Lions Meet

Lion Harry O. Smith, Walkersville high school principal, talked movingly before Taneytown Lions on some problems in America today and what we can do about them. The meeting was called to order by President Glenn O. Reeve in Taney Inn at 6:29 p.m. on Tuesday, November 8, Lion the Rev. Edmund P. Welker invoked a divine blessing, and all united in the National Anthem and Pledge to the Flag, after which Lion tamer Donald R. Lawler led group singing to the piano accompaniment of Harry I. Reindollar. In honor of Delmar E. Riffe, who was present, the Marines hymn was sung, as well as "Sweet Rosie O'Grady", both never before attempted.

Following a luscious roast beef dinner topped off with pumpkin pie from the Inn's excellent kitchen, Tail twister Stanley W. King made himself appropriately obnoxious by his baseless and indiscriminate fines, while Convention committeemen David C. Hiltbrich, chairman, J. Alfred Heltebride, and Merle S. Ohler continued their fund drive on behalf of next May's Atlantic City expenses.

The president recognized Lions Charles Swomley and Walter Zimmerman, who, with the speaker, constituted a visitation team from the Glade Valley club. David B. Shaum reported that only 55 fruit cakes had as yet been picked up, while Chairman Singleton E. Remsburg reported that calendars were also ready for delivery by solicitors to the patrons who had purchased them in August and September. Four tickets are still available for the Taneytown Jaycee Youth Night in the Inn Thursday, November 10, while for Saturday, the 19th, it was announced that New Windsor Lions were holding a public dance with music by Gene Frock.

Speaking at the invitation of the evening's program chairman, Lion Murray M. Baumgardner, who introduced him as a former baseball champion as well as a United Churchman, Principal Smith, this Veterans' Day orator, noted the increase in alcoholism, the role that vice plays in civic affairs, a sloughing off of moral integrity as evidenced by bribery and embezzlement, and that philosophy which is exemplified by phrases such as "I just don't care" or "Let the government do it".

Posing the question, "What are we going to do about it?", he said first that "I can do something about it". After 27 millions of dollars and seven years' work, du Pont had only a little bit of string a few inches long and wondered what they should call it. They named it nylon, and it appears to be doing all right. Paul Litchfield, of the firm that boasts "the greatest name in rubber", began about 1900 in a small company that today has 50,000 employees in 16 countries. Three presidents were elected by one electoral vote. They are examples where one individual or one organization decided he could do something in this American land of opportunity.

A second important consideration is pinpointing the problem, having the right information, knowing how much is subversively tinged, realizing who our opponents are. "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance," else we might "sell our birthright for a mess of pottage". We are smart people, who can make atom bombs, but just as, though we speak all languages, we can lie in each of them, so we must decide of what use is our knowledge. Peter Marshall once said, "If you stand for nothing, you are apt to fall for anything". The Garden of Eden could be tomorrow if we wanted it. It takes recognition, desire, drive, determination.

Thirdly, if you are to do something about it, you have to pay the price for what you want. When you want a job of work done, you hunt the busiest person you can find, for he is the kind who is dedicated to his work. When the chips are down, a Jew is a Jew—many times he could have eased his lot, but he was willing to pay the price. What are the principles we are going to hold on to, that we are not going to release? Stephen Foster, who wrote some of our best loved melodies, was a drunkard. Who can tell, had he been sober, whether we should not have had seven times as many enchanting songs? Ty Cobb was a player who practiced while others relaxed, who never lost that determination to win. Florence Nightingale did the impossible in the Crimea by transforming the medical and hospital services there where women of any condition were unheard of, to say nothing of those with position and privilege. The men on those battlefields came to kiss the shadow of that lady with the light. Thus what price are we willing to pay? Concluding, Mr. Smith observed, "This game is only played once. America is a great place to live, but it will live only as long as her sons and daughters are willing to work for her, if need be, to die. A nation dies when her sons and daughters refuse to make the sacrifice for it."

The next meeting of Taneytown Lions will be that of Tuesday, November 22, to be followed by the regular quarterly zone meeting for near-by presidents and secretaries. This same evening Frederick will celebrate their charter night and anniversary in the Francis Scott Key hotel, while at Taneytown Authur Moats, Roaring Run representative, will introduce a public speaking idea that their club has.

Just remember that most of this world's useful work is done by people who are pressed for time or are tired, or don't feel well. There's only one way to get a job done—just shove yourself up against it and do it!

It isn't quite fair these days to ask a man if his wife is a blonde—he may have to go home to find out.

FLUORIDATION IS CONTROVERSIAL

Both Sides of Question is Being Debated

Fluoridation is no longer in the pioneering experimental stage. The procedure now has the indorsement of such organizations as the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, the American Public Health Association, the medical and dental association of practically every State of the United States and Province of Canada. Dr. George F. Lull, Secretary and General Manager of the American Medical Association, states that "both the American Medical Association Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry and the American Medical Association Council on Food and Nutrition have expressed themselves definitely to the effect that they indorse this public health measure and that it is safe."

However, despite the overwhelming evidence that fluoridation of public water supplies is a safe, effective, and economical procedure aimed at reducing tooth decay, there is still sufficient opposition from uniformed pressure groups to prevent its acceptance by many city officials, thereby denying the people the benefits of what has been described as the greatest public health advance in the past 25 years.

It should be pointed out to opponents of the procedure and to many who are doubtful that fluoridation of public water supplies as a public health measure has been as thoroughly investigated as any public health measure.

Mayor and City Council Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council, Taneytown, was held Monday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p. m. with all members in attendance.

The Treasurers report was given as follows: Receipts $11,849.84; Expenditures $8,431.53; Balance $1,322.73; Parking Meter Fund Balance $2,671.42.

It was decided to immediately enforce the ordinance requiring sewer hook-up, and require those persons who have not yet complied with the provisions thereof to do so. The Clerk was directed to take the necessary steps to insure compliance.

The traffic situation along Blue Ridge Avenue was discussed. A request has been made of the Council to take action to prevent speeding and reckless driving which has been occurring while Cambridge Rubber personnel are leaving the factory both at noon time and at the end of the day. The danger to persons walking is most obvious. The Town Policeman has been instructed to keep an eye on this situation and in addition it was recommended that the Council establish a permanent 15 MPH zone along the entire length of Blue Ridge Avenue. The Mayor was empowered to implement this action after first making sure of its legality.

It was noted that cars are parking all day long on York Street from Keefers Esso Station to Southern States Co-Op. This is creating a hazardous traffic situation. In order to correct the situation, the Council voted to extend three hour parking along the area involved.

Numerous other routine matters of little or no interest to the public were handled.

The meeting was presided over, in the usual manner, by its President Thomas Albright. After group singing which was led by Wallace Reindollar, with Mrs. George Harner at the piano, all of the members and their guests were invited to Rainbow Park Dance Hall by Mr. Crouse for an evening of entertainment.

Guests to the meeting included Chaplin, Lt. Ray Davis of Ft. Hollabird and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winsett, Westminster, Mr. Eugene McCaffrey and Miss Ruth Poole, of Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers Hall New Windsor, Md., Mr. and Mrs. George P. "SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning.
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth: I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The heavy wet leaves have been raked together and the lawns are clear once again. The air now is crisp which has the atmosphere of Thanksgiving.

The children were very disappointed, no doubt about the rain for Halloween when they go out for "Trick or Treat" although all the porch lights were on ready to receive them. HOW HISTORY WAS MADE

In an article on Henry Ford the last he ever wrote and which appears in the Vanadium Corporation's "Vancom Review" which he once edited, the late Victor H. Scales sounded the following nostalgic, if Statistical, note: "In 1909 the (Model T Ford) touring cars sold for $850. The price went to $950 in 1910, but thereafter was reduced annually. By 1916 the Model T touring car sold for $260 and the runabout for $345. A stripped economy model retailed for as little as $290."

It should be added however, that this was before Henry established his famous $5 minimum daily wage . . . and a long, long time before Walter Reuther.—U. S. Press Association.

LET'S CAN PEACHES

Home canning does not have to be an endless tiring experience. With a little planning ahead you will be surprised at how easy it goes and how rewarding it is when you see your shelves lined with jars of fresh fruit. Before starting be sure to read carefully the directions for the food you are canning. When doing peaches or other fruits that turn brown for example, be sure to have Fruit-Fresh, an ascorbic-acid mixture, on hand to keep the fruit bright. Use it during the preparation of the fruit and also be sure to add it to the syrup.

First wash jars and lids in hot soapy water. Rins. Then make a medium syrup as follows:
Measure 3 cups sugar and 4 cups water into a saucepan. Cook until sugar dissolves. Add 1 teaspoon Fruit-Fresh per cup of syrup. This will prevent the fruit from turning brown. Keep syrup hot. Yield 5 1/2 cups. Each quart of fruit will need 1 to 1 1/2 cups of syrup.

Select firm ripe peaches. Dip peaches in boiling water to loosen skins, then plunge into cold water. Drain. Cut peaches in half; pit and peel. To prevent fruit from darkening during the preparation, drop the peeled halves into ascorbic-acid mixture using 3 tablespoons Fruit-Fresh to 2 quarts of water. Pack peach halves in jars, cavity-side down with layers overlapping. Leave 1/2 inch head space. Cover with hot syrup. Run knife around inside of jar to remove air bubbles and add extra syrup to cover peach halves if necessary. Adjust jar lids according to directions for specific type used. Wipe off jar. Process in a boiling water bath 25 to 30 minutes. (If you use a pressure cooker follow directions for specific cooker.) When using a water bath canner stand filled jars on rack in hot water. Add enough water to cover jars at least one inch. Put cover on canner and bring water to a boil. Start counting processing time when water comes to a rolling boil. Remove containers immediately when processing time is finished. When cool, label and store.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The election in Taneytown district was very quiet the vote cast being 116 short of the registered vote, the shortage being about equitably divided between the two parties.

A Democratic Victory. Republicans Lose Congress and Governors in several States. The result of the election in general was not much of a surprise to anybody, as it was generally conceded that the Democratic party this year would profit from Republican division and dissension.

Outlives Her Own Life Insurance Policy

Minnie B. Butters, 98, of Livermore Falls, Maine, outlived life insurance statisticians by living longer than her normal life expectancy. She is shown receiving full payment of her policy proceeds from Howard S. Jones, district manager for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mrs. Butters forgot she had such a policy until the company, after weeks of investigation, located her and paid the proceeds in full.

Officials of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company heaved a sigh of relief recently when, after weeks of investigation, they were able to pay off on a policy issued in 1899. Recipient of the proceeds was hale and hearty Minnie B. Butters of Livermore Falls, Maine — age 98.

It seems that Mrs. Butters took out a policy on her own life at age 26, and made premium payments on it until it was fully paid-up in 1936.

Meanwhile she moved away, and the idea of notifying the insurance company inadvertently slipped her mind. As a result, the John Hancock, conscientious though it was, lost track of her whereabouts.

Early this year, the company's claim department noted that Mrs. Butters would soon have outlived her life insurance policy, and would be entitled to full payment in February, 1960. Immediately an investigation was launched to locate her.

Pouring over records in the city of Haverhill, the company's representative uncovered the fact that Mrs. Butters' husband had come from Livermore Falls. Acting on this clue, they sent an investigator off to Maine, and shortly afterwards this claim-minded Sherlock Holmes discovered the widowed Mrs. Butters living happily at the home of a married daughter.

Howard S. Jones of Lewiston, the company's district manager, hastened to present Mrs. Butters' $200 check.

Not only the arrival of Jones, but the amount of the check surprised Mrs. Butters. The original value of the policy was $162, but subsequent benefits and a settlement dividend not in effect when the policy was issued, swelled its value by $38.

Asked what she intended to do with the proceeds, Mrs. Butters replied that she would hang on to them. She extended Jones an invitation to come back and see her in a few years. Maybe he'll sell her another policy.

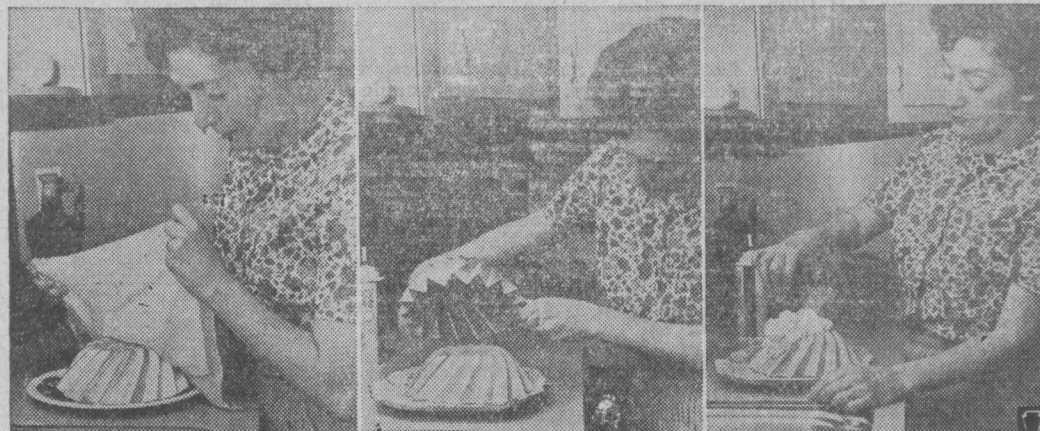

Housewife Makes Soft Ice Cream Party Molds

Dessert preparations start by filling the mold with soft ice cream from the Jolly Roger mobile unit that stops at Mrs. Housewife's door.

Soft ice cream is tamped down into mold to insure symmetry before freezing. Soft ice cream lends itself well to the sort of dessert preparation.

Filled mold is placed in freezer. Freezing time: 45 minutes. Smaller molds filled with soft ice cream require less time—approximately 30 minutes.

After 45 minutes in freezer, mold is removed and hot towel frees contents from mold. This prevents contents from breaking unevenly from mold.

Frozen ice cream moves easily from mold to smooth-surfaced plate. Now Mrs. Housewife can begin to use prepared toppings and other decorations.

Maraschino cherry and frosty whipped cream top off the family's latest taste treat which is now ready for serving. Dad and kids will love it.

Mom—like to hear a dessert suggestion that will convince Dad and the kids that you're the cleverest mother in town? Freeze soft ice cream in molds of various shapes and forms. It's quick and easy when candy-striped mobile trucks bring the ice cream right to your home. In addition to steps pictured, Jolly Roger Dairy Products, Inc., makers and franchisers of the mobile units, offer these suggestions:

1. Purchase soft ice cream in containers and spoon it into small molds. Bring large molds to the friendly and helpful driver who'll fill them at the truck.
2. Allow filled molds to sit in the kitchen for a few moments before freezing, so melting ice cream can fill them solidly.

You've never driven a heavy-weight that handled like this one!

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD, LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier, and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on. CHEVROLET

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

CORVAIR—Side doors open a full 49" wide. Loading height is a low 14" lift!

Versatility aplenty in 1961 Corvaire Greenbrier Sports Wagon

Chevrolet will raise the lid on a real surprise package when they reveal the 1961 Greenbrier Sports Wagon. A promising addition to the Corvaire line is this 95-inch wheelbase vehicle with rear-installed engine and independent suspension.

The Greenbrier is certain to fit transportation needs from backwoods camps to swank hotels. Seats may be repositioned to fit specialized requirements. There also is a commercial counterpart—a delivery vehicle named the Corvan.

states: "Now winter's cold hand descends on the land. Don't rely on a sky. Nothing could be dumber than a cold Indian Summer. Rain, snow, sleet (from the 20th on) and wind, little wonder Adam sinned!"

"Song without End" the story of Liszt, the great Musician shown at the Mayfair theatre is truly filled with glitter and splendor of the 19th century. Dick Bogarde portrays the well known pianist and composer and plays the part beautifully. What practice it must have taken as he sits at the piano each time to memorize the keyboard motions with his fingers before the camera with the sound coming from the piano by Jorge Bolet, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra and the Roger Wagner Chorus. One is astounded sitting there never dreaming that it all was not performed by Dick Bogarde. Betcha, it will bring one of those Oscars! Filmed in authentic Continental settings, the picture is the story of the many love affairs of this Musician especially of the two biggest affairs he had in his life. The one affair is with the new and charming French actress, Capucine. She will continue to grow with the American public, I am sure of that one. There is a slight resemblance to Joan Crawford. The story ends that he gives up his musical career to join a religious order. The coloring is truly magnificent. One really can imagine they are sitting in the Opera House. It is a two hour show and those two hours moved like lightning due to one's interest in the fine music by Liszt.

In a big apartment house being finished in Philadelphia where washing machines have been placed in all kitchens, they request the owners of each apartment only to use "DUZ" or "ALL"! And that so they stated would not affect the mechanism. So all that advertising must be a fact about those two products.

Gentlemen, when you purchase your next suit be sure a vest comes along with it for they are now all the rage again. Any man appears fully dressed with one of those necessary items and they are chucked full of style.

Purchasing a snow shovel at Sears the other day and carrying it out with me, many people simply stared and a number saying, "Lady, is it going to snow?" I quickly replied, "Why, sure it will this winter and I do want to be prepared!"

Yesterday afternoon, I called on a lady in the Longreen Nursing Home and when she introduced me to another lady who had just come to the home the other day—this lady said grabbing my hands and holding tight, "Oh, is this the Mrs. Love who writes the column for The Carroll Record?" I smiled and with a nod of my head she continued, "Oh, Mrs. Love I have been waiting to meet you for years and you look like just what I expected! I am Mrs. William George Buckley!" There were other sweet words and we had quite a little chat. She is a very beautiful woman and will be at the home two more weeks during which time I hope to see her again. What a beautiful girl she must have been! She had the paper right there with her! Imogene Coca would say, "Small world!" Meeting someone right from Carroll County in that Nursing Home.

Did you know that The Maryland State House was once the Capitol of The United States and that no other State House ever was? It is the oldest one now in use. It was started in 1772 and was used all down through the years. A newer part was added 50 years ago. The new part consists of two great rooms where the laws of Maryland are made today. More than 85,000 people come yearly to visit this building! And in the old part of the State Building, the floor is made with wooden pegs instead of nails! That would be a good treat for the pupils of any grade to visit and one big day of education!

Have a grand week end, Folks and if you have any child in your home who is talented for the organ by all means give that as a gift for Christmas. The grand concern to deal with is The Hammond Studios—524 North Charles—right near the Washington Monument. You will say that is the best thing you ever did. My 11th lesson—"My Heart—at The Sound of Thy Sweet Voice!" And don't settle for less than a two Manual affair. Hammond is the only organ which does not go out of tune.

Be seeing you next week D. V. I am Faithfully,

measure ever proposed. It should also be emphasized that fluorine is not a synthetic element, but an element which occurs naturally in the water supply of many communities and that the residents of these communities for generations have been drinking the water with no ill effects.

On June 12, 1956, the Committee to Protect Our Children's Teeth, Inc., 105 East 22nd Street, New York 10, New York, released a news article which launched a campaign to spur water fluoridation in New York City. The chairman of the Committee, Dr. Benjamin Spock, the well-known authority on child development, said: "The campaign will concentrate on New York City, where the Board of Health has recommended the measure repeatedly but persons in many parts of the country are joining the committee because New York's decision will be pivotal and perhaps decisive in advancing the measure across the country."

The principal objection offered to fluoridation is that it is injurious to health and that it has dangerous effects. No one is better able to dispel these fears than the family physician, who is now in a strong position to defend the safety of the procedure with ample scientific information for support. Opponents have no valid evidence to support the claims that the procedure has dangerous effects.

The following statement appeared in The Baltimore Sun, May 12, 1959 Issue NOT ONLY FLUORINE

From time to time criticism of the addition of fluorine to public water supplies arises, as witness a recent outburst of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The suggestion has even been made that a public referendum be held, echoing a similar proposal in New York. Lest anyone forget, though, other things that in or taken out of our water besides fluosilicic acid.

Copper sulphate is added to the distribution reservoirs to kill algae, which let alone, would make the water look, taste and smell in unpalatable ways.

Chlorine is used at two stages. In the reservoirs it kills bacteria and removes manganese, a product of the old tree stumps and logs along the bottom that would blacken hands and clothes if allowed to remain in the water supply. At the distribution end, chlorine is the germkiller that assures the purity of the final product.

Aluminum sulphate is added prior to filtration to form floc, to which impurities cling, thereby eliminating turbidity and algae.

Chemically treated sand is used in the filtration itself, a process that eliminates any matter held in solution—floc, bacteria, algae and the tiny particles of flora and fauna.

Lime becomes an additive after filtration to achieve a neutral condition between acidity and alkalinity.

Fluosilicic acid, commonly called fluorine, is put in to bring the amount that occurs naturally in Baltimore's water up to one part per million, which is less than the amount in some natural water supplies but enough to have the desired effect in curbing dental caries.

All of the above-named additives are harmful to humans in too large doses. Chlorine, for instance, was best known during World War I as a dreaded poison gas. The chemicals and filtration are utilized because in an urban area the so called God's water is laden with silt from fields and barnyards, sewage, bacteria, plant life, fish remains, industrial waste and other disease-bearing or distasteful material.

If a demand for a referendum on fluorine were made, logic might compel a similar vote on whether Baltimoreans want their water treated with the other chemicals now in use or even filtered. The use of fluoride is no more of a threat to an individual's personal freedom to acquire dental cavities than chlorine is a threat to a person's right to get typhoid.

THE STATUS OF FLUORIDATION IN MARYLAND

With nearly 75 per cent of its population now using water containing fluorides, Maryland leads all states in acceptance of this dental health measure to reduce tooth decay, the most prevalent of all human diseases.

Areas in Maryland served by public water supplies to which controlled amounts of fluorides are added as a dental health measure are as follows: Hagerstown, Washington Suburban Sanitary District, Bel Air, Annapolis, Frederick, Bainbridge Naval Training Station, Patuxent Naval Air Station, Snow Hill, Army Chemical Center-Edgewood, Rockville, Salisbury, Baltimore City & Metropolitan Area and Westminster. There are nine areas with a natural fluoride content they are: Cambridge, Crisfield, Denton, Indian Head, La Plata, Oxford, Potomac Heights, Secretary, and Vienna.

Surely if a city such as Baltimore that has doctors that are known to the world over have found fluorine to be harmless, how can we here in Taneytown say that it is. Before you decide about fluoridation have a talk with your family doctor and/or dentist, then make your decision.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It is impossible to sit passively and allow an article as filled with ambiguities as the one in last week's Carroll Record to affect the thinking of citizens of Taneytown.

The first major false assumption in the article was that the lethal properties of the gas fluorine were also the properties of the chemical to be added to water supplies. If you will recall some elementary chemistry, you know that elements lose their properties when combined to form a compound. The chemical to be added is a salt, sodium fluoride, which does not have the lethal properties of fluorine gas. The salt is added in extremely dilute form, one part per million.

A reference was made, which is true, that tea contains large quantities of fluorine. Relating this to other parts of the article one might believe that drinking tea will cause hardening of the bones, mottled teeth, new diseases and bones that break spontaneously.

Another argument in last week's article, I am certain, included by mistake, referred to the oxidizing property of fluorine. The article stated steel wool bursts into flame under a jet of fluorine gas. Please remember, also, that steel wool will likewise burn under a jet of oxygen or a jet of chlorine. Yet we safely ingest great quantities of both these elements with no ill effects.

In the councilman's case where sources were acknowledged none can compare with authorities such as the American Dental Association, the American Medical Association and related organizations. Our local dentists and health officials are in a position to advise us honestly regarding this matter. They have had first hand experience and training while the rest of us must depend upon what we read. This too often is written to reflect an individuals opinion rather than true facts. Get your doctor's and your dentist's advice.

In the article last week, the councilman was not, I hope, expressing his official position as a councilman. This is an elected position which makes him responsible to promote the wishes of the majority of citizens.

World Community Day Service Held in Presbyterian Church

The World Community Day Service was held Friday evening last in the United Presbyterian Church. About sixty people attended. Mrs. Glenn Reeve was chairman. The host pastor, Rev. William M. Hendricks, opened with prayer after which Mrs. Reeve led the responses in the program, "Christian Action for Freedom". Mrs. Chester Neal read Psalm 46. The choir of the host church sang the anthem "God So Loved the World", by Shawker.

The main feature of the program was a dramatization, "A World Made Free". Mrs. George Motter, moderator, introduced the readers who were dressed in costumes suggestive of the countries which they represented. Mrs. George Naylor as Senora Eliana de Galderson, Chile, spoke of work to relieve poverty and hunger in Chile and East Pakistan by Church World Service and of the service rendered by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations in Thailand and Greece, and many countries devastated by war.

Mrs. Anna Morelock, as Miss Gettie Samuel, India, spoke of efforts to blot out illiteracy in India and Northern Rhodesia, and of the work of UNESCO in Ethiopia and Haiti.

The third reader, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, portrayed the part of Sister Marie Madeline Handy, Cameroon. She told of medical work carried on by the World Council of Churches in Ghana and Burma and of World Health Organization work in Taiwan and the Philippines.

As the various countries were named, the moderator placed colored ribbons on a large map of the world. The offering for the service was $36.25. Also four white covered baskets containing the material gifts were carried to the altar by the ushers, Miss Liza Carpenter and Mrs. Ray Crumbacker. The weight of these gifts were approximately ninety pounds.

After the dedication of the offerings, the Service was concluded by singing the hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West". The Benediction was pronounced by the Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Norville P. Shoemaker were honored at a dinner party at Taney Inn, Taneytown, Md., on Saturday evening, November 5, in commemoration of their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Table decorations included a four-tier wedding cake and an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums. Dinner music was furnished by Thomas Kearney, Jr., at the piano. Mrs. Shoemaker's sister, Mrs. Bessie Bullock, who was the maid of honor at her wedding, was an honored guest. Mrs. Andrew Bigham received and presented the guests. Those attending were from Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and California.

The invocation was given by Rev. S. R. Weybright. The toastmaster for the occasion was N. Eugene Shoemaker, Sr., who spoke for the children. Daniel P. Shoemaker gave congratulatory remarks for the grandchildren. Tommy, Kimberly and Danni-Jean Kearney, who represented the great-grandchildren, presented original verses and sang several appropriate songs. Following this part of the program, colored slides were projected showing the family activities in recent years.

states: "Now winter's cold hand descends on the land. Don't rely on a fair sky. Nothing could be dumber than a cold Indian Summer. Rain, snow, sleet (from the 20th on) and wind, little wonder Adam sinned!"

"Song without End" the story of Liszt, the great Musician shown at the Mayfair theatre is truly filled with glister and splendor of the 19th century. Dick Bogarde portrays the well known pianist and composer and plays the part beautifully. What practice it must have taken as he sits at the piano each time to memorize the keyboard motions with his fingers before the camera with the sound coming from the piano by Jorge Bolet, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra and the Roger Wagner Choral. One is astounded sitting there never dreaming that it all was not performed by Dick Bogarde. Betcha, it will bring one of those Oscars! Filmed in authentic Continental settings, the picture is the story of the many love affairs of this Musician especially of the two biggest affairs he had in his life. The one affair is with the new and charming French actress, Capucine. She will continue to grow with the American public, I am sure of that one. There is a slight resemblance to Joan Crawford. The story ends that he gives up his musical career to join a religious order. The coloring is truly magnificent. One really can imagine they are sitting in the Opera House. It is a two hour show and those two hours moved like lightning due to one's interest in the fine music by Liszt.

In a big apartment house being finished in Philadelphia where washing machines have been placed in all kitchens, they request the owners of each apartment only to use "DUZ" or "ALL". And that so they stated would not affect the mechanism. So all that advertising must be a fact about those two products.

Gentlemen, when you purchase your next suit be sure a vest comes along with it for they are now all the rage again. One man appears fully dressed with one of those necessary items and they are chucked full of style.

Purchasing a snow shovel at Sears the other day and carrying it out with me, many people simply stared and a number saying, "Lady, is it going to snow?" I quickly replied, "Why, sure it will this winter and I do want to be prepared!"

Yesterday afternoon, I called on a lady in the Longreen Nursing Home and when she introduced me to another lady who had just come to the home the day before—this lady said grabbing my hands and holding tightly, "Oh, is this the Mrs. Love who writes the column for The Carroll Record?" I smiled and with a nod of my head she continued, "Oh, Mrs. Love I have been wanting to meet you for years and you look just what I expected! I am Mrs. William George Buckley!" There were other sweet words and we had quite a little chat. She is a very beautiful woman and will be at the home two more weeks during which time I hope to see her again. What a beautiful girl she must have been! She had the paper right there with her! Imogene Coca would say, "Small world!" Meeting someone right from Carroll County in that Nursing Home.

You know that The Maryland State House was once the Capitol of the United States and that no other State House ever was? It is the oldest one now in use. It was started in 1772 and was used all down through the years. A newer part was added 50 years ago. The new part consists of two great rooms where the laws of Maryland are made today. More than 85,000 people come yearly to visit this building! And in the old part of the State Building, the floor is made with wooden pegs instead of nails! That would be grand treat for the pupils of any grade to visit and one big day of education!

Have a grand week end, folks and if you have any child in your home who is talented for the organ by all means give that as a gift for Christmas. The grand concern to deal with is The Hammond Studios—524 North Charles—right near the Washington Monument. You will say that is the best thing you ever did. My 11th lesson—"My Heart—at The Sound of Thy Sweet Voice!" And don't settle for less than a two Manual affair. Hammond is the only organ which does not go out of tune.

Be seeing you next week D. V. I am Faithfully,

measure ever proposed. It should also be emphasized that fluorine is not a synthetic element, but an element which occurs naturally in the water supply of many communities and that the residents of these communities for generations have been drinking the water with no ill effects.

On June 12, 1956, the Committee to Protect Our Children's Teeth, Inc., 105 East 22nd Street, New York 10, New York, released a news article which launched a campaign to spur water fluoridation in New York City. The chairman of the Committee, Dr. Benjamin Spock, the well-known authority on child development, said: "The campaign will concentrate on New York City, where the Board of Health has recommended the measure repeatedly but persons in many parts of the country are joining the committee because New York's decision will be pivotal and perhaps decisive in advancing the measure across the country."

The principal objection offered to fluoridation is that it is injurious to health and that it has dangerous effects. No one is better able to dispel these fears than the family physician, who is now in a strong position to defend the safety of the procedure with ample scientific information for support. Opponents have no valid evidence to support the claims that the procedure has dangerous effects.

The following statement appeared in The Baltimore Sun, May 12, 1959 Issue NOT ONLY FLUORINE

From time to time criticism of the addition of fluorine to public water supplies arises, as witness a recent outburst of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The suggestion has even been made that a public referendum be held, echoing a similar proposal in New York. Lest anyone forget, though, other things are put in or taken out of our water besides fluorosilicic acid.

Copper sulphate is added to the distribution reservoirs to kill algae, which let alone, would make the water look, taste and smell in unpalatable ways.

Chlorine is used at two stages. In the reservoirs it kills bacteria and removes manganese, a product of the old tree stumps and logs along the bottom that would blacken hands and clothes if allowed to remain in the water supply. At the distribution end, chlorine is the germkiller that assures the purity of the final product.

Aluminum sulphate is added prior to filtration to form floc, to which impurities cling, thereby eliminating turbidity and algae.

Chemically treated sand is used in the filtration itself, a process that eliminates any matter held in solution—floc, bacteria, algae and the tiny particles of flora and fauna.

Lime becomes an additive after filtration to achieve a neutral condition between acidity and alkalinity. Fluosilicic acid, commonly called fluorine, is put in to bring the amount that occurs naturally in Baltimore's water up to one part per million, which is less than the amount in some natural water supplies but enough to have the desired effect in curbing dental caries.

All of the above-named additives are harmful to humans in too large doses. Chlorine, for instance, was best known during World War I as a dreaded poison gas. The chemicals and filtration are utilized because in an urban area the so called God's water is laden with silt from fields and barnyards, sewage, bacteria, plant life, fish remains, industrial waste and other disease-bearing or distasteful material.

If a demand for a referendum on fluorine were made, logic might compel a similar vote on whether Baltimoreans want their water treated with the other chemicals now in use or even filtered. The use of fluoride is no more of a threat to an individual's personal freedom to acquire dental cavities than chlorine is a threat to a person's right to get typhoid.

THE STATUS OF FLUORIDATION IN MARYLAND

With nearly 75 per cent of its population now using water containing fluorides, Maryland leads all states in acceptance of this dental health measure to reduce tooth decay, the most prevalent of all human diseases.

Areas in Maryland served by public water supplies to which controlled amounts of fluorides are added as a dental health measure are as follows: Hagerstown, Washington Suburban Sanitary District, Bel Air, Annapolis, Frederick, Bainbridge Naval Training Station, Patuxent Naval Air Station, Snow Hill, Army Chemical Center-Edgewood, Rockville, Salisbury, Baltimore City & Metropolitan Area and Westminster. There are nine areas with a natural fluoride content they are: Cambridge, Crisfield, Denton, Indian Head, La Plata, Oxford, Potomac Heights, Secretary, and Vienna.

Surely if a city such as Baltimore that has doctors that are known the world over have found fluorine to be harmless, how can we here in Taneytown say that it is. Before you decide about fluoridation have a talk with your family doctor and/or dentist, then make your decision.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
It is impossible to sit passively and allow an article as filled with ambiguities as the one in last week's Carroll Record to affect the thinking of citizens of Taneytown.

The first major fallacy assumption in the article was false assumption that the properties of the gas fluorine were also the properties of the chemical to be added to water supplies. If you will recall some elementary chemistry, you know that elements lose their properties when combined to form a compound. The chemical to be added is a salt, sodium fluoride, which does not have the lethal properties of fluorine gas. The salt is added in extremely dilute form, one part per million.

A reference was made, which is true, that tea contains large quantities of fluorine. Relating this to other parts of the article one might believe that drinking tea will cause hardening of the bones, mottled teeth, new diseases and bones that break spontaneously.

Another argument in last week's article, I am certain, included by mistake, referred to the oxidizing property of fluorine. The article stated steel wool bursts into flame under a jet of fluorine gas. Please remember, also, that steel wool will likewise burn under a jet of oxygen or a jet of chlorine. Yet we safely ingest great quantities of both these elements with no ill effects.

In the councilman's case where sources were acknowledged none can compare with authorities such as the American Dental Association, the American Medical Association and related organizations. Our local dentists and health officials are in a position to advise us honestly regarding this matter. They have had first hand experience and training while the rest of us must depend upon only what we read. This too often is written to reflect an individuals opinion rather than true facts. Get your doctor's and your dentist's advice.

In the article last week, the councilman was not, I hope, expressing his official position as a councilman. This is an elected position which makes him responsible to promote the wishes of the majority of citizens.

World Community Day Service Held in Presbyterian Church

The World Community Day Service was held Friday evening last in the United Presbyterian Church. About sixty people attended. Mrs. Glenn Reeve was chairman. The host pastor, Rev. William M. Hendricks, opened with prayer after which Mrs. Reeve led the responses in the program, "Christian Action for Freedom". Mrs. Chester Neal read Psalm 46. The choir of the host church sang the anthem "God So Loved the World," by Shawker.

The main feature of the program was a dramatization, "A World Made Free". Mrs. George Motter, moderator, introduced the readers who were dressed in costumes suggestive of the countries which they represented.

Mrs. George Naylor as Senora Eliana de Galderson, Chile, spoke of work to relieve poverty and hunger in Chile and East Pakistan by Church World Service and of the service rendered by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations in Thailand and Greece, and many countries devastated by war.

Mrs. Anna Morelock, as Miss Gettie Samuel, India, spoke of efforts to blot out illiteracy in India and Northern Rhodesia, and of the work of UNESCO in Ethiopia and Haiti.

The third reader, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, portrayed the part of Sister Marie Madeline Handy, Camerons. She told of medical work carried on by the World Council of Churches in Ghana and Burma and of World Health Organization work in Taiwan and the Philippines.

As the various countries were named, the moderator placed colored ribbons on a large map of the world. The offering for the service was $36.25. Also four white covered baskets containing the material gifts were carried to the altar by the ushers, Miss Liza Carpenter and Mrs. Ray Crumbacker. The weight of these gifts were approximately ninety pounds.

After the dedication of the offerings, the Service was concluded by singing the hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West". The Benediction was pronounced by the Pastor.

Those attending were from Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and California.

God In My Life

Lesson for November 13, 1960

DOES anything happen when God comes into a human life? —"Comes in"—not intending to say he is never there. God is in all places and at all times, there is no escaping him. But as we were thinking last week, there is a difference in the way he is present. Some men never are aware of God, just as a blind man is unaware of light. Others are painfully aware, as a man may write the under of God. But what God wants of every man is to be his Father and his Friend. This comes (as we know) only after sin has been confessed and forgiven. But when this comes to pass, whether we say "God in my life" or "my life in God" or "my life with God," such life has a treasure, the "pearl of great price."

Dr. Foreman

"I Love the Lord, Because..."

From the many things that can be said about living in the joyful presence of God, let us select three. One is: it is a life of thankfulness. The man of faith does not simply take what comes, as a dull matter of course. He is aware of God's gifts and is grateful. The Psalms numbered 116, 117 and 118 are like musical compositions with interwoven themes; one of these is in the words "I love the Lord because..." Because he has heard his voice... because he inclined his ear to me... the Lord has dealt bountifully... Thou hast delivered my soul from death... We may well be grateful to other people, our parents, our friends, the uncounted persons who make life livable for us. We may well be thankful to church and state and school, to inventors and artists and poets; what would life be without them? But when we push our thinking still farther, we realize that in the long run all good things come from the Father who created heaven and earth. Whatever good life may bring, it is God who sends each gift-laden day upon its way.

Much in Little

The 117th Psalm is the shortest chapter in the entire Bible. (Oddly enough, it is next-but-one to the longest chapter!) Short though it is, it says much in its five lines. The Psalmist scarcely begins his psalm before he comes to the end of it. But even in those few words we can see that the life with God is a life of testimony. The Psalmist lets every one know he worships God, the God of all. He does not hide his happiness, he does not think of religion as a strictly private affair. He gives testimony to his faith. Let it always be understood that testimony by words is worth little if there is no testimony in life. But the true religious life is not a silent one. The person who has discovered God as the Great Companion cannot be silent about it. This Psalmist sings of a God who is not his own private deity, but the Lord of nations, the Lord of the whole earth. The true God is not a tribal god, tied to one nation or church or race. He is Lord of all.

"Give Us Success!"

In Psalm 118 the bright thread of life and the dark strand of Death are intertwined. (This like 116 and 117 were among the hymns sung at Jesus' Last Supper.) But in the end, Life is the stronger. Life with God is Power and Joy; "The Lord is my strength and my song." This Psalmist is not an unrealistic dreamer. Life even for those who live in God and with God, has its dark times. Look at the harsh words in this Psalm: "distress," "those who hate me," "they surrounded me," "I was pushed hard so that I was falling..." Victory is still to be won, joy is not complete, as we can see from that cry, "Give us success!" The life with God is not a life without struggle, seldom a life without defeat. Troubles, temptations, tasks, trials and tears there will be. Success in the worldly sense may never come. But success against the same forces that fight against God, we may expect in the end. The Christian is not like a ship on a calm summer voyage; rather, he is a ship battered by winter's storms, making port at last.

J. Harold Musser

J. Harold Musser, Manager since 1955 of Penn's Peaceful Meadow Farm, Mount Joy, Pennsylvania, keeps winter milk production high by adding Alfa-Zyme to his feed.

"This Ration Keeps My Milk Production High All Winter"

"We have twenty-six milkers on our farm in Mount Joy, Pennsylvania. When they're on summer pasture, they produce about 900 pounds of milk a day. Through the winter, we keep their production up to nearly 800 pounds a day with this ration:

1,800 lbs. cob choppings
800 lbs. crimped oats
850 lbs. 32% dairy
175 lbs. molasses
35 lbs. minerals
35 lbs. salt
125 lbs. ALFA-ZYME

Alfa-Zyme gives our cows a good appetite, and helps them digest their corn better.

I would recommend it to anyone."

J. Harold Musser

Ray Lehr

Ray Lehr, Herdsman, Stonaire Farm, Lewisberry, Pennsylvania. Read what he says about Alfa-Zyme.

"Increases Digestion by 15%"

"When I came to work at Stonaire Farm last June, I ran a test on Alfa-Zyme's effectiveness. I gathered samples of manure, added water, and checked the grain settlement. In my estimation, Alfa-Zyme increases digestion by about 15%. It boosts nutrition, cuts down the amount of feed required to finish our high quality steers, and helps get our registered Angus in top shape sooner."

Ray Lehr

how ALFA-ZYME Works to Produce More Meat and Milk

Fresh growing forage contains millions of live organisms which help cattle convert their food to proteins; helps them build meat and produce milk. But process this same forage into winter feed, and you kill these beneficial digestive organisms. Alfa-Zyme simply puts these live organisms back into your feed; helps your cattle produce at their best. They will eat 15% more roughage, drink more water, pass less undigested feed, be free of Acetone, and they won't go off feed.

60 Day Trial Will Show The Difference!

COUPON

50 LBS. OF ALFA-ZYME FREE!

Get a 50 lb. bag of Alfa-Zyme free with the first 50 lb. bag you buy. Give this coupon to your feed dealer. If he doesn't handle Alfa-Zyme, have him send coupon to Hildum, and your Alfa-Zyme will be shipped to him.
