Report of Special Session of the Legislature

It is now fully apparent that the stop-gap reapportionment measure passed by the Legislature at the Governor's order is satisfactory to no one.

Just what does the measure, as passed, provide?

It provides 19 new seats in the House of Delegates!

Baltimore County would gain seven new seats, and would have 13 seats instead of its present six.

Montgomery and Prince George's Counties would gain four seats each, raising their total number of seats

Two Baltimore City Districts, the Third and Fifth, would get two additional seats each.

Anne Arundel County would get one more seat, or a total of seven, instead of its present six.

Nothing, whatsoever, was done about changing the membership of the State Senate. Those opposed to the reapportionment measure as affecting the House of Delegates take the stand that the Legislature cannot increase membership in the House without a Constitu-tional Amendment, and that the bill, as passed, is further unconstitutionas passed, is further unconstitutional because it provided no effective time for a popular referendum.

It is my opinion that these constitutional objections are valid, and that the legislature acted without proper authority in passing the reap-

Since the legislation appears to be unconstitutional, since it is not satisfactory to anyone, and since there is a distinct possibility of long delays while the matter is threshed out in while the matter is threshed out in the courts; it appears to me that something else—something constitutional and satisfactory to all parties concerned—should be made effective! I submit that my plan for half-vote or quarter-vote additions to the votes of metropolitan county legislators is the most satisfactory plan yet ad-

Please do not overlook the factor of cost! The expenses of government are already excessive, as every taxpayer is well aware. To add to the membership of the House, as provided in the reapportionment bill, would add the costs of their salaries and their allowances. It would reand their allowances. It would require physical changes in the House of Delegates chamber, at a very high cost. It would complicate the process-

My plan would not add a single member to the House! There would be no salaries for additional members! There would be no physical changes in the House chamber! The structure of government would not be further complicated! be further complicated!

In fact, I am confident that my plan is the best, yet produced and given the proper consideration and support, this plan would, at no added expense, solve the problems of reapportionment in a very satisfactory manner!

I was so surprised to read and learn (which we did not learn in school in studying Geography) that the Great Lakes about two hundred years ago were— Lake Superior was called Lake Tracy, Erie was called Lake DeConty; Lake Michigan was Lake Illinois, Ontario was Lake Frontenac and Lake Huron was called the Sweet Sea.

It brought back the time when I was for $30,000. for theatrical purposes. It brought back the time when I was a young girl and we saw a delightful show on one of those type boats right on the Mississippi River! It really was fun and the audience appeared to be a big happy family. However, now due to TV which has even hurt the Movies, I do not think this would be a successful affair. It would be nice if one boat was held just for the ride to the various places and chartered daily.

WE MUST HAVE HIS WAY?

"The President," reported Senator Hubert Humphrey to newsmen after a recent visit to the White House, "has the bit in his mouth (we assume he meant "teeth") on medical aid for the aged He was kindly and soft hearted in the steel dispute as compared with his feelings on medicare.'

Well-known before this bulletin, was the flat rejection by Mr. Kennedy of any consideration of a health plan for oldsters outside of the compulsion of the Social Security system. Thus, it might be well to consider, before it is too late to protest and before our lawmakers commit us irrevocably, why, if the intentions are so benevolent, the proffered services so complete and the cost so trifling, medicare cannot be offered on a voluntary basis.

Is it because nine million Americans already over 65-and millions more who are approaching that age - already have the sort of health insurance they want, and do not want Federalized care?

Is it because the would-be beneficiaries are shocked by their discovery of the additional costs of medicare -$10 a day for the first nine days of hospitalization, payment by the patient of the first $20 of the cost of outpatient hospital diagnosis, payment by the patient of his own doctor or surgeon and purchase of drugs used out-side of hospital or nursing hole last year) that something new must be found to save it, a glossy gimmick that will boost the spiralling SS tax farther and faster-to an estimated $507 a year per Social Security number by 1968?

Once Medicare is established, if the Congress is heedless enough or weak enough to pass it, voluntary health and hospitalization plans must go. Not enough people, no matter how much they prefer the do-it-yourself program and no matter what their salaries, will have enough left after Federal, state, local and Social Security taxes for such a luxury. Medicare must then, of necessity, be expanded to include all ages. And, insofar as taking care of their own health and that of their children is concerned, Americans will have had

Letter To The Editor

June 1, 1962

Dear Editor,
We haven't mentioned Publisher
Russ Metz of the BATH COUNTY
NEWS - OBSERVER of Owingsville,
Ky., since 'way back in early February when he put his foot in his press Now he's put his finger on about the sorest spot in any editor's soul, and his fellows may desire to weep with him or quote him to their own readers—or perhaps glean a new thought on an old story. Under the heading, "TELL OR KISS 'EM GOODBYE," Mr. Metz writes:

"... If for a period of two weeks everyone in Bath County made all their retail purchases and had all their professional services per-formed out of the county, what would happen?

"It is pretty hard to imagine the chilling effect of a fine, friendly little community suddenly transformed into a ghost town. But that's exactly what would happen in the towns of Bath County if in the towns of Bath County if everyone suddenly began leaving the county to do their business. It certainly is a frightening thought and not a complete impossibility. 'Every week many Bath County residents take their money out of the county to spend on things that could be bought right here at that could be sought light here at home. They fully believe they are getting bargains they cannot get at home. And, until they are shown differently, they will con-tinue to drive away and shop. "Obviously, those people are not in the majority . But it is also very evident that county businesses do suffer when the retail dollar leaves home and may suffer more and more as other people begin spending their money elsewhere. "From this we can only gather that neighboring towns are doing a better selling job than we are. They have been quick to show the buyers of our county the bargains they offer, taking advantage of the situations where the people have not been informed of the same bargains in their own home county. Despite the fact that we have an advantage of time, distance and tradition, we are finding our county becoming a secondary market for our citizens—in many cases. There is only one solution to this growing economic problem. We must do a better job of selling our own residents on the merits of shopping at home. This cannot be done by waiting in our business places and watching the cobwebs form across the doorways.

"You must tell to sell," concludes Publisher Metz. "Tell and keep on Publisher Metz. "Tell and keep on telling everyone about the many bargains offered at home. Tell them and sell them, and they will not leave their money in towns that do not benefit Bath County." In short, Mr. Metz not only believes in laying it on the line, himself, but makes it pretty plain he thinks the business people of Owingsville and the other towns in his coun-ville and the other towns in his county had better do the same. Comes a time when the editorial viewpoint can properly be: "Don't ask 'em, tell

CURRENT EVENTS

Clotworthy Birnie spent a week's vacation at home and returned Friday evening for the commencement exercises, at which time he will graduate from Lehigh University. It seems to us that with a new Governor and Road Commission, who have different ideas on road building from the old Commission and who are likely subject to different influences, it would be worth while to again take up the project of improving the "old plank road" from Taneytown to Westminster.

The first game of ball of the season was played on the home ground on Thursday afternoon with Emmitsburg resulting in a score of 8 to 4 in favor of Taneytown.

Taneytown Alumni Dine, Dance

The Taneytown High School Alum-ni Association held their annual banni Association held their annual banquet and dance on Saturday evening in the High School. Approximately 250 enjoyed the delicious fried chicken dinner which was prepared and served family style in the School Cafeteria by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fire Co. Several dozen High School girls aided in the serving.

John S. Harner, Chairman of the Alumni Board of Directors served as Alumni Board of Directors, served as Master of Ceremonies for the pro-gram. Seated at the Speakers' Table and introduced by Mr. Harner, were: Principal of the Taneytown Elemen-tary School, Mr. Frank Wargny and Mrs. Wargny; Mr. Ned Musser, principal of the High School and Mrs. Musser; Mr. Neal Powell, Pres. of the City Council, and Mrs. Powell; and Rev. Dr. Guy P. Bready, for many years a teacher in T. H. S. Each of these gentlemen brought brief remarks. The traditional roll-call of classes was conducted to assist classmates in finding each other, and the classes who planned reunions were afforded time to introduce members present and fill the group in on interesting notes. The classes of 1937, (celebrating their Silver Anniversary), 1947, 1952, and 1957 were introduced, as well as the class of '62 who had an well as the class of '62 who had an excellent turnout of members.

A poem, "To Our Own Dear T. H. S.," written by Cherie Phillips for this year's Tahian, was read by Phyllis Clingan. As has been the tradition, the program was closed with the singing of the School Song, led by George Rue and the Class of '62. This song was written 25 years ago. This song was written 25 years ago by a committee from the class of '87, headed by Shirley Wilt King.

The crowd then retired to the auditorium to enjoy dancing, renewing old acquaintances, and chatting about the good-ole-days. Music was furnished by "The Tones," old favorites of the Alumni.

(Continued from first page) about when having full experience. It is as positively as cheap as oil heat. You can regulate the thermostat just as I did and the gas company explained to me just about what the heating bill would be monthly and they sure did hit it on the head for frankly I was worried in the begin-ning. Now, if you have recently moved in a new home, this following is the trick of gas heat. BE SURE AND OPEN YOUR BASEMENT WINDOWS every nice day of the summer to permit it to dry out thoroughly as I did last year and and that way you will have better results with your heating and the bill the following winter. At night time, would turn the thermostat back to I would turn the thermostat back to 65 and also when I am not home during the day and all that means saving. I even plugged up the exhaust fan in the kitchen with plastic covering for the winter so as no heat would escape. I turned down the hot water heater to a mild temperature just enough to give me the ample hot water which I needed daily. You will learn as to the heating cost ample hot water which I needed daily. You will learn as to the heating cost and when you hear people say what a frightful bill they have had, you will know that they are wasteful, in other words not careful as to the amount they use. You can even close off the bedroom doors during the day time but be sure and turn off the registers first. If there are other rooms that you do not use at all. you can that you do not use at all, you can turn off those all the time. Simply TOPS!

If you have any piece of furniture, Mrs. Housewife, that you have had even for many years—do not discard it but have the Hecht-May Company do the work. I have a very old chair and had it reupholstered from the very inside throughout and selected the material. It is without a doubt, the finest workmanship that any adthe finest workmanship that any adjective could describe! One try and you will be convinced! Betcha, folks that in the near future there will be wedding bells for that Governor of New York and Joan Crawford! He will will have first expectations. will wait his first opportunity so as not to harm his political issues. On Memorial Day, friends chartered a bus. There were 35 of us and i meant going through different parts of Penna. No one could ever say that any other County can top CARROLLING ACRES! A gorgeous sight. (Those nice men at the Court House too, keeping taxes lowered!) We had tables reserved at the "PETER PAN" Inn and dinners ordered in advance! That will be a treat for you if this will be your first visit. Right there stood the famous, "Medart Inn" between the years of 1796 and 1848 which was a popular stopping place for Wagon Trains carrying produce and merchandise between the North and the South. In 1849, the old Inn was destroyed and the present house was built. During the Civil War, the house was overrun by the North and the South. Guns were mounted at the (Those nice men at the Court House the South. Guns were mounted at the cross roads in case of a break through. The "Peter Pan Inn" was started in 1926 by a Mrs. Grace Baumgardner and is still in the family. As to food, Folks—well—it is wonderful! My dinner was one of Shrimp and never, never have I seen any size as to those Shrimp! Before serving, Paprika was dusted over it all and gave the Shrimp a delightful and most attractive color. It also was sprinkled with a slight shake of Garlic salt! Ummmmmmm good! I met a Mrs. Jones who is managing the place the South. Guns were mounted at the Mrs. Jones who is managing the place now and I told her that I surely would give it a write up. She reads "The Carroll Record", weekly. It is very near Frederick and the exterior you will love as well as the interior. That should be one of your places to be a guest anytime of the year. There is also the "Kapok Tree Inn,,—Clearwater, Florida, of which I wrote about in a previous Column.

That should be one of your places to me with cards, flowers, gifts and prayers while a patient in the hospital and since my return home, and special thanks to the Taneytown Fire Dept. for my transportation home in wrote about in a previous Column. This was my first bus trip on any holiday and it was delightful all the way! Ask for Earnie—the driver at "Monumental" if you ever charter a MRS. OLIVE MILLER

Have a grand week-end, folks. Be careful when you drive and don't turn the wheel over to that Teen-ager unless he or she is truly in the "Know How". Have you been reading of the frightful number of accidents which have meant death and all youngsters around 20 to 25 years of age? It around 20 to 25 years of age? It makes my heart ache! LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON OPENS

The Little League teams got off to a good start on Friday evening after the grand parade. The Cubs took the Cards with ease. With Mayor Perry pitching out the first ball and Mr. Neal Powell as master of ceremonies and all of the excitement among the teams and spectators the season is teams and spectators the season is off to a fine start. Both the boys and coaches of both teams are deeply grateful to the band of our own T. H. S., to the Fire Department and local Lions Club, and Mr. Paul Sell for all the help they gave in order to make the event worthwhile.

Don't forget to attend the games that are scheduled here at home and away. Let's keep the community away. Let's keep the community spirit that our youth needs by supporting them with your attendance.

A Trip South Described

Sunday School 10:00 A. M., Holy Communion, 11:00 A. M.
St. Pauls, Uniontown—Sunday School, 9:30 a.m.; No worship service. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Weaver, of Taneytown, spent last week visiting with their son and family, S/gt. and Mrs. James Weaver and children Steven and Kathleen, Fayettville, N. C. We had a wonderful time and as everyone can't go, we would like to share our trip with you. Leaving Taneytown on May 26th, we had the privilege to drive through Fort Bragg Army Station. Seen men jump from implementations are would wonder if the Army Station. Seen men jump from airplanes, you would wonder if the parachute was going to open up—was interesting. Leaving Fayetteville on the 29th, on Rt. 401 and 74 to Asheville, N. C.; spending a couple of days at my old home place. I was glad to see my sister and all my friends I haven't seen in years. We had mountain trout a couple of times, sure was a treat. Leaving Cashiers, N. C.: on a treat. Leaving Cashiers, N. C.; on May 31, going over the Blue Ridge Mountains. As we came to Tuckasgee River where a beautiful water falls is the beginning of the river. Going on down the river to the low lands. on down the river to the low lands. This place has many memories. After leaving Sylva, N. C., our next stop was Cherokee, the Indian Reservation. We visited in many shops. Many things to see. Now we go on to the Great Smoky Mountains, saw one bear on the side of the road. We stopped and took its picture. He came and put his paws on the fender of our car. The Rangers won't let anyone feed them. The Great Smoky Mountain Park is open the year around, it is 6000 ft. After you get in the park you look down and wonder how you got up there with a car. der how you got up there with a car.
The park is in N. C. and Tenn. As many times as I have been there, I am always ready to go again. The beautiful flowers — Rhododendron isn't any more in N. C. than a weed is here. I wish everyone apply see s here. I wish everyone could see After leaving the Smokys, we saw from the road something like a street car taking people over the mountain. This looked like it was a wall, it was so steep. Several stops was made before reaching Fayetteville, staying until June 2. We started for home and found everything as we had left it.

Regional Accountants Workshop

Eleven Chapters of the National Association of Accountants were represented Saturday, May 26th at the Hotel Yorktowne, in a Chapter Operations Workshop, with 100 Officers and Directors of the various chap-ters participating. NEW FEATURES FOR TELEPHONE SERVICE

Two new types of automatic telephone dialers are now available—it was announced today by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland:

These new repertory dialers—Card Dialer and Rapidial—are designed primarily for business use. Both operate on the principle of automatic dialing of pre-recorded telephone

The new dialing devices help to save time and increase efficiency for any type of business with a repertoire of local, long distance and internal

Although similar in concept, the two new dialers serve slightly dif-ferent needs. The Card Dialer has the automatic dialing mechanism built right into the telephone. It has an unlimited capacity and is espe-cially useful in calling groups of in-dividuals regularly. Coded plastic cards, on which the user has previously punched out the specified telephone number, control the dialing equipment. The same phone can also be used for conventional calling.

Rapidial is a separate unit with a built in memory—magnetic tape—and is used as a companion to any telephone dial equipment. It has a capacity of up to 290 names and num bers which can be easily recorded or changed on the magnetic type by the user. All entries are stored within the Rapidial's memory unit and are readily accessable for quick, efficient, automatic dialing.

Both of these repentory dialers are especially useful for sales and reservation personnel, dispatchers, bankers, brokers, retailers and others who make frequent calls to the same

The two models provide a choice to meet individual telephone requirements. Both are available in beige, gray, green or white to match or blend with office decor.

Colleges Meet Crisis_

National Community Chest For Higher Education Formed

Nearly 500 private institutions in 40 associations of colleges are cooperating in the Independent College Funds of America.

It's no news today that higher education is in a state of financial crisis. Bankruptcy looms for many fine colleges and universities. Big news is what has been done to meet this challenge by formation of a national community chest for private higher education—the Independent College is to make a unified approach

Several outstanding universities have recently been forced to "go public". The Universities of Buffalo and Houston are examples. These institutions have had to turn to their state goverments for funds which enable them to keep operating. Numerous good colleges will have to merge or close down altogether for lack of funds, according to a report published recently by the Ford Foundation.

Inflation is rapidly shrinking the endowment incomes—tra-ditionally relied on by colleges to meet operating expenses. Tuition covers one-half of a student's education. Tuition fees are rising, but they are already a heavy burden on the average family's budget.

The next ten years will be the decade of decision for America —decision as to the future of its private colleges. The alternatives are clear cut: government intervention or business investment. If the money comes from government, it must be accompanied by tax increases levied against corporations and

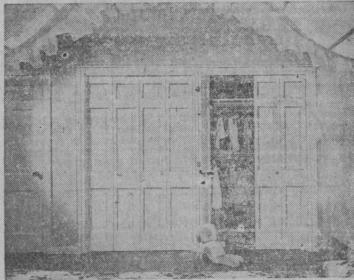

To take positive action, nearly 500 private colleges and universities have banded into 40 state and regional associations of independent colleges. The purpose of these groups is to make a unified approach to business and industry for support of private higher edu-cation. Nationally, these groups are represented by the Indepen-dent College Funds of America, Inc., Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel,

New York City.
In 1961, American business and industry invested more than $10 million dollars in private higher education through the state associations. A few of these major investors in higher education are: United States education are: United States

Heart Patients Improve With Weight Loss Under Doctor's Supervision

Overweight patients with heart or peripheral vascular diseases can achieve long-term weight reduction and maintenweight reduction and maintenance of the weight loss conveniently, predictably and safely with the use of Metrecal, according to a medical report in the Journal of the American Geriatric Society.

Dr. H. J. Roberts, of West Palm Beach, Florida, reported results on 78 private outpatients who were under treatment for serious organic cardiovascular disorders. Several were also suffering from other diseases. All were overweight.

The reduction of blood pres-The reduction of blood pressure by weight reduction alone was striking in several patients, according to Dr. Roberts, and in many others he noted a decrease, in varying degree, of the serum cholesterol level. Prothrombin (clotting) time, in several patients receiving long-term anticoagulant therapy for coronary heart disease, remained "virtually unchanged" during Metrecal weight reduction.

Many patients with associated diseases ranging from diabetes to ulcers exhibited with provement of these conditions as well as improvement in the car-diovascular disease.

The weight loss in Dr. Roberts' patients ranged from one to 10 pounds after one week, from six to 22 pounds after one month, and from six to 24½ pounds after six weeks. After an initial period on Metrecal alone, many patients had usual food at certain specified meals. According to Dr. Roberts, "The loss of from one to three pounds per week until the ultimate goal had been reached, was considered satisfactory. A surprising number of patients were able to reach this goal with relative ease, including several inactive cardiac patients."

Dr. Roberts' paper stresses the importance of the physician in weight reduction for patients with cardiovascular and other diseases that may be complicated by overweight. An unsupervised weight reduction program by such individuals could disturb the body's metabolic balance and cause serious medical complications.

Lukewarm Church Lesson for June 10, 1962

THE book called Revelation is probably the most difficult book in the New Testament to understand; and yet for some reason more people, with more differing ideas, claim to know just what it all means than any other. It is strange also that the two chapters which are plain-the least atten-Dr. Foreman tion from interpreters. These two chapters (2 and 3) contain short messages or "letters" to seven Christian churches, all of them long since vanished, in the Roman province est of all, are the two that receive of Asia. Why study messages to churches far away and long ago? For the same reason we study the Bible at all. By thinking over what "holy men of old" said, by the Spirit's inspiration, to men of their time, we can gather truth which is useful to us who live in a different century, under seemingly different circumstances.

Suburban captivity Some commentaiors on the book of Revelation have seen in the descriptions of these seven churches a panorama of church history; seven ages of the church, seven successive eras in which the Christian church has resembled first the church of Ephesus, then that of Smyrna and so on. This is highly artificial and is not suggested by the book itself. It is nearer the truth to say that both the virtues and the vices of all the seven Asian churches can be seen in every era and in almost every congregation. Take the Church of Laodicea, for example. There have always been churches of this type, and espe-cially in America it is common today. A student of the church named Winter has written a book called "The Suburban Captivity of the Churches," in which he makes the point that suburban churches today carry a very large portion of the church members, and set the style, so to speak, for other types of churches, rural and urban. Then the author proceeds to point out what is wrong with the churches of suburbia . . . and it reads almost as if he were thinking of Laodicea all the time. There were two main things wrong with that church. First it was lukewarm. It had neither the enthusiasm and spontaneity of the "hot" church, nor the discipline, the doctrine "laid out cold," the careful liturgy, of the "cold" church. It went through the motions of being a church.

A proud, blind church Dr. Winter's book makes the charge that the typical American church, the pace-setting congregation, is more of a club than a true Christian fellowship. It runs away from poor people, it hides in an expensively zoned residential community where poor people can't come. It is wealthy, the building costs a sum which the members are proud to mention to visitors ts contribution to benevolences is small, but oh, the amount in the Building Fund column! To be a member of it may be not only respectable, but a sign of social distinction. It takes some pride in the fact that it does not need any money from the outside. It has its own kindergarten, kitchens and everything. The same people you will see at the country club you will see here.

But this is just what the church at Laodicea was. Rich-proud-and blind. One such church moved not less than six times in one of our great cities, to escape the "invasion" of minority groups. Finally one of the leading officers summed it up; "No place is safe." "Those whom I love . . ."

But the object of a church is not to be safe, but to be saving. A church that is only a middle-class club is expendable, like all middle-class clubs. Like the Laodicean church, it needs to open its eyes to its spiritual poverty and disease. Now some hasty readers of Revelation have supposed that God had wrathfully cast off the church at Laodicea. Not at all. It is made clear that God would not rebuke the church if he did not love it. There is no church God does not love; but there are few churches that God approves of just as they are. There is more than a little of the Laodicean in all churches. Yet even a blind, proud, lukewarm church may hear the word, I counsel thee . . . that thou mayest

SEN. WEANT REPORTS-

The Maryland General Assembly was called into session on Friday May 25th. This session was called by the Governor as a result of a directive from the Court of Appeals of Maryland requiring the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel County to decide whether the Maryland Legislature needs reapportioning and the resultant decision of the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel County finding that the Maryland Legislature is malannortioned malapportioned.

After a week of stormy deliberations, during which many reapportionment schemes were considered, the Maryland Legislature passed House Bill No. 1. This is a so-called "Stop Gap Bill" and provides for reapportionment of the House of Delegates. Under this Bill Anne Arundel County will receive 1 additional Delegate, Baltimore County will receive 7 additional Delegates, Montgomery County will receive 4 additional Delegates, Frince George's County will receive 4 additional Delegates, the Third District of Baltimore City will receive 2 additional Delegates and the Fifth District will receive 1 additional Delegates. These Delegates will be nominated by the receive 1 additional Delegate. These Delegates will be nominated by the various local Central Committees prior to August 1st, 1962. Their names will then appear on the ballot in the November election along with the other duly nominated candidates.

Until a constitutional amendment

the November election along with the other duly nominated candidates. Until a constitutional amendment is adopted by the people of the State of Maryland affecting the apportionment of the members of the General Assembly, House Bill No. 1 will remain in effect and will provide for future changes in the apportionment of the General Assembly according to the change in the population of the various counties. The total population of the State according to the census shall be divided by the number Sixty-five (65). The resulting quotient, computed as the nearest whole number, is the unit of population necessary for an additional Delegate. The unit of population, as divisor, shall then be divided into the population of each logicality in the State divisor, shall then be divided into the population of each county in the State and of each legislative district of Baltimore City which has a population in excess of the unit of population. Each county and legislative district shall receive an additional number of Delegates equal to the resultber of Delegates equal to the resulting quotient in each instance, dropping any fractional remainder. If the total number of Delegates so apportioned is fewer than one hundred and twentythree (123), additional Delegates shall be awarded in descending order to those counties or legislative. egates shall be awarded in descending order to those counties or legislative districts having the highest fractional share of a unit of population as a remainder after the last mentioned quotients have been computed, until the total of one hundred and twenty-three (123) Delegates is apportioned.

twenty-three (123) Delegates is apportioned.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, during the four-year term of the House of Delegates which is elected to office in November, 1962, each county and legislative district as a minimum shall have the number of Delegates in the House of Delegates that it had on January 1, 1962. For those four years, the formula for membership shall be applied as to those counties and legislative districts for which it provides an increase in representation, but the formula shall not be applied as to those counties and legislative districts for which it would provide a decrease in representation, or as to which it leaves representation unchanged. which it leaves representation unchanged

In other words, the membership of the House of Delegates from Carroll County will remain unchanged in the election of 1962. It will probably lose representation in the future under the present Bill unless this situation is changed by a constitutional amendment.

Children's Aid Society Will Conduct Campaign for Funds

According to an announcement by C. W. Haschert, Chairman, the Children's Aid Society will conduct a mail campaign during June to raise funds. Haschert said that the amount raised during 1961 was several thousand short of the goal and since it will not be possible to join the Community Chest in the Fall it will be necessary to have the mail campaign. June was selected so that the campaign, normally conducted in Oct. would not conflict with the Community Chest campaign. He further stated that an application for membership in the Community Chest has been submitted for approval. This will clear the way for inclusion of the Maryland Children's Aid Society in the Community Chest for future campaigns.

PROGRAM: "Support of Churches" under the direction of Kiwanian Harry Mohney was the theme of the meeting, and the subject was Prayer.

Mr. Mohney introduced the Rev.
Wm. M. Hendricks, Minister of the Taneytown United Presbyterian Church who gave an interesting and inspiring discourse on the subject uniinspiring discourse on the subject universal and everlasting.

In our mental processes it seems our nature is to see and create jokes on most any subject or about any matter, however, prayer is the one subject where the outflow of jokes is very limited, the subject being too is very limited, the subject being too sacred, too personal and too divine in its implications to admit of any crass of flippant foolishness.

The university of prayer was pictured by recounting the different methods and manners as used by savage and illiterate peoples or tribes, the oriental prayer wheels, etc., likewise emphasizing the fact that no one ever out grows the need irrespective of the fact that it is not magic and will not furnish every material petition, the earthly mind may feel the need of. Prayer is not a Santa Claus to bring coveted gifts to supplicants.

The different types supplicants.

The different types, such as petition, confession, communion, etc., were explained at length and in our own way from the words of this minister we can best explain the conception of useful, devout and effective prayer in the words of the poet, who

Prayer is the souls sincere desire Uttered or unexpressed
The motion of a hidden fire
That trembles in the breast

Prayer is the burden of a sigh The falling of a tear The upward glancing of an eye When none but God is near

Prayer is the simplest form of speech That infant lips can try Prayer the sublimest strains that

The majesty on High Prayer is the Christians native

The Christians native air His watchword at the gates of He enters Heaven with prayer

Prayer is the contrite sinners voice Returning from his ways While angels at the Throne rejoice And cry "Behold" he prays Ah thou, by whom, we come to God The life, the truth, the way Thyself the paths of prayer hast trod "Lord" teach us how to pray.

To conclude, is not this a subject to which we all may give more serious thought and in times of health, peace and happiness offer our words of praise and thanksgiving in the sacred air of prayer.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

The Pythian Sisters' Past Chief Association met at the home of Sister Audrey Hess, in Harney, on June 5th, with Vice-president, Sister Grace Putman, presiding. The meeting opened by singing, "The Church in the Wildwood." The scripture which was taken from the 5th chapter of St. Matthew was read by Dianne Hess and followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Eleven members answered to roll call with one visitor present. A happy birthday was sung to two of the members and each received.

with one visitor present. A happy birthday was sung to two of the members and each received a gift. A door prize was given by sister Hess and won by sister Shank. There will be no meeting in July.

A picnic in the form of a covered dish supper is being planned for the August meeting. The meeting adjourned by singing, "Bless be the Tie," followed by the Benediction. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess.
