HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Darkness veiled above the earth like black velvet, and in the darkness, like black velvet, and in the darkness, a light! A glittering ball of glowing gasses, its brightness bringing glory to every corner of a sin-darkened world. "For unto you is born in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the King." A King—what glory awaits Him? His salute—the lowly bray of cettle: His colden are lowly bray of cattle; His golden cra-dle—a hay lined manger; His royal robes—swaddling bands. But He was

"Sive Them All My Love"

Every December the world is made to stop and consider the greatest event in world history—the coming of the Son of God to earth. That was 1900 years ago in Bethlehem in Judea in Palestine.

What really happened so long ago in Bethlehem which so much af-fects the way you and I spend Christmas in this year 1960?

gotten it and never will.

Something tremendous, far beyond human language to tell, happened then. God came into the world that night. God had been in the world before and men had been conscious of Him, but never like this-never fully and perfectly revealed like this. There is nothing in God that is not found in Jesus, and nothing in Jesus that is not found in God.

On Christmas morning, a child gets a new Toy. He has never seen one before and he doesn't know how to work it. He tries but he just doesn't have the knack. So a grownup, just as eager to try it, gets down on the floor and helps the child get the knack of it. That is exactly what God did. He looked down and saw us failing to get the knack of how to live the life He had given us, and then He got down on the floor beside us, so as to help us to find the knack.

When something a person says seems too involved and hard for us to they brought their humble gifts and as they fall to their knees, a dia-mond in the skies shone its brightness and a soft wind sighing 'round about carried the song of angels: "Glory to God in the Highest!" In the days to come, the fame of our King spread. From the East came three wise men: Melchoir. Caspar, and our King spread. From the East came three wise men: Melchoir, Caspar, and Balthasar. Riding their great ships of the desert, they searched for the new-born King. When they found Him, they fell to their knees and wor-shipped Him, and offered their gifts of gold, frankinsense, and myrrh. As we approach the birthday of our King, we too still worship, as did the

I was a little girl in Philadelphia around the age of eight or nine. There was always snow on the special day and the Letter-Carrier with high hipped boots and a huge umbrella overhead would trudge along in the deep white stuff delivering the greet-ing cards. I still can see his broad smile as we rushed to the door of that row of city homes which con-tained twelve rooms and then his bright, "Merry Christmas" to all of us! I never knew why I was selected of all the children (and I was next to the youngest) to carry the huge turkey to the nearby neighborhood bakery to be roasted or baked for the small fee of fifteen cents! Back I would go to get the bird which was done to perfection in about two hours and what a feast it was for our big family to be seated around that table! The Crane ice cream company then would deliver about for Tamily to be seated around that table! The Crane ice cream company then would deliver about five gallons of ice cream (The Executive being a close friend of my Dad's) and that was really a regular treat on Sun-days and all Holidays! GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

BEDFORD, IND., DAILY TIMES MAIL: "Whatever shape our 'society' is in today, the government is largely responsible. If the responsibility really lies there, the cure would seem to be to reverse the trend of the last couple decades which has been to more government responsibility and a resulting decline in local and individual responsibility."

ALTOONA, PA.; MIRROR: "Homegrown things are usually the best says a writer. If he's talking about children we agree."

MARTINEZ, CALIF., GAZETTE: "At a moment when frenzied orations are urging that the government 'stimulate' the economy to an annual growth rate of five per cent, the statistics on 1959 finally have come out. The Gross National Product went up about seven per cent last year, it turns out.

"Government spending programs can't in themselves improve the real GNP. To spend, the government must take the money from some taxpayer and prevent him from spending or investing it. And it can never be a substitute for free enterprise. It can only provide the climate for business and industry which will provide the growth and the real Gross National Product."

BEEVILLE, TEXAS, BEE-PICAY. UNE: "It is our responsibility to educate our children, to support the members of our family in need, and to aid our neighbors who are in want. Life is not a game; we have to do our part. No government can be all things to all men and unless we face responsibility now we will find our lot much tougher in the future than we dream ed life could be."

WEBSTER GROVES, MO., NEWS-TIMES: "The fundamental principle of democracy is that the members of the nation have to decide what they want. That seems to be where the trouble comes -- too many millions of moderns, debased by a steady diet of violence and fantasy on the screen and air, lack the ability or moral stamina to decide anything."

ADDISON, N. Y., ADVERTISER: "What probably gripes most Americans most is the fact the Russians capture one of our men spying over the Soviet Union, and they make a afford to lose the propaganda value P. M., E. S. T. of letting the rest of the world know America has been preyed upon by a whole swarm of spies for many years.

"It is high time our State Department stopped hushing up the activities of these red agents, and began telling the facts abroad so other countries in the world will know the United States has to practice counterespionage, if the free world is to stay free.'

WASH., IOWA, JOURNAL: "Out of recent automobile group meetings comes the sordid story of methods practiced by the Teamsters' Union to fight the piggyback plan used by the railroads....According to reports quantities of acid are being poured from under-pass bridges on the tops of new cars as they move along beneath."

ANTIGO, WISC., JOURNAL: "Last year U. S. tourists spent two billion dollars overseas, about one billion more than visitors spent in this country. Thus, getting more foreigners to visit and spend in the United

Recently, a team of Russian women beat a team of American women in a basketball game at New York's Madison Square Garden. America won the men's game. That's fine with us; they were good games, and someone had to win. The point is, Russia won a game as American as the Indians. And they broadcast their triumph loudly and happily throughout the world. But here is the significance. Not that the Russians won an American game, but how.

Here is how. Athletics is not fun and games in the Soviet. It is grim government business. Anyone who shows aptitude and physical qualifications for track, soccer, basketball, hockey, skating or for practi-cally any other sport, receives special treatment behind the Iron Curtain. Jobwise, he is given preferred work. He un-degrade interview training the dergoes intensive training. He gets special grooming and coaching, enabling him to rise to what we would call professional heights. Yet technically he maintains his amateur standing. When the individual, or the team, wins, the victory is exploited around the world with all the arrogant boastfulness attending a major military conquest.

The same boastful attitude prevails in the far more important area of scientific contribution.

There is no doubt that "Sputnick" was a great achievement. But Sputnick's success prompt-ed an outburst of Russian political braggadocio so swagger-ing as to cloud the fine accomplishment itself. It may be true that the Russians are ahead of us in space probing. It is possible that we lead them in other phases of rocketry and in certain scientific defense systems. The details of com-parison we do not know. What we do know is the almost-hyswe do know is the almost-hys-terical emphasis with which every Russian advance is boomed across the world as proof of the superiority of the Soviet "good life." This way of life "in the workers' paradise" is so productive, so forward-moving, we are told flatly, that Russia expects not only to ex-Russia expects not only to ex-ceed our growth but even eco-nomically to "bury" us!

Such an attitude on the part of the Russians makes a comparison with our own way of life inevitable. Let us see how the Soviets get their results. For one important thing, they go to school six days a week. Their government creates, as we said, special living condi-tions for those who excel in any field where the results can be a loudly-tooted political boast. The whole stress is on mass production of talent. parison with our own way of production of talent. It's not our way. It never was. Part of our Constitution opens up opportunity to the in-dividual but does not ram it down his throat. There is more chance in our method, but the past proves it has served us well. We feel we do not need governmental assistance, such as the Soviet provides, to guarantee team or personal suc-

The danger in this practice is that it can lead to compla-cency. So far, our haphazard "individual" system has worked well; therefore we feel it will continue. Perhaps we are the continue. Perhaps we are too optimistic.

Remember, this attitude of ours has a terrible historical parallel. Complacency was the curse that so frequently softcurse that so frequently soft-ened older civilizations. Egypt of the great Pharaohs, Greece, the Roman Empire, Spain of the Phillips, France of the Em-pire — all were complacent. And all paid the catastrophic price for their smugness.

Can we do anything to change complacency to compe-tence?

Yes. First, we can be aware of it. Then, everywhere, let's use our individual initiative while we still have it! We can be active in politics, in medi-cine, in business — in all those important areas so easily so-cialized by government. By re-taining our duties and functions as men of democracy, we retain something greater — our indi-vidual identities and invidual identity! And, in turn, we help our nation to keep the strong shape of its heritage.

In America, ours is still the choice. So we must not surren-der our individual initiative to the government or to any other agency. The rights and duties of personal initiative and per-sonal responsibility still rest where they always did. Right on the individual. On YOU. And only your own connectence can only your own competence can keep them there.

There were many speculations in the 2nd century about the date of Christ's birth and no two historians could agree. But it wasn't until the year 534 that the church made it a holy day, and even then, it wasn't a festive occasion. Even the Pilgrims in 1630 scorned Christmas as Steven. "human invention" and a survival of heathen days, as indeed many of the Christmas symbols are. John Rob-inson has dealt with the matter of Christmas at some length in his book "Just and Necessarie Apologie" in which he takes the Dutch to task for in many things including the fact that they were not true Christians and never would be until they ceased warrant for it in the Scripture. Another, Christmas, Folks which I will never forget is the very first one in the Parsonage in the country village of Hereford. My Minister had never tasted turkey and I was deter-mined to have a big one for that Christmas---our first together. A few days prior to Christmas, we went shopping for the boys and upon our return there was a great big Turkey in a bundle at the front door of the Parsonage. There was no name from whom it came and we were puzzled. It was not until a month passed that we learned it was from the Commander of The American Legion! We bought three scooters, three pairs of roller skates, a huge sled to hold three boys, three pairs of boxing gloves, a set of the largest trains I have ever seen! That Christmas will always be in my bouquet of Memories. This past week end the 1960 Christmas Greens Conservation Show with the theme "Rays from The Christmas Star" was held at the Baltimore Museum of Art which is an Annual event of the Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland Inc. and was open to the public without charge. It was truly one of the most beautiful exhibits I have ever seen and it should be held over for two weeks instead of four or five days. The CREAM of Baltimore cousins assembled under one roof enjoying one another in song and conversation...of hearing the gossip of the newest member of the family the country it represents, "Ring out Wild Bells" "Star Gazing", "A Christ-mas Mobile", "The Elegance of Christmas Around the Fire-Place" 'Th Gayety of Christmas", "Great Christ-mas Hymns of The Church", Sym-phony in Green", "Fresh Flower ar-rangement for the Apartment Door", "The First Noel", "Star Flight--A Feast for the Birds" and all the beau-tiful hand-made Wreaths!

I surely hope that there were guests from Carroll County to see this beau-tiful exhibit which is beyond describing. The Wreaths were in tints and tones and values of brown! No artifi-cial trimmings permitted! All with fresh cut material. One which topped all others was made and exhibited and brought a Blue Ribbon was that of a lady from Harford County by the name of Mrs. Fred A. Vogel. The Mantel Decorations were lovely and original and the top one was a "French Mantel Decoration". The one other I admired greatly was. ## That Christmas Holiday Phone Call

How come there are more long distance telephone calls made every ousiness day than there are on Christmas?

Doesn't the younger generation care any longer about "the old folks at home"? For that matter, have the "old folks" forgotten their attachment for children far away at Christ-mas-time? Don't you believe it!

of the year as usual, maybe even more so. And if you are planning to place a long distance call between 7 p.m. on Christmas Eve and about 10 p.m. on Christmas night, whether it's to a a town 50 miles away, it's quite poss- holidays with their parents, Mr. and ible that you'll have some waiting to Mrs. Harry Copenhaver.

It is true that the millions of Americans who will call long distance this Christmas will be substantially lower in number than those whose long distance calls go through promptly on any regular business day.

But there is a logical explanation for that. The bulk of everyday long distance calling is of a business nature, mostly between offices in large metropolitan centers. There are hun-dreds of long distance lines or circuits between large cities like Balti-more, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles, and they can easily handle the everyday traffic. Christmas calls, on the other hand, are almost exclusively inspired by sentiment and a very large number of them are to small towns or homes in suburban areas.

That's where the difficulty arises. The lines that connect big cities with small town's or link rural communities are far less numerous, and heavy long distance calling to such areas may require some juggling of circuits--and some waiting. According to Mrs. Culler, long dis-tance chief operator in Westminster the phone company puts a lot of prior planning into the handling of the one-day-a-year Christmas load

Immediately after Mother's Day, the second peak holiday of the year in long distance calling, the telephone ompany's analysts begin a study of calls made on that day and on the previous Christmas.

With information on the points of heaviest traffic and the places where the longest and most frequent de-lays occurred, company engineers estimate where additional long distance equipment is most urgently needed for the current Christmas.

Anticipating that operators will handle a record number of Christmas long distance calls from this area, Mrs. Culler said a large operating force will be on duty. She also said that many thousands of incoming calls will be made to telephones served from her switchboards.

some social security monthly benefits while they are working.

A provision of the new social secur-ity amendments changes the rules for determining how earnings from work affect a person's right to receive monthly benefits, but the following rules remain unchanged:

1. Anyone earning $1200 or less during a year will still be entitled to receive his full social security check for every month of the year;

2. Anyone who has reached his 72nd birthday will still be able to receive his full social security check for every month no matter how | much he works and how much he earns;

3. A person will not have any de-ductions from his social security check for any month that his earnings as an employee are $100 or less or, if he is self-employed, for any month that he does not do substantial work in his business.

DON'T BE AN ACCIDENT STATISTIC THIS HOLIDAY-DRIVE CAREFULLY

Christmas and New Year holidays are happy times, but when you take to the road remember that more people are killed in traffic accidents on Christmas than on any other holiday. The record death toll for any three-day holiday is 609 lives lost on the highways. With this Christmas and New Year both being three-day holiday weekends, don't you contribute to breaking that record. Remember, accidents are no respectors of people. On the past July 4th weekend, 442 persons lost their lives—a new record-while roads were in reasonably good condition. Christmas and New Year may find the highways slick with frost, ice or covered with snow, thus making driving more hazardous. The Purolator Automotive Research Bureau reminds you to follow

MORE FOR YOU IN T-VUE TIME

these hints when you drive during the holiday weekends: 1. Before pulling out from the curb or a side road, check to see what is coming. 2. Keep in one lane until ready to pass and then use cautios, and proper er signals before moving into the left lane. 3. Do not drink before getting behind the wheel. Drivers with 0.10 per cent of alcohol in their blood cause five times as many deaths and injuries as drivers who are sober, and those with 0.15 per cent cause 55 times as many.

No one wants to see the traffic accident death record broken. Drive carefully! Make sure these three-day holiday weekends aren't your last ones.

Hot Potato Salad Is Delicious

THIS HOT POTATO SALAD is bound to delight family and guests no matter what the season. The use of Minute Sliced Potatoes makes it a cinch to prepare. During the very few minutes needed to cook the potatoes, the other ingredients can be combined, and presto!-in a wink of the eye - you have a zesty bowl of salad that will surely be the high spot of your meal. After an afternoon of shopping, a meeting of Den Mothers, or - let's say-et the end of any busy day, this is a perfect accompaniment to left-over turkey, hot or cold. Try hot potato salad made this new way and it's a certainty you'll never go back to oldfashioned potato peeling; eyeing and slicing!

HOT POTATO SALAD

4	cups packaged sliced	¾ teaspoon salt
	potatoes	1 teaspoon celery seed
2	teaspoons salt	1/3 cup salad oil
8	cups water	3½ tablespoons vinegar
	slices of bacon	Dash of pepper
3/4	cup finely chopped onions	2 tablespoons coarsely
1	tablespoon flour	chopped green pepper
1	tablespoon sugar	1 tablespoon chopped parsle	ļ

Add potatoes and 2 teaspoons salt to water in a large saucepan. Cover and bring to a boil. Then boil until tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Drain well.

Fry bacon in skillet until crisp. Drain on paper toweling; then crumble. Remove all except 2 tablespoons of fat from the skillet. Add 1/2 cup of onions. Saute until onions are tender but not browned. Stir in flour, sugar, remaining salt, the celery seed, oil, vinegar, and pepper. Simmer until slightly thickened. Add drained cooked potatoes, remaining onions, the green pepper and parsley. Stir together lightly. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Serve warm. Makes 3 to 10 servings.

M1s. Harris is the mother of two small boys, ages 6 and 8, and a pre-school daughter. Her husband is a teacher. With youngsters this age, and a husband whose profession calls for continual contact with parents, a phone often seems like a necessity.

Mrs. Harris decided she'd find out for sure, so for two weeks she kept tabs on her phone calls with a telephone diary. The diary spelled out the value of phone service in hours saved - fewer miles of errand running - and resultant savings in dollars and cents that virtually cut the cost of phone service to nothing.

Probably you don't keep a telephone diary. But if you did, we think you'd be pleasantly surprised at the many ways your telephone pays for itself. /

"A Savior Who is Christ the Lord"

Christ is given many names in the New Testament. Three of the most important are here in the angel's words to the shepherds: Savior, Christ, Lord. What Christ had, and has, to do with the forgiveness of sins, was left in God's providence for other men to learn. God did not send his angel to instruct the Shepherds in a Theory of the Atonement, they were not told a word about a Virgin Birth. They were shepherds, not theologians. They would not have understood such matters. But they could understand "Savior." It was an Old Testament word, sometimes it meant God and sometimes it meant a man. "Deliverer" expresses the meaning the Old Testament puts into the word. A Savior was always one who did for others what they most desperately needed and did for them what they could never do for themselves.

The shepherds understood the other words too, Christ and Lord Christ the Messiah, God's chosen King, we have seen how this promise was clung to through long centuries. If this baby was the Christ, it meant that the long waiting and hoping was over, God's Kingdom was now at hand. And Lord-the word was not new. It was on imperial documents, it was on the imperial statutes, men had died cruelly, and would die again, because they would not call the Caesar "Lord." But here was a Lord, THE Lord of mankind, even of Caesar.

"Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year" is no hollow platitude warns the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission. In this simple, but meaningful, greeting, is expressed our sincere hope for a year free of worry and pain. The spirit of Christmas emphasizes the sacredness of life. The tragic deaths from accidents that strike countless homes throughout Maryland during the holiday season make a hollow mockery of Christmas joy and festivity. We can help insure a safe and happy future by doing everything possible to reduce traffic accidents-By walking and driving carefully.

Safety's presence is a living present.
