REPORT OF COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE FOR FUNDS

The Community Chest - Red Cross United Appeal campaign in Carroll County today announced an audited total of $34,637 as of Tuesday, December 19, according to a statement by L. Albert Beaver, campaign general chairman.

Mr. Beaver stated further that, "Contrary to any opinions that have been expressed about the failure of the drive in Carroll County, the offi-cial word is that the campaign can be considered a success.

"Although the goal of $48,000 will not be reached by the end of the month when solicitations stop, the actual amounts the six agencies will receive will probably be in excess of those raised through their own drives in previous years. In no way will the agencies have to curtail their services to the people of Carroll County, although an expansion of services may not be possible this year.

"Plans already are underway to include Carroll County in next year's Metropolitan Area campaign on the same basis as other counties in the area. This was our primary objective in conducting a separate campaign in Carroll County this year." Commenting on reports that some county residents have received a second letter appealing for contributions after they have sent their gift to the United Appeal, Mr. Beaver explained that this is an unavoidable problem when trying to give everyone an op-portunity to support the agencies in your area. Anyone who has received such a letter and has already made his contribution is urged to disregard the second solicitation unless he is disposed to send an additional gift.

In dollars and cents the increase means that an employed person earnings in 1961. With 52 weekly consulted the state of th ty Commissioners to seven specific recommendations made in the report to aid in the development and the preservation of our agricultural economy in Carroll County.

Information was secured for the publication from official sources such as the Bureau of sity of Maryland, U.S. Weather Bur-Soil Conservation Service, the County Extension Service, and official county files and studies. Research and preparation of maps, charts, and text were the product of the County Plan-ning and Zoning Commission.

Action by the Planning and Zoning Commission at its December meeting placed 500 copies at the disposal of the general public at the cost of One Dollar ($1.00). These may be secured at the offices of the County Agent or the County Treasurer in the County Office Building in Westminster, Two hundred copies have been earmarked for industrial promotion as may be allied to agriculture and the remaining 300 copies are being distributed to libraries, schools and other official agencies and persons.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" The Taneytown Firemen's Auxiliary held its regular meeting with 52 members and guests present.

A very fine Christmas program was given and Santa arrived, giving gifts to all.

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to bring you happiness!

If we have health we have just everything in life!

Now, Ladies if you are going to make any resolutions - do stick to them and especially if you are going on a diet of any kind. Before you place that sweet food to your mouth just say to yourself, "How weak I am!" That will do it, I am sure for it sort of makes you feel ashamed and just as though you were losing respect for yourself. And another thing is, "Don't CHEAT!" when it comes to that diet. One person you can't fool and this is yourself. Eh?

Rolling on the floor is the best bet of all especially if you roll to music for you will see the fat just roll off from your hips and thighs. Just push hock the furniture in any room ayon.

for you will see the fat just roll off from your hips and thighs. Just push back the furniture in any room even if it is small and either put on a record or tune in on the T.V. music. That will aid in making you graceful. Thank you, Readers for the lovely cards and greetings. It makes my heart glad! If you would only gaze upon the many blooms of the Gardenia plant and all in time for the holidays. The aroma throughout the house is delightful!

nouse is delightful! Bringing out the scarfs for the winter from the Cedar Chest (which keeps the neck warmer) came across the lovely silk and gold embroidered one which that nice 'Butcher Boy' brought to me from overseas! I still have the old Milk-Glass plate on which is the beautifully painted rose hang-ing in the dining room on the wall with the red ribbon inter laced around it which that nice bachelor girl did for me. Sentimental Me, Folks! They mean so much - the little things in life to make one happy.

Mrs. Housewife, here is a delightful salad which I served during the Holidays and the coloring just fitted the season. I package of Lime Royal, 1% apps, het water 2 teasmonyful chop. cups hot water, 2 teaspoonsful chopped onion, ¾ cup of celery and as much chopped green pepper, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons vinegar and as much pimento as you like plus a dash of black pepper. Dissolve gela-tine and salt in the hot water, add tine and salt in the hot water, add vinegar and onion and pepper. When slightly thickened, add vegetables and if you desire you may add as much of chopped cabbage but I prefer it without. Place in refrigerator if possible in a glass dish (I use the glass upside down cake ring dish) serve on crisp lettuce. You could easily have that for lunch for those dieting with nothing else of course. Ummm good!

WHAT WILL BE THE ANSWER?

Developing a new drug is a long and costly process. The price tag can run into the millions. One pharmaceutical company, for instance, has invested $7,500,000 in cancer research since 1939. In 1959 alone it invested $500,-

For the prescription drug industry as a whole, research spending reached $206,000,000 in 1960. No other indus- | day of November, 1961. try plows back so large a portion of its income into research—about nine cents out of every sales dollar. The result is remedies, produced and sold under brand-names by their developers, which have done wonders for sufferers of once-dreaded diseasespneumonia, influenza, tuberculosis and diphtheria among them.

It's hard to believe that anyone would deliberately want to stop this kind of progress-progress which produces such rich rewards in freeing people from pain and disease, and extending life. Yet a proposed federal bill would put up a massive roadblock in the way of research-oriented manufacturers of brand-name drugs. Among other depressive provisions, the patent law would be changed so that the period during which the inventor of a new drug could hold exclusive rights to the product would be reduced from the present 17 years IMPERISHABLE STONE. to three. Thereafter, the inventor would be compelled to license any "qualified" drug manufacturer to make and sell the product.

Who would spend vast sums to develop a new product when he couldwithout risk-market one whose value was already proved? That is the basic question this proposed bill raises -and the health of innumerable men, women, and children will depend in whole or in part on the answer that is finally given.

Wealthy travelers in the 18th Century carted huge beds with them, to be set up at inns where they stopped. Poor people had to sleep in crowded rooms, even crowded beds! Modern tourists make on-the-spot reser vations at luxury motels, en joy clean comfort in beautiful surroundings.

In 1707, when Giovanni Cinzano was licensed by the King to distill brandy, sales were limited to the tiny towns of Pecetto and Turin, Italy. Today, Cinzano Vermouth makes entertaining pleasant all over the U.S., Europe, Central and South America American pioneers—rich or poor -couldn't be fussy about meals. What was caught—was cooked! Tkey ate skunk, robin, grizzly bear, crickets, ants, squirrels. Modern Americans dine on choice cuts of beef, pork and lomb ... totalling 178 pounds per year per person!

Are We Growing Lesson for December 31, 1961

BEFORE the Old Year dies, it is well to look back over it and do some serious thinking. How are we different from what we were a year ago? The world has changed, but have we changed? We are a year older, each one of us. But "older' means different things at different stages of life. A child has grown larger and stronger by growing Dr. Foreman older; his grandfather has perhaps shrunken and grown weaker by growing older.

But the question is about our real selves. Do our souls have to shrink, grow sickly and feeble with age, as bodies do? The Apostle Paul felt his age, as we say; he was conscious of becoming an old and shaky man. But he can write of himself, "Though our outward nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed every day." (II Cor. 4:16.)

Measure of growth

How shall we measure the growth of a soul? How can we measure our true selves? A child's progress can be shown by pencilmarks on a wall. A young man's progress can be seen by his passing examinations in more and more difficult subjects. But to grow taller is not necessarily to grow better; and a mind may be highly developed while the soul is shrinking. Paul gives us a standard by which we can test ourselves—the standard of the one perfect Life, Jesus Christ. We are to "grew up in every way" into him. .

Let it be remembered that only God is the true and final Judge of us all. Our own opinion of ourselves may well be distorted by pride. Nevertheless we need to examine ourselves, and the one basic test and standard is this: Are we growing more, or less, like the Christ whom we say we adore, and whose name we bear?

One way to make this test is to read over e Gospels and pay special attention to the things Jesus said. Do they seem, from time to time, more true, more living, are they more attractive, do they reach us,-or do they seem, from year to year, stranger and stranger to our ears? Are we, or are we not, more sympathetic and responsive to the mind of Jesus than we used to be? Or is he becoming a kind of eccentric stranger?

Goal of growth

Some one may object at this point: "Isn't this impossible? How can I ever be the man Christ was?" Two answers can be given to this question. One was put by Dr. E. D. Soper years ago: "If you're not aiming at perfection then you're aiming at imperfection." And the other is, that in all walks and activities of life, people do aim at more than they may ever accomplish. Every breeder of horses aims at the perfect horse; every artist tries to produce the perfect painting, poem or what not; every minister tries for the perfect sermon; —even criminals attempt the perfect crime. They never succeedthough maybe some criminals do; it's easier to be perfectly bad than perfectly good! But even if they never succeed, "Not failure, but low aim, is crime." And the fact remains that perfection, in any line, is the bright background against which we can trace our direction up or down.

Secret of growth

So Christ is the standard, Christ the goal, of the Christian's life. Yet we are troubled by a dark thought. That question, "Isn't this impossible?" haunts us. Humanly speaking, it is impossible. Yet if the New Testament makes anything clear, it is this: the Christian life is a supernatural life. It is spoken of as "life in the spirit" or "life in the Christ" or "life in God." The process of becoming Christ-like is not something we do all by ourselves. The secret of Christian growth—that is to say, the growth of a Christian's inner and true self, is that we have a Power that is not our own. -Or do we? If in this year now past we can detect no signs of growth, is it perhaps because we have not wanted to grow? Our heavenly father is ready to give the Holy Spirit to all who ask him. In the year now dawning, we may pray for many blessings; but what are other blessings worth, if we do not welcome God himself?

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

In parts of Asia, the New Year is prepared for a full month before the time arrives. The people pen up chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese to fatten. But the chief animal for food manuel (Baust) Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Varron Zimmerman, Silver Run, before and killed two or three days before New Year's. The New Year might also be called the feast of St. Vicelie the Great, because it is be-lieved by many Asians that the pro-phet Mahomet had an argument with that saint as to who could work the greatest miracle. The saint said that he would strike a rock with an iron rod and out of the rock water would flow. Mahomet said he would stick his staff into the ground and wine would flow from it. On New Year's Day the miracles were performed. The saint struck the rock, and a spring erupted from the rock. When Mahomet saw the miracle, he took the saint to a place where he had buried some wine skins under the earth. But when they reached the spot where Mahomet intended to stick his staff into the hidden wine skins they found some pigs had rooted them up and they were scattered over the ground. In this way Mahomet was defeated by pigs and thus the pig is the ani-mal for the New Year's feast. Mahomet cursed the pigs and ever since his followers will not eat pig's meat. But the saint blessed them, and with his foot pressed their tails into the ground and they are killed in his honor.

The old Romans did not give up
New Year's Day wholly to feasting and merry making. They worked a little at their trade for the sake of luck throughout the New Year.

It is an old Dutch superstition that, if you want to marry the girl you love, your voice must be the first one she hears, and your face the first she sees on New Year's morning. This may have been difficult to accomplish in the days when this bit of folklore was accepted as truth, but now when dating habits have changed somewhat it is quite easy for the boy to make the old Dutch superstition come true.

Successful Dieting Helps Diabetics

Chances are that a person suffering from diabetes is also suf-

Chances are that a person state of the control of t more overweight. Extremely encouraging, how-ever, is medical evidence that diabetics can significantly improve their condition by losing an appropriate amount of weight. A recent study presented to physicians at a meeting of the American Medical Association shows that Metrecal, as a means of losing weight, is a valuable weapon in the physician's arsenal for control-ing diabetes.

A husband and wife physician team, Dr. Seymour L. Halpern and Anafred N. Halpern of the New York Medical College, Metropolitan Medical Center, New York City, recently put 101 overweight diabetics on a Metrecal diet for up to 10 weeks. Weight loss varied from a few pounds to several patients who lost more than 30 pounds. Far more important, however, was the effect of the weight loss on the diabetic condition. Of the 76 patients who were receiving insulin or other anti-diabetes drugs when they started the program, 21 patients discontinued altogether their diabetic medication after losing weight; 43 patients were able to reduce their medication; and many of the remaining 12 patients, while not changing medication, showed distinct improvement in control of their diabetes.

Almost all of the 101 patients studied had been obese for more than 10 years and had failed in all attempts at weight reduction until they were put on the Metrecal diet.

The physicians wall, however, that diabetics should undertake a weight control program only under a physician's supervision because it is critical that adjustments be made in the patient's insulin (or related drug) therapy concurrently with the introduction of a change in the diet in order to avoid complications in the delicately balanced metabolism of a diabetic patient.

THE PASTOR AND HIS WIFE

When sickness comes and the fever lingers, And the doctor says, "I've done what I could." It is then our fears begin to rise and grow stronger; We begin to look for help where we should. The Pastor and his wife!

When a loved one has passed away,
And death and sorrow comes with all its blackness;
We need someone to tell us of these mansions far away.
Who is it comes and brings the light out of the darkness? The Pastor and his wife!

When a blessed event has come to a home, Joy and happiness fill the air.

The father and mother look for a life this precious one should own.

Who is it that will guide it to a life so fair? The Pastor and his wife!

When the wedding bells are ringing in the chapel, And the church is filled with lovely flowers; As the bride and groom walk down the lohengrined aisle, Who is it that shares their most beautiful hour? The Pastor and his wife!

As we journey on through life's wonderful days, We sometimes get lost and walk down the wrong pathway. Gentle is the descent and easy is the way that takes us down the wrong roadway. Someone is needed to take us by the hand and bring us back to the King's highway. The Pastor and his wife! We thank Thee O God! That we have someone who knows how to pray.

Someone to guide us along this journey of life. Someone to tell us about that brighter home — just over there. Someone to comfort us in this world torn by fear and strife. We thank Thee O God! for Brother and Sister Whalen: The Pastor and his wife!

Applejack Puts Pep Into All-American Egg Nog Recipe

How about using the juice of little apples (Applejack in this case) in your All-American Christmas and New Year's Egg Nogs. This graceful little poem almost suggests it:
LITTLE APPLES

When God had made the oak tree And the beeches and the pines, And the flowers and the grasses ! And the tendrils of the vines, He saw that there was wanting A something in His plan. And He made the little apples The little cider apples
The sharp, sour, cider apples,
To prove His love for man.

Now for a recipe. Here's one many of our gourmet friends rate very high. Two things about its outstanding flavor and richness must be noted. 1. Applejack is used for flavor. 2. It is made one week in advance. To ripen, pour into glass jars, cover tightly; store in refrigerator. But do not freeze.

EGG NOG (Yield 1½ quarts)

O - half cup granulated sugar, 4 egg yolks, 1 cup whole milk, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 pint Applejack (brandy), 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten, may be added; ground nutmeg.

Blend sugar and egg yolks in electric mixer at low speed until thick and lemon colored. Add milk and cream; pour in apple brandy slowly. Pour into jars or bottles. Cover tightly. Note: The stiffly beaten egg whites may be folded into mixture just before pouring into punch bowl, to make a more foamy topping if desired. Sprinkle nutmeg on each serving.

nutmeg on each serving.

If dairy prepared egg nog is used, the proportions are 2 quarts of dairy prepared egg nog to one quart or 4/5 quart bottle of Applejack brandy.

WEEKLY SPORTS REVUE

January 2, 1962 is the day that shoulder pads, hip pads, thigh pads, cleats, and helmets will once again be packed away in mothballs. But preceding the event, the equipment will get quite a workout in the form of four major bowl games to be played on New Year's Day. The Rose Bowl, Cotton Bowl, Orange Bowl, and Sugar Bowl will provide plenty of excitement for their respective spectators. Television viewers will also get a chance to see some of the nation's top football talent provided they focus the proper channel at the proper time. From the 1961 "Dream Team", will be five players suited up and "rarin' to go". They are: Roy Winston, LSU; Jerry Hillebrand, Colorado; Billy Neighbors, Alabama; Jim Saxton, Texas; and Sandy Stephans, Minnesota. The game pairings are: Rose Bowl—UCLA vs. Minnesota, Cotton Bowl—Texas vs. Mississippi, Orange Bowl—Colorado vs. LSU, and Sugar Bowl—Arkansas vs. Alabama.

Tigers Bow

The Taneytown Tigers (0-6), a 59-42 victim of Thurmont in an earlier encounter, made a valiant but unavailing bid for its first victory of the 1961-62 basketball season before being handed a 50-55 reversal by Thurmont last Friday night. Dwight Copenhaver and Stuart Dom netted 13 apiece for the losers. Taneytown took the junior varsity game by a score of 29-21. The Tigers next encounter will be with the Alumni Friday night.

Chamberlain's Average Rising

The giant from Philadelphia added another five-tenths of a point to his fantastic pace during the week and now leads the National Basketball Association's shooters with an average of 48.5 points a game and a total of 1,553 for 32 contests. N.B.A. statistics show that Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor is trailing Chamberlain with 1,356 points and an average of 37.7 for 36 games. Chamberlain also loads for 36 games. Chamberlain also leads the rebounders with a 26.0 average.

"Home Run" Baker Reported Better

Frank (Home Run) Baker, who lives at Trappe, Md. and was nicknamed "Home Run" because of his game-winning home runs in the 1911 World Series, was reported to be in better condition at Easton Memorial Hospital where he is undergoing treatment for an undetermined illness. The Hall of Famer, now 75, played third base for the Philadelphia Athletics and New York Yankees and led the American League in home runs for four consecutive years. He entered the hospital Thursday.

Wind-Resistant Roofing Defies Hurricane's Fury

Hurricane-ravaged beach house in Myrtle Beach, S. C., is pushed off foundation, half-wrecked by storm. But wind-resistant roof of asphalt shingles remains in place. Asphalt shingles applied to resist wind are being used increasingly by home owners in areas where high winds prevail. When roof stays in place, interior of house and its contents are protected from deluging rains that usually follow hurricanes and other severe wind storm.

Have Kemper Care With Kemper Insurance

The $229,000,000.00 in premiums which KEMPER INSURANCE wrote in 1960 represents peace of mind and security for nearly 2,000,000 policyholders.

In the lives of all of us, scarcely a minute goes by but what we are using the product of a KEMPER INSURANCE policyholder. The food we eat, the trains and planes we ride, the household goods we use, the movies we see, the gasoline, oil and tires for our cars, the television we watch — all these and many more are more often than not the products of KEMPER INSURANCE policyholders.

During 1960, KEMPER INSURANCE provided some form of insurance protection to one third of the firms listed on the New York stock exchange in addition to many thousands of smaller business and industries.

As Hurricane Carla plowed through coastal regions of Texas, KEMPER INSURANCE claim disaster teams were already moving into hard-hit areas to serve policy holders who sustained losses. Federal Mutual Claim men (a KEMPER COMPANY represented locally by ROBERT L. ZENTZ of Taneytown), traveled to Texas carrying folding ladders, 100-foot measuring tapes, flashlights and other equipment to facilitate their work. Speedy emergency measures, at the time of a disaster like Hurricane Carla, are the trademark of KEMPER INSURANCE.
