SUNDAY SCHOOL—A FORCE FOR FAITH

This year marks the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., an interfaith organization dedicated to the proposition that "America was founded on man's consciousness of God, man's daily labor and the fruits therefrom". The Committee sponsors National Sunday School Week, April 11-17, 1960. The theme for the week
this is, "Sunday School—A Force for Faith."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has said, "The sixteenth annual observance of National Sunday School Week should serve as a signal re-emphasizing to all responsible citizens the need for a return to religion in our standards of living."

"The Sunday Schools of our Nation can make a tremendous contribution to the necessary realignment of our guide for daily activity. The importance of religion as the major factor in the conduct of our lives must be instilled in our young men and women, and from these, it will assume its rightful place in the lives of every citizen, every community and every nation."—Industrial News

Leaks in Roof Often Caused By Ice Dams

Winter is a time of toil and trouble for houses as well as humans. Among the cruelest of these troubles are ice dams.

These are accumulations of ice in gutters and along the eaves of a house that can cause damaging leaks if the roofing material is improperly applied.
Escaping heat from inside the house melts snow on the roof and water runs down to the gutter or eaves where it freezes.

Eventually gutters are blocked and water may back up under roofing material. Here it can leak into the house, staining and damaging walls and ceilings and even causing rot that weakens structural timbers.

Ice dams can't cause damage to a house protected by asphalt shingles that are applied properly. Reliable roofing contractors apply an eaves flashing strip under the shingles along the eaves. This consists of a wide, heavy-duty strip of asphalt roll roofing that prevents leaks.

To avoid the high cost and inconvenience of leaks caused by ice dams, home owners can call in a roofing contractor for a roof inspection.

If the roofing material is old, brittle and looks shabby, the contractor may suggest a new roof of asphalt shingles in order to avoid costly leaks in weather of all kinds.

A new roof of asphalt shingles is low in applied cost. Once it is in place, the home owner is assured of years of protection from the roughest weather. A new roof in one of many colors available also adds value to any house.

A leading cause of ice dams is little or no ceiling insulation.
Costly heat escapes through the roof, melting snow and ice on the roof. A home owner often can correct this himself by installing bats or blankets of mineral wool in the attic floor.

A minimum thickness of 4 inches of insulation is needed to insure effective results. This not only helps to away with ice dams but cuts heating costs by reducing heat loss.

pecially when they're as deliciously tempting as these Chocolate

A MEAL TO PLEASE A MAN

Whether it's in the backyard or miles from home, the first outdoor barbecue of the season calls for extra good eating such as barbecued ribs, corn on the cob and whole glossy tomatoes. Coffee, full-bodied and hot, is the beverage to serve, for while the meat sizzles along, there's nothing that smells quite so good as freshly-brewing coffee.

Make certain that the coffee lives up to that tantalizing aroma by using the new Chase & Sanborn Coffee. The flavor of this famous brand has been changed completely to meet the current demand for coffee with more strength, more character—the kind of coffee men prefer.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

- 6 pounds spareribs
- 1 cup molasses
- 1 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 1 minced clove garlic
- 1/2 lemon, sliced
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 2 tablespoons corn-oil margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne

Have meatman cut spareribs crosswise into halves. Twenty-four hours or less in advance, roast the ribs in a shallow oven pan at 350 degrees F. for one hour. Pour off fat; cool and refrigerate ribs. On cover them with water and simmer, covered, 45 minutes; cool, drain and refrigerate. For the sauce, combine remaining ingredients and simmer fifteen minutes; cool.

Grill the meat on a rack over hot coals about thirty minutes or until well done, brushing well with sauce and turning occasionally. To serve, cut in three-rib pieces. Makes six servings.

Frizzellburg—The bustle and stir made in the exchange for new homes has ceased. Good dinners are over, and everybody has settled down to work. Gardening is being pushed along, and needed rain is much talked of. The fruit is thought to be safe although several frosts were noticeable this week. The prospects for hay and grain are promising.—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reifsnider, of Fountain Valley, royally entertained at dinner last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fair, and grandson, Paul of Linwood, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rupp and two children, Helen and Earl of near Westminster.—Register of Wills, William Arthur, was detained at home this week with rheumatic trouble of the back.—Our street oil lamps are giving excellent light, with one-third of the expense incurred by the use of gasoline.—Edw. Bright Ideas

IF YOU'RE a "do it yourself" fan, make sure that you have the right lighting when making or fixing something. Here are some tips from researchers at the Murine company that will add to your eye comfort: Avoid shiny walls, overhead lights, or any glossy surfaces that will cause reflection upon the job at hand. Be certain that daylight, as well as artificial light, comes from behind. Also, it's good to rest your eyes from time to time when reading or doing close work. To rest them, look as far as you can to the right, then to the left, close your eyes tightly, then open them as wide as possible and blink rapidly.

EVERY HOUSEWIFE is proud of the trim, attractive appearance of her home. And now, thanks to Black Flag scientific research, she needn't worry about a spring invasion of roaches and ants. A thorough spraying of the infested area with a push-button Roach & Ant Killer will leave a residual coating that will be effective for weeks. For complete protection against further roach and ant invasions, make certain that infested areas are sprayed until thoroughly wet.

IF TAXES TAX your peace-of-mind as well as your pocketbook, now is the best time to tackle your records—for Uncle Sam's tax bite a year from now! To make the job easy, pay all your bills by bank check. Then, your checkbook will provide a perfect record of all your deductions, and your cancelled checks are proof of payment recognized in any court of law. If you keep your cancelled checks, receipts and other tax records together in a safe deposit box at your local bank, then you will always know exactly where they are and they'll be safe from fire and loss at home.

Doc Smith Says—

BY A. M. SMITH
Agricultural Director
Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation

SCIENTISTS DUPLICATE NATURE'S CHEMICALS

You've seen the Hollywood version. There's a raging thunderstorm. A searing flash of lightning silhouettes the desolate castle atop a mountain. Through a window in the tower you see giant flasks with dark, oily liquids erupting softly; fluids racing through spiral tubing, a shivering spark humming between two poles. And there he is—matted hair, thick glasses, white smock—hunched over a test tube. Finally smoke issues from the test tube, a wild look comes into his eye and he shouts, "I'VE FOUND IT! I'VE FOUND IT!"

The "it" can be anything from instant blood to a serum that brings back the dead. And with it goes the dark implication that the owner of this secret will rule the world.

Actually, science in duplicating Nature's marvels, has invariably aided mankind immensely.

An example is urea, one of Nature's products duplicated more than 150 years ago—quietly in a laboratory and without fanfare. Urea is found in the blood of animals and in good old barnyard manure. Its chief value is the nitrogen it imparts to the soil, and most soil today is hungry for nitrogen.

At first, the process for making this one of Nature's chemicals was an expensive one. It was made from calcium cyanamide, and the price was prohibitive.

But as time and experiments went on, man learned to produce this wonderful high-nitrogen product at a lower cost. He learned to process ammonia and carbon dioxide, two byproducts of the oil and chemical industries, in such a way as to form urea.

With this new process, many plants started up around the world. The United States now produces 735,000 tons a year. Japan is also a leading producer with about 700,000 tons a year. In all, there are 14 producing plants in the United States, and two more are under construction.

In fact, there are some who feel there is too much urea now. They say there is just so much call for this nitrogen fertilizer, and more is being produced than will be used. This may be true by present standards, but what they fail to recognize is the ever-growing demand for urea. The eastern seaboard alone will double its present requirements within the next two years because the soil needs nitrogen.

And this has all happened quietly. There was no mad scientist bent over bubbling test tubes. There was simply a demand for a product, engineering genius that made it available economically, and plain sweat that produced it.

Public Will See Controversial Space Film Which TV Networks Policy Banned

Despite the fact that it was denied time on the three major networks as a matter of Company policy because the film was not produced by their own news department staffs, millions of American television viewers are going to be able to see one of the most controversial space films of our time—"The Race for Space."

"The Race for Space" gives the true facts, impartially and objectively about the race between the U.S.A. and Russia in missile development. Produced by David L. Wolper in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Defense, the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force, National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Ministry of Culture of the U.S.S.R., it contains American and Soviet rocket and space films never before seen outside our Intelligence Service, including first views of the dog-carrying Sputnik II.

The film will reach home screens shortly through a triumph of enterprise involving tremendous effort and expense by the film's sponsor Shulton, Inc., makers of cosmetics. They have succeeded in putting together what has been described as a "fourth network"—an association of nearly 100 independent stations and network affiliates coast-to-coast who will air this film on prime night time.

By virtue of this unique hook-up and the tremendous interest and promotional effort which these broadcasting stations will exert, it is expected that the show will be viewed by a greater audience than originally contemplated through a network telecast.

Judging by the initial response from civic, educational and civil defense groups who have seen this film it will have the backing of public spirited groups all over the country.

General Holgar N. Toffoy, featured in the film and Chairman of the World Space Committee, says that every American should see this film. It has been made a regular part of the Curriculum at West Point. Response from the Press has been so tremendous that a news-

Mike Wallace narrates the controversial space film "The Race for Space" to be sponsored by Shulton, Inc., over nearly 100 independent TV stations and network affiliates coast-to-coast. "Fourth network" was set up after the three major networks refused film.

paper article about it has been read into the Congressional Record. The film won the 1959 San Francisco International Film Festival Documentary Award, and was nominated by the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences for an Academy Award, the first TV film to be so honored.

The film shows the development of the giant V-2 under Hitler's direction, the capture of Wernher von Braun and other German scientists, and the dramatic firings of Sputnik I and Sputnik II, including scenes showing Laika, the Space dog, being prepared for his flight.

The finale is the dramatic buildup and launching of our first successful earth satellite, Explorer I, a sequence which ends with the actual films of the tense and agonizing countdown in the blockhouse at Cape Canaveral.

There are also probing interviews with Mrs. Robert Goddard, widow of the great rocket pioneer, and General H. N. Toffoy, winner of the Distinguished Service Medal for his successful direction of the Army missile program.

It is providential that Easter, with its promise of new and continuing life for mankind, should be observed when the earth is blossoming in splendor and radiance. Because Jesus died and rose again, so shall they who follow Him rise in newness of life to be with Him. This assurance is what makes all of life meaningful, is it not? Death does not end life—it only opens up more glorious vistas of happiness and reunion with loved ones.

The years hasten on for each of us. How quickly we move down the river of time toward the sea of eternity! One day will come a joyous merging of the currents, when life will flow into immortality. The greatest joy comes from the inner peace that all is well with your soul.—Sunshine.

In Loving Memory of our dear mother MRS. RUTH HYSER HARMAN who departed this life one year ago,
April 16

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our hearts
Which never can be filled.

God saw the lonely hours and knew the suffering was too great,
But He who doth all things right
Will some day make it clear,
Days of sadness still come over us
Fears in silence often flow,

Treasured thoughts of our dear mother

Often bring a silent tear Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain
To have, to love, and then to part with our dear mother,

Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts.

Sadly missed by her three children

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

and take advantage of the big sale in Cultured Pearls at Hochschild, Kohn Co. plus the lovely Zircons if you are going to slip that ring on her finger. While in the Art Museum the other day, there were quite a number of pupils from the Glen Elger Country School from Howard County and the teacher explained beautifully about the Master pieces. It was most interesting.

Talking to a public school teacher who just retired, she stated the teachers are getting a good salary now and they should not ask for increases. That is one of the things which make our taxes keep soaring! Our Governor sent a beautiful birthday letter to my 91 year old friend the other day and at the bottom there was the huge GOLD SEAL OF MARYLAND! Nice? She told me that she recalled the manner in which she had to prepare coffee years ago in Harford County back on the farm. First she would roast the green coffee beans, then she would grind it and then cook it placing egg shells in the bottom of the pot! And now we have INSTANT Coffee!

Last week, Your Observer had a terrific fall on a rough surface. After suffering several days, I went down to the Chiropractor at 6 W. Madison Street (near the Washington Monument) and he took my B.P. which was 170 before the treatment and immediately after it went down to 137—and that was the Doctor of whom I write about. Dr. Calvin Hornstein. Wonderful!

Just to think falling with Orthopedic shoes on—those big flat heels if you know what I mean and taking off my shoe upon arriving home, my foot started to swell three times the size and the Doctor ordered ice packs immediately. Off and on, I was in bed most of the week and yet every part of my body aches from that terrific thud! A gentleman jumped out of his car to pick me up and seeing his alarm prevented me from fainting—something I never did in my life!

The Almanac predicted all this wet weather for the first part of April and now all the lawns are a beautiful green and in no time the grass will need cutting. Eh?

And this in the News-Post the other night one of their famous chukkers "MONEY MAY TALK BUT TODAY'S DOLLAR DOESN'T HAVE CENTS ENOUGH TO SAY VERY MUCH!"

Will be seeing you next week D. V. Have a good week end and always remember, folks everything that is really worth while is a little trouble in some way or other.

And Ladies dresses still remain just below the knee; I am,

Faithfully,

Your Observer.

Jaycees Making Visitations

Publicize Shrimp Feed

The members of the Taneytown Jaycees have been hard at work the past month making visitations to many of the surrounding chapters to publicize and seek support of their public Shrimp Feed coming up next week. Their "Feed" will be held next Saturday evening, April 23, in St. Joseph's Hall, Frederick St., with serving beginning at 5:00 P. M. This is the first affair of this magnitude ever attempted by Taneytown's small club, and they have been putting forth a lot of extra effort to help make it a success. Net proceeds will go to make improvements at Memorial Park including a tennis court.

Some of the visitation which have been made, with those attending, are as follows: Rockville - Crawford Banks, Glenn Bollinger, and Robert Waddell. Reisterstown - Robert Flickinger, Arthur Garvin, and John Reever. Hagerstown - Herbert Bowers, James Fair, and John Freeman. Frederick - Elwood Harner, North Carroll - Harry Dougherty, Jr., Dean Nusbäum, and Crawford Banks. Hanover - Robert Boone and Kenneth Crouse. Littlestown - Glenn Bollinger, Robert Bowers, Kenneth Crouse, and Dean Nusbäum. Gettysburg - Elwood Harner, Earl Lookingbill, and Paul Rop. Westminster - James Fair, Robert Flickinger, and George Freeman.

Elwood Harner, chairman of the general committee for the Shrimp Feed, wishes to remind all committee chairman to get final reports to him this week. The beautiful Magnavox all-inclusive Stereo-Theatre which contains a 24" TV, AM/FM Radio, and completely automatic Stereophonic Hi Fidelity Record Player, is now on display at Dougherty's Superette. This will be awarded at the Shrimp Feed.

Earl Lookingbill, chairman of the Car Wash held last Saturday, wants to express his appreciation to all of the Jaycees and towns-people for their support and help. A profit of over $50.00 was realized.

Well, Wisdom is knowing the difference between pulling your weight—and throwing it around!

Elmer A. Wolfe PTA News

The general meeting of the Elmer A. Wolfe PTA was held on April 11 with a good attendance of parents, friends and children. Rev. Donald Brake was in charge of the devotion. He read scripture from I John, then in a few words emphasized the scriptural message to rally love God, you must love your fellow-man. Rev. Brake then prayed. Mr. Paul Bowman, President, told of the P. Kamer-mans family, who have recently come to live in Union Bridge. This family is from Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Kamer-mans and children, Gerda, Dienne, Rickie, Robbie. Two of the girls sang accompanied on the accordion by their father. Mrs. Wilson Harris acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Edward Coshun. Mr. Carroll Wilhide, chairman of the nominating committee, gave the report and Mr. Bowman gave an opportunity for nominations to be made from the floor. Mr. Perron, Principal, made a few remarks. The work which has been done by the Arts and Crafts classes, taught by Mrs. (David) Ann Crumpacker Cartzenadner, was on display.

Some of the students were busy doing some of the Arts and Crafts work—they were watched by many people. The students were asked many questions. This was a wonderful meeting, a lot of interest was shown in the beautiful results of a lot of hard work. Refreshments of ice tea and cake were served by the Hospitality committee which is headed by Mrs. Harold Thomas. The halls in the old school building have been painted. The results are very pleasing in cleanliness and as well as the choice of colors.

MRS. CARROLL WILHIDE, Publicity Chairman.

Get Away From It All

Forecasts for the '60s predict more people will have more leisure time and more income above necessary living expenses. Vacations will be longer and it will be easier to get away from it all. Just introduced is a do-it-yourself "second home" or "vacation hideaway" costing less than the price of a second car. Starting from a prepared foundation, three unskilled men can erect the Forestaire in just eight hours. Roughly translated, this means the three do-it-yourselfers can begin the cottage after breakfast and finish it in time for supper. Rot-proof, easily maintained California redwood is used throughout the home by Harnischfeger, and it has special insulated roof decking.

Heaven Now

Lesson for April 17, 1960

THE CHRISTIAN life is not just a plus added to the same old life. It is not an ordinary life plus a set of good resolutions, or good intentions. It is not an ordinary life plus certain beliefs most people don't have. Tackling something new on a life which has never been changed, is not becoming a Christian. Christian life is new LIFE, new BEING. The whole thing is new, from the heart out.

Dr. Foreman

Living in Heaven Now

On the calendar we are in the midst of the Easter season. In our Bible study we are in the midst of the Sermon on the Mount. Have the two any connection? Apparently not, some would say. Easter celebrates something that happened to Jesus. The Sermon on the Mount is something for us to work out, a pattern for living. Christ ascended to heaven but we are here on earth. He lives above the sky, not in any world we could reach with a space-ship but in the spirit-world of heaven. We live under clouds, real clouds with rain in them.

In fact, living here on earth (we think) makes the Sermon on the Mount even harder to live by. If we were in heaven, now... But at that point the Apostle Paul breaks in. You are in heaven, he says. Oh, but I can't be, you say. I'm not dead even. Yes you are, he replies: "You have died, and your life is hid with Christ in God."

Life Without Sin

Paul's language is strange, but we can see what he means to say. First he was probably describing his own experience. He was a mystic by nature, and he had meditated so long on the death of Christ that he felt himself actually sharing that death. Later mystics in the history of the church have so concentrated on the sufferings of Christ on the cross that visible marks like nail-prints have appeared in their hands and feet.

However, most Christians, then and now, are not mystics. For them, Paul is speaking the language of "as-if." He is using a strong figure of speech to describe the Christian's life. It is, as it were, living the life of heaven now. If you are really one with Christ, you can think of yourself as having died and risen again and living "at the right hand of God." You are already a citizen of that better land. Live as if you were already there! One of the features of the life of heaven is that no sin is there. So Paul says to us, "Sin doesn't belong in heaven, and as a citizen of heaven it doesn't belong in your life."

Another feature of the life of heaven, the "risen" life, is freedom from the barriers set up by society (rightly or more often wrongly) in this world. What is a Social Register doing in heaven? What meaning will there be in "salary brackets" beyond the grave? Do colored skins go with colored souls? Paul refers to the most formidable barriers of his day, those between Greek and Jew, slave and free man, barbarian and civilized, and says plainly "here there cannot be" these distinctions. The Christian life, if it matches the life of heaven, must be as free from such distinctions as heaven is.

Paul mixes his figures of speech, as he very often does. Along with this picture of the Christian life as a risen, heavenly life, he pictures it as a change of clothes. We can almost hear him saying, "All right, if this heaven-picture seems far-fetched to you, let's try one you do understand. Everybody knows what it is to take off old dirty clothes and put on fresh ones. Very well; you have put off your old nature, and you have put on a new nature. (Dying and rising with Christ, he would have said, is laying aside a worn garment and taking on one that will never be worn out.) But—some one objects—does this mean we are already perfect in holiness? Not at all. Paul now puts as a command what he had just expressed as a fact: Put on compassion, kindness... and so on. And "above all these put on love."

(Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Released by Community Press Service.)

This is the year when you'll really go wild over hats. Thanks to those understanding milliners, hats, hair and ready-to-wear have entered a triple alliance that will make you more hat-minded than you've been in years.

Rosalind Russell, voted the "best hatted woman in America," says, "The new hats will truly go to your head and turn the heads of the men in your direction. You'll want a whole wardrobe of them."

If you once thought of one or two little hats to go with almost everything, you'll get over this outmoded idea fast once you see the variety of styles, fabrics and colors.

We are in complete accord with Miss Russell. When you see how much the new hats do for you... "I love hats" personality you are in each, you'll want to buy every new type you try. Begin with your suit hat since that's the first new outfit you'll wear in the Fall. You have a choice of pixie types, or derbies, hom-burgs and fedoras—but with such a feminine look you'll forget they were borrowed from the men. Very femme fatale are the ones with eye shadowing brims.

These, along with the Garbo-type slouches and high-crown cloches, are the perfect complement with the new tie-belted wrap and coachmen coats... and the longer belted jackets seen in suits and costumes. For afternoon... you'll love the way you look in the new tall pill-boxes that are so elegant. Or perhaps you'll prefer one of the high-climbing toques, spiraled turbans, or the new, Russian-inspired chechias in tall, stiff or rather softly-draped types; in fur or fur-felts.

Colors are delicious, even when subdued. There are two schools of thought... one to blend your hat with your costume, such as gold, moss green, coffee, cocoa beiges and grays with clothes of matching tonality. The other idea is to have a black, gray and all those subtle, smoky tones with white, beige or vibrant reds, purples, royal blues and turquoise. This is certainly the season to be hat-happy with every costume, on every occasion.

Family Favorites

Strawberry jam and hot buttered biscuits have been family favorites since the beginning of time—home canning time that is. But gone are the days when jam had to be boiled for hours, cooled and covered with paraffin.

The recipe on the box of biscuit mix points the way to light and flaky biscuits, and here is how you make luscious strawberry jam. It's quick and easy. Better hurry and get together the things you will need because strawberries are, or soon will be, red ripe and ready.

Strawberry Jam
4 1/2 cups prepared berries 1 box fruit pectin
7 cups sugar

Wash, drain, hull, crush and measure fully ripe berries. Put berries and pectin into a 4 to 6 quart kettle. Stir over high heat until mixture reaches a fast boil. Add sugar—keep stirring. Bring mixture to fast boil and let boil exactly one minute. Remove from heat; quickly skim off foam. Do not stir to cool. Pour boiling hot jam to within 1/2 inch of the top of half pint jars. You won't need paraffin because the Dome lid keeps the jar sealed airtight. Put lid on jar; screw band tight and invert jar. When all jars are filled and sealed, stand them upright to cool. If fruit goes to the top of jar, wait about 30 minutes and then shake jar to redistribute fruit through sirup.

Firemen's Hall to benefit the Convention fund. Expressions of sympathy be extended to Robert W. Foster for the illness of his wife and son and to Stanley W. King, whose father had that day undergone a major operation.

Homer Y. Myers, chairman of the Nominating Committee (Frank T. Dunham and Remsburg served with him) than proposed the following officers for 1960-61: For president, Gleen O. Reeve; first vice-president, David B. Shaum; second vice-president, John T. Hottinger; third vice-president, Frank O. Wagny; secretary, Kenneth C. Shorb; Lion Tamer, Donald R. Lawyer; Tail Twister, Stanley W. King; directors for two years, David C. Hilterbrick and Charles I. Little. Nominations from the floor will be received at the next meeting.

Thomas Guenne, Governor of District 22-C, and his cabinet secretary, Calvin MacMillan, were then recognized, and the former spoke a few words of greeting, expressing his pleasure at being able to visit occasionally with clubs such as Taneytown in the Western Maryland area of our multiple district.

The meeting was thereupon turned over to Lion Remsburg, who proceeded to introduce his guest, Skip Gerbich, a Shriner from Hagerstown, before presenting the evening's speaker, Dwight Morgan, native of Asheville, N. C., and presently Commander of the Anacostia Naval Air Station, Washington, D. C. Assisted by Hoyle Taylor, projectionist, Commander Morgan gave a most interesting address on "Your Navy, Your Future," illustrated by slides.

As his point of departure, he called attention to the year 1848, the year when gold was discovered in California and the Communist Manifesto issued by Karl Marx. Since 1942, more than five times as many people and twice as much land as we have in the United States have been added to the already great land mass of the Soviet Union, which is entirely a land power with completely overland communications, whereas the Free World, though protected by mutual assistance pacts among 42 different nations, is essentially an oceanic agglomeration, none of them self-sufficient, with vast sea lanes to be kept open as arteries of communication.

Though the communists have always heretofore backed down, as at Suez, Quemoy, Lebanon, Berlin, recent changes have challenged our nuclear monopoly, as when they exploded their atomic bomb, expanded their submarine force to eight times that with which Hitler dragged the earth into World War II, and now have stockpiled missiles on a great scale.

Given the Soviets' permanent goal of world domination, an unchanging geographical layout (in which the planet is roughly 70% water), we yet see a picture of rapidly changing weapons. Maintaining forces constantly on the move, the Navy's four fleets, in the Mediterranean, the Atlantic, Pacific, and Far East have proved to be stabilizing influences in the limited wars represented by Greece in 1948 and ranging through Turkey, Korea, Indo-China, Matsu-Quemoy, Suez, Jordan-Syria, Lebanon to Quemoy in 1958, but, aside from the submarines, face a Russian sea war machine of 18,000 aircraft, 28 cruisers, and 150 destroyers.

To combat it the Navy has developed first the Nautilus, then the Skate, Sea Wolf, and Sargo, with significant maneuvering beneath the Arctic ice, leading to the Tunny, which spouts the Regulus as a submarine-launched nuclear missile. It has a hunter-killer fleet and the new hydrofoil submarine chaser, expected to reach proportions of 300 feet in length and speeds of 80 knots. It has also produced the nuclear-powered George Washington class of sub, launcher of the Polaris.

Such missiles, however, used only once, expensive, cannot be recalled once sent on their mission, and have neither judgment nor discrimination. They are not the whole answer. There is the air-to-air type, such as the Side-Winder, or the air-to-surface variety, like the Bull-Pup. We even come to satellites, essential for observation, or for controlling instantaneously the globally dispersed naval components, or the bathyspherical exploration of the ocean depths, which have been termed the future bread basket of exploring birth rates.

He concluded his talk with the plea that "the decision is made by you through your Congressman. To keep the peace, we recommend that you keep the Navy strong."

Notes from The Taney Lion, club bulletin by Donald R. Lawyer, reveal that a donation of $5 was given in the Red Cross drive; monthly copies of The Lion were ordered placed in the high school library; Doctors McVaugh and Thompson's office, and Dr. Paul Roxin's waiting room; while thus far in 1960 $165.63 has been contributed to 14 persons for eye examinations and glasses.

One of the final visitations promoting Harry B. Dougherty's district governorship candidacy will be made to the Kitzmiller and Lonaconing Lions Clubs on Monday, according to Campaign Manager Remsburg.

The record hop scheduled for June has been cancelled because Buddy Deane will be out of town during that period.

Lion King will represent the club, sponsor of Taneytown's two teams, at the Frederick-Carroll Midget Baseball League meeting Friday at 8 p. m. in the New Windsor Fire Hall.

Lions are reminded to bring their bake sale donations to the Taneytown Firemen's Hall by 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, April 23, so that success may crown this final Convention fund raising effort.

For next meeting, that of Tuesday, April 26, Merwyn C. Fuss will be in charge of the program.

Meeting of Guernsey Breeders

The directors of the Carroll County Guernsey Breeders met at the County Administration Building on March 28, 1960.

Officers were elected for the coming year. They are: President, John Hull; Vice-President, Earl Beard; Secretary-Treasurer, Carl Weant; Reporter, Howard Devilbiss.

The group will again present a trophy to the 4-H or FFA boy or girl showing the champion Guernsey female at the Carroll County 4-H Fair. Awards will also be given to other winners in these classes.

A copy of the book, Portrait of Sarina, by Alfred S. Campbell, will be placed in the Davis Library for the use of the patrons of the county.

A possible sales campaign for Golden Guernsey milk in the county was discussed. This campaign will be held jointly with Kootz Creamery which is the local distributor of Golden Guernsey milk.

Plans were laid for the annual twilight meeting. This year it will be held on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Devilbiss. June 21 has been set as the tentative date.

A plan was discussed for recruiting new members for local, state, and national associations.
