DEADLINE SET FOR LIBRARY CONSIDERATION

The Library committee of the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce announces that all communications to the County Commissioners regarding the proposed County Library should be sent at once to receive considera-tion by them. Even though the original deadline was set for November 1, time has been extended for a few weeks because of the late date which some areas got started on the pro-

The Taneytown Jaycees headed the project in the Taneytown area as their share in the National and State Jaycee project entitled, "Operation Library" designed to get better lib-rary service for all Americans.

Carroll County is very fortunate right now in having within their grasp a County-wide Library system with bookmobile service. Because of a grant of $32,000 in Federal Library funds earmarked for rural library extension, our share of State funds tension, our share of State funds, and the generosity of the Davis Library Board of Trustees in Westminster, it is now possible to establish a fine system without a fund-raising campaign or going deeply into debt. To get this service now, enough of our citizens must write to the Carroll County Commissioners, Westminster, Md., asking them to consider the Library when preparing the budget this month. To qualify for these Federal and State funds and insure efficient operation an appropriation from County Funds equivalent to a 2c per $100 tax must be made by the Commissioners. If sufficient letters are not received, the County will have lost this splendid opportunity and will be without Library service for many more years to come.

To raise our cultural standardsto augment our public school libraries -to make good reading available to everyone—to provide unlimited and invaluable resource materials for our nomes, businesses, industries, agriculture, professions, students, and teach ers—to stimulate better citizenship, to make Carroll County a better place to live—WRITE TODAY! Tell your Commissioners that you want Library Service. As is stated in the November "Good Housekeeping" magazine-"No other public institution takes so little out of your tax dollar and gives so much in return". By the way— Why not read this short article beginning on page 98 of the November issue of "Good Housekeeping"? And if you don't subscribe-borrow it from your library!

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Annual Dinner Meeting Held in Westminster, Nov. 7th

Attendance at the annual dinner meeting of the Historical Society of Carroll County in the social hall of the Westminster Methodist Church on the evening of Nov. 7 was the largest on record. In addition to local members and friends representatives of the Carroll County Society of Baltimore were present.

"From Fredericksburg to Gettysburg", was the title of the lecture by Mr. Vernon R. Simpson, vice principa of the Damascus High School. means of a magnetized map, Mr. Simpson with amazing skill depicted the movements of both the Confederate and the Union armies during the month of June, 1863, including the Battle of Gettysburg which immediately followed. Of particular interest to the audience was a graphically de-picted movement of troops in and around Carroll County the last June: A newspaper account of the skirmishes in Westminster was given on a record player. Various importon a record player. Various important messages of commanders to one another was also given by recording, giving much of the effect of the popular "You are There" programs on radio and TV. The audience burst into spontaneous applause when Mr. Simpson deftly outlined the very complicated maneuverings of General J. E. B. Stuart. All in all, this lecture so ably presented was the result of so ably presented was the result of long, painstaking research. Of added interest was the fact that it represented work done by Mr. Simpson for his Master's degree at Western Maryland College under Dr. Theodore M. Whitfold

Whitfield.
The main business of the evening was the election of the following slate of officers: Dr. Theodore M. Whitfield, president; Dr. Howard L. Knight, first vice-president; Lloyd B. Wilhide, second vice-president; D. Myers Englar, third vice-president; Irvin M. Hahn, treasurer; Edith E. Rill, secretary. The following were newly appointed members of the Board of Directors: Leeds K. Billingslea and Harry Starr, of Westminster; Mrs. Homer L. Twigg, of Hampstead; Mrs. Margaret Stewart of Manchester;

Margaret Stewart of Manchester; Mrs. Edgar P. Pickett, of Franklin. Former President A. Earl Shipley paid tribute to Col. T. K. Harrison, retiring after nine years of service as treasurer. Mr. Shipley cited Mr. Harrison's devotion not only to the Historical Society of Carroll County but to many other community projects and laid particular stress on the help which he has been giving in the current County Hospital drive. Mr. Harrison will leave shortly for an extended visit to California where one of his daughters resides.

President Whitfield, reviewing the events of the past year, gave priority to the acquisition of a room given the Society in the new County Office Building. He expressed the gratitude of the organization to Mr. A. Earl Shipley for the promotion of the President Whitfield also gave a progress report on the basement restoration and appealed for continued financial help on this project.

Now Mr. Husband there is a nice gift to the house for Christmas!

A letter from a housewife in the city writes, "I am a retired school teacher and my husband is also retired and we are very comfortably fixed financially. We own a modest home but he will not fix up our home as to papering and painting and it does need it badly as it has not been done over for years. When I make suggestions to him he will quickly say, "Well, then it will mean new different pieces of furniture and we are too old to think of such a thing spending money like that. I am satisfied—why aren't you"? I have never mentioned purchasing new furniture but I would like to have the papering and painting done. Can you help me? What could I say to my determined husband? We are both 65 years of age." Signed—Almost Hopeless.

Reply—Well, such a little thing to make a wife hypersection.

make a wife happy yet it would mean such a big thing to you and it would to me, too. Your husband has taken a very strange attitude and if he would refuse to have it done, I would take some of the school teacher salary which I earned and have it done but first talk this over with him and tell him your plans. It is always best to have two agree especially where the home is concerned. You may also suggest going 50-50 or still a better idea tell him that you would not want to feel that he did not have any part in doing it over. Also state that it is sanitary to have clean walls, clean paint and floors in any building. Hope this pans out O.K.

NO "SUMMIT" MEETING?

In his TV address to the nation on "Science and National Securty". President Eisenhower assured us that the military strength of the Free World today is greater than that of seven of these correctly, says The the Soviet. But he warned that "we Legion, "you are out of touch with could fall behind in the years ahead", and urged as preventives the training family could suffer loss of badly of more scientists, the extension of needed benefits." pure scientific research and the free exchange of scientific information with our allies. "Why deny to our friends", he asked, "information we are sure the Soviets already have?"

In his bipartisan meeting with Congressional leaders early next month, the President said, he would ask for legislation necessary to this closer cooperation. But he added the somewhat reassuring remark that: "This does not mean that we must mount our charger and ride off in all directions at once." More ominous was his promise that we could have the defense we require "if each of us carries his own share of the burden willingly and without complaint."

The President unveiled the nose cone of a guided missile that had soared through the earth's atmosphere, reentered it and landed without being burned up, and assured us that this vexing problem had now been solved. He also unveiled Dr. James R. Killian, president of Massachusetts Instituee of Technology, as the newly-created Special Assistant to him. the President for Science and Technology, and whom, he indicated, will programs.

But for those who may have expected to hear when we will launch a sputnik, build a space platform or put a man on the moon, there was only disappointment. "Satellites in themselves," he said, "have no direct effect on the nation's security".

There was little in the President's address that we have not read in the newspapers. The significance lay not in his words but his implications. Despite our present "posture of strength" there will be crash programs, there will be increased spending-for which we can brace ourselves. And the President may still, in spite of his words, mount the Commander-in-Chief's charger and "ride off in all directions at once"even to another "summit" conference, providing the Soviet give lip-service to his plea to "align themselves with the UN disarmament effort."-Washington-Exclusive.

WHAT IF YOUR HOME BURNED DOWN?

What would you do if your house burned down? There's a superficially easy answer to that question-you'd rebuild it with the insurance money.

However, unless you're one of a comparatively small minority of people, you'd be shocked to learn just how inadequate your fire insurance coverage is.

The main reason that is true is explained by one little word-inflation. Sylvia Porter tells the story in one of her recent syndicated columns. A house that cost $8,000 in 1937 would cost $21,600 to replace today. A house that cost $12,000 as late as 1946 carries an $18,300 price tag now. So it goes. Miss Porter quotes an authority on the subject as saying: "There's no doubt that the overwhelming percentage of America's tens of millions of homeowners are underinsured."

And that isn't the whole story. The same thing is true, and in many cases to an even greater degree, of the contents of our homes. We buy all manner of things over the years, and we just don't realize how much the total worth comes to. Then, on top of that, inflation 'as driven up the replacement cost of all commodities, just as it has 'riven up construction and repair costs.

This year fire losses will hit an all-time high, and may reach or pass $1 t could help make up that grim statistic. Carefully inventory your possessions, then see your local insurance agent and make sure your fire policies really meet your needs.-Industrial News Review.

The American Legion rings the bell, we think, with a new booklet that is now being distributed by local posts can't leave anything untouched." not only to non-member veterans of the two World Wars and Korea, but to all the neighbors up and down the street. In it, the story of Legion services to the veteran and to the community is told through case histories and in the simple but dramatic technique that has made the great American comic strip one of our most effective mediums of mass information.

"Saved By The Bell" is for Legonnaires, too, as well as veteransat-large who haven't joined up, for we doubt very much that one Legionnaire in a dozen could come close to listing all the services his own organization performs "For God and Country"

The back cover of the book, for instance, presents a list of questions about available aid to veterans with spaces for nine "yes" or "no" answers, and is headed with an invitation to "Test Your Veteran IQ". Unless the reader can answer at least veterans' affairs, and you or your

The questionnaire asks (in part): "If a veteran dies, do you know what help can be had for his widow or children from, (a) the Veteran's Administration, (b) The American Legion?

"Minor disabilities or disease incurred in service sometimes get worse and cripple veterans in later years. Do you know, (a) what benefits are available to such veterans, (b) what steps must be taken to prove that the original disability was service-connected?

"Can you list what preference rights vets have in obtaining public employment, job retention and promotion in those jobs?

"Do know of any special help for the higher education of veterans' children?'

Quick answers to these and a thousand other questions are to be had, as the booklet points out, from the Servcie Officer of the Legion Post -along with his help and that of the entire national organization behind

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Donald R. Richberg, one of the country's most distinguished labor law- Government get back to first prinyers and once a leading figure in President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal, describes present-day labor unions in these words: "not weak, altruistic organizations of servants of the common good, but . . . strong, selfish, ambitious aggregations of men seeking to dominate the business and politics of the nation for private profit."

A survey made by the Traffic Safety Commission of Portland, Oregon, indicates that "following too closely" is the leading cause of accidents. Second is failure to yield right-of-way.

According to the National Association of Food Chains, food prices have increased only 14.7 per cent since 1947-49. By comparison, factory wages are up 55.9 per cent.

In the view of Sylvia Porter, the business and financial analyst, the overwhelming percentage of American homes are under-insured. She writes that a home that was built for $8,000 in 1937 would cost $ 21,600 today, and that a $38,000 house erected just before World War II couldn't be duplicated for under $100,500 now. An improvement job that could be done for $5,000 in 1946 would cost $7,600 at the present time.

Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, estimates that about 10 per cent of all personal spending by families and individuals goes for automobiles. It says that in 1956 spending on the family car-including purchases, tires and parts, gas and oil, service charges and other costscame to $27 billion.

The Tax Foundation discloses that government spending (federal, state and local) ran at the rate of $13 million an hour in 1956, as against a comparatively modest $2 million an hour in 1940.

Since 1939, railroad wages have increased 187.4 per cent, the prices of materials and supplies used by the

> Neil MacNeil, writing in National Review, says that "We have in the U.S. 116,743 units of government, almost all of which levy taxes of one sort or another." He goes on to say that there are "116 taxes on a suit of clothes, 151 taxes on a loaf of bread, and around 100 on an egg. The taxgatherer takes so much, now, that he Prosperity note: Last year, according to the Economic Report of the President, employed people took vacations aggregating 70 million weeks, 85 per cent of them with pay. This is a new high.

On the light side: An English teacher offered a pie to the pupil who would write the briefest essay on two of life's problems. The winner used only one word: "Twins."

According to Chain Store Age, the home baking needs market is the biggest in history, with $770 million a year spent on these items in food chains alone.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

November 8th, 1957

Dear Editor: A local farmer dropped in to report on his troubles with the Govern-ment, writes Editor James Roberts of The Andrews County News, of drews, Texas, in his column, "Drift-

At least the man-of-the-soil is suffering from no lack of attention:
"The way Jim tells it, he had one Government official looking down his neck to see that he didn't overproduce Another official was on hand to show him how to conserve, to fertilize prop-erly to make his land produce more. A third official kept dropping around to see that he paid his 'braceros' *
the required wage and a forth Government official was dropping by to see that the soil bank land stayed put.

—Jim says it's all very confusing."

This recital has suggested to Editor Roberts that "despite all the Government-inspired security, we in this land are beset by tensions, fears and worries". We have never before been so coddled, he thinks, nor ever before quite so afraid; and he suspects there a connection between these conditions. In short, Government pater nalism has undermined our self-con-

"In the early days of the Republic", writes Mr. Roberts, "the individual in the process of taming the wilderness had only himself and God to count on for help—and thus developed faith in God and in self-reliance.

"Now, however, we look to Uncle Sam in our troubles and have almost forgotten our Creator who stated that He was a very present help in times of trouble.

If we understand Mr. Roberts correctly, he thinks it is about time for us to pull up our socks, to throw the out of Government, to insist that the ciples-implement the Constitution and establish an adequate defense.

We think so too. And, we would call to the attention of all and sundry news report that a concern in New York is selling $20 gold pieces for $52—in our current folding money. Mexican farm workers.

YOUR SURVIVAL HOW DO YOU PREPARE YOUR HOUSE FOR AN EMERGENCY

When that long steady siren tone sounds it is a Civil Defense Alert Warning. It tells householders to take a few simple precautions. This includes people who live in the middle of the city and must leave their homes of the city and must leave their homes for a safer place. It is warning to those beyond 10 miles who have a real shelter, and it also speaks to people far out in the country.

When that Alert sounds turn your radio to 640 or 1240 for Civil Defense news and safety advice. Then close outside doors, draw window blinds, drapes or venetian blinds (don't waste time closing the windows the glass will probably be shattered anyway). Take care of the gas and water—turn off inlet valves according to the inoff inlet valves according to the in-structions of your local utility companies. Turn off or disconnect all heating appliances including toasters, irons, gas stoves and hot plates. Close chimney dampers, shut off feed line valve from your oil tank and turn off blower motor on the oil burner.

The Alert speaks to widely separated homes because when attack threatens who knows exactly where an enemy might strike? Whether you are staying home or evacuating, each house should be given every possible chance to survive.

We can be sure of one thing; the more widely dispersed people are the greater will be the number of lives

Rich Colors Herald Autumn

Perhaps no season of the year offers such warmth and beauty through color, or so many lush-petaled flowers, as the crisp, clear days of Autumn. Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Association, selected bright yellow pompoms, some with rosy centers, mixed with velvety brown cattails and four large russet pompoms for this charming Fall arrangement. For a vase, he has used a small wicker hamper lined with a thin metal shell and filled with Oasis. Try this arrangement yourself . . . it's simple and it's fun. Your FTDA florist will be happy to supply you with the materials and offer suggestions. Pompoms are inexpensive and plentiful this time of year so think of them when you are wiring floral gifts to friends and business associates around the world

FEESERSBURG (A voice from Carroll)

Veterans Day was celebrated on Monday and to me it seemed a hollow mockery to all the brave men and women who gave up their lives in the cause of war and peace. They gave up their lives so that the rest of us would have time to do something great and fine with our own lives. Have we? Perhaps some have used the years to make the world a better place, but only the few. The many have lived for themselves and their tiny likes and dislikes. What has any one or any nation done with the past forty years that justified the thousands of lives that was lost in three wars. I say three for the Korean war was not a police action as it was so glibly labeled. And now the world leaders are again branishing the ultimate weapons at each other. For what and why? How will they get the masses this time in the mood to kill each other. Maybe they won't be able to arouse the people. Right now they are trying to panic the people over sputnick, but the only ones that seem to be in a dither are the leaders. We don't find any ordinary citizen ready to pull a trigger at himself. Rather they joke about sputnick and think we have just been outsmarted at our own little game. We traveled four hundred miles over the week-end and talked with dozens of people and our one impression is that the average person has turned fatalistic. They have been through so many crisis during the past forty years that they are tired, disillusioned, bitter and lacking in faith in their leaders. They seem not to care about the future. The theme is: "Live for today; for there may be no tomorrow." Some of the things I heard people say over the week-end makes one wonder what has happened to Americans. Once each of us had dreams, ideas and ideals. We boasted about our sacrifices, our pioneer blood and our resourcefulness. Are these traits dead or just slumbering? And waiting for strong men with vision to call them forth once again. Not to be used for war or to get ahead of other people and other countries, but to build something fine for everyone, everywhere. This is the dream that made the brave men and women lay down their lives in three wars. Until the living makes this dream come true any celebration on Nov. 11th will be meaningless and hypocritical.

This week was set aside as "Ameri-ean Education Week" and it could not have come at a more appropriate time. With two Russian satellites leering at shot in the arm". We sincerely hope so. Miss Malvina Lindsay, one of our favorite writers says that until antiintellectualism is rooted out of our American culture no program to get more brain power will succeed. Especially in high schools is the anti-brain feeling so apparent. Bright students are discouraged from doing their best work by fear of being down-graded socially by their classmates. This attitude is traced back to parents and the community. The difference in our attitude toward education and the Russians is best illustrated by the reatment of teachers. Professors in Russia are paid sixteen times the daily wage of the laborer while here in the U.S. they are paid two and a half. We have tried in our own way to find out just why intellectuals are not popular in our country, but there seems to be no simple answer. One answer might be that our country was settled and developed by men of brawn. It did not take brains to saw down trees, mine coal and iron, cross rivers and climb mountains. It took muscles and courage. But today muscles count for little only in a wrestling match. Our way of life is keyed to the drawing board, the test tubes, the atom and the push button. Brains have replaced muscles and its about time every American understood this and acted upon it. Biceps is no longer king. He has been dethroned by cenebellum. Apes have muscles and no brains but who wants to be an No one I am sure but we may end up by all being apes if we don't use our brains to full capacity. A good time to start is this week, by giving full support to your local schools and cooperating with the teachers. Also reminding the children that to survive in the future knowledge of science will be essential. Education Week should be the time that all Americans discovered the valspect knowledge for itself alone. The Union Bridge Lions Club will sponsor a card party Nov. 21 at 8 p. m. in the Firemen's Social Hall for the benefit of the Union Bridge am-Mr. and Mrs. Ray Slaybaugh and bulance fund. The public is cordial-ly invited to attend. Carroll Countians everywhere should attend the necessary for the entire county as the Union Bridge ambulance does not confine its humane service to the local area but goes any place in the county that needs its service. Do try to attend the card party or send your con-tribution into the ambulance fund. Don't be like the woman who refused to contribute several years ago saying

Of course the woman was remorseful and ashamed that she had ignored the local ambulance appeal for funds and belatedly wrote out a great person had died if an ambulance equipped with the proper apparatus had not been check. Suppose every person had been like her and there had been no ambulance to summon. None of us know how soon or how frantically we may dial SP. 5-3333 and say: "Please send the ambulance." What a comfort to know that instantly it will be on its way.

Birthday parties are popular with the senior class this year. If a class mate has a birthday its the only excuse necessary for the entire class to get together for a dance and refreshments. We think its a nice effort and hope it continues until each senior has a party. Monday evening Geradine Graham was so honored by her parents and classmates.

IN MEMORIAM NUSBAUM-In sad and loving memory of our dear husband and father, MARTIN H. NUSBAUM, who departed this life one year ago today, November 14, 1956.

Today recalls sad memories Of our loved one gone to rest, And the ones who think of you today Are the ones who loved you best.

How could our hearts forget you, When everything we do, To something that reminds us, Of hours spent with you.

From this world of pain and trouble. To a home of peace and rest, God called you my dear, For he knowest what is best.

A happy home we once enjoyed, And how sweet the memory still, And precious memories of you will Until our hearts are stilled.

Those teachers not participating in the drive through the teachers' association will be solicited in the com-munity phase of the drive and workers will be provided with a list from which to work, Mr. Merritt explained. Because of the nature of their work, the teachers are anxious to be identified with the children's section of the hospital. "It was for this reason," Mr. Merritt said, "that we chose as our gift the Pediatric Section."

"The 10,000 young people of the public and parochial schools in Carroll County are getting underway with a special group of projects to raise funds for the Hospital Fund", accord-ing to Senator Sherman E. Flanagan, chairman of special projects in the fund drive.

Mr. Flanagan explained that students are working as individuals and in groups, through school approved programs, to raise money for the hospital fund. All the projects are developed by the students themselves, and vary from giving income from an evening's baby sitting to organizing and conducting auctions of livestock. The student initiative program has been approved by the County Board of Education, and is being stimulated by principals and teachers of all schools "The plan of inviting young people to use their imagination and initiative to raise funds for the hospital was offered and has the backing of Johnson & Johnson, manufacturer of hospital and first aid supplies. The manufacturer of surgical and pharmaceutical products is making available special awards to the young people of Carroll County who take the lead in

Eskimo's Igloo Keeps Fuel Bills At Cozy Zero

If you could examine an Eskimo's igloo you'd discover a really economical heating system in operation. The igloo is kept warm by body heat and a small oil lamp.

The igloo's thick dome of snow is a good insulator. It seals in the heat given off by the oil the chill Arctic winds out. The entrance slopes down through the igloo floor before emerging outside. Since warm air rises, heat doesn't escape along this

Home-owners can't very well pack their walls and attic floors can install an even more efficient type of insulation—modern mineral wool. This insulation can be blown into walls and ceilings by experienced contractors with pneumatic equipment, or batts and blankets of mineral wool can be installed in accessible areas by the home-owner.

Insulating engineers recom-mend at least a 4-inch thickness of insulation in ceilings and 3 inches in walls. All walls and ceilings exposed to winter cold on one side and warmed on the other should be insulated.

OUR BEAUTIFUL EARTH-

On the highway of Life, many sign posts I see; But, only one points the way to Eternity; So the one marked "Love" is the right way to go; For, it leads to Paradise, from here below

"Without Love, I am nothing", the Scriptures say, So, unless I show it, I go the wrong way; Then, on Life's sojourn, no other sign let me see Than the one marked "Love"—To Eternity.

God must have explored all the regions in space
To have found for our Earth such an ideal place;
Here we have four (3 Mo.) seasons each year; His reason for doing so is now quite clear.

When I think of it, I marvel about God's great plan Two things in view-a school and a home for man; For, here He trains each one of His sons to be A "god among gods" in Eternity.

Who but God could have found such a place To build a home for the whole human race? America is surrounded on each side by a sea; And, from them He sends water to you and me.

Then, too, think of the fruit trees all over the land! It is all, I tell you, the work of a Master hand! Before God even made man, the Scriptures say The tree was the home of the birds, night and day.

No wonder the ancients all loved the tree!

Like one of God's angels, it seems to be;

For, like an angel of mercy she always stands, Holding a basket of fruit in her hands.

Before man learned how to till the ground Much of his food on the trees he found; He never had to sweat and follow a plan To get something to eat as men do now.

Many wonderful things in the Bible I see; But, Nature speaks still louder to me; Every place I look—(all over the land!) It tells of God's love; and, of how He has planned.

Who but God could have made the things we see? (Only God can make a rose and a tree); And, why did He make the things we now see? Nature says: "He did it all for you and me".

That is why I say we should all ponder well Before we accuse one so good of building a hell; The voice of Nature is louder than that of man; And, every place we go, it tells of His plan.

In the age to come, in some future day, Everything that grows shall be spontaneous, they say; So, when the age of Gold comes again this way, We, too, shall knew God as they did in that day.

The story of God's creations seems wonderful to me; But, things are not yet like He wants them to be; To make earth a heaven, they tells us, is His plan; And, a god of you, of me, and every man.

These are things about which I like to tell-You all know the story—(and know it well!); So, why is it that man never bends a knee To give thanks to God for each lovely tree?

The birds sing on their branches from day to day;
(To thank Him for His goodness, that is their way);
But, mortal man is less grateful, they say;
So, like the dumby he is, he goes his own way.

But, after many incarnations, mortal man Shall learn the secret of God's great plan; Eternal Life is a blessing we all must earn; So, until we do, the fires of hell shall continue to burn.

When the time arrives for earth's great jubilee God's face, on the faces of all, we shall see; All 12 of the attributes man shall claim

And a halo of glory shall surround His name. "Man shall shine like the stars", the Scriptures say, When he learns to know God; and, goes His way; And, all of God's promises—birth after birth—

Shall, at last, come true, when he walks the "new earth". That is how, they tell us, God wants things to be When the Time arrives for Earth's great jubilee; The lion and the leopard man's pets shall be Through all the long years of Eternity.

Then, search the Scriptures, and learn to know God! Follow the path which the Saints have trod!
Hasten the coming of that promised day
When Love—not Hate—shall hold full sway.

Center of Faith

Lesson for November 1" "

WHERE is the center of Christian faith? What is it that if we don't believe, we can hardly believe anything else? Every one would agree that the center of Christian faith is Christ. The religion called by his name is not by any means first of all " aphilosophy, a collection of ideas. a system of thought, a set of nituals. It is first of all a Person, and then it is the lives of other persons who have been

Central for the Church

In the Greek New Testament, in the part outside the Gospels, -that is, the part that contains the early Christian preaching and teaching-there are 11 specific references to Christ's cross and nine to the crucifixion-a total of twenty. On the other hand there are eight references to the resurrection of Christ, and the expression "God raised him from the dead" or equivalent phrases, will be found 32 times—a total of forty. From the ments, therefore, we can say that the resurrection loomed twice as large, in the mind of the early Church, as did the crucifix on. Paul in his Corinthian letter uses the words meaning "of first importance" about Christ's crucifixion and resurrection; but he dwells on

Central for Faith

Consider what the situation would be if Christ had not risen from the dead. In the first place, we should not have had the Church. It is on record that the disciple forsook the crucified Jesus, but the risen Christ drew their strongest and undying loyalty. It was the resurrection that changed a band of timid men, even cowards, into the beginnings of a mighty army to overspread the earth.

the resurrection at much greater length, as any reader can see for Someone asked a French statesman what it would take to start a new religion. Very simple, said the old man. Just get yourself crucified and then rise from the dead!

If 'Christ had not risen, what would be remembered of him? Some of his teachings very likely; but there would be no essential difference between him and other teachers of the past. If Christ had not risen, we might have admired his thoughts and the way he expressed them. The risen Christ challenges more than admiration, -devotion. More than once in the New Testament the resurrection appears also as the one single event more than any other, which carried the first Christians' minds to heights of faith

His Life and Ours

Men did not arrive at belief in Christ's deity by pondering the crucifixion, rather by meditating on the resurrection. It is the resurrection that gives the crucifixion its meaning.

Besides all this, it is clear in the New Testament that the resurrection of Christ is our best way of understanding what our own destiny will be. There is a great deal we do not understand about this. Not all the New Testament together answers all our questions. But Paul sees the Easter story as so important that if it had not happened our whole faith is vain. Furthermore, the best reason for believing that death will not make an end of Christ's people is that death did not make an end of him. If he went on living, changed yet the same, so we may believe that after this present life is over and our work here done, we too, in ways of which only God knows the secret, will go on living, changed,—bearing "the image of the man of heaven"-yet still our very selves with the weakness and the darkness gone, imperishable and victorious, sharing his conquest of death. (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christip the U. S. A. Released by Community Press Service.)

CHRISTMAS CLUB FUNDS GO OVER THE BILLION DOLLARS FOR 6th CONSECUTIVE YEAR!

"Hike in savings will help our economy" said Edward F. Dorset, President of Christmas Club a Corporation, who today announced that 13,070,000 Americans have saved One Billion, Iwo Hundred and Twenty Five Million Dollars in the 1957 Christmas Club. This is the sixth consecutive year that the annual disbursement has exceeded a billion dollars. Seven thousand banks and savings institutions will participate in the 1957 distribution to Christmas Club members throughout the nation!

"Increased savings of our people and a cut in our national debt would go far to ease 'tight money'" said Mr. Dorset. "As these savings are made available to meet demands for local and national expansion as well as expansion of new business and equipment, they will provide the re-sources for stable economic growth." "We must not underestimate the thrift habits of the American people" said Mr. Dorset.

The 1957 payoff is the largest in the history of the Club and represents an increase over 1956 of thirty seven million dollars (3.1%) with two hundred lion dollars (3.1%) with two hundred and seventy thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $93.73 for each member. Of the 7,000 institutions, 159 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,687,000 members and $261,849,000 followed by Pennsylvania with 2,096,000 members and $194,389,00 and then New Jersey with 1.179,000 numbers and $144,with 1,179,000 n.embers and $144,751,000. The rapid growth of Christmas Club on the Pacific Coast has put California in fourth place with 1,080,000 members and $112,866,000.

Surveys made by Christmas Club a Corporation indicate that while the entire One Billion, Two Hundred and Twenty-five Million Dollars will not indicate that while the entire One Billion, Two Hundred and Twenty-five Million Dollars will not interest that the state of the state go into retail channels, all of it will help boost the nation's economy. 1958 CHEVROLET: Fore and Aft

Effectiveness of the 1958 Chevrolet styling is shown by this front-rear view of the Impalas, luxury models in the Bel Air series. The gull-wing sweep at the rear is a perfect complement for the fleet, flowing lines that begin with the fine-grid concave ribs of the grille. In addition to complete body redesign, the latest Chevrolets offer such features as Level Air suspension or all-round coil spring suspension, a more rigid frame and body and an unusual new V8 engine. Impalas top an offering of 17 models.

College Room On A Budget

JF YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER is off to school or college for the first time, this year, an easy-to-care-for-room will save many hours for fun and study.

Most schools and colleges require students to supply their own bedspreads and window draperies, advises Ruth Leigh Director of the Cannon Homemaking Institute. High on the list of popularity is this homespun plaid "Great Day" ensemble shown above. It has a neutral beige background, with predominating rlaid in any one of five colors—red, green, blue, gold or brown.

Considering the rough-and-tumble wear given college rooms, it's news that "Great Day" spreads have selvages of dacronnylon. The ensemble can go into the college laundry, will not shrink, and best of all, needs no ironing. With the high cost of education, it's good news, too, that "Great Day" spreads and draperies are each under nine dollars-will last for the duration of your youngster's schooling and change an otherwise drab room into a cheerful haven.
