"Child Evangelism Week" Program Presented

A splendid audience was on hand Sunday evening at the United Brethren Church for the special program presented by the Taneytown Good News Clubs in observance of National Child Evangelism Week. The local children welcomed their guests with a song, which was followed by songs by all the children. The Bethel Road Good News Club, was represented by a boys saxophone duo, a girls accordian duo and a vocal trio. Their numbers were very well done. Mrs. Kenneth Stonesifer taught a visualized Bible lesson on forgiveness. The preschool Good News Clubbers from east end, taught by Miss Valerie Nusbbaum and assisted by Miss Connie Jean Nusbbaum, delighted the audience with their singing. Their numbers included "Jesus loves me", "Deep and Wide" and "Peter, James and John in a sailboat". Memory verses and several choruses were given by the Deep Run Club with Mrs. Nancy Houser, assistant teacher, introducing the children.

Another special feature of the evening was the young boys and girls in Mrs. Stonesifer's club. They, very enthusiastically, sang "O, who can make a flower" and the ABC chorus. A letter from one of the missionaries in Japan whom the Good News Clubbers are helping to support with their offerings, was read by Peggy Jo Smith. Prayer was offered for the missionary workers by Warren Utterback. The next group to participate was the older children's club from east end, taught by Mrs. Kenneth Nusbbaum. They sang, "Do you want a Pilot", "To the East, to the West", and other choruses. A Japanese Puppet Story was very nicely presented by the following cast: Sumi, Teresa Zent; Father, Gary Etzler; Tea House, Susan Miller; Garden, Ronnie Hess; Idol, Eddie Green; Lady, Brenda Clem; Reader, Karl Nusbbaum.

Songs, including "I am so glad", "Salvation" and "The Christian Belief" were sung by the older town children, who are also taught by Mrs. Nusbbaum. Mr. Franklin Stippich, a Westminster business man and Vice Chairman of the Carroll County C. E. F. Committee, very ably described the many phases of the Child Evangelism ministry in Maryland. A generous offering was received for the work. Valerie Nusbbaum and Darold Stonesifer were the piano accompanists for the service. Approximately 150 people were in attendance.

LIONS CLUB FARMERS NIGHT

Program Presented at Taney Inn Last Tuesday Evening

Some seventy persons were present at the regular meeting of Taneytown Lions last Tuesday, February 28, in Taney Inn, when Farmers' night was celebrated in a program provided by past-President Ralph W. Stonesifer.

President Glenn O. Reever presided, Merwyn C. Fuss invoked a divine blessing, and Lion tamer Donald R. Lawyer conducted a song period with the assistance of Harry L. Reindollar at the piano as a prelude to dinner.

Prior to the general introduction of farmer guests by their Lion hosts, several announcements and minor business matters were handled briefly by the president. The remainder of the holiday season's fruitcakes were offered by Chairman David B. Shaum, Singleton E. Remsburg, and Dr. Paul L. Roxin and quickly snapped up.

Tickets for the Zone social March 22 at New Windsor may be obtained from Lion Remsburg. Past sins will be forgiven, but henceforth, according to a board decision, attendance make-ups will not be granted for bowling league or "Roaring Lions" public speaking participation. Chairman C. David Hiltebrich called attention to the availability of more Shrimp feed tickets for those in need of them, and President Reever called a short Directors' session to follow the evening's meeting.

Lion Stonesifer then opened his program with a group of songs by a barber shop quintet from Emmitsburg composed of their leader, Weldon Shank, George McDonald, Ralph McDonald, Odell Shank, and Preston Shank. They rendered a capella "A Quaker down in Quakertown", "The Little Old Red Shawl", "Mister Moon", "Coney Island Babe", and "In the Shadow of the Cross" in some fine old close harmony, enthusiastically received.

The message of the evening was delivered by Robert Stamford, B. S., Univ. of Md., ex-serviceman, native of a Howard county farm, now with the Extension Service of the U. S. D. A. in Frederick county. Putting his audience in a receptive frame of mind with several jokes, he then launched into an exposition of the departmental 1956 so-called "Scope" projection and its 1959 "Guide" thereto, pointing out the phases which are to be emphasized in all Extension work in this and succeeding years. These fall into nine categories: (1) Efficiency in production; (2) marketing, distribution, and utilization of farm products; (3) conservation, wise use and development of our natural resources; (4) management on the farm and in the home; (5) family living; (6) youth development; (7) leadership; (8) community improvement and resources development; and (9) public affairs.

The meeting was closed by the induction into Lions membership of Keith M. Brown and Robert F. Wantz in an effective ceremony conducted by Second Vice President John T. Hottinger with the aid of their sponsors, Lions Hiltebrich and Fred B. Garner.

A nominating committee to select officers for next year, starting July 1, was appointed, Chairman Raymond J. Perry, Merle S. Ohler, and Delmar E. Riffle.

The annual Oyster and Shrimp feed will be the club's next meeting, on Tuesday, March 14, in St. Joseph's Parish hall, Taneytown, at 6:00 p.m. Chairmen of the various divisions of this activity are: Tickets, Lion Hiltebrich; tickets, Lawyer; tickets at door, Hottinger; tables and chairs, Perry; beverages, Shaum; potato salad, Garner; fried chicken, Donald R. Baker; food, Harry B. Dougherty; serving, Lewis R. Baer; and clean-up, Norman R. Sauble.

Former THS Student Has Leading Role

Paul Andreas, who left Taneytown High School October 31 of last year as his family moved to Martinsburg, W. Va., has the leading role in the Junior Class play, "Harvey", which will be presented in the Martinsburg High School auditorium on Monday and Tuesday, March 27 and 28.

The play opens at the house of Elwood P. Dowd (played by Paul), a friendly, polite middle aged man. The house is filled with guests of Mrs. Veta Simmons and her daughter, Mrs. Mae, who are having a tea. Mrs. Simmons hasn't entertained in a few years because she is afraid that Elwood will introduce his friend "Harvey" to the guests. This leads Mrs. Simmons to try to commit Mr. Dowd to a sanatorium. Mrs. Simmons takes Elwood to Dr. Chumley, a nationally famous psychiatrist, but the doctor thinks that Mrs. Simmons is the one to be committed. After a nasty ordeal, Veta is released but by the time Dr. Chumley realizes the mistake, Elwood has made his escape. Finally, Mr. Dowd after hours of longing returns to the sanatorium to look for his friend "Harvey."

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Walking along Lexington Street and gazing upon the crowd in amazement (as though it was Christmas) for the sales for George Washington's Birthday and then slowing down my pace as I gazed in each store at the entrance. Such bargains I never saw before and each individual had arms full of the contents in the bags held tightly. I went in to browse around in a number and the biggest crowd was in the Brager-Gutman store where the mark downs were simply beyond describing and the only thing one needed was the dough - rae - mi!

That store's executives were although it had been the custom for quite a number of years in New York and Philly. It was also a holiday for the city school children and they were among the crowds of shoppers ending up by going to see "The Walt Disney" show. They say that Brager-Gutman was selling the coffee for 4 cents a cup and for those who like that drink took advantage of it. I could not resist those kisses—30 cents a pound always; on sale for 57 cents and Hershey's of course! There were many buying the Chocolate Covered Cherry candies and even the plain hard candy in the cherry form. I was surprised to see many Catholic Sisters shopping and they were enjoying it all which was quite evident on their sweet expressions which always shine to this Observer.

What a delightful evening last Monday at the Peabody which was open to the Public by The Baltimore Music Club (Member of National Federation of Music Clubs)—Mrs. Henry C. Tiemeyer, Jr. President and this is the Thirty-eighth season, Dedicated to The Parade of American Music of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Elsa Baklor is Director and it was presented in two one act Operas—the first titled "Slow Dusk" and the setting of this charming work by Carlisle Floyd of four Characters takes place in the sandhills of the Carolinas during the afternoon and dusk of the day in May on the front porch of a front yard. The "Disciples" and the "Twilights" are the religious sects mentioned in the play and actually exist in the locale of the story. The voices were excellent and the acting just as fine of each character. It all charmed the audience and there was standing room! The second act titled "The Lowland Sea" was written out of remembering of the sea and sea songs—of dunes, of harbors, of voyaging, of loneliness and of waiting. It is familiar to anyone who has walked the streets of Nantucket or who has waited for the evening mail boat at Ocracoke. The music was delightful such as the round "Here We Come A-Roving" and a new setting of the old poem, "The Cuckoo." I am convinced that Baltimore is filled with music-minded individuals.

And this to those who have a desire to live in the State of Florida so as it was told to me direct.

My husband was born in Deland, Florida and as soon as he was 18 years of age, he quickly enlisted in the United States Army and that mainly as he told me was to get away from such an existence. However, after spending 27 years in the service, we headed down there to live thinking it had changed and we spent just one year and returned to Baltimore. I cannot describe those awful hurricanes to you as one must be right there through it all. The big trees are pulled up from these storms as the roots have nothing solid to cling to as underneath it is all water and sand. Going through what they call the eye of the storm, I could never describe to anyone for at that time one could almost hear a leaf fall and that time is the most critical. The destruction is really never told as it really is down there as to publication in the newspapers up here.

To see the houses ruined and I brought the pictures along to show you (handing me the pictures) and as to the lakes—well—a New Yorker who owns quite a bit of land there which he purchased for an investment does not know that instead of one lake in front of his property that two lakes went together all over his ground and that is the big lake—the picture I took of that before leaving. It seems people just exist and await death. There is nothing to do and it is just about the most lazy life in any country. I am so thankful I am back in Baltimore and my husband said if he never sees it again even for a visit, will be O.K. with him!

So there it is, folks in answer to the many inquiries I get about Florida and I repeat even if my Ancestor Juan Florian Ponce deLeon thought he discovered the "Fountain of Youth" I have discovered it right up North.

So long, until next week D. V. Have a grand week end. It is wonderful to see the grass again after all the snow even if it has a dark brown hue. Eh?

I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

FAIR CHANCE

A mighty effort will be made during the current Congress to provide medical aid payments for everyone receiving benefits under the social security system.

The case against this extremely controversial proposal should be thoroughly understood. First of all, it would provide the medical aid to a certain age group whether or not they were in need. Large numbers of social security beneficiaries have substantial incomes from other sources, and are able to meet their medical costs. There is no reason why the general taxpayers—who contribute to the social security fund—
should pay these bills.

Second, the medical care for the aged bill which Congress passed last year after refusing to approve the social security concept, deserves a fair trial. It is designed to provide the aid to those who are actually in need—not to arbitrarily-established groups. And it places administrative responsibility and authority where it belongs—on local government, which understands and is close to local problems.

Objective surveys tell us that the medical cost problems of people 65
and older have been greatly exaggerated—that nowhere near as high a proportion is in dire straits as some have imagined. A sound policy will help those who lack the resources to care for themselves financially, and limit government aid strictly to that. The present law has this goal.—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

CHEWELAH, WN., INDEPEND-ENT: "Senator Mansfield, Democrat
from Montana and the majority leader in the U. S. Senate—suggests that a law should be passed providing for one million dollars to each of the two major parties to be spent during the presidential campaign—stipulating that the money be given only to the Democrats and the Republicans, would
on the face of it be unconstitutional,
as it is then a discriminatory law.
To be legal, we believe that every party which has a presidential candidate could demand an equal contribution—including the Socialists."

BEEVILLE, TEXAS, BEE-PIC-AYNE: "In the era after World War I, a group of men across our country banded together and in unity were able to stop the cartels and mergers of big business. Competition continued to determine price, and man was able to rise materially according to his own ability. Today we feel there is a need for another group of men to gather together, not only to stop big business, but to stop big government. Not only do we have public power and government-owned industries but in almost every city of the United States you can find government supply stores, outlets for any type of merchandise on the market."

JOURNAL: "There are 44 sponsors of Senate Bill No. 1 which calls for the expenditure of $400 million over a four-year period for the relief of distressed areas. The project seems well on its way to early realization.
The money would be spent to set up three $100 million revolving funds authorize $75 million grants to help build new industrial plants and public facilities in areas of chronic unemployment. But it does not get to the real heart of the matter—which is the cause and cure of such conditions in various communities across the country."

EMPORIA, KANSAS, GAZETTE:
"We hate to pour Goldwater on the Democrats just as they are getting warmed up, but talk is getting out of hand."

"President Kennedy's 'task forces', study groups and committees have come up with some alarming proposals. One of the most alarming called for a government-owned television network similar to the British Broadcasting Company, but we doubt, if even the most liberal of Kennedy's staff took this suggestion seriously."

TITUSVILLE, FLA., STAR-AD-

county, state or nation, contend they have many things that the 'people' would not be interested in; would not care to know; should not be told.
They have the idea that discussions should be closed to the public, that final decisions are what count."

"These government officials forget one thing. They forget the people, from whom they now wish to keep information, are their bosses. They forget that these same people have more than a right, they have a guar-

BENNINGTON, VT., BANNER:

Hence, if some legislator in Washing-taxpayers won't tax themselves for such purposes then, by gosh, Wash-

vide the money (or at least a share of it) and soak the taxpayers from on high for the 'improvement'."

Policymaker Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. Could you tell me whether I can buy life insurance and what it would cost at my present age? I am 75 and would like to buy a policy to guarantee my grandson a college fund should I die. If I live, I will be able to pay the college costs out of income.

A. Yes, you can buy life insurance today at 75 from a number of companies and for many years after that, if you can qualify as a policyholder. Up to a decade or so ago, most life companies stopped writing new policies at age 60 or 65, but today practically all issue straight life insurance up to age 70, a high percentage go on up to age 75 and some go up to age 80. A few companies have no established top age, but consider each applicant on his own merits. The annual cost of a straight life policy at 75 would be in the neighborhood of $130 per $1,000. The cash value of this policy would build up over the years, so that by ten years' time, you would have over $3,000 cash in an $8,000 policy. These figures are on the assumption that you are a grandfather, not a grandmother (you did not state). If you are a grandmother, the annual cost would be slightly less.

Q. I was told the other day that I should have my policies checked every year. Why is this? Can the policy be changed without my knowing it?

A. No, once issued, your policy cannot be changed without your permission and knowledge. The checking recommended (and all companies and agents recommend it) is to meet changes in your own circumstances and family needs and to bring up to date the information necessary for prompt benefit payment. Change of address, change of beneficiary, changes advisable because of taxes and a long list of other changes occur frequently through your lifetime. Marriage, the addition of a new member of the family, entry of a child into college, your own retirement—these are a few of the events that may call for some policy changes. This regular annual or biennial checking by your agent costs you nothing—it is a service to which you are entitled under your policy.

Nature, they say, abhors a vacuum. I do not know why. But then, why do you love many of the things you love, and loathe many of the things you abhor? Nature, however, is not usually capricious. Some deep policy generally prompts her strange behaviour. First of all, what is a vacuum? What is nothing?

God from "nothing" made all things and yet, look at the stupendous majesty of His infinite creation. Job the Patriarch tells us that nothing is the foundation of everything. He hangeth the world upon "Nothing". Therefore Nothing is worth thinking about. It is a huge mistake to take things at their face value, for it is easy to see that "Nothing" may sometimes represent a modest contrivance for hiding everything. Like the child when crying was asked "What is the matter?" "Oh nothing".

Then what on earth are you crying for? "Oh Nothing". Would we be deceived by believing that "Nothing" was the cause of the weeping? When we regard "Nothing" as a vacuum we are at cross purposes with nature. "Doing Nothing" and "Having Nothing" is in opposition to nature. Twice, at least, in her strange and chequered history the church has fallen in love with members of the Nothing family. One chapter in Gibbons Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire tells of the Origin, Progress and Effects of Monastic Life! What a weird, fantastic spectacle as men swarmed out into the deserts to live solitary lives, took vows of perpetual silence, ceased to speak at the most disgusting food and lived the lives of wild beasts, thinking they were serving God and humanity by "Doing Nothing". Then came the "Have Nothing" or what were termed the Mendicant Orders. They fell in love with Poverty. Francis d' Assisi fell in love with Poverty, borrowed the filthy and tattered garments of a beggar, sought alms on the street, thus arrayed in rags, feet bruised by stones, torn with briars he hoped to serve God and humanity but soon realized their was no virtue in Having Nothing or Doing Nothing as they were both Good-for-Nothing hence with a greatly changed conception, he and Dominic founded those orders of mendicant monks which became one of the most potent missionary forces of the Middle Ages. There is nothing in Nothing! Idle hands easily find mischief! Company rather than solitude! There is always peril in vacancy! The uncultivated garden brings forth weeds. The unoccupied mind is the devil's playground; The vacant soul is a lost soul.

"Something" is better than "Nothing" whether it be coins, old books, butter flies or Book Matches Nature abhors a vacuum. I think we said.

3,000 Year-Old Tradition Restored

THIS HUGE TANKER BEING LAUNCHED before a cheering crowd of thousands is the first major ship built in Greece since the Crusades. Ancient Greece, however, not only gave birth to the culture and democracy of the West but for more than a thousand years supplied shipping which carried the greater part of the known world's commerce until the fall of Rome.

Christened WORLD HOPE by a modern Greek beauty, Mrs. Amalia Karamanlis, wife of the Prime Minister, the new 25,000-ton vessel can carry more than all the thousand "black-hulled ships" launched thirty centuries ago to bring back Helen of Troy from the lofty towers of Ilium. But the mission today is peaceful progress through world commerce, the hope of modern Greece—and indeed the world.

Built by shipowner Stavros Niarchos, in his new Hellenic Shipyards near Athens, the WORLD HOPE completes the restoration of the oldest traditional maritime nation. Already leading the world in tonnage serving international trade; in the rosters of seamen employed; and in higher education for merchant marine officers; the original "sons of the sea" are again building ships on the shores where their ancestors laid not only keels, but the foundation of modern civilization.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

The Right Attitude

What two things add up to safe driving? Aptitude plus attitude. Skill is important, and we hear lots about it. But the motorist with the right attitude is the one with the safest record.

For a quick check on your driving attitude, jot down how many times out of a possible ten, you:

- 1....glide through a stop sign without halting completely because the road looks clear and you're in a hurry
- 2....slip through an intersection when the light is yellow, or jump just before it turns green
- 3....go into a marked curve without reducing speed
- 4....neglect to dim your lights because the other driver will be past in a second
- 5....find yourself matching the speed of a car trying to pass you
- 6....drive on the tail of the car ahead so he'll know he's going too slow for you
- 7....park close to a hydrant because there's no other space nearby
- 8....try to honk your way through a traffic tie-up

Total your score. If it's over 20, your driving attitude could be heading you into trouble. Correct it before it's too late.

We have been having some spring
like weather for which we are thank-except where the big drifts were,

but the roads are surely in bad shape,
they have posted a road closed sign up on the road leading from Uniontown to Taneystown.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carbaugh and son, Chuckie, of Washington, D. C., called on the former's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Levine Carbaugh of this place one day last week. Also Mr.
and Mrs. John Carbaugh and son, Jeffery and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Carbaugh visited recently in the home.

Don't carry burdens you can set down. An aged, weary-looking woman with a heavy basket on her arm entered a train. She carried her burden with some difficulty down the aisle to a seat. She set the burden on her lap and continued to hold it even though it was so heavy she shifted its weight now and then from one knee to the other. A working man across the aisle watched her for some time in silence, when he could stand it no longer he reached over and touched
the woman's arm. "Madam", he said,
"if you will set your basket down,
the train will carry both it and you".

Do we all do this? do we insist upon carrying the burden even when we might temporarily lay it down and ease our breaking backs?

A fish that keeps his mouth shut
will never be caught!

"Another thing a lot of women
use to take the drudgery out of housework is alimony."—L. S. Mc-Candless.

Why fear death? It is something that has never happened to you.

Why Not, When Wanted, Needed, Provided for and Recommended?

It is the playwright, Shakespeare,
who in his "Hamlet" has Marcellus say, "something is rotten in the state of Denmark." Today we would of necessity have to declare with all firmness of conviction and all positive affirmation that "something is rotten in Westminster." And we refer to nothing other than a group of political appointees known as the

"BOARD OF EDUCATION" who meet in the Administration Building
of Carroll County.

One would think that all of the members of this group would be sufficiently mature in mind and would have had ample experience in the business world to make the right decisions
so as not to have to be grossly embarrassed with the story of their lack of vision and limited understanding being read both far and wide as it is published in the public press.

Apparently, some of this Board are not familiar with the scriptural words of the writer of Proverbs who declared "where there is no vision, the people perish" and the pen of Alexander Pope who wrote "a little learning - (understanding) - is a dangerous thing."

Our reference is primarily to the action taken by the Board of Education regarding the Taneystown Elementary School addition as it was reported recently in several newspapers. The County Commissioners who assume the responsibility for providing the necessary funds for public education recommended an 8 room
addition to the Taneystown Elementary School and even set aside $175,000. for the Taneystown project. And then the Board of Education, which because of its action might for want of a better name be called the Bored with Education, goes on record preferring a 4 room and cafeteria addition for a contract price of $95,412. in preference to an 8 room and cafeteria addition for only $129,322.

This, it seems, is very unwise, foolish, indiscreet, unreasonable and absurd to say the least. It is hard to imagine that any of them would be so injunctious, not recognizing a bargain when it is within their possession. If for no other reason than the economical factor, the $129,322. figure should have been chosen. After all, this is merely a cost of 26.22% for the second half of the project. It is hard to imagine that any of the Board members with funds available of their own, and planning to build a house,
would accept a contract price of $12, 240. for a mere one floor house with carport, when for the amount of $15,
974. (an added 26.22%) the contractor would include 2 finished rooms and a bath upstairs, a complete basement with recreation room and workshop space or hobby room, and a 2 car garage. This is comparable to the school addition project.

It almost makes one lose his faith
in man when he hears such things.
And yet we dare not when we consider that all are children of the Almighty God and as such they have at least a spark of divinity in them.

If these Board members were elected to their offices by the people, rather than appointed by the Governor, they might be more mindful of how they act and what their decisions should be.
Afterall, what is their goal while in office: to be servants of the people (whom they should consider their constituency) and to have the future
in mind, or to be puppets in the hands of one who pulls the strings?

We are a democratic nation, and feel that all the sub-divisions should also be democratic, and as such the voice of the people should be recognized and should not go unheeded. Taneytown can be proud - as any community should be - when its populus organizes in a community effort and rises up in opposition to an edict which is so inconsistent and irrational.

It is sincerely hoped that the Board of Education will respect the interest of the assembled individuals of Tane-ystown as representatives of the community's elected officials, education,
service clubs, welfare organizations,
employment concerns, business and others met in the interest of and concern for the future of Taneystown and requested that the Board of Education act in favor of the 8 room and cafeteria project for the aggressive and up-and-doing community where so many are "bored" with the Board.
This would be an excellent way for all of them "to win friends and influence people."

The Good Old Country Doctor

Dr. Jackson Piper recently delivered the annual address before the Baltimore County Medical Association, at Hotel Rennett, Baltimore. In it he referred to the good old country doctor and mentioned a number of well-known physicians of Carroll. Following is an extract from the address:

"While giving an admiring assent and a hearty approval to the wonders of the age in which we live, let us not forget the good old country doctor of 'ye olden time.' How familiar his figure, how strong in personality, his manner, how dictatorial his method. Large in frame angular in form; long, sparse brown hair, sprinkled with gray, and growing beautifully from the top; clothed in conventional black, in loose-fitting coat and 'lean and slipped' pantaloons a world too wide." His step firm, his face broad, his features large with massive jaw and high cheek bones; a thoughtful but kindly countenance, blue eyes, bright with intelligence and at times sparkling with humor-eyes that inspired confidence, respect, obedience and love; never flurried, never excited, never in a hurry; slow, deliberate, positive—his words the gospel, his decision incontrovertible. His figure was once familiar on our country roads as he jogged along on his black bobbed-tailed bony old horse, with saddle bags keeping noisy time to the easy dog trot of his old hack; his soft felt hat tipped back, his spectacles dancing about his capacious nose, and his kindly blue eyes scanning the clouds, or his mind calculating the distance to be covered ere he found his much-needed rest for the night. Such a man is in the memory of everyone, and such a man was my friend, Dr. John Swope, of Taneytown, Carroll county, Md., when I located there some forty years ago. He was then full in years, honored, respected, sometimes feared, and much beloved. He was a strong man, strong in body, mind and rectitude. During my eight years residence there I never heard a mean act attributed to him. No man, woman or child died in the neighborhood unless he gave the word, and when he did, the community at once recognized that all hope had fled.

God bless the good old doctors of the good old days of "Auld Lang Syne!" John and Samuel Swope, of Taneytown, Wardfield, Mathias and Shower of Westminster; Dixon, of Reisterstown; Graffo, and Josias Marsh and Risteau of Towson; Ward and Craig, of Govanstown; Denny and Alexander, of Ellicott City; Critings of Long Green, and a host of others whose names are still household words to those who knew and loved them for the good they did mankind in their day and generation. Like Alpine peaks they reared their stalwart forms heavenward, undismayed by cloud and storm, rejoicing in the sunshine of duty well performed and conscious in having to the best of their ability followed in the footsteps of the Divine Healer the Great Physician of the Soul as well as of the Body. "But perhaps it is better that his busy life is done."

He has seen old views and patients disappearing one by one; He has learned that Death is master of Science and of Art; He has done his duty fairly and has acted out his part; And the good old country doctor, is entitled to a furlough for his brain and for his heart!

Meeting of Soil Conservationists

At the regular meeting of the Carroll Soil Conservation District held recently in the office of Mr. L. C. Burns, Secretary. The following members were present: Horace S. Brauning, Sr., S. L. Hoke, D. L. Reifsnider, Randall Spoerlein and R. F. Buchman. Grover Zimmerman, Technician for the District received permission to work with the following farmers who had requested assistance in establishing conservation practices on their farms: Joseph Bamberger, Chas. Hull, Harold Trumpower, Rauland Roop, James Garland, and Ralph Roop.

Zimmerman reported on the convention held in Memphis recently by the National Association of Conservation Districts. The Watershed program high lighted the meeting, valuable information regarding future progress of the small watersheds was given by the Watershed Division, Washington office.

Zimmerman reported that melting snow has recharged most of the farm ponds in the area. Only 1 pond has been reported as not having filled during the thaw.

Applications for fish should be made at the District Office, 37 Court Place. The Fish Department of the State will stock all ponds this spring.

Due to the bad weather, the Supervisors decided not to hold their annual meeting at this time, but will select a later date and have an outdoor meeting on some Cooperators farm.

Murder and Suicide

A Carroll County housewife Tuesday night shot to death a 28-year old boarder at her home near Keyman, then took her own life according to information Wednesday from the State Police.

Carroll County medical examiner James T. Marsh has issued a ruling of murder and suicide in the double killing.

The victims, found dead in a first floor bedroom, were identified as Mrs. Margaret Emma Miller, 37, and Waldo Jackson, 28.

Their bodies were discovered by Mrs. Miller's husband, Robert Maxwell Miller, when he returned from work at 10:45 p. m., State Police said.

Dr. Marsh said that Jackson had several bullet holes in his body including two in the chest and one each in the hand and hip.

Mrs. Miller then apparently turned the gun on herself. She had one shot in the forehead. The 22-caliber pistol, which was used, was found near her body.

Dr. Marsh and State Police said no certain motive could be laid for the deaths. Dr. Marsh said there was no evidence of foul play and neither of the victims appeared disheveled.

Miller and the Jackson man both worked for the same trucking firm, The Carroll Trucking Company, which hauls for the Lehigh Portland cement plant at Union Bridge.

Dr. Marsh said that he understood that Jackson came to the Miller home about one year ago. It was understood he was a native of Kentucky, and was separated from his wife.

A neighbor of the Miller family, Mrs. Sheldon Shealer, said she had conversed with Mrs. Miller about 8 p. m. and "she appeared perfectly normal."

State Police said that Mrs. Miller had also spoken with a sister about the same time and the sister, said Mrs. Miller appeared normal.

State Police said they expect to confer yesterday with a brother in the dead man. The brother lives in southern Maryland. They also reported a Florida driver's license was found among Jackson's possessions.

The Millers were both well-known in the Keyman area. Mrs. Miller had lived all of her life there. It was reported she and her husband moved into the new brick home, where the shootings took place, about three years ago. The house is located on the road to Taneytown. The Millers had 11 children.

Cpl. Grover J. Sensabaugh is heading the investigation for the Randallstown barracks of the State Police. Other officers assisting include Troopers Robert W. Ellis and Conrad K. Smith.

Mrs. Miller was a daughter of the late Charles U. Mehring, who at one time owned and operated a trucking concern. The business is now operated by a brother of Mrs. Miller, William F. Mehring.

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Nellie Lookingbill Mehring; a sister, Mrs. Forrest Roser Jr., and a brother, William F. Mehring, all of Keyman.

She was a member of Haughs Lutheran church, Ladiesburg.

Funeral services will be held at the church Friday, 2 p. m. Interment in church cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening. There will be no viewing of the body. C. O. Fuss and Son, Taneytown, are in charge of funeral arrangements.

The Jackson body is being returned to Kentucky for services and interment.

Glamorize Meal With Spiced Pineapple

A Colorful Garnish That Is As Easy To Make As 1-2-3

Spiced Pineapple is a favorite accompaniment for turkey, chicken, baked ham, lamb—or any meat. Slices or chunks are both excellent to use in this recipe and you can prepare as many as you choose and store in tight glass canning jars and use as needed.

Easy as one-two-three to make, Spiced Pineapple will add that extra touch that puts dinner in a special class.

Spiced Pineapple

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 No. 2½ can (8 slices) or | 1 cup sugar |
| No. 2 can (10 slices) | Dash of salt |
| pineapple, cut in halves | 6 to 8 whole cloves |
| ¾ cup pineapple syrup | 3 inches of stick cinnamon |
| ¾ cup cider vinegar | |

Drain pineapple. Set aside. Heat rest of ingredients together and boil gently for 10 minutes. Add pineapple; heat just to boiling. Cool. Store in covered jar in refrigerator.

Note: Pineapple chunks may replace slices in this recipe.

VARIATION: In this recipe, pineapple becomes a colorful garnish that will add to the appetite interest of roast lamb or chops. Heat pineapple slices in their own syrup to which has been added a bit of green coloring and mint extract.

COMBINE PORTRAIT PHOTOS, RIBBONS FOR EXCITING ROOM DECORATION

Redecorating this spring? Ruth L. Strauss, A.I.D., suggests trying this attractive wall decoration as a family record and room focal point that's easy to duplicate.

The first step is to request portrait photographs as gifts on special occasions. Point out that everyone should visit the portrait photography studio periodically to strengthen the family's photographic record.

Recent photographs are often needed for business reasons and are valuable possessions in case transfers cause a family separation. Having a portrait photograph taken is also an appropriate way to commemorate a wedding anniversary or other milestone.

Next, assemble the other ingredients including six and two-thirds yards of three-inch wide ribbon in colorful felt, satin or velvet. You'll also need scissors, hammer, 16 nails, a needle and thread to match the ribbon. The portrait photographs should be approximately 8 x 10 size before framing.

Now you're ready to start sewing three bow knots out of 26 inches of ribbon each. Then cut two streamers four feet long each and one streamer four feet, 10 inches long. Sew ribbon streamers to the bows and nail them to the wall.

Nail the inside loops of the bows to the wall to keep them perky. Space the framed photographs on the streamers starting about 10 inches down from the bow. Then drive nails through the streamers and hang the photographs.

The result is a beautiful wall decoration to personalize a bedroom, family room, den or kitchen desk area.

Ford Broiler Efficiency Award

	Meat per man	Feed per pound of gain	Cost per pound of gain
EAKER'S RECORD	408,000	2.3 lbs.	15.5¢
EXPECTED GOAL	300,000	2.3 lbs.	16¢

Eaker Woodsdale, N. C.

Detailed management is the key to success for Bruce Eaker, 39, winner of the Ford Farm Efficiency Award for broilers. He was given the award by Henry Ford II, chairman of the board and president, Ford Motor Company, in Dearborn, Mich., Feb. 16.

The Ford Farm Efficiency Awards were presented this year to 13 outstanding managers of family farms. Each winner produces a different farm or ranch product, and 13 states from California and Washington to Pennsylvania and North Carolina are represented.

Eaker owns a 150-acre farm near Woodsdale, N. C., and raises cattle, corn, tobacco, and chickens.

Eaker and one helper handle

10 chicken units, each holding 4,500 birds. He produces 45,000 broilers every nine weeks, or 180,000 a year for a production cost of 15.57 cents per pound.

"I think the biggest problem is in the area of marketing," he says. "Our research and know-how in production have far exceeded our ability to market and distribute efficiently."

Eaker watches the market carefully, and calculates his costs down to the fraction of a cent per bird. Careful attention to a balanced feed, plus use of antibiotics, have kept the mortality of his flocks to less than one per cent.

Eaker is a graduate of the School of Agriculture of North Carolina State College.

Former 4-H Members Selected For High Honors; Receive Plaque

Four outstanding rural citizens have been named State of Maryland winners in the 4-H alumni recognition program for 1960, according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

Still striving to "make the best better" are Walter R. Mason of Nottingham, Pa.; Mrs. Curtis DeVelbiss of Westport; James O. Montgomery of Ijamsville, and Mrs. John

W. R. Mason Montgomery

Garst, Walkersville. These 4-H graduates have been presented with attractive burnished copper plaques by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.

Mason helped organize the Cowentown (Md.) 4-H Club many years ago, even taking over the leadership at an early age. His wit and good nature won him election as toastmaster at the first 4-H achievement banquet in 1937.

Director of the Farm Bureau discussion group, he has served as president of the local Interstate Milk Producers. Mason has been active in the Eastern States Cooperative and has served as director of Southern States Petroleum.

Mason has been chairman of the ninth district Community Chest campaign and has assisted with many other fund raising projects. Each year, he personally sponsors a Halloween party for all youngsters in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason are parents of seven children.

Mrs. DeVelbiss has reared four children on a 300-acre livestock farm and still finds time to devote to community, county and state activities.

In March, 1955, she organized the first 4-H Club in the area, and it has developed into the most outstanding club in Mineral county.

The former Violet Ellifritz is known for her willingness to take on any job. She has served as local volunteer leader representative to the county 4-H Council for three years.

Montgomery is a leader in establishing conservation practices. He successfully operates a 382-acre dairy farm in cooperation with his father and brother. He is president of the Frederick County Farm Bureau and serves as chairman of the board for the Southern States Frederick Co-op.

Montgomery was a member of 4-H from 1941 to 1949 and won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress for his proficiency in leadership projects.

Now married and the father of three children, he has served as regional director of the National Young People's committee of the Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Garst, as Margaret Himes, was a 4-H Club member for 11 years. She has been president of women's work in her church for five years, and president of the Frederick Council of United Church Women.

Mrs. Garst feels that she gained so much from her 4-H activities that as soon as her daughter reached the age of 10 she organized a 4-H Club in her local area.

She is recognized as one who always finds time for outside community and church activities besides ample time for her family.

The main objective of the alumni program is to honor former 4-H members whose accomplishments exemplify effective community leadership, public service and success in their chosen careers.

The award recipients were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service based on nominations made in the counties.

New Commandment

Lesson for March 5, 1961

MANY MEN manage to think themselves much better than they are, because they have only the Ten Commandments for a standard. And they understand that famed code only in a strict literal fashion—which as Jesus showed us, is no way to take the Ten Commandments. How long is it since you made a graven image? Which of the women reading this column ever coveted a neighbor's wife? Robinson Crusoe and Dan'l Boone, in their respective wilderness, had no trouble about coveting what was their neighbor's—they had no neighbors.

Dr. Foreman

The Eleventh Commandment

Jesus added another Commandment, you know, which in an important way is not like the rest of those laws. It is not just another law, additional to the Ten Commandments. It is not a P.S. tacked on. You might better say that the Eleventh Commandment had been in God's mind always. The eleventh interprets the others, it summarizes the others. Jesus himself said of love of God and man, that on these two commandments "hang all the law and the Prophets."

Measuring ourselves against this law, we do not stack up so well. This is particularly true when we hear Jesus saying to the group in the Upper Room: "that you love one another—even as I have loved you." For we know what that "as I have loved you" means. Jesus died for those men, and for us. Love, sacrifice, even to the gate of death—that is the measure of his love; how often of ours?

What Does Love Mean?

Mark Twain said, and is often quoted, that the parts of the Bible he didn't understand never bothered him. It was the parts he did understand that disturbed him. Most of us, and this includes people who are not Christians at all, would like very much to live in a world dominated by love. We understand the meaning of love, at a distance. That is to say, we all want to be loved. We want somebody who will care about us. We want some one to look out for our interests, we want a "fan," somebody that believes in us, somebody who will go out of his way to help us. When it comes to the pinch, right down in the bottom of our selfish hearts each of us hopes that if there are only four life preservers for five shipwrecked people, the other four will all insist that whoever drowns, it must not be me. If we are driving along a road and suddenly a collision looms, don't we hope the other man will obligingly drive into the ditch or wrap himself around a tree, rather than run into US?

Yes, "we know what love means," we want other persons to have it—for us. It is only when it is demanded of us that we grow hazy and hesitant. Love, we say to ourselves . . . well, you know what a vague sort of word that is, hard to pin down . . . After all, doesn't it mean wishing people well?

Is It Possible?

No, my friend, it won't do. You show you understand the meaning of love when it is something you want showered on you. It is only when you are asked to sprinkle a little bit of it on others that you pretend you don't understand, and offer all these feeble substitutes. You show something else, too: how difficult it is to have genuine love. (Some observers of human nature would say at this point: "Difficult? — Impossible!" You complain a good deal because the kind of love you would like to have, is so scarce. It is scarce because there are too many people like yourself—and indeed all of us are more or less alike in this. In fact, it is so difficult that many thinkers throw up their hands, so to speak, they give up the problem. If what is needed is love, and if the required quality of love is so hard to find (for remember all the time it is love at Christ's level and on his standard that is in question) shouldn't we just not aim so high? That would be like saying to an airplane: Because you cannot reach the moon, you shall not leave the ground! Even the "impossible" ideal draws us close to God.

GOD IS ALL IN ALL—(NATURE SPEAKS)

In the ear of every mortal on this great ball Mother earth whispers: "God is all in all!" Why, then, does man argue and do things his way Regardless of what Nature has to say?

The only reason I know, is what the Scriptures say; God gave us all power to try our own way; He saw at the beginning how things would be; So, in that way, He makes us fit for Eternity.

That God is all in all in the Scriptures also say; In Him we all live from day to day; On Him, and Him only, do I depend For an earthy existence when Time shall end.

It we all know God, what a world this would be! (He is now right here—not a far off Deity!); He is this Life of the Flower and the Plants which grow To spread abundance every place we go.

It is He they tell us, who holds all supply, Who colors the fruits to make them attract the eyes, So, all we need is to be like Him To make our cups of happiness full to the brim.

No man on this earth is greater than you; For, it is God who tells us all how to do; You are a part of Him, for you are His hands; And, through you He carries out His plans

If you do as I say, you too, shall find That all of God's gifts come to us through mind; For mind (God is the Giver of all blessings which flow So follow Jesus; and, that truth you shall know.

Some say: "Where graft and emulation abound, Where, under the sun, shall wisdom be found; 'Acquaint, now, thyself, with God', the Scriptures say; To make Earth a heaven there is no other way.

If you are threatened with disease of any kind, Kill the thought at once;—(it started in mind) God sent you here, like Him, to learn to be; So prepare to be, with Him in Eternity.

Your thought is dynamic the Scriptures say; It is also creative (makes things come your way); So, learn to know God; and, do things His way— It is the only road to Paradise, they say.

Forget all your worries, and have no fear; An dthe thing you dread shall disappear; Instead, visualize things you would like to see; And, this earth a heaven, shall turn out to be.

That is what Jesus taught when He was here; So use your mind, to make what you want appear; "Simply believe ye receive it", said He; And this thing ye long for shall come to thee.

This body of mine is not what it ought to be Because, I listen too often to physical me; The real One to obey; and, the one, on whom to rely Are God, and the real me, in my body, called I.

The Bible is full of such injunctions, you say; But we keep on going the same old way That is another reason for our birth after birth; We must be made perfect here on earth.

Since your mind is a part of Universal mind It had a panacea for all ills, I find— That remedy is; Listen to God and Go His way, And close your ears to what men have to say

We all have wishes and desires when we feel blue So we use the word—"But", that can't be true; And that 3 letters word—"But", 9 times out of 10, Puts an end to the dream of our greatest men.

"God is Love"; so, always do what He tells you to do; And you shall never have occasion to feel blue; The Sun always shines—even on a cloudy day; It is that clouds (worry) which keep sunshines away.

Many think there is a power apart from God today Which withholds blessings due them, they say; But God is in us all; and, is always the same; So, on Him never cast a word of blame.

I repeat, God is Love, So, if your dreams don't come true; (He is not to blame; the fault is with you); For you are a part of Universal mind; And to succeed, you must use God's method I find.

Universal mind (God) is the source of all good; But, that truth, by many, is not understood; So, if we all know God, and did things His way, Satan would pack his trunk, and, no longer stay.

So, we the ear of every mortal in the great ball Mother Earth whispers: "God is all in all; Why then do men argue; and, go their own way Regardless of what Nature has to say.

One might tell about God from morn till night; But, Life is a battle you, yourself, must fight So, learn to know God as Jesus did, they say; And, nothing but God shall come your way.

There are things we all must learn to know— The Bible is the map which shows us how to go; Then too, God sent Jesus to blaze the way, Which leads from Time to the Endless Day.
