LIONS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Perfect Attendance Pins Distributed

Himself a Lion, member of the neighboring Union Bridge club, the Rev. Donald C. Brake chose the ideal of service as a theme for his talk before the Taneytown Lions club last Tuesday, April 26, at Taney Inn, in a program honoring the club's past presidents presented by Merwyn C. Fuss.

President Delmar E. Riffle opened the meeting, Rev. Edmund P. Welker pronounced the invocation, and Wilbert N. Hess ably substituted for Lion Tamer John T. Hottinger, who was on a visitation trip to another club, in a period of group singing, with Harry I. Reindollar accompanying the refreshingly new songs that had been selected.

The president called up these members to receive perfect attendance pins at the hands of Secretary Kenneth C. Shorb: Lewis R. Baer, Frank T. Dunham, Kenneth R. Gilds, and David B. Shaum for five years, and Murray M. Baumgardner, Theodore F. Fair, and Wilbur O. Thomas for ten. He also expressed sympathy on behalf of the club to the family of Charles I. Little in the death of Lion Little's mother.

Reporting on the Bake sale of this past Saturday in the Firemen's building under the co-chairmanship of Raymond W. Baker and David C. Hiltbrich (assisted by Lions Fred B. Garner, Hess, Stanley W. King, and Norman R. Sauble, with Shorb and Thomas in charge of publicity), President Riffle announced proceeds of some $42 thus far to benefit the Administration fund for this District convention expenses. He urged those who were unable to contribute baked goods to hurry with their cash donations so that this activity might represent the complete cooperation of all members.

Lion Fuss, the evening's program chairman, then called upon all the club's past-presidents to stand as their names were read. In chronological order of their service in this office they are: J. H. Emmert, Merle S. Ohler, Robert E. Thomas, Robert W. Feeser, Harry B. Dougherty, Singleton E. Remsburg, Homer Y. Myers, Wilbur O. Thomas, Raymond J. Perry, J. Alfred Heltebride, Ralph W. Stonesifer, Frank T. Dunham, and the incumbent, Delmar E. Riffle. The first and third are not new members, the fifth and twelfth were visiting Lions clubs elsewhere, but the remainder were present and given a generous round of applause.

Lion Fuss thereupon presented Rev. Brake, pastor of the Union Bridge Lutheran charge, which includes Keysville and Rocky Ridge as well. He began by reading an advertisement that appeared some months ago in the Baltimore Sun warning against the tragedy of alcoholism, which takes so disproportionate a share of the nation's time, money, and health. In the line of service, it behooves an organization like Lions to consider carefully the projects to which the local club lends the approval of the Lions International name. Besides the obligation of all to glorify Almighty God, each Lion also has the duty of service to others. It is in choosing activities of the highest caliber and of the greatest good that lie the best opportunities for the most worthwhile service. "It is well for all of us," he said, "to ponder from time to time a serious question like this in addition to the fun and fellowship we get from our belonging."

The final act of the evening took place when Secretary Shorb was instructed to cast a ballot for the 1960-61 club officers, there being no additional nominations: President, Glenn O. Reeve; first vice-president, David B. Shaum; second vice-president, John T. Hottinger; third vice-president, Frank O. Wargny; secretary, Kenneth C. Shorb; Lion tamer, Donald R. Lawyer; Tail twister, Stanley W. King; directors for two years, David C. Hiltbrich and Charles I. Little.

The next meeting, that of May 10th, will be City Government Night, in charge of Lion Mayor Raymond J. Perry.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The beautiful Azalea plants are ready to burst into bloom and that will be a beautiful sight even for such a short time.

The trees are just beginning to show their tiny leaves in fact it is truly Spring bursting out all over with those colorful Phlox. That, too does not last long, but then everything that is beautiful fades in time. Eh?

Your Observer is taking Organ Lessons—wishing all down through the years. Remember? What is that famous title of the song, "Wishing on A Star"? Something like that.

Well, folks there really is nothing to write about as to the Easter parade as there were so very few out.

The Sun was terrifically hot and I could not even sit in the usual place so I sat on a bench in Wyman Park and watched the few go by.

I donned my precious pink bonnet with the pink streamers on it! (As other years). The balloonman, however was selling the balloons to a few here and there and this year there were three smaller balloons inside of a tremendous one which of course delighted the Kiddies.

I am wondering now if the Charles Street Easter parade will be gone forever—something to tell our Grandchildren about?

Even the cars seemed to be racing by as though they were going places. After my organ lesson and a little shopping plus the long walk around town, I went into Hochschild's to say, "Hello" to Miss Rytina on the 3rd floor in the Tourneau Beauty Salon.

She saw that I appeared tired and sat me down to one of those relaxing face-do's. I was startled when she was finished at the reflection in the mirror for I had dropped ten years right there! Never were any other cosmetics as fine and do so much for Milady. Don't forget, Ladies to stop by and make inquiries about that one, Miss Rytina. I compare with an artist with brush and pencil. She is so patient and kind. You will like her immediately. There is no charge, Ladies—and you will love it all. Be convinced yourself. As always which you know, I never write in this Column only from actual experience.

While in the store, I purchased one of those huge flower Sponges which can be bought in any color and also they represent different flowers and the color of your bath room. After you give yourself the grand rub down with one while in the tub, you then rinse it out and slap it right on the wall! It appears life-like and adds so much to your bathroom. Seems the bathroom is coming more and more to the front as the kitchens. Eh?

Mrs. Housewife, if you desire a meal that is something different and especially during the time you do your Spring Cleaning—make a Souffle Salmon Dish. One can of Salmon, removing all bones and skin add two cups of white sauce, parsley, salt and pepper (Continued on page eight)

There will be continuous entertainment from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m., plus displays and demonstrations in the booths. Plenty of good things to eat and drink will be available at all times. HOW TO SAVE ON TAXES

You've just paid your income taxes. Maybe you had the cash on hand, maybe you had to borrow as legions of people must each April. In either case, it's been a bitter experience.

And April will come again next year. So some advice on two ways you can save on income taxes, provided by a southern electric company, should be remembered.

The first way is the obvious one get a reliable income tax guide, study it, and list every legal deduction you can find. Ignorance of allowable deductions can needlessly cost you large amounts of money.

The second way is very different. It lies in keeping the Government out of business. That goes for the electric business and all others. Socialized business commonly pays no taxes. Additionally, they commonly account for deficits which all the taxpayers must make up. And then, to make a bad matter worse, they deprive the Government of the tax revenues that would be paid by private business if socialized business hadn't taken its place.

So let's save on our future taxes—in both these divergent ways!

GEORGE WASHINGTON AS A FARMER

The Syracuse, New York, Post-Standard recently carried an illuminating portrait of George Washington in a little-known role—that of a farmer.

Dr. Karl D. Butler, the well known agricultural economist who wrote the article, points out that: "Washington's first and true love was undoubtedly that of the land." He was a large property-owner and was keenly interested in improving and conserving the soil. And in this, as in so many other ways, the First President was far ahead of his times. Dr. Butler writes: "...he advocated the use of plows, drills and other crude forerunners of modern farm equipment. He knew well that tobacco depleted the fertility of land and advocated fertilization of the soil, but his neighbors by and large were able to buy new land cheaper than they were able to fertilize the old."

Well, times certainly have changed! Fertilization is as much a part of land management today as irrigation. And those crude pieces of equipment whose use Washington advocated have undergone a magical metamorphosis. Mechanization, in this era of sky-high labor costs, is the key to successful farming. The machines are models of efficiency, long life, low operating costs and productive ability. Equally important, they make possible and practical the conservation techniques that will save our precious and limited acreage of croplands for future generations.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

From the American Medical Association Journal: "Before the medical profession began using tranquilizers on a broad scale four years ago mental hospitals were bulging at the seams—and many still are overcrowded. Now, these drugs are enabling physicians, for the first time, to help large numbers of these patients out of the halls of uselessness and into the world of self-sufficiency. Of course, tranquilizers are not cures, but with proper use they are putting patients in a condition to accept further treatment leading to recovery."

With the present four-cent-a-gallon tax now providing $4.5 billion a year for the Federal Aid Highway Programs, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce declares that there should be no increase in the tax. It adds: "There is no immediate short-range crisis in the Program. Actually present revenue will let the program go faster in fiscal 1961 than the current year. Problems of long-range financing should await the completion of the studies and the revised estimates on the Interstate System that are to be submitted to Congress in 1961."

England's Manchester Guardian says: "Only a screwdriver can detect an atomic bomb concealed in a crate, and only a million screwdrivers wielded by an army of men could ever make sure that a county even as small as Britain had dismantled its nuclear weapons. This is what makes the disarmament proposals at Geneva seem unreal.... The discomforting impression is left—equally by the Russian and the Western proposals—that both sides continue to stage an elaborately false play. Each wants to pretend before world opinion that it is doing everything possible to secure disarmament. Neither believes that it can really be brought about."

The American Hospital Association points out that some 150,000 teenagers are busy these days proving that adolescence is not necessarily a time of delinquency. They serve as volunteers in some 5,500 American hospitals. Their duties range from counting linen to feeding patients.

Industry's policy of arbitrary retirement at 65 is slowly crumbling, according to an Industrial Relations News study. Survey of 30 major corporations revealed that 25 per cent already have instituted flexible retirement policies, and another 25 per cent make frequent exceptions to the 65-year limit.

An article in Parade Magazine quotes New York Stock Exchange President Keith Funston as saying: "While some Americans may put too great an emphasis on money for its own sake, the great bulk of our people regard it not as an end in itself, but rather as a means to such worthwhile goals as providing for their families, securing their futures and bettering their lives. The pattern of investing in recent years, on a sound and thoughtful basis, certainly bears out the fact that Americans appreciate and are anxious to work for a fuller and more productive life."

Identical bills which would peg Rural Electrification Administration interest rates at the rate currently paid by the Treasury to borrow money have been introduced by three California Congressmen. The bills also call for an administrative charge of one-fifth of one per cent of the loan.

The late President Theodore Roosevelt once said: "Americanism means the virtues of courage, honesty, justice, truth, sincerity and hardihood—the virtues that made America. The things that will destroy America are prosperity-at-any price, safety-first instead of duty-first, the love of soft living and the get-rich-quick theory of life." And former President Hoover says: "We are in the midst of an increasing moral slump, as witness the increase in major known crimes."

Proposals to deregulate the transportation industry and permit it to operate as others do under the American free enterprise system are contained in the Commerce Department's Transportation Report sent to Congress by the President. Among other things, the report says that regulation eventually should continue only where "monopoly or threat of destructive competition remains."

Big business firms will be looking for relatively fewer high-paid executives in the coming months of 1960 than was the case during the second half of 1959, according to a survey conducted by a leading management recruitment firm. The current indicated need is for about 2.5 top men per company in the next six months, as against an average of 3.2 eight months ago. The openings involved pay $10,000 to 100,000 a year.

The Tax Foundation Inc., estimates that all previous spending and taxing records seem likely to be broken this year. Total spending, by the federal, is expected to reach $156 billion, as against $134.9 billion in 1958, the last year for which official figures are available.

Councilman William P. McKinnell of Littleton, Colorado, says: "Unless we all become more active, more people with 'axes to grind' will take over government."

"PLEASE, OPERATOR, WHAT TIME IS IT?"

Every five minutes the little boy would call and ask the same question... "Please, Operator, what time is it?"

But something about the little boy's voice told Operator Lola Caldwell that this was no childish prank. Finally, she asked him to call his mother to the phone.

"She can't come to the telephone," he said. "My little sister swallowed a button this morning, and my mother had to take her to the hospital. And she told me not to dare leave the house till twenty after eight. I looked and looked, and honest, Operator, I don't see any twenty on that clock. And I'm afraid I'll miss my school bus."

"Don't worry, young man," said Mrs. Caldwell. "I'll call you when it's time to leave." At 8:20 she rang and sent the little boy off to meet his bus.

To Lola Caldwell, this was all part of a day's work. Another example of the personal interest telephone people take in their customers. This instinctive desire to help is one of the things that make your telephone service so valuable.

THE C & P TELEPHONE COMPANY OF MARYLAND
Serving You Well Is Our Business

The newest beauty custom in Hollywood this Spring is the hairdo especially designed to go hand-in-hand with hats so that they both compliment each other.

The comparison hat-do and hair-do fashion has really intrigued the movie set. To be able to wear her hats with ease and style, Angie Dickinson the pretty and popular young star of "Rachel Cade" has had her hairdresser design two different coiffures to go with her new collection of spring hats. Miss Dickinson wears a coiffure brushed high in back and fronted by a pinwheel bang that goes with two of her spring hats like ice cream goes with cake — one a sailor in crisp straw with a turned up brim and flower garland, and the other a navy halo beret banded with frosty white gro-gro.

M.G.M. star Patricia Blair has gone all out for the short-cut, a slick headhugger that curves up on each cheek in a half moon. The short-cut is a marvelous base for the high-crowned cloches and toques, light-weight and airy for summer, such as an openweave topper of stiffened chiffon bands in cool lime green or a deep-crowned, brimmed slouch in white with black polka dots. Side-swung berets in shiny black straw balance and emphasize the cheek curl, and for extreme drama there is a shallow platter of a hat, worn so that it shadows one side of the face.

To top off the hat story from Hollywood, the title of Doris Day's new film, "Please Don't Eat The Daisies" refers to the daisies decorating a black straw chapeau that is Miss Day's pride and joy in the film — and incidentally the sort of hat (perhaps minus a few daisies) that she'll be wearing all this summer to shield her fair skin from the sun and point up her blonde attractiveness.

With a whole film script built around a hat, you can bet the movie colony has gone all out for wearing pretty chapeaux on all occasions.

Tips on Touring

Women's Travel Authority

Tour With a Target

If yours is a family with school-age children, you can pack more meaning into vacation travel by touring with a target. Pick travel goals that help young people learn about the country as they see it.

Good targets for short tours this spring are festivals and seasonal celebrations.

For example:

April—Washington Daffodil Festival, Tacoma, Wash., April 4-10. National Cherry Blossom Festival, Washington, D. C., April 5-10.

May—Holiday in Dixie. Parades, military show. Shreveport, La., April 27-May 1.

Memphis Cotton Carnival. Parades, fashion shows. Memphis, Tenn., May 10-14.

June—Sports Car Hill Climb. Grandfather Mountain, N. C., June 5.

Aspen Festival. Beginning a 2-year Beethoven program. Aspen, Colo., June 21-Aug. 30.

Barnum Festival. Parade, midway, contests. Bridgeport, Conn., June 30-July 5.

Plan a festival week end as an extra vacation. All those listed here run Saturday, Sunday or both. For information on other festivals and details about celebrations scheduled for your regular vacation period, write to state chambers of commerce.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

D. M. Mehring's new store room which is to be formally opened, this Saturday, is a very cosy and convenient store; one that will surprise the average visitor, for its size and general adaptability. All departments are well stocked for the season's trade.

Mr. Francis Shaum caught a gold fish, ten inches long, in Piney Creek. It has a few dark scales on each side, but it is a perfect specimen in every way. It was caught in a net without injury, and is now on exhibition at Shaum's Meat Market.

New Automobile Laws. The new automobile law passed by the Governor and is now in force. Every person who drives a motor vehicle must secure a license from the Commissioner. The speed limit provided for in the law is 12 miles an hour in thickly settled and business sections of cities, towns and villages of the state. In the outlying districts provisions are made for 18 miles an hour, while in the country the speed is set at 25 miles.

MOTOR MAIDS

Tip Of Bonnet To Safety Friends

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

A tip of our Motor Maids' bonnet and big bouquets to a number of our favorite people—folks around the country who are doing an excellent job of making driving both fun and safe.

In Kansas, the State Highway Commission reduced left-road-at-curve fatal motor vehicle accidents in a year's time by 43 per cent—a saving of 21 lives, by changing signs along the highway. Now, instead of the driver having to hunt for them—the signs are larger, the color is different and more reflective material is used.

In metropolitan Detroit, both the Detroit Traffic Court and the suburban Dearborn Municipal Court recently fined drivers for splashing pedestrians.

In Hillsdale, N. Y., a woman driver sent this note to State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly, enclosing her operator's license which would have been valid for another year: "Having reached the age of 81 with a perfect record of safe driving, it occurs to me that it would be a nice gesture to turn in my license and retire from driving a car, voluntarily, before I might become a menace to life on the highway."

And in Alpena, Michigan, another 81-year-old surrendered his license after 45 years of driving without an accident or ticket. "I can't drive as well as I should, so I'm quitting before I hurt somebody," he wrote officials.

In Milford, Michigan, the White Lake Township Police Department has inaugurated the thoughtful policy of issuing courtesy citation tickets instead of regular violation tickets for minor first offenses. In this recreational area, Chief of Police Andy Plano and Officer Lou Marsh report the citations are well accepted and are making a big impression on drivers without causing hard feelings toward the department.

OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45
WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu.-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without beating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in! . . . Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

Chevy middleweight averages 200 miles of back roads a day dogging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crossett, Arkansas.

When God in His wisdom created the earth,
He planned in a manner so wise,
For He wanted the blessings of peace to abound
In places where earth's beauty lies.
He created high mountains, green valleys, and hills,
Great rivers and lakes and blue seas,
And there's majesty, strength, and grandeur and charm,
And much peace and beauty in these.
But God wanted perfection, so He created flowers,
And in garden their beauty we share,
For they in their loveliness glorify Him,
And His love and His peace linger there.

New Refrigerator-Freezer Your 'Supermarket' at Home

A new electric refrigerator-freezer is the homemaker's personal supermarket. Like a good supermarket, it offers savings in time, energy, and money.

Because of its large capacity, today's electric refrigerator-freezer makes it possible for a family to cut down considerably on marketing trips. The refrigerator compartment safely stores more than a week's supply of fresh foods and ample space in the freezing section helps the housewife provide year-round mealtime pleasure at bargain prices.

The working wife can eliminate tiresome daily stops at the market by stocking her refrigerator-freezer every week or so. The suburban or country family with a roomy new refrigerator-freezer saves time and car mileage—at about 10 cents a mile—and has long-term storage space for sale-priced frozen foods, home-made meals, and leftovers. By doubling recipes and freezing extra baked goods, casseroles, and even whole home-packed TV meals, the homemaker can serve better meals for less money and with greater ease.

Since modern electric refrigerator-freezer units provide greater storage capacity without taking up added floor space, they are practical for both city and country dwellers, in small kitchens or large. Many have doors that when opened do not require any more space than the actual width of the refrigerator-freezer with the doors closed.

New Car Women Will Love

Only ten feet long — half the size of the average American automobile — yet offering eight feet of interior space including seven separate cargo spaces and room for four passengers, the new imported car Austin/Morris "850" rides smoothly at 70 mph and delivers up to 45 miles on a gallon of gas.

Most women, when they think about it, are unhappily aware that most autos are designed for men. Auto makers give an ostentatious nod to the distaff side with their annual talk of paint colors and "decorator" upholstery. But the car itself is not easy for women to manage. With all its helpful power-assists, it is still a slightly fearsome monster.

Without ostentation, in fact with typical British reserve, the British Motor Corporation is offering a new car which was quite deliberately designed to appeal to women who drive, and who go shopping by car. A woman can climb into it and out without subjecting herself to undignified postures.

There is parcel space galore — not on the seats or floor but on a four-foot shelf under the dash, deep pockets on each door, two more pockets next to the rear seats, and another special innovation—fitted cargo baskets which slide under the rear seat. All this in addition to a 5 1/2 cu. ft. capacity trunk with a let-down lid for really bulky objects.

The Austin and Morris "850's, as they are called, are not only practical for shopping but also for driving out those week-end jaunts and vacations. The car is small, only ten feet end-to-end, and so can be parked where not even a "compact" car could squeeze in. It has a unique rubber suspension which gives it a soft ride. And it offers a very sensible innovation in one really vital respect. Small and easily-manueverable as the car is, it provides a full eight feet of interior space, simply by mounting the engine across the chassis under the shortened hood. There's plenty of interior room for both parcels and passengers. If the latter are children, the available polyvinyl leather-cloth upholstery will resist their wildest attacks.

In other ways too, the car was designed with women in mind. The long reach and grope for the hand-brake is eliminated, since this lever is handily placed between the front seats. Also eliminated is the familiar hump of the driveshaft tunnel which bisects the floor of most cars. Because of front-wheel drive, the floor is flat.

Budget priced at less than $1300 p.o.e. east coast, it is the lowest cost standard four passenger car on the market. Economy doesn't end there though; the car delivers an honest 40 miles per gallon at an easy cruise of 50-55 miles per hour. For getting home in a hurry, it will do upwards of 70 mph.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Fresh Vegetables Make Good Dips For Snack or Meal

RAW vegetables are a treat in themselves, but they're especially good when served with dips as a snack or an appetizer for the meal. Smart homemakers keep the carrot, celery or green pepper sticks refrigerated along with a jar or two of dipping "stuff" so the family can get their own snack.

This is the way to get the full-est vitamin count from vegetables, and at the same time savor the vegetable at its best.

Most dips are simple but appetizing combinations of cream cheese and flavorings. Try some of these and maybe you can concoct an "original" of your own, too:

Fresh vegetables are wonderful "stuff for dipping", either as a snack or as a pre-dinner appetizer with glasses of tomato juice. Celery, carrots and cauliflower are used here with pretzels around a bowl of chili-cheese dip.

Chili-Cheese Dip

(Makes 2 cups)

- 8 ounces cream cheese, softened
 - 1 1/2 ounce package dehydrated onion soup mix
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup chili sauce
- Combine all ingredients, blending well. Chill. Serve with carrot sticks, cauliflower, celery sticks or pretzels, as desired.

Cheddar Cream Dip

(Makes about 2 cups)

- 1 cup soured cream
 - 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
 - 1/2 cup catsup
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Combine all ingredients, mixing well. Serve with fresh vegetable sticks or assorted crackers and chips.

Egg-Anchovy Dip

(Makes about 1 cup)

- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 10 anchovies
 - 3 eggs, hard-cooked and peeled
 - 3 tablespoons grated cheese
 - 1 teaspoon curry powder
- Mix lemon juice with anchovies. Mash eggs and anchovies to a fine paste. Add cheese and curry, then blend in mayonnaise.

Organize Kitchen For Efficiency

Your kitchen cabinets may not have been built recently, but there are all sorts of helpers available that can be used or installed easily to give you more space, more organization.

If you have a reasonable amount of cabinet space and still can't find things easily, chances are that it's not properly stored. Check over some of the aids available and see what efficiency you can bring to the kitchen.

First, there are the dishes. Easy to get to and to put away? No? What about a handy rubber rack which will take care of three different sizes of plates and the cups as well? They take much less space than stacking the dishes in cupboards and prevent chipped dinnerware simply because they're organized.

Try Some Racks

If you can't reach serving platters or pot lids easily without juggling through everything you've got, wooden racks to give you vertical storage on the pieces are just the thing. Your handy man can build them, if necessary, from odd pieces of wood to fit right into drawers or cabinets. They save time and temper.

Metal racks can be slipped into lower cabinets to take care of lids, too. These will take advantage of the up and down space in cabinets and give you a filing system. This safe file system can also be used on shelves for casseroles, pie and cake pans, especially if they're made of wood. You should have these made so the wooden partitions can be moved into different slots to fit the different size pans.

Shelves to Fit

Deep cabinets call for other tricks to yield more space. Hanging shelves can be installed on several to hold the smaller packages.

Step-up shelves can be used to accommodate both the tall and short items, be they packages or glasses.

On the inside of the cabinet doors you can attach shelves to hold spices and flavorings or other small items. In some cases you might utilize swinging racks on the doors for these items.

PICNIC TIME IS PICTURE TIME

Chick 'n' Bacon Salad Buns and sparkling-flavored Crackly Iced Tea make any picnic a real feast. Make the salad buns well ahead of time and refrigerate them until well chilled before putting them in the basket. Special ice cubes for the tea go to the picnic in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle or bucket.

And for the surest way to preserve the fun of the picnic, capture it in snapshots, with a camera as standard equipment in the picnic basket, along with napkins, plates, and the vacuum bottles for the Tender Leaf Tea. You can keep camera and film on hand in the basket from picnic to picnic and you'll always be ready to snap away when the weather calls for outdoor eating.

CHICK 'N' BACON SALAD BUNS

- 1 1/2 cups cooked or canned chicken, cut up
- 6 crisp cooked bacon slices, crumbled
- 1 cup potato chips, crumbled
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 3 tablespoons pickle relish
- 6 frankfurter rolls
- Lettuce leaves

Lightly toss chicken with crumbled bacon and potato chips, celery, mayonnaise and pickle relish until well mixed. Use to fill split frankfurter rolls. Just before serving, tuck crisp lettuce into each roll. Makes 6 rolls.

CRACKLY ICED TEA

Turn 1 7-ounce bottle of lemon-lime carbonated beverage into each ice-cube tray and freeze. At serving time, make iced tea as follows: For 1 quart, use 6 teaspoons or 6 tea bags of Tender Leaf Tea and 1 quart of boiling water; pour water on tea and let stand 5 minutes. Remove tea or tea bags; turn beverage into vacuum bottle (or let stand at room temperature) until serving time. Then pour over lemon-lime ice cubes in hot-drink paper cups (or tall glasses). Sweeten to taste. The ice cubes "crackle" as they melt—hence the name, "Crackly" Iced Tea.

Teen-Age Triple Treat:

Cookie-Mint Deep Dish Pudding

Red, white—and chocolate! That's an unbeatable dessert combination, teen-age style, to serve whenever a party is on the calendar. For delicious proof, try a new triple treat called "Cookie-Mint Deep Dish Pudding"—a quick and easy mixture of peppermint ice cream, vanilla pudding and whole cream-filled chocolate cookies. The young guests are sure to agree it's "the mcst".

Cookie-Mint Deep Dish Pudding

- 1 11 1/2 oz. package (about 34) Hydrox Cookies
- 2 packages vanilla pudding mix (not instant)
- 2 cups milk
- 1 pint peppermint ice cream (or 1 pint vanilla or chocolate ice cream and 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract)
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Red and white striped round peppermint candies

Line the bottom and sides of an 8-inch by 8-inch by 2-inch pan with the round cream-filled chocolate cookies. Each side should be lined with 4 cookies standing on edge vertically. Combine pudding mix and milk in a saucepan. Cook over direct heat, stirring until mixture boils. Cool slightly. Beat in ice cream. Pour pudding into cookie-lined pan, being careful not to disturb arrangement of cookies. Stop pouring when pudding reaches about two-thirds of the way up the cookies lining sides of pan, to make cookie "scallop" edging. Chill. Before serving, cover top with whipped cream and decorate with a row of red and white striped peppermint candies, inserted around edges in front of stand-up cookie "scallop". Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Mrs. America's Color Remedy

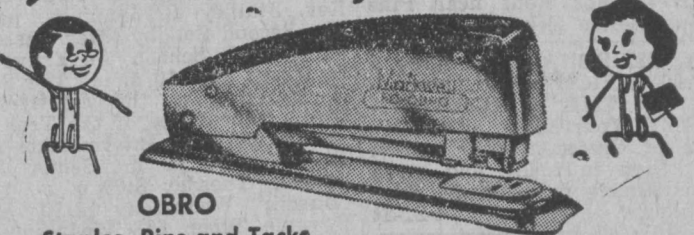

Mrs. Margaret Priebe, Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. America, says there is a way to pretty up your home that's easy, economical and almost effortless. It's decorating with color using all purpose dye and paint.

The room pictured above was originally decorated in three shades of one color, beige. Without changing the walls or carpet the basic color scheme was changed by adding gold and turquoise accents, colors taken from the striped fabric of the colonial rocker.

The draperies framing the chord organ were tinted a bright gold and the lampshade, which had been white, emerged from its color bath a light gold. Picture frames were painted turquoise. Ash trays, flowers and vase carry out the gold and turquoise color accent theme.

Simple changes such as these, which could be made in one day, can give a room an air of refreshing newness and increased enjoyment of its use.

Pure In Heart

Lesson for May 1, 1960

THERE are different words in different languages for the invisible man—that is, the man nobody sees, but everybody knows he is there. Each of us is an invisible man or woman. It isn't that we walk around with this person under our skins. We are this person. We can call it the "real you" or the "inner self" or the "ego" if we like. We can call it the mind or the spirit. What the Hebrews called it was the "heart." This did not mean emotions, it meant thought, attitudes, the whole inner, unseen life of man, that area of his life in which he is definitely human and not just another and slightly smarter animal.

Dr. Foreman

Pure In Heart

Jesus laid great emphasis on the heart; and so does the entire Bible. If the heart is not right the man is not right. Jesus has a special word for the right kind of heart: "Pure." This does not mean what you might think at a hasty glance. It does not mean—exclusively—a mind free from wrong sex desires, a heart without lust. The word Jesus uses, which is translated "pure," is simply "clean." That is, free from everything useless, everything that beclouds and besmirches life. A heart cluttered up with worries is not a pure heart, as Jesus would see it.

Yet an empty heart is not a pure heart. One of Jesus' more gruesome stories is about a devil who had been cast out of a man's heart. Finding no rest elsewhere, the evil spirit came back to his old home, and found it "empty, swept and garnished." There was room there for himself and seven other devils worse than he was... so they all moved in. The empty life is not necessarily a good life.

Pure In HEART

"Purity of heart is to will one thing," it has been said. That may be exaggerated, but it points to a truth. Purity of heart is not the absence of sin, it is the presence of goodness. Purity of heart doesn't consist of not wanting what is bad, it is wanting what is good. Why is it that for every twenty people who will tell you they're all in favor of some good project, you can scarcely find one to take off his coat and help you with it? The difference is in the heart. There is a lot of difference between the good wish (which may not be worth a hill of beans) and real good will. There is a difference between saying politely, "Yes, that is a splendid idea, I approve of it," and getting out to work to make it come true.

Jesus knew the heart's importance. People are not going to do good, or to create it, or to be good, if they don't want to in the first place. Everything that is good has many enemies in this world. So if we do not desire good with all our heart, our week-day heart as much as our Sunday-go-to-meeting heart, the enemies are going to discourage us, we shall never get going.

No Hypocrites At Home

This is the beginning of family week. Now the family is the hardest of all places to be a successful hypocrite. Jesus had no use whatever for hypocrites—they are perfect illustrations of hearts not pure. What they say they admire they don't admire; what good they do they wish they didn't have to do. They have to be dragged into the paths of righteousness, they don't choose those paths with joyful heart.

It is at home where hypocrites can be seen into, seen through. They can't hide their inner lives. The rest of the family sees into their hearts. Home is a place where hypocrisy withers. It always withers when it can be seen through. Thus a good home itself is a cure for hypocrisy. Family life at its best is a life in which every heart is open to all other hearts, where there is no place, no dark corner, for grudges to hide or for hates to begin. Blessed are the pure in heart, and blessed are the homes where they are found.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts.

—(Psalm 139:23)

When we pray to God to search our hearts, we humbly place ourselves in His hands, knowing and admitting our weakness, seeking His love and guidance and strength—seeking to know and obey His law and His will. It is only through our humility and prayer that God, ever present and willing, can enter our souls.

We are hearing lots about "stress" these days, and the troubles it causes among human beings.

Strange as it may seem, cows suffer from stress, too. Despite their placid appearance, they are subject to terrific stress at certain times in their lives. And this can lead to sickness, and to real losses for the cattle owner.

One stress disease, known as ketosis, strikes particularly hard at calving time and immediately afterward. Worst of all for the farmer, it is most likely to occur during the years when cows should reach their highest production, after the second lactation period.

Calving time is greatest danger time for ketosis disease.

The farmer who wants to guard against losses from this disease should keep watch for certain warning signs. Some cows may become excitable. Others may become depressed. All such cows will show a drop in milk production, and fail in condition.

When this happens, the important thing is to have sick animals checked immediately, so they can be restored to production with as little lost time as possible. Fortunately, the "lactation" form of ketosis can be cleared up rapidly. Veterinarians now use special types of injection, some directly into the blood stream, and cows may start showing signs of recovery within a few hours after treatment. In another form, complicated ketosis, a different approach is needed, and the underlying cause has to be determined before treatment can start.

Cattle owners, of themselves, can take several precautionary steps to help ward off the ketosis problem. These include:

Protect cows against stress conditions; provide pregnant and fresh cows with plenty of quality hay and roughage; bring cows up to maximum grain feeding as soon as possible after calving; provide comfortable quarters and ample exercise.

Ketosis occurs frequently at this time of the year, but alertness on the part of farmers can help cut losses.

and shape into a loaf and place in a square or oblong pan and place in the oven at 350°. for about 3/4 of an hour. Ummmm good! Be sure and serve pickles and pickled beets with this plus the vegetables. Lemon Meringue pie goes good with such a meal and it all is so easy.

The book called, "Don't Eat The Daisies" by Jean Kerr was not near as funny as the show at the Hippodrome with Doris Day, David Niven, Janis Page and Spring Byington. Richard Hayden, Patsy Kelly, Jack Weston, John Harding and Margaret Lindsay also takes part. Doris Day as Mrs. MacKay is the wife in the picture of a Manhattan newspaper critic and they have four children and all boys— (how well I remember three at one time for what one did not think up doing, the other did). The dog a big shaggy affair takes a big part in the play. Never was there such another dog! Doris Day really is getting more beautiful with each picture in which she stars. So if you want to see something so different and yet not exactly like the book, do go to see it for it is filled with laughter.

Did you ever stop to think—Eve is the only Gal who couldn't tell hubby Adam she could have married someone else if she had just wanted to? Start planning now, Folks for Mother's Day. Do something so different, surprise her no matter how big the trouble it may be for you for just think of all the trouble she went for all of you without one tiny murmur! Don't wait until she can't see or smell the flowers anymore! Love her and keep telling her so and you will see the most Heavenly smile light up her face.

All mothers are dear and sweet and make it sweeter for her on her special day! So long, Folks and here's to those dear Teen-agers—never do anything today or tonight for which you will be sorry tomorrow!

Have a grand week end. Will be seeing you next week D. V. I am,
