P. E. Installs Emergency Equipment

As part of overall emergency op-erating procedures, The Potomac Edison Company has established 18 radiological monitoring stations to measure fallout activity in the four states it serves, it has been announced by R. G. MacDonald, president of Potomac Edison.

Establishment of these stationsseven in Maryland, six in West Virginia, four in Virginia and one in Pennsylvania—is an outgrowth of a program which trained 80 employees of Potomac Edison in radiological monitoring methods and employees monitoring methods and equipment.
This is part of general emergency preparations being formulated by the nation-wide electric industry in the event of nuclear attack.

The monitoring station for this area is located at Potomac Edison's service center building on Patrick Street in Frederick. Others are located nearby in Hagerstown and at Williamsport

This radiological monitoring program will, Mr. MacDonald said, enable Potomac Edison to determine whether essential operations of the company can be sustained in areas affected by fallout after a possible nuclear attack. It will also provide vital information to Civil Defense monitoring networks and furnish sup-porting data to Civil Defense direc-tors, at all levels, he said.

Civil Defense organizations in the various states have assigned to PE on a loan basis, the equipment necessary to test for radiological fallout. The equipment has been assigned and will be located permanently at the various monitoring stations.

Mr. MacDonald said the training of employees and the establishment of monitoring stations will serve two goals in the event of an attack. First, after an interval following a blast, the trained monitors will emerge from shelter to survey for possible radioactivity. These surveys will indicate when the radiation level is low enough to permit other company employees to begin the work of restoring vital electric service.

In addition, the radioactivity readings will be provided to regular Civil Defense agencies for their overall planning purposes.

"Sustaining the essential supply of electric power during an emergency is our primary goal in the program,' Mr. MacDonald said. "We are vitally concerned in being prepared to supply electric power in any emergency and are only happy that as a result of our company's program we are able to aid the over-all Civil Defense preparedness effort."

Students Attend Traffic Safety Conference

On August 5-8, Joan Clingan and On August 5-8, Joan Clingan and John Shorb, students representing Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School, attended the Maryland Youth Traffic Safety Conference held at the University of Maryland, College Park,

Need for this type of conference is obvious. The appalling accident and death rate in our country is the moral concern of each American today. Each year, approximately 39,000 or more are killed and more than 3,000,000 people injured as a result of a traffic

I'm sure everyone realizes the necessity to improve the behavior of drivers and pedestrians, so that our highways will provide safer movement. There is no easy solution to this problem. Youth Traffic Safety Conferences held throughout the nation hope to aid in solving this problem by working with young people who presently drive or are potential future drivers.

re drivers. The conference, of course, stresses safety education. Emphasized greatly is student initiative and planning concerned with recommendations and resolutions of traffic problems. Student delegates must attend all the class sessions. These consist of addresses and demonstration by adult leaders and delegate discussions. Nightly social activities are also enjoyed by all the delegates.

This conference will benefit more than the attending delegates. Dele gates are obligated to report conference recommendations to their schools and participate in the initiation or continuation of traffic safety programs among the students. Delegates are also urged to set good personal examples for other students with their own driving and pedestrian practices.

Most appropriate is the slogan of this year's Maryland Youth Traffic Safety Conference. "It's safetyminded youth today . . . for live adults tomorrow.

COMMEMORATION OF CIVIL WAR SEPTEMBER 9TH

On Sunday, September 9th at 3:00 o'clock p. m., the Civil War Centennial Committee of the Carroll County Historical Society will commemorate the first actual contact of Carroll County with the Civil War in 1862.

This colorful re-enactment will reflect the sentiments of both the Blue and Grey sympathizers—the struggle as seen by those who participated in the events of those turbulent days. Many of the families who were prominent in these events have descendents still living in Carroll County. Mrs. Cameron Parke Neal, a descendent of the Abner Neal family has in her possession the diary of her grandmother, Mary Neal Parke, which reveals a fasinating account of the arrival of Col. Thomas L. Rosser and the 5th Virginia Cavalry in West-minster on September 11, 1862.

The diary of Dr. Joshua W. Hering, giving detailed accounts of local feeling during the war years, is in possession of Mrs. F. Donald Shriver, his granddaughter. With the help of these original rec-

DESTROYING A FREE PRESS

Can the Post Office Department be deliberately attempting to destroy America's free press through onerous postal rate increases? The mountainous record of testimony compiled by the Senate Post Office Committee contains the answer.

It shows that witness after witness has told of the destruction that would be wrought if the postal rate bill pased by the House (H. R. 7927) under pressure from the Administration, becomes law. These have included representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, National Editorial Association and Magazine Publishers Association, who see death for many daily and weekly newspapers and general circulation magazines in the pending legislation.

The latest witness to spell out an advance obituary for an important segment of the free press is James S. Mulholland, Jr., president, Hayden Publishing Co., which publishes both paid and controlled circulation magazines. He told the Committee of "the havoc that H. R. 7927 would create among publications serving the fields of science, engineering, military technology, industrial management, transportation and commerce-all of them fields contributing to the growth and strength of America."

These specialized business magazines, while recognized by Congress as in the second class category as contrasted to "free circulation" printed matter, already pay a rate three times higher than general circulation publications. Since they serve highly specialized fields vital to the nation's economy and defense, Mr. Mulholland believes they should receive the same rate treatment as other second class magazines.

More important, he feels that Americas' printed media should not be further hamstrung by rates which can lead only to less and less information to the public-and not to a reduced postal deficit as the post office would have people believe.

Literally thousands of letters are pouring into Congress in opposition to another postal tax increase at a time when the President is planning a general tax cut. Everyone who believes in America's free press should join in telling their Senators now that a vote for H.R. 7927 is a vote against themselves at the next election.

'I don't know what they are developing, because things are progressing so rapidly, but I can tell you what they'll use in the fourth world war. They'll use

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

Most people know that three golden balls in front of a business place indicates that it is a pawnbroker's shop, but not many people know where the sign originated. The three golden balls was taken from the coat-of-arms of the famous Medici family, who were the richest merchants of Florence, and the greatest money lenders. The symbol was first brought to England by the Lombards, who were the first money-lenders in London. The street where they lived, and which to this day represents the center of banking business, was called Lombard Street. The three balls in the Medici coat-of-arms originally represented three pills, in reference their profession of medicine and to their name. Members of the Medici family were notorious for their frequent criminal use of poison, espe-cially to get rid of their enemies of which they had quite a few. We had a friend once who went into a pawnshop to buy the three balls, thinking it was an antique shop and that the balls were for sale.

The "White Man's Burden" is the title of a poem written by Rudyard Kipling and first published in 1899. Each stanza begins with the line, 'Take up the white man's burden.' The recent investigation by senate committee into the food packaging industry has made me package conscious every time I enter a grocery store. TREE TRIMMING MUST BE BY LICENSED PERSONS

The illegal trimming of trees throughout the State of Maryland and particularly in the Baltimore-Washington Suburban areas is being practiced by non-licensed persons who are not qualified as "Tree Ex-perts" by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks. Professional standards, set forth by the department assures the prop-erty owner full protection for their trees. In order to have them trimmed in accordance with these professional standards, property owners should de-mand proof of qualifications by requiring the tree trimmer to show his official identification card, as issued by the Department of Forests and Parks and signed by H. C. Buckingham, State Forester.

The Maryland Department of Forests and Parks holds periodic examinations for the "Tree Expert" license. The date for the next examination will be announced soon.

BOONSBORO DAY

Some writers refer to the Battle of South Mountain as the Battle of Boonsboro.

Because many students of history and many citizens of the area are unaware of the significant role played by Boonsboro in the Battle of South Mountain, the Boonsboro Day program, Sept. 10, will attempt to portray, and emphasize as much of it as possible. Boonsboro Day, a special occasion in this area's Antietam-South Mountain Civil War Centennial Observance, promises to be one of exciting entertainment and education. Tentative plans for Boonsboro Day, according to Co-chairmen Siebert Shifler and Donald Lewis, call for a skirmish in the afternoon at Washington Monument State Park, on top of South Mountain, prayer service in the little Catholic Chapel, lunch and dinner in the park, a big parade in the town of Boonsboro, guided tours to famous historical sites, and an eve-ng program or a dance The skirmish will depict the actual battle that took place on top of the mountain near Washington's Monumountain near washington's Monument. In conjunction with this skirmish, and either immediately before or after it, the prayer service will be held in the "old time" manner, as nearly as possible just as it would have occurred 100 years ago.

In various ways, all residents of Boonshore will participate in the accurate the second statement of the second statement of Boonsboro will participate in the activities. Lunch stand facilities for the public's convenience in the park will be operated as a joint project by several community organizations. guided tours will be a project of the boy scouts and other youth groups. Practically all of the business estabishments and organizations will participate by displaying their collections of antiques and Civil War artifacts.

The big parade, too, will be a community project, with bands, floats, marching units, and various organirations taking part. Parade Chairman Charley Welty said it is hoped that all participants and observers will be back in town, from the activities on South Mountain, by shortly before 6 p. m., so that the parade can get underway between 6 and 7.

The evening program to be held at the Boonsboro High School is being planned as enjoyable entertainment for old and young alike. Though plans are not definite as yet, officials hope to have either an evening of musical performances and acts by several different groups, or an evening of dancing, or a combination of both types of entertainment.

Foundations

Lesson for September 2, 1962

TT HAD been 50 years since the great Temple of Solomon was burned to the ground, and the beautiful objects of silver and gold, which were so famous, had been carted off as loot by the in-children when the city fell to Nebu-Dr. Foreman chadnezzar. But old people remember far-past events better than most young ones do; and the splendor of Solomon's temple was not to be for-

But though not forgotten, Solomon's temple could not be replaced either. The first great public work undertaken by the returned exiles, who brought no wealth with them, was to begin the erection of a temple on the site of the old. When the foundation was laid, the old men wept, because they remembered the magnificence of the old temple and realized that this would never look like that. But the young peo-ple shouted for joy, for they had never seen a temple at all. And the young ones were right, for those foundations were to bear the weight of a temple that was destined to last as long as Solomon's, or even longer. It would become a center of religious life for thousands of worshippers. Its successor, even if a king built it (and a king did), would never be loved as this one would be. Incidentally this became the temple where our book of Psalms was first used as a hymn-book.

But it all began with the foundations. All foundations look about alike; and they don't look like much. It takes imagination to see a shrine for God rising above the dusty rock of the foundations. Foundations of Life

All this might suggest to us a parable. Saint Paul once calleo Christians a temple of the Lord, so we may apply his parable to ourselves. All lives are built on foundations of some kind. Jesus spoke of two houses, perhaps just alike except that one was built on rock and the other one built on sand. Foundations may be out of sight, indeed have to be out of sight if they go down far enough to do some good. Scaffolding is necessary but temporary; foundations are necessary from first day to last. Each human life is built on other lives. The kind of home which a father and especially a mother make, the kind of care they give their children, the spirit of the home, the faith and hope and love of that home, are a foundation on which a good life can be built. A home where there are doubt and hopelessness and hate, a home from which the children escape as soon as they possibly can, is a foundation for the life of a criminal or a beatnik. The probation officer of a large city said that all kinds of juvenile delinquents, with all sorts of backgrounds, had come under his eye; but never yet had he seen a juvenile delinquent from a home where husband and wife lived in harmony

On What Shall A Nation's Walls Be Set?

Nations like persons have foundations, good or bad. People sometimes wonder if we deceive ourselves when we prefer a democratic state to any other kind. Looking at other experiments in democracy, with the exception of the northern European nations, so-called democracies will not seem very attractive. Is there anything special about American democracy (which is a child, or a first cousin, of the democracies in northern Europe just mentioned)? Yes, there is, and this should be said in thankfulness and without pride, for we had nothing to do with it. There was a long, long period of growth, of trial and error, of practice, you might say, in democratic processes, before we started it over here. We blame the Congolese for making a mess of their country the minute they reach freedom. But would we have done any better with our nation if we had had no foundations? And it should not be forgotten that a corner-stone of our foundation is a long-time faith. "In God we trust" as a motto is we th little; as a foundation it is indis-

JAYCEE COMMUNITY SURVEY REPORT

This is the fourth of twelve installments of the Community Survey Report prepared by the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Survey was conducted by the Jaycees earlier this year with the report and recommendations adopted in July.

The report is being published as a public service by this newspaper and it is felt many will wish to clip and save for future reference.)

This week we continue our question-by-question analysis and evaluation of the opinions and supply additional related information where possible.

QUESTION # 3. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S GARBAGE COLLECTION?

Over-all Opinions: Very Good — 27%, Adequate—44%, Inadequate—14% Don't Know or No Answer — 15%

Don't Know or No Answer — 15%

Of the people within the corporate limits, 16½% rated present services inadequate. The most often-heard complaint was that lawn and shrubbery trimmings are not taken. However, with 47% of the people in town rating the present program adequate and 27% very good, it would appear that the large majority of people in town are satisfied.

A private contractor makes collections every Tuesday and Saturday morning. The charge to the subscriber is $1.50 per month for the average household. The refuse is dumped where it is no expense to the tax payer. Approximately 40% of the residents subscribe to this service. We heard no complaints of obnoxious odors or disagreeable conditions which exist where people do not avail themselves of this service. ple do not avail themselves of this service.

QUESTION # 4. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S FIRE PROTECTION?

Opinions: Very Good — 62%, Adequate — 34%, Inadequate — 2% Don't Know or No Answer — 2%

Without a doubt, the community is quite happy and proud of its Volunteer Fire Department. For many years, the Taneytown Fire Company has been the envy of the area in their efficient and prompt response to the call for help. Three pumpers and a new Cadillac ambulance, all equipped with twoway radios are ever in readiness.

QUESTION # 5. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S POLICE PROTECTION?

Opinions: Very Good — 16%, Adequate — 38%, Inadequate — 39% Don't Know or No Answer — 7%

54% rated this very good or adequate, with 39% rating it inadequate. With the number of State Police in the area, the recent organization and certification of a number of Fire Police, and the employment of a new fultime police officer by the town, adequate protection should be afforded. The problem of speeding motorists seemed to be the primary concern of those critical of protection at the time this survey was conducted. With police protection now costing the town tax payer in excess of $5,500 per year, it would not seem unreasonable to expect complete services. would not seem unreasonable to expect complete services.

QUESTION # 6. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S MEDICAL SERVICES?

Inadequate — 42%

Opinions: Very Good — 14%, Adequate — 37%, Don't Know or No Answer — 7% Just about one-half of the people queried felt these very good or adequate. However, many who stated that medical services were very good, went on to state that we need more doctors. According to an article on this subject in TIME magazine, December 15, 1961, there are an estimated 1 General Practioner for each 1700 persons in the United States. A recent survey by the Carroll County Planning office shows that Carroll County has 27 general practicing physicians for its 52,785 inhabitants (almost 2,000 per doctor). The shortage of doctors in nearby Frederick County does not relieve the local situation, either.

The Chamber of Commerce is studying this situation. Good doctors are extremely hard to come by, and in this age of specialization, small communities are not attracting many general practitioners.

QUESTION #7 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S MAIN STREETS?

Opinions: Very Good — 31%, Adequate — 57%, Inadequate — 7% Don't Know or No Answer — 5%

The vast majority of our people are appreciative of the wide, smooth, clean, and attractive main streets. All four main streets are state roads and are maintained by the State, a great asset we sometimes overlook.

QUESTION #8 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S SECONDARY STREETS?

Opinions: Very Good — 10%, Adequate — 50%, Inadequate — 33% Don't Know or No Answer — 7%

Although only about one-third of the people rated our secondary streets as inadequate, there are a great deal of improvements which can be made. An ambitious program of improvements has been initiated by the City Council; and if it is carried through, within a few years our back streets and the streets in newer developments should be in good shape. The need for sidewalks on many streets is apparent and officials should press property-owners to complete this phase. School children and factory employees forced to walk in the streets in many areas, create a serious accident hazard.

QUESTION #9 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S SHOPPING FACILITIES?

Opinions: Very Good — 7%, Adequate — 37%, Inadequate — 51% Don't Know or No Answer — 5%

Slightly over one-half of the people interviewed rated shopping facilities inadequate. The older age-groups rated it better; the teen-age and younger people rated it much worse. The leading complaint was the absence of clothing stores in the community.

QUESTION # 10 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S SERVICE AND REPAIR CENTERS?

Opinions: Very Good — 17%, Adequate — 49%, Inadequate — 25% Don't Know or No Answer — 9%

Although rated better than shopping facilities, many expressed the need for a shoe repair shop and better television service. The farmers of the area complained about the fact that there is no farm machinery service or repair shop in the community. It would appear that in a predominately farming area such as this, better services should be available. The Taneytown District has only 12% less farms than it did 25 years ago and it is the only district in the County which reported more farm acreage in 1960 than it did in 1925

QUESTION #11 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S SENSE OF COMMUNITY PRIDE AND LOYALTY?

Opinions: Very Good — 24%, Adequate — 44%, Inadequate — 17% Don't Know or No Answer — 15% This was rated surprisingly high. However, we believe that if this survey would have been taken a year ago, a much different result would have been obtained. Sometimes it takes an incident like the school-consolidation issue to pull the people together. We obviously have much to be proud of here. hould be the goal of every civic organization to help keep this sense of pride and loyalty at its present high level.

QUESTION # 12 — HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S APPEARANCE — (CLEANLINESS AND ATTRACTIVENESS)?

Opinions: Very Good — 35%, Adequate — 53%, Inadequate — 8% Don't Know or No Answer — 4% An overwhelming 89% stated that we have a clean, neat, attractive town. And the many favorable comments of tourists and out-of-towners would tend to confirm this opinion. We would like to congratulate and commend those who have been responsible for recent improvements to the buildings in the center of town.

(Next week's installment will include a great deal of information on our local government and finance and several recommendations regarding this.)
