CHAMBER ON OUTING

A Fatal Accident Mars Beginning of Trip

About fifty-four members of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce left this (Thursday) morning by "Lincoln Lines" bus and private cars about 8 a. m. for their annual outing. Five members left later in the day to join the group. The trip will include a tour and entertainment by Western Electric of Baltimore and an Oriole-Detroit ball game.

A note of tragedy started the day when the bus coming to Taneytown to pick up the men became involved in a head-on collision with a car with Ohio tags driven by Lt. Robert Michael Bonacker, aged 22 years, of University Heights, Ohio. Lt. Bonacker, an Air Force man, was killed instantly. The driver of the bus, John Snyder, escaped with minor injuries.

According to Trooper William M. Winegrad of the Randallstown Barracks of the Maryland State Police who made the investigation, the Ohio car was going north and in attempting to pass a car, collided head-on into the bus.

NEW EXPANDED GRAIN MARKETS FOR FARMERS

RICHMOND—Southern States Cooperative has joined with 18 other major farmer-owned grain marketing associations in the formation of a nation-wide corporation to promote and expand the sales of United States grain in foreign markets. It has been announced at the cooperative's headquarters office in Richmond recently.

The new organization, the Producers Export Company, was incorporated in Delaware, with authorized capital of $5,000,000. It will concentrate on the promotion, marketing and expansion of sales abroad of U. S. grains and oilseeds. Headquarters will be located in New York City, and a staff of agents will be maintained in all of the principal nations which import grain and oilseeds.

Marvin S. Goodwin, of Baltimore, head of Southern States Cooperative's Grain Marketing Service, which operates a 450,000 bushel grain elevator in Richmond, has been elected a member of the board of the new company.

New expanded grain markets for farmers in this area is the aim of the new organization in its efforts to build export trade, according to Southern States representatives. Southern States Cooperative is exporting about 3,000,000 bushels of soybeans a year now, making it perhaps the largest soybean exporter on the East Coast.

The new company will also seek to increase marketing opportunities for wheat in this area as well as soybeans.

SAFETY FACTS

The toll in 1957, preliminary reports show, was 38,500. Injuries numbered about 1,350,000. The cost of the accidents was more than five billion dollars.

Consider these facts:
1. In 1956, 6 out of 10 motorists in an accident were charged with a law violation—driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding, not having right of way, following too closely, improper passing, driving on the wrong side of the road, and running stop streets. And that doesn't include motorists who escaped detection.
2. Only 8 out of every 100 accidents involved a reportedly unsafe car. Most motor vehicle accidents—about 8 out of 10—occurred on clear or cloudy days.
3. About 1,850 of the 40,000 motorists killed in accidents in 1956 had fallen asleep at the wheel.

"People hold the key to the traffic accident problem," the Council says.

SEN. BEALL WRITES—

NATIONAL DEBT "LIMIT" HIKE
—The national debt ceiling has been raised by the Congress at 288 billion dollars. This formal setting of the statutory debt limit is a bookkeeping device. The increased limit provides "needed flexibility to allow for contingencies which may cause unforeseeable demands upon the Treasury," to use the President's words. This seems like a terrific amount, but our economist tells us that it is an amount which our robust national economy can take care of. Be that as it may, I want to observe in passing that our national debt when the New Deal took over was about 22 billion dollars and when Truman left office it was about 265 billion dollars—an increase of 1100% while the debt has increased under this Administration less than 6%. (I'm talking about the actual debt.)

HISTORICAL SOCIETY CONDUCTS TOUR

Places in Carroll County were Points of Interest

Forty-seven cars filled with members and guests made the Carroll County Historical Society's sixth annual tour on Wednesday afternoon, August 13. The start was made at Winter's Church, where Mrs. John Wilt gave the church's history. The original building was of logs, and was erected in 1766 on land given by George W. Winter. In 1875 the original log building was covered with brick, and one of the county's first metal roofs was added. The windows, dating from an early period, have memorial panels of "blood glass," a rare red which was perhaps a product of glass works of Frederick. The church is twice connected with history; the first circuit rider to preach in it was the famous Rev. Peter Muhlenburg, and numerous soldiers attended service there on the Sunday preceding the battle of Gettysburg. The cemetery contains stones dating from 1772.

The tour next proceeded to Weller's Mill, named for the father of the present owner and operator. This is the second mill to be built on this site, the first having been built by George Winter shortly after 1750, and is one of the three mills still operating in Carroll County.

Passing by the side of the cabin of Hance Steelman, the Indian trader, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Roop was seen, bearing in its north gable a stone with the initials of Daniel and Mary Haines, the builders, and the date 1769, and next the Joseph Haines home, built in 1804 to replace an earlier house destroyed by fire. A stop was then made at "Forest Home," where Mr. Morris Haines, the present owner, told of the building of the stone and slate house during the Civil War years, when the stone-work, the lumber, and even the lime for plastering, were aged and seasoned for a full year before use, to guard against settling and other possible deterioration. The house stands on a hilltop, surrounded by original forest trees, only four of which were removed to make place for the building.

The tour continued through Union Bridge, passing on the way several houses connected with the Farquhar family, the earliest of whom came to Maryland from Pennsylvania in 1735 and patented "Mt. Pleasant," "Killfadda," and other tracts. The marble quarry where William Rinehart did his first work was seen at a short distance from the road, and McKinstry's Mill, visited by the Society on a former tour, dating from 1767 but no longer in operation, preceded the beautiful Priestland Valley on the road to Linwood, named for the linden tree.

The tour ended with a box supper by the pool and a visit to the handsome brick house, now property of Mrs. A. Earle Shriner, which was built in 1790 by Solomon Shepherd, husband of Susanna Farquhar. Mrs. Shriner with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dew, and Mr. James Scott who now occupy a portion of the large house, graciously showed the interior, furnished with fine antiques, and with the original wedding certificate of Solomon and Susanna Shepherd on display.

CHURCH WOMEN WILL PRESENT SPECIAL PROGRAM

The Spiritual Life committee of the Women's Missionary Society of the Taneytown Evan. United Brethren Church is having a special program on Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the church. There will be a play called, "We Begin Work," which depicts a committee planning for a program and it is truly a typical group as it plans to create better in the work of the church. There will also be a picture shown by the title of "This Way to Heaven." This is a challenging picture for the Sunday school work of the church, as it shows how some of the work can be done to create more interest to obtain more people and uninterested families to the place of getting them into the work of the church. This committee has been working to have an interesting program which will help to begin the fall with a renewed vitality and vigor for greater things for our community. Everybody is invited to see this program.

BIG SCOUT DAY TO BE HELD IN WESTMINSTER

Announcing the Fall Roundup by more than four and a half million members of the Boy Scouts of America, National Scout Officials have said that this "is a most challenging opportunity" and in echo of these words our local Boy Scout Program for over 800 Carroll County boys has accepted the challenge and plans a big rally for boys and a parade on September 13th. The Rally will be the kick-off for a big membership drive to bring more boys under the influence of the Scouting Program. Charlie Stroth of Westminster, Rally Chairman, has announced the plans call for a parade down Main Street in Westminster and a Pep Rally for the boys. All interested citizens of Carroll County are invited to be in Westminster on the 13th of September to see this demonstration of fine upstanding future citizens, our Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers.

The only person who has the right of way when a life is at stake is the person whose life is in danger.

Irene deLeon Love is on vacation and her "Chatty Column" will be resumed upon her return.

Elementary School

Taneytown Elementary School will open for the 1958-59 school year on Tuesday, Sept. 2, with an enrollment of approximately 415 pupils. Families who have moved to the Taneytown School District during the summer months are asked to register new pupils on Thursday, Aug. 28, or Friday, Aug. 29. Please bring the child's birth certificate and vaccination record for verification of each. These will be returned immediately.

FACULTY

There have been no changes on the regular classroom faculty, in the cafeteria or custodial staffs. However, Mr. Ralph Minnick will replace Mr. Frank Miller as teacher of instrumental music. Another instrumental teacher has been added to the county staff, thereby allowing each teacher a greater length of time in his respective area.

PUPILS

Pupils of last year's classes will remain with their groups. Beginning in grade three, teachers to whom pupils are assigned are alternated each year. For example, if pupils of Mrs. Phillips' class go to Mrs. Koutz this year, next year they will go to Mrs. Smith. Accordingly, they are assigned as follows: Pupils of Mrs. Phillips' class to Mrs. Koutz, Mrs. Mohnney's to Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Koutz's to Miss Jordan, Mrs. Smith's to Mrs. Perry, Miss Jordan's to Miss Shreeve, Mrs. Perry's to Mrs. Lanier, Miss Shreeve's to Mr. Leese, and Mrs. Lanier's to Mrs. Wargny.

Pupils are divided between the two first grades according to age with the dividing line falling on or near July 1. The date may vary one way or another as an attempt is made to keep the classes approximately equal in size. Teachers in grades one and two alternate classes according to age having one year the younger and next year the older. This makes an exception in alternating teachers in that each year Mrs. Gass' children go to Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Stonesifer's children go to Mrs. Mohnney. This year Mrs. Gass will teach the older children and Mrs. Stonesifer the younger. First graders are assigned as follows:

"GEORGE" CAN'T DO IT

At his first press conference in five weeks, President Eisenhower predicted, in answer to a question about his plans to curb inflation, that unless management and labor held profits and wages in check, "the American consumer is going to rebel . . . in a big way and there will be real trouble and we will get something that we don't want". Government, whose job is "to keep down expense", is equally concerned, he said.

Most Americans, we think, were under the impression that there had been something of a rebellion in recent months—even by those who were seeking higher wages at the same time—and that we have had in the recession, "something that we don't want". However, perhaps shoppers have not yet rebelled "in a big way"; maybe we haven't yet seen any "real trouble"; and most of us realize that a full-blown depression is something we want even less than what we have had.

But we fail to see where Government is making a reasonable effort to check a headlong decline in the worth of our folding money. Government has continued its long discredited policy of massive largesse to friend and foe, has reiterated its demand for extended "reciprocal" trade—that has been more disastrous than reciprocal.

Government has rejected all efforts at tax reform that would stimulate business by restoring waning incentive to workers, managers and inventors. Government has made no sincere effort to curb its own extravagance, eliminate duplication and useless activities, to remove itself from highly uneconomic competition with tax-paying business.

On the contrary, Government has steadily added new functions, agencies, commissions and personnel. It has sought to strengthen the grip of unions on the economy and to further harass management. The budget deficit for the current year is estimated at $12 billion. The House has approved increasing the "permanent" debt ceiling to $285 billion and authorized a further temporary boost to $288 billion until June 30, 1960. The Senate will no doubt follow suit.

William F. Myers, Sons, Pork Packers, produce quality line of products sold throughout area

William F. Myers' Sons, of Liberty St., Westminster, pack a complete line of quality pork products sold throughout a wide area.

Known as Country brand meat products, Carroll County's best, the products of William F. Myers' Sons include sausage, hams, bacon, loins, franks, cold cuts and delicatessen items.

While the President named management and labor as coequally responsible with the Government for the existing situation and the threat to our economic future, it is actually the people, all the people—whether classified as labor or management or capital or professionals or housewives or students—who have failed in their job of making democracy work. Politically interest has flared up quadrennially, only to be quenched by campaign promises. There has been no follow-through on those promises. Honest legislators and high-minded administrators found themselves without support after the votes were counted.

Today, leaders in all walks of life—and notably in business—are determined to rouse the people, not to rebel (as the President fears they may) but to rise in their sacred duty and accept their part in the management of their country. It is the 11th hour. But it still may not be too late.—U. S. Press Association.

FARMER'S FRIEND

Current efforts of unions to organize dairy farmers in opposition to the traditional milk producers' co-operatives may be creating an impression of widespread conflict between the dairymen and those who progress and distribute this basic commodity.

Since maintenance of an uninterrupted supply of milk is essential to every community in the nation, it is important to know the facts. To find out the true attitude of dairy farmers toward those who dispose of six billion dollars worth of their product, National Analysts of Philadelphia have recently completed a nationwide survey.

Six out of ten farmers, they report, consider their relationship with the milk dealer "very satisfactory", a little over a third termed it "all right", and only two-and-a-half percent expressed any unhappiness.

Further, it signifies harmony that dairy farmers and milk dealers contribute jointly to the support of the research and educational work of the National Dairy Council. At the national level, the Milk Industry Foundation (representing 1,600 processing and distributing companies) works closely with the American Dairy Association (representing the farmers) for the greater glory of our four-footed friend on whose bounty our nourishment so impressively depends. The same cooperation exists at the state level, a number of state dairy associations—such as Florida and Georgia—being supported by both dealers and farmers.

Today, of course, there is little chance for a dealer and a farmer to get into a hassle over the price of milk at the farm, for, in respect to over 90 percent of the nation's fluid milk supply, it is established by state or Federal price controls or by negotiation between the dairy farmers' cooperatives and the milk dealers of a particular area.

Even so, the milk producer still cherishes an exaggerated idea of how well the other half of the team is doing. The most recent survey shows that the average farmer believes the milk dealer makes a profit of five cents a quart, and thinks that three cents a quart would be about right. The fact is, the dealer's profit is about half-a-cent a quart!

On the other hand, nobody works harder for the dairy farmer than the milk dealer. To increase his own income he must sell more milk—and must therefore buy more from the farmer. And since that sold for distribution as fluid milk commands top price at the farm, the dealer has done very well for his partner on the farm by increasing, during the past 15 years, the percentage of milk sold for fluid use from about 38 to 47 percent of the total!

Thus, in spite of some goon-spilled milk here and there, the farmer is realizing more and more the advantage this team-work provides to him. —U. S. Press Association

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

EL DORADO, KANSAS, TIMES: "Teachers are going to get a break through a new Treasury Department ruling which will give them refunds retroactive to and including 1954 for sums they spent for advanced training courses each summer . . .

"This action should serve to make teachers more eager to increase their proficiency in future years, and will be a benefit to pupils throughout the country as well as to the nation itself."

ONTARIO, OREGON, ARGUS-OBERVER: "Volumes have been written about the litterbug—and everyone is against him, of course. The thing that most of us don't realize, though, is that we all have a little of the litterbug in us. Most of us, without thinking, will drop a small piece of trash, like an empty cigarette package or ice cream bar wrapper, on the ground and walk away from it. It's not intentional, it's just done."

LONDON, OHIO, THE MADISON PRESS: "Independent electric power companies and their association are being penalized by the Internal Revenue Service because some of their advertising has attempted to explain the issues in the private versus public power fight . . . Doesn't private industry have the right—possibly the duty—to inform the public about issues that might affect the survival of or economic well-being of that industry?"

FEESERSBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

After leafing through the pages of a popular magazine this week we wonder what some fashion writers think parents send their daughters to college for. The entire August issue is devoted to the clothes a girl must have if she is to feel at home on the campus. To all this Madison Avenue prattle we say "bosh" or something more effective. We don't think the average campus coed cares a hoot how she looks, and for trying to be dressed in the latest fad, few girls are inclined to be fashion plates. Visit any campus and you will find casual comfortable clothes are the most popular. This is also true with male members. Too many boys and girls wear their way through college and are much too serious to waste funds on trying to outdress each other. After all, the purpose of college is to teach one to think for himself and not follow the silly whims of fashion.

We see where someone thought it necessary to put another book on the market telling women how to take care of their husbands that they (the husbands) might live longer. This is about the 99th book that has been written on the subject. Why don't someone write on how to take care of wives for a change? Maybe the women have learned long ago how to take care of themselves, knowing that this is a man's world. But all the advice on how to keep husbands from eating, drinking, and having too much worry is hard to put into practice. For instance, trying to make a man cut down on food to bring his waist line into focus is as hard as trying to get a summit conference, say "Don't" to a man and he becomes as contrary as the weather. He eats twice as much as he did before and takes delight in proving that his stomach can hold another helping. As for drinking, that is even a worse problem. For no matter whether the husband consumes milk, water, beer or soda pop, once the wife says "cut down" paper decides to "cut up". And he loves to worry. If it isn't money problems, it's the car and if it isn't the car it's the Orioles or the Yanks. So the wives should read all the books written on how to take care of husbands but apply the advice to herself. It will produce better results for when the husbands wear themselves out with their foolish habits the wives will be in perfect condition to nurse them back to health.

Two grey squirrels are having themselves a ball out on the lawn this morning. With bushy tails flying they are chasing each other up and down trees and then out across the grass in make believe battle. They play like this until Mike comes out to see what all the chatter is about, then they take to the treetops and give him a good tongue lashing safely out of reach. All Mike can do is sit at the base of the tree and bark until we get tired of it and bring him in the house. This is a daily ritual and we wonder why Mike doesn't get into their game. But maybe he knows its a game and enjoys it.

The time is coming when we may all sing The Star Spangled Banner from start to finish, not just open our mouths and pretend. No longer will we have to cringe as the soprano soloist struggles with high C and the low G. Paul Taubman, a professional musician, has arranged two small but vital changes which should make it suitable for all to sing. He is now trying to get the revised version introduced to Congress. As he says, there is nothing sacred about The Star Spangled Banner. It isn't like tampering with the Bible or Shakespeare. Francis Scott Key wrote it in 1812, but it wasn't made our national anthem until 1931. The tune is an old English drinking song, and it has always been our contention one had to be drinking to sing it.

At least a quarter of a million teenagers want to learn how to use a knife and fork correctly and all the other things that separate the socially adept from the inexperienced. For that is the number of etiquette books sold to the younger group this year. But before getting one's manners out of a book one should remember the basis of all good manners is kindness, and thoughtfulness. It might be very important to some couple if you use the right fork and spoon or if a boy rises to his feet when a woman walks in a room but kindness toward each other in all things is far more important. Kindness shows through in every transaction between human beings and it wears so well.

One thing we like about modern living. No longer do we close off part of the house to be used only for guests, funerals and weddings. Nor do we draw the shades to the floor to shut out the sunlight from fading the rugs. Yes, we have improved. The whole house is open to family, guests and pets.

Can anyone remember Carroll County looking so gay and lovely in August? This has certainly been a summer for gardens, hay and corn. Two weeks ago at a Democratic dinner most all the visiting state candidates had something to say about the beauty of Carroll County. In this instance we knew they were not exaggerating. All one has to do is look and the lovely countryside is all around, and it certainly is worth the price of looking.

The rumors of roads cutting into Carroll persist. If all of them are true the county will be nothing but acres of cement. Of course we know a rumor is worth no more than the time it takes to tell it but some people are deeply worried about their

RESOLUTION

Whereas, It was the will of God to remove from our midst, our beloved friend and associate ERNEST F. KEILHOLTZ, who for many years has occupied a position of prominence in our community and has served as a faithful and loyal Director of the Detour Bank, Detour, Maryland, from 1930 until his death August 5, 1958. Having had the best interests and advancement of the institution at heart at all times. Being always willing and able to give good counsel and advice and to give generously of his services even to the extent of self sacrifice.

Therefore be it Resolved, That in his death we have sustained a loss which will be deeply realized by everyone connected with our organization. The loss to the Community in the passing of one so loved and respected is impossible to estimate. The example he has set for us in his Church life, Family life and service to his fellowmen should be an inspiration to us all, and his sudden death leaves a vacancy which cannot easily be filled.

Be it further Resolved, That we the remaining Directors of the Detour Bank consider the death of (Harrison) Keilholtz a great personal loss and we will always cherish his loving memory. It has been an honor to have been associated with him.

Resolved, That we express our deep sympathy to his bereaved family and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the bank, a copy sent to the family and a copy printed in the local newspaper.

HUTZLER'S WESTVIEW TO OPEN SOON

Hutzler's Westview, third and largest branch store of Hutzler's, Baltimore, is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready to open this fall. The new store is located in the multimillion dollar Westview Shopping Center now being located on a forty-two acre site on the north side of Baltimore National Pike (Route 40), west of Ingleside Avenue and east of the Baltimore Beltway now under construction.

In the heart of one of the most rapidly growing communities in the suburban Baltimore area, Hutzler's Westview is conveniently located for residents of west and northwest metropolitan Baltimore and Baltimore County, as well as Anne Arundel, Carroll, Howard, Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties, and Western Maryland.

Approximately 185,000 square feet in area, Hutzler's Westview will provide large stocks of quality merchandise for the whole family (representing all Hutzler departments). Typical Hutzler service, handsome appointments and imaginative decor will add to the customers' shopping pleasure. There will be free parking facilities for over 3500 cars.

Excitingly modern in design, Hutzler's Westview will comprise three merchandise levels. At mall level, the store will adjoin the covered shopping areas and parking areas of the Westview Center; at lower level, the sales floor will open on the store's own parking area.

The mall level will be a feminine fashion world, highlighted by interesting photo-murals depicting Old Catonsville and environs. The lower level will include everything for the younger set, together with strictly masculine shops for men and boys.

The upper level, a homemaker's world, will include a large and beautiful restaurant, "Maryland Gardens", featuring dramatic photo-murals of famous Maryland estates.

Other important features will be a beauty shop, bridal shop, maternity shop, the "Soda Spot" and a community auditorium.

Hutzler's Westview will bring many excellent employment opportunities to people in the area—in both selling and non-selling jobs. Applications are now being taken at Hutzler's temporary employment office at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Ingleside and Craigmart Avenues.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

PSALM TEN

1. All his thoughts are, "There is no God" (verse 4). The Doubter has not the vision, imagination, or intellectual capacity to believe what he cannot see. God is a spirit and a spirit cannot be seen by physical eyes. All belief is based on faith. To honestly believe there is no God is founded also upon faith, but it is a negative instead of a positive faith. Everywhere, there is more or less weakness in a negative faith.

God seemed far away in the mind of the Psalmist, because it appears to him that the wicked is getting by with his evil-doings. God had given him both time and opportunity to change his ways, and he had not repented.

When does the evil-doer not appear arrogant, loud, boisterous, and boastful? Such is a part of him. And this aspect the Psalmist could not endure. The Psalmist thought that God should not only call a halt to the evil ways of the wicked, but also let him be caught in the schemes which he had prepared to catch others. The countenance betrays the heart. The face of the wrong-doer is his sign board, and the sign in this instance is, "There is no God".

2. He thinks in his heart, "I shall not be moved, throughout all generations I shall not meet adversity," (verse 6).

The aggressor has grown more daring, more brazen, more determined to pursue the poor, the helpless, the oppressed, and to execute his wickedness upon them. In this pursuit, the oppressor believes no one will under take to thwart his ways with the unfortunate of earth. And the man greedy for gain curses and renounces the Lord.

3. He thinks in his heart, "God has forgotten, he has hidden his face, he will never see it," (verse 11).

God is ever patient with man. He desires that none shall perish. The Lord desires that the wicked may see the folly of his ways and turn from evil to righteousness. Because God is patient the evil-doer wants to think that "God has forgotten, that He has hidden His face, that He will never see it," because He doesn't want to see it. The Lord does not wait at all. The wicked seems to forget that a thousand years with God is as a day, and a day as a thousand years. How can God be just were He to overlook the evil men do!

4. Why does the wicked renounce God, and say in his heart, "Thou wilt not call account?" (verse 13).

The Psalmist, whose own conception of God is that of One pure, loving, just, and above reproach, cannot understand the wicked's idea of God. Nor can the genuine Christian today reconcile what many of His professed followers are feeling, thinking, and doing against God's children who are more unfortunate, helpless, and in minorities, with Divine justice, mercy, and love. Therefore, the Psalmist concludes His thought of God with a definition note: God, "Thou dost see; yea, thou dost note trouble and vexation." (verse 14).

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: "Funny thing", observes Editor and Publisher Ward K. Bartlett of THE NEWTON COUNTY ENTERPRISE, of Kentland, Ind., in his "THROUGH THE LENS" column, "... a man will get up from an advertised mattress, out of an advertised bed, shave with an advertised razor, put on advertised hose, shirt, collar and shoes, sit at an advertised table, eat advertised breakfast foods, drink advertised coffee, read all the news and advertising in an advertised paper, put on an advertised hat and coat, light an advertised cigar, get in an advertised car, and go to town, and run down advertising on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay."

And then there was Gerhard Mennen, that immigrant boy who started peddling his talcum powder door to door in Hoboken (or was it Jersey City), about the turn of the century.

An optimistic classified ad salesman for the local paper persuaded Gerhardt to take a two-dollar flyer in advertising. Some time later, when he signed his first million dollar advertising contract, a reporter asked the toiletries tycoon whether he thought it paid to advertise.

"I don't know," replied Mennen, "but I'm afraid to stop."

Of course, it might not be too difficult for a man to get up from an unadvertised bed and perhaps even find an unadvertised shirt to put on. But he'd have a long beard before he found an unadvertised razor and would be driven to home-made hominy if he insisted on unadvertised breakfast food.

But this is not to suggest that advertising can't miss. Advertising, like everything else, comes in two styles—good and bad. And bad advertising is no more help than bad eggs, bad checks or bad dispositions. Good advertising must observe the rules. It must be attractive, it must be easily read and understood, it must be convincing and it must be presented to the right people at the right time. Finally, if the product lives up to its advertising, is easily available to the would-be buyer and is priced right. ADVERTISING PAYS and PAYS.

These are things no publisher should ever let an advertiser forget!

Sincerely,

BOB TAYLOR.

Holy Name Night Launches 15-Game Oriole Home Stand

The Baltimore Orioles, a solid pre-season choice for sixth place but currently in the thick of a six-team battle for second place in the American League, launch a 15-game home stand on Wednesday evening, August 13, with their annual Holy Name Night game. This season's opponents will be one of the Bird's strongest rivals for the runner-up spot in the junior circuit—the Boston Red Sox, who boast four .300 hitters, the league's top home run and RBI man in Jackie Jensen as well as the incomparable Ted Williams.

Despite this wealth of talent, the Red Sox have been hard pressed by the scrappy Orioles, who have confounded the "experts" and continue to challenge for a first division berth.

Boasting fine pitching in the form of Arnold Portocarrero, Jack Harshman, Billy O'Dell, and Milt Pappas, plus timely hitting, contributed primarily by Bob Boyd, Gene Woodling, Bob Nieman and Gus Triandos, the Orioles have an excellent opportunity to move into a first division spot during the coming home stand, the last lengthy one of the season. After the conclusion of this home stay, the Birds will play only 10 more games at home.

Every team but the New York Yankees will visit Baltimore on the coming home stand. Following the Holy Name Night game on the 13th, the Orioles will enjoy an off day on Thursday, the 14th, prior to playing 14 games in the following 13 days. The Washington Senators, with last season's home run and RBI leader, Roy Sievers, will visit Memorial Stadium on Friday night, Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon—August 15th, 16th, and 17th—for three single games.

On Monday night, August 18th, the Kansas City A's will launch the invasion of the Western clubs. Previously an open date, the 18th will be Family Night at Memorial Stadium. All women and children who are accompanied by a male adult, will be admitted to the general admission area for just 50¢ and reserved and box seats will be available to women and children for $1.25 and $2.00 respectively.

A twinght doubleheader between the A's and the Orioles is on tap for Tuesday, the 19th, followed by a single night game on the 20th between the two teams.

On Thursday night, August 20th, the Detroit Tigers will be in Baltimore and it will be Railroad Night. As part of the pre-game program, there will be a fungo hitting contest, a home run contest as well as throwing accuracy contest between the catchers. The Tigers will also play single games on Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

On Sunday afternoon, the 24th, the Chicago White Sox, boasting two of the league's top hitters in Nellie Fox and Billy Goodman, will play a single game against the Orioles and there will be a single game on Monday night.

The Cleveland Indians will help the Orioles close out the home stand on Tuesday night and Wednesday night, August 26th and 27th, with single games against the Birds. It will also conclude the final invasion of the year of Memorial Stadium by the loop's Western teams.

Both box and reserved seat tickets are available for all games on the coming home stand, reports Oriole ticket Manager Elmer Burkart.

Happy Birthday To You

who have summertime birthdays will be delighted with this cake. It's a lovely pink (or green) and white party treat that mom can easily make.

Happy Birthday Cake

2-1/4 cups Swans Down cake flour
2-1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening

1-1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
Milk*
1 teaspoon vanilla
Seven Minute Frosting—
Tinted Coconut

*With butter or margarine, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable shortening use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add flour mixture, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and blend.

Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, 1-1/2 inches deep, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

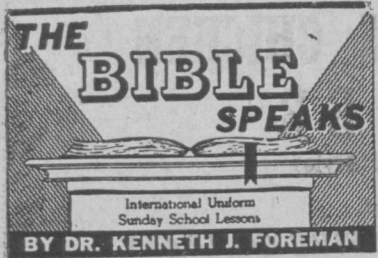

Seven Minute Frosting

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1-1/2 cups sugar
Dash of salt
1/8 cup water
2 teaspoons light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, water, and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat about 1 minute, or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with sturdy egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottoms and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper or spoon.)

Remove from boiling water. For a very smooth and satiny frosting, pour at once into a large bowl for final beating. Then add vanilla and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread. Makes 4-1/2 cups frosting or enough to cover tops and sides of 2 9-inch layers. Sprinkle sides of cake with coconut tinted pink or green. Use pink or green lettering and candles, if desired.

Tinted Coconut. Place 1 teaspoon milk or water in bowl. Add few drops of pink or green coloring and mix well. Add coconut (1 3-1/2 oz. can angel flake coconut), toss with fork until coconut is tinted throughout.

International

Lesson for August 24, 1958

WHERE can the will of God be most fully done? Where on this earth today can we come closest to finding the kingdom of God? To put it in still another way: where in this world would you find the place most like heaven? Walter Rauschenbusch, an outstanding Christian of 50 years ago, used to give the same answer most of us would: the Christian home. Ask the opposite question: Among all the forms and institutions of human relationship, where do you get farthest away from the kingdom of heaven? Where is God's will most rarely done? Rauschenbusch said: in international relationships. In other words, if a home can sometimes remind us of heaven, international affairs sometimes remind us of hell.

Dr. Foreman

Man's Other Religion

Nevertheless, if a Christian is committed to justice, and if he believes that justice is always God's will and intention, then he will believe in justice in international affairs too—if it can be had. That's just the trouble. There are more obstacles to justice across national lines than anywhere else in the world. One of these is that nationalism is, as has been said, "man's other religion." Always and everywhere, whatever men's professed religion might be, the rival altar is always the altar of the State. The State claims absolute sovereignty, demands absolute loyalty; and that one reason is why international relationships are so hard to make just and fair. For when the interests of two "absolutely right" countries clash how can justice be found unless they yield to some authority among themselves?

Entanglements

Does the Bible cast any light on this dark area of human life? It certainly gives us no blueprints; but it does give us inspired hints. One of these is the warning Isaiah gave his people, about 700 B.C., against alliances which would do more harm than good. Does this mean we should scrap the United Nations? Not at all. The United Nations is not the kind of thing against which Isaiah warned Israel. That was a tiny nation, and they were constantly tempted to seek security by military pacts with big nations like Egypt. That, said Isaiah, is just selling yourselves into slavery. Egypt never made any pacts except for Egypt's benefit; and an alliance between Egypt and Israel would be like one between a lion and a lamb; it would only serve to feed the lion and it would be the end of the lamb. The United Nations is a quite different thing. Most Americans do not realize the immense good that goes on, under its auspices, in many areas of life—child welfare, health services, education aids to business, and many other ways.

Warless World

The prophet Micah, looking to the far future, sees a warless world. Not a world in which nations armed to the teeth refrain from attack for fear of retaliation, but a world in which no one will be even studying war any more. Is this possible? It may be, now, no more possible than a world without death. But just because death is inevitable, doctors and health services do not give up their fight against it.

Prince of Peacemakers

Most Christians have a kind of hopeless feeling about international affairs. What can we do about it? we ask. One thing we can always remember—that international conflicts begin with bad impressions that one nation's citizens make on others. The world today sees Americans everywhere—tourists, business men, soldiers, missionaries. What sort of impression are these people making? What missionaries are trying to do is sometimes canceled out by what some stupid junketing congressman or private soldier on leave does or says. The more people are won by us to Christ, the more likely it is that these unofficial ambassadors of ours over the world will be Christians; and so the greater will our influence be toward peace.

ARE FOOD PRICES TOO HIGH?

The housewife who complains that she is paying for government subsidies to farmers twice—once in higher food costs and again in higher taxes—sincerely believes that she is getting gyped.

She hears and reads about high farm price supports, about the government buying billions of dollars of food to be stored or given away abroad, about paying farmers not to produce, and she reasons that this is the cause of high food prices.

Newspapers and the radio report that Congress has just appropriated another $5 billion to finance farm programs for another year, and that adds to the tax bill. It all looks as simple as two plus two equalling four, but it isn't.

It is true that food costs are at an all-time record high, when measured in dollars and cents. There are two principal reasons for that. First, more and more foods are sold pre-cooked or pre-mixed. Second, labor costs connected with processing and selling foods are higher.

Farmers Sell For Less

Although retail food costs have gone up 15% since 1952, prices paid to farmers have gone down by about the same percentage. Processing and distribution—both costs after the product leaves the farm—have gone up rapidly and are responsible for all of the increase in food prices.

Food producers get only 39 cents out of each dollar spent by the housewife for the average family food. The cost of distribution increased from 47 cents in 1950 to 61 cents last year.

In 1947 the average family of four spent $911 for food, of which farmers received $467 and $444 was marketing costs. Last year the same amount of food cost $1,079, of which farmers received only $400 and marketing costs amounted to $607.

The average factory worker last year could feed his family on one-third fewer hours of work than he could in 1947. The Labor Department reports that average hourly earnings of factory workers increased by 67% during the 10-year period.

Food Purchasing Power Up

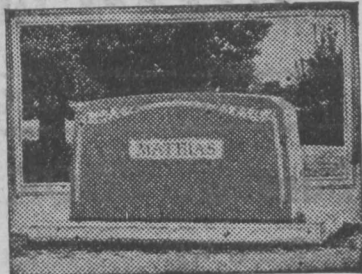

Figures supplied by the Labor and Agriculture departments show that the average factory employee worked 30 minutes in 1947 to earn enough to buy one pound of choice steak; but only 18 minutes in 1957.

It took 10 minutes work in 1947 to buy a quart of milk, but only 6½ minutes in 1957; 32 minutes to buy a dozen eggs in 1947 and 19 minutes in 1957; 27 minutes to buy a 10-lb. bag of potatoes in 1947, but only 15 minutes in 1957.

Foods that come from price-supported commodities have increased less than those for which there are no supports. Beef, pork and egg prices are not supported.

Farmers' costs of operation have increased by approximately 20% in the past six years, at a time when their net income was going down by about 30%. The per capita income of farmers last year was $993, but the non-farm per capita income was $2,045.
