GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

PECOS, TEXAS, INDEPENDENT "The assertion is often made that a third of our young people with aboveaverage ability do not go to college, with the inference that all, or most of them should.

"The fact is that we have always had, and should continue to have, large numbers of men and women of above-average mentality in vocations which don't require a college degree.

"Educators have repeatedly indicated that the lack of desire to attend college and preference for immediate pursuit of some trade or technical vocation (or for marriage) accounts for the bulk of the quoted one-third of above-average youth not attending college."

BRIGHTON, PA., NEWS-TRI-BUNE: "Six hundred Protestant clergymen and scientists attempting one year only $3.00. to work out a modern approach to age-old moral and social challenges indicated the 'one big happy family' concept of business for office intimacies that wreck many homes.' TONASKET, WASH., TRIBUNE: "It is not yet too late to save the Republic if citizens heed the clear signs of disaster ahead and reverse their stampede into socialism and the welfare state. This means a return to self dependence and a realization of the truth that 'God helps those who help themselves.' "Government aid is a delusion and a TUCKERTON, N. J., BEACON: "Not until shortly before noon on Tuesday of every working week does the average taxpayer start working to support himself and his family.

"The tax experts figure that it takes the first 11 hours and 25 minutes of the 40-hour working week for the taxpayer to make enough money to pay all of the taxes -- both obvious and hidden-levied by the Federal, state and local governments."

DEPERE, WISC., JOURNAL-DEM-OCRAT: "In case you haven't been looking toward Washington lately, the do-gooders are closing in with those proposals which they claim are give-aways at half the price. . "Among the programs: Federal Aid to Education. Federal Medical Care for the Aged. Aid for Depressed Areas. Aid for Anybody Who Asks. The list rolls on endlessly."

MYRTLE CREEK, OREGON MAIL: "A local food store dealer, who had just been subjected to the normal regulation of paying his income tax by April 15 or be subject to heavy penalty, told us that for welfare food requisitions he was still awaiting payment for some issued as long ago as last October. Is it just to ask a small business enterprise to extend its capital to finance itself when distressed by tardy payment by the government and to pay advances also for that government to operate?"

ALBANY, N. Y., TAXPAYER: "If a student cannot afford a pay-as-hegoes college education, the solution lies in an expanded low-cost loan fund to help him through college. He can pay after graduation with the increased earnings his degree helps bring in ...

"College students are supposed to learn initiative and responsibility rather than dependence on government handouts. Borrowing for a sound investment and, among other things, that's what college is-fits right in with the system we live under and are trying to preserve."

HUMBOLDT, IOWA, REPUBLI-CAN: "Business can only operate at a profit (and without a profit there is no business and no jobs) if its costs are closely watched. Because of costs are closely wateried minimum wage law will add to unemployment... NEW ORLEANS, LA., INDEPEN-

is living within its income, its credit is good. If in some crisis it lives beyond its income for a year or two, it can usually borrow temporarily on reasonable terms. Eating carp, the sages say, is quite a lot like trying to kiss a porcupine.
This most prolific and ubiquitous of fishes is without doubt the most scorned of all the "food" fishes, occupying the bottom rung in the ladder of Two things are working strongly against the lowly carp in his battle to become loved. One is the amazing num ber of his breed that inhabit the waters of the globe and the other is his bothersome feeding habits. A 20-pound fe-male will lay around 2 million eggs a season, which practicinsures the species for all time.

But it is the way he feeds that really causes trouble — rooting up the bottoms of lakes and rivers in his constant hunt for doggone near anything that will fit into the vacuum cleaner that passes for his mouth. SURVEY SHOWS

A few years ago a survey of 25 commercial fishermen who plied their trade on the Missouri River asked what was their favorite fish, strictly for eating qualities. To a man the answer was carp!

"But what about the bones?"
they were asked. "Don't carp "Sure," was the reply. "But | Sor heartily!

if you skin them and score them before cooking they taste better than any other fish, and the bones cook up to nothing." The secret of making carp pleasant on the plate is in the preparation, which begins when the critter comes from clean water. It should be skinned, not scaled, fishing authorities of the Mercury outboard company advise, which removes a great deal of the "muddy" flavor that is inherent in carp.

Secondly it should be "scored," a process which consists of slicing the meat to the bone before cooking, in slices as close as pages in a book, if possible. Then when it is cooked (usually deep fried) the boncs disappear.

GIVE HIM A TRY

Catching him takes some guile, too, with light lines and long leaders very necessary to long leaders very necessary to lure him into accepting the bits of corn or doughy balls that are impaled on the hook. Once on the line a carp will give no quarter, slugging and pounding away like the true heavyweight that he is. No Fancy Dan, he does his fighting at the very bottom of the lake or river. or river.

But caught on light lines, skinned, scored and cooked in deep fat, a carp is far from the "sewer trout" that he is some-times called. The Mercury out-board people suggest you give him a try before you knock him. Here's one way, taken from "Cy Littlebee's Guide to Cook-ing Fish and Game," by Werner Nagle of the Missouri Conservation Commission: "Skin carp and cut into 24 inch pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and place in oiled earthenware baking dish. Cover with a generous handful of they were asked. "Don't carp whole, mixed spices. Add a cup have almost more bones than of mild vinegar and bake in

MR. BACHTELL

C. D. Lyon, Vice President — Marketing and Public Relations for the Potomac Edison System, announced today the appointment of Elmer P. Bachtell, Jr., to the newly-created post of Manager of Market

The creation of this new function, according to Mr. Lyon's announcement, is a further planned development in the current reorganization of PE's Marketing Department. It will provide that phase of the utility's operations with a central source of detailed and researched infor-mation and guidance in the planning and implementation of all sales and marketing activities.

A graduate of Lehigh University, Bachtell has been with Potomac Edison since 1946 when he joined the Industrial Power Sales Department. He served as power sales engineer at Cumberland from 1947 to 1953 when he transferred to Hagerstown in a similar capacity.

Since 1957 he had been Manager of Industrial Power Sales for the four-state area served by PE.

Bachtell is married and presently resides at 1840 Fountain Head Road in Hagerstown with his wife,

Norma, and their two children, Nancy and Jeffery.

Really the "Best Fed" Nation? For 30 years food experts have tried to improve the American diet — and with little success. Though recent studies have shown that today's American ican eats less of such protective foods as fruits, vegetables, cereals, and flour, nutritional stan-provide & good diet. Factors like (1) higher inmore efficient food distribution, (2) enrichment of flour, bread and other cereal products, (3) plus the use of supplementary vitamins are the major reasons for this improvement.

However, a recent national survey covering 6,000 families, showed that as many as 10 per cent still had diets that are considered "poor" by sound nutritional standards.

Because education seems to require a long-range program, and one that appears to involve much study and information not readily available, it's a good idea for the homemaker to safeguard her family's health in the form of a vitamin capsule, taken daily by each member of the family. One supplement, Unicap. provides the daily amounts of the 9 vitamins vital for good health. Since a basic problem is the lack of knowledge about what each vitamin does and what foods contain them, a good source of this information is a new chart for posting on a kitchen cabinet or bulletin board. April brings showers, flowers, and the fresh pleasures of flexing a fishing rod for restless trout and hungry bass. It's been a long winter and now it's time to hang a sing on the front door—"GONE FISHIN'". Early spring fishing takes a bit of knack and know-how and a few tackle tips may prove helpful.

Trout streams will often be high and rolly in the early spring. The fishing will be deep in the water. This calls for weighted nymphs, bucktails, streamers, Colorado spinners, and the old rehable earthworm. The trout will be hugging the bottom and rest-mg behind rocks and sunken logs. Fish your lures slowly be-cause the cold waters will keep trout sluggish. Make it as easy as possible for the fish to see and take the bait.

My choice for the best available bait casting outfit is an Ambassadeur 500 fresh water bait casting reel, a six foot medium action Companion rod that willi handle lures from %-ounce up to %-ounce, and 8-pound test monofilament. The reel offers a very effective adjustable centrifugal brake that will cut down early-season backlashes plus a free spool and a level wind that will increase your casting distance. While it is an expensive reel, its lifetime guarantee and dependability makes it worth the investment.

F Spring means that bass will be cruising the shallows looking over spawning grounds. Hungry bass mean happy angling and the long winter promises that plenty of big ones will be about. Try shallow running spoons, plugs, Abu-reflex spinners, and large streamer flies.

Use good sized hooks for bass fishing. To bait fish trout number 6 and 8 hooks will be about right. Incidentally, large hooks are a good conservation measure early in the season. The fingerlings can't take them.

Leaders can be shorter and heavier in the spring. A 7½-foot, 3X tapered leader will do nicely for early trout fishing. Because snags are frequent when fishing deep, you'll want to carry some extra tippet material, extra hooks, spit shot or strip lead.

I pocket sized plastic leader pack offered by Garcia contains four spools of varied pound test leader material. A typical pack contains 6 to 12-pound test. Other selections can be purchased to meet almost every need from 1-pound test up to 25-pound test. Extra single spools are available. Keep one or two packets in your tackle box or jacket pocket for every spring fishing need.

DESSERT SPECIALTY

OUTSTANDING, UNUSUAL DESSERTS can often be made in a very simple way. This Spicy Chocolate Chiffon Pie, for instance, is made from prepared, no-cook chiffon pie filling mix, to which cinnamon is added, with results that will please the most discriminating. Here is the easy recipe:

SPICY CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 package Jell-O 14 cup sugar Chocolate Chiffon 14 teaspoon cinnamon 1 baked 9-inch pie shell, Pie Filling cooled

I cup boiling hot milk* * Homogenized or skim milk recommended.

Place pie filling mix in a small deep mixing bowl (about 11/2 quart size). Add boiling hot milk. Mix well. Beat vigorously with rotary beater or at highest speed of electric mixer, until filling stands in peaks, about 3 to 6 minutes. Add sugar and cinnamon; beat 1 minute. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Garnish with whipped cream and shaved chocolate,

Note: Store leftover pie in refrigerator, covered with an inverted pie pan.

Fruits of Faith

Lesson for June 25, 1961

ee want what you have," the young man said. But this was not a stick-up. The young man was not a bandit, the older man was not rich. One was a brilliant young Brazilian, the other a Christian missionary in that country.

months, living under severe conditions in the back country of the Amazon. In that country one does Dr. Foreman not put on a "front." What a man is, comes out very plainly. So when the young man said "I want what you have" he knew what he meant: it was the missionary's religion, his faith. This kind of thing has been happening for a long, long time. It began with Jesus, didn't it? His friends wanted what he had, or to put it another way, they wanted to be the kind of person he was.

Dead Faith or Living?

What is it that "sells" Christian-Ty? Why is it today the world's leading religion? A great deal of what we might call sales talk is going on all the time. But why do people buy anything? They buy on performance, not talk. The other day one of the big motor companies discontinued the manufacture of a certain automobile. This car had had wonderful sales talk; the commercials for it on TV would make you think that there was no car in its class. But the public didn't buy it. When they went to look at the car itself and try it out, and compare it. they found that if they had that much money to put on a car, they might better buy some other make. The talk was good: the performance was poor.

So, if there had never been anything you could see, anything in action and behavior, about men of "faith," Christian religion would have died off long ago. "By their fruits you shall know them," said Jesus once, comparing true men with hollow men. And that has been the real test always. Christians are men of faith; but if the "faith" is not matched by what Jesus called "fruits," and what James called "works," it is dead.

Fruit of The Word

We can call what we are talking about, fruits of faith, but that is not the whole picture. The whole New Testament teaching bears on this point: that the highest human goodness is not a strictly human product. The highest goodness (and if that word seems weak to you, then say the highest human perfection, or strength of character) is God's product, brought forth in the lives of those who are open and receptive to Him. As Baron von Hugel put it, the Christian virtues are supernatural virtues. The highest and best that man can attain, he cannot attain by himself, but only as he lives in God. (The deeper truth is that even the lowest levels of goodness, if they are genuinely good, are also from God. But these often are attained without giving God a thought. To live in the heights, it is absolutely necessary to be consciously devoted to God.) So James speaks of the "implanted Word," meaning the Word of God. Fruit of The Spirit

Does all this sound cloudy and mystical to some people? It need not. We are fortunate in that three of the most influential persons in the New Testament whose words have come down to us, were plain and outspoken men: Jesus, and Paul, and James. James doesn't speak of "fruits" all the time, he speaks of "works." Put your faith to work, he means in all he says. And he gives some plain and simple examples of what he is driving at, as any one can see by reading his short letter. When messengers came to Jesus from John, asking, Are you the Christ, really the Man of God? Jesus did not reply by giving them an analysis of his mind and feelings. He took them around with him on a busy day, and at evening said, "Go tell John what you have seen and heard." When Paul, in his own way, speaks of "fruits of the Spirit," and names them (Gal. 5:22-25) he names such things as love, kindness, self-control. These can never be successfully imi-

WAFFLE SANDWICHES with Savory Fruited Filling

Bake up a batch of waffles. Now while they're still smoking serve them, two to a serving, with this hot, thick and savory filling spread between the waffles, and on top.

The filling is a mixture of canned apple sauce—for apple tang and rich body—of solid little cubes of ham, of raisins . . . with butter sauteed onions and a smidgin of ground cloves for added zest. You simmer the whole sturdy blend. Then spread it in great spoonfuls on the waffles . . . and fall to. The pleasure is real and all yours!

Filling

2 tablespoons butter 1/4 cup chopped onion

2 cups canned apple sauce

1/4 teaspoon ground cloves 1/3 cup seedless raisins 11/2 cups diced cooked ham

Waffles 2 cups sifted all-purpose

1 tablespoon baking powder 1/4 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons sugar

2 eggs separated 1¼ cups milk 6 tablespoons melted shortening  Or use a Waffle Mix

Melt butter and saute onion until light brown; add apple sauce, cloves and raisins, simmer 3 minutes. Add ham and simmer 3

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg yolks; add milk. Combine with dry ingredients, mixing until smooth. Add shortening. Beat egg whites stiff; fold in. If waffle mix is used, blend according to directions on package. Bake according to manufacturers' directions for operating waffle iron. Serve apple sauce filling between waffles. Makes 4 servings.

ing military service, Larry was accepted into the law school of Harvard University, while Bob earned a degree in Economics at the University of Michigan.

In their younger days in Lakewood, N. J., where their family ran a resort hotel, they worked as a team, as they do to this day; Larry ran the front desk and handled advertising while Bob spent his time in pleasing the customers.

Following several small but successful hotel ventures, they ploughed their capital into At-

New color and excitement will be added to Gotham's dramatic and awesome skyline when the plans of two young brothers, Laurence (Larry) A. (38) and Preston R. (Bob) Tisch (35) materialize. Not content to rest with their creation of Miami Beach's most glamorous resort hotel, The Americana, they have accepted the challenge of intro-ducing utterly new concepts in thotel design and operation to the world's greatest city, where architects enjoy a continuing field day.

Through their acquisition of the world's oldest motion picture theatre chain, Loew's Theatres, they have embarked upon a diversification program that will give New York City its first new hotels in 30 years — The Summit and The Americana - as well as several motel and theatre projects.

In the sub-caption to dual biographies of the brothers, Fortune Magazine said: "The Tisch Brothers are the hottest things in the hotel business these days, and the youngest self-made millionaires in sight."
That they are "doers" not "talkers" is evidenced by the fact that, since 1946, they have parlayed a parental grubstake of about $125,000 into one of the great post-World War II

Both brothers enjoyed normal education processes in the public schools of Brooklyn and Manhattan. Larry was graduated cum laude from New York

ORDER OF PUBLICATION The object of this suit is to pro-cure a divorce a Mensa et Thoro, by the Complainant, Pierre L. Hare, from the Respondent Barbara A

The Bill recites the marriage of the parties on February 26, 1955 at Frederick, Maryland, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel. That the Complainant has been a resident of the above address and of Carroll County for more than one year immediately prior to the filing of this bill of a Mensa et Thoro. That no children have been born as a result of this marriage. That ever since the said marriage the Complainant has always conducted himself as a faithful, affectionate and dutiful husband toward the Respondent and his con-BALTIMORE SUNDAY AMERICAN duct has been above reproach. That on or about January 30, 1961, the Respondent without just cause or reason, together with her cruelty of treatment toward the Complainant, did then and there desert and abandon him and that this was the deliberate and final act of the Respondent. That the Complainant has lived separate and apart from the Respondent ever since. That a reconciliation between the parties is without hope or rea-sonable expectation thereof.
