SERVICE CLUBS HOLD MEETINGS

Kiwanians Entertain Teachers Lions Have Ladies as Guests

The eleventh anniversary of their chartering was celebrated by the Taneytown Lions Club on Tuesday, September 9, at 7 o'clock in Taney Inn, a ladies' night meeting presided over by President Frank T. Dunham. Following the invocation by Merwyn C. Fuss a period of group singing was led by Homer Y. Myers before the Lions and their guests partook of a fried chicken dinner.

Guests were then presented by the president and included Lions officials, International counselor Murray D. Ryan and Mrs. Ryan, Deputy district governor Clifford W. Warner and Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Marsh and District governor Russell H. Marsh, who brought words of greeting from Lions throughout the district and Charles Angell, past-president of Union Bridge Lions. Taneytown's own Harry B. Dougherty, who is Zone chairman and Mrs. Dougherty were recognized, while Murray Baumgardner introduced Principal and Mrs. George Herring and Carroll Wanz introduced Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Lawver.

The program was in charge of Singleton E. Rensburg, who was fortunate to secure through the agency of Lion Fuss, the Rev. Mr. Robert A. McAskill, minister of the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, where worships the President of the United States. Mr. McAskill's subject centered on the motto, "We Serve," and he skillfully divided his inspiring talk into three parts, "A faith to live by," "A self fit to live with," and "A cause worth fighting for." His audience was literally spellbound by this lowan orator, the evening a pleasant one for all present.

The Kiwanis Club of Taneytown had as their guests at Taney Inn on Wednesday evening the teachers of the Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School, the Taneytown Elementary School and the Uniontown School. Milson Raver, Executive Secretary of the State Teachers' Association, was the speaker.

The hymn Jesus, Thou Joy of Loving Hearts was sung with closing prayer which followed by Mrs. Musser.

The program we believe in the sacraments was presented and most inspiring. A sketch was given by Rev. Andreas and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Motter explaining the meaning of the Sacrament, Baptism.

A second sketch was given by Mr. and Mrs. George Fream and George Rue explaining the sacrament, Holy Communion. A discussion followed each sketch and Rev. Andreas answered questions of members which signified interest of members.

VACATIONISTS' RAMBLINGS

Five miles south of Harrisonburg, Va., on U. S. 11, located in the heart of the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, convenient to natural and historic attractions, thirty minutes from the famous and scenic Skyline Drive, is Pure Village Court. This court is ideal for tourists who want rest and quiet. This is a 32 unit motel, featuring family units, air conditioning, room thermostats, wall to wall carpet, cozy chairs, comfortable bed or beds, desk, telephone, television (if wanted), tub shower tiled baths, playground, 2000 foot airstrip, and restaurant. The rates are reasonable, food splendid, as well as the service. A son of the owner is manager, and both the father and son will put themselves out to make the guests comfortable and happy.

My wife and I remained there a few days on this vacation, as we did two years ago. From this headquarters we enjoyed the scenic panorama, went to see the Natural Chimneys, drove about Bridgewater College, a modern institution of the Church of the Brethren, also drove about the campus of Madison College in Harrisonburg, in which city we attended church the first Sunday of our vacation; and visited the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson at Staunton, Va. Here we met Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Truman, a cousin of their President Harry S. Truman. Their hobby is collecting cards for the postmarks. Eloise and I were given a card, and were pleased to have the postmaster of Glen Alpine, N. C., to plainly imprint the name of the local postoffice.

Harrisonburg, Bridgewater, and Dayton, Va., are located in the midst of fertile land. The farms are well kept, and the farmers are prosperous. Thousands of chickens and turkeys are raised there. Many horses are to be seen.

One would be disappointed not to find rich farm land, and prosperous farmers in communities inhabited by Dunkards. Wherever there are Dunkards is good farming. The old-fashioned Dunkard still drives a horse and buggy. We saw several on the highway around Dayton and Rockingham, Va. The buggies had tops and curtains, and the couple nestled happily inside as the horse jogged along.

From Pure Village Court our next destination was Delmar, Delaware.

G. H. ENFIELD.

"SPICE 'N EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help
to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Walking down Charles Street from 8W. Madison (the neighborhood which gives one so much) stopped in the Walters Art Gallery to view the summer exhibition for the week "Connoisseur in Europe" which is made up of precious objects from the Walters Collection which were shown to the public for the first time. There were more visitors than I have ever seen before at one time. Those foreign objects surely were most interesting, from China, Germany, Spain, England and other countries. The only adjective to describe it all as one stands right there in appreciation is 'beautiful'! Calling all school teachers! Why not take your class of teenagers down there for the entire day? One could spend hours there and become fascinated with it all and it would be most educational for the pupils. The building plans to increase the size of the Art Gallery has been released and the wonderful old homes, the Jencks House, Henry Barton Jacobs house owned by the Bourni Temple along with others on Mt. Vernon Place are included. Of course, it will mean much in the years to come, especially visitors who visit the Gallery each day. Mr. Walters in his will in 1931 gave it to the city in addition to the Gallery and his house on Mt. Vernon Place was left an endowment fund, the income from which has been used to maintain the building to operate it as a public museum. It is now really inadequate for all of the Walters Collection which spans 6000 years of man's achievement and is one of the richest and most comprehensive collections in America. When all this has been completed, Maryland will be most proud and then, too, when Charles Street has that brand new look in the future. That is Charles Street Center with the entire whole urban renewal program.

Stopping by the "Niagara" Salon where those wonderful "Health" chairs are featured. Your Observer sat in one for just 20 minutes. There is nothing quite like it for it is Cycle Massage. If you are contemplating purchasing a living room chair by all means see this first. You will say it is the best money ever invested. The speed is variable, the affect can be gentle, soothing "low" to a stimulating exhilarating "high". Let your next chair be "Niagara". You do not have to come to town for there is a representative right near you. Mr. Walter Buchman, 191 Pennsylvania Ave., Westminster. Phone Tilden 8-4825.

The most glamorous shoes this side of the ocean can be seen at Clark's on North Howard Street for the price of $12.85. I went in to browse around when I saw the styles in the window. Truly Paris is right there. No one comes out without that big package in their arms! Nuff Sed!

Ladies, be most careful when you use any hair-set—that famous Spray to keep the hair in place! All this is very bad for the hair unless something real new will come on the market as it causes the hair to come out and leaves what is left of your hair real stiff. The only way you can get rid of it is to wash it out immediately the next morning if you insist upon using it at all. "Living Curl" by Revlon which is something of the same preparation only giving it a different name due to so many complaints of their Spray or in any make.

And be sure, Mrs. Housewife, while the weather is still warm go barefoot and let your feet breathe and if you have any type of foot trouble even a callous go to the grand chiropodist whom I have discovered at 222 N. Liberty. He treats your feet as he would a baby. Never have I experienced anything like it and when you come out of that office you will be able to walk miles immediately. It is one light up and I would walk up ten flights if necessary to such a grand doctor. His name, Dr. Grooms, the old office where Dr. Lee used to be.

Viewing "Cat on A Hot Tin Roof" starring Elizabeth Taylor is her very best picture as she really does act more so than any of her previous roles. It is a real drama and for adults. The story is about a southern family who have a big plantation and they are in the money. "Maggie" is the character of "Maggie" none is other than Liz Taylor. Burl Ives is simply super-duper throughout the entire feature who is the Big Daddy in the family. All this at the Stanley on North Howard Street. Of course, there is a lot of bickering and fighting mainly over the wealth in the family and there is much squabbling but it all ends peacefully. Elizabeth Taylor is just as beautiful as ever and it amazes one as they look on the picture that in real life this girl (and that she is) has three children and has had three marriages. The title is not a catchy one nor do I think it suits the picture—another title would have been much more appropriate.

So long, folks. Until next week D. V. Have a grand week end. Hope to see you in the all American parade, Sept., Sun. 14. I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

FREE ENTERPRISE FARMERS

As the ancient adage has it, what goes up must come down. That's as true of cattle and other livestock prices as it is of just everything else except taxes.

This year those prices have been running at excellent levels, and farmers and ranchers have done exceptionally well.

But some day the prices will fall, just as they always have, due to natural factors. That fact inspired an article in Farm Journal, dealing with how long the beef boom may be expected to last.

Naturally farmers, economists and others whom the magazine queried had different ideas as to the boom's potential duration and extent. But one Indiana farmer gave a very interesting answer when asked what he'd do when the downward trend next sets in. He said: "We'll do exactly as in the past. When we get squeezed, we work harder to cut costs and get more efficient. You make progress by being a better cattleman."

This, it is safe to say, is the attitude of the great majority of livestock men. They are no strangers to prices plummet as well as soar. But they've kept their independence, and—by refusing to ask for government controls and price floors. The livestock farmers are "free enterprise" farmers, and they mean to keep it that way.—Industrial News Review.

FONDA, NEW YORK, DEMOCRAT: "Time was when a row of nine zeros meant that a hero of the baseball diamond had pitched a shut-out game. Nowadays, more often than not the zeros are used to tell us how far behind the taxpayer is in the national game of making both ends meet."

SANTA PAULA, CALIFORNIA, DAILY CHRONICLE: "... How much the government now has tied up in building loan credits we have no idea beyond the fact that it runs into countless billions. However, we do know that like the billions that the government borrows from the banks, it is straight money and credit expansion of the highest inflationary degree."

LEAKSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, NEWS: "One of the largest killers of mankind today isn't a disease or a war. It's the automobile and the open highway..."

"In this day and time with the manufacturers putting more and more horsepower under the hood the death rate goes higher and higher. The roads in most sections of the country are not built for the auto of today; and the people aren't either."

BRIGHTON, COLORADO, BLADE: "The most of us do not concentrate well when we read. Thus, we often miss many vital points we should have remembered..."

"Reading has ceased to become a habit with many children. Many don't read papers, books, or magazines. Instead they read comics and look at the TV murder plays."

"If everyone read better they would benefit themselves many ways. They would be better students, better learners of what is going on about them. Everyone of us could learn something every day of our lives..."

TRAER, IOWA, STAR-CLIPPER: "How a fool and his money get separated is no puzzle compared with how they ever got together in the first place."

BELMAR, NEW JERSEY, COAST ADVERTISER: "... Wages keep going up, forced higher and higher by the demands of all-powerful unions. Prices must follow, because labor costs are the larger part of the price of goods."

"The nation's strong unions make no secret of the fact that still higher wages are going to be demanded. They work on your wallet while you sleep."

OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON, NORTH GEORGIA TRIBUNE: "... There is a group in the Education-Labor Committee of the House (and a similar group in the Senate) which argues that Federal money must be given to private schools—if they are to agree to go along with Federal aid to public schools. Because this is aid to little children, and pertains to education, which everyone supports, we are generally lax in applying the clear-cut limitations of the Constitution on the question of complete separation of church and state..."

"We are opposed to Federal financial aid to all private schools—not just some. Yet we have often praised the private colleges of this country, which play such a vital and valuable role in our educational life."

ENSELEY, ALABAMA, INDUSTRIAL PRESS: "A barber in Marina, Calif., has been ordered to desist from 'unfair inducements' in his shop by his union. He can no longer give lollipops to his child customers."

NEW PLYMOUTH, IDAHO, PAYETTE VALLEY SENTINEL: "What are the meat and potatoes of good government? It's not as complicated as you think. Good government is dependent on good men in government. It's as simple as that."

"If we continue to let our political campaigns degenerate to the level of cat and dog fights or hillbilly road shows, we're asking for the messes in government we've got right now."

"Slinging the most mud or strumming a guitar are poor qualifications for dog catcher, let alone running the biggest business in the state and nation."

WEST SPRINGFIELD, MASS., RECORD: "At the moment the great state of Texas finds itself facing a situation which in some cases now is and will be duplicated in other states and the nation as a whole in the very near future. The Texas State Tax Study Commission estimates that by 1965 the under-18 age group will have increased by 24 per cent over 1956 and the over-65 group by 25 percent. But the taxpaying 18-65 group is expected to raise only 15 per cent."

"To provide necessary government services without adding to the tax burden will require wise and economical handling of tax revenues..."

BRIGHTON, COLORADO, BLADE: "As much as we love peace it would seem much more sensible for us to work and fight, as a last resort, in co-operation with the free nations of the world rather than ourselves later against a combined communist hoodlum gang. Free men must maintain their freedom else they will lose all."

GRANTS, N. M., BEACON: "The American people seem to be growing hardened to international crisis. Only a few years ago, an emergency such as the current turmoil in the Middle East during which U. S. Marines have been landed in Lebanon would have occasioned tremendous excitement in the nation."

"Maybe it's a sign of growing up. After all, it's hard to get wrought up a dozen times a year by war scares."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Of all the strange quirks in union-management relations being revealed by the Senate inquiry, one of the strangest is the way unionism was forced on Chicago restaurants that paid initiation fees and dues for their employees, without the knowledge of the enrolled workers, who got no benefits from the enforced membership..."

That is what happened when goons and racketeers take over unions for their own profit."

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Despite the vast reshuffling of consumer demand, the unprecedented migration to suburbia, and the many changes in merchandising methods since World War II, department stores have substantially held their position in the retail community, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Last year an estimated 26.5 per cent of the nation's shopping for apparel and home furnishings (which account for three-fourths of all department store sales) was done in this class of outlet as compared with about 27.5 per cent in 1948.

The Montana Power Company has been given its first general increase (12 per cent) in electric rates since it began operating way back in 1912. Its rates were reduced in 1935, 1939, 1941 and 1944.

A publication of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York says: "Free economic societies have been demonstrating their recuperative powers ever since such societies came into being. Economic and noneconomic literature abounds in references to 'hard times', and on each occasion there have been those who feared that society was sinking into a state of chronic stagnation. Such forebodings of disaster have invariably proved false. Economic life has always recovered from these setbacks and has gone on to new levels of achievement."

There are 105 companies with common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange which were founded a century or more ago.

The Tax Foundation reports that one of every eleven employed individuals works for state or local government. Total payroll cost: $19 billion a year.

The railroads get one-eighth of one cent for carrying a first-class letter an average of 500 miles. And for about an eighth of a cent more they provide the mail cars, workers, terminal services and so on needed to sort and handle the mail en route.

Our human population isn't the only one that's booming. The dog population has soared from 13,500,000 in 1939 to some 26,000,000 today. The pooches consume around $400 million worth of prepared dog food alone each year.

A Wall Street Journal article points out that some 90,000 people and businesses filed for bankruptcy in the fiscal year that just ended—a jump of 23 per cent over the year before. Four out of five bankruptcies are filed by individuals.

In David Lawrence's view: "What a strange delusion has swept the world, and particularly so many misguided persons in the parliaments of the free peoples, as they enthusiastically urge 'summit' conferences! Is it that somehow, by sitting down under the glare of the klieg lights and television, with cameras clicking and thousands of newsmen looking on, some sort of 'deal' can be arranged which supposedly will—as Munich falsely promised—give us 'peace in our times'? What nonsense!"

From the Butte, Montana, Standard: "... A Hoover Commission task force discovered three years ago that the U. S. government is among other things, the largest electric power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest lender and the largest borrower, the largest landlord and the largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, the largest holder of timberland, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shipper and the largest truck-fleet operator. These conditions still prevail today three years after the Hoover Commission recommended that the government get itself out of business."

A study by the investment Bankers Association of America finds that Federal aid for the construction of elementary and secondary schools clearly is not needed in view of the large classroom construction program, the decreasing rate of growth in elementary school population, and the record financing for classroom construction to be completed in 1959 and 1960.

Time reports that U. S. tourists to Europe will top last year's figure by about 10 percent, for a record total of 600,000.

Food distribution is the nation's biggest business, with 1957 sales approaching 48 billion. In that year automobile sales were second—just under $39 billion.

David Lawrence writes, in U. S. News World Report: "The truth is that, because of industry-wide bargaining and the tremendous power wielded by national labor unions, a battle is being waged between Big Unionism and Big Business that concerns the future of our whole economy—from automobiles to kitchens. The public is the innocent bystander. The people as a whole suffer because the Congress hasn't the courage to tackle Big Unionism."

Proposed Federal legislation, introduced by Senator Case, would require disclosure of gifts and fees amounting to $100 or more received by members of Congress and all Federal employees. Another provision of his bill would make all communications concerning any case pending before a Federal agency matters of record.

Last year, says Oregon Voter, attendance at horse racing tracks reached 41,400,000, and pari-mutual wagering came to $2,900,000,000. Both figures are all-time records so far.

The American Medical Association has announced plans for a concerted program to alert the public to the dangers of substituting "food fads" for sound nutrition. A spokesman says: "We feel it is our duty to warn against abandoning the traditional 'three square meals a day' and the principles of sound nutrition for the pills and schemes of food faddists."

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

A familiar sound on the streets; nowadays, is the rattle of coal on the chute, on its way down to the bin, a reminder of the winter to come.

Miss Nellie Fringer left on Monday for Clifton Forge, Va., where she will teach Piano and German in the Virginia Collegiate Institute and Conservatory.

Harry L. Baumgardner attended the Rural Carriers Association of Maryland held in Baltimore on Monday. There are 410 carriers in the state, 127 being members of the association.

Material for the new bridge over the Monocacy on the Bull-frog road, has been arriving this week, and has been conveyed to the river by teams, where work of construction will soon be actively in operation.

Messrs. Wm. H. Flickinger and E. M. Dutterer have stocked big Pipe Creek with bass, received through the Fish Commission from Iowa waters. The young fish were very large, some being three inches in length.

Mayberry—Benjamin Fleagle, of Mayberry sold his property last Wednesday to Wm. Lawyer of Middleburg for the sum of $220.—Harry Copenhaver lost a horse this week from an unknown cause.—Scott Fleagle lost a very valuable mule lately from Pneumonia.—Our cider mill and apple butter plant is rushed every day in the week.—Cutting corn and seeding is claiming the attention of the farmers at this present time.—The Church of God elected its officers for another year as follows: Trustees, E. D. Stuller, Calvin Slonaker, Jonas Heltbride, Grant Yingling and John Slonaker; Elders, E. D. Stuller, Calvin Slonaker and Jonas Heltbride; Deacons, Wm. Halter and Grant Yingling.

Study-Bemiller. At the home of the officiating clergyman a very pretty wedding occurred on the evening of Sept. 6, 1908. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Ellen Bemiller, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bemiller, of near Union Mills and Mr. John Edgar Study, of near Pleasant Valley. The ceremony was performed by Elder W. E. Roop.

Gillelan-Albaugh. Miss Nellie Troxell Albaugh, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Albaugh of Westminster and Mr. Lawrence Gillelan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gillelan of Emmitsburg were married last Saturday at the home of the bride by Rev. C. H. Richardson.

HOOD COLLEGE LOOKS AHEAD

Frederick, Md., Aug. 27.—Hood College will launch a major fund-raising campaign this fall, College officials announced today.

The program, to be called "Hood Looks Ahead", calls for a three-year effort to raise $692,000 to strengthen the academic aspects of this women's college in Frederick, Md. Over $500,000 of this amount will be earmarked for endowment to provide funds for increasing faculty salaries.

R. Paul Smith, of Hagerstown, Md., retired president of the Potomac Edison Company and president of the College Board of Trustees, has been named general chairman for the program. With preliminary planning under way, several meetings and events have been tentatively scheduled, including a special convocation late in October.

The proposal which initiated the program originated in Hood's Policy Development Council and was tentatively approved by the Board of Trustees at their June meeting. When a survey report showed the College's potential for raising this fund to be favorable, the executive committee of the Board voted to proceed with the campaign this fall.

Seen as the most pressing need of the College is the increasing of the level of faculty salaries. The program allots $525,000 for endowment to further supplement the increases in faculty pay scales already achieved over the past years through the general budget.

Another $125,000 of the program's goal has been earmarked for an addition to the Joseph Henry Apple Library. Built in 1940, this building has never been enlarged and now houses 50,000 volumes. Additional space must be provided if the College is to continue to build its book collections.

The architect's plans for the new alumnae headquarters, which will be financed as a part of the program, are nearly completed. To cost an estimated $20,000, this project will be submitted for bids in September. Other improvements included in the program are $15,000 for interior improvements in Brodbeck Hall, which houses music and art studies and the College auditorium, and $7,000 for minor additions to Strawn home management house.

The College is being advised in the campaign by the firm of Marts and Lundy of New York. Their representative, Frank J. Coleman, will be at Hood until about March 1 to direct the program.

RETARDED FUND CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE MEETS

The district representatives for the 1958 fund raising drive for the Carroll County Retarded Children's Association met on Wednesday evening at the Westminster East End Elementary School.

Mr. Fern Smith, general chairman, presented program plans for the 16-29 November fund drive which were received with enthusiasm and was followed by spirited discussion on the part of the assembled civic leaders.

He pointed out that the contributions of previous campaigns have made possible support of our local program and training facilities for the mentally retarded. Mr. Smith said that now, more than ever before, the continued generous support by our community is needed to continue preparing these children to become productive citizens and to lead useful, happy lives.

The National Association For Retarded Children receives fifteen percent of contributions for use in the field of research, the balance of funds being expended in Carroll

FEESBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

Over two hundred women attended the organization meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Carroll County General Hospital Tuesday evening in the Westminster Elementary school.

Some women may have attended the meeting hoping to win the milk stole that was offered but the majority came to offer their services to the hospital when it is completed. The tentative date for the opening of the county hospital is mid-year of 1960.

In the mean time the ladies Auxiliary plans to work out a schedule so that when the hospital opens its doors to the first patient, the Auxiliary will be there waiting to offer its services in various forms. As yet these services have not determined but will probably consist of a Snack bar, a gift shop, flower care, mail and information service and patient care.
The primary functions of a Ladies Auxiliary are three fold: Giving service in the hospital directly to the patient; raising funds by means of a snack bar, gift shop, thrift shop or any other honorable means; public relations which creates a feeling of good will between the public and the hospital. All these add up to just one thing and that is getting the best possible care for the patient. The Auxiliary will operate under the direction of the State organization and under no circumstances will it interfere with the administration of the hospital. Its prime purpose is service to the sick and there is no more rewarding way for a woman with time on her hands than to use that time to build up a good workable auxiliary which will give comfort and aid to those that are ill.

Nature makes the man from the child, and the hen from the egg, but God makes the man and then the child, the hen and then the egg.—
Johannes Eckhart.

This is an election year so maybe a political story is overdue. In one of the southern states a long lanky mountaineer came into town one day for supplies. Because he was a big wheel in his county and could swing
the vote any way he saw fit, the city slickers thought he rated a big dinner. So he was wine and dined to his heart's delight. He drank the chicken consommé and ate the stuffed celery in perfect silence. But when they placed a broiled lobster in front of him, he jumped up from the table,
overturning his chair and yelled:
"I've had enough. I've drunk your dishwater, and now you're giving me
bug. Get it out of here!"

A number of parents the county over are breathing sighs of relief for they have just seen their first graders through one week of school. The first great milestone of parenthood has been reached and from now on the six year old's loyalty will be divided between parents and teachers.
This is as it should be and a wise parent will in no way destroy this new loyalty. For if a child is to learn (and that is the main purpose for sending children to school) he must have complete confidence and trust in a teacher. Parents must never criticize a teacher in front of a six year-old. Take your complaints to the teacher in person. Parents do a lot of worrying about how well Tommy and Sally will get along with other children, but do parents really prepare their children for school? Have they taught Tommy and Sally to sit quietly in class and not disturb others? To be obedient and to observe rules? To put on their coat and rubbers and to manage their lunch
boxes if they don't use the school cafeteria? At the close of the first day of school last week we asked a first grade teacher how she managed the new recruits. She said, "Fine, but I didn't get any lunch for I was kept busy opening lunch boxes, unwrapping sandwiches and showing the first-graders how to manage their lunch that time passed before I could go to the cafeteria". A six-year-old can be taught by his parents how to do many things before he starts to school. Everything should not be left to the teacher. If parents cannot do this much for their children there is something wrong with the parents. Teachers are given the responsibility of teaching children knowledge that parents cannot give them but this doesn't mean they must teach them to dress themselves or how to eat. On every hand
there is much talk on school deterioration but not enough on home laxity.
If Tommy and Sally are to get the most out of school they must first come from a home where firm discipline is the order of day and where consideration of others are practiced every day of the year. If parents have insisted upon these two qualities then Tommy and Sally can march happily off to school safe in the knowledge that they are blessed with a rich endowment that will see them through not only school but through life.

A slumber party is a social means of getting a number of girls together to talk, eat, play games and do no slumbering. A girl will call up her female friends and invite them over to spend the night. They all accept and come loaded down with train cases, record players and radios. The hostess furnishes the food. Rather daddy furnishes it and mother spends the day preparing it. The guests appear around 7 p. m. and later they all dash off to a dance, movie or dairy bar. About midnight they all return to the hostess home and the party begins. The record player blares forth the latest rock and roll
music, the radio croons a lively dance
tune and above it all a half dozen voices talk about everything under the sun. In the meantime sandwiches, potato salad, pickles, pie, cake and cokes disappear into six unfillable teenagers who are trying to keep their weight down. This goes on and on until the sun peeks over the horizon and mother gets up to prepare breakfast. But the girls want no food... they just want sleep. So when one hears about a slumber party remember its a party which involves no sleep, and its strictly a female get-together.

The Sunday School teacher had just told her young charges how Lot was warned to take his wife and flee from the city. "Lot's wife turned back", she concluded, "and was turned into a pillar of salt". "I don't care
a bit about Lot's wife," confessed
one listener. "Tell us what happened to the flea!"

Keep your sense of humor. Its about all we have left that isn't taxed.—Ruth Roelke.

PEN-MAR

Taneytown upsets Fairfield 7-4 in fourteen innings.

Second game of semi-final play-off at Memorial Park diamond Sunday.

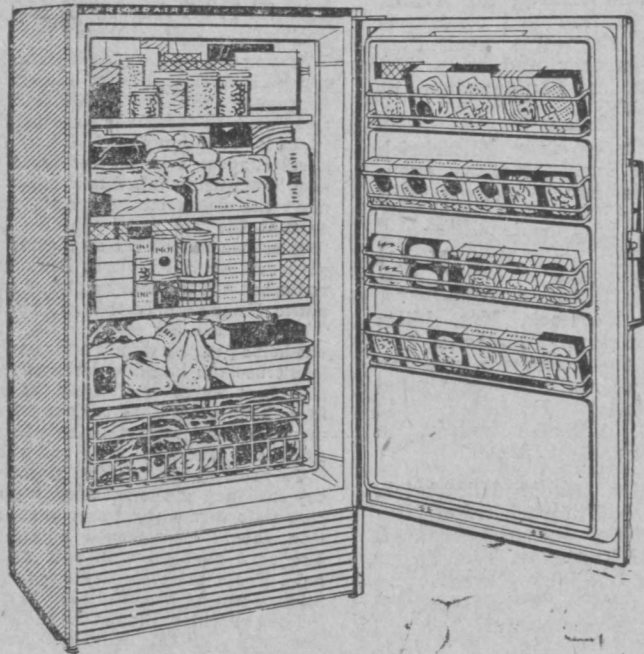

Three runs in the top of the 14th inning gave Taneytown a 7-4 victory over Fairfield, regular season champions, as the semifinal play-offs in the Pen-Mar baseball league opened on Sunday.

Rain washed out the Cashtown-Blue Ridge Summit game. Next Sunday Fairfield will play at Blue Ridge while Fairfield travels to Taneytown. Taneytown led 4-2 after four innings only to have Fairfield rally for two runs in the last of the ninth to tie the score and send the game into extra innings.

Bowers and Herring each pounded out three hits for the winners. Spence pole four and Deardoff three for Fairfield. Weaver went the entire distance on the mound for Taneytown and gave up 14 hits. G. Weikert, who relieved Orner in the third, pitched 11 and one-third innings and was charged with the loss. Carson relieved Weikert in the 14th and retired the final two batters.

BABY CARE

SUMMER TIPS

While summer means beaches, vacations and fun for most of us, it can also pose some hot weather problems for nearly every member of the family, including baby.

In the matter of feeding, just as adults are apt to taper off on food, babies too are likely to go off their regular eating schedule when temperatures soar, and can be just as finicky about food as any grown-up according to the Beech-Nut nutrition staff.

During extremely hot weather, mother need not worry unduly if baby decides to go on a "hunger strike", and, should keep the infant on his regular formula along with the possible addition of water. (Mother should offer water—not insist). Also, during such weather, baby may enjoy spoon food better when it is offered at room temperature.

Baby's summer appetite can often be stimulated by including more fruits in his diet. Tasty and refreshing fruits are available in an assortment of strained and junior baby foods which are light and easily digested.

For comfort, babies should be dressed according to the thermometer and the humidity, and not according to the season. There are excessively humid days when even a diaper will be almost too much clothing—there are other days when a fairly heavy sweater in the morning feels good. Ordinarily, when the temperature is in the 80's and the humidity not too great, a new baby is comfortable lying around with only a diaper and band.

On extremely hot days, babies should not be placed in the sun at the height of the day—that is from 11:00 AM until 4:00 PM. Outdoors in the shade is desirable, but great care should be exercised when exposing baby to the sun not to blister him. Sun filter creams are valuable in preventing blistering, but such excessive exposure to the sun is, entirely unnecessary anyway.

An occasional dip in tepid water—not cold—will help to refresh him on hot days. After drying, baby powder applied with sterile cotton balls will add to his comfort.

During the hot part of the day, baby's room can be kept comfortably cool by keeping the windows closed to shut-out mid-day heat, and by drawing the shades or venetian blinds. On excessively humid nights, an electric fan may be used, but not turned directly on baby's body. The air should be playing above his body.

As a rule, baby will be comfortable in a room temperature of about 68 to 70 degrees, with one or two light blankets at night and his usual cotton sleeping clothes.

Midsummer Magic

The life of the gladiolus is a long one when given proper care and attention, says Alyn Wayne, official stylist for Florists' Telegraph Delivery. The charming arrangement pictured above has made decorative use of the last buds and florets of a far larger arrangement that was no longer fresh, and has transformed a candlestick into a flower holder. To remove florets, cut them with small portions of the thick main stalk still attached to the thinner floret stem. This gives the florets firm anchorage and sufficient water supply. This flamboyant flower, so popular and plentiful during the summer season, is suitable for any occasion—glad or sad—and ideal for wiring to friends and business associates anywhere in the United States or overseas.

God In Business

Lesson for September 14, 1958

WHERE can we find God? In church, yes; in the great outdoors, yes. In prayer in the quiet room, or under the mighty far-off stars. God is everywhere.

But is God in business? We don't mean, is God doing business? He always is, of course. We mean, is God in the business life of our time? Is he on the stock exchange, is he in attendance at board meetings of great corporations, is he in the little country stores, is he in horse trades or on used-car lots? "The Economy" is a phrase used so often nowadays that even teenagers must know in general what it means. "The Economy" is today's jargon for all the financial doings that keep our industrial and agricultural wheels going, the word includes those four pillars of all business anywhere any time: production, marketing, accounting and finance. Is God in the economy of America?

Dr. Foreman

Simple Honesty
Now it might be that not a reader of this column is a "business man." For all that, every reader is engaged in business some way or other part of the time. "Money isn't everything, but money's into everything." If we live, breathe and eat groceries, we are connected, more or less, with the vast web of buying, selling, owning, renting, earning, spending (yes and wasting, which is economics gone mad), all of which we lump together under the head of "The Economy" or just "economic life." Let us think not of something big, something a congressman might plan for. Let us think of economics on Main Street, at the supermarket, on the bus, maybe our few dollars at the bank. Let's forget about the hundred-dollar bills and think about small change.

Are we honest about all these things? Does our religion affect the way we price what we have to sell (if only a few eggs or bales of hay)? Do we make honest statements about what we buy and sell? The command of God is: "Thou shalt not steal." Nothing said about "Thou shalt not steal a whole lot," or "Thou shalt not steal unless thou canst get by with it!" Taking any kind of advantage of any other person (or corporation, for that matter) so that they are the poorer for what you did, is stealing.

Is it a sin to be rich?

There are so many condemnations of rich people in the Bible, that some readers of it have the impression that God condemns rich people just because they are rich. This is not true. A more careful reading shows that whenever a wealthy person is denounced in the name of God, it isn't because of his wealth, by itself. There are too many highly-praised persons of wealth in the Bible to allow us to believe that wealth is a sin, period. The point is not: How much do you have? or, What is the amount, in dollars, which is the limit a good Christian can have? The point is: How did you get what you have? Jesus' brother James calls down doom on certain rich farmers, not because they had money but because their wealth was gained by underpaying their hired men. Making money by making men poor is stealing, and sin.

Is this spirit possible?

Saint Peter gives us what is better than a rule: he tells us the right kind of spirit that a Christian ought to have. Our gifts, he writes, are to be employed "for one another." service is to be rendered in such as to glorify God. We all feel that this is the right spirit for "church work." But is it practicable to take this same spirit into business, into our economic life? Is it possible, in business transactions, to serve one another for the glory of God? This is a vital question. If we have to say No, it is not practicable, then we are saying that we can be Christian only in our leisure time, not our working time. If we want to live as Christians around the clock, throughout the week, then we shall have to think out ways in which we can carry this spirit of devotion to God and man into the dollars-and-cents world. Can it be done? Each reader is challenged to make the experiment.
