STATE ROADS PREPARE FOR HEAVY SNOW

The State Roads Commission is staking out Maryland's dual highways as a benefit to winter motorists.

A total of 33,000 snow guide stakes are being erected just off the edge of the main line paving on Maryland's dual highways.

The stakes, painted a brilliant yellow for easy visibility, are 48 inches in height. They are being placed in the median strip just 4 feet off the edge of the paving.

John B. Funk, Chairman-Director of the State Roads Commission, ordered the erection of the snow guide stakes.

The stakes will serve as a guide for snow removal equipment making their first runs in heavy snow.

"In addition," Mr. Funk said, "the stakes will tell the motorist where the highway is in heavy snow prior to the arrival of snow removal equipment."

The stakes already have been erected along dual highways in the following counties: Baltimore, Harford, Howard, Carroll, Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett.

They are going up now in Montgomery and Prince George's Counties and the program should be completed all over the State by Dec. 16th.

The stakes are erected at 200-foot intervals except on interchange ramps where they are only 75 feet apart.

Cost of the program is approximately $18,000.

The stakes will be removed after the winter season so that mowing of the median strip will not be impeded.

TO RURAL DELIVERY PATRONS

Post Office Offers Suggestions for Christmas Mailing

Many thanks for your splendid cooperation during the busy Christmas season last year.

To those of you who would like to help this year we offer the following suggestions:

Unsealed greeting cards without writing, other than your name, may be mailed for 3c, but they cannot be forwarded or returned to you if undeliverable as addressed. Those bearing the letter rate of postage, 4c, can be forwarded or returned if undeliverable, provided they bear your return address. All sealed cards and those containing writing must bear the letter rate of postage. Certified mail service provides a record of delivery at the office of address, and for an additional fee a receipt to the sender. Added protection for valuable and important mail may be obtained by having it registered.

Please be sure to buy your stamps in advance and place them on your cards and letters before putting them in the box for collection. Postal Regulations require that patrons put stamps on all greeting cards and letter mail during the month of Dec. Your carrier has a supply of stamps and you may buy them from him.

When addressing your cards, include the postal delivery zone number if known. This will materially expedite delivery to the addressee.

You can further assist by separating your cards for local and out of town delivery. When they are ready to be mailed, with stamps affixed in the upper right hand corner, tie them in bundles with all addresses faced the same way. Labels 14-A and 14-B are supplied without charge for your convenience in labeling the bundles. Or you may use slips of paper on which you may have written, "All for Local Delivery" or "All for Out of Town Delivery."

Select a sturdy container and wrap your packages in good heavy paper and tie with cord or strong twine so that they will reach their destination in good condition. Write or print the address on one side only and place your return address in the upper left hand corner. Avoid the use of oiled or waxed paper for the outside wrapper. A card may be placed inside the parcel containing your name and address. A letter may be enclosed in the package if you mark on the outside "First class mail enclosed" and pay the rate for the letter plus the parcel post charge. Valuable packages should be insured.

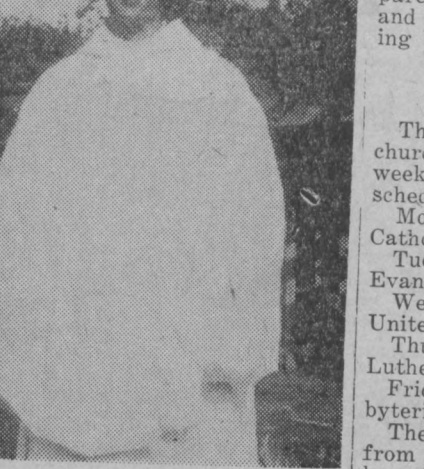

Please keep the approach to your mail box clear of snow and other obstructions. If the road by your box cannot be cleared you are privileged to relocate the box temporarily in order that your mail can be delivered.

Any further questions regarding the proper preparation of Christmas mail should be taken up with one of us. Our aim is to give the very best postal service we can. We strive to live up to the time honored tradition of "Service with a Smile" Suggestions for the improvement of the service will be appreciated.

Please Mail Your Cards And Packages Early

We join in wishing you and yours a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Sincerely,
Your Postmaster,
Your Clerks,
Your Rural Carrier

"YE OLDE" CHRISTMAS

The Christmas List
One of the very important events in the Christmas program at our house was the making of the Christmas list.

One day my mother would announce, "Tonight after supper we will make the Christmas list." Well, everything got done with dispatch that night! So my mother would sit at the dining room table with pencil and paper, and the rest of us would crowd around as possible, on the table to be as close to her as possible.

"Now," says my mother, "What does the baby want?" There was always a baby and we always started with him or her, whichever it happened to be. So we would all make suggestions while the baby was somewhere nearby neither knowing or caring. And the list would be made until there were five items which was the limit for each one. And so it would go on up the line. Finally, my turn came. And making my list was just like the others.

"William," what do you want for Christmas?" my mother would ask. I had a list of things in mind and would be about ready to name one when my mother would say, "Oh, you need a pair of gloves." Of course I did and winter was at hand, but that wasn't exactly what I had in mind. Then, "You need some handkerchiefs, too." "Yes" but that wasn't on my list either. "And I think you should have a pair of stockings."

Then "Do you want a book?" "Oh, yes," I would say. And that I meant, I loved to read. My mother saw that a book was on the Christmas list for each one. How important books are in a child's life! Especially good ones. I am so thankful my mother always insisted on books in the list!

That made four of the five items. What would the fifth be? Now to ask for the train or the fire engines with horses! But I would settle for a pencil box or something else of real utilitarian purpose. And I never got my train or my fire engine.

And so the Christmas list was completed. There was also a box of candy and an orange for each one, - the only orange all my own for a whole year!

One year, we were expressing our wants. My oldest sister said, "You children want too much." My mother said, "Let them want. It won't hurt them." Would that all mothers would use such a philosophy!

What do I want for Christmas? Nothing, really. I have everything I need and more than I ever had before. I don't have a list any more.

I did receive a wonderful Gift once. And that is the only real Christmas Gift, the Lord Jesus Christ. Any one who doesn't have this Gift just doesn't have Christmas.

How wonderful to say with the Apostle Paul, "Thanks be to God for His Inexpressible Gift!"

WILLIAM M. HENDRICKS

Strange how quickly a wedding certificate turns into a driver's license!

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning.
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Its December and the birthday of this Column!

There will be many Gardinas on the plant in the dining room at Christmas time and that pleases me so much beyond describing—no word eloquent to express just how I feel when I see those white blooms with the delightful fragrance! Much of the decorations are up early due to entertaining a couple of "QUEENS FOR A DAY" and they are advanced in years but are truly deep, deep, Wells!

If you do not want to have a tree this year, there are so many ways of decorating the two main rooms of your home—the living and dining rooms. If there is an open stairway do as I did—entwine the banister with the vine of artificial flowers on a length of 15 feet or more if necessary and to this add a ball of glitter every seven inches. Place a very attractive decoration of sprays either in green or aluminum to the post of the banister and clasp a Santa Claus head at the top of it. I have had a Christmas tablecloth for years which is a very long one and on top I place the centre piece with the four red candles and around it on the cloth, I place the replica of a church we had in the country called, "Emory" and which my Minister electrified years ago. There are trees and candles and a big ball hanging from the electric fixture with "Merry Christmas" printed on the face.

In between the doors there are big letters of "Merry Christmas" with side red, red wide moire ribbon hanging down with two tremendous bells of silver with their special decoration. The room has the atmosphere of gaiety for the Season as one enters. Each year all these things are brought out from their boxes and appear as good as new.

Someone said to me, "All this trouble. How could you?" My reply was that every thing worth while is a little trouble and that way it is enjoyed all the more. Then, of course there is the Fruit Cake of "Ward's Paradise" and that is always nice to serve and it is so good. Ummm!

There are little Dwarf men and the fancy green little lamp posts of can-

THE FAMILY FARM

There is a fear that the ever growing mechanization of agriculture, along with other advanced farming techniques and tools, will lead to the virtual disappearance of the family farm, and its replacement with the big corporation farm.

Dr. Karl D. Butler, one of this country's leading agricultural economists, vigorously disputes this view. He writes: "The family farm is not disappearing. True, some family farms are finding it convenient to incorporate. If this is corporate farming, make the most of it, but actually a very small percentage of all the farms in the United States are either corporation farms or incorporated. The majority are family-owned and family-operated. In fact, today about 96 or 97 percent of all the farms in the United States are family-operated units. There has been no significant decrease in the proportion of family farms during the last 20 or 30 years."

Actually, mechanization has meant salvation for the family farm, whether or not it has gone through the formality of incorporation. It has made possible more production at reduced cost. Even more important in the long pull, it has given the small, as well as the large, farmer the means of improving and conserving irreplaceable land—the "six inches of topsoil" that stand between us and famine. It has reduced or eliminated back breaking drudgery. It has made farming into a business and a profession, even while maintaining it as a way of life. To quote Dr. Butler once more, "the future of the family farm seems to be assured."

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

WEST POINT, MISS., DAILY TIMES LEADER: "As a rule of thumb, a million dollars of private investment will do more good than a million dollars of government program."

WASHINGTON, IOWA, EVENING JOURNAL: "If the government ever attempts to guarantee a job to everyone, it will have to control all wage disputes, and that will mean compulsory arbitration. Neither unions nor management wants that."

WINNEMUCCA, NEV. STAR: "Government surveys indicate that less than 1% of the nation's school districts have used up their local financial resources, or reached their legal borrowing limits. Whereas, from 1950 to 1959 pupil enrollments increased by 10.2 million, enough school rooms were built to take care of 16.8 million."

FLORENCE, ALA., HERALD: "Ultra conservatism is stagnation; ultra liberalism is a downhill run with no turning back. Somewhere between these is a proper balance which our leaders would do well to seek out before it is too late. Let it not be said that we were taken for a joy ride that was good only while it lasted."

PALATKA, FLA., DAILY NEWS: "What is the criterion for a high standard of living? Fine automobiles? Home swimming pools? Yachts? No. The answer is, 'Paper.' The higher a nation's standard of living, the more paper it consumes. The average American family uses a ton a year. Per capita annual use of paper in the United States is 417 pounds as compared with 150 pounds in Denmark, one pound in Red China and virtually none in Central Africa."

MOUND, MINN., PILOT: "The Post Office department has been sending some first class mail by air on an experimental basis... A recent request by the Department to greatly expand the experiment met with a storm of criticism from the House of Representatives and resulted in passage by the House of a bill (the Cunningham bill) which would prohibit the carrying of any mail by air (except to Hawaii and Alaska) which does not bear the air mail stamp... As Representative Cunningham states, it will terminate a special service that is unfair to regular users of air mail and economically unsound for the post office."

"From the standpoint of practical economy and good common sense, we agree with the proposed bill, to require that only air mail paid for as such and bearing the premium air-mail postage rate, be accepted for transportation by air."

KLAMATH FALLS, ORE., HERALD AND NEWS: "The postwar economic recovery of West Germany is not a new story. The new thing today is that country's emergence as the second biggest, economically, in the entire free world... In an age when America and some others seem captivated by a mood of ease, comfort, convenience and fun, the lesson of West Germany is clear. There is still no substitute for hard work."

WYTHEVILLE, VA., ENTERPRISE: "There are far more conservatives in the country than many politicians realize, or, will admit. The weakness of the conservatives lies in lack of organization and aggressiveness."

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

dles. Wreaths at the windows a small glittery one on the key to the Secretary! The little tree on the high pedestal all lit with the tiny bulbs of different colors. Yes, you can make the interior dramatic by holding on to things each year and if you so desire add a few more articles each year.

To the Gentlemen—why not seek the wonderful position as The Maryland State Police which was advertised last week? To qualify you must be between 21 and 31 years of age, 5/10 in height and High School education or equivalent, a resident of The State of Maryland for six months and good moral character! Our Maryland State Police, I have always compared with the Canadian Mounted Police! They are real men and Gentlemen! No other state can compare!

Two grand letters arrived—one from Gary Moore and one from Arthur Godfrey. Out of curiosity, Your Observer went to the Century theatre to see if the service had really changed Elvis Presley! It really has, folks for he seems to be a more manly fellow. The show "G. I. Blues" is the first since Elvis returned to the States from his time in Germany. Of course, he still sings and plays that Guitar but this time there were no screams from the youngsters as previously. The story is about a bet that he can win the friendship of a girl who never looks at a male. He starts out to make a play for this "Frigid" girl. The girl, "Lili" is a dancer and in the end all turns out happily for the American Service man. The Teen-agers of course will enjoy this one.

Now, as to that wonderful "Sagittarius" sign of December! The sign in which Mrs. Jack Kennedy was born also her two children. She and the new President-to-be are beautifully mated. Any man who marries this sign rises to the top. Look around you and see, folks. I have never known a Sagittarius person either male or female who has not been a success in life. December people are the individuals who move the world by their concentrated energy. They are always quite handsome and have the sweetest make up plus wonderful dispositions. They are honest, fearless and sometimes blunt which they can easily overcome. They are a joy to be around. Many times people think they are high hat and cold but in reality they are warm and sincere and most affectionate with those they love. They are remarkable judges of character yet are cautious in more ways than one. They have many acquaintances but very few close friends. They never interfere with matters which do not concern them. They are gifted in many ways and much so in music and voice. They even become more beautiful as the years go on. As soon as I learned that Mrs. Kennedy was a Sagittarius, I knew positively that her husband would be our next President! These people are subject to accidents and bruises and should be careful at all times otherwise their health is perfect.

Have a grand week end, folks. Will be driving over to see you to enjoy a turkey dinner one of these days.

Until next week D. V.
 I am Faithfully,

Piney Creek 4-H News

The monthly meeting of the Piney Creek Boys 4-H club was held Nov. 16, 1960, at the home of Donald Bollinger, the local leader. The meeting was called to order by President John Rinehart who led the club in the 4-H pledge.

For old business we discussed the recent Annual 4-H Achievement Night. Carol Koons received a medal for her achievements on a Forestry project; John Rinehart received a medal for public speaking and Dairy Judging of which he was the champion dairy judge at the Atlantic Rural Exposition, Richmond, Virginia; Barbara Rinehart received a medal for poultry and achievement; Donald Bollinger received very deservedly a ten-year leadership medal.

For new business the officers for the coming year were advised to attend the Officer's Workshop in January.

The Public Speaking Project was discussed and we decided that we would hold a public speaking contest at one of our club meetings during the following year. Each member would give a short talk on any topic and someone in the community could serve as a judge. The top winners would compete in the county public speaking contest on March 24. Special training in public speaking will be offered by Miss Dorothy Emerson, Assoc. State 4-H Club Agent, on February 4, and every interested member was encouraged to attend this training session.

Parents Night will be held Wednesday December 7, 7:30 p.m., at the Taneytown Grain and Supply Building. Each club member will tell what he has accomplished the past year or what he plans to do during the coming year. James Koons will be the M. C.

We also planned a Christmas Party to be held Dec. 21 at the Taneytown Grain and Supply Building. Everyone agreed to invite the Taneytown Boys 4-H Club to this Party. A refreshment and recreational committee was appointed.

The meeting was then adjourned and Mrs. Bollinger served delicious refreshments.

"CARCAPADES" IS THEME OF 1961 AUTOMOBILE SHOW

BALTIMORE, MD.: Beautiful cars, beautiful girls and flashing skates will highlight the 1961 Auto Show to be held at the Fifth Regiment Armory beginning Saturday, January 21 through January 28.

Visitors to the show will be treated to two complete professional ice reviews each day, performed on an ingenious portable ice rink by the internationally renowned "Symphony on Ice" troupe of Switzerland.

The Armory decor will take on the appearance of a winter wonderland, offering a unique and spectacular background to show off every make and model car, accessories and experimental models.

Maryland Residents May Obtain Proof of age from Census Bureau

Last year, 2,742 residents of Maryland turned to help the U. S. Bureau of the Census for help in proving they were born. These persons were among an estimated 30 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birth. The historical records of the Census Bureau provide the only source of this information for most of these 30 million people.

Proof of age or birth is needed today to collect social security and other retirement benefits. It is needed to obtain passports. It is needed to qualify for jobs carrying certain age or citizenship requirements. It is needed for some forms of insurance.

Since 1920, the Census Bureau has provided more than three and one-half million persons with copies of their Census records on age, place of birth, citizenship, or kinship. Persons seeking such records of facts about themselves should write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburgh, Kansas, for a Census Records Search Application form. A fee of $3.00 is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for one copy of the information found. Additional copies cost $1.00 each. An expedited search costs $4.00. Expedited searches are usually completed within a few days with the routine $3.00 search may take up to 30 days, depending upon the backlog of requests and the ease or difficulty in locating the information.

The personal information in the records of the 1900 and later Census is confidential by law and may be furnished only upon the written request of the person to whom it relates or, for a proper purpose, a legal representative such as guardian or administrator of an estate. Information regarding a child who has not reached legal age may be obtained upon the written request of either parent.

U. S. Savings Bonds Ownership Reaches All-time High

Carroll County residents were congratulated for their part in swelling U. S. Savings Bond ownership to a new all-time high.

C. Ray Fogle, volunteer Savings Bonds Chairman for Carroll County, said that nationwide holdings of Series E and H Savings Bonds stood at $42.8 billion as of August 31, according to official word sent to him from the Treasury Department in Washington. Of this total, Maryland residents own about $539,600,000, and Mr. Fogle estimated Carroll county's share of the total at approximately $6,500,000.

The report of Mr. Fogle came in the form of a congratulatory letter from William H. Neal, Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury and National Director of the Savings Bonds program. In it Mr. Neal said that the new $42.8 billion total tops the World War II peak of E Bond holdings by some $12 billion, pointing out the steady growth which has characterized the bond program throughout the peacetime years since 1945.

"These statistical facts, however, are a comparatively minor part of the story Mr. Neal told Mr. Fogle. "Of vastly greater importance are the accomplishments of millions of families in making dreams come true through systematic savings; and the patriotic contribution of Savings Bonds volunteers like you in making our program not alone successful, but even possible. I know I speak for Secretary Anderson and Under Secretary Baird in expressing the Treasury's congratulations and thanks for your part in this newest Savings Bond achievement".

Mr. Fogle said that one of every four Carroll County residents is a bond-owner (the national average)—reflecting the confidence of our citizens in this program that contributes so much to personal security, as well as economic stability for the nation.

Older Youth Group Elects Officers

The Carroll County Older Youth Group held its November meeting at the Conference Room of the Carroll County Office Building with fifteen members, two extension agents and several visitors present.

Under old business, the refreshment committee for Achievement Night gave a report. Joe Walker, Richard Helwig and Eddie Dutterer will give out candles at Achievement Night on November 10 at the Agricultural Center. The program starts at 7:45 p.m.

Joe Walker gave a few brief remarks on the Jackson Mills Leadership Conference which he and Vicki Green attended.

Rose Hahn gave a summary of the Advisory Committee Meeting at the University of Maryland which she and Donald Hoff attended.

A committee of Rose Hahn, James Saylor, Patricia Leister, Merle Weant, and Joe Walker were appointed to plan the event for next year.

The following people will be coat checkers at the Annual Farm Bureau banquet at Westminster High School on Nov. 26: Shirley Tasto, Rose Hahn, Lois Priest, James Stonesifer, Merle Weant, Edmund Dutterer, Richard Helwig, Patricia Leister, and Donald Hoff.

To plan next month's Christmas Party, Edmund Dutterer, Rose Hahn, James Stonesifer, Patricia Leister were appointed to a committee. The party will start at 7:30 p.m. on December 1.

The officers for the 1961 year who will take office in January are: Pres., Mary Ellen Stonesifer; Vice Pres., Charles Poole; Secretary, Patricia Leister; Corresponding Secretary, Judy Brillhart; Treas., Joseph Walker; Reporter, Donald Hoff Recreation Song leader, Rose Hahn. The meeting was adjourned until Dec. 1 for the Christmas Party.

"Love's like a radiator—it keeps you warm, even when you know it's only hot air."—Jerry Warren.

Achievement Night

Farm-City Week Observance will be the theme of the Carroll County 4-H Achievement Night to be held on Thursday, November 10, at 7:45 p. m. at the Agricultural Center in Westminster.

Special skits depicting farm and city life will be presented by 4-H members in order to promote better understanding between town and country neighbors. Mr. William H. Johnson, Extension Representative of the Farm Credit Banks of Baltimore will be the guest speaker.

Donald Hoff, President of the Carroll County 4-H Older Youth will be the toastmaster for the evening. The State 4-H Public Speaking Winner for 1960, Nancy Bohr of Winfield, will present her prize-winning speech.

4-H club members, local leaders, friends of 4-H, and parents will be honored at the Achievement Night with awards and special recognition. A candle-lighting service, led by Mrs. Russel Frock and 4-H'ers, will climax the evening. Refreshments will be provided by the Older Youth and girls' 4-H clubs.

The Achievement Night is being planned by Mary Ellen Stonesifer, Jimmy Stonesifer, Eddie Dutterer, and Rose Hahn, assisted by the Older Youth of Carroll County, and Mrs. Helen T. Otto, Assoc. Home Demonstration Agent, and Mr. Maxel Alt, Asst. County Agent.

All parents and friends of 4-H are invited to attend this program.

IT'S IN THE CARDS

Don't be surprised if some of the Christmas cards you receive this month contain sentiments that are short and amazingly to the point. For example: "In the event you're waiting for the mailman to deliver my little Christmas remembrance . . . He just did! Merry Christmas."

Or, a gentle reminder: "It's more blessed to give than to receive . . . don't forget it!"

These of course are the popular "studio" type greetings. Breezy and biting at times, they're difficult to create because major publishers insist on walking the fine line of sophisticated good taste.

There's nothing "off beat", however, in a New Year's studio card from the same publisher, Rust Craft — just a plain, simple, biting truth: "At the bewitching hour of 12 . . . your car depreciates $500!"

Sea Serpents?

Throughout the centuries sea serpents have been reported — and even today, serious scientists believe they may exist. Discovery of baby eels six feet long suggests adults 30 to 50 feet. Dr. Robert Menzies, USC marine biologist, has even fished for them. No luck yet, he reports.

Long-Winded L P's

Hi Fi fans may expect longer-playing tapes soon. A British firm has developed a tape that plays up to 40 hours.

Air Pollution

Lung cancer seems to be due to environmental factors, like "the air we breathe," a noted scientist told a world meeting of chest experts in Vienna. Dr. Geoffrey Dean, of South Africa, says "polluted urban air" makes a major contribution to lung cancer.

Still Longer Life

In the next generation, up to 20 percent of our population may be over 65 with 2 percent living past 100. This view is held by Dr. Morris Fishbein, medical editor and lecturer. By then control over body enzymes will stave off degeneration of blood vessels and vital organs, Dr. Fishbein believes.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

I CORPS, KOREA (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. William F. Kreit, whose wife, Janet, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kreit, Westminster, Md., recently participated with other personnel from the 51st Signal Battalion in Operation Snow Tiger, an I Corps command post exercise in Korea.

Snow Tiger was planned to test the doctrines and procedures which would be used in the employment of nuclear weapons in the field. The exercise featured an offensive drive against a heavily entrenched simulated aggressor force.

Kreit, a pole lineman in the battalion's Company C, entered the Army last May and was stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga., before arriving overseas last October.

The 23-year-old soldier attended Taneytown High School.

GREETING CARDS
 The greeting card business is BIG business! Management Review published figures estimated by the Barker Greeting Card Company of Cincinnati. They revealed:

About three billion cards went through the mail during the last holiday season.

The average family sent 65 cards; the average business concern, 145.

The price of the cards was from ½c to $5. About 85% cost less than 25c.

More than 300,000,000 man hours were required to address the cards. In aggregate, they weighed 100,000 tons.

Some 500,000 people were engaged in the production of Christmas cards. There were said to be more than 500,000 different designs of just about every conceivable color, size and shape.

"Most summer romances are ended by fall, or by marriage."—Margaret Puchir.

Fashion & beauty report
 by Dee Morrison

NEW FALL LOOK — American ready-to-wear for fall just shown at the Waldorf in New York City, featured big coats with clever new shaping; much purple — any shade from lavender to plum; big bold plaids; a return to the ensemble with dress and coat unmatched but blending; a costume look — made to go together — not mismatched.

NEW GADGET — Hallelujah! Someone has finally figured out a way to use a cream deodorant without getting it all over your fingers. It's an automatic plastic applicator with the cream inside . . . works like a lipstick . . . keeps problem spots desert dry . . . just plain wonderful.

ZANY HATS — Spent a weekend in Buck's County, Pa. Artsy, crafty Mechanic Street features paintings, antiques, odd-ball places to eat and zany straw sunhats.

Vacationers can pick up cute tote-bags here too. Be sure to take along a good sunscreen lotion for a no-burn bronze tan on tour.

FROM PARIS — Comes word that these smart Parisians use cologne all over after a bath . . . closes pores and cools the body. Tried it! Felt like Cinderella on her big night. Suggest one of those new sparkling colognes to be had for a dollar. One smells like desert flowers and another is kind of old spiciness and-romance type. Take your choice and be mysterious or coy!

A FUNNY — I know a chemist from Bridgeport who figures it would take more than one hundred thousand squirts of aerosol-canned good air to clear all those smoke-filled rooms between now and election day!

Amendments in Social Security Law

Changes made by the 1960 Social Security Amendments extend social security to parents working in a trade or business owned by son or daughter, permit nonprofit organizations to provide social security coverage for present employees who want coverage, for employees hired in the future even if less than two-thirds of the employees desire this coverage, and give clergymen, whose social security participation is optional, an extension to April 15, 1962, to choose to be included under the social security plan.

A further change allows benefits to be paid to wives, stepchildren, and adopted children of retired and disabled workers, if the relationship has been in effect for at least one year. In addition, the lump sum death payment can now be paid directly to the funeral director if no widow or widower of the deceased survives, and the person responsible for the payment of the burial expenses agrees to this disposition, or if no one assumes responsibility for the burial expenses within 90 days of the date of death.

Finally, under two further changes in social security disability insurance, a person drawing disability benefits may have a trial work period of 12 months during which he will continue to receive his monthly checks. The second change affects anyone who again becomes disabled within five years of the time that a previous period of disability ended.

For further information about how these amendments affect you, phone, write, or call at your social security district office at 3107 Greenmount Avenue, Baltimore 18, Maryland.

FROM THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE

After reviewing a State Report this week the Board of County Commissioners commended the Roads Department for being able to utilize all federal funds allocated Carroll County in the years 1959 and 1960. The report lists Carroll County as one of seven counties which were able to program all federal funds effectively.

The County Commissioners further pointed out that in late 1959 the job looked "rather large" especially since Carroll County had to plan and advertise by August 30, 1960 approximately $500,000 of roads work to realize the approximately $230,000. allocated from federal funds.

The first hearing on the proposed interim zoning ordinance has been scheduled by the Carroll County Planning Commission on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 13 at 2:00 p.m. Purpose of the hearing is for the Commission to listen to comments on the proposals in the temporary measure before making any final recommendations to the Board of Commissioners.

According to E. Miller Richardson, Chairman of the Planning Commission, the Commission has for the past several months been meeting with advisory committees, other groups and citizens, and the proposals represent the Commission's feeling as to what is in the best interest of Carroll County at this time. Mr. Richardson further stated that any final action would have to be taken in 1961 by the Board of County Commissioners before the Zoning measure could be made effective.

Carroll County was represented last Saturday at the State Planning Conference at College Park by Planning Commission members E. Miller Richardson, chairman; Russell L. Royer; C. H. Shaw; and Walter L. Harner. Also attending the conference was George A. Grier, Director for the Commission who addressed the conference on one of the many planning subjects presented during the day.

Approximately 250 representatives of counties, cities and towns were present at the conference called by Governor Tawes to emphasize the need for long range planning in Maryland. The conference was planned by the Maryland State Planning Conference, the Maryland Municipal League, the Maryland Association of County Commissioners, and the Municipal Technical Advisory Service.

Representing Mt. Airy during the session was Leonard E. Sherman, and for New Windsor, Richard Warehime.

In his presentation of the Charter, Mr. Dell commented on the fine participation of senior high school parents and challenged the association to continue the evident active participation. He further explained the relationship of the local, county and state groups and urged that the facilities of the county and state be used to the fullest extent. Representatives present from the C.C.P.T.A. Executive Board for the presentation of the charter were: Mrs. Evelyn Sies, Secretary; Mr. J. Norman Graham, Delegate from Uniontown P.T.A. and Mrs. Martha Gilbert, Publicity Chairman.

FARMING AROUND

Do you know who spends the most money on farm research? Industry does! The U. S. Department of Agriculture now spends about $130 million each year, state experiment stations approximately $110 million, and private industry in the range of $220 million each year. Fortunately, these three agencies are now working much closer together than ever before and many of the drugs, insecticides, fertilizers, vaccines and other new products have the benefit of this close cooperation. But, it's really the farmer who benefits first—then the consumer, which is all of us.

A dollar spent for fertilizer usually returns two to five dollars. Farmers are realizing this more each year and last year bought 24 million tons. This was a new record and an 8 per cent increase over the previous year. Getting such big returns on a dollar invested for six months or less can be matched by few investments.

Old stockmen never trust a bull, bear, stalling or ram—that's how they get to be old stockmen. They are all potential killers and attack without warning or provocation. Mares with a colt or any mother with her young is protective and often deadly. A recent report states that a pet male swan presumably protecting his nesting mate beat the living bejabsers out of a 200-pound man that ventured too close. Even an old rooster sometimes suddenly decides to use his spurs and can inflict some painful wounds. Bulls in particular are bad actors. They should be kept in a strong, safe pen that they can't get out of but that a man in a hurry can if needs be. Bulls should have rings put in their noses while still young and be handled with a staff when out of their pens for any reason.

Housecleaning Hints

When the north wind blows, cleaning windows on the outside can be an unpleasant job, particularly if you use water, towels and sponges. But with a spray cleaner, such as Windex, the job is easier and more comfortable. All you need is the spray can or bottle of blue cleaner and paper towels. You can even keep on your gloves while cleaning the windows so that hands never get chapped or cold. Since windows on the outside are subjected to more dust and grime, here's the best way to get them sparkling. Spray a light mist over the whole window and spread with a paper towel to get off the worst of the dirt. Spray a second mist and with a fresh towel spread over all the window. Turn paper towel and wipe off Windex. The window will be so clean it will seem to disappear.

Bathrooms are becoming gayer and more interesting and some designers feel they have replaced the automobile as a status symbol. In some new homes, bathrooms are built on a grand scale, decorated with oil paintings, wood sculpture, etc. Most homemakers, however, settle for decorative touches and colorful accessories in the ordinary amount of space. Whichever it is, there are special cleaning products to preserve bathroom equipment. While the finish on the bathtub may look the same as the sanitary bowl, it is different and requires a special non-acidic cleaner. Since the bowl is made of porcelain, it needs an acid cleaner that is not too abrasive. There's a special cleaner, Vanish, especially for this. Just pour in the powder and it does all the work with a chemical action; it also deodorizes and a pleasant fragrance fills the air.

Bayberries and sumac in a gleaming copper bowl add a bright and colorful autumn touch in a foyer or corner of the living room. Give the bowl a quick gentle cleaning with Twinkle Copper Cleaner which retards the formation of tarnish and it will gleam brightly for the fall season.

Promise Come True

Lesson for December 18, 1960

"IF OXEN could invent a God, it would look like an ox." So a scornful Greek wrote, long ago. He was making the point that men make gods in their own image—we like to think that God is like ourselves. This is all true; so the real God is not always like our pictures of him.

Dr. Foreman

Last week we recalled that although the Jewish people had long looked for a Deliverer, when the "coming one" came, they did not recognize him. This week we have an opportunity to look into this further. If Jesus, the Son of God, did not exactly match what people had expected, what was he like.

Worker

If God himself took human form and walked our world's streets, what would we naturally expect? One thing we would surely do is that he would surely do some great thing. A God, visible or invisible, who would only sit silently upon a throne, never lifting a finger, would be no sort of God at all.

So the ancient Hebrews thought, and so we think, and it is true. But when Jesus came, although his life was very busy, though he worked with all his might, he did not do the kind of things people looked for. He did not leap off a temple roof unharmed, as he was tempted to do. He did not send for 12 troops of shining angels to rescue him when his life was in danger. He did work miracles, but most of the things he did were not miraculous. And the miracles he did were simple, quiet, almost shy acts, never done to show off, always done to help some one. When Jesus said "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me" he made it plain that this Divine Spirit in him showed itself in the healing and the helping he did day by day.

This brings out the second point. The ancient Hebrews expected, and we should all naturally expect, that if God were here on earth he would be of course the superior over all men. He would be known by the absolute authority of his commands, he would be known by the way he bent all men to his almighty will.

Again they were disappointed, and it can be doubted whether we should have been any smarter if we had been there. For Christ, the Son of God, was not known by the way he commanded, but by the way he served. One of the greatest passages in the Gospels, in which Jesus claims a knowledge of God such as no other has, comes to its climax through the words, "my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." The Son of God—we should expect him to wear a crown! But no, he carries a yoke. Only animals wore yokes, only animals and slaves carrying burdens. Christ speaks of himself in such a way as to call up not a picture of radiant glory, but just a simple servant ready to carry on his shoulders whatever burdens may be laid there. Is that too humble?

Friend

People who listened to Jesus talk were familiar with oxen and how they were harnessed. Yokes for two were very common. Jesus (who perhaps had many a time carved out ox yokes in the carpenter shop) speaks of this kind of thing when he says "Take my yoke upon you." Let us go back a minute. Let us ask once again the question, if God himself walked upon this earth, what might we expect him to do and to be? One thing that would be natural would be to hope that he would befriend us, be on our side, and take our part. And so it is, but not the way most of us would expect and hope. We would want him to take us out of trouble, to shelter us from responsibility, to make things easy for us. Well, this is true, but again is a surprising way. Christ the Promised Son "comes true" in a way we had not wanted. He offers us his friendship—in work. Take my yoke—share my yoke—lift the burdens of life by my side. We cannot know his friendship if we never share his work.

CHRISTMAS 1889: EDISON'S TALKING DOLL

Little Girl With Talking Doll

Mechanism of Talking Doll

In these days when talk of automation and space stations is everyday conversation, even toys have gone "out of this world". It was not always so. When Christmas rolled around for the children of the 1890's, the best any little girl could hope for was the excitement of a doll that could really talk; and the electric train, soon to be a "must" for little boys, was still in the experimental stage.

For this was the heyday of Thomas Alva Edison, the man who made many commercially practicable inventions, but never forgot the joys of childhood and the magic of Christmas. The Wizard of Menlo Park, as he was known, had invented the phonograph in 1877 primarily as a device whereby businessmen could dictate their correspondence—a purpose for which it is still used today. But by the early 1880's, he realized that it had entertainment possibilities as well, and set to work on a series of talking toys, as well as what we have come to know as phonograph records. Of these toys, which were to include a talking clock and a collection of talking animals, only the doll was ever made in quantity, according to archives of the McGraw-Edison Company.

Although her vocabulary was limited to a few nursery rhymes like "Mary Had a Little Lamb", and "Peter Pumpkin Eater", the doll was an immediate hit. Dressed in the fashion of the day and standing a sturdy 20 inches high, she made her debut at the Paris Exposition of 1889 and was thereafter on view at many fairs and exhibits. Leslie's Illustrated Weekly of October 1890, a popular periodical of the time, found her sharing the cover spotlight with her inventor and she was much written up in other magazines and journals.

As for her talking apparatus, it was installed in the galvanized tin tube that made up the torso of her body. The horn mechanism of the phonograph was installed in a kind of grating under her chin and the wax cylinders or recordings were placed in her back. Like all the first phonographs she needed a few turns of a crank to get her started. Although all this did not make her the most cuddly of creatures, it did make her rather an accomplished young lady. Considering that each cylinder was only 3" across and 3/4" long, she was a wonder, indeed. Unfortunately, there are no catalogs left to tell us how much she cost.

Although Edison's talking doll is no longer manufactured, she and her sisters still may be seen at the Edison Museum adjacent to the McGraw-Edison Company factories in West Orange, N. J. And she has left a rich heritage to generations of children. Today's little girls are playing with her descendants and the miniature depot that tells your son's imaginary electric-train passengers when the "Flyer Express" is due to arrive are all part of the talking toy trend that Edison started just seventy-nine years ago.

Plans for Christmas Decoration Contest Announced

The annual Christmas Decorating Contest will be sponsored again this holiday season by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Taneytown, Arthur Garvin, Jr., urges all contestants to plan now for their decorations for the Yule season. A total of ten prizes will be awarded and judging will be based on one of three of the following categories of decoration. Things to consider when decorating under one of the three or all categories are as follows:

- Artistic Merit—3 prizes
 - Design
 - Composition and arrangements of elements

- Lighting Techniques—3 prizes and Ingenuity
 - Use of regular Christmas lamps
 - Use of spot and flood lamps
 - Use of other lamps, such as fluorescent, circline, reflector color lamps, etc.
- Ingenuity should be applied in decorating, using structure of house or surroundings to best advantage.

A grand prize will be awarded for the best, all-round decorated house or home as applied to all categories shown above.

All residents planning to participate in the lighting contest are requested to complete the entry shown below and mail to Arthur Garvin, Jr., project chairman. All entries must be in prior to Dec. 25 in order to be eligible for prizes.

A final word to remember when decorating: "It is what you do with what you have; the artistry, originality, ingenuity and lighting techniques you show, that the judges will take into account."

New Mop Wrings Itself Dry

Automation has finally caught up with Mrs. Housewife's wet mop. Until now a wet, messy chore, this new automatic cellulose yarn mop makes floor mopping almost a breeze. It wrings itself.

Called Ring-a-Mop by its inventor, Quicke Manufacturing Corporation, the secret of the ingenious automatic action is in the ring that does all the "dirty work."

With this new household helper, floor mopping is a stand-up, hands-dry job. A quick push-pull on the handle grip wrings the mop dry, and returns the ring to position for the next wringing.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane Women's Travel Authority Pyro-Technique

As the woman of the family, you do the cooking—at home and on the camping vacations. If outdoor cooking is new to you, profit from these tips on how to make a good fire:

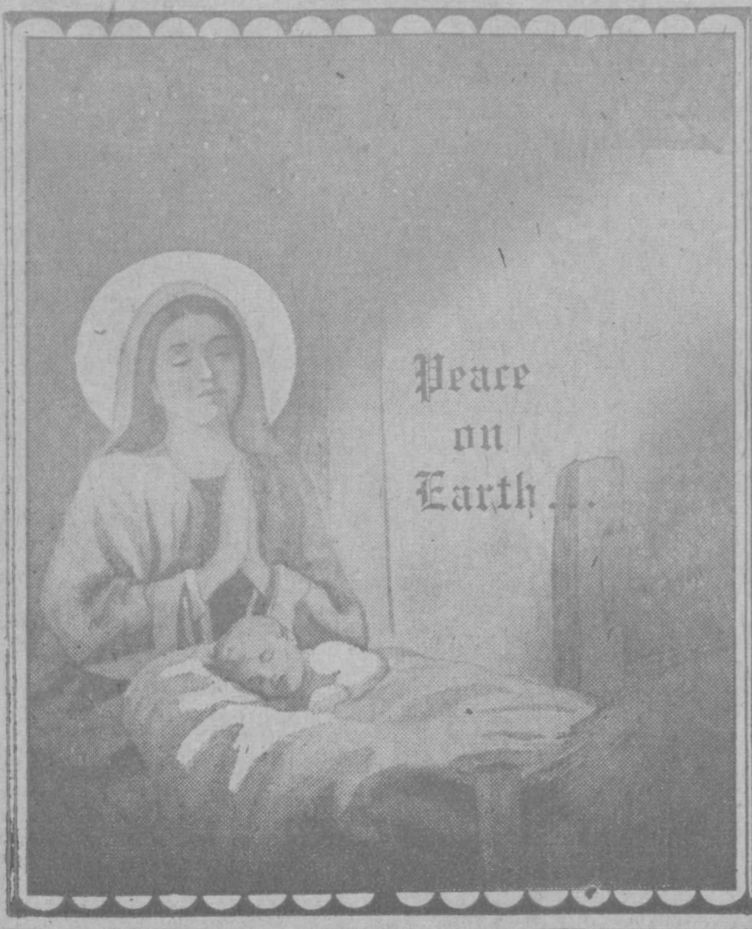

Select a spot that'll give a draft—preferably on sandy soil or gravel—and be sure the spot is bare, so fire can't spread. Use bark and small branches from dead or fallen trees for kindling. Twigs from the ground are apt to be damp; they'll make smoke but little fire. Note: Try to gather hard woods for the larger pieces. Split them, and they burn better.

In building your fire, place some shavings and other kindling on the ground. Build a frame with the branches in the form of a teepee by laying them at a slant. Other shavings should rise over the frame to catch and hold the flame. After the fire is well started, add the heavier wood. Criss cross the pieces so the draft won't be cut off.

Try to get a bed of hot, glowing embers. A roaring bonfire looks nice, but it's no good for cooking. Keep your fire small. A fire not more than a foot and a half in diameter can cook a feast.

When you're finished, put the fire out—dead out.

May the light of the Christmas star shine upon your home, bringing to you and yours contentment, peace and the joys of the season.

Did You Wonder Why Santa Drops Gifts Down Chimney?

How did it come about that Santa drops his gifts down the chimney?

For the answer to this common belief about Santa and Christmas, we must go back to Saint Nicholas, responsible for so many other customs related to Christmas.

There's a story about an impoverished nobleman who was unable to find husbands for his three daughters because he could not afford a dowry for each. He was about to sell the daughters into slavery when St. Nicholas heard about it. Silently, Old Saint Nick dropped three bags of gold down the chimney. All three daughters soon married and lived happily ever after.

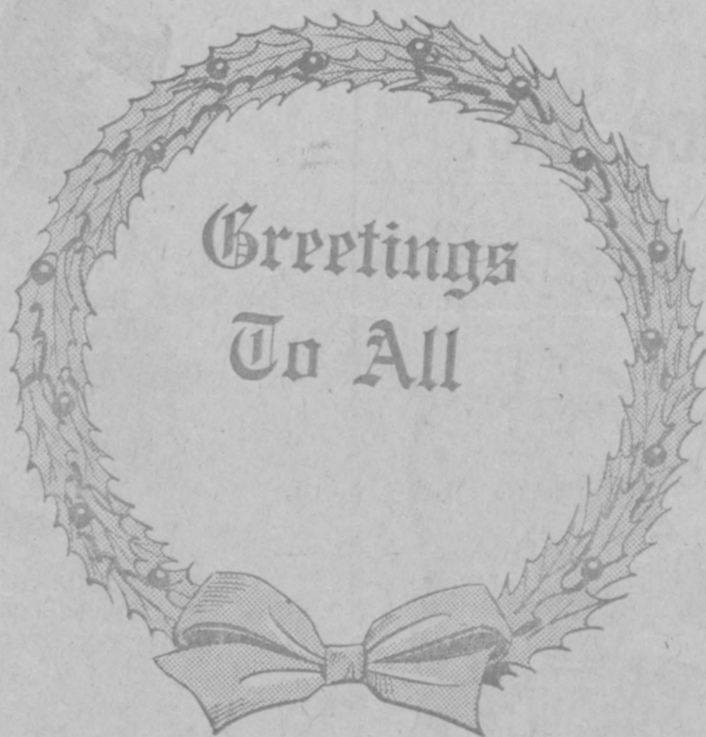

Hereafter, Saint Nicholas was often pictured holding three bags of gold. It is thought that he died about 343 A.D. and historians say that for 30 days after his death his genial spirit roamed the earth, filling the hearts of mankind with love and generosity.

It could be said that St. Nick and Dr. Clement Moore, who wrote "A Visit From Saint Nicholas" (now better known as "Twas the Night Before Christmas") contributed most to our present concept of Santa Claus.

To each of our good friends we offer heartiest best wishes for the Yule season. We hope it will be joyful and a time you'll remember always.

Wreathed In Christmas Spirit

Framed in a magnificent Della Robbia Christmas wreath, Harry Morgan and Cara Williams, stars of the popular "Pete and Gladys" television show, take time off from their hilarious comedy series to wish their millions of fans a Merry Christmas. The wreath which sets their happy Christmas mood comes from Boys Republic, Chico, Calif. All year long, the boys from broken homes, who are given an opportunity for rehabilitation at Boys Republic, gather the redwood foliage and seed pods, cones and colorful fruits which are assembled in holiday replicas of the traditional Della Robbia wreath originated in the 15th century in Florence, Italy. "Pete and Gladys," ranked among the most popular of new TV shows, is seen on the CBS-TV network every Monday evening. Harry and Cara were among the first to order wreaths from Boys Republic this year, with the funds going to help support this non-profit, non-sectarian, privately-supported farm school for deserving boys with adjustment problems.

Your friendship is a valued possession for which we thank you most sincerely.
