BIKE MONTH SAFETY ASPECTS

May will be Observed as Bicycle Safety Month

A strong dose of bike safety, effectively cloaked with an all-fun coating is in the offing for the nation's 27 million bike owners during American Bike Month in May, Police Chief Emory Hahn, announced today.

"Instilling safe cycling habits in children is difficult, at best," the Chief said. "But the Bike Month program developed by the American bicycle industry strongly accents safety, augmented with an all-fun program to help make cycling safer and more fun than it already is."

Chief Hahn noted that the nation's bicycle manufacturers have produced a special booklet, "America's All-Time Ten Favorite Bike Games" an eight-page booklet accenting the fun aspect of cycling. The center of the publication of safe riding, tips on proper bike adjustment to make cycling more efficient and comfortable for the rider and a self-inspection diagram to insure that bike owners can properly maintain their two-wheelers.

"The diagram will help bike owners lubricate and adjust their bikes quickly and easily," the local law enforcement official said, "and it rightly suggests that important corrections and repairs, such as brake adjustment, should be left in the hands of competent mechanics."

He noted that the booklet was virtually a self-contained bike safety program, which could be profitably studied by individuals or enjoyed in group programs.

The 1961 Bike Month theme, the Bicycle Institute of America has announced, is "There's Nothing Like a Bike," since the two-wheeler can be used as a source of income for youngsters, for transportation to and from school, stores, as a touring vehicle, for campus transportation by collegians or exercising, as a weight control device, and in scores of other ways.

Bike Month's objectives are to salute the nation's 55 million cyclists, to focus public attention upon the industry's concern for the safe and happy use of its products, to insure mechanical condition of bikes and to teach all riders to cycle properly and to observe at all times the 12 official rules of safe riding.

Chief Hahn pointed out that continuing safety programs such as those sponsored by the Bicycle Institute have helped reduce accidents involving bikes and motor vehicles on the highways, while the number of riding enthusiasts has risen to some 55 million. In the past decade, bike accidents have dropped 13 percent, it was pointed out.

The Chief has urged all cyclists to pick up their cost-free Bike Month booklets at their local bike retail stores during May.

The 12 official rules of safe riding, as they appear in the industry's public service fun book are:

1. Observe all traffic regulations, red and green lights, one-way streets and stop signs.
2. Keep to the right and in a straight line, always riding in single file.
3. Have a white light on the front fender and a reflector on the rear fender for night riding.
4. Have a satisfactory signalling device to warn of your approach.
5. Give pedestrians the right of way and avoid sidewalk riding.
6. Watch out for cars pulling out into traffic and for doors opening suddenly.
7. Never hitch onto other vehicles, stunt ride or race in traffic.
8. Never carry riders or packages which may obstruct your vision.
9. Be sure your brakes are in excellent working condition.
10. Slow down at all intersections and look to the right and left before crossing.
11. Always use proper hand signals for turning and stopping.
12. Don't weave in and out of traffic or swerve from side to side.

MAYOR & CITY COUNCIL MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council, Taneytown, was held Monday evening, April 3rd, with all members in attendance.

The Treasurers' report follows: Receipts: $1,210.47; Expenditures: $9,133.72. (Note: $6,000.00 of this amount was paid on outstanding indebtedness). Balance: $8,335.87. Parking meter fund Balance: $2,587.81.

A letter was received from the local Building Project for Taneytown. The aim of this project is, through the combined efforts of all organizations of Taneytown, to build a Community building in Memorial Park. All organizations are being requested to appoint representatives to serve on the Project committee. Mr. Powell was appointed to represent the Council.

The Council has received several complaints concerning persons parking their automobiles in front of private residences during the day while they are away at work in neighboring communities. It would be most desirable that these persons arrange their transportation to maintain parking lots and leave their automobiles there during the day. It was also reported that automobiles have been parked in front of private homes for days on end without ever being moved. The inconvenience to the property owner is quite apparent. The Council respectfully requests that the parking lots be used for prolonged parking as well as for those persons leaving their cars in Taneytown during the day while they ride with someone else to work.

Property owners are reminded of the Ordinance passed last year requiring the mowing of weeds, etc., in the interest of better appearance of Taneytown, not to mention health and mosquito hazards. It has been observed that underbrush has been allowed to grow up on some lots. This will obviously have to be cleared away to permit mowing. By this early reminder the Council trusts it will not be necessary to invoke the Ordinance referred to during the coming Summer.

It was reported that Street repairs will be started just as soon as possible. The contractor who does our State Roads Commission to keep him self available for State Roads repair work. This has prevented him from starting repair work in Taneytown as yet, however, he has promised to do our work at his earliest opportunity.

Several applications for the job of City Policeman were reviewed. No action was taken at this meeting.

The next regular meeting will be held Monday, May 1st, in the Council room.

MD. LEGISLATURE ENDED APRIL 1

Some Bills Passed --- Many "Fell by the Wayside"

The 90 day 1961 session of the Maryland General Assembly was adjourned "Sine die" on the night of April 1, 1961. This, of course, means that this session has been brought to a close "without delay" or without having to set another date for reassembly.

Several local Bills of general interest were introduced and passed by your members of the Legislature and it is assumed that these matters will become law through the signing of the Bills by the Governor.

Among those local issues which appear to be of general interest is the raising of the Civil Jurisdiction of the Trial Magistrate from $300.00 to $750.00. This means that those residents of Carroll County interested in Civil Litigation will not be obliged to originate suit in the Circuit Court until the amounts involved reach $750.00.

Also legislation was introduced providing for an increase in the salary of the Judge of the Circuit Court to the annual amount of $20,000.00, this being a $5,000.00 increase.

Sunday bowling was authorized between the hours of 2:00 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. and the hours for showing Sunday movies made uniform.

There were some state-wide tax measures which were thought necessary by the Governor. These were the change in the Sales Tax and the Cigarette Tax.

The Sales Tax was changed to include items down to 25¢ and restaurant meals over a dollar. The Cigarette Tax was raised to 6¢ per pack. This change is of special interest to the citizens of Carroll County in that it is estimated that over $77,000.00 will be returned to the local sub-division. This is an effort to relieve the taxing burden on the local authorities.

Of course, the Governor's Budget and Capital Improvements Program was passed during the last week of the session. Of special interest to some of our local readers was the amendment which we attached to the Capital Improvements Program prohibiting the use of any of the moneys set aside for the Welfare Board at Henryton Hospital. This was done at the behest of the vast majority of citizens living in the area around Henryton Hospital.

Although there was much attention concerning reapportionment and a constitutional convention nothing was decided along these lines.

Thus far, in the opinion of your Correspondent, no program has been suggested that would protect the interests of the small Counties. Possibly further study will bring more equitable results.

The Last meeting of the Maryland General Assembly, barring any special sessions, will take place in February of 1962 and will be a 30 day session. In the meantime we would like to take this opportunity to again thank all of our readers who have taken the time to be with us in these "more than repaid us for our efforts."

Also we would like to express our appreciation to this paper for its whole-hearted cooperation in making this weekly report possible.

This is 30 for now.

E. O. Weant, Jr.
State Senator for Carroll County

Baby layettes which the 4-H recently purchased are now being stitched together. The club is looking forward to another successful bake sale and has appointed Donna Six as the chairman of a committee to work on this. "SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help
to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The Pansies are in full bloom and picking them means much surplus. The large bowl is filled on the dining room table and it lends out a sweet aroma all over the house. All the Spring flowers are in bloom.

This time of the year, I always think of Pearls not just because it is Easter comparing them with the white Lilly. Many are purchased in one, two, three, four, and five strands. Just one single strand comes back to me when I saved the pennies as a child to present my Mother for Mother's Day. Never will I forget the expression on her face when I handed her the tiny box. She wore them on so many occasions and it thrilled me when I observed this. I thinking that my Precious Mother used those pearls instead of the much finer jewelry that she possessed. When she passed away—my eldest sister handed them to me along with the verse which I had sent to my Mother from Atlanta, Ga. (our very first real separation) "Mother of Mine, I see your face in every crowded street. I long to hear your voice again and see your smile so sweet. I love you, Mother of Mine!"

Another string of Pearls comes before me when I recall placing it around my daughter's neck just before the marriage ceremony. Still another string and which I know the young man could not afford. He was a cousin in Annapolis and he had presented them to my friend thinking he would marry her some day but that never took place.

And—oh, yes I remember when sitting at the grave of my husband, a Member came up to me taking off the Pearls from her neck and placing them around mine! And still I like all white pearls because they are so precious recalling even the manufactured type.

Don't forget, Folks The Maryland Hobby Show will be held the second Sunday of April. It is open to the public and is free at the building on Poca Street, Jr. Order of Mechanics at 2 o'clock. This year there will be more entries than any other year and it is most interesting. Again, I will place the furniture of "Pennsylvania Dutch" made by that nice young man in Westminster. It is now in the window of the A. A. A. on display for the 100th Civil War Anniversary and I hear that it has greatly been admired due to all the detail of work and the patience it has required to make it all by hand.

This time of the year is best to tackle that Spring House cleaning so as you can really be outdoors when the weather is delightful. Painting indoors and out is excellent right now and it will be glad when that is all accomplished. Place a very easy meal on the stove—one that you won't have to watch or stand over and you will be glad at the meal time when you are tired to have it already cooked. A good system always works!

Dear Observer: Much depends upon your reply so will you answer immediately? Did you not say in one of your Columns that you do approve of young marriages? Don't you think, too that two can live as cheaply as one when it comes to food? Signed Anxious.

Dear Anxious: If I am thinking what is in your mind according to the rest of your letter—don't marry just yet. You both are entirely too young. Positively not; as to two living as cheaply as one, it is best not to be sorry so soon. So many girls say after they take the big step, "Oh, if I only had listened!" You have lots of time. Your Observer.

Have a grand week end, Folks and hope I will be seeing you at the Hobby Show and The Home Show at the Armory. Until next week D. V.

I am, Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1961

"DOING SOMETHING ABOUT TAXES"

Washington, April 3, 1961—Like the weather, it can be said that everybody talks about taxes but no one apparently ever does anything about them. However, support for the complaints of 50 million taxpayers that taxes are too high has come from a most unexpected source—the new Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Commissioner Mortimer Caplin stated last week there is no question that the tax rates are too high. He pointed out that excessively high tax rates in other countries have led to a breakdown of the tax system and a drastic weakening of those nations, adding that United States tax laws are badly in need of overhauling.

Indeed they are. If Mr. Caplin can persuade the President to cooperate with the Congress in its perennial efforts to modify the present tax code, the American taxpayer, perhaps, will not be so prone to elevated blood pressure, spots before the eyes and contracting shirt collars as April 15 looms. And with that ominous date fast approaching, I think it appropriate to share with you the following poem which I recently received from the chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee:

About Our Taxes

Tax his cow, tax his goat,
Tax his pants, tax his coat.
Tax his crop, tax his work,
Tax his ties, tax his shirt.
Tax his chew, tax his smoke,
Teach him taxes is no joke.

Tax his tractor, tax his mule,
Teach him taxes is the rule.
Tax his oil, tax his gas,
Tax his notes, tax his cash.
Tax him good and let him know
That after taxes he has no dough.

If he hollers, tax him more;
Tax him until he's good and sore.
Tax his coffin, tax his grave,
Tax the sod in which he lays.
Put these words on his tomb.
"Taxes drove me to my doom."

Even after he's gone we won't relax
We'll still be after inheritance tax.

If the Internal Revenue Commission, the White House and the Congress join together to bring about a long overdue overhaul of the tax code, the above bit of doggerel will stop hurting where it hurts the most—in the pocket.

Pastry-Tasting Is A Treat

"A meeting at your house this month? If so, here's a treat-table idea with 'continental charm.' Theme of the party is pastry-tasting—which tempts your guests with different sweet-toothsome delights. What's more, you can readily serve coffee and these glamour refreshments with a flair as chic as in Paris or Rome.

A big array of little pastries even makes the centerpiece of this gracious after-the-meeting setting styled by Marian Marsh, Director of Oneida Table Planning Service. They are sumptuously arranged on a large round plate, and literally adorned with bright dessert forks for selecting-and-enjoying. (The flatware shown is extra-exciting. It's the new "Chateau" pattern in Oneidacraft Delux stainless—perfectly traditional in design and so very silver-like with its deep sculptured ornamentation and "shadow-relief" finish. . . . The companion china is platinum-bordered "Huntington" by Franciscan, and the Quaker lace tablecloth is aptly called "Princess.") Creating some of the classic goodies for tasting can be fun, too. Follow basic cook book recipes for puff pastry, meringue and pie-tart shells. Then follow your imagination for shaping, filling and decorating. Instant puddings and fruit jams both offer easy and varied pastry fillings . . . and don't forget the lots and lots of whipped cream!

MATURE VISION AND ITS CARE

Few people pass the age of 50 without experiencing some changes in vision. The most common of these is "presbyopia" — or the inability to focus on close work. This can be easily corrected by seeing your optometrist about bifocals.

The American Optometric Association has drawn up a few rules for the bifocal wearer who is unaccustomed to the new lenses. Wear them continually for the first week, try to move your paper or book rather than your head while reading, and see your doctor about any irregularities you notice.

Another vision change that takes place requires more light to see properly. Try increasing your 75 watt bulb to 100, avoid night driving on poorly lit roads when possible; or reduce your usual speed. Make sure your windshield is always clean.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. The other day I read something about a "contingent beneficiary" in connection with a life insurance policy. What does this mean and should there be one in my life insurance policy?

A. A contingent beneficiary is the person named in a policy to receive the proceeds if the person named as beneficiary is not living at the time of the policyholder's death. If there is no contingent beneficiary named, the death payment would go to the policyholder's estate and be distributed as a part of the estate. This might not carry out the planned purpose of your insurance and might result in an additional tax payment. It is always wise to name a contingent beneficiary.

Q. Some time ago I read in the paper that an entirely new table of best weights had been drawn up, I believe, by the life insurance business. Is this true and, if so, could you tell me what I should weigh, a woman, age 35?

A. Last year, the Society of Actuaries, the professional organization of experts who "engineer" life insurance, published a new table of average weights. This was based on several years' study of nearly 5,000,000 men and women policyholders, and was related to mortality experience by age, height and sex. Many changes were shown, compared with previously accepted tables of best weight. The new study showed that a woman of your age had "best" weight areas as follows, depending on height: short (4'11" to 5'2") 115 to 134 pounds; medium (5'3" to 5'6") 105 to 134 pounds; tall (5'7" to 5'10") 115 to 144 pounds. For a man the same age, with heights averaging about 4 inches more, the comparable weights would be: short, 115 to 154 pounds; medium, 115 to 164 pounds; tall, 135 to 174 pounds. The average weight of women who are 5'4" is 132 pounds; for men 5'8", 161 pounds-but the study showed that the "best" and healthiest weight was in the neighborhood of 20 pounds lighter than the average. What is especially encouraging is the finding that those who were overweight but reduced and kept down, added years to their life expectancy.

Keeping Orange Juice Frozen Is Secret To Taste

Most families, by this time, have become avid users of fresh frozen orange juice concentrates. When mixed, they taste just like fresh. But, many homemakers unintentionally sabotage their flavor by letting them partially defrost before using. Food experts tell us we're cheating ourselves if we remove the can from the freezer and place it in the refrigerator the night before, just so it'll be easier to mix the next morning. One of the secrets of the "fresh" taste in frozen juices lies in the fact that they are maintained at a uniformly low temperature during the canning process. Of course, when the concentrate starts to thaw, the fresh so-called taste begins to fade. A new can, developed by Anaconda Aluminum Company, Louisville, and manufactured by R. C. Can Company, St. Louis, utilizes inner and outer layers of aluminum foil wound around a fiber body wall instead of having solid steel or sheet aluminum pastes. The combination retards the conduction of heat and cold, seals in the contents, and helps keep the juice frozen and fresh until you get it home from the market. Since the interior surface of the can is aluminum foil constructed with a specially designed folded lap seam, and is coated too, there is no danger of the contents acquiring an "off" taste which can mar the flavor. The new cans are easy to spot in your grocer's freezer due to the characteristic sparkle of the aluminum foil wrapper which appears much brighter than printing on steel or sheet aluminum cans. The important thing to remember, however, is to keep your juice concentrates frozen until you're ready to use them. If you do, your family will soon notice the finer, fresher flavor.

Advance Planning Keeps Youngsters From Going Into Orbit At Parties

GUMDROPS, LOLLIPOPS AND PEPPERMINT STICKS decorate this candy tree designed to delight children at a birthday party. Candy is glued onto a styrofoam cone, and a peppermint stick trunk is inserted into a foam base. Paper grass covers the base, and individual lollipops create a "forest" of trees. Melamine dinnerware shown here is the ideal choice for dishes at children's parties as it can be dropped with little fear of breakage. The "Belle" dinnerware pattern is available in five colors.

Birthday parties are always fun for small guests, but often leave mothers exhausted. By thoughtful planning in advance, however, all the participants can say at the end of the day that they've enjoyed themselves. It's vital to keep in mind the age group of the children attending the party. A good rule to go by is one guest for each year of the celebrant's age. When they're very young, it's best to keep the time short and activities simple. If possible, ask the mothers to stay for coffee, so they'll be there in case their children become tired or fretful.

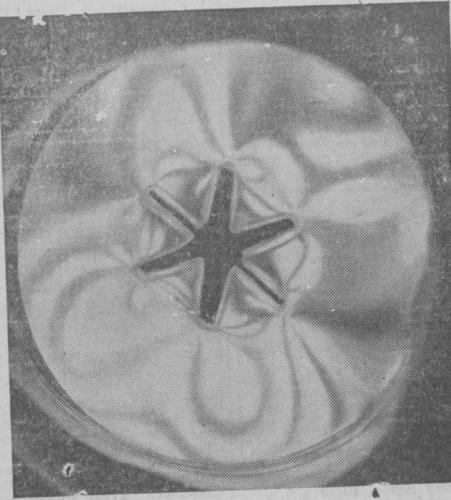

Setting the table carefully can keep down damage to furniture and carpeting. A plastic sheet over the rug will catch crumbs, and plastic bibs, tied with gay colored yarns and stenciled with each child's name, will protect party clothes.

Melamine dinnerware is ideal for these occasions as it is virtually unbreakable and can literally be tossed in the dishwasher. Mothers needn't fear that children will be cut in case a dish should drop or be pushed off the table. A colorful and practical party cloth can be made out of leftover gift wrapping paper. Pieces cut to look like a patchwork quilt can be fitted together and taped on the back. If there aren't enough scraps for a cloth, cut out individual place mats—soldier and drum shapes for boys, fans and dolls for girls.

If favors are planned for each guest, be sure they're strong and sound. Nothing brings tears faster than a gift which falls apart or doesn't work. One mother of three suggests that jump ropes, crayons or coloring books please her children more than poorly constructed gimmicks which are likely to break. She also urges buying good balloons as decorations or favors, because they are more likely to survive bouncing and jostling.

Food at parties for children of any age can be kept simple. The excitement of the occasion may upset delicate stomachs, so candy and soft drinks should be kept to a minimum.

WHY BREAD PRICES RISE

Despite increased output of production workers per man hour, baker profits on a pound of bread declined from 4.1 per cent to 2.3 per cent in 1959 compared with the 1947-1949 average, according to a study made by the Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, recently released. This is a decrease of 44% in baker profits.

The study showed that labor costs now represent about 50% of the baker share of the consumer dollar spent for bread. The report stated that average hourly earnings of all employees in the bread and other bakery foods industry have increased more rapidly than the price of bread.

"A production worker with earnings from an hour's work could purchase at retail about 15% more bread in 1959 than in 1947," the report said.

"Hourly earnings of production workers rose from an average of $1.43 in 1951 to $2.11 in 1959, and other labor costs in the form of fringe benefits and social security taxes showed even greater proportionate increases."

A factor in the higher costs and lower profits, the report indicated, is the sales and distributor problem of the industry, caused by a decrease in the weekly volume of bread per route, a decline in dollar sales per route mile and the spread of the 5-day week, which increases the number of salesmen for a given number of routes. The Marketing Service Report showed that ingredient costs to the baker have changed but little since 1947, still holding at about 5¢ on a pound of bread which cost the consumer 20.3¢ as a national average in 1960. Of the 20.3¢ the retail distributor receives 3.4¢ for his service.

The baker's costs as shown on the chart are 6¢ for labor, 5¢ for ingredients, 1.2¢ for wrapping, 1.1¢ for delivery other than labor, .8¢ for advertising and promotion, .42¢ for taxes, .6¢ for depreciation, 1.39¢ for other taxes, utilities and other costs, and .39¢ for profit.

PLAYING RUSSIAN ROULETTE WITH YOUR MEDICINE CHEST?

If you've a strong instinct to collect, satisfy it by collecting stamps or coins, friends or money—but not medicines.

That's the advice of home safety experts and doctors, who urge you to clean out your medicine chest regularly. Such a precaution may protect you and your family from the terrible pain, sudden sickness and possible death that awaits thousands of Americans this year behind innocent-looking medicine chest doors.

During your periodic cleanup—why not do yours today?—throw away all unused portions of prescriptions, for they can't be safely swapped around the family or saved from year to year.

Also throw away preparations that have grown stronger with age. Antiseptics which evaporate should be bought in small quantities, kept tightly stoppered and thrown away after a few months.

Common sense and safety dictates that you label all poisonous medicines clearly. It's a good idea, too, to read the instructions twice before using any medicines.

As a rule of thumb, all medicines, shaving gear, sedatives and other potentially dangerous items should be kept on the top shelf of your medicine chest. Remember that practically any medicinal preparation can harm a young child if he takes enough of it—and bear in mind that children from one to three will put almost anything in their mouths.

Other top shelf articles include rubbing alcohol, aromatic spirits of ammonia, aspirin, bicarbonate of soda (for eyewash and gargle solutions), scissors, a clinical thermometer, and an antiseptic for cuts and scratches.

On lower shelves you can place absorbent cotton, adhesive tape and bandages and Vaseline petroleum jelly, for abrasions of the skin, chafing and sunburn.

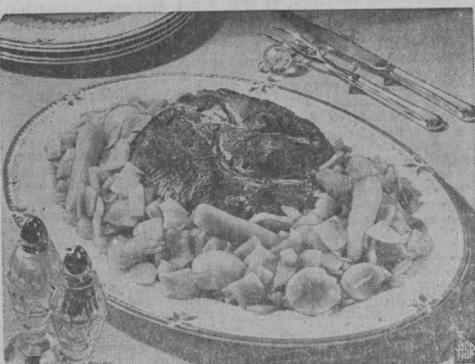

Here's an extra little hint: In treating open wounds, where extra precaution is necessary, use Vaseline petroleum jelly in the tube. Then you can squeeze the jelly onto some bandage gauze and apply it direct to the wound without touching it with your hands or fingers.

Follow these simple rules and neither you nor a member of your family will add your name to the list of careless Americans who will be poisoned this year from "medicine."

All-In-One Dinner

A steaming pot roast dinner, cooked all in one pan, is not only happily savored by the family but is a pleasure for the homemaker to prepare. Packaged sliced potatoes cut the preparation time in this recipe and the roast practically cooks itself once it's on the stove.

Serve the meat surrounded by vegetables, with rolls or crisp warm bread, and a light dessert to make a memorable cold weather meal.

- Vegetable Pot Roast
3 pounds beef chuck roast
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
Pinch of thyme
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
3 cups hot water
6 small onions
6 small carrots
3 cups Minute Sliced Potatoes
1/4 teaspoon salt

Rub meat with salt and pepper. Brown on all sides in a frying pan, pouring off fat to hasten browning. Remove to a Dutch oven. Add garlic, celery, green pepper, thyme, tomato sauce, and 1 1/2 cups water. Cover and cook slowly until meat is tender. Add onions and carrots and cook another 30 minutes. Add potatoes, salt, and remaining water and continue cooking 35 minutes, or until vegetables are tender, adding more water if necessary. Serve meat surrounded by vegetables. Makes 6 servings.

God's Answer

Lesson for April 9, 1961

LIFE IS made of innumerable small decisions. Even in childhood and in second childhood something has to be decided every day. We sometimes say that the Bible has the answers, or the Christ is THE ANSWER. This is true for the great life-changing decisions. But there are life-shaping as well as life-changing decisions to be made. Wisdom is needed for the everyday

Dr. Foreman small problems just as truly as for the great once-in-a-lifetime crises. Can the Bible help us here?
Dead End Roads
The highway department has two kinds of signs. One is the kind that says "Louisville 50 miles" or "Through Traffic Keep Right." Such signs tell you exactly what to do, or to expect. The other kind of sign is the one that reads "Dead End Road." It doesn't tell you much about the road, or how far it is to anywhere. It only tells you that if you try that road you will not get anywhere. Now the Bible puts up signs of both kinds.

Take the question of wisdom, for example. There are certain books in the Old Testament called "Wisdom Literature," because they are crammed with directions on how to be wise. But a great part of the wisdom literature (Job, the Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, some of the Psalms) is not so much concerned with how to be wise, as it is with how NOT to be a fool. To put it another way, the Wisdom Literature puts up some Dead-End-Road signs for those who wish to be wise.

One of these bi-lateral alleys is Money and another is Nature. Our chapter in Job suggests these. In a poem of moving beauty, the author of Job speaks of how hard it is to find wisdom. It "cannot be gotten for gold,"—that is, you can walk into a store and buy anything in it if you've money enough; but wisdom is never to be seen with a price-tag on it. It is also gently suggested here that nature does not have the answers for man that man needs. Doing what comes naturally is a sure way to get into trouble.

Not In Rebellion
In every generation the same foolish notion comes to life again, the same notion that (in the Genesis story) occurred to the first people in the world: that if we want to be wise we must kick over the traces, get out of the harness so to speak, break the rules, stop being God's yes-men, throw the Ten Commandments into the bonfire and live by some "higher" law. The roads of history are haunted by ghosts of such rebels. People who do this (and we all try it some time or other) really look to themselves as the sufficient source of wisdom. They may not admit this, but it's true.

The Fear Of The Lord
Fearing God, as the Bible uses this expression, does not mean being afraid of him. There is small wisdom in terror. Fearing God means reverencing him. The fear of the Lord is said many times to be the beginning of wisdom, that is to say Lesson I, the foundation of everything else. This does not mean that a God-fearing man, just because he worships God, and honors him, will thereby acquire all wisdom. Fearing God does not teach a man how to ride a horse nor mend a tractor nor cure cancer nor to select a school for his children. But the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, all the same. This means first of all that God's will is always best and that so far as it is made known to us, it is utterly foolish to pay God no attention. The fear of the Lord means, further, something that saves us from fearing men. We bow to something, or some one, unless we are that most foolish figure of all, the self-idolizer. We bow to public opinion, or to what So-and-So thinks, or what we think is required of us to be respectable. We bow to the idol called "Everybody Does It," as if a Gallup poll could find out what Right is in any situation. The fear of the Lord means that we keep remembering, all our days, that the last judgment, and the present judgment, and the only judgment that finally matters, is God's, not man's.

GOD IS LIKE THE REAL YOU—YOUR BODY IS NOT YET YOU

The last poem in my book, I am writing to-day—
(It is a synopsis; and, concludes what I have to say—
God is not like old writers said in their day—
He is like the real you in every way.

That, too, is the consensus of many, in our day—
(It matters not, what some may say!);
So, try to be like Jesus; and, follow God's plan
To make of yourself a perfect man.

Jesus said to all peoples! "I am the way"
God wants you all to be some day;
He listened to God; and, followed His plan;
And, God made of Him a perfect man.

Jesus all ways called God Father; and, went His way;
And, so it should be, with us to-day;
God sends us all here to help with His plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

Such Love has never been seen by mortal man
As God has expressed in His great plan!
So, let us all do as the Scriptures say—
"Follow Jesus; and, do things God's way."

Jesus showed to us all how we must do
To make our body like the real you;
He listened to God; and, did things God's way,
And, His body grew like Him, the Scriptures say.

Here is another grew in God's great plan;
God sent Jesus to earth as a model for man;
So, let us all do as the Scriptures say;
Let us follow His footprints from day to day.

Jesus said to the people: "Ye are all gods"; one day;
But, to become God's sons, we must learn His way;
So, this earth is His school to which we all go;
We get all of our training here below.

Satan is not God's servant as some used to say;
It is the real you who trains us to go God's way;
We call Him our conscience—We do not know
Who it is who tells us the right way to go.

God sends us all here to learn how to do—
(He needs no devil to scare me and you!);
It is the real you who shows you the way
To build a body that shall not decay.

Jesus called Satan a liar; and, so must you—
To reach perfection, the real you tells how to do;
And, until we do as he says, back to earth we return,
And the fires of hell shall continue to burn.

People of old believed what the 5 Senses say;
And, millions now on earth still act the same way,
Because, the truth they do not yet know—
It is the real you who tells us all how to go.

If man only knew the secret in God's plan
Then days on earth would exceed our life span;
So, listen to God; and, do what He tells you to do;
And, He will make a perfect man of you.

God rules all Creation—(above and below);
Through the real you, He tells us all how to go;
Your body shall be like Him some day;
So, it must be perfect in every way.

Exactly, like Jesus, we must grow up to be—
(That is why God sent Jesus to Galilee);
God sent Him in Body to teach us His plan—
(How to make a perfect woman or man).

Then, too, the Bible is full of what Jesus once said—
(In some bibles His words are printed in red)
God did it to show how, we all must do
To have a body just like the real you.

Primitive man, like many good people to-day,
Thought his body was him, the records say;
But, the body is only a temple made of clay;
And, in it, we learn how to do things God's way.

The 5 senses are the devil we all must fight;
(It is they who cause disturbance day and night!)
If we only could control them!—(both you and me)
Earth would be the fairyland God intends it to be.

When man is made perfect like Jesus he shall be;
(God sent Jesus to earth to teach you and me!);
He told us about God; and, of how we must be
At the end of Time, and, through all Eternity.

I once said, the body goes to dust, as the Scriptures say—
(To make us all perfect, that is God's way);
That is why we all come back, they say—
We must build a body which shall not decay.

The body we see is not yet the real you—
(Many moons shall come and go, before that is so!);
The physical body like the real you must be—
Before one could live through Eternity.

Your body is God's body now, and, always shall be;
How else could one live in Time or Eternity;
We are God's eyes, His mouth, ears, feet and hands
Through us He carries out all His plans.

So, don't forget! Your body is not yet you—
(God only put you in it to learn how to do?);
In it, we learn the secrets in His great plan
To make a perfect Earth, woman or man.

Take God out of my body, and, what do you see;
Physiology says; "a very little me!"
9/10's of my body is blood, water, and bone;
So, God would be standing there alone.

The earth is old; but, mortal man never knows
How to make his body like the real you
Till Jesus came; and, did it—(so must you);
That is one of the things we must learn to do.

All through the ages the secrets in God's plan
Have been a puzzle to mortal man;
But, when we are made perfect, we all shall know
Why God trains us down here below.

There are things about which I delight to tell;
So, let us make earth a heaven (not a hell);
God wants us all like Jesus to be;
For, through us, He shall reign in Eternity.

The Bible tells us all how things shall be
At the end of Time, and, through all Eternity,
The earth shall furnish its own light—
(That is why it is called "The Day Time Night")

The wild beasts, too, man's pets shall be
Through all the long years of Eternity;
All things shall reach perfection, they say;
When we learn to know God, and, do things His way.

NEW JET PLANE WILL BE PLACED IN SERVICE

In a press briefing held at Baltimore's Friendship Airport, American Airlines yesterday announced that it would put its new Astrojets into service here by July 1 of this year.

The Astrojet is the name chosen by the airline to designate those 707s which have been equipped with new jet-fans. The modifications make the jetliner the fastest commercial airplane now flying. They will begin schedules on the airline's New York-
Los Angeles route this Sunday (March 12). The new airplane will cut more than twenty minutes on the New York-Los Angeles segment and should provide an even bigger time saving when introduced on the Baltimore-
Los Angeles schedule.

Complainant

vs.
MARY LEE HANSBROUGH
Culpepper, Virginia
Respondent
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
FOR WESTMINSTER
IN EQUITY
No. 9784

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this bill is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the Complainant, James Denver Hans-
brough, from the Respondent,
Mary Lee Hansbrough.
The bill recites the marriage on February 28, 1949, in Uniontown,
Maryland, and that the parties lived together until August 10, 1954; and there were two children born as issue of the said marriage; that the Complainant behaved himself as a good,
kind, and dutiful husband to the Respondent; that the Complainant is a resident of Carroll County, Maryland, and has been such for more than one year prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint; that the Respondent deserted and abandoned him on August 10, 1954, without just cause or reason; that the said abandonment has continued uninterruptedly since August 10, 1954, that her action is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation. That the Respondent is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and her last known address is Clupper, Virginia.

It is thereupon, this 24th day of March, 1961, by the Circuit Court of Carroll County, ORDERED, that the Complainant, James Denver Hansbrough, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some weekly newspaper published in Carroll County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 1st day

Respondent, Mary Lee Hansbrough, of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 17th day of May, 1961, and file a plea, answer or other defense within fifteen days thereafter and show cause if any she may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Long May They Wave

The oldest, probably best known of all the official state flags, is the Lone Star banner of Texas. Carried in the tragic battle of the Alamo... and the decisive victory at San Jacinto... this flag has flown over the free state of Texas since 1836.

The flag of our newest state—
Hawaii—was designed by King Kamehameha I in 1816. The British Union Jack in the corner commemorates the visit from Captain Vancouver who gave the king a British flag in 1794... long before the islands were ceded to Great Britain.

A free illustrated pamphlet and history of each flag may be obtained by writing to:
Public Relations Branch, State
Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, Worcester 5, Mass.—one of the few places which displays all the flags.

Let's Go Fishin'

BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

Contrary to the belief in some quarters, the only way to stop a car rolling down a hill is not to leap in front of it and try to hold it back with brute strength.

Particularly if it is rolling well when you make your leap. Some bright lad might out-think gravity enough to yank open a door, step nimbly inside and apply pressure on the brake pedal. And stay alive a whole lot longer.

The same truism applies to fish snagging, that rapidly growing sport where numerous varieties of so-called "rough" fish are legal game in many states.

OPEN GATES

Now is the time when these fish congregate at the tailwaters of dams, awaiting the inflow of fresh food that comes to them when the flood gates are opened.

And now is the time when snaggers also congregate, standing on the bank and swishing heavy lines with big hooks into the water in the hopes of trawling a fish

But as my earthy uncle used to say, "There's more than one way to skin a squirrel, some of them downright easy."

USE MOTOR

In snagging, the easy way is to crank up your Mercury outboard and hold the boat steady in the current by throttling down the motor, then flailing out with the snag line from the boat instead of from the bank.

It puts the snagger down closer to his subject where he can put more "yank" on the line. It also is much easier to handle a 30 to 40-pound fish from a boat than from a high bank.

Those who have tried claim trying to kill a grizzly bear with a fly swatter is considerably easier than attempting to hoist a 30-pound catfish up a high bank when he's hooked in the body.

It's not impossible, but neither is walking on water.

Snagging, for the uninitiated, is done with a heavy rod and a heavy line with a couple of huge treble hooks on the end of it. Somewhere around the hooks is hung a pound or two of lead weights.

YANKS

The snagger throws the hooks and line as far into the water as possible, then brings it back in a series of bone-wrenching "yanks" on the rod. All the time he is hoping to slam the big hooks into a big fish when he yanks.

It's a wise idea to check state laws before giving snagging a try. Some allow it and some don't.

DURING THE ICE AGE
THE ARTIFICIAL MAKING OF ICE WOULD HAVE BEEN A FOOL'S ERRAND...

BUT ICE LIKE EVERY OTHER THING ON EARTH TAKES ON A DIFFERENT CHARACTER WHEN IT BECOMES A COMMODITY....

MUCH OF AMERICAN HISTORY HAS BEEN WOVEN AROUND THE WINTER TASK OF CUTTING AND STORING ICE FOR SUMMER USE... AND THE BURDEN OF CARRYING ICE TO PRESERVE FOOD WAS ACCEPTED AS A NATURAL CHORE.

THE ICEMAN IS STILL A SYMBOL OF STRENGTH IN AMERICAN HUMOR.

BUT IDEAS CHANGED WITH THE NEW OUTLOOK, INTRODUCED AROUND 1900, WHEN MECHANICAL REFRIGERATION CAME INTO GENERAL USE, ALTHOUGH THEY WERE PRIMITIVE BY TODAY'S STANDARDS.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ENGINEERS HAVE PIONEERED GREATER CONVENIENCE AND IMPROVEMENTS IN REFRIGERATORS. THE LATEST G-E REFRIGERATOR WITH HANDY FREEZE-N-STORE ICE SERVICE PROVIDE PLENTY OF ICE AND ITS FROST-GUARD SYSTEM MEANS NO DEFROSTING EVER, BECAUSE FROST NEVER FORMS.
