HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a three hour measure of education development and college aptitude, will be given at T.H. on Tuesday, April 28 at 9:00 to fourteen students. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

The test results will be reported to all participating schools before the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors and their class advisors. Each student will receive a six-page folder for charting his overall performances as well as his scores on the sub-test. The student will thus be able to compare his educational development with one-half million high school students across the nation.

The scores may also be used to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses to follow.

The names of all finalists will be sent to colleges and universities and other scholarship organizations throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awarded directly by colleges and other organizations.

The Science Fair will be held in the school auditorium on April 24 and 25. It will be open to the public on Friday from 6 to 9 p. m., on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m., and on Saturday evening from 6 to 9 p. m. ## ST. LUKE'S CHURCH HOLDS DEDICATION

Religious Services Presented Sunday, April 19

Landmark Lutheran Church continues its 183rd year in the ministry. St. Luke's (Winters) Lutheran Church, New Windsor, was crowded into overflowing on Sunday, April 19 during the 2:30 p. m. Dedication Service. Members, friends and visitors heard the Rev. Carroll Boyer, President of Western Conference, United Lutheran Synod of Maryland and Pastor of Good Shepherd Church, Frederick, call for the sanctified use of the new Saint Luke Parish Hall. A double choir from both sides of the Chancel led the congregation in worship. Mrs. Winfield Burkholder, accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Lightner, sang, "How Great Thou Art". The Liturgy was conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Callahan.

Following the church service, the congregation proceeded while singing, into the adjoining hall for dedication. There against a choral background of the old hymn, "I Love Thy Zion, Lord", they heard the pastor pray for God's blessing and counsel in the work and fruits of the new building.

Informality was the theme of the reception after these sacred observances. Noteworthy guests were Pastors Falkenstein, Grace Lutheran Church, Westminster; Rev. Jennings, and the assistant to the Rev. from Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown. Also attending in uniform were members of the Union Bridge Fire Co., and a delegation from the Union Bridge Literary Club.

The St. Luke's Cross, four feet emblem of early christianity and bearing the symbol of Luke the Physician drew numerous favorable comments. Prepared by members of the Roscoe Frock family and presented as a memorial to the late Miss Pauline Fuss by members of the Literary Club, Union Bridge, the cross dominates the main assembly room of the new hall.

Also noticeable was the recently restored church light that stands at the outside corner of St. Luke's church and brightens the walk into the parish hall. Discovered beneath the landmark church during recent excavation, it has been raised up from its place of rest since the Civil War and again pressed into service for the church of tomorrow.

Erected at cost of $36,000 by Donald Six and Company the edifice boasts provisions for 300 people, zoned heating, recreational facilities in the full basement, broad-pane windows to carry the 'outdoors in', unusually simple and natural woodwork interior finishing, harmony colored drapes, created to match the stone block walls by the United Lutheran Church Women of the congregation and an invitation to area residents to use the windows as memorials, wherein rural symbols of the Bible are to be painted.

County residents are cordially invited to inspect this newest addition to the St. Luke's (Winters) church ministry. Arrangements for use of the building may be made through the property chairman, Mr. Glenn B. Welker, McKinstry Mills, Md.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

There was quite a crowd at the Museum for the two day Annual Daffodil Show presented by The Maryland Daffodil Society in Cooperation with the Baltimore Museum of Art. There were truly "Flower Lovers" right there and all the arrangements were lovely graced high upon Pedestals each a character of its own.

One that caught the eye was the second one on the left which was just a very old glass bowl (not antique)—the kind one uses for fruit—a few years ago perched upon three legged old silver decorative piece. It was filled with all colorful flowers and those containers did not detract from the flowers as sometimes the holders do. There were Snap-Dragnons, Tulips of yellow, and white, roses of every color in a very special English Milk glass bowl which was held up by three most artistic figures.

The Mt. Washington Garden Club produced a most fetching Japanese Garden which was fascinating. There was the colorful blue water in the artistic shaped pool, flowers in between the rock garden, a special large ornament from Japan. This delighted all those browsing around in that grand show. There was one exhibition with the orchid colored bowl with handles which held the pink tinted Daffodils. That was filled with simplicity and beauty to every detail.

That reminds me, hope you did not miss the Cherry Blossom Washington parade on T.V. which was a very long affair. Miss America was right there with that same fascinating smile. And as for Cherry Blossoms—now we have lovely ones right in our own Druid Hill Park. As to the Parade never have I seen so many M A J O R E T E S ! WOW ! Eh?

Now, believe it or not one does not have to ask the operator for a long distance number for they call it D D D—"DIRECT DISTANCE CALLING !" Wonderful—and what next?

The sales for the tickets for The Harpers Ferry Trip were completely sold out and it was such a success as to the sales and the sights that another one is scheduled for May 3. The trains leave at the B & O Mt. Royal Station exactly at 10:30 May, Sunday 3rd. Tickets for adults are $6.00 round trip and children half fare. Lunch will be served in boxes if you do not desire to carry your own lunch from home. You arrive back at 5 in the evening. Try to plan that one if possible. How wonderful it will be to gaze upon the restoration of that Ghost Town!

Such a beautiful letter arrived from the White House from that grand President of these United States. Another to add to my famous collection.

How sorry and distressed everyone is over the condition of dear Mr. Dulles. Somehow, I thought that brilliant Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge would be selected.

Folks, have you seen the cutlery by "Cutco"? It truly is magnificent. The handles are made of the same material as a billiard ball. There are bread knives, paring knives, steak knives, carving knives and much else. Ask for that make the next time you go into the Hardware store. They may be sold to the buyer direct in a complete set. They are simply top o s and will last from generation to generation! Your Observer saw the complete set owned by a future bride. There truly is nothing to compare. They are made by the Wear-Ever Company but as for Pots and Pans, Your Observer prefers—S T E E L—those I possess appear as lovely as the day of the purchase which are called, "Magna-lite" Wagner Ware from Sidney sold at Hochschild Kohn Co. They truly equal to our Grandmother's pots and pans—most durable and also the handles are beautiful.

Will be seeing the Ball Game today—first time for many years and that through an invitation. Hope to be writing of The Taurus Sign next week D.V. in my next Column—the sign from April 20 to May 20 inclusive.

Have a grand week end, folks. Be so careful when you drive. The country side is so beautiful at this time of the year. And don't forget to keep that date of the 13 of May open at the Monument for "The Flower Mart!"

I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.

FIGHTING EVERYBODY'S BATTLE

No one is the victim of more loose talk than the farmer.

If you listen to one group you may be convinced that he is an abused, down-trodden second-class citizen whose day is done - unless and until he is rescued by something called Socialism that was a flop in America 350 years ago. And in the view of others he's the robber-baron of the space-age.

The great American farmer (and he is great as is demonstrated by the fact that he is the world's most efficient producer) is merely an upstanding citizen who likes living on the land and enjoys his elbow-room and a larger measure of independence than his fellows in town. He'd rather have a root-cellar and shelves loaded with preserves than a delicatessen on the corner. But he is no isolationist since he understands full well his country's position of leadership in the free world.

As exemplified by the more than a million-and-a-half farmers and their families who are members of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the farmer, is as anxious as anyone to see the end of crop surpluses and to see subsidies reduced to the level of emergency allowances. He has made it clear through statements of Farm Bureau leaders that he is ready and willing to bear his share of the adjustments that must be made and will continue to press Congress for legislation that will ultimately free production allotments and Government controls in general.

Unless Congressmen know it now, they will have to learn the hard way that the farmer believes as firmly in the law of supply and demand as in the laws of Nature that cause seeds to sprout and flourish - or to wither and die; and that he is up in arms over inflation - which has caught him (as well as the rest of us) in that price-cost squeeze - and demanding a balanced Federal budget as the first and foremost roadblock. He wants no lavish spending on such programs as artificial respiration for "depressed areas", urban renewal, public housing and fancy terminal buildings for airports.

Farm belt legislators should know from their Easter visit home - as well as from their mail - the farmer's concern over inflation, and further spending of what we haven't got. But we "city folks" shouldn't leave the fight to the farmer. We should all pitch in - with letters to Washington.

The Washington Post says editorially: "We think that organized labor itself is making a serious mistake in resisting reasonable curbs on the use of picketing and secondary boycotts...."

"If public hostility to gangsterism under the guise of picketing and collective bargaining is allowed to mount with nothing being done to check the abuses, the outcome may be legislation far more severe than any of the restrictions now suggested. It is time for statesmanship in the field of labor—statesmanship that will move vigorously against the evils committed in the name of labor in order to save the good fruits of unionism."

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

County Commissioner, J. S. Fink, attended the state meeting of County Commissioners, in Baltimore on Wednesday.

The Moving Picture man has changed his entertainment to Wednesday night instead of Saturday night.

Miss Agnes Arnold returned on Monday from a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. J. Gallery of Washington.

Mr. William Galle, of Frizellburg, was a visitor at John E. Buffington's the first of the week. Mr. Galle, years ago was a Taneytown store clerk, yet remembered by many.

Harney.—Mr. Harry Wolf, of Colorado, and family and Mr. Luther Shriver of the same state arrived here last Friday evening. Mr. Wolf has commenced work on his new store room. Our carpenters have started work on Mr. D. F. Kephart's barn. Mr. J. A. Bishop, the old veteran barn builder, is foreman of the gang.

Hotel Stable Fire in Taneytown.—

On Saturday afternoon Taneytown received about the greatest fire scare in its history, due to the burning of the large frame stable connected with Hotel Bankard. For a time it looked as though the building occupied by S. W. Plank as a meat market, must go, which would likely have meant the destruction of a large section of the town. Fortunately, the well directed work of the firemen confined the fire to the stable. The Plank building was blazing, and the postoffice and dwelling-adjointing was blistered and smoking, but the stable fire was controlled just in time to save them. On the opposite side of the street the shingle roofed buildings occupied by Elliot's Hotel, J. S. Bower's hardware, and Sponseller & Otto's confectionery, Chas. E. H. Shriver's dwelling and John J. Reid's but all were saved by the use of water, practically without damage.

Garner-Gilbert.—At the residence of the bride's uncle, Rev. S. C. Stone-sifer, Harrisburg, Pa., April 19, 1909, Mr. Jesse P. Garner, of Linwood, Md. of the firm of Garner Bros., Owings Mills, Secretary of the Carroll Co. Savings Bank of Uniontown, Md., and Miss Eva E. Gilbert of Uniontown, Md., daughter of the late Edwin G. Gilbert were married.

BOWLING

The Cambridge Rubber Company Mixed Bowling League finished their season of bowling Saturday, April 4, 1959.

The strong "Flames" team beat all opposition to take first place with 61 wins and 20 losses for a team average of 489.4.

Each bowler knowing this was the last night set their sights on some of the individual prize positions. In the second game, Lillie Baker with a life time high game of 145 nosed out Louise Abrecht's 136 to take high single game for women for the season. The mens high season single game of 154 which is held by Max Price, was almost upset by Jim Storey who bowled the highest game of his life, a nice 153. In the third game Vivian Maine kept the ball on the alley and shot a life time high game of 116 to help her team "The Steppers" take three games from the "Targets."

This seasons high single three game set of 360 was held by Louise Abrecht with Jack Myers taking the mens with a 397 set. Although threatened during the season, they were never equaled. High individual season's averages are held by Louise Abrecht with 99.44 for women and by Roger Blettner with 111.70 for men.

The annual bowling banquet will be held at the Veterans hall in Westminster on Saturday, April 25, 1959 at 6:30 p. m.

A Man Rises

Lesson for April 26, 1959

(Note to the reader: If you attend Sunday school, you may use a "quarterly" or other book which prints a certain passage of Scripture as the lesson. These printed passages are always taken from the larger amount of Bible material which is referred to at the head of this page. This column is not confined to the printed verses, but is based in general on the whole material, or some part of it which may not be in the printed section. The reader is always invited to read the entire Bible material and not the necessarily small amount which may be printed in the quarterly or used here.)

Dr. Foreman

Success Begins Within

Among the successful men of history, David the king of Israel takes a high rank. There are always reasons outside a man who succeeds, helping his success. Would Abraham Lincoln have achieved his peak of greatness had he lived in 17th-century England or in 20th century America? Would John Calvin have the same world-wide influence as pastor of any modern Presbyterian church as he had in the Geneva of the sixteenth century? Would David have made a good President of the United States? The answer in each case is No.

Nevertheless, circumstances only help on what is already there. A man without the seeds of success in him is not going to be pushed to a high pinnacle of glory merely because the times are calling for a great man. Thus to find the secret of David's success, as with all other great persons, we must look within.

I Samuel 13 brings out the fact of David's tremendous popularity when it was at its peak. Everybody loved David excepting King Saul, who was mad with jealousy. And no wonder. It would have taken a better man than Saul not to be jealous. The king's own son Jonathan loved David "as his own soul." He gave David his crown prince's robe, his armor, even his sword and his bow and arrows. The soldiers loved David, because with him for a leader they always won their battles. The people loved him; he was a popular hero, nothing was too good for him. The women loved him and sang songs about him, what a killer he was. Furthermore, God was with him; and so he succeeded in everything he did.

We have the record (I Sam. 16: 18) of how the young man David looked to another young man, perhaps about his age. The king was looking for a lyre-player, a lyre being a small harp held in the hand. The young man who gave David the recommendation that got him the job, saw a great deal more in him than simply a country musician. He mentions David's family first of all; and from what we know of it (see the book of Ruth) it was a very solid country family from generations back. Then he speaks of his high musical ability, but goes right on to other good points.

A Good Personality Has Many Sides

The young man recommending David proceeds to say that he is a "man of war." This may have been an exaggeration, in the light of all the rest of the story. Or maybe the young man meant to say, "If you ever need a fighting man, just call on David." David was the rugged character we associate with the good soldier. We have his own word for it that he had killed lions and bears with his own hands ("caught him by the beard," he said). But David was smooth as well as rugged. His friends call him "prudent in speech"—which is more than can be said of all young people. But the climax of the recommendation was: "The Lord is with him." God is always invisible; yet this young man was impressed by a fact which he could not "see" at all: the fact that David was never alone. God was always with him. A person who makes that kind of impression, and is really that kind of person, has a greater certainty of success than if he were endorsed by a President.
