins in the meters to pay for time over the limit shown on the meters, we would be violating the law and could be punished . . . After the conversation with Mr. Greenwood, however, we destroyed the nice little cards . . ."

We hope the Mount Holly experiment is working out, and that the members of the Merchants Association sponsoring it are not languishing in jail. But the way things are trending, it might be construed as restraint of trade - and a Federal rap.

Sincerely,
BOB TAYLOR

SAFETY FACTS

CHICAGO—The pay envelopes of America's workers were short $1,100,000 last year.

This wage loss was the result of time lost because of work accidents, the National Safety Council says.

Costs of work accidents rose about 3 per cent last year, according to "Accident Facts," statistical year-book of the Council.

Just off the press, the booklet shows that medical expenses increased to about $400,000,000 and overhead costs of insurance went up to $450,000,000.

Damaged equipment and materials, production delays and time losses of other workers not involved in the accidents cost industry $1,800,000,000.

Total cost of work accidents was $3,750,000,000.

MARYLAND BANKS WERE LARGEST LENDERS TO STATE'S FARMERS IN 1956

Again in 1956, Maryland farmers met the bulk of their credit needs through loans from their local banks, according to W. R. Milford, president of the Maryland Bankers Association. Mr. Milford is honorary chairman of the County Trust Company, Cambridge. During the year, he noted, the state's banks remained the leaders in farm credit service by providing far more financial aid to farmers than any other lending agency.

Using figures from the sixteenth annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Milford pointed out that on January 1, 1957, Maryland banks had a total of $41,484,000 in loans outstanding to farmers. On the same date, $9,624,000 was held in Maryland farm loans by Production Credit Associations, the second largest lender to the state's farmers; $8,682,000 was held by Federal Land Banks; $6,562,000 by insurance companies; and $5,537,000 by the Farmers Home Administration.

The total of farm credit outstanding in banks was made up of $16,095,000 in production loans and $25,389,000 in farm mortgages. In addition, Maryland banks held $13,000 in C. C. C. paper not included in the above total.

Mr. Milford commented especially on the increase in farm capital requirements to the present very high levels. "This increase," he said, "has created a growing need for loans with repayment periods of longer than one year. Banks are meeting this need in part by using a larger proportion of real estate credit to finance non-real estate investments.

"The shift to comparatively greater use of real estate credit for capital improvements and production purposes is indicated by estimates that over one-half of all farm real estate loans are now used for production and operating expenses, new machinery, improvements of livestock herds, and the like.

"A further reflection of bank efforts to meet increased needs for intermediate-length loans is the substantial portion of production credit outstanding at the beginning of 1957 which carried a repayment period of longer than one year.

Mr. Milford stated that "these investments made through use of longer term bank loans have contributed substantially to the efficiency and progress of Maryland agriculture."

Mr. Milford reported that all but 9 of the 149 insured commercial banks in Maryland served agriculture by making farm loans during 1956.

WHAT KIND OF A COMMUNITY
DO YOU WANT TO LIVE IN?

Fortunately Carroll County and other like counties still retain a precious ability to shape their future development.

The individual settler, however, is likely to forget the part he can play in that development.

He should study his needs and desires in choosing from among a variety of potential home communities, and select one he can help influence the way he feels it should be for those who will follow him.

What's the communities reason for being? It's special charm and personality? Is it likely to remain that way for a generation to come?

What kind of life do you and your family wish to lead? Do you seek privacy, stimulation, participation in group activities? Do you get pleasure from sharing your pleasures and benefits with others?

Do you share as willingly the chores and work always found in group activities?

Does this particular community satisfy your urges and desires better than another might? Or as well as your present place of residence already does?

Don't expect any community to score 100%. Remember - the greater majority of the people in the world today, live narrowly and meanly - That human nature does not change and is essentially self-regarding and potentially corrupt. Choose the community that answers most of your needs. Only after you've found it, should you hunt for those seven rooms, rose garden, and terrace you've always wanted.

Maybe you'll find you already live in that community, and it needs only a little more cooperation for all residents to make it the best of all.

—The Carroll County Civic Council

FRESERSBURG (A Voice from Carryl)

The Russians launched their earth satellite over the week-end but to thousands and thousands of Americans, who was going to win the World Series was of greater importance. Dave Garroway on his Morning show Monday was highly indignant that the American people were not in a panic over the satellite and that some T.V. comedians had the bad taste to joke about our failure to beat the Russians with our own extra moon. It is my opinion that when the Americans cease to laugh at their own failures, then we will indeed be in trouble. If we had ridiculed McCarthy with some good jokes when he first appeared on our political horizon, our scientists may have perfected a earth satellite long ago. But for years they were kept busy proving that they were good, loyal Americans to the senate committees and the State department while their laboratories and test tubes gathered dust. Now we are going to pay for the phony witch-hunts and yay dearly. For the past seven years intellectual superiority has been sneered at and slandered to the extent that it was popular to be stupid and brainless. It was time something came along to shock us out of our panic over new cars and the latest method to make a fast buck.

The following is a letter from a reader of this column: "Several weeks ago you asked a question whether a hen laid an egg because she wants to or because she has to. I think I know the answer and the reason. She lays because she has to because she is so pampered that if nature didn't force her to squeeze out an egg once in awhile she just wouldn't. Hens these days don't know what it is to work for their living. Not many ever put their feet on the ground, let alone scratch for a meal. If a modern biddy even saw a worm she'd run squawking for the nearest roost thinking it was a monster. She doesn't even raise her own children any more. She puts them under an electric nurse-maid with several hundred other chick orphans and forgets she ever was a mother. Her meals are placed before, weighed and counted to the last calorie so that she keeps her perfect figure throughout her laying life. She leads a chaste, inhibited life, without benefit of male companionship. Her outlook on life is purely selfish and commercial. Sometimes she enters a contest with other hens to find out which one can lay the most eggs. To do this she must eat twelve hours a day and sleep with the lights on in the chicken house. Her one desire is that when she dies she will make a lovely potpie. If she doesn't live too long she may get her wish, but if she allows the years to accumulate before the final day she will end up as a chicken salad sandwich."

One of the most popular exhibits at the Frederick Fair last week was the one by the Forest Conservation Committee. Each child that visited the exhibit was given a small pine seedling to plant and take care of until it grows into a tree. This is one method to impress upon young minds the need to take care of our forests. Adult minds too, need to be taught the same idea, although we believe that most adults have learned the value of timber. People building new homes today prefer a lot with trees and know just how long it takes a tree to reach maturity. In the past man has been too wasteful with our forests. Now the coming generations must replenish what was so carelessly destroyed.

Some one called our attention to the peculiar behavior of the red foxes in our community. Last year in Virginia the foxes deviated from their normal behavior pattern and it was found later they were infected with rabies. Since it is possible the foxes from Virginia may have penetrated into Maryland and infected our foxes, anyone seeing a fox acting too tame or sick should report it at once to the Game Warden. Human beings bitten by rabid animals either die or must submit to the Pasteur treatment which isn't a very pleasant procedure.

Supermarkets are the last word in shopping. Under one roof the shopper can buy anything from a can of shark's fins to a baby's teething ring. We think this is something brand new in ideas, but it isn't. It's just a big steal from the old-fashioned general store. The only difference is there is more of it. There is still another difference and that is one the super-stores haven't been able to rein from the small general stores and that is the warm friendliness that use to be as evident as the wares stocked on the shelves. The people in the supermarkets grab a basket, propel it at breakneck speed up and down the aisles, tossing in cans, packages and vegetables and snarling traffic in their haste to get to the cashier before anyone else. If they happen to bump into a friend, they say: "Sorry, gotta go." No time nor no space to indulge in friendly conversation. Supermarkets are wonderful places... that is for other people. We still like to shop in a small town in a small store.

We wonder why there is so much time and money spent on filtering tobacco from a cigarette and nothing is being done to filter gas fumes from the exhaust pipes on cars and trucks. When a person from the wide open spaces visits a city he doesn't choke on cigarette smoke but on gas fumes from the hundreds of cars traveling on narrow streets.

To readers who send letters and do not sign their names to them: I don't say much heed to anonymous letters no matter how interesting they are. Some pose some interesting questions but for the protection of this paper and myself I cannot publish any material in this column unless it is signed. Sorry, but that is the law of the newspaper business.

Its sad to be old and bent, but sadder to be young and broke.—Ruth Roelke.

man and the phone number is Liberty 2-8966 so do look around your house and see what you can give for this big cause.

Now is the time to buy that car but don't let the dealer in Baltimore fool you when he says they are a thousand dollars cheaper on all '57's. They tell you what the original price really is and then deduct the amount that will be in the trade with your old car! Foxy is the word!

You know, Mrs. Housewife, why all or most all movie actresses are so beautiful? Because they do get a lot of sleep! The more rest and sleep you get the fewer lines will be noticed in your face!

A lady asks about a few blemishes on her face and what should she do. The finest remedy which I can recommend is "Resinol" soap. So run right to Doc's and read the directions carefully. I'll guarantee that one as I used it myself and I had severe sun poisoning and in two weeks the awful marks were gone entirely.

A widow writes to ask me that she would like to marry again but she is afraid that she won't get the kind of a grand husband she had and then asks me if she should take a chance. Well, I have heard another lady say she would not want to marry again for fear she would get the same tyrant she had! I don't like to hear any widow or widower say they will take the chance again for if there is not real love and that very deep, my advice is to remain single. Yet, you can love two or three times so don't let that part scare you. Here's hoping the very best for you!

Now, if you really want to get slim, ladies, just drink a glass of skim milk late every afternoon and that will ward off the frightful pang of hunger for the evening meal causing less consumption of food.

And if you start with pains in any joint be sure and place the electric pad on at night and wrap it around the joint. It must be done every night for a week and you will be pleased at the results.

Now, folks, be sure and give and GIVE and GIVE when the nice individual comes to your door for the hospital which will be built in Carroll County. That one I wrote about just a dozen years ago that it should be a must in that County. You will say that you are glad you have had a part in it all. Give all you can and then some more!

Mrs. Housekeeper, never go to the grocery store or market when you are hungry, for that will positively run up your bill more so!

Hope you are not missing the story of those "Fabulous Fords" in The Baltimore News-Post.

Heard a man say recently that he is teaching his ten year old child to drive his car! Ugh!

How nice it is to know that Sally Wantz reads my column each week and she resides over in this county, too, and today I was told that she speaks so much about the people in Carroll County!

Be sure to make plans to see "Cinerama" in Baltimore at The Town Theatre. That was one movie Your Observer had to see twice. Remember?

And keep the date open of the 19th and 20th for the visit to that grand Artist's Colony which will be open to the public—900 Tyson Street. What a crime it would be if that one block was wiped out due to the proposed highway. That is one street which should be kept on and on for it is filled with real charm! Go see for yourself and help to preserve it for the city of Baltimore and all who visit there!

See you next week. D. V. Be most careful when you drive. Until then D. V., I am,

Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER.

CARD PARTY PLANS COMPLETE Plans have been completed and everything nearing readiness for the annual Public Card Party next Thursday evening, Oct. 17, in the Taneytown High School Auditorium. This will be the ninth annual affair sponsored by the Taneytown High School Alumni Association and will begin at 8 p. m.

This is traditionally one of the biggest and best parties of the season in this area, and this year promises to be no exception. Mrs. Elizabeth Baumgardner, chairman, reports that there will be over 100 useful and lovely prizes awarded. All of the net door receipts this year will go to the new high school band, which will soon be making their first public appearance in uniform. Everyone is invited and urged to come help make this the most successful party yet.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS FROM THE CURRENT READER'S DIGEST The human body's circulatory system is the world's most remarkable transportation system, reports the January Reader's Digest. It is an estimated 60,000 to 100,000 miles long, longer than any U.S. railroad, and blood circulates through the system at five quarts per minute - 7200 quarts every 24 hours.

The venom of a Black Widow spider, says Reader's Digest, is 15 times as potent as that of rattlesnake but the spider's supply is so small that it is rarely lethal. Nearly all other spiders are harmless.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

The high school band wearing new uniforms, will participate in the annual Band Day Concert at the University of Maryland on Saturday, October 12. Bands from all over the state have been invited as guests of the university to participate in the half-time entertainment during the football game between University of Maryland and Wake Forest. This is the eastern regional game of the week and will be televised nationally.

Mr. Magee, photographer, took senior informals, faculty informals, groups, and miscellaneous pictures for the yearbook on Monday, October 7.

Seniors to Visit Towson To become better acquainted with the Towson State Teachers' College, three seniors, Elaine Harner, Frances Groshon, and Carol Myers, will participate in Visitors Day at that place on Thursday, October 17. Others in the group will be Mrs. Shipley, guidance counselor, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harner.

They will visit classrooms, tour the building, meet the faculty, and attend an assembly during which Dr. Earle Hawkins, president of the college will welcome them to the school.

While the students tour the building, the counselors of Carroll, Frederick, Cecil and Harford Counties will meet to discuss problems related to counseling in the senior high school.

Grades Nine and Eleven Take Tests Mental maturity and California achievement tests are being given grades 9 and 11 by Mrs. Shipley, guidance counselor.

The major purpose of the Mental Maturity Test is to provide information on the nature and organization of the abilities of a given individual in order that the information may be used to guide his learning activities.

California tests are given not only to measure achievement but to provide a basis for planning remedial instruction in the areas where individual students may be deficient. Areas tested are arithmetic, reading and language.

Scores made in these tests will reveal the grade placement and percentile rank of students in relation to the general school population.

Preliminary Scholarship Tests Scheduled Fourteen seniors on Wednesday, October 22, will take a scholarship qualifying test provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Students with the highest scores on this two hour qualifying test will take a designated Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. These aptitude tests are given at special designated centers. Each semifinalist is notified as to which center he is to report. High scoring students enter the finals of the competition and become eligible for merit scholarships. Actual winners are chosen from among the finalists by a panel of educational experts. Test scores, school performances, qualities of character, and biographical information are all determining factors in scholarship awards.

Under the auspices of this nationwide scholarship program, hundreds of high school students with outstanding scholastic ability receive the financial aid necessary to help them obtain a college education.

The program was established in 1955 with Ford Foundation and Carnegie Corporation of New York gifts totaling more than $20,000,000. It is now the largest independent, nonprofit scholarship in the history of American education.

The fourteen who will take the preliminary tests from Taneytown are Meta Schott, Vesta Null, Marian Miceha, David Bair, Larry Little, Robert Clingan, George Crouse, Kenneth Reifsnider, Elaine Harner, Frances Groshon, Edward Cluck, John Reeve, Robert Devilliss, and David Gunther.

Mrs. Merle Ohler spoke and showed a film on Canada to grade 8X on Monday, October 7. The class taught by Miss Mary Freeman has started a unit on this country.

HOSPITALS DRIVE FOR FUNDS

THE CARROLL COUNTY HOSPITAL FUND DRIVE

The Advance Gift Division of the Carroll County General Hospital Fund is now complete, according to the report of Mr. Jos. L. Mathias, Chairman of that committee. The area committees are active and daily progress is reported. This division will finish its solicitation October 10th.

"The work of this committee is most important to the success of the campaign," Mr. Mathias points out. "It is as simple as this; achieve a third of the total goal in Advance Gifts, and it is almost certain that the efforts of the other committees and their workers, and the gifts of the subscribers will meet with like success."

Mr. Mathias commended his area chairmen and their workers. He also expressed appreciation for the response these "First Givers" are making to the appeal for funds. "If each of us will express in our pledges the same sense of privilege and duty the campaign will be a gratifying success," Mr. Mathias said.

Mr. Ray Riley, chairman of the Commerce and Industry Committee of the Carroll County General Hospital Fund, says he is "ready to go."

Organization in his committee will be set up next week. His work will cover 2000 commercial prospects in Carroll county and the Reisterstown area.

Reports show that Mr. Riley brings ability, experience, and conviction to the Beacon Steel Company, Inc., he is president of the Kiwanis Club, and past president of the Forest and Stream Club of Westminster. He is a member of the Reformed Church, and he belongs to the Door to Virtue Masonic Lodge, number 46. He graduated from Blue Ridge College.

For thirty months during the second World War, Mr. Riley served with the 7th Bn. of The Seabees, in the South Pacific.

In an interview, Mr. Riley stated, "My committee men and I consider the hospital an urgent necessity and a time-saving convenience. We believe that the progressive men who make up our prospects share our opinion."

Mr. Riley, himself a parent, declared, "I believe I speak for the parents in this area when I say I am tired of running to Frederick, to Hanover, to Baltimore for hospital services."

"An informed public is an interested public," Mr. Riley pointed out. "Interested people will be ready to respond with their pledges and gifts when solicitors visit them. This campaign is a two-way responsibility and should be understood by the public as such. Solicitors must visit their prospects, and each individual must respond if our goal is to be achieved."

It is this cooperation between the solicitor and the prospect that will build our hospital."

Mr. and Mrs. Riley and their children live along the Uniontown Road, Westminster.

Mrs. Gladys M. Wimert, chairman of the Community Gifts Committee of the Carroll County Hospital Fund, reports that workers are being recruited for the house-to-house solicitation which begins November 1st. "We need workers - many workers to make this campaign successful."

Mrs. Wimert participates in all charity drives in the county. For eighteen years she has served as chairman and director of the Carroll County Infantile Paralysis Drive. She has served on the board of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association. During the entire campaign she served as full secretary of the Carroll County Memorial Medical Center.

She is interested in youth. In 1934 she organized the Girl Scouts in Westminster. For ten years she has sponsored the Beta Sigma Sorority of Westminster. She was the county chairman on the Maryland Youth Commission.

Mrs. Wimert is a member of Grace Lutheran Church; a Chapter Regent of the Winchester D.A.R. she has been in charge of the women's program on Radio Station WTTR since it began July 14, 1953; and she is past president of the Carroll County Chapter of the American Penwomen.

In Carroll Unit No. 31 of the American Legion Auxiliary Mrs. Wimert served as follows: Charter president, serving for six years; vice president of the Western Maryland District Department of Maryland; past president of the Departmental Chapeau of the 40 and 8. For two years she was president of the V.F.W. Auxiliary.

Mrs. Wimert served as president for two years of the International Soroptimist Club of Westminster, of which she is a charter member. She organized the Venture Club.

In 1950 the Soroptimist Club honored her as the most outstanding woman of Carroll County. In 1951 Mrs. Wimert was the only woman to receive the Westminster Chamber of Commerce Award.

Asked what she considered of most importance to the campaign, Mrs. Wimert said, "Workers. People will give, but they must be reached. If enough workers go out success is assured."

Mrs. Wimert is married to Mr. Paul M. Wimert and they reside at 67 W. Green St., Westminster. Mr. Wimert is manager of T. W. Mather & Sons department store of Westminster. Mr. and Mrs. Wimert have one son, Major Paul M. Wimert, Jr., U. S. Army.

John S. Teeter and Sons, Inc., has subscribed $6,000 to the Annie M. Warner Hospital building fund to establish a memorial in the new South Wing of the hospital to be built through the current $350,000 fund.

The subscription was announced by Richard W. Livingston, the fund's corporation committee chairman, who said a private room in the new wing will stand in memory of John S. Teeter, founder of the company which bears his name, and his wife, Margaret R. Teeter, long residents of near Taneytown. Mr. Teeter passed away on February 10, 1946, and his wife on April 15, 1957.

In reporting the contribution, Mr. Livingston termed it "an excellent example of a corporation's interest in the health and welfare of the community in which its employees reside and of the opportunity which the memorial plan offers to perpetuate the name of its founder."

John S. Teeter and Sons, Inc., established in 1934 for purpose of general contracting, stone quarrying and dairy farming, has been owned and operated continuously by its founder, John S. Teeter, and members of his family. John D. Teeter, of Gettysburg R. D. #2, the eldest son, has been president and general superintendent since the death of his father.

The other children of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Teeter are: Daniel E. Teeter, of Gettysburg, company secretary and Adams County district attorney; Mrs. Robert C. Clingan, of near Taneytown, whose husband is a vice-president and superintendent of its Westminster Quarry; William H. Teeter, a vice-president and general supply officer, of Gettysburg R. D. #2; Mrs. Richard Hagerly, Old Greenwich, Connecticut; Mr. Richard R. Teeter, Minneapolis, Minnesota, a psychiatrist and member of the faculty and staff of the University of Minnesota Hospitals and Medical School; Dr. James H. Teeter, a resident surgeon at Franklin Square Hospital in Baltimore, of Taneytown; and Frederick K. Teeter, of near Taneytown, who manages and operates the company's dairy farms.

Mr. Livingston said the company's subscription exceeds the amount indicated by a formula prepared for the guidance of corporate contributors. Such corporate contributions greatly promote the welfare of the many corporate employees and their families, as well as the community at large.

The new South Wing will have accommodations for 25 patients in private and semi-private rooms and in the entirely new pediatric department. The Warner Hospital expansion will also create a new kitchen and dietary facilities and a separate power plant.

IS YOUR HOUSE SAFELY AND ADEQUATELY WIRED?

Whether she realizes it or not, every housewife has a multitude of busy servants in her home—always present, doing her daily work. These servants are her many modern electrical appliances.

They can be drones or workers, depending upon whether the house has adequate wiring to provide full house-power.

Why is adequate wiring so important to the efficient operation of electrical appliances? Your automatic washer, your dishwasher, ironer or other work-saving devices cannot do the tasks they were designed to do if they do not receive sufficient electric power.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME UNPOPULAR WITH FARMERS

We are puzzled as to who was first to come up with the idea of giving more light and more heat in the summertime when Mother Nature has given much-too-much of both, already.

Congressman Oren Harris of Arkansas has introduced such a bill in the House. Some people may be puzzled as to the reason for Farm Bureau's support of the bill, but if they will stop for a moment and realize the confusion brought about in the many ways that Daylight Saving Time has been changed, they will undoubtedly join with Farm Bureau in saying that Daylight Time is—to the traveler, a confusing time, to the farmer, it is a losing time, and to the parents with youngsters, it is a trying time.

New Life for Old Ceilings

Cracked, stained, or generally unsightly ceilings are the latest spot in the home to gain the attention of do-it-yourself enthusiasts. What used to be a major remodeling job has now been made practically child's play with the development of a vinyl panel which can be applied directly over old ceilings to give a completely new look to that important, but often neglected, part of the room. This new ceiling tile, Trim-Quik, may be found at wall paper dealers. It comes in a variety of three-dimensional designs, six tiles to a panel, in both white and colors. And a new ceiling can do more than just make a room look pretty. As it's made of Velon. This one is completely washable, waterproof, and fire-resistant, and has acoustical qualities as well. In addition, it is budget priced—an eight by ten ceiling can be covered for less than twenty dollars. Just think of the areas in your home that could be improved with a new ceiling—basement playrooms, bathrooms, kitchens, attics, porches—in fact any room at all. Whether your old ceiling is made of plaster, wall board, or open beams, this new tile can be permanently applied in a matter of minutes with special adhesive or a stapling gun. That's all there is to it, and you'll soon have a room to be proud of.

... and he saved up all year for this

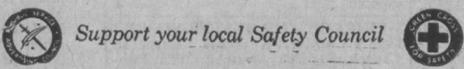

They were going to build the biggest sand castles ever! With towers, tunnels and arches. But now she's just a statistic ... her dream and her life ended by death on the highway! No one wanted to kill her. But someone did! Just as surely as someone killed the 40,000 men, women and children who died on our roads last year. That someone could be anyone ... it could even be you. So when you drive this summer, take extra care. No one wants to be a killer ... or a corpse

Here's how you can help stop traffic tragedies:

- 1 Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits, and warning signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!
2 Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

A Moral Church

Lesson for October 13, 1957

THE letter of Paul to the church at Corinth shows us, so to speak, a church with the lid off. These letters were plainly not intended for publication—that is, they were not sent out broadcast over the church at large. They were sent to the church concerned, one of Paul's problem churches.

Dr. Foreman

If Christians today sometimes think that their church would be free from its faults if only they could get the right preacher, they should remember the Apostle Paul. Even he had problem churches—almost "nothing else but."

Last week we noticed how highly Paul speaks of the church as an ideal, and yet how dark the reality sometimes was. One illustration of this was the crime at Corinth. For crime it was, right in the church, the crime of incest. The case seems to have been well known, Paul does not need to mention names. But the church had done not one thing about it. None of them had had the nerve even to speak out about this. (Were they too squeamish to mention it, or were the sinners perhaps prominent people?)

The Church Talks Morality

The church at Corinth is dead and gone long since. But we ask questions about the church of today. Is it moral? It certainly should be; the aim for every one of its members is nothing less than to be like Jesus. The church certainly talks morality. At least half an hour every week is spent listening to a serious talk which, in spite of what rambling there may be, does hold up high ideals. The Ten Commandments are posted on the wall of the Sunday school hall. Every Sunday school class is in favor of morality. You couldn't get a vote against morality in the whole place.

But does the church talk morality? Does it teach social responsibility? Does it hold up the same standards for the rich and the strong as for the poor and weak? Is the church putting its finger on the sins of our time or does it spend more energy denouncing a few simple sins than some of the bigger ones? Does the church talk morality on any higher level than (say) a luncheon club? Does the church lead the moral progress of the time, or does it do no better than to follow prevailing trends?

The Church Understands Morality

The church can see into morality, what it really means, too. The church today, at any rate—just any church on any corner or country road—knows, or at least it has heard dozens of times, that immortal 13th chapter of I Corinthians, "—greatest of these is Love." The church knows, or has often enough been told, that love is the fulfilling of the law (Romans 13:10). Ask almost any church member what is the most important quality in the Christian life, and he will usually say "Love."

But does the church understand this? On the one hand it understands that all the law of God comes down to and is focussed in just those two commands, love God and love your neighbor. But has the church often struggled with the question, how does love work out, in business, in education, in race and industrial relations, in any of the complex areas of today's puzzling, pushing life? Is the church's understanding of love something of words more than of works?

The Church Upholds Morality

The church upholds and insists on moral standards, too. Active in civic reforms always is the Ministerial Association. But what ministers and churches do in their own circles may be something else again. In how many congregations will the church tolerate a minister if he persists in pointing out and condemning, in God's name, sins and wrongs committed generally by the members of that church? Don't congregations often muzzle their ministers, as good as telling him he must not preach about this or that "controversial" theme? And, most painful question of all: When there is known to be wrong-doing in a congregation, what are the members likely to do about it? Do they, like the Corinthians, shut their eyes and pretend not to see it? Can a church be said to uphold morality if it never does a thing to, about or with those who drag morality down?

HAMPSTEAD YOUTH FOR CHRIST

The outstanding pioneer in youth evangelism, Dr. Percy Crawford of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, will appear at Hampstead Youth for Christ October 12th, 8 p. m., along with Mrs. Crawford and the male quartet. Rallies are held in the Greenmount EUB Church, one mile north of Hampstead on Route No. 30.

Founder and president of the King's College, Briarcliff Manor, New York, Crawford also founded the Young People's Church of the Air radio broadcast, now in its 26th year, as well as youth camps—Pinebrook, Mountainbrook, and Shadowbrook—located in the Pocono Mountains.

Entitled "Triumphant", the final in a series of ten 17 minute color films on the Book of Acts will portray Paul as he continues to witness during his Roman imprisonment.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

The Westminster Civitan Club has made two scholarships available for teachers of retarded children to attend the teachers' workshop being held this week in connection with the 8th Annual Convention of the National Association for Retarded Children. This convention is in session from Oct. 8 to 12 in St. Louis.

The teachers selected to use these scholarships are Miss Louise Bankert, teacher of one of the Davis Library classes, and Mrs. Mary Myers, teacher of the Mt. Airy special class. The latest accepted techniques of teaching retarded children will be demonstrated in this workshop, and tours will be made of the State institution, and public and private schools.

Mrs. James R. Langdon is attending the convention as a delegate of the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children, one of the 500 member units of the National Association. This year more than a thousand persons from all over the nation are attending the convention sessions.

Among those who will deliver talks during the 4-day session are: Dr. Seymour Sarason, Professor of Psychology, Yale University; Dr. Romaine Mackie, United States Office of Education; Dr. Richard Masland, Assistant Director, National Institute for Neurological Diseases and Blindness, and Miss Mary Switzer, Director, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

AAA SAFETY POSTER URGES COOPERATION WITH SCHOOL SAFETY PATROLS

Development of a spirit of cooperation between all school children and the School Safety Patrol is the first aim of the Automobile Club of Maryland's safety education program in the new school year, Mr. Robert L. Leese of the AAA club said today.

To launch the program, the Automobile Club of Maryland will distribute large, colorful posters to schools in Maryland urging youngsters to "Help Your Safety Patrol Help You." The posters are part of the regular monthly safety material distributed to schools by AAA Affiliated Motor Clubs throughout the country.

"The record which the School Safety Patrol has made throughout the nation proves its effectiveness as a force for reducing traffic deaths and injuries among school children," Mr. Leese said. "However, the Patrols are not a police force. They must rely on voluntary cooperation from other boys and girls, and that can only come about when the youngsters understand that the Patrols are there to help them."

The Motor Club officials asked parents to stress with their own children the need for obeying signals of the Patrols as a supplement to the teaching they will get in school. He pointed out that repetition of the poster message is necessary to firmly establish it in young minds.

The poster was designed by John Mowrer and Neal Patton, 6th grade students at Kelly Field G-1 School, San Antonio, Texas. They prepared the poster for the Thirteenth National Traffic Safety Poster Contest, sponsored by the American Automobile Association. The poster won a first prize in one division of the contest and was later selected by the judges for reproduction and national distribution.
