GUIDE POSTS

Shortly before the end of the year, Senator Byrd of Virginia made a speech in Chicago in which he urged a number of essential steps this country must take. He pledged his support to them to the fullest extent of his "capacity and energy."

Three of this distinguished Senator's "musts" are: "I. Stopping expenditures in excess of our income by eliminating nonessential spending.

"2. Reducing the federal debt; this would be a great deterrent to inflation for the present and lift some of the burden we are loading on generations of the future.

"3. Curbing the excess indulged in by labor leaders, without destroying the right of collective bargaining."

In this, Senator Byrd has clearly laid out guide posts for the future which must be followed if we are to remain a strong, solvent and stable country-and if free and representative government is to be perpetuated in the United States.

Fur Beauty Brush

DID YOU KNOW that there are over 300 types of brushes for every beauty and . for every grooming use . member of the family?

The romance of brushcraft is told in a new book by Doris Woodall, a leading authority and director for many years of Kent of London, brushmakers to royalty for 183 years.

Brushcraft calls for expert skills, which are passed down through generations. Newest examples of this skill: a brush for furs, one for Cashmere-care and one for thinning hair, called the Diplomat.

Miss Woodall throws interesting sidelights on the consearch for the finest materials - from India to the Antarctic. The book's colorful anecdotes include one about an American soldier whose hair brush survived fire, flood and two wars, and another about a brush that lasted through 70 years of daily use!

From 1777 when William Kent, the founder, delivered brushes on packhorses, to the present, when Kent brushes are proudly used in 56 countries, Kent of London brushes have played a big part in keeping men and women well-groomed.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

A meeting will be held in Taney-town, next Tuesday, to discuss the question of bonding the county for the purpose of inaugurating an extensive plan of road improvement, and it should be attended by those who oppose, as well as by those who favor, such action.

Eline-Kuhns.—A quiet but pretty wedding took place in St. Joseph's church, Taneytown, on Wednesday, Jan. 26, at 7 o'clock Mass, at which Rev. B. J. Lennon, officated. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles T. Eline of Littlestown and Miss Kathrine V. Kuhns, formerly of Taneyrine V. Kuhns, formerly of Taneytown. Miss Katherine White acted as bridesmaid and Mr. F. H. Kuhns, brother of the bride, as best man. The Wedding March was played by Miss Gertrude Gardner.

Strawsburg-Houck.—On Jan. 26, 1910 at the Reformed parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Mr. Roland Strawsburg and Miss Katie Houck were married.

Prices in San Francisco.—Balti-moreans who have been driver to abstain from favorite foods either from necessity only as a protest against the prices may find conso-lation in the burdens of the people of San Francisco, as related in a letter from Mr. Harry J. Lask to former State Senator James Young. The part of the letter referring to prices follows: While we are supposed to have an abudance of everything here, still trusts and compacts keep edibles very high and tons of all kinds of foodstuffs are dumped into the bay or sent to the crematory if the prices cannot be obtained. Imagine with a bay and ocean full of fish for that product to be $17\frac{1}{2}$ to 20c a pound; Meat 22 cents, coal (not anthracite) \$16 short ton, butter 45 cents a pound and eggs 70 cents a dozens. It takes money now to live and prices are going higher.

1950 Homes May Need Modernizing

The year 1960 is the 10th anniversary of the biggest homebuilding year in American history. More than 1,350,000 houses were built in the U. S. during 1950—the peak year of the postwar construction boom

This means that soon these 1,350,000 homes will be 10 years old, ready to start their second decade of service.

If you are living in one of these 1950 houses, chances are you've been thinking seriously of expanding to add space or making improvements to bring the house up to date. New Roof Beautifies

Fortunately, most homes of this age can be modernized quickly and without undue expense, thanks to today's improved building materials and construction techniques.

If additional space isn't a requirement, such decorative improvements as a new roof of provements as a new roof of asphalt shingles, fresh paint inside and out, and a new kitchen appliance or two can give any house a new lease on life.

Color Adds 'Personality'
Many houses can be given a new personality with color alone. A new roof in one of the many colors available in asphalt shincolors available in asphalt shingles, plus a color scheme on sidewalls and trim to harmonize with the roof, can completely renew the appearance of any home, as well as add protection from weather.

When a family has outgrown a house, adding one or more rooms, or enclosing a porch, breezeway, or carport is a logical solution.

Costs Can Be Low

Costs Can Be Low Many home owners have discovered that adding new space costs less than they imagined. One reason for this is that many building materials available today are designed to be installed by the most inexperienced. by even the most inexperienced home handyman, Batts and blankets of mineral wool insulation, for example, can be installed by the home can be installed by the home handyman in walls and ceilings during construction of the new room. This added protection against heat loss often makes any additional heating equipment unnecessary. The home owner also can increase insulation protection in the attic ceiling with pouring wool that comes in bags.

Units Save Labor

Door and window units of ponderosa pine also help save costs. These come from the factory with frames and sash preassembled, ready to be nailed into the door or window opening. These units come in styles ing. These units come in styles to blend with any type of architecture and can be painted or stained to harmonize with any color scheme.

HOW AMERICANS INVEST ON A BUDGET

When the New York Stock Exchange recently reported that about half of America's 12.5 million shareowners are in the middle-income ranges, this fact pointed to one inescapable conclusion — Wall Street has indeed come to Main Street.

There are many ties between the two streets, of course. But a significant symbol linking them into a thoroughfare stretchand breadth of the nation is late a stake in American industry for as little as $40.00 every three months, and why not? The Stock Exchange and its Member Firms developed the Monthly Investment Plan, almost six years are with just one end years ago, with just one end in view — to put stock owner-ship, with its risks and re-wards, within easy and prac-tical range of people every-

Since early in 1954 thousands and thousands of housewives, factory workers, accountants, salesmen and farmers and at least one professional beer-taster have invested over $135,-000,000 in three and a-halfmillion shares of common stocks through the Monthly Investment Plan. Some of them want current divi-de n d income, others hope to for their children, still others are building a nest egg for their eventual retirement, or are anxious to provide a hedge agging inflation.

In the old, pre-MIP days, people usually would save up hundreds or thousands of dollars before investing in particularly those sel ling at higher prices. The Monthly Investment Plan, however, enables you to invest on a budget basis for as little as $40 every three months, which comes to 45 cents a day. MIP payments can also be as high as $1,000 amonth. After deducting the modest commission in-volved, our money buys shares and fra ons of shares as the odd-lot price allows. A net investment of $40 buys one share of a $40 stock, for example, or two shares of a $20 stock. But no matter where you set your sights, your dollars can buy any one of some 1,200 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange through - oils, chemicals, automobiles, rails, utilities.

the perplexing old prob-lem of exactly when to invest is removed because of the regular monthly or quarterly pay-At the same time, however, investing through MIP is not to be taken lightly. Before you start buying stocks, you should have cash savings and a reghave cash savings and a reg-ular income to protect you and your family in times of emer-gency. And you must also un-derstand that investments in-volve a certain amount of risk. Stock prices can go down as well as up. You'll lose, of course, if you sell shares at a price lower than their average

It is the job of a broker to help select securities that seem best suited to your needs. Like any businessman, the broker can only benefit by keeping the customer satisfied. In more than 600 cities throughout America, Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange are available to explain, at no cost or obligation, the many features of MIP. And they're available to help you map an investment program that meets your particular objectives.

"On The Go"

For twelve months of each year your Carroll County Chapter of the Red Cross is ON THE GO rendering its services to men in the armed forces and their dependents, to needy people when disaster strikes, whenever blood is needed for surgery - through the many hours of work of the Gray Ladies, in all these and many other ways your Red Cross is ON THE GO

"But once a Year" says Paul V.
Kuhns, the 1960 Roll call chairman,
"The Red Cross needs and must call for your services. In all past years you have responded generously when the call came and now is the time for you to do it again. Some of your time, your efforts and your talents must be joined with the efforts, time and talents of other volunteer workers".

The Red Cross is many good things because the Red Cross is you and ou and you. Now in order that the 1960 roll call can be started on time and fin-preparing this appeal to you, a young couple came in to say that their home had burned and that they and their children desperately needed help. Within a matter of minutes they were given orders for both food and clothing. As they left the office, Mrs. Helm. the Chapter's Executive Secretary remarked. "That is the second dis-three days".

Now it is your turn—offer your help to Mr. Kuhns today—Won't you please?

Farmers To Report Earnings

Self-employed farmers who report their earnings on a calendar year basis have a choice of due dates for filing their income tax returns and paying the social security tax, L. J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore North social security office

A farm operator may either file his return and pay the tax on his 1959 earnings on or before February 15, 1960; or if he has filed an estimate of his tax and paid this amount by January 15, 1960; he can then file his return and pay any balance due by April 15, 1960.

Only total earnings up to a maximum of $4,800 a year should be reported for 1959. The social security tax on 1959 self-employment is 3% percent. While the social security tax goes up to 41/2 percent on self-employment earnings on January 1, this ncrease will not affect the farm operators' report on his 1959 earnings.

The representative pointed out that ished without undue delay, please only total earnings up to a maximum offer your services to Mr. Kuhns. See him or phone him at the Westminster ample, if in addition to his net farm Trust Co. He needs you now.

Incidentally, while a volunteer from covered employment, and those worker was at the Red Cross office wages amounted to less than $4,800 in 1959, the farmer will pay the social security self-employment tax only on that part of his net farm earnings necessary to bring the total up to $4,800 for the year.

While earnings of less than $400 in a year should not be reported, a selfemployed farmer may report and pay the social security tax even when aster call we have had in the last the second distance call we have had in the last three days".

Now it is your turn—offer your farming is $1,800 or less, the farmer may count as his earnings from farm-ing either his actual net or two-thirds of his gross If his gross farm earnings are more than $1,800 and his net is less than $1,200, he may report either his actual net or $1,200. However, if his gross form income is more than $1,800 and his net is $1,200 or more, he must report his actual net earnings.

Mr. Gillespie said that the optional method applies whether the farmer's actual net earnings are $400 or more less than $400, or even if he has an operating loss for the year. He pointed out, however, that the optional method applies only to earnings from farming and cannot be used in figur-ing any earnings the farmer may have from nonfarm self-employment.

A silage and grain bunk—as important to your cows as the kitchen table to your familymakes a good spare-time project. It affords cows a convenient feeding trough that's neater and easier to service than the helterskelter dumping of silage against a corner fence post.

The North Central land grant colleges, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, have issued plans for a feed bunk that is easily made and quickly assembled with portable electric Grain or silage bunk is good spare-time project.

The feed bunk's overall length is 14 feet, width 3 feet 4 1/2 inches. It stands on 12-foot runners, 4 by 4 inches square, that have been pressure treated with a preservative. The trough section rests on two cross-piece cradles that are bolted and secured to the runners with angle irons.

The sides of the bunk are 2-by-10-inch pieces 14 feet long. Ends and a center partition are 2-by-10-inch stock bolted into place with 1/2-by-6-inch machine bolts. Cutting and sanding on the entire project is speeded, without any muscle effort on your part, when you use a portable electric saw and a portable electric sander. Then you can do all the necessary bolting in a jiffy with a FarmTool, an electric impact wrench whose accessories enable it to do nine other jobs besides running on nuts.

The feed bunk is a project that makes a good challenge for those teen-age youngsters in the family who are learning to handle power tools, and helps them make their feeding chores that much simpler. Helping choose the lumber and hardware needed is educational for them, too.

(A limited number of the silage and grain bunk plans are available from the Thor Research Center, Marengo, III.)

Suds Shine TV Screen!

See double? Try sudsing off your television screen.

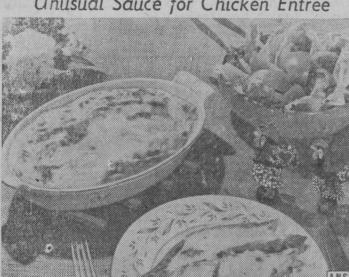

There's nothing magic about a television screen. just glass and can be treated like other glass surfaces. Wash your TV screen with a soft, lint-free cloth wrung from thick soap or detergent suds. The cloth holds enough suds to clean the surface, but there's no excess water to leak into the crevice between the screen and the case. Rub lightly in one direction to avoid streaks. Wipe with a clean damp cloth, then dry with a soft towel.

In a household with children and pets, laminated wood or plastic cabinets are best because such cases can also be washed clean with suds and water. Use your vacuum cleaner's upholstery brush to suck up the lint and dust that collect around the screen and open grillwork. If you see blurred TV images in the future, don't always blame the producers or the station. When children and pets creep up close to the set to peer at the show, they are sure to leave finger smudges and paw prints. No harm! A swish with a sudsy cloth will chase away those screen "ghosts."

Unusual Sauce for Chicken Entree

CHICKEN DIVAN MADE WITH DESSERT TOPPING! Unusual . . . yes, and delicious too. The topping adds light texture and a rich creamy flavor to the divan sauce.

The dessert topping is made from a mix that is stored on the pantry shelf indefinitely . . . and the topping after it is made up can be kept in the refrigerator 3 or 4 days with no worries of separating or weeping. The recipe here uses just one cup of prepared topping and since an envelope makes 2 cups, here's an idea for the remainder. Add 1/4 teaspoon of mint flavoring and serve it on pudding or fruit dishes for a refreshing dessert. CHICKEN DIVAN

6 2 large chicken breasts, cooked 4 tablespoons butter

Makes 3 servings.

6 tablespoons flour 1 package (10 ounces) quick- 2 cups chicken bouillon or frozen asparagus or chicken stock 4 tablespoons parmesan cheese broccoli spears 1 cup prepared Dream Whip

Cook asparagus or broccoli as directed on package. Drain.

SAUCE: Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour; blend. Gradually add bouillon or stock, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened, 5 to 10 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons of the cheese and the dessert topping. Mix well. Place the vegetable in casserole; cover with half of the sauce. Make a second layer with 'he chicken, cover with remaining sauce. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Broil until golden brown.

MOTOR MAIDS

Let's Help Cut Down

Traffic Deaths

By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

There's a special cause we women can take up this Fall. It's a project each and every one of us can do something about ourselves: Helping cut down on traffic deaths The Automotive Safety Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to education and research for safe, efficient highway transportation, has issued this bleak warning: Current outlook is that 1959 will set an all-time high in traffic deaths; exceeding the 39,969 in 1941.

What can we do about it?

Here are just a few things we women should and shouldn't do to make the streets and highways more safe:

• Don't get into an argument before getting behind the wheel of the car. At least 50 percent of all accidents are caused by drivers with emotional upsets.

 Beware of a dripping ice cream cone. Or dropping a lighted cigarette in your lap. It takes only seconds to pick it up, but it's those seconds that count.

 Don't be a nagging wife. It tends to take the driver's mind off driving, to make him more susceptible to an accident.

 Don't be a slowpoke driver. They are a highway menace, so keep pace with traffic.

 Be polite to motorists, and never take your eyes off the road while conversing and driving.

· And finally, drive defensively. Watching out for what the other driver might do can be your best driving

Forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press forward...—(Philippians 3:13.)

Maybe a leopard can't change its spots, but a man can change his ways, his whole life, for the better. Renouncing the bad of the past, he can strive for and gain the good through earnest desire and prayer. Through God's mercy, he can begin a clean, new life.

To Think Is To Share

Thanksgiving, ever since the first one in America, has been a day for giving thought as well as thanks to the blessings of freedom—spiritual freedom and economic freedom, too. And ap-preciation of good fortune carries with it the normal, human urge to share with the destitute.

This, in a nutshell, is the philosophy of "Operation Clothes Closet" to be conducted among more than 16,000 Catholic churches in the U. S. by Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference, for the eleventh consecutive year. This mammoth, nation-wide activity, which produces millions of pounds of desperately needed wearable used clothing, shoes, blankets and bedding, shoes, blankets and bedding annually for the displaced and homeless, the sick and needy, the under-nourished and despairing of 51 countries, is known as the "Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection". How this may have come about is related in a story about a Roman soldier who later became a saint. "...The word 'chapel' means clothes closet, from Latin capella. The first chapel in Christendom was a clothes closet. It was the place in France where they kept a certain famous military cape (conva)

"That cape, on a wintry road near Amien, was shared with a shivering beggar by a mounted teen-age Roman soldier. The soldier clip-clopped on into history as a Christian convert who had for charity. He became a tory as a Christian convert who lived for charity. He became a bishop of the Catholic Church, and, in time, St. Martin of Tours.

It is our idea that anyone may consecrate his own clothes closet into a chapel by ransacking it for unneeded wearables or worn but usable bedding, and leaving these things at the and leaving these things at the nearest Catholic Church during Thanksgiving week, November 22 to 29. You may be sure these comforts will go to those who need them most — in the whole

And it might be recalled that the young soldier was still a pagan when he slit his cloak.

Response

Lesson for January 31, 1960

VISITOR from America was A talking with a missionary to an Eastern country. "I read your letters," he said, "but it seems to me they are all success stories. Now that I have visited you out here I know you have a great many failure-stories. I know these have caused you a m great deal of disappointment and even tears. Why don't you put some of these failure-stories into your letters?" The missionary's reply was, "Well, the American Dr. Foreman churches don't want us to weep on their shoulders. What they want is success stories, so I give 'em what they want. But it's only half the

Some Acts, It Seems, Were Wasted

The whole Book of Acts is a kind of missionary news-letter on a large scale. But Luke, good doctor that he was, knew that an honest case-book will include the failures, the patients that died in spite of everything. The book of Acts does not give a careful reader the impression that everything was rosy in the First Century. Some acts of the apostles were fruitful of good. Other acts, it seems, were wasted, so far as visible results went.

There is nothing automatic about preaching. The same sermon will have opposite effects on different persons. This has always been so. Take the story of Saint Paul at Thessalonica, Berea and Athens. He visited those places in 1-2-3 order. He was the same Saint Paul-but what a difference in the responses he got! Thessalonica got into an uproar; he had to make a quick get-away by night. Berea was much better, he got Bible study classes going. Some imported hoodlums from Thessalonica broke up the meetings but it wasn't Berea's fault. And then we find him in Athens, ancient city named for the goddess of wisdom. But when Paul offers them the heavenly Wisdom they do not recognize it.

Is It God's Fault?

Some people think that God does not really want every one to be saved So he never tries hard to get through to the people he has no intention of saving. The "call" of God is such that it comes to some in a loud compelling sound; to others in whisper they cannot hear at all Very few people really believe this. Most Christians believe that God sent his son into the world to save the world, that God desires all mon to be saved. They dare not lay the blame for failures on God. So it is said by many that wherever a failare of the Gospel message has to be chalked up, the fault is not God's but the messenger's. The witnot given in an attractive , the minister did not speak conviction, sins in the lives inistions erect a barrier that od words for Jesus" can get over. There is much truth in this, of course. Most of us who are older can remember preachers we heard in years gone by, preachers we thought ridiculous (and maybe they were). If we are Christians nov, we thank God that finally God's message came to us by a more credible messenger than

Some Paople Mover Open Their Mail But after all, the heart of the reacon why some respond to God and some don't, is in the hearts of those who hear. Consider the difference, in these notes in Acts, between the believers and those that never believed. There were at least three points of difference. 1. Some were serious, others laughed it off. God's message, with some people, is like a registered letter marked "Deliver to addressee only." The mail man delivers it, the man knows the letter is for him-but then he tosses it into the wastebasket without opening it. He is afraid he will have to answer it. 2. Some of Paul's hearers (as in Athens) were quite willing to talk about religion, it's quite a conversation-piece. But when it came to doing something, making a decision, they lost interest. Talkers-only are not going to sit very close when God's conversation gets personal. 3. Some were humble; others too proud to listen. Isn't that the root of it?

HOLIDAY TIME IS SNACK TIME

Miniature Crab Rice Puffs are a conversation piece as well as a wonderful tasting holiday time snack. For easy entertaining, make a liberal quantity of the bite-sized cream puffs and the crab rice filling and store them separately until needed. Then it's a quick and simple matter to fill the puffs when you're ready to serve.

The cream puffs can be made from a packaged mix or, if you prefer, any good cream puff recipe. The filling is a well-seasoned salad mixture of crabmeat and rice. To give an interesting nutl-like flavor, brown rice may be used in place of white rice. Be sure to check the package directtions, as brown rice needs more water and a longer cooking time than

The decorative scheme this year

There surely were a number of young teen-aged boys right there and they appeared as interested as the adults even more so—no doubt our Master—minds of the future! Eh? Colorful large cars were standing on Oriental rugs but it seemed that the little and economical car stole the show. and economical car stole the show. The Pontiac can boast of the wider wheels than any other make car. That is a good feature. Your Observer was there for three hours! Don't miss it!

There were only two old Model cars on display—1902 Rambler and 1901 Ford. And it was fun for the "Test Drive" Just a Movie but those seated really thought they were being tested. Just a little, game!
