Girl Scout News

The fine spirit with which the public has received the annual Girl Scout Cookie sale has been very gratifying. Our Brownies and Scouts are also to be commended for the good job they have done.

Brownie Troop No. 588 met at the Trinity Lutheran Church on Wed., March 23. The meeting was devoted to work on very attractive handker-chief holders. Each holder will contain a pretty hankie. The Brownies plan to sell them at the Westminster Exposition. This event will take place on Sat. April 30th at the Westminster

Armory.

Brownie Troop No. 820 met on Wed. at the United Brethren Church.
The girls are putting the finishing touches on the attractive Octopus dolls on which they have been working. These will probably be finished Troop No. 320 met at the Chenoweth home on Wed. March 23. The meeting was devoted to work on a green plant booth for the Exposition. The Scouts had started Zinnias and Marigolds from seeds. During Wednesday's meeting the seedlings were transplanted. They will be cared for by the girls at home until the Exposition, at which time they will be offered for sale. Mr. Hewitt McPherson very generously gave of his time and material as consultant for this project.

Troop No. 1202 met at the Elementary School on Sat. morning. The Scouts worked on Exposition posters and talked about the Exposition. They also planned a trip to Philadelphia and made some camping plans. Troop No. 723 met on Friday afternoon at the United Church of Christ. The Scouts worked on posters and the early Maryland Indian exhibit.

Social Security for Farmers

"Some self-employed farm operators as well as some other self-employed people have the idea that by paying two years social security self-employment tax just before reaching retirement age (women 62, men 65) will qualify them for social security monthly payments," L. J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore (North) Social Security Administration District Office said yesterday. "While it is true that any self-employed person who reached retirement age before July 1955 may qualify for monthly social security payments if he has had two years of coverage in a trade or business covered under the social security law, it is also true that such persons reaching retirement age after that date will usually require more than two years of coverage," he said.

As an example, any self-employed individual reaching retirement age after June 1955 and before July 1961 may require from three to five years coverage depending on his date of birth. After that date he will require more than five years coverage until finally, self-employed individuals reaching age after June 1969 or later will require a minimum of at least ten years social security coverage in order to qualify for monthly pay-

Social Security coverage for self-employed individuals is not voluntary. It is compulsory under the social security law if a person nets $400 or more in a taxable year from a trade or business covered by the law. "So you'd better be safe than sorry by filing social tax returns through Director of Internal Revenue," Gillespie concluded.

1960 CENSUS BEGINS FRIDAY, APRIL 1st Grators Will Gall at Fvery STICE N EVERTIMING NICE With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth, I wish you always near so that I may heart, to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Enumerators Will Gall at Every Home for Statistics

The 1960 Census of Population and Housing, the Nation's 18th decennial nose count, gets underway on Friday morning, April 1, with 160,000 census takers starting their rounds which will take them to every dwelling unit in the United States. In covering the 3½ million square miles of land area of the 50 States, the census takers will travel an estimated combined distance of more than 1,000 times around the world, or approximately 28 million miles.

District Supervisor William Hart, Jr. pointed out that residents of this area can speed up the big count by having their Advance Report Forms filled out and ready for the census takers. This action will save time for both the householder and the census taker, the census official said. The Advance Report Form was distributed to local households prior to the start of the house-to-house canvass. It contains the seven population and six housing questions which are asked of all persons. The Advance Report Form gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit. Its use is expected to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics.

At every fourth household, the census taker will leave a Census Household Questionnaire which contains additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 25 percent sample of the population.. House-holders are requested to fill out the household questionaire and mail it within three days to the local census district office. A pre-addressed pos-tage free envelope is being provided for this purpose.

The district supervisor emphasized that all information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under Federal law. It is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages, and per-centages. The information about individuals cannot be examined by any one other than Census employees who are sworn to secrecy, and thus can-not be used for investigation, taxa-tion, or regulation.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

It is sweet to see the Crocus in full bloom on the lawn and such a delightful color of yellow!

Walking into the Hecht-May Company in Baltimore the other day really took me right into Spring! The Store is really the most beautiful in Baltimore and at this special time of the year the colorier is of like and the year, the coloring is of lilac and light blues with the huge sprays strung from post to post. The living Models were in every department and at the jewelry counter there was the most beautiful girl in the world! She was Miss Maryland twice and I cannot understand that she was not chosen for "Miss Universe" for 1960 out in California. She was attired in a tight fitting sheath black dress with black and crystal chockers with matching bracelet. I observed a number of men customers who were so fascinated that they stood not far away and gazed upon the Beauty. Her name is

Miss Diane White.

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1960

THE EDITOR TAKES A BOW

It is not often as you may have noticed, that a newspaper takes time out to blow its own horn.

But we think the report just released by the Newsprint Information Committee justifies a little tootling. It says:

American newspapers gave their readers more news and featuresabout 200,000 tons more measured in newsprint-in 1959 than ever before.

Among the nation's biggest newspapers in 39 cities increases in advertising and editorial averaged three pages to bring the average of these papers from 89 pages to 42-an alltime record.

Over a wider area, including many smaller cities, dailies increased by two pages during the year for a total of 37 pages per issue.

And, certainly, among the nation's weeklies, semi-weeklies and tri-weeklies, the story is one of similar expansion.

The survey proves more dramatically than ever that the newspaper retains above all others its traditional position as the nation's most popular and most reliable information source-from community news, national affairs and world events to advice on what is in the market place and information on new products and services for better living.

We particularly like the comment of Cranston Williams, general manager of ANPA, who said:

. publishers have consistently placed the needs of their readers ahead of all other considerations through good times and bad. . . Newsprint consumption reached an alltime high in 1959 because newspapers served their readers so well while advertisers showed their continued confidence in the newspaper"

It is our sincere hope that our own public can echo these sentiments .-U. S. Press Association.

Turnpike Travel

Engineers and traffic safety experts make modern turnpikes and super-highways the safest possible high-speed roads. But the last word in safety is up to you.

Here are some pointers on safe turnpike driving.

At 60 miles an hour, you move 88 feet in one second. It takes 366 feet or 23 car lengths—to stop. A econd's distraction can be dangerous. So stay alert. You may have to work at it.

Sustained high speed, unvaried sounds, and fixed staring ahead can hypnotize a motorist, make his mind nder, his attention go dull. What ro do?

Play the radio, talk to your passengers, sing, check the rear and side view mirror and the instrument panel. Stop every two hours. Walk around. If you feel sleepy, splash cold water on your face.

If you stop, pull off the road completely. If you need help for repairs, raise the hood, tie a handkerchief on the antenna or left door handle. Then wait patiently—inside the car on the antenna or left door handle. Then wait patiently—inside the car—for police or his way patrol.

As you leave superhighway, check your speed meter to be sure you have slowed down. You are used to speed, and you must readjust your thinking and driving to the lower speed of the local road.

CLEAN-UP HINTS .

How often have you thought to yourself: "It isn't the cooking I mind so much; it's cleaning up afterward". Three times a day your empty sink turns into a mountain of dirty dishes. Why not look for ways to easily and quickly restore your kitchen to its before-meal brightness. For

Serve direct-ly out of cook-ing -utensils. You can save your serving dishes by using attractive cook ware, expressly designed to look well on your table. Casseroles made of stainless steel not only look well but keep your food warm and tasty for those eager second helpings. Buy cookware that clears easily. Pots and pans made of smooth stainless steel are easy to clean and sanitary. A good idea is to let them soak in hot, soapy water while you are eating. You'll find come "clean-up time," a quick swish with your dishrag is all that's necessary.

Clean as you go. Clean the dishes you use for preparing food as soon as you have finished with them. Then, at the end of the meal you will have nothing more to clean than what remains on your table. And the sink, of course. But if you have a stainless steel a stainless solve sink, you'll save hours of scouring. A wash, a rinse, a wiping and your sink will be sparkling clean.

Lastly, don't forget to relax a bit after dessert. With renewed energy and fewer dishes you'll ind yourself thinking: "Cleanng up seems to be getting easier all the time."

feed faster with no growth lag after weaning—grow into sleek heifers that freshen earlier. D. A. Buth and Gerrit Van Markenstein, Belmont, Mich., say: "Since we switched to the Wayne Calf program, includ-single case of scours." R. J. Honsinger, Hamilton, N. Y., says: "The Wayne Calf program does a better job than anything else l've tried."

Lots of others right around here are getting "More for Their Money" with the Wayne calf, ing Wayne Calfnip milk re- pullet and pig programs too.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

March "came in like a lamb" and went out like a lamb-kin, contrary to the old saying. With the temperature in the 80s' roads as dusty as in July, doors and windows open for cool air, the month has beaten all previous weather records.

To the best of our knowledge every dwelling in Taneytown, is occupied, a condition with usually applies to this town.

Rev. Seth R. Downie, who recently accepted a call to the Presbyterian congregations of Piney Creek and Taneytown, expects to arrive on Saturday, and will begin his service as pastor, on Sunday, April 8.

James B Galt has been named census enumerator for the first pre-cinct, Taneytown district, and Wil-liam R. Bricker for the second pre-cinct. The work will commence April

The Old Baptist Grave Yard. What is known as the "old Baptist" grave-yard, is located on the Emmitsburg road, about 1½ miles from Taney-town. It has been used as a bury-ing ground since 1802 and the last interment was in 1908, a period of 106 years being covered. There are nineteen graves marked with field stones. The first interment according to the head stones was M. Jane Clingan, wife of Rev. W. Clingan, who died in 1802. The church which was torn down in 1885, had been was torn down in 1885, had been standing since perhaps 1790. About fifty years ago the congregation was fairly strong and prosperous, and regular services were held every two weeks, though later on they were held only once a month. Services were discontinued about 25 years ago.

A petition was circulated this week

A petition was circulated this week asking the town authorities, to employ a policeman to patrol our streets, at night, and make arrests without the formality of a warrant. Evidently the town is growing, if not in population then in some other ways not so desirable. ways not so desirable

vertised" in New York Times

A special committee of community representatives met with the County Commissioners on Friday, March 17, 1960, and reported that Carroll County would be represented in the special Maryland Supplement of the May 1st issue of the New York Times.

Russell Morgan, chairman of the special committee created to finance the advertisement and to approve its substance, indicated that banks, chambers of commerce, businesses and incorporated areas made it financially possible for the County to be recognized.

The committee recommended that immediate efforts be undertaken to prepare a county-wide brochure to be made available to potential industry. It was further pointed out that financing of the brochure could be plan-ned as had the New York Times advertisement.

The County Commissioners recognized the advisability of the Countywide effort and asked Samuel E. Breth of Taneytown to head the Carroll County Industrial Committee for purposes of making plans for a brochure. Serving with Mr. Breth are: Ralph E. Walsh, Houcksville; Robert S. Bankert, Hampstead; Russell Morgan, Westminster; DeVries Hering, Sykesville; James Scott, Union Bridge; Randall Spoerlein, New Windsor; Kenneth Burdette, Mt. Airy; Justus Denner, Manchester; Rudy Farver, Winfield. Serving as secretary of the committee will be Charles R. Stroh, Westminster.

the time of year when saused by scours can become a real problem for the Striking especially hard among newborn and young animals, it affects calves, pigs, and lambs in one or another of its various forms. In addition, it can attack adult livestock, too.

Why does scours pose such a threat, cause such losses? One reason is that it comes in so many types. Some are contagious, some not. Some can spread like lightning. Before anything can be done, one must know which KIND of scours is causing the trouble, and that, of course, means a competent diagnosis has to be made

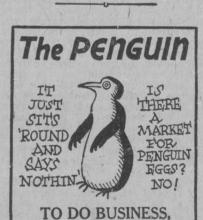

Scours takes a heavy toll of young animals at this time of year.

To the owner of calves, "white scours" and "black scours" pose the major threat. Fortunately, we now have a double-barreled defense against these killers. To treat them, many veterinarians now use modern blood transfusion methods plus supplementary treatments with considerable success. To help prevent scours, the open pen and nurse cow plan, plus liberal vitamin A to pregnant cows are recommended.

Swine raisers need to watch for several types of scours . . . baby pig scours (T.G.E.), plain pig scours, swine dysentery, and necrotic enteritis. In pig scours, the thing to do is discover which of several factors is responsible, and go on from there. In some types, a more difficult problem is presented. They are very infectious and real killers. The best professional help is important, if heavy losses are to be checked.

Lambs are most often affected by a type of scours like that which strikes calves. It often strikes shortly after birth, and can kill within 24 hours.

The important point is that now is the time when scours is most likely to strike. Prompt action, prompt diagnosis, prompt treatment—these are the three things which can make the big dif-

The Cambridge Basketball Team composed of players of the Taneytown area ended the season with 9 wins and 4 loses. Three of the four losses were lost by one to three points. Games were played against teams from Mt. Airy, Emmitsburg, Thurmont, Fairfield, Liberty and several teams from Hanover. It is hoped next year there will be a new league formed in Carroll County in which we may enter.

The members of the team would like to thank the Cambridge Rubber Co. for sponsoring the team this year and hope it will be able to sponsor the team again next year. Following is this years records of the players:

Sparkling Under Water
A Jeweler, it is said, gives as one of the surest tests for diamonds, the water test. He says, "An imitation diamond is never so brilliant as a genuine stone. If your eye is not experienced enough to detect the stone under water. The imitation diamond is practically extinguished, while the genuine diamond sparkles, while the genuine diamond sparkles.

Ben-Hur Being Shown

The critics who viewed the phenominal showing of Ben-Hur at the press pre-viewing at the Town Teater in Baltimore on Monday night had difficulty finding adequate adjectives to express their high regard for this outstanding film which is now showing to full-house audiences.

This story written 80 years ago by a Civil War General is most fabulous and is a most fontation production.

lous and is a most fantastic produc-tion. All the characters are sensational in their portrayal. Ben-Hur, the prince of Judea, is played by Charlton Heston who so wonderfully played the part of Commandments". Quintus Arrius, the admiral of the Roman Fleet, is superb as he was in "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Messala the Roman Warrior; Esther, the Beautiful; Miriam, the Loving; Tirzah, the Outcast and all the host of others in the gi-gantic production are nothing short of excellent in their portrayals. The picture is shown on the extra wide screen to give the viewers a deeper appreciation of the setting and the acting. As probably the greatest thing which the movie industry ever put on the market it was filmed in Italy on 148 acres with 452 speaking roles and 25,000 extras. The scenery and the construction are most intriguing; the Valley of the Lepers is most gripping; and the Cahriot Race in the areas is most captivat-

TIBETAN REFUGEE

All his worldly possessions are on the back and in the hands of this Tibetan refugee who with thousands of others fled Chinese communist oppression with the Dalai Lama to the refugee camps in Assam and West Bengal, India. With the assistance of the Indian Central Committee for Refugees, the Indian Red Cross and the American Catholic Bishops' over-seas relief agency, Catholic Relief Services-N.C.W.C., immediate aid in the form of food, clothing, living quarters and medicines was provided.

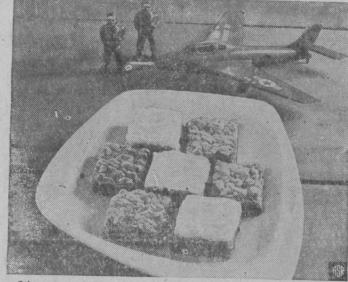

The refugee is on his way to one of the wells in the Foothills, Darjeeling, for water supplied by storage tanks. A bleak future faces the Tibetan refugees whose right to religious freedom forced them to flee. Your contribution to the Bishops' Relief Fund, Empire State Building, New York 1, N. Y., or the local Catholic church, will assure continuance of the voluntary overseas relief programs.

Mincemeat Treat Lures All Ages

It's easy to lure space-minded youngsters "out of the clouds" with an easy-to-make snack treat of Heavenly Mincemeat Confections and milk. A candy-like cookie, it is made easily with mincemeat, sweetened condensed milk and cereal.

Heavenly Mincemeat Confections (Makes about 20 squares)

1 (9-oz.) package Condensed None Such Mince Meat 1 (15-oz.) can Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk

cup brown sugar, firmly packed cup sifted flour teaspoon soda

½ teaspoon salt 11/2 cups corn flakes, rice cereal or crumbled shredded wheat juniors

wheat juniors

Break mincemeat into small pieces in medium-size saucepan; add sweetened condensed milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, about 6 minutes or until the consistency of thick jam. Cream butter until fluffy; gradually add sugar; beat until well blended. Sift together dry ingredients; add cereal. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture; mix until crumbly. Divide mixture in half. Pat half the mixture firmly into 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking dish which has been buttered, waxed paper-lined and buttered again. Spread evenly with mincemeat filling. Spread remaining mixture evenly over filling until smooth. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes or until top is firm and crusty. Remove from baking dish. Cool slightly; cut into 2½-inch squares. If desired, frost with Orange Frosting.

Orange Frosting. Cream 2 tablespoons butter. Combine ½ cup frozen orange juice concentrate (defrosted) and ½ cup (½ of 15 oz. can) sweetened condensed milk; blend ¼ cup of the mixture with butter. Add 3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar alternately with remaining sweetened condensed milk mixture; beat until well blended. Stir in 3 tablespoons grated orange rind; beat until fluffy.

Small Town Says Big "Thanks" To Firm For Economic Boost

ESCANABA, MICH. - The 16,000 residents of this snowswept Northwoods community have staged a rousing "thank you" celebration, honoring a nomic boost provided by its two local plants.

Throughout an 18-hour schedule, the city and its citizens staged one whopper of a jamboree on the city's main street. They expressed thanks to Harnischfeger Corp. of Milwaukee, and 350 of its dealers and executives representing the 50 states and Canada.

Reason behind the "thanks" dates back 12 years when the company helped lift the com-munity from the depths of a localized depression and changed it into a prosperous industrial center with healthy weekly pay checks putting new life into the city's economy.

An abandoned woodworking factory was first converted to a welding supplies plant by the company. The community and its new industry hit it off famously and, a year later, the company built a spanking new company built a spanking new plant to manufacture P&H construction cranes and excavators, which are prominent in building the federal highway network, state and county roads. Now the company's two plants have more than 1.000 workers with a payroll running $500,000 per month and a promise of better things to come.

SQUAW VALLEY WONDERLAND

SKI JUMPERS from all over the world competed on these 60-meter and 80-meter runs specially constructed at Squaw Valley, California, for the 1960 Winter Olympic Games. At lower right is one of nearly 150 ABC Vending Corporation installations to supply hot food and drinks to nearly 250,000 outdoor sports fans who attended the 11-day ice and snow spectacle.

Clean Play Area Important To Toddlers

A youngster's imagination is a wonderful thing.

There's a pirate's den under the table; a dark cave under the bed; a secret passageway behind the couch. These are areas to be explored on hands and knees, and sometimes flat on the tummy.

But the exploring age is hard on Mom, since it offers a severe challenge to her housekeeping. Toddlers would as soon suck a dirty thumb as a clean one, and every bit of lint or piece of thread goes right into a youngster's mouth. Rather than put a limit on this exciting world of make-believe, wise mothers make sure that the child-size world is as clean as possible. This requires extra emphasis on hidden areas under the furniture and along the base-boards.

A good vacuum cleaner is a life-saver during this period, for it sucks up every bit of dust, and reaches areas which are inconvenient to dust with a cloth. Cleaning experts from the Singer Vacuum Cleaner Division recommend a versatile canister model, such as the Golden Glide, since it may be used with attachments to solve all cleaning problems. For example, the revolving brush attachment is used on rugs and carpets; the wall-floor brush on hard floors, walls, baseboards and moldings; the dusting brush for the wooden parts of playmen and crib; and the crevice tool to reach behind the radiator playpen and crib; and the crevice tool to reach behind the radiator and other "tight squeeze" spots. The long hose, with the extension wands, will reach clear under beds and couches, to clean all the areas that an imaginative child might explore.

Daily vacuuming will insure a spotlessly clean play area, and a young ranger will find his hideaway cleaned of dust as well as outlaws.

Seeing's Unbelieving.

Sleight of hand tricks are a treat for the petite. The Magic Kit above, by Transogran, offers a delightful repertoire of simplified puzzles and tricks for kiddie or party excitement. Available at all leading toy counters in $3.00 and $2.00 sizes.

TOP AMATEUR HORSEMAN AWARDED BRONZE TROPHY

NEW YORK...Frank Rice, America's top amateur Horseman Of The Year, receives the Martini & Rossi Trophy from Mrs. W. J. Barney. Mr. Rice, who won the title by a vote of the member-Barney. Mr. Rice, who won the title by a vote of the membership of the American Horse Show Association, shares honors with Patricia Galvin, the society's choice for Horsewoman Of The Year. Each received a handsome bronze trophy, a replica of the world-famed statue of Duke Emanuele Filiberto which stands in the city of Torino (Italy), the municipality which he founded. Torino is known today as the worldwide headquarters of Martini & Rossi, leading makers of wines and vermouths.

Current plans call for an annual presentation of the award to the year's top-rated horseman and horsewoman at the association's conventions.

Who Makes The Laws Here, Anyway?

Does Congress make the laws that govern this country, based on the needs of the majority of citizens who live therein, or are we governed by a small but fantastically powerful dictatorship of men who run certain unions? Judging by the news, it would seem that the unions are in charge of the governing. Just look at the record. The McClellan Committee uncovered endless abuses in unions . . . acid throwing, blackmailing, picketing, violation of demo-cratic rights, vicious evils . . . Laws to reform these evils were obviously necessary.

Senator Kennedy introduced a bill supposed to correct these abuses. It is not an effective bill, not by any means, and it has since been even further watered-down from its original state because of "sweetening" concessions to unions.

But there has to be an end to it somewhere.

When a man like George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, comes right out and says that the Federation will. support the Kennedy-Ervin bill if certain concessions he wants included are not in it . . . well, the time has come for some kind of concrete action.

Are we going to sit by and just watch powerful labor bosses threaten and dictate to the Congress, just the way they do to their own members?

Are we going to allow people in Congress who want to put through worthwhile laws to be intimidated by the support or non-support of the Meanys and the Reuthers and the Hoffas? And they are not the only ones . . . this growth of fascistic unionism has got to stop. What are we building here? How far are we going to allow this tyranny of unions to grow? Unfortunate-ly, though it started out with tions in the world, the current Kennedy-Ervin bill is not the way to stop union abuses! It is worse than a weak bill. It is simply ineffective. Instead of setting-up laws that make unions behave, it "requests" that they act like gentlemen.

Instead of a bill with the "teeth" to correct abuses, it asks the union only to report their constitution (many unions) their constitution (many unions don't even have a constitution) and the names and addresses of their officers. Instead of protecting small business so that the cult of unionism-at-any price will not coerce people into joining unions, it allows them to continue what they now do and hog-ties an employer's efforts to bring his case to his workers.

Instead of telling-off a man like Meany: "This country is governed by the people, represented in Congress!" . . . it allows his unions to directly or indirectly own stock in the very companies he is unfairly picketing . . . allows him to tell Congress he will "not support this bill unless!"

The kind of law Mr. Meany and his pals are insisting upon will only extend his power . . . make unions more tyrannical unions more pressure-powerful. If this continues, what can the individual worker or the small business man do? How can he maintain his rights against unions allowed to spend millions of dollars to propa-gandize ... while the employer must report anything that can be construed as an "influence" on his employees' right to unionize — even as small an item as a coffee break.

Are we to sit back and let. men like Mr. Meany and their pressure groups make the

Are we to settle for a Kennedy-Ervin bill and piddlkennedy-Ervin bill and pidding reform . . when this country needs a strong measure to rout evil? Mr. Kennedy knew what was needed — punishment that fits the crime! How did it get bogged down?

And who makes the laws in this country, anyway?

Residents of this area who are pictured above in the Ralston Purina Company Office in St. Louis were among approximately 300 farmers from this section who visited the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit Missouri, last Monday, and spent the following day seeing the company's research laboratories and general office. Master Teacher

Lesson for April 3, 1960

PEOPLE WHO knew Jesus of Nazareth thought of him as a teacher. Jesus thought of himself as a teacher. The title given him most often in the Gospels is Teacher. When he rose from the dead and Mary Magdalene recognized him, she called him Rabboni,

My Teacher. Jesus said to his disciples (a word which itself means pupils), "You call me teacher and Lord, and you are right, for so I a m." (John 13:13.) Jesus expected his teach- Dr. Foreman ings to be taken seriously. "Why do you call me 'Lord, Lord" and not do what I tell you?" he asked. (Luke 6:46) A man who hears Jesus' sayings and does not do them, is like a man building a house on sand. (Matt. 7:26). "The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life," he said. (John 6:63.) It is absurd, it is even wicked, for a man to claim to be a Christian, and by-pass the teachings of Jesus.

Jesus' Theme

When we hear that some one is a teacher, the first thing we ask, if we are interested, is: What does he teach? Jesus' great theme, his subject, was a tremendous one: LIFE. One reason why he is called the Master Teacher is that his theme was the most important, the most all-inclusive, in the world. We can make this more definite. We can put this in three ways. 1. Jesus taught about Life in the Kingdom of God, or to put this another way, he taught what it means to be a citizen of the Kingdom of God, orto say it still another way - he taught what kind of behavior God requires of those who want to live in his kingdom. 2. Jesus taught about Life as God wins it. Every-body lives someho. For at least exists; and if you look about you.

or if you will be square with yourself, you can see a great many people living to please themselves and never giving a thought to what God thinks of them and their doings. That is as stupid as pigs taking over a farm and running it to suit the pigs. One would think it only common sense to try to find what God's will is, and live by that light. The natural question is: Who n tell us what God's will is? The Christian answer is: Jesus has shown us the will of God. And if the next question is: How do we know that Jesus was right? we have Jesus' answer: "If any man's will is to do His [God's] will, he shall know whether the teaching is from God." In other words, try it and see! 3. Jesus taught about Life at its best. For that is precisely what it is to live by God's pattern, it is to discover what life can really be at its highest level.

Jesus' Methods

Jesus had various ways of teaching, but they can all be boiled down to two. One was a straightforward statement in plain language. More often, however, he taught by parables, or as we would say today, by story-illustrations. For this reason the next three months in this series are going to be devoted to the Sermon on the Mount, which is mostly the first method, and to the parables, or some typical parables. The first method is direct. Jesus will come up with a statement that surprises the ear, shocks the mind, wakes up the careless listener and sends him on his way (sometimes) wishing he could forget what the Teacher said, it makes him so uncomfortable. Some of these direct statements are very plain, others are very puzzling. Woe unto you when all men speak well of you" is one of these. At first that sounds all wrong, and yet when you mull over it a while you can see how right it is.

Why Parables

Jesus' favorite method was the parable or story-form. He would tell some simple story, but his listeners - some of them - would understand that what the Teacher was aiming to get across was not the story itself but some truth or idea or warning wrapped up in the story. Mark tells us why Jesus used this method: is was not to make truth easier to understand, but harder! Does this make sense? It does indeed; but only the patient and persistent seekers for truth find it out.

Ever notice the condition of your hair—other people do. The over-all condition of your hair may be affected by the general condition of your body-mental and emotional states. Fatigue, extended periods of stress, worry or excitement may cause your hair to change its complete character—it may become suddenly oily or brittle in texture or dry and unattractive. You and your moods may have a tremendous effect on your hair in many cases without realizing the cause for change.

Here are a few helpful hints that will aid you in better hair

Washing—We all know that oily hair should be washed weekly. Less frequently if dry. Brushing with a well kept clean brush is important. Some times a dirty comb and brush can undo all the effort of a shampoo. Keep combs and brushes clean.

Dandruff Control - Many women (and the men are no exception) have dandruff or a dandruff condition. When we wear dark clothes, especially in the cool months it is more noticeable on our shoulders. Warm weather does not ease up on dandruff — it's a year-round problem.

Today you can do something positive to remove your dandruff condition. The days of reaching for an old home cure are past. Your local beauty shop, barber shop or druggist can supply you with a commerial anti-dandruff preparation that will perform wonders in the removal of dandruff.

I, personally like and use a product known as Dandricide. I find its removal action extremely fast. And best of all it is pleas-ant to use and

Less Worry — If I could only reach some of today's women who worry more about the rising hemline than falling dandruff, or oily hair or daily brushing I would say: "Your personal grooming starts with the top of your head—the first thing people notice is your hair—take care of it and your charm and success will increase."

P.S. If you cannot obtain any of the products used and recommended in this feature, simply mail one dollar (the retail price) to me with your name and address, and I will be sure to have the manufacturer send his product to you. More next month, Ryta King, 114 12th Street Brooklyn 15, New York.

Dennis No Menace to Spring Fire Safety

Young Jay North, who plays "Dennis the Menace" in the popular CBS-TV series, takes time out from his usual antics to join in the Spring Clean-Up fire prevention campaign of the nation's nearly four-million Junior Fire Marshals. Jay and elementary-school youngsters in thousands of communities are attaching reminder tags listing Spring Clean-Up fire safety tips to doorknobs of homes across the country. The doortagging project is part of the year-round Junior Fire Marshal program sponsored as a public service by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. Here Dennis checks fire precautions with his arch-friend and neighbor, Mr. Wilson (Joseph Keerns).

Meeting of Historical Society to be Held April 7th

The meeting of the Historical Society of Carroll County to be held at Shellman house, 206 E. Main Street. Westminster, on the evening of Thursday, April 7 will feature the collection of dolls recently presented to the society by Mrs. W. Parker Jones, Washington D. C. Mrs. Jones is the former Eva Haddaway, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Haddaway, who served the Freedom Methodist Episcopal Church South for a number of years. Mrs. Jones has never lived in the county but has spent many vacations in the Sykesville and many vacations in the Sykesville and Eldersburg area where she is well known.

Mr. Hazard W. Clarke, a local authority on dolls, will talk to the society on dolls in general and the Jones collection in particular. Mr. James M. Shriver Sr., is president of the organization.

Serving as hostesses are Mrs. Roy

Farm Safety Campaign

The Future Farmers of America organization annually hold a farm safety program known as a Community Improvement Project. The Francis Scott Key Chapter of Future Farmers of America will participate in this program starting this month. This program is to help all farmers in this area to find the hazards and dangerous objects around their farms Future Farmer members all over America are checking on their own farms as well as their neighbors farms. They find the hazards that the farmer may not be aware of the make a list of the location and possible ways to correct them. After twenty or thirty days the team will return and check to see if the farmer has made any corrections, and in certain cases the team will make repairs of their own.

Only two occupations are more dangerous than farming. They are mining and construction. No occupation involves more accidental deaths than farming, about 14,000 each year, and 1,200,000 injuries many of them resulting in permanent disability. This record is not a good showing for farmers. Besides brining suffering and sorrow, it is expensive. Falls burns, cuts, and mangled limbs and crushed bodies all cost money, both in medical bills and work left undone. Then there is the property damage and expense resulting from carelessness: broken machinery and equip-ment, injured or electrocuted live-stock, and burned down buildings. Fires burn about $100,000,000 worth of farm property each year.

In an effort to stop all this carelessness and accidents, various groups of people have organized safety programs of one sort or another. These campaigns have helped prevent many accidents and saved many lives.

The F.F.A. members of the Francis Scott Key Chapter will appreciate all the cooperation and help received in making this safety campaign a suc-
