KIPLINGER PREDICTS BUSINESS BOOM

The Year 1960 Will Have Inflation and Higher Wages

Washington, D. C.—Dec. 29—Business will boom in the 60's, according to a year-end report from the Kiplinger organization on changes and growth during the next decade.

The business boom will flow from population growth, plus rising productivity which will increase the output per man-hour, plus higher incomes, plus the pull of people who want more and better things for themselves, plus the nimble shifting of business patterns, Kiplinger says.

Companies will expand, despite painful and expensive growth. They must add capacity, products, diversity and new outlets as a hedge against the rapid changes that would drive them down and possibly out.

More chains, larger stores and many stores taking on additional lines is the revolutionary picture for merchandising in the 60's. The food store will become a general store, with other things than groceries. The end of the trend is not yet for the super-super-market. Pre-packaged and frozen foods, requiring more complex equipment, fancier fixtures will all bring on new kinds of warehousing needs.

Also there's automation... this tide is rising fast. It means more mechanical equipment and system to replace muscle power. It's a must for domestic business, and it's a must for our foreign trade. Automation downgrades muscle, but it upgrades brains. Increasingly, college graduates will be lapped up and trained for top executive posts, technical and engineering jobs. And, surprisingly, the lower-echelon jobs such as foreman and supervisor will be filled by college grads.

As business gets to be in bigger units, it will need more trained brains. As it gets more far flung, more responsibility will rest on the individual. Business processes themselves are being upgraded and the men who run them. Automation adds to the need for the trained and the educated in key spots.

Wages and salaries are bound to rise, following the patterns now. Despite higher prices of everything—probably 20 per cent higher by the late 60s—most people will be able to afford more things.

This means a continuation of inflation at about the same rate as in past decade. Savings, pensions, etc., will shrink in terms of what they will buy.

Unions will be affected by the growth of white-collar workers, specialists or experts in various fields. Unions will find it harder to unionize effectively. Union leaders are already foreseeing the trend.

More women will join the ranks of workers in the 60's. They've got to work, for the growing economy requires that they do work.

Now 60 per cent of women working outside the home are married and run households. The proportion will rise, especially women in the 45-to-54 age group who have raised their children. 45 per cent of the women of middle age will be working by the late 60's.

OFFICERS INSTALLED IN TRINITY

On Sunday morning Messrs. George Delmar Baumgardner, Herbert Bowers, Clyde L. Hesson, and Delmar Rife were installed as new members of the Church Council. During the same service the following newly elected officers of the United Lutheran Church Men were installed: James Fair, President; Fred Garner, Vice-President; Wilbur Naylor, Recording Secretary; Luther Luckenbaugh, Financial Secretary; Harry Dougherty Jr., Treasurer, and Kenneth Smith, Secretary for the Lutheran Men magazine. Both groups were installed by the pastor, the Rev. Stanley B. Jennings.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

During the Holidays!
Walking around down town and what to my wondering eyes did I see—BUT—Mr. and Mrs. Santa coming toward me!

It truly appears like a Fairyland in this neighborhood with all the homes beautifully decorated for the Christmas Season on every block and in the distance the houses atop of the hills are more glamorous. Sugar and I took a long walk and enjoyed it all. She is so happy now that she has her own back yard to scamper around in. And thinking of dogs, if you were presented one for Christmas be sure you have patience and change the drinking water three times daily. Never, never allow your dog out in the bitter cold for any length of time. Good care pays big DIVIDENDS! Your dog will adore you.

Believe it or not, my next door neighbor had Air-Conditioning installed so as the Cocker-Spaniel, David Copperfield does not have a heart attack as did the dog a few years ago from here! That's loving a dog. Eh?

Calling the Baltimore News-Post the other day somehow I was connected with the office of Louis Azarel and we had a delightful chat. When I introduced myself and told him that I was only a little "Dot" of a Columnist he replied what he enjoyed about my Column was that it was so very Human! Nice?

What a delightful surprise to get a lovely pastel colored photograph of Arthur Godfrey with his horse and a gym dandy from Katherine and Arthur Murray.

What a nice Christmas it must have been for Jane Mansfield and her husband to have a little cherub in their house just in time for the holidays. And thinking about babies, the Doctor states that Princess Grace will be having twins.

And from Philadelphia arrived "Fantasia Wafers by de Beukelaer's"—the most original I have ever seen or tasted in a huge tin box decorated beautifully for Christmas. Ummmm-Good!

Talking to the Policeman one night with the handsome "Seeing Eye Dog" and getting his view point. And a note from Dr. William Sebastian Hart who broadcasts his Concert Hall on the station that brings you The Metropolitan Opera—Sunday 10:05 p. m. over WCBM—68 on your radio.

This, I have recently discovered that eggs do make one stouter for I tried it with Sugar for one month, giving her eggs each morning for breakfast and she did gain pounds, but it did a beautiful job, too for her lovely coat for her fur appears like red gold.

Now, here is the surprise, Ladies, of which I wrote in a recent Column. Your Observer bought a large bowling alley set and will bowl daily in the basement and the boy next door is going to make a real single alley for me!

Thinking of nice boys—another surprise was a phone call from the little newspaper boy who used to sell the papers and bring them up to me in my Apt. His name is John, Addington, from England and he looks like a little Prince. He said, "Merry Christmas". He made inquiries to locate my address. I told him to come up and have some Chickens Salad that I just made and his reply was in that real English accent—"Good, I'll be there!" As we were sitting eating, he was telling me about his parents and that his family are descendants of Francis Drake.

Hope you did not miss the grand First Lady of the theatre, Helen Hayes on T.V. in the story of "The Christmas Rose".

What a grand Christmas Day dinner with just one dozen around the table!

Entertaining an aged couple of 82 and 84 years of age in my home. They met when they were very, very young at a dance and to this day they are truly the most graceful couple I have ever seen when they do that lovely waltz of "The Blue Danube". I call them my earthly Mother and Father!

Have you ever known a man or boy to hang up Mistletoe? It is strictly a woman's stratagem and who shall say that we are not all happier for it? Now, this is how it originated. It goes back to Tree Worship. It has always been regarded as a symbol of lighthearted, eye-winking fun. "Kiss me", said the young woman to a stranger at an early Druid Festival.

"What are you talking about?" the stranger asked, "Are you mad? Your husband is sitting over there watching us. Do you want him to put an arrow right through me?" "It's all right" she said, "because we are standing under the Mistletoe. It's a tradition." "I never heard of that tradition before," the stranger said. "How long has it been a tradition?" "Ever since I told my husband just five minutes ago and he believes it".

As you all know it was too good to drop and we've had it ever since!

And—now this—Your Observer lost the little round Mink Muff down amongst the shoppers last Monday—the day I used it with it's matching hat! I am hoping that someone will return it to me!

See you next week, D.V. Have a grand week end and be sure, and keep those resolutions you have made for the New Year. I am.

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT, ADDISON COUNTY INDEPENDENT: "All business in a democratic country begins with public permission and exists by public approval. If that is true, it follows that business should be cheerfully willing to tell the public what its policies are, what it is doing, and what it hopes to do."

ROSEBURG, ORE., THE NEWS-REVIEW: "The man with money will invest risk capital when there is opportunity to earn a profit. When he invests his money he creates jobs. Experience shows that people go where jobs are plentiful. No one objects to a sales tax or any other tax for that matter if job security is to be found. But we can't and won't have job security so long as we have no incentive for risk capital."

MINEOLA, N. Y., LILCO NEWS: "Something happened at Plymouth Colony in 1623 that ought to be enshrined in the memory of every American. It was the beginning of the American economic system based on private ownership of property and individual responsibility."

"At first, all food grown in the colony went into a central storehouse and equal shares were doled out. Within two years starvation threatened. There were too many shirkers, not enough food. Then colony leaders decided to give each family full rights to all it produced. . . . The fields of Plymouth Colony blossomed. "American's today must examine carefully every move toward 'public ownership' of anything. In most cases it carries civilization back toward the stagnation of primitive communism."

TINLEY PARK, ILLINOIS TIMES: "Those of us who live in this nation have a lot to be thankful for—we are not at war; our economy is standing up very well; our standards of living continue on the up-side; our health, as a people, continues to improve; there is more tolerance, less bigotry; we have a most wonderful form of government in which the dignity of the individual as well as his freedom is preserved; we have the right to attend and follow the teaching of the church of our choice; we have the right to express our thoughts and opinions."

"But we shouldn't become complacent. Complacency has taken a heavy toll of nations over the centuries and it could happen to us. . . ."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "The largest union in the free world, the Metal Workers Union of West Germany, has been ordered to pay employers for money lost when they went on strike. The highest court in the country held they violated an agreement forbidding either side to take 'militant measures' for five days after a breakdown of negotiations when they took a strike vote on day after. The damages may run to $6,000,000, a per capita fine of $3.40 each for the 1,760,000 members."

HOLBROOK, ARIZONA, TRIBUNE-NEWS: "If ever this state—or others—start leaning on federal aid for school purposes, it will do little good to attempt to teach the free enterprise system of life to pupils receiving their education under a socialistic program."

TRACY CITY, TENN., GRUNDY COUNTY HERALD: "We cannot think of two more important and correlated factors in the American way of life than a growing city and its newspaper."

"This statement was taken from an advertisement in a Virginia, Minnesota newspaper. The ad was unsolicited. It was paid for by a merchant who wished to show his appreciation for the part the newspaper had in building up his business."

GREAT FALLS MONTANA, LEADER: "A physician speaking before a recent industrial conference said the dangers from radiation have received so much publicity that an appreciable number of individuals have been frightened to the point of refusing very desirable X-ray examinations. The chief X-ray technician in a large hospital also is quoted as saying that some patients ask questions, even worry about over-exposure from X-ray. 'We're glad to have them ask the questions', she said, 'but they should let the doctors do the worrying'."

SCHOLARSHIP TEST

The Teacher Education Scholarship Examination for 1959-60 will be conducted on February 7, 1959 by the Carroll County Board of Education. The local test center will be the Westminster Senior High School. The purpose of the scholarship program is to attract additional young people to the teaching profession for service in the public schools of the State. High school seniors who expect to graduate in 1959 and high school graduates of previous years, including those already in college, are eligible to take the examination.

Since Carroll County has 5 members in the General Assembly 5 scholarships are allocated for use here each year. There are 152 four-year scholarship awards available each year. A number of additional scholarship awards of four years will be available to fill quotas in those counties or legislative districts where the original scholarship awards of the previous years have been released or forfeited.

Awards will be made by the State Department of Education and will be based upon the results of the competitive examination which will be administered here on February 7, 1959. Each scholarship has a potential value of $2,000 for four years of undergraduate work, with a maximum allotment of $500 per year.

Applicants who intend to take this examination must file an application by January 9, 1959. Application forms may be obtained from any high school principal or from the State Department of Education, 2 West Redwood Street, Baltimore 1 Md.

Club Women's Driving Contests Make Life Safer

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

MEMBERS of women's clubs are competing "behind the wheel" these days instead of engaging in cooking, sewing or knitting contests.

In Peoria, Ill., for instance, women in the Association of Commerce recently organized a "Safe-T-Drive" in which representatives of 25 clubs participated.

Following a written examination on safe driving techniques, the women took to their steering wheels and met in combat on a roped-off downtown street.

A gold bracelet was awarded the club member who most skillfully demonstrated her ability to park and to maneuver a car on the planned obstacle course.

Driving duels, similar to the Peoria contest, are held every spring in Arlington, Va., between a representative from each of the Federated Women's clubs and a member of each of the men's service organizations.

An obstacle course is set up in a large parking lot, with the top scoring man and woman receiving trophies attesting to their driving skills.

But, more important than any trophy, is the comment of a police officer who said, "After these contests, driving is a lot safer for everyone involved. They remember the first rule of safety—courtesy to others."

Let's Think

by G. H. ENFIELD

THOUGHTS PERTAINING TO CHRISTMAS

There are many Christmas thoughts void of the true spirit of Christmas.

One fellow said, it will take him six months to pay for the things he buys for Christmas.

We like to be known as generous givers but with our generosity is there the spirit of cheerfulness!

How many give that they might receive in turn! Stop giving and you soon are forgotten.

The ring of the cash register has deadened the ring of "Jingle Bells."

What has become of the spirit which prompted the "White Christmas" of a few years ago?

If Christ were to ask whose birthday is celebrated during Christmas, a multitude would answer Santa Claus's.

Of scores and scores of letters in a certain newspaper, written by children to Santa, they invariably begin, Dear Santa, I want. When are we going to teach our children to say, Dear Santa, I give.

We will have to put Christ back into Christmas if we are going to recognize it as the anniversary of the birth of the Christ Child.

Joy to the world! The Lord is come; Let earth receive Her King; Let every heart prepare Him room, And heav'n and nature sing. THAT IS CHRISTMAS WITH ITS REAL MEANING!

MODERN CEILING PANELS EASY TO INSTALL:
MRS. AMERICA SHOWS HOW.

The nation's No. 1 homemaker sets an example for the lady of the house who wishes she could have that old ceiling redone or a new one built.

In fact, it takes little more than a steady ladder and a stapling gun to put up your own new ceiling with today's modern, decorative panels. Mrs. America shows how easy it is to install Johns-Manville's fibretex acoustical ceiling panels.

As can be seen in the photo, there are hundreds of drilled holes in these panels—holes that soak up 75% of the room noise that strikes them. And for Mrs. America, a busy mother of three energetic children with strong lungs, it's an added plus value she really appreciates.

To install, start in a corner and apply the first panel simply by stapling it to wood furring strips as shown in photo. With the first panel in place, apply additional panels in the same way, fitting the "lightning" joints together. These joints are designed so the panels slip together easily, and so no staples show in the finished ceiling.

These panels fill the need for an attractive, noise-quieting ceiling. And they come from the factory with a white painted surface that requires no further decoration, but, if desired, can be painted and repainted without affecting acoustical efficiency.

Good luck with your new ceiling!

Easy on the budget, elegant to serve

"Crispy Stuffed Steak Rolls"

An elegant new main dish that will stretch the food budget a deliciously long way is "Crispy Stuffed Steak Rolls." Hearty in flavor and low in cost, this appetizing new recipe provides six full servings from just two pounds of beef. The secret: a tasty stuffing made of crushed crispy saltine crackers and mushrooms, with extra flavor accents of onion and garlic salt. Here's how:

Crispy Stuffed Steak Rolls

- | | |
|---|---|
| 2 cups coarsely crushed Krispy Saltine Cracker Crumbs | ½ cup chopped parsley |
| ¼ cup butter or margarine | ½ teaspoon salt |
| ¼ cup minced onion | ¼ teaspoon pepper |
| 2 4-oz. cans mushrooms (stems and pieces) | 2 lbs. round steak (sliced ½-in. thick) |
| 2 tablespoons salad oil | ½ teaspoon garlic salt |

Measure cracker crumbs into large mixing bowl. Heat butter or margarine in Dutch oven or heavy kettle with tight cover. Brown onion lightly in butter. Drain mushrooms, saving liquid, and combine crispy cracker crumbs, onion, mushrooms, parsley, salt and pepper. Add ¼ cup of mushroom liquid; toss to blend. Cut steak into 6 pieces as equal in size as possible, and sprinkle with garlic salt. Place a mound of stuffing in center of each piece. Roll up, and tie each roll with white cord. Heat salad oil in Dutch oven or kettle, and brown steak on all sides. Add remainder of mushroom liquid; cover, and simmer for 45 minutes, adding a little water if necessary to keep from sticking. Serve with lima beans and green salad. Makes 6 servings.

COPPER A FAVORITE FOR 94 CENTURIES!

Next time you admire what copper has done for your home in the way of beauty and convenience you may wish to reflect on the fact that not only was it the first metal reduced to the service of man but that it has been serving humanity for 94 centuries. Moreover, new and exciting uses for copper and its alloys are being introduced every day. Copper is one of the few common metallic elements often found in the "native" state. It appears to have been used first for ornament, and later was found suitable for tools, weapons and utensils. Primitive peoples who inhabited the island of Cyprus off the Greek coast were using the red metal as early as 7500 BC. They named it "Cyprion" metal which in time became cuprum from which the modern chemical symbol is derived. Egyptians were the first to hammer copper into sheets and from these they fashioned the jewelry, armor, tools and surgical instruments that made their the greatest culture of the time. Not many years ago a piece of copper pipe, 5,500 years old, which had been used to convey water to an Egyptian pharaoh's swimming pool, was found in a pyramid. A copper frying pan 5,000 years old is on display at the University of Pennsylvania museum. It is still serviceable and recently has been used to fry an egg! Long before the discovery of the New World, copper was mined by the American Indians. Like the natives of Cyprus, the redskins hammered the metal into implements of war, fish-hooks, needles with eyes, hatchets and jewelry. Our Statue of Liberty, symbol of America to billions of people, bare to winds and rain for more than 72 years, is made of copper only 1/32nd of an inch thick! Copper with its alloys has made possible all the great modern inventions that have made this the greatest age in world history and a whole galaxy of new uses for the red metal guarantee that even more copper will be required in the future. American copper producers have spent hundreds of millions of dollars in exploration and development to assure adequate supplies for the free world. For example, in today's complex world, the most modern scientific equipment, such as giant electronic computing machines, missile guidance and control systems and space searching and listening devices depend on the earliest metal known to man—copper.

Gracious Living by Gloria Wright. Let's Have a Perfect Cup of Coffee... Perhaps you may have heard someplace that a coffee pot should only be rinsed out after use, instead of being thoroughly soap- and water cleaned. This rumor seems to be circulating about just now, and couldn't be farther from the truth! As a matter of fact, according to experts on coffee, the very first rule for making up a perfect brew is to start with spotlessly clean equipment. Aside from the mere good-housekeeping aspect of clean cooking ware, there's a sound physical reason. It has to do with the natural oils in coffee. Each time a pot is brewed, a certain amount of this substance will adhere to the inner walls and inside the faucet assembly of the coffee maker. It's a transparent and almost invisible film, but it's there all the same. Like most exposed oils, this substance can turn rancid. And the deposit is easily picked up by successive brews, thus affecting their taste unfavorably. Proper cleaning of your coffee maker requires no great effort, and will add immeasurably to your enjoyment of this popular beverage. Perhaps it might be a good idea to think of a soiled coffee pot in terms of a greasy spot, which, of course, it actually is. Empty out the used grounds, and begin by using very hot water. If there's time, fill the pot to about three-quarters full with cool, clear water and heat by the regular means until the water reaches a rolling boil. Then apply soapsuds or detergent generously on all the separate parts. An occasional brushing of the inside walls and spout of the pot is helpful, too. Rinse each part very thoroughly. Residue of the cleaning agent could be as distasteful in your next brew as old coffee oils! Luckily, there's a trend today for many good coffee makers of all types to be made of stainless steel. In addition to this metal's unique inert quality which prevents any contamination of delicate flavors, stainless is the easiest to clean of all cooking ware materials. One of the newest of these stainless designs is actually planned with a view to the thorough cleanability required for really good coffee. The open spout and extra wide coffee basket are easily reached by cleaning rag or brush. Even the electric heating element has been sealed in so that the entire unit can be submerged in the dishpan or safely cleaned in the automatic dishwasher.

Can You Peel An Egg?

Ever had egg trouble? Dad did. He wanted a hard-boiled egg, but the shell just wouldn't peel.

He cracked it and rolled it to no avail. The shell clung tenaciously to its rightful owner. Dad, of course would not give up. He fought the shell piece by piece, and finally won out. But his disposition had been shattered, no thanks to the family's obvious enjoyment of his predicament.

Does this sound familiar? If so, no need to fret any longer. Miss EGGtober (above) has a unique solution for troubled egg peelers. When daughter Mary is standing around eating olives and celery, assign her to the hard-boiled eggs. Deft fingers and plastic tape are all the tools she needs. Have her wrap a piece of tape around the center of each egg, as shown. When you serve the eggs, Dad can roll his on a flat surface to crackle the shell, then peel off the center taped area. When he does, the shell ends will slip right off.

Miss EGGtober, who is really Susan Treat, a 20-year-old 4-H'er from Orange, Conn., has been demonstrating this tip on eggs in her travels around the country. For several months now she has been telling Americans about "EGGtober—The Time To Eat More Eggs." She has also been a reminder to producers that EGGtober is the additional month of egg output they can expect this fall by feeding extra-production laying feeds fortified with the broad spectrum antibiotic Terramycin.

Miss EGGtober also has some new recipes for homemakers she calls "Scrambled Eggs Through the Alphabet." For 26 ways to fix scrambled eggs, "A to Z", write Miss EGGtober, Box 1742, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y.

Bring Christmas To Your Table Settings

For an extra touch of holiday spirit, bring Christmas color and gaiety to your table settings. Bright "custom-made" centerpieces and decorations add so much to holiday decor, but need not be expensive.

For dinners and parties, you can make colorful candelabra very readily. Your local five-and-ten cent store carries all the necessary materials.

These gay candelabra were made with styrene foam, artificial leaves and berries. To make them, first hollow out a place for the candle in the center of the styrene base. Then secure the leaves and berries around the candle with florist's wire. Since the styrene base is soft, stems and wire can be pushed in with the fingers.

You can use almost anything as containers for your candelabra. Here they are set in bright enameled stainless steel party bowls, although a flat dish might do just as well.

Old Christmas decorations can be resurrected and given new life. Try spraying that ancient wreath lightly with white aerosol-packaged paint. A few gaily-wrapped packages will complete the picture.

With such a bright array of colors choose your tablecloth, napkins and serving pieces carefully so they will harmonize. Stainless steel is an excellent choice for flatware and hollowware. Its neutral color blends beautifully with any decor, and since it does not tarnish, it is always party-bright.

Sugar and Spice and Everything Nice

Quite a few American families wouldn't be serving fruit cake as a Christmas day dessert if it had not been for the British sailors of several centuries ago.

Those British sailors must have been as shrewd as they were observant. In the Orient they ate cakes made with fruit. They liked of trees—came from the Far East. Although fruit cake was made available to the western world by British sailors, the first fruit cake, as we know it, probably was baked in Egypt several centuries ago. It consisted of several kinds of tropical fruits, sugar, wheat meal, spices, oil and honey, all collected by the Egyptian housewife. In modern America, the housewife may walk into a bakery or grocery store and buy a delicious fruit cake of almost any size.

Call for Faith

Lesson for January 4, 1959

THE TOP and the bottom of a mountain often have quite different climates. In one case known to us, this difference in climate was not a matter of weather alone. You might say it reversed the weather. The particular mountain where these events are believed to have taken place, is so high that it bears snow even in the height of summer. But on the particular occasion of our story, the summer was at the top, the winter at the bottom. At the summit was a scene of glory and of peace; at the bottom was a scene of hustle, bustle, struggle . . . anything but glory. At the top was everything to encourage faith; at the bottom everything to discourage it.

Three Questions
Nevertheless it was at the bottom of the mountain that faith was most needed. The reader is invited to picture the story for himself. A crowd of bystanders . . . most of the incidents recorded in Jesus' life had this background of the gawking crowd. The disciples, red-faced, hot and flustered, trying to do a miracle and falling flat. The boy and man who were the center of the crowd; the boy an epileptic perhaps even then in a convulsion, and his distracted father, begging for help but getting none.

Epilepsy is a disease of the nervous system which is always embarrassing and sometimes dangerous. In those days (and in these too, without special medical help) attacks would come on without warning. The patient falls unconscious; if near water, he may drown, or if by a fireside, he may burn to death without help. Epileptics are not crazy, indeed they are often brighter than "normal" people. But they cannot often hold well-paid jobs, and in superstitious communities no one will give them jobs at all.

Can Faith Cure Everything?

Aside from all other questions of what faith can do, take this one: Can faith cure everything? We know now (that is, doctors know) that faith goes a long way in the healing process of any disease, and may be a major force in some cures. It has been reliably estimated that more than half the patients in American hospitals at any given time would be discharged at once, if their attitude were changed; in other words more people are hospitalized for basically psychological reasons than for physical reasons. The physical trouble is there, but it's the mental slant that causes the physical spill. But can faith cure everything? Can faith ward off everything? If a smallpox epidemic were threatened, should a Christian refuse vaccination and rely only on his faith? Most Christians would say No; all health departments would say No. And all Christians agree that some troubles are not curable by faith. You cannot pray a broken, torn-off arm back into existence. Destroyed brain cells never grow again, for saint or for sinner. The very church that believes most in miracles is the one most famous for its hospitals.

Can Your Faith Help Me?

Another question: Can one man's faith help another man? In this story it was the father's faith that helped his boy. Is this always the case? Again we have to say sometimes yes, sometimes no. Jesus himself performed more than one cure, on the faith, not of the sick persons but of their families or friends. Christians should of course pray for their sick loved ones, pray for doctors and nurses and druggists too, without inquiring, "How much faith can this patient himself have?" Yet there are limits to this. Saving faith, the faith that is a turning from darkness to light, from evil to God, always has to be one's own.

What is Faith's Power

The third question can be answered in very few words. What is the secret of faith's power? It is right in the story. The disciples were powerless, for their trust was in themselves. They had forgotten to pray. Jesus connects faith with prayer. Faith alone is nothing; it works, only if and because it lays hold on the power of the mighty God.

THIS WEEK
—In Washington
With Clinton Davidson
WASHINGTON RED INK

Davidson

We Americans have become distressingly blasé about the rate at which the Federal government is spending our money and sinking us deeper and deeper into debt.

A statement by the Bureau of the Budget that Federal spending this year will exceed income by more than a billion dollars a month caused no more than a mild ripple of public interest.

Maurice H. Stans, Director of the Budget, tells us that Uncle Sam is spending at a peacetime record rate and that by the end of this fiscal year the public debt will reach a new all-time record of $283 billion.

For each $350 the average American—man, woman and child—pays in Federal taxes, either directly or indirectly, Washington will spend $420.40 during the fiscal year that ends next June 30.

Your Owe $1,645.

Your share of the Federal debt, by next June 30, will amount to a record total of $1,645. That will be the per-capita national debt, and it will be an increase of $70.45 from last June 30.

You may never pay off that debt, but you can't escape paying your share of the interest on it, amounting to $42.50 a year. It costs the Treasury Department $7.3 billion a year to pay the interest on the debt.

Congress either appropriated or authorized $79.2 billion to be spent this fiscal year by Federal agencies. That is $12.2 billion more than estimated tax collections of $67 billion.

The record peacetime deficit is in sharp contrast with the official estimate last January that the government would end this fiscal year with a "net surplus" of $500 million in income over outgo.

Mr. Stans explains this "mistaken estimate" by pointing out that (1) Congress okayed spending of $5.3 billion more than was budgeted, and (2) tax collections now are expected to fall $7.4 billion below the earlier estimate.

Where Your Money Goes

The biggest slice of your tax dollar, as well as the increase in debt, goes for items under the general heading of national defense. Defense spending will set a peacetime record of $40.8 billion.

Interest on the national debt at $7.3 billion is second, farm aid is third and foreign aid is fourth. The largest increase over the January budget was an added $1.6 billion for the Department of Agriculture.

The Post Office Department, despite increased mail rates, expects to spend $735 million more than it collects in stamp sales. That is due to the increase in wages voted postal employees by Congress, Mr. Stans explains.

Other increases over last year include $225 million for Health, Education and Welfare Department public assistance grants and research; $199 million more for the Export-Import Bank, $225 million for surplus sales of farm products, and $92 million for the newly authorized Small Business Administration loan program.

We asked both the Republican and Democratic national headquarters for a list of what they consider the major political campaign issues. Neither mentioned Federal spending or the public debt.

THIS WEEK —In Washington With Clinton Davidson CHOOSING A CONGRESS

Davidson

Washington this week is watching with more than usual interest the congressional election campaigns that are just now beginning to get into full swing across the country.

Is this, as some of the experts predict, to be a "Democratic Year?" Or, can the Republicans, as others think, regain a majority in the 86th Congress which convenes next January?

There are 34 senatorial elections, two from Alaska for the first time, and 436 congressional districts, including one in Alaska, in which election campaigns are being waged.

When the 85th Congress adjourned last month there were 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans in the Senate. The House was divided 233 Democrats, 200 Republicans and two vacancies.

Six Senators have announced their retirement and approximately 40 representatives either have retired or were defeated for renomination in the primaries.

Campaign Issues

The issues being debated in the campaign vary all the way from local to international. Foremost among the latter is the preservation of a just and honorable world peace. The threat of communist aggression continues as a constant peril to the Free World.

The world is taking cautious steps toward the goal of eventual elimination of atomic and hydrogen bombs as weapons which could be used to destroy civilization. The peaceful use of atomic energy, on the other hand, offers unreamed-of opportunities for all of mankind.

National issues which are emphasized include Federal spending and the national debt. Congress appropriated a peace-time record of almost $80 billion and as a result we will go another $8 billion deeper into debt this fiscal year.

Integration

One of the thorniest issues in the campaign is that of school integration. The Supreme Court, itself, is an issue. Has it exceeded its constitutional authority as the Judicial Branch of government and encroached on the Legislative authority? Congress by a vote of 40 to 41 barely shelved a bill to curtail the jurisdiction of the Court.

Legislation to weed racketeers out of labor unions failed by only a few votes. Candidates will want to know how voters feel about the touchy problem of curbing labor union activities, and especially those of Teamsters' James Hoffa.

In the rural areas farm legislation will be a big issue. Congress passed a controversial farm bill just before adjourning, but it has about as many critics as defenders.

The election campaigning is our best way, in a democracy, of determining the decision of the American people on the important issues which affect them.

COUNTY TAX RATE IS $1.80 PER $100.

Highways—$95,840.00. The levy for roads is at the rate of 6c to yield $75,840.00, and $20,000.00 has been included for the purchase of roads machinery.

Sanitation and Waste Disposal—$9,500.00. This is intended to cover the operation of the county dumps for garbage and trash disposal.

Conservation of Health—$45,735.00. This appropriation represents approximately 40% of all public health costs, as estimated by the State Health Department.

Hospitals—$89,000.00. This includes $50,000.00 from tobacco and cigarette revenues appropriated towards the cost of construction of Carroll County General Hospital; $18,000.00 for the maintenance of patients in State Mental Hospitals; and $1,000.00 for the maintenance of patients in State Chronic Hospitals.

Public Welfare—$67,666.44. This represents an increase of approximately $10,000.00 over the demands of the Department last year, but much of the appropriation is determined by Federal and State Law, and very little is left in the discretion of the County Commissioners. Also included under this heading is $17,300.00 for the operation and improvement of the County Home, and $4,800.00 for Pauper Burials and Children's Aid Society.

Correction—$10,800.00. The operation of the County Jail is estimated to cost $5,300.00, and $5,500.00 has been appropriated to cover the costs of maintenance of delinquents in other institutions.

Schools—$2,121,701.33. This amounts to $1,496,420.68 for Salaries and Operating Expenses, an increase of $201,705.00 over the preceding year; $299,900.04 for Capital Outlay, which means new construction, Architect's fees, and the repair and renovation of old buildings; and $325,380.61 for Debt Service, that is, payments on the County school debt, including interest.

The principal item under operating expenses causing the substantial increase of $201,705.00 is represented by over-expenditures by the Board of Education of $134,971.00 in the preceding year, which must be levied and paid in order that Carroll County might continue to receive State Aid to Education.

The County Commissioners have had numerous conferences with the Board of Education and the County Auditor in a study of the expenditures amounting to said sum of $134,971.00, and since they appear to represent principally the excess cost of Clerical Salaries, custodial personnel, operation of school plant maintenance and repair furniture and other school equipment it was made apparent to the Commissioners that the expenditures so made were reasonably necessary for the efficient and satisfactory operation of the schools, but it is unfortunate that the need for these funds was not foreseen so that at least part of these excess costs could have been included in the budget for education in the preceding year.

The present school budget has been set up through the joint efforts of the Board of Education the County Commissioners, and the County Auditor, with great study and extreme care, and both the Board of Education and the County Commissioners, with the help of the auditor, will see that disbursements for schools in the calendar year 1959 are kept strictly within budgetary allowances, barring some unforeseen catastrophe.

Recreation—$25,680.00. This includes an appropriation of $400.00 to Carroll County Historical Society, and $25,280.00 from the tobacco and cigarette tax revenue to cover the cost of the operation of Public Library Service throughout the county.

Public Service Enterprise—$17,580.00. This includes an appropriation of $16,630.00 for Agriculture Extension Service Salaries and Expenses and $950.00 for the Salaries and Expenses of the Board of License Commissioners for Alcoholic Beverages.

Miscellaneous—$29,000.00. The appropriations under this heading are $6,500.00 for Teachers' Retirement; $14,000.00 as the County's share of the cost of Employees' Retirement; $6,000.00 Social Security Contributions; $1,500.00 for three Medical Student Scholarships; and $1,000.00 for Miscellaneous Expenses.

The total of all appropriations is $2,721,717.77, leaving a balance from anticipated revenues of $25,382.23. From this balance the sum of $1,500.00 has been set up as a reserve for tax refunds which will have to be made under a recent ruling of the Court of Appeals, and the remainder then amounting to $23,882.23 has been set up to cover contingencies which may arise in the general business and affairs of the County, and for the absorption of losses and deficiencies in tax revenues as estimated.

It can easily be seen that the anticipated expenditures in 1959 will consume substantially all of the receipts from estimated revenues, so every County officer and employee will be alerted and admonished to avoid all semblance of extravagance or waste, and a strict accounting of all disbursements and commitments will be required. But it nevertheless should be pointed out to our citizens and taxpayers that about 90% of all appropriations are firmly fixed in Federal and State Law, so that any saying that the Commissioners can accomplish must be made within the limits of the remaining 10% of total appropriations, over which they have the power to exercise a certain measure of discretion. It therefore is abundantly apparent that our citizens must look more and more into the acts of their elected representatives in the Congress and the State Legislature for any hoped for relief in the steadily increasing cost of all government services.

Respectfully submitted,
EDMUND L. CARR,
CHARLES W. SAYLOR,
FRANCIS J. CRAWFORD,
County Commissioners for Carroll County.

DID YOU KNOW that Maryland law provides that it is illegal for any third party other than a licensed child welfare agency to assist parents in placement of a child for adoption? Procedures of the Maryland Children's Aid Society provide the best possible chance for a permanent plan for the youngster, the natural parent, and the adoptive parents. Adopted children come from a different part of the State from that in which they are placed, and precautions taken by the Agency eliminate all former identification. Call or write the Children's Aid at 21 Court Street, Westminster Telephone Tilden 8-6780 for any information about adoption.

MOTOR MAIDS

Do You Know the Signs of Life?

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WHEN DRIVING visibility is poor, and you can distinguish only the outlines of traffic signs, your safety may depend on recognizing the meaning of their shapes.

Regulation road sign shapes have been uniformly adopted throughout the country so that motorists traveling from state to state can quickly identify them. Known as the "Signs of Life," they are posted for your protection. Recognize them—and respect them!

—An octagon-shaped sign means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding.

—The triangle is the newest of the standard signs and reads "Yield Right of Way." It requires drivers to slow down or stop if necessary to give right of way to cross-traffic at intersections.

—The rectangle or square-shaped sign states traffic regulations such as speed limits, parking restrictions, etc.

—Diamond-shaped signs tell motorists to slow down, and warn of dangerous or unusual road conditions ahead, including curves, bumps, bridges, intersections, hills, school zones, etc.

—The round sign indicates a railroad crossing 300 to 500 feet ahead.

Feasting Important To World Observance Of New Year

Feasting is as important a part of a New Year celebration as of Thanksgiving, with a good meal on the first day of the year symbolizing that there will be plenty throughout the days ahead. The New Year's day banquet differs as one travels around the world. An important dish among the Spaniards is sopa, rice cooked with olive oil, tomatoes, vegetables and meat particles. Africans partake of cous-cous, which is composed of wheat grains, lamb and vegetables. Pickled greens, raw fish, roast bird and shrimp fritters are menu headliners in Japan, with pickled chrysanthemum petals considered a special delicacy. The Swedes temper their feasts with a special drink, called glogg which is a claret wine sweetened with sugar and flavored with almonds, raisins, dried orange peel, cinnamon, cloves and cardamom. It is usually set afire before serving. Feasts in England and Western Europe are similar to our American menus, chief difference being in the choice of side dishes. Turkey, duck or goose make the popular roast in England and in France. Latin countries bedeck their holiday fowl with truffles, chestnuts and olives and one might find snails on the menu in France.

ROSE BOWL

The fabulous Rose Bowl game started out as a supplement to the Tournament of Roses when the first east-west game was played on January 1, 1902. Michigan beat Stanford, 49-0.
