Social Security Benefits

Albert H. Barouh, social security representative for Carroll County, gave a tip on how people who plan to retire can get their first social security checks without any delays.

"Inquire before you retire is a good rule to remember," he said. Whether you've decided to retire or not, you should visit the social security office three months before you real retire. three months before you reach retirement age. "We won't tell you whether you should retire," he explained, "but we will tell you when to apply for social security. By checking with the social security office three months before you retire, you can help speed your first check, he said. The social security representative will help you in claiming benefits for yourself and your family. He'll help you get whatever proofs are needed to complete your applica-tion. For example, Mr. Barouh said, you'll probably need to prove your age. The office can tell you whether any of the documents you have will do. Mr. Barouh added that you should Mr. Baroun added that you should check with social security even if you're still working. You don't have to quit work entirely to get social security benefits. Many people have this wrong impression, he said, and they are losing social security payments.

For assistance and information, Mr. Barouh can be contacted at the Car-roll County Office Building in Westminster on any Wednesday or in Taneytown at the First National Bank on the first Tuesday of each month and in Union Bridge at the Union of each month.

TRAIN UP A CHILD IN THE WAY HE SHOULD GO

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Solomon wrote this wise proverb over 2,000 years ago, and yet the words ring just as true today as they did then. Leading child psychologists and educators enlighten us a little further on the subject. They claim that a child's personality and behavior traits are practically set by the time he is five or six years old, and that 90 per cent of his lifetime personality profile is complete by this time. A small child's mind is surprisingly quick at absorbing impressions, whether they absorbing impressions, whether they are good or bad ones. Psychologists say that it is these early impressions which really "stick" with the child. We can readily see, then, how very important it is for us, as parents, to begin the correct training of our volungsters at the very carliest really youngsters at the very earliest possible age.

Special emphasis should be placed, particularly, upon the spiritual training of our little ones. This phase of childhood training should begin primarily in the home, of course. But, by and large, it is the Sunday School which plays the most vital role of all ers which are boys ages 14 to 18. He then showed slides of their trip to Canada. Advisor Frock ended his talk by giving the Explorers Motto, "Our best today for a better tomorrow." Lion Roxin reported 89 seat belts sold. A visitation from Mt. Airy Club led by their President Lion Biddinger unction, to build faith in our chil. dren, take them to Sunday School, is one which I hope will receive an encouraging response from parents throughout the country. For the early training and education which children receive in Sunday School are a firm foundation upon which they can build useful and happy lives as adult citizens." Billy Graham, world famous evangelist, says, "I am convinced that the Sunday School is the greatest single agency in the world for teaching people God's Word, as well as a tremendous evangelistic force in its own right." Even a very small child can learn simple Bible truths through play and praise in Sunday School. Then, as ne is promoted through the various Sunday School departments, he will be able to more firmly grasp the meaning of what he learns. He will be able to apply these Bible truths to his own personal life. It is seldom the boy or girl who receives a thorough religious training who becomes a juvenile delinquent. The Sunday School teaching which he or she re-ceives as a child will almost invariably remain throughout the years. This is precisely what Solomon meant when he said, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

MONA LISA

Thursday of last week, the 10th of January was an ideal day to run over to Washington and in fact it was more like the beginning of Spring. Taking the Greyhound Bus over in the morning, I walked around Washington after making inquiries to "Miss Information" at the bus terminal there. That lady knew all the angelian in the state of the st "Miss Information" at the bus terminal there. That lady knew all the answers! Walking straight over 11th Street to Penna. Ave., to the National Gallery was delightful and so easy to find. There was a huge crowd but so many were disappointed as to the size of the famous painting by Leonardo Da Vinci hung on deep red drepper. ardo Da Vinci hung on deep red draperies. The crowd was handled beautifully by Police or Guards and the two fully by Police or Guards and the two handsome Marines were right there on each side of the painting with that big gun of course!

This is the real story just how it happened to come over to America on exhibition which was really the dream of a Newspaper man, Eddie Folliard of The Washington Post and then he of The Washington Post and then he made that dream come true. The authentic picture of painting of Mona Lisa does not have the pronounced smile as every copy I have ever sense. Just a slight smile but if you ask me, "The Eyes Have It!" There is a twinkle, perhaps at the Artist-(who knows), in those tan colored eyes for frankly I could not call them any

I met a lady who had been to the Lourve in Paris where this lady looks down from her frame at the public and she told me just this—"The Americans are intrigued with her smile which is so foolish for it is her eyes that won fame for this artist!" Well, that is all past history and one can keep on guessing and thinking and forming opinions.

Mrs. Kennedy was very much disappointed which was very evident from her close up picture in the papers. Of course the President and a distinguished D. C. group were the first to view "Mona Lisa." They say she was the wife of an Italian Nobleman who first pointed the perturbation. man who first painted the portrait man who first painted the portrait on a piece of wood. A few years later it was sold to King Francis I of France for 4,000 gold ducats which is about $10,000. The King took the painting to his palace at Fountainbleu, near Paris, where it remained for 150 years. Later the Mona Lisa moved again this time to a wing of moved again, this time to a wing of the Tuileries Palace, later to be known as the Louvre, Paris world-renowned Art Museum. There it remained for 205 years. In the 1790's as the French Revolution thundered by outside, the portrait rested undis-turbed. In 1871 the Museum was burned but the fire was put out be-fore it reached Mona Lisa. In 1911 an overly zealous Italian patriot, deciding that the work of an Italian Mastor has no place in a French Muyears later he was caught and the painting was restored to the Louvre. Throughout World War I, her famous smile continued to grace the Louvre's hall. When the Nazi invaded France in 1940, Mona Lisa was removed to a less accessible location and the portrait spent the next five years in the cellar of a Loire chateau! When the Nazis were driven out, she returned once more to her long accustomed place in the Paris gallery. Now, the story goes that there is more than one painting of Mona Lisa over the period of years in Europe and the United States. Yet there seems to be no reflection on the authenticity of the Italian Artist's Mona Lisa now in Washington. There were such crowds daily that the portrait is to remain longer in Washington and the last I heard, it may have a showing and that famous lady may smile on Baltimoreans. Frankly, I was glad there was no charge to view it. One young woman said, "Just imagine, Mona Lisa does not have any eyebrows!" That brought many smiles to the serious minded viewers and chuckles!

As far as I am concerned, I would rather have the smile of Mrs. Khrushchev with all her plumpness, as I think she has a beautiful smile which everyone observed when she was here in America. And she has beautiful brown eyes and not tan colored! Do not spend your money, Folks, to go to Washington but wait until the portrait arrives here. Nuff Sed! Have a grand week-end.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

CARTHAGE, TENN., COURIER: "The Internal Revenue Service announced it would require businessmen to get a receipt for every cent spent on expense accounts, what the money was spent for, the time of day it was spent, why it was spent, and if its spending was instrumental in obtaining business for which it was spent. If even one cent could not be accounted for, then the entire account would not be allowed. When the storm came, as it should have come, IRS relented and changed some of its regulations. But the core of the matter remains, and if it is put into full force it will put many places out of business, create more unemployment, close literally hundreds of resorts, and do other damage."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "For the fifth consecutive year, enrollments in engineering schools and bachelors' degrees granted in this vocation are on the decline. Engineering schools had hoped that after four years of hammering away at the advantages of the profession and the very real need for more recruits, high school students would show a greater interest. It has not been forthcoming."

MOUNT PLEASANT, PA., JOUR-NAL: "'I lived to 100 by refraining from smoking, dancing, drinking and chasing women,' says a centenarian. This may explain how he lived that long, but it doesn't explain why."

WYNNE, ARK., PROGRESS: "I see by the papers that the national deficit is now running at the rate of six billion dollars a year. You know, it takes a lot of patriotism to buy government bonds, investing in an organization that is losing money at the rate of $500 million a month, $16,666,666 a day or $694,444 an hour. What I'd like for Christmas is for the Kennedy Boys to quit believing in Santa Claus."

ANTIGO, WISC., DAILY JOUR-NAL: "A free competitive market for all transportation is not feared by the railroads, according to Clair M. Roddewig, president of the Association of Western Railways. Ton for ton and mile for mile, he says, the railroads are the most economical in the utilization of such important resources as manpower and fuel. They are unexcelled as low cost all-purpose carriers."

VALE, ORE., ENTERPRISE: "There really isn't much doubt left in anyone's mind that we are becoming one of the laziest nations on earth. . . . We have better cars and use them for any trip of over a hundred yards. Golfers don't walk any more, they ride around the course in a golf cart. . . . But now we have stumbled across a new and even grislier gadget. Browsing through our favorite out-of-town paper the other day (the Wall Street Journal) we came across a little paragraph that says a Denver firm has now come up with a battery powered push-button spinning reel."

TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: "An English doctor says more girls are born to families that live better. But he's not talking about virtue, ladies; he's talking about the nutritional level."

LISLE, ILL., ADVERTISER: "... Dr. Paul Dudley White, a past president of the American Heart Association, believes human beings need a mixture of both physical and mental stress to live a normal, healthy life. He has this to say . . . 'Forty hours of work per week is probably too little for healthy humans. We spend so much time trying to entertain ourselves in our leisure time that we are probably less culturally adapted than were our grandparents, who, fortunately for them, did not have automobiles and television - - they walked, and read..'

ALBERT LEA, MINN., TRIBUNE: . . . the rate of bankruptcies is running so high that economists, sociologists and business administrators have joined lawyers in seeking cures . . Apparently the one thing not needed is harsher law. Lawyers in a formal report say there seems to be 'a definite relationship to harsh collection laws' of bankruptcies. California, Oregon, Illinois and Ohio have the toughest garnishee laws and the highest rate of voluntary bankruptcy petitions. . . . We might also add as our guess that government taxing policies should be regarded as contributing to delinquencies in debt payments."

Frosty Desserts Are So Refreshing

Call on ready-to-freeze fruit-flavored pops to provide a variety of delightful summer desserts. There's no mixing and no ice cube trays required, because the delicious fruit-flavored liquid is packaged in individual transparent envelopes that serve as a mold for freezing and a no-drip wrapper for eating. Just slip the 8-bar package of assorted flavors into the freezing unit of the refrigerator in the morning and they'll be ready to serve at refrigerator in the morning and they'll be ready to serve at Ginner time.

For the children, pack the desired number of frozen bars in an ice bucket so they can help themselves.

To show off your creative abilities try some of these easy serving suggestions for the adults. Remove wrappers from frozen bars and mash with a fork to make Frozen Pop Topping and serve over ice cream . . . or layer the topping with ice cream in parfait glasses. Or add a special touch to fresh fruit compote by cutting the frozen bars in half or thirds and use as a garnish for each serving.

To Make Frozen sops: Remove Kool-Pops from carton and

To Make Frozen Pops: Remove Kool-Pops from carton and place in freezing unit of refrigerator. Be sure to place the packets directly on the freezing shelf or against the wall of the compartment so the pops have direct contact with the freezing shelves. This will insure solid freezing of each pop bar.

DETOUR-KEYSVILLE

Greetings to you:

Sympathy is extended to Miss Margaret Baumgardner of Keysville upon the death of her sister, Mrs. Mary Catherine Fuss of Emmitsburg.

A recent surgical patient at Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, Pa., was Mrs. Charles (Dot) Minnick. She was to return to her home in Union Bridge today (Monday). Last Thursday her visitors included Mrs. Russel Durborau of Gettysburg, Mrs. Clyde Wilhide of Keysville-Taneytown Road, and Mrs. Richard Wilhide of Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Storey of near Sykesville upon the birth of a daughter, Sandra Elaine, on January 8. Mrs. Storey is the former Miss Joan Kiser of Naylor's Mill Road near Detour. Larry Dougherty, a student at Larry Dougherty, a student at Maryland University, was a week-end visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty of Detour.

It was good indeed to be able to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trout after the Service at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. Since this family has moved over to New Windsor, most of us in this area don't have much opportunity to visit with them. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engel of Frederick were Saturday overnight visitors erick were Saturday overnight visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide of Keysville-Taneytown Road. The Lutheran Church Men of the Union Bridge Parish held their bimonthly meeting at the Rocky Ridge Church on January 16 at 7:30 P. M. There were 17 members and three visitors present. Slides were shown by Mr. Elwood Baumgardner of Taneytown of a trip taken to the Seattle World's Fair and then on up to Port Barrow, Alaska. These were very fine slides and well presented. Elec-tion of officers was held and the fol-lowing were chosen: president, Lloyd Wilhide; vice president, William Fleharty; secretary, Kenneth Sharrer; and treasurer, James Glass. After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments

On Wednesday the 16th, Mrs. William Fleharty with Bruce and Diane drove up to Halifax, Pa., to visit with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sadie Seiler.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Myers and Craig were week-end visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Bill) Myers, who live at the corner of Naylor's Mill Road near Detour.

Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club The January meeting of the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club was held on Wednesday evening the 16th at 7:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide. The meeting was opened by the saying of the Creed. Roll call was taken with each member giving her birthday date for the later usage of the Sunshine Chairman. 23 members and four visitors were present. The minutes were read and the treasurer's report given and approved. Mrs. Mark Sanders and Mrs. Louis Keepers, the Clothing Leaders, gave a fine demonstration called "Repairing Clothing." This was about mending and also preventing some mending by some precautions that can be taken in advance. They gave us a list of sewing needs it is good to always have on hand and also showed us the best ways to patch. This was regular patching and also patching woven fabrics. This was a most interesting and very informative demon stration. Our new president, Mrs. Mary Ausherman, had been to a dinner meeting the day before with our former president, Mrs. Helen Null, and had many items to report for New Business. These included a report of a profit of $249.00 from the Farm-City Banquet held at the Agriculture Center. It has been suggested that we Homemakers might be interested in a visit to the new coin-operated dry cleaning store at the Westminster Shopping Center and we hope to make concrete plans for doing so at the February meeting. There is a radio program carried by WTTR on Thursdays at 1:30 P. M. with a different Club to be represented each week that was recommended to us by the County Agent. Our Club is to be the Hostess Club for the March meeting which will be visited by the County Agent—for three other clubs as well The Club voted to send for a subscription to the magazine put out by International Organization of Country Women. Hostesses were chosen for the future meetings for 1963. The March of Dimes film was shown. After the meeting was adjourned and the Collect read by all delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Wilhide and her co-hostess, Mrs Leonard Poole. The February meeting is to be held the 20th at the home

FAIRVIEW

What a beautiful morning (Monday), it is quite cold but oh, lots better than all that fog we had. I was always told on the dates of January we had fog we would likewise have frost in May, it usually holds true.

A two weeks Revival was brought to a close on Sunday night. Rev. Paul Habecker of Washingtonboro, brought the closing message; also the Mello Tones quartet presented their talent in music and song for the morning worship service and the evening service. Anyone who have not heard the Mello Tones should try to hear them, they are wonderful. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock one day last week.

Mrs. Mabel Smith spent the past week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker, helping to care for her father who has been quite ill. He shows some improvement at this writing.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Merhl Crumbacker who were married on January the 9th. We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Stanley Chalk who passed away on January 6th, the family has our sympathy: Mrs. Chalk was the sister of Mrs. Elmer Buffington, near New Windsor, also our sympathy goes out to the Hiltibridle family in the death of a husband and father, Mr. Hugh Hiltibridle. He was buried on Friday in the Church of God Cemetery, Uniontown.

Franklin Baker called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock on Monday evening. Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker the past week were Mr. Baker's sister, Mrs. Jennie Frizzell and granddaughters, Hazel and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker and son, Douglas, Claude Baker and family, Hazel, Nancy, Jimmy, Bobbie and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Baker, Mrs. Roland Koons, Rev. and Mrs. Wahlen, William Duble, Sterling Smith, Mikie Duble, and Elmer Creager.

Being Lopsided by E. E. Shelhamer It is strange how two opposites can be so closely related. In one person there can exist amazing inconistencies, for instance: one can dress plainly, then backbite freely.

One can smile upon strangers and frown upon homefolk. One can appear pure and heavenly minded, then in secret be beastly and unclean. One can make believe he is very poor and yet possess considerable property. On the other hand one may have plenty and yet not pay until he is dunned several times.

One can act kind and sympathetic before the people, then be critical and contrary at home. One can appear devout in church on Sunday, then be curious and med-dlesome on Monday. One can make good wages and Mrs. Florence Null, Mrs. David Yealy and Mrs. Viola Bechtel and Billy called on Mrs. Ellsworth Feeser dress well, then dodge bills that ought to be paid.

One can study the lesson leaves in the church, and the "funnies" at home when no one is looking. One can pre-tend to fast and deny himself before others, then eat on a sly when alone. One can appear very sweet while leading the singing, then pout and pull off when he can't have his own way. One can testify strong when in service, then be very quiet at home where he is well known. One can be very liberal in public and give freely hen bear down on others and pay them as little as possible. One can show great interest in Foreign Missions, then fail to pray with a foreigner around the corner, why talk about Africa, if you are afraid to walk down the street with a colored man:

Tree Seedlings Available

The Department of Forests and Parks wishes to advise property owners in the State of Maryland that tree seedlings are available, free of charge, for forest conservation purposes.

Property owners should place orders promptly for forest tree seedlings that will be planted in March and April. Seedlings must be used to reforest fields or cut-over woodlands of at least one-quarter acre in area. Department of Forests and Parks distributes the seedlings to landowners who are interested in controlling soil erosion, growing timber crops, or increasing water absorption of soil.

Forest trees are planted six feet apart with spacing of seven feet between rows. This spacing will require 1,000 trees per acre. Landowners with less than three acres of fields or with cut-over woodlands usually do their own planting according to instructions supplied with the seedlings. Owners planting more than three acres of fields may do the work themselves or have a contractor plant by machine.

The Agricultural Conservation Program Service may share the cost of forest tree planting if the requirement for the practice is approved.

Orders for forest tree seedlings should be placed with Mr. James Burtis, Assistant District Forester, 450 E. Green Street, Westminster, Maryland. Phone: Tilden 8-9290.

Property owners interested in growing Christmas trees, in planting ornamental trees, or in establishing a home nursery should consult a private nur-sery for stock suitable for such economical if you will follow the same basic rules used by a group of the nation's top drivers - Buick Motor Division's team of professional test drivers.

These expert drivers, operating at the General Motors Proving Grounds test track, Milford, Mich., have been driving day and night, summer and winter, for more than 33 years without a lost time accident. In this period, they've logged many millions of miles on new

A. E. McManama, general supervisor of Buick's road test department, says there are certain fundamental rules followed by Buick's: driving team for safe winter driving:

Snow and rain: "Both cause wet highways and wet highways are a hazard. Even more important, though, visibility is cut down by either element, and this is the factor that determines your safe driving speed."

Ice on highway: "It depends on the traction you are getting," says McManama. "If we're not getting traction, we get off the road."

is cut your speed 10 to 15 mph below the 'Safe' speed," says McManama.

Clean, clear windows: "If your car stays outdoors at night, a cardboard or newspaper over the wind-shield (let the wiper blade hold it in place) will prevent your windows from frosting. In driving, an open vent will prevent your windows from steaming. Every window, plus the outside rear view mirror, should be clear."

Getting out of a skid: "If you're driving properly, you won't get into a skid," points out the Buick supervisor. "But if you do, DON'T touch the brakes." You have to steer yourself out of it, and you can do this only by keeping some traction." Warming up your engine: "You should idle the engine a couple minutes to circulate the oil. Don't race the engine during this warm-up. When you start, do it at a reasonable speed. In the new Buicks, watch the green light on the temperature indicator. When this goes off, your engine is warm, and you can also turn your heater on."

Drive a clean car: "Winter darkness is more difficult to drive by than summer darkness. You don't have the light penetration. A car that becomes covered with salt and road dirt is difficult to be seen by an oncoming driver, particularly against a dull gray winter background. Keep your car clean for your own safety, as well as the car's protection."

McManama sums up safe winter driving in two words - "Be, conservative."

"If you think 55 mph might be safe on a wet road, then cut your speed to 40. If there's any question about being able to stay on an icy road, then pull off the road.

"If winter drivers will just remember that they can't operate the way they do in summer, their motoring will be much safer, and more enjoyable, in spite of the weather," McManama says.

FLASHBACK

Do you remember the 1939 World Series, when the Cincinnati Reds faced the New York Yankees for the first time? This also marked the first broadcast of the Gillette Cavalcade of Sports, which has brought the Series to fans away from the ballpark every year since then on radio and since 1947 on TV. The tenth inning of the fourth and final game was one of the wildest in Series history. Yankees Frank Crosetti and Charley Keller were on base when Joe DiMaggio singled. Crosetti scored and was followed by Keller, who bowled over the Red's catcher birnie Lombardi. The Yankee Clipper sprinted around the bases and also scored before the dazed Lombardi could get to his feet. In photo Crosetti is No. 1; Bill Dickey is No. 8; DiMaggio is in front of Dickey, and Bill Werber of the Reds tries to aid the recumbent Lombardi. The umpire is Babe Pinelli. It's Easy To Color-Coordinate Your Lingeric

Wishy-washy colors in lingerie are just not fashionable this year. No need to buy slips, petticoats, bras and panties, however, to have the lovely and gay-colored intimate wear that is fashionable, not when all purpose Rit dye is so easy to use and so in-

What color to choose? Take your clues from the trim of your favorite summer dress for peekaboo petticoats—a blue or coral, for instance. Or, to satisfy an urge of your exotic inner woman, choose a mad, wild color such as scarlet or purple (no one else may know but it will show in the sparkle of your eyes). The Rit color chart in your local store shows what colors to expect when being white or slightly yellowed fabrics.

Lingerie takes to easy washbowl dyeing like the proverbial auck to water. Just follow the simple directions in each box remembering always that wet material appears darker—so allow your lingerie to become a slightly deeper shade than the one you desire before final rinsing.

FAMOUS FIRSTS

DESSERTS ARE DELIGHTS with frozen fruits .

Millions of Americans who see a meal as "square" only if it includes a tempting dessert have found new worlds to conquer in versatile frozen fruits. The awesome variety of frozen fruits and fruit combinations in neighborhood markets provides year—round succulence and a wealth of intriguing dessert possibilities. The just-picked qualities of these fruits may be enjoyed right from the package in their own syrup or in cakes, pies, tarts and sauces — and as soda fountain style treats like these:

FRUIT SUNDAES

Partially thaw unopened package of frozen mixed fruits and pint of lemon sherbet. Stir fruit, with juice, into sherbet. Refreeze in shallow pan or ice cube tray. Meanwhile, defrost can of frozen fruit punch. Spoon frozen fruited sherbet into sherbet glasses and spoon undiluted frozen punch over top as a sauce. Top with whipped cream and chopped nuts. Makes 8 servings.

BANANA SPLITS

Partially thaw frozen orange juice at room temperature for ½ hour. Cut three bananas in half lengthwise and place a half in each of six long shallow dessert dishes. Top each banana half with two scoops of ice cream and spoon frozen orange juice over. Top with marshmallow topping and maraschino cherries.

Prepare cherry flavored gelatin as directed on package, and chill until firm. Meanwhile, partially thaw unopened package of frozen sliced peaches and pint of vanilla ice cream. Cut peaches into cubes and stir, with juice, into ice cream. Freeze in ice cube tray. Just before serving, cut ice cream and gelatin into cubes and alternate cubes in parfait glasses. Makes 8 servings.

COCONUT ICE CREAM PLATES

Make blueberry sauce by heating package of frozen blueberries with 1 cup water. When mixture boils, stir in 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon ground cloves. Cook until thick and clear. Remove from heat and add 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Arrange three mounds of coconut ice cream on each of eight dessert plates and pour warm blueberry sauce over. Decorate with maraschino cherries.

DESSERT SLICES

Remove cover from package of frozen fruit delight and cut into cubes. Place cubes on dessert plates and serve with partially thawed frozen strawberries in their juice as a sauce. Serves 4.

Measure peel; combine in saucepan with equal amount of sugar. Cover with water and bring to a boil; cook until syrup is almost absorbed. Remove from heat and put peel on racks to drain a minute. Roll quickly in flaked coconut (about 2½ cups) and continue to cool on racks. Makes about a pound.

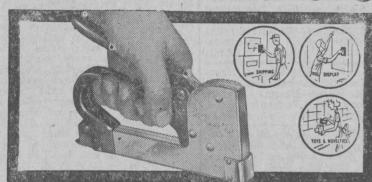

ANGEL DIVINITY

- ½ cup light corn syrup
- 2½ cups sugar 1/4 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup water 2 egg whites
- *12 teaspoons pure vanilla
- Few drops peppermint flavoring (optional) ½ cup chopped walnuts
 - 1 cup flaked coconut Red and green maraschino cherries, cut in pieces

Combine syrup, sugar, salt, and water in saucepan. Cook ver medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a hard ball in cold water (or to 262°F.).

While syrup is cooking, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. When temperature is reached, pour syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly. Beat until mixture appears dull and holds its shape. Add vanilla, peppermint flavoring, and nuts. Drop from tip of teaspoon into coconut on waxed paper; shape into a ball, coating with coconut. Decorate with cherries. Makes about 7 dozen candies.

WHAT'S COOKING?

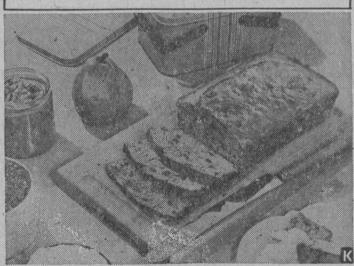

WELCOME HOME! What better way to greet your man than with the enticing, appetizing aroma of his favorite stew? Whether it's beef, veal or lamb, the robust smell of simmering meat spiced by the more aromatic vegetables and well chosen herbs and spices will banish his workaday blues and set his palate tingling. Stewing is a long, slow process but needs little attention. Use an aluminum sauce pot or Dutch oven for even heat transmission and fuel saving. When the pot heats evenly all over, there are no hot spots and the need for stirring is reduced. All of the contents are cooked at the same rate. Try this recipe for an enthusiastic home-coming.

DAD'S LAMB STEW

Combine ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and dash pepper in paper bag. Coat lightly 2 pounds boned lamb shoulder, trimmed and cut into 1½-to-2 inch cubes. (Save flour for later use.) Heat 3 tablespoons shortening or oil in large aluminum sauce pot. Brown meat on all sides; drain off fat. Sprinkle remaining flour and 2 teaspoons salt over meat. Add 1 clove, garlic, minced, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 cups tomato juice and 1 cup water. Cover sauce pot. Simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until lamb is tender. Add 12 small white onions, peeled, 6 medium carrots, pared and halved and ½ teaspoon rosemary leaves. Cook about 20 minutes. Add 1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas; break apart with fork. Continue cooking 10 to 12 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: For a thicker stew, remove cover and simmer longer.

Two-Way Bread -For School Or Home

Fragrant bread, welcome for lunchbox or home, is surprisingly

Fragrant bread, welcome for lunchbox or home, is surprisingly simple when convenience foods get together in a recipe. You might say the homemaker starts half way there.

Two-Way Orange Nut Bread, described here, ha= real dividends in flavor, fragrance and moisture, thanks to two uniformly-smooth baby foods, golden Strained Sweet Potatoes and Strained Orange Juice. The third ready-to-use food is biscuit mix, which speeds the assembling of this well-tested Gerber recipe.

TWO-WAY ORANGE NUT BREAD 3/4 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed 1 egg, slightly beaten 1 cup Gerber Strained Sweet Potatoes

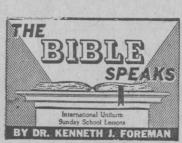

1/4 cup grated orange peel 1 cup chopped walnuts* 3 cups biscuit mix

1/4 cup Gerber Strained Orange Juice Set oven for moderate, 350°. Combine brown sugar and egg. Combine sweet potatoes and orange juice; add to sugar mixture with grated peel and walnuts; blend well. Stir in biscuit mix; beat vigorously 30 seconds. Turn into well-greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3 inches. Bake 55 to 60 minutes. *Take out a little batter before adding nuts and bake a small muffin for your special Junior.

Tips: Send this golden, crunchy bread in the lunchbox filled with cottage cheese, peanut butter or marmalade.

As a nutritious spread, try 3 tablespoons peanut butter combined with ¼ cup (about) Gerber Strained Bananas. Or, add favorite seasonings to the handy 31/2 oz. containers of strained and Junior

Truth In Stories

Lesson for January 27, 1963

S OMETIMES Jesus spoke in plain blunt words. At other times He told stories. Of the two forms His teaching took, people have always remembered and loved the stories rather than the bare direct assertions. Mark, in fact, says with exaggeration we can easily under-stand, that Jesus said nothing in public that was not a parable. The reader will find even in Jesus' simplest statements something Dr. Foreman of parable; and of What strikes many a person as odd is not that Jesus told stories as His favorite way of making a point. Many others have used the same method. The odd feature is the reason that Jesus gave, why He used parables so much. Most people would think that putting truth into stories would make it easier to take.

"-at lowly doors"

Now there is some truth in that. There is a patented device for administering medicine, called by the drug company manufacturing it, a "spansule." Everybody has taken capsules; that's a fairly large dose at once. If a patient is allergic to capsules, if a strong medicine makes him sick, or if he has to take several kinds of medicine, then the spansule may be just the thing, for it is filled with various kinds of medicine, and some take much longer to melt than others, so the "span-sule" is a neat way of giving med-icine half the day or longer, in many doses, but all at once.

Parables are a little like that. The parable is a spansule; it is easily swallowed, and the patient doesn't realize how long it will stick with him. He keeps remembering the parable, and thinking about it, and while it may need some time before the man can absorb the new truth into his system, the parable stays there, in his memory, it keeps talking to him, and finally he accepts the truth-indeed it may seem as if he had always known it—which he would have rejected if it had been presented to him (as it were) raw. The poet Tennyson long ago remarked that Truth embodied in a tale Shall enter in at lowly doors."

Truth unpersuasive

Oh, it doesn't always act like that. Some men resist truth no matter how it comes to them. Put the truth bluntly, and they will say NO Put the truth in a tale, a poem, a parable, and they will say, Nonsense!

But what has all this got to do with Jesus? Simply that He gave an unexpected answer to the question why He used parables; in fact, He gave the answer before any one got around to asking Him why. He told stories, He seems to have said, to keep people from understanding what He meant. He "seems to have said." but probably was sarcastic in saying it, that if He did not speak in parables somebody might be e Him! Now we know that Jesus wanted of all things to be taken seriously to be believed; and we cannot think it like Him to keep people deliberately from knowing the truth that might save them And why not?

We must recall the conditions under which Jesus taught. There were the immense crowds, always there; and there the few true disciples. Jesus had to interest the disciples, and interest others in becoming disciples, and at the same time wear down the curiosity-seeking crowds. The parable would do both. Some would find the stories just silly or childish, and they would lose interest. Some would find those simple tales amazingly fascinating, and would stay around to learn just what Jesus meant

The question still remains, why do some people listen well, some badly and some not at all? Jesus said it was like a man sowing seed on different kinds of soil. The seed may be always the same; but some sprouts and dies, some never sprouts at all, and some brings forth a great harvest Truth is a seed and the harvest can be or it can be nothing. It depends on the kind of person the listener is God never makes a person believe Thought-control is at ambition of dictators and tyrants God offers truth to all; but only "he that hath an ear" will pay much attention

Pear Nosegay Salad

A classic salad with a well earned reputation is canned Bart-lett pears with creamy cottage cheese. Decorate glistening pear halves with gay little fancies of fruit or berries and you have a selective salad for any occasion.

This is a salad, combined with your imagination and unexpected ingredients, that will score a hit everytime whether prepared for four or forty.

Pears, exciting and sparkling with color, lift both spirits and meals to the gay heights of spring itself.

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) Bartlett
Pear halves
1 pint cottage cheese Blueberries

Strawberries

Banana slices Avocado Salad greens Honey salad dressing

Line a chop plate with crisp salad greens. In the center put a bowl of cottage cheese. Surround with canned pears cut side up. Decorate the pears with the berries and fruits, those suggested or others during the season. Serve with Honey Dressing.

This recipe makes 4 servings or could be increased by multiples of four for quantity service.

There's a new day coming for those of you who want something other than the se-vere modern look in the living room. The warm, rich comfort of the Biedermeier period is about to be revived, together with memories of the good life in Vienna when the 19th century was very young.

No one has ever known exactly when exactly why sic furniture, which takes from ancient Greece, should have been named for dear old "Papa Biedermeier", an amusing fellow much celean amusing reliow much cele-brated in song and story, who never actually existed. How-ever, both the name and the style have endured for almost 200 years, and now, thanks to designer-decorator Henry Sheehan and other discerning interior stylists, is about to reappear in an adaptation suitable for contemporary

Mr. Sheehan has long pro-Mr. Sheehan has long pro-claimed that interiors need warmth, and interest and a certain richness of detail to give those who live in them a sense of comfort and well being. To this end he has just created a classic Beidermeier setting in his own New York apartment, and judging by the way the cameras were clickway the cameras were click-ing there the other day, you will be seeing many pic-tures of this distinguished new interior.

The window creatment, I thought, was one of the most interesting details. The windows are hung from ceiling to floor with a damask pattern of white printed on a warm "golden ocher", and the window shades are screen printed in exactly the same color and pattern. There now, is a new idea and one that is surprisingly inexpensive to copy.

After dusting Venetian blinds the past quarter of a century, a lot of us are going to welcome the return of the simple window shade, especially since it has emerged in an infinite variety of styles, an infinite variety of styles, colors and patterns.

Window shades of such ele-gant materials as plisse and boucle are now being made by the Joanna Western Mills, and there is also a host of decorator stripes and florals and other patterns from which to choose. The shades are all treated with plastic so they are sturdy and long wearing and wipe clean with a camp There is no end to the ways you can make them fit into your own decorating schemes by adding ball fringe, decora-tive bands across the bottom, or simply by using interesting shade pulls. Recently I have seen everything from harness brass to Japanese tea kettle handles used for this purpose, not to mention handsome tassels from the trimmings counter, sea shells, and ordinary wooden drapery rings either plain or painted.

So do investigate the new decorated plastic treated vincents.

decorated, plastic-treated window shades as a simple, practical way to give your windows a touch of fresh design.

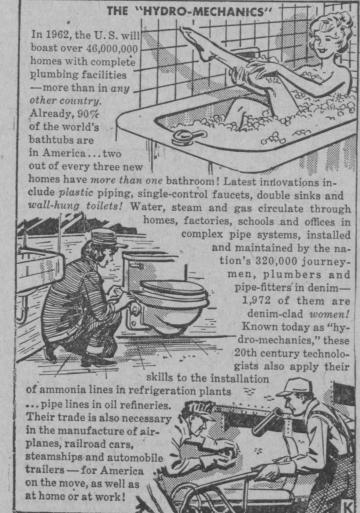

Table Talk

The housewife of today is continually seeking to ease the burden of entertaining through the use of a multitude of conveniences. Setting the table, for instance with the proper table covering is a question of style as well as utility. A table at mealtime can be greatly enhanced by the choice of a well coordinated table setting. Stylish vinyl-coated table coverings lend themselves to the most casual and provincial tables, or can be combined with contemporary or traditional china and glassware to form a truly elegant dinner service.

Style, durability, and utility have been combined in Plastolyn table coverings to give an elegant look to your table. The "Scandia" pattern shown above can be color-keyed to the napkins and accessories. Plastolyn table coverings are vinyl coated for ease of cleaning and come in many lovely patterns. Machine-washable, they can be wiped clean right on the table and the napped back protects table surfaces and deadens clatter. They are available in Rose Damask, Royalty scroll, floral embossed figures on white and a sypically American green, blue or red gingham check. They're inexpensive enough so that each homemaker can own a table covering "wardrobe."

Our young readers will be interested in Senate Bill 71 which provides for the establishment of a junior license for those persons between the age of 16 and 18. The holders of this license would be able to drive only under certain specified conditions, including such things as going to and from school and driving after dark only when accompanied by a parent or guardian. This bill also provides that a license issued under this section must be accompanied by the consent of the applicant's parent or guardian, which consent may be with the social uses.

A public Accomodation Bill has been introduced as House Bill 44.

This Bill says that there shall be no discrimination in a place of public accomodation on the bases of race, creed, color, or national origin. The Bill provides that complaint be made to the Commission to investigate the complaint and attempt to alleviate the discrimination. There are also provisions for a hearing and referal to the States Attorney of various Political Sub-Divisions.

A Constitutional amendment has been suggested which would lower the voting age of 21 to 18 years for the citizens of the State of Maryland. This same Bill has been introduced numerous times since World War II but has always failed to pass.

Senate Bill 87 relating to motor vehicle inspection has stirred up much interest among the Legislators. It would provide for Inspection of all motor vehicles in the State of Maryland. The inspection would be held Delegate Yingling of the Carroll County Delegation has introduced a Bill that would provide that no motor vehicle may be registered, manufactured or assembled in Maryland after June 1, 1964, unless the vehicle be equipped with two sets of installed seat safety belts for the front seat of the car. The Bill sets out standards for the belts and provides for supervision and testing of seat belts and penalties for violation.
