TAXES! TAXES!!

Taxes have gone up as the Government has increased in size. Today it costs the taxpayers 90 times as much to govern only twice as many people as it did 50 years ago.

The Government started to grow with the beginning of the Federal income tax. It grew slowly at first, because our people were used to freedom and not used to excessive taxes and excessive government. But in less than 50 years we have seen an innocent appearing tax of 3% on a few rich people grow until today these "rich" people are paying 91% Federal income tax and the poor people who were to have been the beneficiaries of the tax are paying 20%.

With every increase in taxes, there has been an increase in government, and a corresponding loss in our freedoms. It has been a vicious circle.

Something has to be done about taxes, of course.

The first step should be to stop unnecessary government spending and see that proposals for more government controls, bigger government, are blocked here and now!

— Sen. J. Glenn Beall.

RIGHT WORDS ARE WORTH CASH

You have probably solved many a crossword puzzle, but have you ever tried one for a cash prize? Every week the Baltimore American Jackpot Crossword Puzzle offers a reward for correct answers. The last time we looked, the jackpot was worth $1,000. If no one has claimed it, it goes up; but even if there was a winner the jackpot is never less than $500.

Aid For Active Living

Grandmother can get more fun out of playing with the children when she wears her new Companion hearing aid which is worn snugly behind her ear. Developed by the Beltone Hearing Aid Company, the Companion is one of the first hearing aids to use silicon transistors which assure greater durability and high-fidelity performance while reducing the size and weight of the instrument. Silicon transistors were originally used in missile and space programs.

Crispy Stuffed Meat Loaf

An inexpensive year 'round treat for family and friends is "Crispy Stuffed Meat Loaf"—a novel new main dish that stretches two pounds of meat into 8 to 10 servings. The secret of the stretching is a stuffing of crispy saltine crackers, and the addition of stuffed olives and dry mustard give a true gourmet flavor. Serve hot or cold. Make it this week, this easy way:

Crispy Stuffing

- 2 cups coarse Krispy Saltine Cracker crumbs (24 doubles)
- 1/2 cup chopped stuffed olives
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
- 1 egg, beaten

Mix together all ingredients. Set aside.

Meat Mixture

- 2 pounds ground round or chuck beef
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup very fine Krispy Saltine Cracker crumbs (10 doubles)

Glaze

- 1/4 cup catsup
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Meat loaf: Mix all meat mixture ingredients together. Lightly grease meat loaf pan (about 9" x 5" x 3") with a neutral salad oil. Line bottom and sides with about 1/2 of the meat mixture, pressing gently. Add stuffing mixture and press gently. Make layer of remaining meat on top and pinch edges together, press down gently. Loosen loaf from sides of pan with spatula, invert on shallow baking pan, tap bottom of pan and remove. Glaze: Mix catsup with mustard and spread, or brush, over top and sides of loaf. Bake in preheated hot oven, 400°F, for about an hour or until done. If desired, about 15 minutes before cooking is complete, top may be decorated with sliced whole olives. Serve hot or cold. Accompany with more catsup if desired. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

SWIFT HOME of the Month

THE SPACEMASTER RANCH

Long, Low Silhouette for Stretch-Out Living

Even on a narrow lot this sophisticated home is in high style. Spacious, with four bedrooms and two baths, this home offers modern, casual living at its best. Smart board and battens on front and redwood posts under the large gabled porch lend a real ranch flavor... and the carport adds to the sleek lines.

Many optional features are available, such as single or double garages, carports and breezeways, plus a wide choice of materials, from shingles to windows to doors.

The homeowner who decides to build the Spacemaster with do-it-yourself labor can save up to 60 per cent of the cost of a similar ready built home. Or erection and finishing can be arranged and substantial savings may still be made over a similar ready built house.

Or the home may be contract erected and owner finished. Whichever plan is used to build it, the Spacemaster is a lot of home for a moderate investment. The abundance of window area, closet space and well-placed rooms make this a real ranch home. For detailed description, full-color view, and floor plans on the Spacemaster, write Swift Homes, Inc., 10 Chicago Avenue, Elizabeth, Pa.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Farmers are happy. A good harvest of hay and grain has been completed, and the rain of this week has greatly benefited the corn and potatoes.

Harry L. Baumgardner will leave tomorrow, Saturday on a trip to Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, to take a look at the farming land in that section, perhaps with a view to making a purchase. He expects to be away about six weeks.

D. H. Essig is pushing to completion his new dwelling on Baltimore Street, which when completed will make a very desirable home.

Taneytown Has Chance to Get A State Road. President Weller of the State Road Commission and Chief Engineer Shirley, accompanied by Dr. Woodward and Wm. Arthur of Westminster made a tour of inspection of the road from Westminster to Taneytown, on Tuesday. Mr. Weller was very favorably impressed with the importance of making this road a state road, and will urge the Commission to accept the proposition of citizens of Taneytown and Frizellburg and vicinity, made two years ago to purchase the Meadow Branch turnpike and turn it over to the state, providing the commission will in turn make a state road of the entire stretch of twelve miles.

Frizellburg — Daniel Warehime bought the home farm at public sale last Saturday for $74.50 per acre. Our merchant, Frank Snader, was in Baltimore on Tuesday and returned the same day. Truman Dickensheets one of our young men left for Baltimore on Tuesday where he has accepted employment.

Hamey — S. C. Shoemaker and John D. Hesson are having their houses painted. Rev. L. A. Bush and wife, have returned to this place from Atlantic City. Mrs. Vivian Wolf of Waynesboro, Pa., is spending a week with her parents, Francis C. Null and wife.

Patriotism

Lesson for July 22, 1962

PATRIOTISM is called love of one's country, but it means more than that. "Country" can mean hills and valleys, rivers and mountains, as we sing in our hymn "My Country, 'tis of Thee..." But while these physical surroundings can stir our hearts (and even plain and ugly landscapes can seem beautiful if they spell Home), real patriotism means a love and loyalty to the people who live in the land, our fellow-citizens.

Patriot in Jail

In our time the accusation is sometimes brought against the Christian ministry that it is unpatriotic, which in the present situation usually means "communist." This accusation is wildly false, but it is not new. Men of God—just because they were true men of God—have been called bad names like traitor, more than once. A notable example is the Biblical prophet Jeremiah. He was easily the most unpopular man in the country. Few believed him or believed in him. From the ruling class right down to the masses, he was considered to be a bad character. More than once he was put in jail or under house arrest as a dangerous character. Yet he was, as history acclaims him, one of the great patriots of the Jewish people.

How do we know he was a patriot if his contemporaries could not see him in that light? For one thing, we now know, as his contemporaries would have known in time, that he was right. What he said would come true, did come true.

Realism

Another reason why we can see that he was a real patriot was that he did not pretend that all was well with his nation. He was brave and clear-sighted enough to speak out against abuses in church and state. He swung a strong axe against the trees of evil that overshadowed the land. He talked very plainly about the sins and crimes of men at the top. He did not even pretend to believe that his country could come out victorious after any war they chose to get into. He did not agree that God loved the children of Israel better than he loved any other nation, or that only in Israel could servants of God be found. He even publicly called Nebuchadnezzar, an invading king, a servant of God. About the future of his country he had no illusions. He saw that their only hope was to yield to Nebuchadnezzar and to become a part of their empire; but this the Israelites could not think of doing. Their recipe for national security was military alliance with Egypt, a suicidal policy as Jeremiah tried to tell them. So they accused Jeremiah of being an enemy of his country. But how much is a country helped by people who can never see anything wrong in it?

A True Patriot

In all the hullabaloo over Jeremiah, people in his city either did not know, or would not notice, some facts that marked the man as a genuine patriot. For one thing, he went to some trouble to buy land, in an area already controlled by invading armies. The prophet thus expressed in a practical (and expensive) way his conviction that (so to speak) there would always be a Judah. Furthermore, though we know he had opportunities to do so, he never went over or "defected" as we say, to the Babylonians. And at the end, so as to stay with his own people, he chose banishment, poverty and death rather than live in comfort in Babylon. In the one-sided war between his country and Babylon, he could see that Babylon was stronger by far; but his own people were his own, and he loved them.

Prof. Harold Berman once said: "If we really want to defeat communism there is only one way to do it. It is the one thing that people who talk about fighting communism generally fail to mention. We must construct a social order in which the goals of justice, mercy and morality take precedence over economic security, political power and technological progress." Some would call the writer of such lines no patriot; but what he says is in the noble tradition of Jeremiah the prophet.

Ripe Olives Add Zing To Casserole

Warm-weather entertaining in the backyard or on the patio is a breeze for the cook and sheer delight for the guests when "Noodles Franciscan" is on the menu.

Here's a delicious casserole dish that doesn't require the oven. While the noodles are cooking, heat the rich-tasting sauce of evaporated milk, meaty ripe olive wedges, minced clams and Parmesan cheese. Worthy companions for this flavorful treat would be cold baked ham, a tossed salad and a relish assortment of melon, ripe olives, carrot sticks, celery and radishes.

Ripe olives as eaten-out-of-hand appetizers are traditional American favorites. But they also enhance many recipes for casseroles, meat and fish sauces, rarebits, vegetables, salads and sandwich fillings. Their nut-like flavor adds zest and zing to almost any meal.

NOODLES FRANCISCAN

- 6 oz. egg noodles
- 1 cup ripe olives
- 1 can (7 oz.) minced clams
- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Finely-chopped fresh parsley
- Additional grated Parmesan cheese for topping

Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender, about 8 minutes. Cut olives into wedges. Drain clams. Combine olives, clams, milk, onion, salt and 1/4 cup cheese in double boiler or saucepan. Heat gently over boiling water or low direct heat, stirring occasionally; do not boil. Drain noodles thoroughly and combine with butter and olive-clam sauce. Mix lightly and turn into hot serving dish. Sprinkle with parsley and additional cheese. Serve immediately, or keep warm over hot water or in slow oven. Makes 6 servings.

College Park, Md., July 16 — Dr. Paul E. Nystrom, director of extension for the University of Maryland College of Agriculture, will retire on December 31, 1962, it was announced here today.

He has held this position since 1955 and has been associated with the university since 1931.

Commenting on Dr. Nystrom's retirement, University President Wilson H. Elkins said: "For more than 30 years, Dr. Nystrom has made many contributions to Maryland agriculture and to farm and home programs — as farm management specialist, county agent leader, head of agriculture economics and marketing and, since 1955, as director of the extension service.

"The achievements of his distinguished career will not evaporate with his retirement; they will remain as a solid foundation on which future development in these areas will be based."

Dr. Nystrom, a native of San Jose (Calif.), holds degrees from the University of California and Harvard University.

He came to Maryland as a farm management specialist and subsequently held a number of important positions in the university's College of Agriculture including associate professor and county agent leader, assistant to the president of the university, professor and head of the department of agriculture economics and marketing, and director of instruction for the College of Agriculture.

In addition to his academic duties, Dr. Nystrom serves as a member of the extension committee on organizational policy for the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities. He also is a member of the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Foundation, and of the executive committee of Epsilon Sigma Phi, a fraternity of cooperative extension service employees.

Dr. Nystrom is a member of the Governor's Committee on Migratory Labor, and a member of the Baltimore Market Authority.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor, "Publishing a hometown newspaper has many compensations," writes Editor Ray K. Dover of The VALENTINE (Neb.) NEWSPAPER, "but being well-liked is not one of them. Everyone," he says, "hates the editor." More specifically:

"An editor who takes a firm stand on controversial issues, and tries to print all the news in an unbiased manner, may be respected (in a fair-minded community), but he will never be popular. "Sooner or later," promises Mr. Dover, "such an editor will tread on the toes of everyone who reads the paper, be he friend or foe, neighbor or stranger."

This editor lists as the "prime sources of an editor's woes" weddings, obituaries and court news, noting such pitfalls as failure to describe grandmother's dress in the wedding story or to include Uncle Joe's favorite poem in his obit. Those whose names appear in the court news, he says, come in two types: the abused, who suffered rank injustice; and the noble, who admit their guilt, but wish their names withheld to protect the sensibilities of others.

"We have often pointed out," he writes, "that we don't make the news, we just print it. All anyone needs to do to keep his name out of the court news is to stay out of court."

"Other ways to incur the wrath of readers are: Disagree with them on a school issue; misspell their names; give another church more space than you do their church... decline to work at night on a rush printing job for someone who would have ordered it out of town to begin with had he not been in a hurry... etc. etc."

"We sometimes think," concludes Editor Dover, "what really irritates readers is the crusty old editors refusal to drop dead. That seems to be the only way to please a big majority at one time."

Mebbe so. Certainly the thing most wrong with this strife-torn world of ours is the people in it. But, let the hometown editor drop dead and what happens? Grief is manifest on all sides. The Text from all pulpit is We Mourn Our Loss. The Marts of Trade close their doors for the Funeral. And in their hearts the grippers of all species know the town will not be quite the same again. There is no hatred toward him, people were merely being their selfish selves. Come to think of it, they loved the Editor!

Sincerely
BOB TAYLOR
