TANEYTON'S NEW POST OFFICE

The Taneytown Post Office moved to its new location at 11 Middle Street on Tuesday, March 10, thus ending an era of 64 years in the old Burke building on Main Street. Prior to moving to the Burke building, it was located in the Eckenrode Building on the square. A brief synopsis of the Post Office history is as follows:

Taneytown Post Office History

The Taneytown Post Office was established on February 3, 1795 in what was then Frederick County, as Carroll County was not formed until 1837. It was established in the Adam Good Tavern located on Frederick Street where the residence of Mrs. Flora Leister now stands. This tavern held the honor of lodging the "Father of our Country", General George Washington and his wife, Martha, as over-night guests on the night of July 1, 1791, on the occasion of one of their many trips to Philadelphia. Mr. Adam Good, proprietor of the Inn, was the first Postmaster of Taneytown, appointed on Feb. 3, 1795 and served in that capacity until Feb. 14, 1799. Taneytown is the oldest town in Carroll County and is located in the Northern Central section of the county on what was then one of the few main roads leading North and South, and into Pennsylvania and the Northern country. This road was known as "Monocacy Trail". In those days towns or villages were very few and far apart, therefore it is a definite fact that Taneytown served as a town of business, a voting place, and also provided postal services to a large portion of what is now the upper half of Carroll County, including parts of which is now New Windsor, Uniontown, Union Bridge and Middlebury districts. The office served such notable families as the John Ross Key family, parents of Francis Scott Key, author of our National Anthem, The Star Spangled Banner, whose birthplace "Terra Rubra" is located 5 miles Southwest of this office.

Now, ladies, as to the fashion of dress—Girls Will Be Girls at last and the waist will be just where it should be as Nature intended. Charm is truly the word this Spring—all so very feminine!

Now, believe it or not, another shoe store on Howard Street, making four in a row, just like New York. And start shortening your dresses for Spring and Summer. Whatever you do as to reading don't miss the $2,500 story in the Reader's Digest for it is surely a thriller!

The George Washington birthday sales are getting more terrific each year and there was a tremendous mob especially in Julius Gutman's where it originated in this city as other cities were having these sales long ago. Always takes Baltimore a little while to catch on to anything.

Mrs. Housewife, if you desire to start nasturiums you can do so right in the house from seeds and have them all ready for the outdoors.

And when you are making chicken salad add one small onion cut fine plus the green pepper and scrape a large carrot and stir with the finest mayonnaise—Hellman's. Your guests will ask just how you prepared it!

If you have special guests at your house and are in town be sure and stop for a wonderful steak dinner at "The Dutch Grill" on N. Eutaw St., across from Schreibers. Other places would charge $3.50. Complete dinner with that big thick juicy steak for $1.50! UmmmmmmGood!

In the "Farmer's Almanac" it states for March plenty of rain and that is the one which never misses as to the weather! Then suddenly in the end our fears will be gone for it suddenly will be S P R I N G! That is word for word in that old book!

"Rally Round The Flag," being shown at the Century is what I call lively—not a dull moment and the two stars who really are married to each other, Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman keep it racing throughout the entire picture. It is just different. And that is what the public seems to enjoy.

If you are in need of a chiropodist be sure and see the excellent "Doctor Groom's" on North Liberty Street just above Lexington. You truly will come out with H A P P Y F E T T!

Your Observer recently picked up that awful germ—virus—after three wonderful treatments—two in my home and third one in the office—I was entirely well.

IF THERE WERE NO
ADVERTISING

Some people still think that advertising represents needless economic waste. Anyone who feels this way would do well to ponder an editorial observation made by the Portland, Oregon, Journal during the recently observed Advertising Recognition Week: "Without advertisements, the cost of a single copy of a newspaper would be so high nobody could afford to buy it. And without advertising, the public would be denied the tremendous variety of entertainment, news and cultural programs offered on radio and television. It is true that the public pays for the advertising through the price of the article sold, but the mass production which advertising makes possible reduces the unit price far below what it would be without this stimulus, and advertising cost per unit is often inconsequential. For instance, advertising expenditure on a loaf of bread is less than the cost of the wrapper."

The Journal concludes that without advertising "... the nation's economy would stutter and stop." The ads create demand—and it's from the demand for goods and services that we get our living.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

From Life magazine: "Neither the Red army nor straight Marxist propaganda, with all their power, could alone have created student riots in Venezuela, frustrated the parliamentary system of Italy, won an election in the most literate state in India (Kerala), retained key footholds in the British and American labor movements, ridden the street whirlwinds of Baghdad to the edge of power, dazed the opening mind of Africa, or poisoned strategic corners of press and university opinion from Paris to Tokyo. These are organizational successes, the fruit of long and rigorous training of dedicated individuals in a conspiratorial technique."

Nuclear fuel costs for the initial operation of four large-scale nuclear power plants to be completed in the early 1960's, will probably be less than half the first-core fuel cost of the plant at Shippingport, Pa., which went into operation late last year as the world's first fullscale atomic power devoted exclusively to peacetime uses.

Senator Javits, of New York, has introduced a bill to assure that tax relief granted by states and municipalities to railroads operating commuter services at a loss would directly benefit the railroads and not be absorbed by increasing federal taxes. This must be done, he said: "If Congress is to meet its responsibility toward solving the current national crisis in railroad passenger service."

Last year total cash dividends paid on common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange came to $8,711,482,860. This was the second highest figure on record, and was but one percent below the all-time high established in 1957.

Dun and Bradstreet observes: "95% of all failures in business are from the ranks of non-advertisers. Only 5% of those who fail are advertisers."

What's a young man's chance of being drafted today? According to U. S. News and World Report, currently 7 out of 10 put in some military service before they become 26. No one above 25 is now being called.

The Great Falls, Montana, Tribune, says that about one in six employed Americans—more than ever before—have government jobs and the trend is still upward. Something like 11 million people are paid with tax dollars from one unit of government or another. Since the turn of the century, the paper adds, non-government employment has increased 100%—and government employment 660%.

According to the American Medical Association News, there were 3,505,000 births in this country during the first 10 months of last year—1.3% fewer than in the same months of 1957. There were 1,203,000 marriages—also slightly less than in the corresponding 1957 period.

Editor Ralph McGill of The Atlanta Constitution writes: "It is very difficult for a senator to move from the Senate to the White House. In all history, only one, Warren Harding, has made it. Vice presidents have a difficult time, too. Only one has made the direct transfer—Van Buren."

"Governors have the best chance. Especially one who is out of the controversial national issues."

A Bumper Toy Crop Offers Good Pickin's

I never saw so many new toys as have cropped up this year. While scouting around, I picked what I think are the best values for $6.00 and under.

But first, I want to point out that in selecting toys as gifts, there are three categories to consider:

1) Toys that call for action on the part of the child—such as imitative and sports toys, board games, building sets, coloring and hobby, doctor and nurse kits. These are called "growing-up" or "learning" toys because their purpose is to help develop children mentally, physically and emotionally.

2) Toys that act or play by themselves such as mechanical toys, music boxes, wind-up and pop-up figures. These are called "novelty toys" as their purpose is mainly to amuse.

3) Cuddly toys such as dolls and stuffed animals. These are little friends and companions to children, and their purpose is to provide an outlet for emotional expression.

All three categories are necessary to a child but the first group is more important to his growth and curiosity about adult life. I am therefore concentrating here on Group 1.

Starting with pre-school toys, a good pickin' is a complete learning unit—"Tak-A-Peg Deskeete". It has an alphabetized blackboard lid which covers wooden pegs, hammer and pegboard for pounding fun. Attached to it is a perfectly balanced straddle seat with safety lock and comfortable leg room.

For mental stimulation—ages 6 to 12—I suggest adventure games such as "Disneyland"; "Dragnet"; "Rin Tin Tin"; "Gray Ghost" and "Wyatt Earp". An especially good game is "Around the World in 80 Days".

You can also build up a youngster's IQ with the new picture size. Good for anyone aged from 10 to 80.

The best values I could find for all-family gifts were the "Bingo-Matic Bingo Game", and the "52 Variety Game Chest" which contains a different game for every week in the year.

If you want more information on these or other toys, write to The Toy Scout, 200 Fifth Ave., New York 10.

(A Voice from Carroll)

We cannot understand why some parents resent school teachers disciplining their children even if the teachers resort to the old fashioned woodshed methods. Not to many years back parents warned their children that if the teachers found it necessary to use a paddle on them that they could expect the same when they returned home in the evening. This quiet understanding between parent and teacher produced some pretty good results. Between school and home, children knew they had to toe the mark and they did so. Last week there was a picture of some mothers demanding that the head of a school resign because he had used a paddle on their sons. One look at the mothers and one could pretty well figure out why the sons needed the paddle. They were the type that never said "no" to their sons wants and never expected anyone else to say "no" to them. If teachers are not given the authority to punish their students and uphold in this authority by the parents then public schools may just as well be abolished. For any teacher who is denied the right to discipline unruly students effectively, is at the mercy of troublemakers. There are a few in every class who want to show off by breaking rules and antagonizing other members in the class. Unless the teacher can deal with these few realistically and drastically the entire class would suffer. There should be a return to the idea that the schoolroom belongs to the teacher. If parents really want to help their children then they should give them some old-fashioned discipline at home then maybe the teachers wouldn't find it necessary to use it in the classroom.

The Easter Seal campaign is underway in Carroll county with Fred Wehrenberg of Westminster serving as chairman. He will direct teams of volunteers who will work through Easter Sunday, March 29, to raise funds for maintaining and expanding services at the Easter Seal center in Frederick for crippled children and adults. Mr. Wehrenberg is known for his many civic interests and in accepting the campaign chairmanship he said: "I made my decision after learning and verifying two important points. One, that our community still has many handicapped children and adults who could be helped by rehabilitation services if they were available, and two that present cost of these services now necessitates limitation in the number served."

Working under Mr. Wehrenberg the following committees are striving to make the 1959 Easter Seal campaign the most important one of all: Church Bulletins Distribution committee—Willard Uhler-Hampstead, Manchester; Richard Frye-Diggs and Douglas Rhoden, Westminster; Lily Parade committee-Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Mrs. Helen Seigman, chairman; Letters of appeal to Businessmen and Civic and Service Clubs—Mrs. Jean Lepko and Mrs. Helen Seigman; Coin Container Distribution-K. ### Jesus' Trial

Lesson for March 15, 1959

THE COURT tries the prisoner, or so it is intended. Sometimes his story reverses the court's verdict. In such cases, those who look back at the trial can see that the prisoner was really trying the court. That is to say, in the eyes of posterity and (we may well believe) often of God himself, every one connected with the trial will be judged by his attitude to the prisoner; not the other way around.

Joan of Arc, for example, had Dr. Foreman a spectacular trial. She was condemned and cruelly executed, apparently to every one's approval. But today she is called a Saint. Students of her life and times feel that if any one in that grim courtroom where her death was decreed deserved to die, it was not she, but some who betrayed her, some who judged her.

The Judge's Question

Jesus' trial before Pilate is the supreme example of such an upside-down trial. If any one had asked the governor that evening how he thought history would rank him and his young prisoner of that morning, he would have smiled his grim Roman smile and perhaps said, "Hmph! History will not be interested. But if history wants to know, it's on the record. I had the man executed. That settles it, doesn't it?" Pilate could not have known that his own sole claim to fame would be the fact that every seven days, all over the world, in hundreds of languages, men and women would repeat the words almost like a curse . . . "and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord, who . . . suffered under Pontius Pilate."

In the course of that wicked farce of a trial, Pilate asked a question which has more echoes than he guessed: "Then what shall I do with Jesus?" That is the question by which the participants in that trial were judged; it is the question that judges us today. What will you do with Jesus?

The Mob's Answer

Pilate asked the wrong people what to do with Jesus. He was the judge, he had the responsibility. He never would have thought of asking a Jewish mob for advice on statesmanship or anything else. Yet he goes through the bitter farce of asking a mob, a brainless bloodthirsty mob, what to do with this innocent prisoner. The crowd thought they were passing sentence; but they were only passing sentence on themselves. The voice of the people is not the verdict of history, it is not the voice of truth nor the voice of God. Sometimes it is; but not there and then, not in Jerusalem. Mobs have voices, they have wills, they may have weapons; the one thing they do not have is brains, judgment, wisdom. The verdict of history, verdict of God, is seldom in favor of the mob.

The Fact-Finders

Of course, even a mob's voice has some brains behind it. In this case it was that dignified combination of chief priests and elders and scribes. These were Pilate's fact-finders. Pilate was a typical Roman; he cared less than nothing for local customs, superstitions, notions. He did not pretend to understand why this Jesus should be the object of so much hate. When Pilate said, "What evil has he done?" it is very possible that he was not "stalling for time" but really was puzzled to know. The scribes and the elders and the chief priests were his fact-finders, his research team when cases came up out of their courts—and such occasions were rare. If some inquiring reporter has asked some of those chief priests, the afternoon of Good Friday, what part they had in the trial, they would perhaps have said with pride, "We were there. We influenced the result. We were consulted. We gave the advice that changed the governor's mind. That Jesus might have been at large this minute, if it had not been for us."

But is was murder all the same. For these fact-finders had no facts. All they had was prejudice, emotion, name-calling. They influenced the result; but not with truth. Can we say we are never guilty of their crime?

THE BOOK OF BOOKS—THE BIBLE

Read your Bible—(we know it is true!) Every word in it is intended for you; It tells about God; and, of His great plan To make of you a perfect woman or man.

God sent Jesus to earth to show us the way We all must be in the endless day; So, give Him first place in all you do; To Him and your neighbors always be true.

Many wonderful things in the Bible I see, (Its pages tell about God, you and me), It seems to have been written only yesterday; But, it took 1600 years to write it, they say.

It is the torch God sent to light the way Through the jungles of time to the endless day; At every turn God's face you can see; And, Jesus whispers: "Come, follow me."

God is the author of the book, they say— (That is why we all love it so much today) It tells to all peoples about the real you; For, like Him, God wants us to be and do.

Much of the Bible is in code, they say, (Because, to teach us, that is God's way); Jesus, too, used parables when He was here In order to make what He said more clear.

Primitive man was not as bright as men are today— (That is why so many sayings are in code, they say); But, even today, there is no better way To learn about God, some writers say.

The code language is beautiful, many say, When we learn to know God; and, go His way; The sun weaves God's Word, the moon His law; So, it is perfect, without a flaw.

Your body it calls a house, the Scriptures say; Your arms, its keeper, protects it from day to day; Clouds mean trouble; rain means truth, they say; "It is easy to learn, when we go God's way."

God knew how critics would rise up to day; So, He put it in code to deceive them, some say; But, it is really a chart to guide you and me On our journey from time to eternity.

For many years, some writers now say, Those who read it have gone God's way; Christ is the Great Shepherd, the Scriptures say Who is leading His flock to the endless day.

King David was a shepherd boy, they say; And the 23rd Psalm pictures God the same way; In it, God is the shepherd, David the sheep, they say To show how God watches night and day.

"The Lord is my Shepherd" said David one day When he compared men to sheep which go astray. He thought of himself, and, how God pampers all, No matter how great—no matter how small.

So, learn to know God; and to others tell What joy it is with Him to dwell; "He maketh thee to lie down in green pastures, each day Beside still waters as you wend your way."

He restoreth the souls who daily go His way— (Who walk in the paths of righteousness, they say), And, just for His name's sake, the Scriptures say, He makes earth a heaven when we go His way.

"Thy rod and thy staff, said David, comfort me", On my journey from time to eternity; And, a gorgeous table for all those is spread Who flee from Satan, and, by Thee are led.

The sheep all know the shepherd's voice, they say; So, they cuddle near him, at close of day; And, just so, we all, to God, should flee; For, He is leading us all to eternity.

Said David: "He anointeth me with oil" at the close of day To heal the bruises I get on the way; Surely goodness shall follow me all my life; For, where God is, there is no turmoil or strife.

The "Valley of Death" hath no terror for me— (The cemetery is only a transfer station to eternity); We all have gone through it before;

And, we shall go to it many times more.

Until man is perfect he don't know the way Which leads from time to eternity, they say; So God sends him back to try again, And to mingle with his fellowmen.

Here is another truth we all should know; God gave us the Bible to show us how to go; He is making great preparations for mortal man; So, learn to know Him, and follow His plan.

I once wrote: "A single lifespan too short would be To emulate God, and prepare for eternity; So, back to earth we all must return; For, eternal life we all must earn."

The resurrection of the body shall not take place In a dead body of any race; In a living body one must surely be To prepare to be with God in eternity.

Jesus was the pattern God gave to man— (So, for us to be like Jesus is God's plan); And, when man is perfect, you shall see The kind of creature God wants him to be.

The tree which stands in the storm cloud's path Must train its roots to encounter its wrath; Man, too, must prepare in every way

To weather the storms of a thousand year day.

JOY before EASTER

Does your joy depend on the absence of trouble? Do you say, "If only . . . , then I could be happy?" Then Lent is for you.

Lent brings joy to men in the midst of trouble by telling of the suffering of Jesus Christ. The Scripture says Jesus Himself found joy in His suffering. "Who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of God." Because His death would bring forgiveness to men, Jesus moved triumphantly through the agonies of His crucifixion.

Use the church in these days of Lent. Hear how God assures you of blessing through His Son. When you accept the love God shows you through the gift of the Savior, you will know the triumph that shouts, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" Nothing can separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus!

Easter proves this. Trouble—even death—could not defeat Jesus Christ. He rose triumphantly from the grave!

Don't wait until Easter. Find your joy this Lent. Lutheran churches urge you to share heaven's joy before Easter!

New Fashion in Easter Desserts

Here's a luscious and low-calorie dessert, sure to win honors in this year's Easter fashion parade of foods. A creamy and rich-tasting rice dessert ring, delicately flavored with orange, is the basis for this Easter basket beauty. Unmold the rice ring on a pretty platter, fill the center with first-of-the-season strawberries and orange slices . . . then await the compliments!

As streamlined as the new spring fashion silhouette, this lovely dessert boasts of just 104 calories per serving. Secret of its low-calorie success is that the rice ring has been sweetened with Sucaryl, the non-caloric sweetener, rather than with sugar. As a result, more than one-third of the normal calorie content has been slashed away.

Serve this sweet and low-calorie dessert as an Easter treat, or whenever your menu needs a refreshing lift. It looks and tastes like a breath of Spring!

CREAMY ORANGE-RICE MOLD

(A delicious low-calorie dessert)

2 tablespoons (or envelopes) unflavored gelatin	1/4 cup nonfat dry milk
	1/4 cup ice water

Combine dry milk and ice water; beat on high speed of mixer until of consistency of whipped cream. Fold into rice mixture. Spoon into an 8-inch ring mold and chill until set. Unmold and fill center of ring with berries and orange sections, if desired.

Paying Bills Need Be a Chore No More

FARMERS . . . why make long trips to town to pay bills? Why run the risk of loss of cash? Why not open a checking account with us and pay by check? It saves so much time to merely mail a check. And this gives you more time for your "money-making chores."

I like shorthand speed...
in my personal "bookkeeping," too!

That's one reason why I like my checking account: It takes so little time to fill in a checkbook stub — and have a clear-cut record of any expenditure. And I spend no time at all looking for receipts—my cancelled checks, automatically returned, answer the purpose!

Why not open your time-saving checking account with us, this month?

NEW POST OFFICE

Service was not established until 1794. Early in the 1800's a stage line carrying mail and passengers was in operation daily from Baltimore to Emmitsburg, via Westminster and Taneytown. There are no available records as to the date of the beginning or ending of this line, but it most likely continued as a mail line until 1861 or later at which time the Western Maryland Railroad was built from Baltimore to Westminster. The first Railroad service to Taneytown was not until 1872 at which time the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad was completed to Littlestown which connects with the present Penna. R.R. This line became known as the "Lancaster & Frederick Division" of the Penna. RR, and mail service continued via this route until August 14, 1948 when the line was discontinued. In addition mail was also received from the Western Maryland R.R. known as the Balt. & Cumb. Div. at Middleburg and Keymar. Mail was conveyed from these points to Taneytown via horse and wagon during the early part of the 20th century. After discontinuance of the trains, Taneytown's mail was supplied and dispatched via star routes (trucks) from York, Hagerstown, Frederick and Baltimore. On January 17, 1949 Taneytown received its first Highway Postal Office (HPO) replacing the train. This run operating daily between Lancaster and Washington became known as the "Lane & Wash" and is still in operation with its terminus at York. Additional mail service came to Taneytown on August 20, 1955 when the Balt. & Martins HPO was inaugurated. Daily operation of the two HPO lines together with star route services provides Taneytown and community with exceptionally good mail service.
