In the tomorrows of Taneytown the grass will still be green, the trees will still bear leaves, water will still flow down hill, the birds will still sing, the sun will still shine, and the rains will still fall from the heavens. Almighty and Eternal God will see to this.

But in the tomorrows of Taneytown will people continue building homes, will children continue riding their bicycles, will factory whistles continue blowing, will business continue to flourish, will the community continue on the map, will church bells continue to ring? The answer lies with the citizens of our recognized, aggressive, forward-going, onwardlooking community.

But it must be a citizenry also which is not interested only in itself glorying in the past, satisfied with its own attainments and accomplishments. Rather, every last citizen - parent and parentless, bachelor and maiden, professional and non-professional - must be greatly concerned and deeply interested in what might and could happen to Taneytown in the tomorrows if the citizenry is not vigilant. Some in high positions in our county are advocating the ridiculous and ill-advised thing of moving the Senior Class from our local high school to the Francis Scott Key School, which is most unreasonable and certainly inconsiderate. If we as citizens of Taneytown let ourselves be sold out on such a matter we can only imagine what can happen to the whole high school of Taneytown in but a few years. Mice and rats don't eat all the cheese at one time, but eventually it is all consumed! If such a matter is not seriously considered and if our community does not stand up in opposition to such an advocated proposal, the Chamber of Commerce might as well forget that it ever appointed an Industrial Committee, the Lions' Club might as well forget about providing shoes and glasses to the needy, the Kiwanis Club might as well forget about sponsoring a Key Club, the Merchants might as well forget about their improving of their business places, the Churches might as well forget about planning for the future, and Taneytown might as well forget about ever planning for another historical anniversary such as the

Here is a matter in which all should be greatly interested and concerned. And no one as a citizen of our community - as a native or as a newcomer can legitimately take an independent or neutral stand. As free Americans and as children of God we can and ought to oppose any official of the state who would endeavor to destroy our way of life when the welfare of our community, our homes, our families and our children is concerned. It is for us - all of us - to express ourselves to the representatives of the people in the office of the County Commissioners and on the Board of Education that the proposal set forth has no basis for being further considered either now or any other time in the future.

We can - all of us, not only parents of children in the school - sign the petitions which are being circulated and which very shortly will be presented before the County Commissioners and the Board of Education. If you have not been approached to sign your name, call some one with the petition and support this cause so that we might avoid a dictatorial program in our free, public education in Taneytown and continue as a community where new-comers need not be disappointed when they ask "what about the school situation" in contemplation of living here or building their homes in our community.

If you hope for and are interested in good tomorrows for Taneytown, you must act TODAY! To talk about it in September will be too late! A P.-T.A. Member

An interested citizen and parent of the town, Rev. Morgan Andreas.

THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1960 HOW HIGH CAN WAGES GO?

According to some of the current theories, there would seem to be practically no limit to how high wages can go. When wages go up so fast that they leave productivity far behind, all business has to do is add the increases to prices-say those who accept inflation as inevitable if not desirable. The idea is that the big unions are so powerful that inflationary wage demands cannot be resisted. Then, so that there will be enough money to go around at the new high levels of wages and prices the government would further inflate the money supply. All this seems simple enough, but there are a few serious flaws in it.

First, wage increases don't help much when prices have to go up along with wages-which are the bigges part of the price of almost everything. Second, the value of insurance policies, pension funds and savings keeps going down as dollars get cheaper and cheaper.

Third—and most important—a lot of people can't or won't pay the higher prices. They won't buy, or they'll buy the lower-priced foreign goods arriving here in an increasing flow. A time then comes for many an employee when last week's high wage is just a memory. For his company has been priced out of the market and he has bee npriced out of a job.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Columnist Victor Riesel quotes Vice President Nixion as saying, in an interview: "If more and more Soviet citizens could see for themselves the real status of the free American worker - or, at least, hear and read about it-if only we can find ways greatly to expand the free exchange of ideas and information and direct person-to-person contact, I think the effect would be devasting: Communist theory and Communist propaganda simply do not square with the facts of life. And I am convinced that these facts cannot be supressed forever: No Iron Curtain is proof, over the long run, against the explosive force of the very concept of freedom, or against the economic success-story of freedom-in-action."

Snack-Time Specials Come In Jars

In warm summer months everyone wants to spend time relaxing with friends on breezy outdoor patios or in air-conditioned living rooms. Of course, cooling refreshments and tasty snacks are essential for such gatherings. Here are some hints for easy summer

Almost pear-shaped, the clear glass jars have easy twist-off tops and a

The cheese spreads are available in eleven flavor varieties from Pimiento or Pineapple to Smokey or Garlic. They provide quick steps to hostess popularity. Just arrange jars of the spreads near a tray ringed with crackers and assorted tidbits. Let everyone choose his own flavor. But here's a special flavor hint:

Spread pineapple cheese spread over two slices of cannot luncheon meat, then put together sandwich fashion. Add a piain slice of meat for a top. Chill for a few minutes in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Remove and cut these double-dacker meat sandwiches crosswise into finger-length or bite size pieces. Fill celery stalks with creamy blue cheese spreads.

Cheese spreads are a boon to teen-age summer sandwich making, too-let the kids make their own.

Florida is truly wonderful with those terrazza floors, the white Magnolia trees, the huge Palm tres, the dress attire, the tanned skin on just about everyone, the "Hush Puppies" made from cornmeal served with all dinners—Ummmm good! This month marks the 25th anniversary of the 4-H Electric program sponsored by Westing-house and the Cooperative Extension Service.

From a beginning of sporadic leadership and limited information in less than half the states, the program has developed into a highly successful activity in 50 states involving trained leaders and special educational mate-

During the last 10 years, en-rollment has steadily risen from 48,000 boys and girls to the all-time high of 138,000 in 1959. Teenagers' interest in elec-tronics and engineering has undoubtedly spurred participation in the electric program, according to Extension surveys.

Next fall the top winner from each state will attend the Na-tional 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as a guest of the Westing-house Educational Foundation. The six cited for national honors will receive $400 Westinghouse scholarships.

Colonials Outsell Mode

New homes in modern varia-tions of colonial design are out-selling houses in all other styles in many parts of the country

Many builders and architects feel the reason for this enthusiastic acceptance by home buyers of the return to traditional styling is that it offers the dignity grace, and heavy that is nity, grace, and beauty that is lacking in more casual home designs

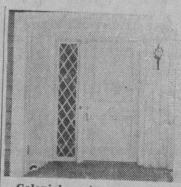

Colonial entrance adds to beauty and dignity of this home.

Double - hung windows and panel doors of ponderosa pine are available in styles that are exact replicas of doors and windows hand-made by Colonial craftsmen.

The windows come in work tripped units with a process of the colonial craftsmen. Good examples of the elestripped units with frame and sash fitted together at the factory. Panel doors also are available in units with the door prehung in its frame.

FOR STICKING SURFACES Used cardboard milk cartons

may be cut up in small sections to provide a supply of paraffin for lubricating sticking doors and windows. Just rub one of the sheets over the surface that needs lubricating.

Wide double-hung window of ponderosa pine with its slim mullions and large lower sash is duplicate of an early-American design, yet is completely modern in function.

Tips on Touring

By Caro! Lane Women's Trave! Authority

Keep Cool

If you plan to drive in hot country this summer, take these tips on keeping cool:

Start early in the morning. You can cover a lot of ground from 5 to 10 A.M. Siesta during the hottest part of the day, and drive again when it gets cooler.

Woven straw back rests and seat pads let air circulate between you and the car seat. Some porous plastic seat covers do the same thing.

Use good sun glasses. You'll mind the heat less if you cut the glare. Investigate mechanical coolers.
You can buy an evaporative cooler that clamps under the right door window. Or you can spend much more money on a car air-conditioner. (If you rent a car, get one that's already air-conditioned.) A seat cooler (about $20) that looks like a conventional seat pad contains a small fan and motor. It works off the car's battery and forces 60 cubic feet of air per minute under and behind the driver.

Finally, don't lose your temper.

Anger makes you hotter. Keep cool emotionally, and you'll be cooler physically. You'll be a safer driver,

The hest way to develop your reputation is to develop your conscience.

It is never too late to learn-or too early.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of dieting.

Cool Tea Party Suits Teen Agers For Warm Weather Entertaining

Obviously, a cool tea party calls for a cooling drink. There is nothing cooler, in either the conventional or the teen-age sense of the word, than a tall glass of iced tea. When you make it with Nestea, the 100% pure instant tea, it's even cooler—still in both

In terms of temperature, this tea is the coolest of all possible teas because it dissolves instantly in cold tap water. You can make instant iced tea anywhere there's a water supply in just 15 seconds—on the porch or at the picnic grounds—without ever going near a stove. And you can regulate its strength exactly to your taste: a rounded teaspoon to a glass of water makes average strength instant tea, but just add a little more or a little less if you like your tea some other way. senses of the word.

In terms of teen-agers, Nestea is cool because it's an easy, doit-yourself drink that pleases the whole gang and fits in with a cooperative party. Somebody brings the rolls, somebody else brings the hamburger meat, somebody brings the cake, and so on and the hostess provides a big pitcher of tea. That lets the hostess off with an easy assignment, because she can make a pitcher of instant tea in seconds. Besides the refreshments, what else does it take to make a cool tea party? Records, of course. And, like the refreshments, the records should be provided cooperatively. Let every guest bring a few favorites. That way, each member of the party will get a chance to bear what he likes best. If the group feels like dancing, so much the better. As a teen-ager might put it, the joint will be imming.

Dessert Sauce-Easy And Versatile

This glamourous dessert sauce is easy to make because of a dessert topping mix that is prepared simply by adding milk and whipping 2 or 3 minutes. Used here on a steamed chocolate pudding, the sauce is also excellent on fruit desserts, cakes and

COFFEE REFRESHMENTS MADE INSTANTLY

Afternoon or evening callers will be most appreciative when welcomed with tiny, mocha-flavored cream puffs and refreshing Viennese-Style Iced Coffee. Both the puffs and the beverage obtain their rich, fresh-brewed coffee flavor from Chase & Sanborn's wonderful new instant coffee with pure coffee nectar — the elusive natural coffee essence that has been missing in instant coffees. The Viennese coffee is simply iced coffee topped with whipped cream that's been flavored with a dash of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

MOCHA CREAM PUFFS

1 package cream puff mix ½ pint (1 cup) heavy cream 1 cup cold milk

2 teaspoons instant coffee 1 package instant vanilla pudding

Prepare and bake cream puff mix according to package directions. Drop mixture by teaspoonfuls to make 3 dozen small puffs. Make a slit in side of each puff. Cool. Combine cream and milk in a mixing bowl. Add instant coffee and puddiag. Beat with a rotary beater until well mixed, about one minute. Let stand until slightly thickened, then beat until smooth. Fill cream puffs with mixture, using a pastry bag fitted with a large plain tube. Chill. Before serving, if desired, frost with a thin icing made by blending confectioners' sugar and instant coffee with enough milk or water to make a spreadable consistency. Makes 3 dozen tiny puffs.

A New Image of Thrift

Mrs. Vivian Ackerman had looked into her mirror hundreds of times since she was a little girl, but this was the first time she had seen the image of "Mrs. United States Savings Bonds of 1961." The Tucson, Arizona, housewife won the coveted title over 52 competitors in the "Mrs. America" finals at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last week. As the Treasury's leading women's volunteer during the next 12 months, she will spend part of her time touring the country in the promotion of Savings Bonds and Savings Stamps. The attractive brunette is the mother of three children. Her husband, Harry, is County Attorney for Pima County, Arizona. Mrs. Ackerman succeeds Mrs. Jean Lemons of Wichita, Kansas, "Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds of 1960."

Social Justice

Lesson for July 10, 1960

THE CHRISTIAN religion is I said to be a religion of love, and so it is. It is love that makes it beautiful and gives it meaning. But just as the beauty and meaning of literature is built on the humble foundation of the alphabet, just as the beauty and the security of a house go down to the unseen foundations, so love itself is a stammering weak thing if it is not built on the foundation of justice. Love without justice is sloppy Dr. Foreman sentimentality, it is double-talk, it is drivel. Social Justice

God's prophets, whose writings are part of the Christian Bible, were interested in social justice. They were interested because God was interested. People who think that social justice is no affair of religion at all, either haven't read the prophets, or really don't believe them. Let us get straight what "social justice" is. It has nothing to do with socialism, or with social affairs as written up for the society pages. It is different from political or legal justice. (These two, of course, should also be a concern of Christians.) An example of political justice would be giving major parties equal time on the radio and TV. An example of legal justice would be getting paid a fair price for land the government has taken for a highway.

Social justice is broader and more basic than that. In a word, it means fair treatment all around. It does not mean treating everybody exactly alike, because people's needs are not always the same. But it does mean giving everybody a "fair shake," an honest deal; it means not handicapping people for "reasons" that make no difference. It means giving every one a chance to develop all he's got.

In the time of the prohpet Amos. the people who needed social justice and were not getting it were the poor. He speaks of them, and of the Israelites' mistreatment of them, over and over. They were cheated out of justice in the courts because they could not afford to offer the handsome bribes that richer people gave. They were cheated in the marketplace because the merchants used dishonest weights and measures. They had no one to speak for them-no one but the God who spoke through his prophets.

Social justice now also is often needed by the poor. Discrimination -a fancy word for unfairness-is practiced also against racial groups-Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Chinese and others. But the poor, of all races, always need help. For example, housing projects are not a way of wasting the taxpayers' money. They are a way of helping people live in humanly decent surroundings. There is a city which is the capital of one of the states of the Union. In it there is a slum that can be seen by any visitor to town. The city has had a slum clearance authorized now for some years; but they are doing little about it. Why? It is against the law to move a family out of the most rotten tenement except into a better house. But most of the people who live in that particular slum can't afford to move. So there they sit.

Backlash of Injustice

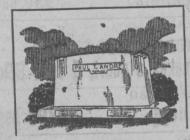

Amos told his people that unless they paid more attention to the welfare of the bottom layers of society, the whole country would not only suffer-it would be destroyed. Social injustice is always self-destructive. Consider only one modern example. Here in America we need educated leadership scientists, thinkers, men of trained minds and skills. One of the reasons we do not get enough of them is that (as studies have designstrated) many capable young people do not have the money 307 an education. Some who have the capacity never show it, for the simple reason that their homework in high schools has to be done in crowded, leaky, insanitary "homes" where you could hardly raise a prize pig, let alone a prize boy. Every time we in America, for reasons of poverty, or race or any other reason, deny a good education to young people who could take it, we are weakening our country by just "hat much.

SOUND ADDS FUN TO VACATION MOVIES

About 900 million feet of 8mm movie film will be exposed this summer by vacationing Americans all over the world. This means that this fall there will be about 24 million neighbors being bored to tears by having to sit through their friends' vacation movies.

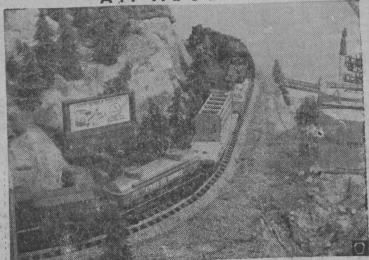

The tragedy of this situation is that vacation movies need not be boring any more. Even the most amateurish attempt at home movies can be made more interesting by adding sound — music, sound-effects and commentary — to 8mm film with the Bolex Sonorizer. The Sonorizer is a magnetic sound recording and playback unit with which sound can be added to film the professional way— after all poorly exposed shots have been cut out, titles added and the various scenes arranged and edited into proper sequence.

The unit records sound on a thin magnetic stripe which is applied by the photo dealer to the edge of the film outside the sprocket holes, after the film is processed and edited.

Available currently at franchised dealers, the Sonorizer comes complete in a compact two-piece case which separates into the loudspeaker unit and the amplifier section. The top of the amplifier is flat to accommodate the Bolex 8mm projector or most all other 8mm projectors. The film is threaded first through the Sonorizer soundhead, then through the projector in the normal manner.
The first time the film is run through the unit the musical background can be recorded. Then, on a second run-through, sound-effects and the commentary may be superimposed, or overplayed at the touch of a "trick" button on the unit's microphone or on the remote control button. When this button is depressed the originally recorded music fades down automatically to a low background level, so the sound-effect or level, so the sound-effect or commentary can be heard at full volume. When the button is released the music again automatically comes up to
