Who would think that a little Can-ary bird would be jealous? But that is truly a fact as to Caruso and Bob-by. He simply flies into a rage when I talk to Bobby and scolds terribly with his certain type of "bird talk" of chatter! of chatter!

Seeing a close up of Miss America (Miss Ohio) on all the TV sponsored shows for her, she even appears more beautiful than in Atlantic City. Hope you did not miss on TV "Variety Gardens" on last Tuesday evening with that fascinating fellow Liberace as the Star. It was an evening of as the Star. Miss Maryland Ball Set for Sat., September 29

Pretty Beverly Ann Smith of West-ern Maryland College, who recently become Miss Maryland 1963, will be guest of honor at the Miss Maryland Ball which will be held Saturday, September 29, at the Westminster Riding Club. The dance which is be-ing sponsored by the Taneytown Jaying sponsored by the Taneytown Jay-cees for their Community Betterment Fund, will begin at 9:00 P. M. and is open to the public. Music will be furnished by the very popular "Sportsmen." Beverly succeeds Patricia Moon, Miss Maryland 1962. She was chosen over 17 other lovely young Indiag over 17 other lovely young ladies from across its state in a contest sponsored by the Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

A talented musician, Beverly played her own arrangement of the "War-saw Concerto," using both the piano and the organ simultaneously. Cur-rently Miss Smith is a Freshman at Western Maryland College. She studied piano at the Peabody Con-servatory of music for seven years and in new studies of the seven years and is now studying the organ. She hopes to major in organ music.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Alverta Mordan, Baltimore. Final arrangements have been com-pleted and reservations chairman, John Reever, reports that reservation shows promise for a large crowd. Make your reservations early by con-tacting John Reever, PL 6-6966 or any of the Taneytown Jaycees. A most rewarding experience is to visit a session of this class and to observe the obvious joy and content-ment of the students. And it is satisfying to know that you have had a part in making this student happy through your support of the county fund-raising campaign.

The road may be a little harder to travel, but it will be far better than getting into the trough now and letting our chiland other symptoms that dren and grandchildren worry about trying to pay for our gluttony."

HAGERSTOWN, MD., MORNING HERALD: "We hope you have noticed in our news stories involving government money a spade is being called a spade. For instance: There was a time when we used the phrase 'federal funds' or 'state funds' as acceptable journalism. But what are federal and state funds? They're yours and mine. The federal government doesn't earn a dime unless you include some of the unintentional profits that accrue from intrusion into business competition with private enterprise. So, unless there's a slip by a reporter and/or editor, we have changed 'federal funds' to federal taxpayers' money. Ditto the state government."

PAMONA, CALIF., PROGRESS-BULLETIN: "The international importance of science was brought home to the ordinary citizen during the famous International Geophysical Year The IGY was no one-shot extravaganza, however. A number of other 'international years' are under way or scheduled This cooperation has come about not merely because of the obvious fact that it is physically one world. It is also because scientific knowledge has become so vast and complicated and all-embracing that no one nation has enough brains or wealth to go it alone. There can be no nationalism or isolationism in science."

LEESBURG, FLA., DAILY COM-MERCIAL: "It's an old story, going back to the dawn of time when the first tribesman planted a seed: the farmer standing beside his withered crop with his eyes on the horizon looking for a sign of rain Each year in our widespread land there are some of those in agriculture who face the drought crisis. In these days of 'sharp-pencil' operation in any business, including agriculture, such a misadventure is perilous indeed. And it is a credit to those farmers who, as did those who tilled the soil before them, pull in their horns and somehow or other worry through it."

BEDFORD, VA., BULLETIN-DEM-OCRAT: "Who wouldn't like a tax cut? Who wouldn't welcome some relief, however small, from the heavy burden we all bear as the price for maintaining our vast federal government and its protections against those who would destroy us? But it's rather surprising how many people see the other side of the coin, who know that the immediate tax cut they are debating in Washington now would mean a huge deficit, more mountainous debt, cheapening of our money."

Throbbing roar.	Damaged or worn muffler.	Replace muffler. Your Shell dealer can do this for you.
High-pitched erratic pinging noise— usually lasts just a few seconds. (Often called wild ping.)	Erratic combustion caused by glowing carbon deposits that flake off and ignite the fuel too soon.	Try Super Shell gasoline. It contains three anti-knock ingredients. One is TCP.* This famous Shell additive works to "fireproof" combustion deposits that could otherwise cause wild ping.
Screeching brakes.	 Badly worn brake linings. Glazed brake lining. 	Any brake trouble should be checked immediately by your Shell dealer. It could be dangerous. If linings are badly worn or glazed, brakes should be relined soon.
Strong gasoline odor when you can't start the car.	Flooded carburetor.	Let the car sit a minute. Push the accelerator to the floor (don't pump it). Then try the starter.
Exhaust fumes. Most noticeable when driving in town or when your engine is idling.	Leaking tail pipe or muffler.	First, open a window —those fumes can make you groggy fast. Replace damaged part promptly. Note: Always have exhaust system inspected when your car is lubricated.
When cruising, dashboard generator light goes on—or ammeter needle continuously shows "discharge."	 Broken fan belt. Faulty generator or voltage regulator. Or loose connection in electrical system. 	Stop at the first station to avoid running battery down. 1. Replace fan belt. Suggestion: Carry a spare belt—it could save you time and trouble. 2. Have electrical system inspected to locate the trouble.
Brake pedal action feels peculiar:1. Pedal feels spongy.2. Pedal slowly sinks to floor under pressure.	 Air in brake lines. Hydraulic fluid leaking past master cylinder piston. 	Brakes with these troubles should be fixed immediately. Have your Shell dealer inspect your brake system.
Car pulls to either side: 1. When braking. 2. When cruising.	 Water, oil or hydraulic fluid on brake lining; brakes out of adjustment. Uneven or low pressure in tires. 	1. Think back. If you've just driven through water, drive with caution until linings dry. Otherwise, have brakes checked soon—it could be dangerous. 2. Check tires for correct pressure . Do this soon. Under- inflation can also cause excessive tire wear.
Engine temperature suddenly passes the danger point on your dashboard gauge.	 Broken fan belt. (You may hear the clatter when this breaks.) Loss of cooling water. 	Turn off engine. 1. Check fan belt. 2. To check coolant —follow these rules. Let engine cool down. Remove radi- ator cap slowly using extreme care to avoid scalding. Add water slowly with engine idling . Check for leaks.

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

If it didn't say Chevrolet on the flanks of the superb automobile you see here, you'd have a hard time proving it's a low-priced car. It offers luxurious styling, extremely comfortable, spacious and silent interiors . . . plus a lot of invisible ways to keep it looking and running like new when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh: new flush and dry rocker panels under the doors to guard against rusting . . . self-adjusting brakes . . . Delcotron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field. a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminized muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvair with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

THE CARROLL RECORD THURSDAY, SEPT. 27, 1962 CORRESPONDENCE Latest Items of Local News Furnished By Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Wednesday, if at all possible. It will be necessary, therefore, for most let-ters to be mailed on Tuesday morning. Letters mailed on Wednesday may not reach as in time.

DETOUR-KEYSVILLE

Hi to YOU-

This is the pinch-hitter herself mgain, Dharlys Fleharty, with a couple hundred words to say.

Were you as surprised as I was this week to read this column and find the farewell note from Mrs. Car-roll (Edith) Wilhide? Perhaps you were even more so, for I've heard her well, Mr. Rakestraw of The Pilot called me and asked me about writing this news column because he knew I'd done it twice before and it seems Mrs. Wilhide had even suggested he contact me. I hesitated, I must say, for I don't know much about writing a newspaper column and neither do I have the time to devote to it that it should have. Finally, we both agreed we'd dislike losing the column alto-gether so I agreed to try to write it once or twice a month. I then called Mr. Stonesifer of The Carroll Record.

Now I wonder-how many of you realize what a job this is? Composing and typing it is a lesser matter compared to the gathering of the news itself.

I would like to pay tribute right here to Mrs. Wilhide and the wonderful job she's done in the years she has written this column. I know for a fact that she often let other things go to call around for the news to go into often

From comments I have heard from time to time, I know this column has been enjoyed and looked forward, too by many people. I understand many out-of-town people also read the papers and keep up-to-date with the doings of many of their friends in this way. Perhaps this could be an incentive to many of you readers to give items to go into it?

Would you please "show" Mr. Rake-straw, Mr. Stonesifer and myself whether or not you want this column to continue by calling us and saying so OR-and this especially-by callto be printed? My numbers 775-2155. Then we WILL know whether you reality want the column to go on. In catch-up" and may want to contime again herself.

Now for the Date Clearance. How about that? What are your wishes here? I'll be waiting to hear from you and you and you. In the mean-time here are a few items for this week AND my thanks to all of you! October-that their volunteer services to the community is a vital one, and also saves the taxpayer an additional bur-den. For if the Firemen did not render the service on a volunteer basis the state would have to furnish fire protection and that would mean additional taxation. The Governor also pointed out that the State of Mary-and can boast of a surplus in its treasury, which is an outstanding achievement when many states in the Union are running in the red. The other State candidates attending the dinner were: Clarence D. Long, 2nd District congressman; Thomas B. Finan, Attorney General; Carlton Stickles, congressman at large; Louis L. Goldstein, Comptroller. The county candidates included Edward O. Weant, Jr. States Senator, William B. Du-lany, Wilbur W. Magin, Thomas R. O'Farrell and Randall G. Spoerlien, all for the House of Delegates. Ralph D. Bowman, Horace S. Brawning, Sr. and Francis J. Crawford for County Commissioner. Oscar W. Barber, county treasurer; Robert J. A generation is the period between the time when a town tears down a historic landmark and the time when it has a fund-raising drive to build an authentic reproduction of it. Bill Vaughan.

Gold is a metal old as civilization itself and it still retains the same attraction for man as it did when first discovered. While it is often called a curse to man, even the churches have succumbed to its glit. ter. When Moses ventured into Mt. Sinai, Aaron and the Israelites feared he was lost and constructed a golden calf as a god. But Moses returned and seeing the golden calf, grew angry and threw down the ten commandents and destroyed the idol. One vould think that after this episode gold would never be associated with the Christian churches. But in 1049, Pope Leo IX, initiated the custom of plessing a golden rose on the fourth Sunday in Lent and giving it to a deserving noble. Gold is still important in religion, for it is used in candlesticks, incense burners, chalices and collection plates. The same beauty and luxury of the gold in these fine items is achieved by talented artists working with the fascinating metal called gold, which still holds the power to bring out the worst and the best traits of man. RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to re-move from our midst by the hands of death, our Sister, CLARA DEVIL-BISS, we now in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father knowing He does all things well.

Resolved, That the Temple has lost a good and faithful member; one who was always ready and willing to do all she could to help. She was treasurer and pianist for many years and also an active Past Chief member.

Resolved, That the Temple extend its sympathies to the bereaved family; that our Charter be draped for a period of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be sent the family of our Sister; also entered in the Temple minutes and published in the Carroll Record.

Resolved, That we commend the family of our sister for consolation to an All-wise Providence, who alone can comfort in time of bereavement.

had. Unlike Jesus, John had nothing to say to the sorrowing and suffering of the world. Where Jesus saw the multitudes as sheep without a shepherd, John spoke of them as a "brood of vipers"snakes' babies, to put it in plain English.

he lived all alone, he did not have the "common touch" that Jesus

In Hope

Yet the people, no matter what John might call them, however fierce his denunciation of them as sinners,-the people swarmed to hear him. The reader can think of reasons . . . and by the way, any one who is interested in John's story should read all the Bible material, not the few printed verses. One of the reasons, surely, why John was so popular in spite (you might say) of all his efforts not to be, was that he preached just what the people wanted to hear about the future. The people who came to hear him and stayed to be baptized were poor, they were under the crushing heel of a long-staying occupation army.

In Confusion

Jesus indeed came, though as we saw, at first only John knew who he truly was. But he was not the kind of "Messiah" or God's-Man John had expected. We know that a year or two later, when John was near his death in a dungeon, he, the preacher of hope, began to have doubts. He even sent to Jesus to ask if he. John. could be mistaken. We do not know whether what Jesus said to him by his messengers comforted him, but we may believe it did, for Jesus always knew the right thing to say. So we may feel sure that hope returned to him in the end. (Read about it in Luke chap. 7.) John is not the first or the last herald of hope who has been right about the hope, but wrong about how the hope comes true. John had thought the Messiah would be an Avenger, a Destroyer; Jesus came a man of peace. John looked for something spectacular; Jesus showed him miracles, but the kind he looked for. God has his own ways in his world, and we cannot dictate how he shall manage it. But we may be sure, as John learned, that "Jesus doeth all things well."

In our attempts to word this question so that we could not be criticized as "leading" we inadvertently ruled out YES or NO answers. However, since it was mingled with other yes and no questions, we had about 5% who answered in this manner. Since a "YES" or "NO" means absolutely no-thing in this case, we had to disqualify these answers. Of the remaining 945 answers, 6% said they were FOR consolidation, 87% AGAINST, and 7% Didn't Care, or were not concerned. We feel these figures are especially significant since this was an impartial survey and persons completing the questionnaire remained entirely aponymous questionnaire remained entirely anonymous.

Aontgomery County-4,500 -	7,300

During the 1961 - 62 school year there were thirteen counties in the State with higher starting salaries and ten with lower starting salaries than were offered by Carroll County. There were ten with higher maximum salaries than Carroll. Unless many other counties follow suit, the recent increases should place our county in a more competitive position for teachers.

In 1960, 20% of Maryland's teachers held a Master's Degree. Carroll County, with slightly less than 10% of its teachers with a Master's Degree, was the lowest in the state.

4.7% of the teachers in the county had less than 2 years of college education, with only Anne Arundel and St. Mary's counties having a larger percentage. The Maryland average was 2.3%.
