GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR IN TANEYTOWN

The Lebanon Valley College Glee Club, now on its 1958 tour under the direction of Dr. James M. Thurmond, will make one of its 15 appearances in 8 days at the Taneytown High School in Taneytown, Md., February 12, 1958, at 8 p. m.

Organized in 1931, under the leadership of the late Professor Edward P. Rutledge, the Lebanon Valley College Glee Club has become one of the best-known college choral groups in the East. Early in the fall of each academic year, auditions are conducted among all of the students of the college who desire to join the group. More than 10 voices were auditioned in the September of 1957 to find the voices of this year's balanced vocal group.

Since its formation last September, the present glee club has been rehearsing a program of sacred and classical music folk songs, and other lighter tunes for its 1958 concert tour. Rehearsing with the members of the glee club have been the members of a small orchestra and a clarinet quartet, all of whom will appear in the concert on Wednesday, February 12, 1958.

Members of the clarinet quartet, who will be heard in Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso" and Schubert's "Finnale from the String Quartet in D. Minor", are Harold Weitzel, John Colangelo, Nancy Kulp, and Susan Zimmerman. Vocal soloists and Madrigal Singers with the glee club are Sally Miller and Charlotte Pierson, sopranos; Mary Elizabeth Swope and Lois Brang, altos; Tatsuo Hoshina and Charles Brightbill, tenors; and Joseph Frazier and Donald Hole, basses.

Annual tours by the LVC Glee Club were begun in 1937, and in almost every concert audience during each tour there is at least one alumnus who at one time sang with this organization. This year the tour will cover areas to the west and southwest of Lebanon Valley College, whereas last year's tour covered areas to the east and southeast.

Dr. James M. Thurmond, who became the club's director in 1954, is also conductor of the Lebanon Valley College Concert Band, Brass Ensemble, and Girls' Band. A native of Dallas, Texas, he graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, Pa., and is a former member of the Philadelphia orchestra. Until his coming to Lebanon Valley College he was head of the U. S. Naval School of Music at Washington, D. C.

RADIO SALUTE TO FARMERS Broadcasting and Newspapers Essential to Rural People

February first is National farm broadcasting day and station WTTR will participate in the observance which this year has the theme "Broadcasting Serves Rural America". WTTR will present a special salute to the American farmer at noon on Saturday, Feb. 1st.

The second annual farm broadcasting day is being observed Nationally in recognition of the important role Radio and Television play in getting vital agricultural information to the public.

Technological and scientific progress is making it increasingly important that farmers have up-to-the-minute information on many developments affecting their business. More and more they are depending upon radio and TV for such special services as reports on weather, markets, economic trends and Government programs and regulations—as well as entertainment and general information.

Such reports enable the farmer to plan his operations on a sound business like basis. For example, a single weather report may enable him to take steps which enable him to save an entire crop from a sudden freeze. Current market reports, along with reliable outlook information, serves as a guard to a more orderly market program, thereby helping consumers as well as producers.

The speed with which farmers receive and put into practice scientific discoveries, techniques and production tools has a direct effect upon their efficiency. This, in turn, largely determines their income, the quality of their products and the price the consumer pays. Today's farmer is producing more meat, milk and eggs per acre and per man hour worked. And the quality of the products is better. Thus, food costs have increased less than that for any other major necessity. This is largely because of the free and rapid flow of information.

As a further indication of the extent to which farmers depend upon broadcasting, recent surveys show that 98.4 of all farm homes are equipped with one or more Radios. This compares with 97.5% for those living in villages and 97.1% for urban dwellings. The average farm family listens to the Radio 17 hours and five minutes weekly, while the U. S. average of 16 hours and 44 minutes.

Furthermore, 68.7% of the farm-owned automobiles are equipped with radio, and this compares with 66% for the cities. Many farm tractors, milk barns and other farm work centers are equipped with radio.

On the Television side, late studies show 65% of all U. S. farmers own TV sets. In many farming areas TV sets are to be found in 85 or 90% of the homes. During 1955, the last year for which figures are available, farmers spent 173 million dollars for TV sets alone.

Co-sponsors of farm broadcasting day are: The United States Department of agriculture, the National Association of Television and Radio farm directors, and the National Association of Broadcasting. Organizations actively co-operating include the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

KIWANIS NEWS

New Auto Law Explained by Westminster Attorney

President Ned Musser called the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown to order last evening. He pointed out that tickets for the annual Shrimp and Oyster Feed on Feb. 26 were now printed and distributed for sale. Two members of the Taneytown Key Club were introduced, Robert Warner and Walter Simpson. The program was provided by George Shower who introduced Bryan McIntire, a Westminster attorney.

Mr. McIntire spoke briefly and informally about certain aspects and provisions of the new Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Law which was passed by the Maryland General Assembly in 1957. Mr. McIntire explained that while the Fund will accept claims not until on or after June 1, 1959, the Fund will be started at the next statutory registration period in 1958. At that time the owners of vehicles who carry Automobile Liability Insurance will be required to pay a fee of $1 while those owners who do not have Automobile Liability Insurance will be required to pay a fee of $8. In the future the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles must determine whether the Fund is sufficient to meet probable claims, and if the Fund is not sufficient he may require all vehicle owners who do not have Automobile Liability Insurance to pay an additional fee in any year that a deficiency in the Fund may appear to exist. The Fund will be further supplemented, according to Mr. McIntire, on or before March 31, 1959 when every insurance company writing Automobile Liability Insurance in Maryland will be required to pay to the State Treasurer a sum of money equal to 1/2 of 1 per cent of its net direct premiums collected for that line of insurance in Maryland in 1958. The insurance companies may also in the future be required to pay additional amounts should the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles declare the Fund to be insufficient to meet its probable requirements.

Mr. McIntire estimated that between 80 and 85 per cent of all Maryland vehicle owners are as of now carrying Automobile Liability Insurance. These owners will be protected by this new law. The Fund would also compensate any innocent victim of an uninsured vehicle owner, but the uninsured owner would thereafter be unable to obtain license plates or a driving permit until he had reimbursed the Fund, with interest at 4 per cent.

Should this law not prove to effectively protect the innocent victim of a financially irresponsible vehicle owner, Mr. McIntire suggested that we in Maryland would perhaps have to resort to additional legislation which, as in New York, would require compulsory Automobile Liability Insurance.

President Musser then directed the attention of the club to a matter which proved to be of considerable interest to the members—the problem of whether our representatives in the General Assembly should be directed to override the veto of the Governor of Maryland and thereby raise the salaries of the public school teachers of this state. This question stimulated an earnest discussion and revealed an acute interest on the part of the membership of this club in the problems of public education.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness.

The final column of "I Remember Philadelphia".

The teen-ager of years ago always was called a lady. She always wore a boudoir cap to cover the paper curlers which no one was ever to see just how milady did get those curls.

Every teen-ager was taught to embroider, her entire trousseau. Marriages were very, very seldom of the secret or "runaway" type and very few divorces were heard about.

A "Teen-ager" those days was respected and they were called "flowers", the only difference one may have been a trifle sweeter than the other! They had great respect for their parents and discipline was the word and carried out in every detail. Beau nights were Wednesday and Sunday evenings and if the young man called regularly on those evenings, they realized there was a wedding date set ahead and engagements were never under six months—mostly a year or so. The pleasingly plump girl was the favorite instead of the slim girl and blonde girls were very, very rare but much admired when in evidence.

Valentines were big, beautiful and lacy affairs which were only sent to sweethearts in those days.

I remember when the Koffee Klotch groups would be entertained in the Philadelphia homes by the ladies and euche was the big card game of the elite! The charming chafing dish would be brought out on many evenings when guests arrived and the big dish was Welsh Rarebit!

I recall grinding the coffee for the morning breakfast and that by hand and the aroma was delightful to the nostrils.

How well I remember the Sunday School picnics and the "Bean" bag catch as well as the carousel in any park and catching the brass ring which meant a "free" ride.

I remember my Dad's old English Snuff Box!

Ah, how well I recall the Edison phonograph which was a table model with the huge Morning Glory horn. The very finest records were purchased as we knew nothing but classical and opera music. The one record I remember so distinctly was of my beloved Dad's voice reciting Shakespeare in his deep rich tone of voice.

And I remember the forbidding of sweets and was given molasses on bread as a substitute!

Strawberries were five cents a box and eggs ten cents a dozen! I remember the delicious cinnamon buns which no other city has ever been able to duplicate and when they do try to make them, they give them the name of "Philadelphia Sticky Buns."

I remember so distinctly the very stout, smiling and shiny and immaculate face of the colored woman singing out and selling in the back alley, "Philadelphia Pepper-pot. Get it while it's hot!" Ummm and that was some good! Then there was the colored man on summer evenings in his immaculate white attire pushing the white cart and singing out "Baltimore Crabs".

Hokey-Pokey was the popular ice cream and sold along the city streets in the day or evening of summer time. That had a delicious taste which no other can compare today. It was all wrapped in a piece of white paper individually for the price of five cents.

I remember visiting over and over again every time there were guests to show them our wonderful historical buildings. When I saw that Liberty Bell which was in a locked case and the caretaker just happened to be dusting it out, I quickly placed my arm around it and he smiled! Since that time the case has been removed and I do think that is better in every way.

No other city has as many real historical buildings as the city of Philadelphia. Independence Square, Independence Hall, Congress Hall, Old City Hall, The American Philosophical Society, The United States Custom House, Carpenter's Hall, The First Bank of the United States, old Christ Church where George and Martha Washington had attended along with many other people of history. There is the home of Betsy Ross, Friends' Meeting House. The graves of Benjamin Franklin and his wife, Deborah are in the Christ Church burial ground.

The secretary of William Penn, James Logan, owned the ground where the Curtis Publishing Company now stands. In the year 1745 he established the Logonian Library. It was Benjamin Franklin and Dr. Thomas Bond whose efforts in 1751 founded the Pennsylvania Hospital which was the first hospital in the United States! Visiting these buildings over and over again is always a thrilling adventure (and there are many more) for Your Observer who was born and reared in the City of Brotherly Love!

I remember Philadelphia meant, "The Good Old Days" when there was peace!

So long, folks, until next week D. V. when I am hoping to be broussing 'around the town'. Be careful when you drive. Until then, I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

Kindness is the oil that takes the friction out of life.

PRICED OUT OF THE MARKET

A leading newspaper recently carried two important stories side by side on the front page. One was headlined: "Labor to seek higher wages, shorter week." The other headline read: "November jobless highest since 1949."

This puts one in mind of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Labor can press for higher wages and shorter work-weeks, and very likely it can get them. But labor can't make people buy the goods and service that keep the labor force employed.

A worker, like a product, can be priced out of the market. There is plenty of evidence that this is beginning to happen now.—Industrial News Review.

TO MAKE CO-OPS COOPERATE.

The Davis Bill (H.R. 4265) now before Congress provides what is probably the most practical and realistic "farm relief" ever considered in Washington. Yet, amazingly enough, mighty few farmers seem ever to have heard of it!

In requiring cooperatives to pay income taxes on the same basis as other corporations, the Davis Bill would also assure yearly distribution of co-op income to co-op members and a "tax-credit" besides.

Here's the way it would work: Having paid its income taxes like other corporate businesses, a cooperative would then distribute its earnings and notify each member that he had a tax credit in the amount of tax paid on his share of those earnings. If the farmer-member's share of earnings was $100, the co-op would have paid $52 in taxes to the Treasury, and then sent him $48 in cash or its equivalent and a tax credit of $52. The farmer would report $100 of income, and apply the $52 credit against his entire income tax obligation. If he had no additional taxable income, he would pay $20 of the $52 credit in tax, and collect the remaining $32 in cash from the Treasury.

As matters stand today, a co-op may "allocate" its earnings to its patrons by letters explaining it has allocated a share of the earnings for the year, but with no assurance when the allocating will be paid in cash or that it bears interest. This gets the co-op off the tax book, and it can keep the money tax-free.

In his testimony before the House Ways and Means committee, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson observed that: "The proper taxation of cooperation continues earnings for expansion and tax benefits to cooperative members."

It should be a welcome change indeed for the co-op member to receive—in place of a piece of paper with no market value (and on which he has been required to pay taxes)—a real dividend in cash or equivalent, plus a tax credit that is worth real money, too! But the members had better speak up for the Davis Bill—now!—U. S. Press Association.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

LAS CRUCES, N.M., CITIZEN: "If you drive a car, there is no better resolution you can make than to drive safely throughout the year. If you are unwilling to take that responsibility, you have no right to drive. And if you won't take the responsibility, your chances of being among the dead in highway accidents are good."

ALAMEDA, CALIF., TIMES STAR: "Governor Goodwin J. Knight pointed to California's many contributions to nuclear knowledge—the development of the original cyclotron by Dr. Ernest Lawrence; the U.S. radiation laboratory at Berkeley, the AEC installation at Livermore; the mare Island atomic submarine construction. But of all our mighty achievements, the most significant, the most heartening must be the fact that private industry's reactor and power generator have been pumping some 5000 kilowatts of atomic electricity into the kitchens and factories, the living rooms and shops of this state."

BARTOW, FLA., DEMOCRAT: "Frank Gannett, one of the better known publishers of the United States, died the other day, and included in his will a comment to the effect that he 'felt deep concern over the freedom of the press'—referring, of course, to the growing trend among officials to refuse to give newspapers information to which the public is entitled... a continuance or enhancement of such a policy, wrote Gannett in his will, will void freedom of expression and 'democracy will perish.'"

COLFAX, IOWA, TRIBUNE: "Since Russia sent up their 'Sputnik' the general public has become hysterical in their demand for more engineers and scientists. They may be needed, we are too far down the line to say, but a report from the National Society of Professional Engineers states that today in the layoffs caused by a cutback in defense budgets, more than 1000 engineers are looking for jobs. There is and always will be the need and demand for well educated and well trained individuals, but we should not go overboard in one particular field. Let's just try and raise the standard in every department."

BEAVER FALLS, PA., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "A friend of ours used to stay in trim by scattering handful of pennies in his bedroom every morning and stooped for them. Now he's getting fat—says there's no incentive in it anymore. He's going to try dimes next week."

LIBERAL KAN, DAILY TIMES: "The laxity of people here to sign complaints once a law breaker is apprehended by officers, and likewise of our courts to dish out strict sentences, seems to be popping up in these parts again. If such keeps up, we can expect the crime wave to flourish to new heights. Think it over!"

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Jules Verne wrote about space travel back in 1865 and predicted that the Americans would be first to reach the moon, and the Russians second. If it works out that way, we'll forgive and forget those sputniks."

PILGER, NEB., ENTERPRISE: "How wonderful would be this world we live in if we could all keep Christmas in our hearts—all year round; if we could fill our hearts with love and do away with hatred and intolerance; if we could replace the yearning for the gold and pleasures of the world with the virtues of faith and moral courage."

RAYNE, LA., NEWS: "Basic research is the quest for fundamental discoveries which can open broad new pathways for technical advancement and human betterment. It can be carried on in the laboratories of government and industry. But it is best conducted in the atmosphere of dedicated free inquiry which prevails in our colleges and universities."

BALTIMORE, MD., DAILY RECORD: "It is obvious that competition in all lines is growing keener. This puts a new premium on good selling, good public relations and a keen analysis of the market in which we operate."

The Old Timer remembers when Uncle Sam could live within his income and without ours.—Changing Times.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The town authorities are placing a ribbon of crushed limestone on the centre of the streets, where most needed.

J. William Hull has placed a plate glass front in his recently purchased store room on Baltimore St., which will give him fine display windows.

Mr. C. O. Wachter is now installed in the Hiteshew property, recently purchased by Rev. C. W. Hess, and will soon have their chicken factory in full operation.

The pastors of the Taneytown churches will preach, on Sunday, on the Local Option question, in accordance with the request of the Anti-Saloon League for pastors all over the state to devote one Sunday to the cause, in order to strengthen the chances of local option legislation.

Terley-Angell.—In York, Pa., Jan. 14, 1908, at the third U. B. Church Parsonage by Rev. R. R. Rodas, Mr. Wm. H. Terley, of Middletown, Pa., and Miss Minnie I. Angell, of York and formerly of Taneytown were married.

Frizellburg.—Last Saturday night Harry Babylon took some of his neighbors and friends out for a strawride. He hitched four steeds to his farm wagon and then started his route to gather them up, and by the time he reached our village he had a jolly bunch. Their laughter attracted some attention and it was soon learned that they were bound for Wakefield to pay Wesley Warehime and his family a social visit. They were all snug and warm under blankets and straw and the destination was reached without any fatigue or torture from the cold. Those comprising the party were: Harry Babylon and wife, Jesse Warner, wife and two daughters, Grace and Estella; Mrs. Burnside Hively, Truman Babylon and wife, Noah Babylon and wife, Sterling Hively, Josephine and Annie Baust, all of Frizellburg; Grace and Carroll Eckard of Dennings, Augustus Bankard and two sons, Robert and Maurice, Lily and Homer Warehime, and Wesley Warehime, wife and two children, Ralph and Louise of Wakefield.—The list of Grip victims is steadily growing. Almost every family is afflicted in some way.—Our Saddler, Howard Dern, contemplates enlarging his business this coming Spring. He will occupy the large storeroom which was for many years used by S. M. Bish.

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

The annual Carroll County Christian Endeavor banquet was held in the Linwood Brethren Church, Jan. 23. The dinner was prepared and served by the ladies of the church. Approximately 80 persons attended, representing ten churches from different sections of the county. Mr. Charles O. Heyward was toastmaster and Rev. Joseph F. Callahan was the speaker. Mr. Herbert Wilson was the song leader. Special music was given by Miss Nancy Roelke and the Myers Brothers. The pianist was Miss Maxine Garvin. Rev. Cronise Barr reported on the Citizenship contest and Miss Nellie Griffin spoke on Mobilization. The Christian Endeavor Society is made up of young people from protestant churches interested in the principles of Christian living. The first Society was formed in 1881 by the Rev. Francis E. Clark. From this small beginning the Christian Endeavor movement spread rapidly. Today there are societies in more than fifty countries around the globe, and in over eighty denominations.

We have learned a new word. It is "empathy" and means the ability to put yourself in somebody else's emotional shoes and judge and weigh situations as they affect that person. We are told only a few persons can do this, but it is absolutely necessary to acquire empathy if one is to get along with others with a minimum of friction.

If our county does not adopt zoning laws and quickly all of us will regret it. According to what we read and hear Baltimore City is about to send us her unwanted derelicts and petty criminals for rehabilitation. It is no secret that a farm in Carroll has been purchased for a place to send persons from the Baltimore city jail to reform them. This is going to happen because we have no zoning laws and because the persons selected to look after Carroll County's best interest must be looking in another direction. There is already one headache in our midst due to no zoning laws and if people don't arouse themselves quickly we will be the dumping place for all of Baltimore City's problem citizens. Why pick on Carroll? Because other counties near the city have laws that prohibit certain institutions being erected without the consent of the property owners. Don't you think it's time for our county to adopt similar protection?

Junior's got the car tonight. TV's out of kilter. . . . Shelf my wife's been wanting. . . . I've already built her. . . . No work at the office. . . . Poker pals away—Not a single darned excuse. . . . For missing P.T.A. Saturday Evening Post.

We are learning from experience that old houses are like old people neither can be made young again nor matter how much one tries. So we have stopped trying and are going to live in our old house just the way it is, like we accept old people for their special charm. The slanting uneven floors made with oak that has lasted a hundred and thirty years and will last another hundred or so. The huge fire places with appetite so enormous that we will have to put them on a diet or go broke trying to feed them locust logs. The crazy staircase that runs to the second floor almost at a right angle, and only the very young can manage the steps without falling down like Jill with a pail of water. The bedrooms without closets fill us with dismay. We wonder where the women were when towers were built long ago. With umbers so plentiful and labor so cheap we wonder why the lady of the house didn't insist on closets to hang her beautiful gowns in and a place to store her linens. This will have to be changed for the modern housemaker insists on plenty of storage space. But the rest of the house will not be altered for it would be like trying to make one's favorite great-aunt into a sophisticated woman of the world. The charm would be gone and there would be nothing but a poor imitation of something that we do not care for.

This is a very important week at all schools as the mid-term exams are under way. Both students and teachers are on the spot. The student must make a passing grade or face perhaps an F for one-half a year's work which is a depressing thought in anyone's life. If too many students make a low grade the teacher must have a few bad moments for it indicates he has failed to get the subject matter across. Most parents think only the pupils are on trial during an exam but a good teacher knows he is on trial too. It is true that in every class there will be a few who will fail an exam but only a very few if the subject has been presented in a clear interesting and understandable method. So exams are really a yardstick for measuring both the student and teacher.

Here on the farm—Dark miles from town. . . . We scratch a match when the line goes down. . . . And the rotund lamp with the full-blown face. . . . And roses painted upon its face. . . . Beams like a lady with golden smile. . . . Queen of the parlor and back in style—Elizabeth Landeweer.

The county roads are breaking up and in some places becoming dangerous due to the thawing and freezing. This winter, with so much wet weather, has been unkind to roads and when spring comes there will have to be a lot of repair work done. Or will it go undone as it has in the past? The Otterdale road from the mill to the Uniontown road is truly dangerous, but all of the erosion on the road cannot be blamed on this winter. This road has been the step-child to the commissioners for a long time. And to think that the school bus travels this road twice a day! Take a real interest in the future, for there is where you are going to spend the rest of your life.—Ruth Roelke.

OF INTEREST TO FARM EMPLOYEES

January 31, 1958, is the deadline for reporting the cash wages paid in 1957 to farm employees, W. M. Metcalf, Collection Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Westminster, stated today.

Farm operators or farm owners who have paid as much as $150 in cash wages to any farm worker in their employ during 1957 must file an employer's tax and information return for such farm employees. They must also report each farm employee who worked for them on 20 or more days during 1957 regardless of the amount of those wages if they were figured on a time rather than a piece rate basis.

For 1957, the social security tax rate is 4 1/4% (2 1/4% each for employer and employee). This tax applies to cash wages paid to a farm worker up to a total of $4200 in the year. The tax amount must be entered on Form 943 (Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agriculture Employees) together with the total amount of cash wages paid to the farm worker. It is required that the farm employer do this and file the return with the District Director of Internal Revenue at Baltimore on or before the due date mentioned above.

Mr. Metcalf points out that when a farm employee meets the 20-day a year test the farm employer should count only days for which the employee works for cash wages figured on a time basis. However, if the worker meets this test, the farm employer must pay social security taxes on all cash wages paid the employee during the year (whether on a time, piecework, or other basis).

Farm employees include household workers if they are employed on a farm operated for profit.

YOUR NAME—MAN AND HIS BODY

Man shall always have a body in which to stay;
Because, he needs a body, to do things God's way;
He is God's eyes, His feet, His ears, and His hands;
So, through Him, God carries out all of His plans.

Take Jesus, as your Pattern to study God's plan;
As God worked through Him, so He works through man;
The things He did seem impossible to you and me;
But, just so, God intends, we all shall be.

You have had many names since you became man,
But, that is contrary to God's great plan;
We come here, like Him, to learn to be;
And, to make ourselves fit for Eternity.

You may not even know you are a son of God!—
But, that is the lineage of all on this sod;
He sends us here, like Him, to learn to be;
That, with Him, we may spend Eternity.

No matter how many bodies you have had on earth
To God, it is the same you, at every birth
Because, He is your Father; and, depends on you
To help Him make this old earth new.

Before I attach, D. D. or Ph. D., to my name,
I should know who I am, from whence I came;
For, of all great Leaders on this earth,
Those who deserved it, were of humble birth.

2000 years ago, men only had one name—
(No other title did they seek or claim!)—
Peter, John, James, Samuel and St. Paul
Simply gave them distinction—(that was all!)

Even Jesus, our Great Redeemer only had one name—
(Though the greatest of all, no title did He claim!)
God did it to teach a lesson to you and me,
That we all belong in His great family.

Or take all the Presidents of the U. S. A.,
Not a single one had a title, they say;
Who they were, not even their own parents knew,
For, God sent them here His work to do.

Washington and Lincoln had no title, they say;
But, they listened to God, and did things His way;
So, He made them both great Leaders to be;
And they made this country great and free.

And, just so things are every place we look;
Our Greatest men are not titled in any book;
So, it looks like God chooses "Who is Who";
And, sends the right fellow His work to do.

"Ask me, concerning my many sons," said He;
Let me be the judge of their Excellency!
Some show mercy to all; and, no honor claim,
So a halo of glory surrounds their name.

As things were in the past, so they are to-day—
Many who know the least have the most to say;
But, such conditions must cease to be
In a land so rich and so great as America.

According to the papers this great land of ours
Shall soon be a haven of boulevards and flowers;
Except for road markings (even to-day!)
You can tell the states apart, many say.

And that is how God wants all countries to be—
(America is His model for all peoples to see!);
So here He intends they all must go
That, more about His plan, they shall learn to know.

That our country is far from perfect, we all know
(The different tongues make progress slow);
But, in time, every mortal on this sod
Shall learn who he is, and give thanks to God.

God first sent the Indians to guard the place
Which He had reserved for the whole human race;
Now He sends all races to learn of His plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

Modern inventions, according to God's plan,
Will make this earth a heaven for man;
Distant places shall only be hours away
When the airplane is perfect, inventors say.

Just so conditions here shall be
About the Time of our great jubilee;
God intends the whole earth, a Fairyland to be,
At the end of Time and through all Eternity.

At the very dawn of that Promised Day,
Mother earth shall doff her cloak of Grey;
In a garment of Blue she shall greet every clan
To usher in the Brotherhood of man.

When the time arrives for Earth's great jubilee
Every country, they tell us, like America shall be
Men shall compass both land and sea
And, Jesus shall be our King, in Eternity.

America is the youngest of the Nations on earth;
God waited for ages to give it birth;
So, the best part of my story remains to be told
About the "New Earth" with its streets of gold.

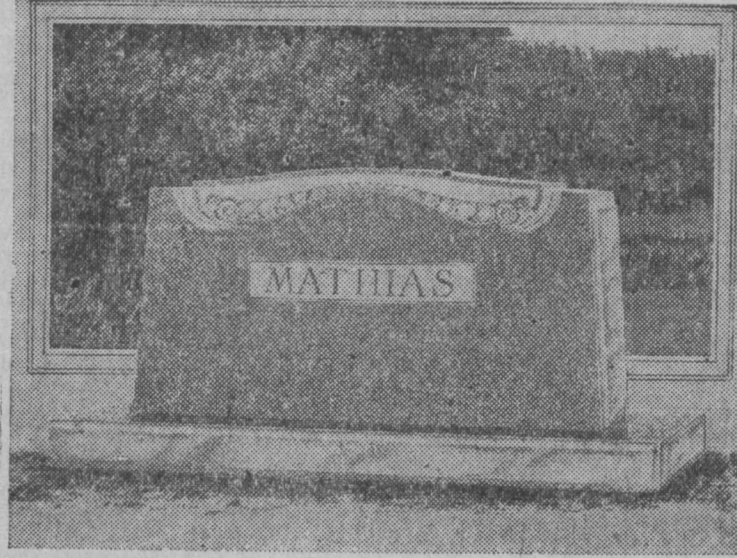

These are things we all should think about—
Both those who came in and those who go out;
For, as America is the whole earth shall be
When it and man are made fit for Eternity.

Chosen People

Lesson for February 2, 1958

MOST church members do not realize what a privilege it is to be one. The Bible passages for this week are extremely suggestive and will bear careful study. As usual, there is room here for comment only on two or three points brought out in one of the most striking sentences ever penned to the church. — To the church as well as about the church; for most of the New Testament books were written as letters to churches. As the reader thinks over the words, he should keep in mind not "This means me," but "This means the church, in which I am privileged to be a member."

Dr. Foreman

A New Kind of People

Saint Peter, writing to people he had probably never seen, dares to say to them some very high things. He could say these things because, while he did not know them separately and personally, he knew the church and what God intended it to be. "You," he wrote, "are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation." A chosen race... The church, so far as it is a true church, is made up of persons whom God has chosen. He has chosen them not like separate little pearls each in its own oyster, but as the gathered pearls on a gleaming necklace. Peter uses the word "race" rather than organization or group or society. Race suggests blood brotherhood, it suggests a common ancestor, a common life. If each race of mankind has something special about it, so the Christians, as the "chosen race," have something special about them. A church which cannot be told apart from just any club, a church whose members are not appreciably different from people on the outside, is a church in name only. Christians as a family are a new kind of people. They have been born anew, they have a quality of life no other people have.

God's Personal Representative

Again Saint Peter says, You are "a royal priesthood." Remember these words were not addressed to any particular person or group in the church, they were written to the whole church. The church is itself a priesthood; this is what is meant by the expression "the priesthood of all believers." Now Saint Peter had been and still was very much a Jew. For him, priesthood had meant a great deal. The priest, in the centuries before Christ, had long been the accepted mediator between God and men. He represented men before God, he represented God in the presence of men. Now if the church, taken all together, is the priesthood of God, then it also is, or is expected to be, God's personal representative in this world.

Consider only one meaning of this. What convinces us that any person exists, and really is the kind of person he is said to be? Next to the person's coming to see us himself, the most convincing evidence that he is real, and no flying-saucer imp, is some friend or relative of his who can make all our doubts vanish by telling us what he knows. So the church, as a priesthood in this skeptical world, ought to be representing God in such a convincing way that people no longer doubt that He exists. One test of a true church, as of a true Christian, is: Does this church make it harder, or easier, to believe in God?

The International People

The church is also a "holy nation." It has not always been clearly understood what Saint Peter meant by this. Did he mean that Christians must withdraw from the world to a little holy island or ghetto of their own, there to "let the rest of the world go by?" Did he mean that Christians are a supranation, empowered to dictate to all other nations, owing allegiance to no flag but the Christian flag? Unless Peter was out of line with all the rest of the New Testament, he probably meant no such thing. He did mean at least this much: first that the Christian church lives by higher laws than the "kingdom of this world." The church is the nation where the Law of Love is the constitution. Second, since the binding force in this nation is not race or tradition or geography but holy love, it will not have any earthly boundary but will spread throughout the world. The church is the great and only completely international society.

Farm Beginner Needs Financing

Must Borrow Money For Extended Period

Beginning farmers today face many financial problems, a University of Illinois farm economist pointed out to Illinois production credit association fieldmen at their annual meeting.

F. J. Reiss stressed the high capital needs of beginning farmers. They may easily average $8,000 or more. And usually a sizable part must be borrowed from relatives or credit agencies.

Reiss warned against farming on a small scale to keep down the amount borrowed. That may mean operating with such high per unit costs of production that income is not sufficient to repay debts or maintain an acceptable standard of living.

The beginning farmer usually has as his first big task the business of overcoming sizeable financial problems.

In addition to paying off debts, those who start farming have a problem of building up volume. Earnings may actually be in the form of increased inventories, which can't be used to pay off debts.

So beginning farmers need borrowed money for longer than one year—usually three to five years. This time will usually be long enough to pay off debts for machinery and breeding stock.

Mastitis Is Still

Causing Dairy Losses

There's at least one "old-timer" that isn't revered by Illinois dairymen. This one is mastitis.

Veterinarians at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine say that, despite the long time in which mastitis has been recognized as a serious disease of dairy cows, it is still causing dairymen heavy losses.

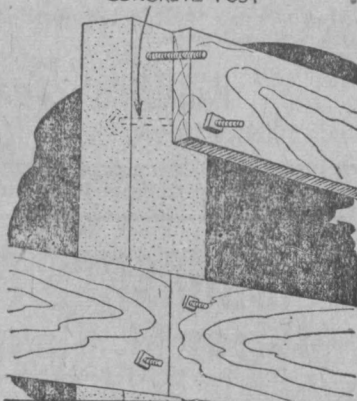

What causes mastitis? Udder injuries are considered important factors in opening the door to invasion of various types of bacteria that can cause infectious mastitis. So the farmer will do himself a favor by cutting down on the ways in which a cow can injure herself. Some causes of injury are stalls that are too short, inadequate bedding, high door sills or jump gates and forcing the cow to run.

The dairyman should be on the lookout for any change in the milk or the cow's udder—a warning that mastitis may be present. A few flakes in the milk or a firm area in a teat or quarter is usually the first sign of the disease. If proper veterinary treatment is not given, the quarter may become swollen and inflamed and the milk may change greatly within a few hours.

If you suspect mastitis, contact your local veterinarian to help him start a herd control program. This will include a new milking order which consists of milking healthy cows—especially first-calf heifers—first and those with mastitis, last. It's also a good idea to use a strip cup or bakelite cup to check the milk of each cow before milking. This shows abnormal changes in milk.

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (FHNC)—Roger E. Sies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Sies of Route 6, Westminster Md., graduated from recruit training Jan. 25 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp" included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Sun Heat Adds to Bird Comfort in Prefab Poultry House

NEW PREFABRICATED POWER CHORING SOLAR POULTRY HOUSE on the Robert Cohen farm, south of New Windsor, Md., shown above, traps the warmth of the winter time sun for extra heat and moisture removal. The building is made of Masonite panels and have a south-facing wall of farm Thermopane insulating glass. The late autumn sun penetrates well into the interior of the building, lower left. The power choring equipment in this poultry house, including feeder, waterers, pressurized fans and a pit cleaner are in sharp contrast to the hand labor previously in caring for the small flock in the old poultry house to the right.

PAYROLL WIND

Now the easy way to save is better than ever!

The U. S. Savings Bonds you get through Payroll Savings pay you higher interest...faster!

Have you tried the Payroll Savings way to save yet? Eight million working people can tell you it's the best system ever devised to save for a goal systematically.

Here's how it works. You simply sign the Payroll Savings authorization card in your payroll office. Sign up for the amount you want. Then each pay period that amount is deducted and saved for you in a Payroll Savings account. When there's enough, a Bond is purchased in your name and starts earning interest to add to your savings.

And now your Bonds earn higher interest than ever before. Every United States Series E Savings Bond issued since February 1, 1957 pays 3 3/4% interest when held to maturity. It reaches maturity faster—in only 8 years and 11 months. And redemption values are higher, too, especially in the earlier years.

If you haven't already done so, sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan at work today. Start piling up those Savings Bonds for your future.

Incidentally, you'll be getting your Savings Bonds in a new "check" size—a lot easier to keep even in the smallest safety deposit box, a lot more efficient and economical for your employer and your government to process.
