DRIVE FOR FUNDS FOR SCOUTS PLANNED

"Kick-Off" Dinner to be held this (Thursday) Evening

Further announcement is made regarding the campaign under way for the support of the Boy Scouting movement in Carroll County. Very interesting and convincing statistics have been made available and are released herewith in the hope that more complete public understanding of the scout movement and its importance can be achieved. Statistical evidence related to the work in the county includes the information that during the past year 90,000 pieces of mail and 18,000 pieces of program material were circulated in the county to the operating units. The local scout executive traveled 20,000 miles during the year to meet with scouting groups and to lend assistance and guidance where needed. This activity included attendance at 312 meetings and the promotion of five training courses for volunteer workers. In this connection $400.00 worth of training equipment was purchased and five three-day camping weekends were held, with the assistance of the local executive. The local Boy Scout Camp in Deep Run, consisting of a 70 acre site, was further improved. At the present time 300 adults are working in the scout movement which is serving the needs of 840 boys. Scouting troops and cub packs are sponsored by 27 existing institutions in the county with 8 new units under immediate planning and 3 having been recently established. Present plans include meeting the needs of 30% more boys in 1959.

The financial campaign is presently hoped to be operating under a "full head of steam". Frequent meetings of personnel are being held to bring it to a successful conclusion. The local financial committee is headed by J. C. Barnsley with committee members James M. Shriver, Kenneth Bohn, Howard Koontz, Jr., Kenneth Sprinkle. Samuel M. Jenness. LIONS CLUB MET Observance of the annual fatherand-son night was celebrated by the Taneytown Lions Club on Tuesday night, October 14, at Taney Inn, J.

Alfred Heltebridle presenting the program, and with a handsome representation of Lion sons. The evening was presided over by President Frank T. Dunham and opened with an invocation by Murray M. Baumgardner and group singing led by Singleton E. Remsburg (Harry I. Reindollar at the piano) before the Lions and their guests partook of a roast turkey dinner. A visiting Lion from Westminster was Charles Conaway.

The induction of three new members into full association was capably handled by Harry B. Dougherty, and these welcome additions to the club fellowship were William T. Albaugh sponsored by Ralph W. Stonesifer, John T. Hottinger recruited by President Dunham, and Donald R. Lawyer who entered under the aegis of Carroll L. Wantz.

The program consisted of three films which proved both quite entertaining and in some instances instructive, one of them being on game fishing another an episode in the improbable existence of Woody Woodpecker, the third an indescribable adventure in a bullfight arena of the notorious Abbott and Costello.

Between reels, which were shown by Merle S. Ohler, President Dunham himself ably spoke a few words in promotion of the CARE project to be administered by Lions of Columbia, South America, through funds donat-ed by Multiple District 22 of which Taneytown is a member club. He urged that gifts made by Lions and friends whom they are able to influence be made by November 15 to Chairman Robert W. Feeser so that this rural school-building in Columbia may successfully contribute to that nation's well-being and eventually aid the contributors themselves, for has it not been said, "Cast your bread upon the waters and it will return after many days?"
Taneytown Lions, their wives, and little time to the preparations for the City Councilmen and their wives, will be guests of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company for the next regular meeting, which will begin at the company's plant in Westminster on October 1980 tober 28, everyone assembling there

THE BIBLE—THE WORD OF LIFE

The 18th annual National Bible

Week will be observed during the week of October 20-26. Once again it is sponsored by an all-faiths group, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc. This year's theme is: "The Bible—The Word of Life". It is taken from the 2nd Chapter, 16th Verse of the Philippans.

National Bible Week is dedicated by men and women of all faiths as a tribute to the world's greatest Book. By a daily reading and study of the Bible we may hope to arouse a newer and greater spiritual force—a force that is desperately needed in today's troubled world. Those who know and follow the precepts of the Bible will always fight the effort to substitute the pagan state as arbiter of what is right and wrong in our lives.-Industrial News Review.

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

Mr. Christopher Columbus was honored on Monday here in Maryland. In case you have forgotten your high school history he is the man who persuaded the Queen of Spain to hock her jewels and outfit three ships in which he promised to sail out into the Atlantic and prove that the world was round and not shaped like a cheese box. His dream was to fine the East Indies but he never did. Instead he bumped into the islands that were later to be known as the West Indies. But he did prove that the world was round. This in itself was a notable achievement, for men in those days were as reluctant to give up an old idea as they are today. And for centuries they had been convinced the earth was flat and if one went too far in any direction he would fall off and drop into a bottomless pit. Colum-bus put an end to that bit of folklore but he had other troubles. Greedy men were as numerous then as now and they made it exceedingly rough for Columbus. He died discouraged and heart-broken, never realizing the tremendous tide of events he set in motion by his wisdom and courage. Columbus would enjoy living today. For there are so many men in the country like him. Where Columbus reached for a new continent the pioneers of today are reaching for moon and stars. Like Columbus they will eventually reach their goal. But unlike Columbus these men do not have to overcome doubts and superstition for there are few people living that do not believe man will eventual ly conquer space. We owe a great deal to Columbus but we like to think that the greatest debt we owe him is the fact that he freed man's mind from a great superstition and set him on the path to a greater reliance on his ability to think things out for himself and not to take too much stock in defeatist folklore.

To most parents a college education for their children seem out of reach due to the cost but did you know that even though the price is high all colleges do not charge enough to meet expenses. If they did only the rich-est people could afford to send their offspring to college. Therefore to get the best type of student and not just the richest the colleges quietly make up the deficient and hope that when the student graduates and makes some money he or she will remember their college with a gift. It doesn't always work out this way for only about thirty per cent make regular contributions to their Alma Mater. Colleges like public schools are suffering from lack of money. There must be someway of persuading our lawpersuading our law-realistic approach to hold a Fashion Show on Thursday education. So far we have only made a small beginning.

Ine moon never knew how close it was to being bumped out of its complacency when our rocket failed to orbit. It was a near miss and next time it might just come close enough to make the inhabitants on the moor get panicky. We take for granted that there is some form of life there) Just imagine how we would feel if we knew some planet-beings were about to land here. We still remember how alarmed and panic-stricken some people were when they thought Orsen Welles play about martians was real. Its not too far fetched to expect other planets are trying to reach us in the same manner as we are trying to reach them. Lets not get too disturbed about the idea. In fact we should look forward to the time when we can exchange ideas with other plan-et dwellers. At least we should get some new T.V. programs and new plots for movies. And even some new

Each time, I walk to town which is mostly every day, there sits the smiling lady with the terribly de-formed feet, the elderly colored man who is bent almost to the ground, the young blind boy standing in a corner all day long and I have observed in this past year he has grown terribly thin. He stands in one position with the pencils in hand and then at six nthe evenings, he is quickly wheel-

Eddie twice postponed their marriage if you will remember and that meant something that he did not desire for the marriage to take place but that little Gal was out to 'get her man' and that she did! She was too young for him. should teach all girls not to rush into marriage and not to insist upon it when the prospective groom says, "Let's wait awhile longer!" Uncelebrated Day

Lesson for October 19, 1958

THE DAYS we celebrate are milestones, turning-points. They are days marking a line between Before and After. A birthday, a wedding day, a Declaration of Independence, these are days worth celebrating. So the church does right in celebrating, as we do, various important events connected with the life of Jesus. Not all churches observe all these days, but over wide areas of Christendom they are celebrated by many congregations:

the annunciation Dr. Foreman to Mary the Virgin, the birth of Jesus, the presentation in the temple when he was 40 days old, his crucifixion, his resurrection, his ascension. But his baptismal day is uncelebrated, that day when he, then about 30 years of age, was baptized by his cousin John.

A Decisive Day

It seems all the stranger that the church should not celebrate this day, because it was such a turning-point in the life of Jesus. On the one hand, this was the day before which Jesus was a private citizen, a carpenter, a home-town man, but never again. This was the day after which Jesus was the dedicated Teacher, the mysterious Messiah, as never before. This was the line between Jesus' private and his public life. On the other hand, on the day of his baptism and from that day forward, Jesus was endowed with the Holy Spirit as never before. Whether you take the story of the dove literally or as a symbol, it is clear that John, who had a keen spiritual eye, realized that this was the day the Spirit came, an event as definite as the settling of a dove on a man's shoulder. Immediately after this great day we read in one gospel the Spirit "led" Jesus. For another gospel writer the word is not "lead" but drive. Why should the church not celebrate that high day?

Embarassing Baptism

The reason for the church's peculiar silence about this great day is perhaps that we are embarrassed by one thing that took place then: esus was baptized! This baptism of John's was distinctly understood to be a baptism "of repentance, for the remission [forgiveness] of sins." But what sins did Jesus commit? How could he need forgiveness? The church finds it easy to understand the Spirit's coming; the Voice from Heaven may be harder to understand, but it "fits" what we believe. But the baptism does not appear to fit. It looks as if either Jesus was a sinner after all, and confessed his sins in being baptized; or else he was making people believe he had sinned-which of course would be a sin in itself.

This is indeed a puzzle, but we may be able to find an answer. Let us be hold enough to rule out three possibilities at once.

Jesus was not baptized in order to have his own sins forgiven. The church is surely right in affirming that Jesus lived without blemish, the one perfect man in history.

Jecus was not baptized to fulfill the Old Testament law; for no law in the various ecdes of the Old Testament requires all men to be baptized. "Fulfilling all righteousness" is not the same thing as obeying a specific law.

Further, Jesus was not baptized as if he were playing a part, encouraging others to do as he did. A perfectly healthy mother will sometimes encourage a timid child to take medicine by first taking some herself. Is Jesus our considerate Elder Brother who takes a "cure" he does not need, in order to coax us to take it because we do need it?

Calvary Began There

No: no to all these theories of the why of Jesus' baptism. The real reason lies deeper. This was the day (so far as we know) Calvary began. Jesus became known in his lifetime as the "friend of sinners" and afterwards and ever since, he has been called the savior of sinners. The Bible shows us that he did this by becoming one of us, identifying himself with us, even the worst of us, so that as St. Paul says, "he who knew no sin was made sin-for us." Jesus publicly, dramatically, decisively, by his baptism declared and declares that he sides with the repentant sinner, always, rather with those who in their own eyes need no repentance.

We're looking for an advertisement that will tell everyone just how was derful an All-Electric Home Laundry is. If you think you can make up an ad like this, send it along and if we like your idea we'll use it in 30 newspapers of this area.

In addition to giving you credit in the ad for your idea, we'll select the advertisement we think best and send its originator his choice of a toaster, table lamp, electric clock, or hand iron.

You don't have to be an artist . . . just make up any sort of rough drawing . . . cut pictures out of magazines or newspapers if you wish . . . then write the reasons why you like electric washers, dryers, ironers. That's all

Hints: Most housewives prefer an All-Electric Home Laundry because it's (1) Clean, there's no smoke, soot or fumes; (2) Easily installed and moved . . . minimum plumbing and venting; (3) Safe; (4) Economical; (5) A vital part of your home's All-Electric Future.
