16th Amendment Parody of Gettysburg Address

To the Editor: Because we passed the 50th anniversary of the ratification of the 16th Amendment, egalizing the income tax; and next Nov. 19 we celebrate the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, may I submit the following:

Two score and ten years ago our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are equally fair game. Now we are engaged in a great civil mess of calculating, testing whether that nation's taxpayers, any taxpayers, so confused and so impoverished, can long endure. We are met on Form 1040. We have here come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who here spend their lives that they might Harry Angell. spend our money.

It is altogether befitting anguish and torture that we do this. But in a large sense, we cannot evade, we cannot cheat, we cannot underesti-mate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who computed here, have gone far beyond our poor powers to add and subtract.

Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we pay here, but the Internal Revenue Service can never forget what we report here It is not for us, the taxpayers, to question the tax which the govern-men has thus far so nobly spent. It is rather for us, the impoverished living, to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining, that we here highly resolve that future years will not find us in a higher income bracket, that these taxpayers, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions and that this tax of the people, by the Congress, for the government, shall not cause solvency to perish from the earth.

Although, water does not appeal to me due to the fact at one time I was almost drowned in Atlantic City, for the ninth time, I have gone back to the "BOAT SHOW" at the Armory in Baltimore! There is something about those boats that fascinate me and I observed this year more than and I observed this year more than any year previous, more women were looking them over with the best man in their lives. Each year, the boats seem to be built more beautifully and chucked full of glamour! They are truly out of this world this year! All the companies represented right there have grand products but Lab All the companies represented right there have grand products but I observed that Mr. Nat Gates, Jr., and Son have those not alone "Tops" but much lower in price for all that concern hands out. The trim on those boats are genuine mohogany and are finished beautifully — adjectives cannot really describe them for you and you would have to look them over. There is one called the "Fish and Ski" which is the cutest trick I ever saw and can sleep two. It is ever saw and can sleep two. It is packed with features that cost hundreds more on other boats. It is a Aristo-Craft Funliner — WHAT A BOAT! The price $995.00 simply fabrilous. I would rethen have one of ulous. I would rather have one of those boats and spend every week-end and the vacation that was com-ing to me rather than spend a lot of money for a long trip and come back

A LONG GAMBLE

President Kennedy, with the support of his chief advisors and fiscal officers, holds that we, at one and the same time, can increase spending and reduce overall tax collections by a total of about $10 billion, and, at this same time, prevent more inflation.

This view must be given due respect and consideration. But so must the views of those who think it utterly mistaken.

Long-time deficit spending, historically speaking, has had two major results. One is a desperate turn to like taking a pay cut to help pay your printing-press-money - - when, as in Germany following the First World War, it took a wheelbarrow full of currency to buy a loaf of bread. The other is to impose price and wage controls which are followed, as surely as the sun follows the moon, by absolute government control of the entire economic system. And that means control of everything of any consequence that a person, or a business, or a group does and is allowed

The President asks for a long gamble in his fiscal proposals. It is now up to Congress to decide just how far that gamble will be allowed to go.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

The mind reels at reading a list of the "days" and the "weeks" we are supposed to observe each year in this country. Some reach an ultimate in absurdity. But others are very different. They bring widespread public notice to activities and organizations which are of great value. That is embe celebrated March 10-16.

Last year marked the 50th Anniversary of this movement. This year the program, which has grown steadily over that half-century, is to be expanded and improved. Particular emphasis is being laid on qualified, well trained leaders and program consultants the girls need.

Girl Scouting offers almost countless activities - in such fields as nature, the arts, home-making, the people and customs of other lands. The goal is to provide a consistently stimulating program which will hold members' interest - and it is the leader's job to keep it so.

Every success to Girl Scout Week! The movement has been well supported over all the years - and it deserves every bit of aid and interest it can get.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

PECOS, TEXAS, INDEPENDENT: "We subscribe to the belief that freedom is a gift of God and not a political grant. We believe that freedom is consistent only with Christianity. We believe that our welfare shall depend on our own initiative and ability, we believe in maintaining a society in which the citizen has fullest individual freedom and the government's primary and paramount role is the protection of that free-

BUFFALO, WYO., BULLETIN: "____Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the senate finance committee, and the best-informed budget analyst in the nation, is not impressed with the deficit estimate. His own projection is that spending will top $100 billion and if the Kennedy tax cut is voted by congress, the deficit will be $14 billion.'

MARKSVILLE, LA., NEWS: "Every elected or appointed government official or board, receiving or otherwise handling public funds, should publish at regular intervals an accounting showing where and how each dollar of taxpayer money is spent. The Weekly News holds this practice the greatest safeguard against corruption in office, and believes it to be a fundamental principle of democratic government."

WEST BEND, WISC., NEWS President John Kennedy is preparing to ask Congress for pay hikes for top-bracket federal employees.... The truth is, though few bureaucrats will admit it, that the benefits of government service are far greater than the usual benefits of private employment, in retirement benefits, in sick pay, in fringe benefits and in working hours At a time when we are headed toward another large deficit, certainly the time is inoportune to propose bigger top-bracket federal salaries."

TERRE HAUTE, IND., ADVO-CATE: "Nobody knows what will happen in the next war, but don't be bothered; after all, you can't die but one time.'

ROCKLAND, ME., COURIER-GA-ZETTE: "May we suggest that homeowners take a bit tougher attitude when it comes to dealing with itinerant salesman, no matter what they are offering. There have been recent instances bordering on outright fraud. No matter how attractive the offer; the special deal; so much off flor any one of a multitude of reasons; a most favorable financing proposal; take the time to pick up the telephone and call the Chamber of Commerce. If the salesman is from a legitimate firm which fully intends to carry out the terms of the offer he is making he will welcome your checking his credentials with the Chamber. If not, he will be gone by the time you dial the number."

LIBERAL, KAN., TIMES: "It's a bit hard to understand how a government now losing money can make money by reducing its income. It's bills, only the Washington folks say it will work Looks like it's about time Washington goes old-fashioned and decides to live on its income, not monkey with everybody's affairs in the hope some easy miracle of prosperity without effort might be achieved."

FREDONIA, N. Y., CENSOR: "The Federal Aviation Agency's budget puts the emphasis on spending for safety. That's easier these days than trying to save for safety."

MARSHFIELD, MO., MAIL: "A year ago when President Kennedy gave his 'State of the Union' message to the Congress he said he was submitting for fiscal 1963 a balanced budget. His budget message promised a surplus of $500 mililon. It appears now that the deficit for this period will be 8.8 billions of dollars."

PECATONICA, ILL., NEWS: "If every individual would attempt to trying to take something, there wouldn't be any need to debate the virtues of capitalism and Communism."

Report from the Office of the County Commissioners

A fourth joint meeting was held on February 27 regarding the county-wide water and sewerage plan. The participants were the Mayor and City Council of Sykesville and the County Commissioners. The details of the plan showing major facilities, that is, interceptor or major distribution lines, treatment and disposal facilities for Sykesville were given general approval by the Mayor and Council after review by Waden J. Haddaway of the firm Whit-man, Requardt and Associates. As has been the case at most of the meetings with the municipal officials considerable time was used in discussing how water and sewerage could be financed and started.

Also attending the meeting was Mr. Charles Kenealy who reaffirmed the need for the Sykesville community to actively pursue the installation of both public water and sewerage facilities. The Town of Sykesville is considering the offer from the County Commissioners to establish a working committee of town and county repre-sentatives to study all aspects of financing and engineering of any such projects in the future.

Attending the meeting representing Attending the meeting representing Sykesville were Mayor Leroy S. Keeney, E. W. Herbert, Jay T. Smith, John L. Shipley, R. Earl Carter and Wm. Henry Forsyth. County officials present were Horace S. Brauning, Francis J. Crawford, and Edmund L. Carr, County Commissioners; L. Awalt Weller, Counsel to the County Commissioners: George A. Grier, Commissioners; George A. Grier, Planning Director; Charles Kenealy, County Health Office; and Wm. Leon Etzler, Zoning Administrator.

Bids were opened for two asphalt maintenance distributors last week and prices submitted were as follows: E. D. Etnyre & Co., Everett, Mass., $5,070; McClung-Logan Equip. Co., Inc., Baltimore, $5,220; John C. Louis Co., Inc., Baltimore, $5,295. Award was made to E. D. Etnyre & Co., low bidder. low bidder.

The County Commissioners announced last week the appointment of two persons to key positions in County Government, effective Mar. 1.

William R. Martin was appointed as Tobacco and Alcohol Beverage In-spector for Carroll County. Mr. Martin is a resident of Hampstead and replaces J. Hoke Ommert who had filled the position for the past seven

The position of Dog Warden will be taken by Mr. Louis M. Kraft of the Winfield area. This position had previously been held by William R. Hoff.

The construction of the first private street by the County appeared im-minent after approval on Tuesday, February 26, by a two-thirds approval vote of the property owners required under County law. In such cases property owners pay for 75 per cent

At the public hearing on the construction of Oak Avenue east of Westminster, the two-thirds vote was just reached when six of the nine owners appeared to vote in favor.

If such petition is given final approval by the County Commissioners the street will be constructed by early summer under a bid taken last fall inently true of Girl Scout Week, to give something to life, instead of County Commissioners. Two of these remaining petitions have been advanced to receiving bids for street construction as a means of determining costs to the property owners.

Realizing the predicament many property owners are in relative to unimproved streets, the County in 1961 and 1962 was afforded legislation enabling private streets to be built by the County if 75 per cent of the cost is borne by the abutting property owners. If approved by the County Commissioners after twothirds of the property owners approve, the County contributes 25 per cent of the cost. The law applies only to those streets which were in existence as of the date Ordinance No. 2 was adopted and not streets created after such date.

Petitions for such work must be on prescribed forms available at the County Office Bldg.

ZONING BOARD REPORTS

A Zoning Certificate was issued March 1, 1963 to Colonial Pipe Line Co. to permit the pumping and stor-Co. to permit the pumping and storage of petroleum products at an alternate location. In a letter accompanying their application Colonial indicated this action was prompted by a desire to establish a cordial relationship with its neighbors and still permit the County to realize the obvious advantages of having their storage area located in the County. The alternate location is presently owned by Robert A. Scott and wife and is located east of Morgan Road, adjoining the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the Berrett District of Carroll County. Carroll County.

Colonial's letter further states that the Company is prepared to start immediately with the engineering work necessary to determine whether this necessary to determine whether this property may be adequate to support the proposed installation. They anticipate that this information will be available within thirty days. Should it prove to be inadequate for the purpose, or should objections be met that cannot be overcome, the Company notes it will, of course, be forced to abondon this alternative plan and will either proceed with its original plans either proceed with its original plans or locate the facility in some other

FISH FILLETS MAKE A DILLY OF A DINNER

Besides their growth-promoting, health-protecting benefits, seafoods offer extra dividends of flavor, color and texture variety. The many varieties of fish lend themselves to a thousand methods of preparation and service — hot or cold, rich or low-fat, traditional as clam chowder, exotic as sole amandine.

Experimenting with spices and herbs is an easy way to give your favorite seafood a new aspect by transforming it into a gourmet dish. Dill, often overlooked in fish cookery, adds an appetizing fragrance to baked or broiled fish. In this recipe for dill-flavored fish fillets, fresh or frozen chopped dill is best if available. If not, common substitutes are dill salt, dill seed, powdered dill, or caraway

To complete a well-balanced gourmet menu, you might add boiled new potatoes with onion rings, cucumber slices in tomato or pepper cups, cheese biscuits, and pineapple upside-down cake.

FISH FILLETS WITH DILL BUTTER

2 pounds fresh or frozen fish fil-lets (flounder, sole, cod, had-Salt and pepper

½ cup butter or margarine dock, ocean perch or other 1/2 teaspoon dill salt (or 1 teason) spoon chopped fresh or frozen dill or a sprinkling of dill seed)

If fish is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature for 30 minutes. Cut into serving-size pieces. Sprinkle both sides with salt and pepper. Melt half the butter and let remaining butter with salt and pepper. Melt half the butter and let remaining butter soften at room temperature. Preheat broiler. Place fillets on preheated greased broiler pan or on aluminum foil about 2 inches from source of heat. Brush with melted butter once or twice during the cooking process, but do not turn. Broil 5 to 8 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Blend the parsley and dill salt or chopped dill into the softened butter and spread over the cooked fish. Serve immediately with lemon wedges, Makes 6 servings.

The Keysville Lutheran Church Women held their meeting March 4 with Mrs. Helen Dougherty and Mrs. Marian Coshun as Leaders. The topic was "And We Walk In Love." Several skits were given and discussion was held. It was agreed that it is easier to manage in the big situations; it is the little everyday things that pile up and then make it harder for us "to walk in love." Miss Shirley Keilholtz played two piano selections as the Special of the evening. There will be a District Assembly held in Taneytown on April 18 and all are urged to attend. It was voted to divide the offerings as the Auxiliary recommended: two-thirds and one-third. Mrs. Fleharty reminded the members that stationery is still available at $1.00 a box. Refreshments able at $1.00 a box. Refreshments with a St. Patrick's Day theme were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Mary Devilbiss, Mrs. Mae Baumgardner, and Mrs. Doris Harner.

to good use in so many ways. Last week there was a sentence in the Priestland news that I wish to add to. I don't know where Priestland is, let alone who writes it, but the comment was to the effect that "some few call this gossip" - meaning, of course, these news columns. My addition is that this may seem like gossip to those right around where this all takes place, but it is all news-and welcome-to those who subscribe to the papers from other places. Just as a for instance, Pa., N. Y., Florida, Arizona and California. These folks like to read about the little happenings in their home territory for often their own correspondents forget to add them to their letters or don't even realize that it would be news that would be welcome. Besides, those that think it just gossip should just overlook it. I say, keep the news coming!

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

At the meeting of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association last week, both Dr. Phillip Mercer and Mr. Frank Jones, Executive Director of the Maryland T. B. Association urged a program for educating the ublic about the seriousness of all Respiratory diseases. There were 16 new cases of tuberculosis found in Carroll County in '62. This is just 16 too many, for tuberculosis can be prevented. But to prevent it the individ-ual must learn that the disease is spread by contact with a person hav-ing tuberculosis. This is the primary reason for finding every case of T. B. in Carroll County, so that the infected person will not give it to another person. Last year the people of Carroll gave over $11,000 through the purchase of Christmas Seals to help the local Tuberculosis Association with this work. The Association composed of a trained and efficient per-sonel and volunteer Board members who possesss a deep responsibility of the public's welfare, is doing a good job, but it needs the entire public's attention in the effort to reach every The Lutheran Women of the church will meet Tuesday evening March 12 at the home of Mrs. Delmar Warehime at 8 o'clock.

The thought suddenly came to mind, that ordinary men and women are often elected to public office but walking the halls where really the best of men had walked must instill in the ordinary a yearning to at least try and uphold the laws and the ideals of the great. It is hard to believe that anyone who is a part of the legislature at Annapolis could remain uninfluenced by the history that surrounds all who work at our State capital. Baltimore is not one of the best places to live if you are a ski enthusiast. Our friend lives there and nearly every week-end he patiently waits for a snow report from Northern Penna., where the closest ski camp is located. About two weeks ago he got the call saying the slopes were fine and off he rushed. But the saying, "Make haste slowly" was true again for our friend in his haste had on the sick list, we wish for her a gone off without his ski boots. He was mad at himself and ready to take a dog sled back to Baltimore when a wise old skier whispered something in his ear. Our friend took off up the ski trail to the nearest first-aid tent where in nothing flat he had rented his size boots from a casualty with a broken leg. Whether the fad for hiking con tinues is doubtful but for our health's sake we hope it lasts and continues on as a national pastime. Two weeks ago a young father and his two children stopped off to visit us after a two hour walk. He said that he wanted to teach his children the joy and satisfaction of walking through the countryside, like he had known when a boy. His children are the lucky ones for so many city children never get the opportunity to walk in the country and explore nature's ex-citing treasuries. Bank Gets Commerce "E" Award

CHICAGO, ILL.—Flemming Kolby, right, vice president of Central National Bank, accepts the Department of Commerce "E" Award from Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges in a ceremony Tuesday, January 22, here. Mr. Hodges praised Central National for efforts on behalf of exports by Cleveland and Ohio firms. The selection of CNB was by an Awards Committee which includes representatives of the Departments of Commerce, Labor, Interior and Agriculture, the Small Business Administration, and other government agencies. Mr. Kolby is head of Central's International Division. Central National started a special effort two years ago to get more of Ohio's manufacturers into export business, even though Ohio already has the nation's largest number of manufacturers in export trade — almost 800. It worked with more than 200 banks and business firms overseas and mor than 600 manufacturers in Ohio to provide information on trade potentials. The bank cooperated with the Export Expansion Program and also conducted a series of luncheon meetings for Ohio business also conducted a series of luncheon meetings for Ohio businessmen at which it brought in speakers to explain the various facets of foreign trade, overseas shipping and finance.

Restoration Job in Atlanta Turns Out Georgia 'Peach'

Serene beauty of 132-year-old Atlanta home has been restored by judicious use of wood siding, new roof of asphalt shingles, and stock, Colonial style ponderosa pine shutters, windows, and panel doors. Mineral wool insulation assures comfort, heating economy. Below, old house before it was restored.

In 1830, the first postmaster of Atlanta, Ga., built an imposing white clapboard house for his family. For more than 120 years it conved him and his bairs well. it served him and his heirs well, but time and use took its toll.
Recently, the ramshackle house became the property of the James Bentleys who turned it over to architect Kennon Perry to restore its former it over to architect Kennon Perry to restore its former beauty. Wherever possible, Perry preserved the original feeling and basic lines of the old house, but added a one-story wing with two bedrooms and baths for extra space.

An early choice of materials was the selection of asphalt shingles for the roof. The new roof provided the interior of the house and its furnishings with immediate as well as lasting protection from the elements.

The rich texture and quiet, dark green color of the new roof harmonize with Southern Colonial styling and the wooded site of the house which borders Atlanta's Sherwood Forest.

Among many modern touches was complete insulation in walls and ceilings to assure comfort during Atlanta's hot summers, as well as heating economy in winter. Today, older homes are

Cookie Cakes Are New

"Circles In The Square"

"Circles In The Square" for your heart's delight are easy-to-make cookie cakes. This unusual treat, for children and grown-ups alike, is a cookie cake mixture made with a base of crisp double saltine crackers and baked between delicious cream filled chocolate cookies. They keep well in the freezer, too—just store in a plastic bag and take out as needed. Use the cracker mixture as a basic recipe and let your creativity work it into other interesting ideas. Here's the easy way to make cookie cakes:

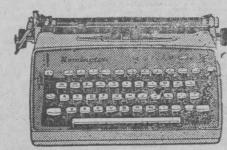

Circles In The Square ,36 double Krispy Saltine Crackers ½ cup light cream

1 cup chopped pecans 1 egg, well beaten ½ cup light corn syrup

½ cup sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla extract 32 Hydrox Cookies

THOTPHUM HELITARE

Roll crisp crackers, between waxed paper with rolling pin, into very fine crumbs. (There will be about 2¼ cups.) Mix with pecans and set aside. Blend egg, syrup, cream, sugar and vanilla extract together; stir into crumb-nut mixture. Place 16 Hydrox Cookies evenly in bottom of greased 9" x 9" x 2" pan. Cover with crumb mixture; pack down very gently. Press remaining 16 cookies evenly on top. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) for about 30 minutes or until lightly browned and firm. Cut into squares while warm. Yield: 16 squares.

Service Is A Life Lesson for March 10, 1963

Bible Material: Mark 10.
Devotional Reading: Philippians
4:49.

Service must be a tired word. It is worn thin by being overused on less than first-rate occasions. For example, a hotel advertises "Service with a Smile." What they mean is that the bell boys will do just what you want done and ask no questions. Service there means that your whims will be attended to. Again, "service" is used by manufacturers and salesmen all over the place, meanar.g simply that

Dr. Foreman when the thing you bought breaks down they'll send help to get it started again; they will make right what should have been right in the first place. Service can be heroio

One of the more astonishing facts about Jesus was that He could take an old word and give it a new meaning which it has never entirely lost. One of these is this word "Service." For one thing, He made it a term of honor. He told His friends that the way to greatness is the way of service. He who be greatest of all, let Him be servant of all. He Himself consciously fulfilled the prophecies of the "servant songs" in the latter half of our book of Isaiah, in which the "Servant of the Lord' is described in moving and tragic words. He told His disciples in one of their last hours together: "I am among you as he that serv-

Service, as Jesus saw it and performed it, was no trifle, no humdrum job. It became a mark of honor. Not only that, it rose at times to the heroic. When James and John came asking to sit on thrones beside His (for it was long before they got it through their heads that Jesus was not aiming for the traditional crown-andscepter business) - Jesus asked them first if they could be baptized with His baptism. They said yes very easily; but only because they did not realize what He meant. It was baptism in blood He was talking about. The aim of His life, He had already said, was "not to be served but to serve, and to give His life." Service and sacrifice, service and heroism, service and honor: Jesus linked these together once and for all.

Serving the whole man

Jome people spend their lives (and make money) by looking after sick cats and dogs. Others spend their working hours sweeping and mopping; and some people are garbage tippers. Now there is no work so humble that it cannot be undertaken in a spirit of Christ-like service. But there is something in this world more important than cats or floors or garbage: namely people. Jesus was a carpenter for many years; but the time came when He could leave benches and ox-yokes to others. He would go out to mend something more fragile than oxyokes, more enduring than benches: human beings. Any one who is capable of "servicing" human beings, in the way Jesus did, is wasting his talent on any lesser material. What would we think of a Savior of men who ran a cat shop? Jesus put men together as He formerly put wood together. He treated men as whole men, or He treated them as whole men, or if they were not, He set out to make them so. Jesus was healer, teacher and preacher.

When the higher serves the lower

In the ordinary use of the word "Service," people think of the one who serves as on a lower level, a lower grade than the one who gives the orders. Jesus' idea of it was quite different from that. To Jesus' mind (and who is ever nearer the truth than He?) it is the mark of the superior person to be a servant. His very superiority lays an obligation on Him to help others. There was once a brilliant scholar who was also an able doctor, and a great musician on top of that. This man "buried himself" in the forests of Africa to be a missionary doctor to the backward people in a backwash of the world. His friends tried to keep him from going. You are a superior man, they argued. Stay where you will have recognition and honors! But the young doctor went on out to his jungle; and today the world honors him, Albert Schweitzer, far more than they would have, if he had not devoted his superiority, in Christ's name, for those who were in need of all

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BEING INCREASED

The Publishers of THE CARROLL RECORD, as a result of circumstances beyond their control, find it necessary to increase

On and after March 1, 1963, the annual subscription price will be $2.00 per year, in advance. During the past decade or more, although subjected to continued pressure, in the form of wage increases and material costs, the Publishers have sought to absorb these mounting expenses through a narrowing margin of profit; until they have found themselves operating at such an extremely narrow profit figure that any further cost increases would prove disastrous. This increase has now come about in the form of considerably advanced postal rates on mail matter, including newspapers, on and after January 7, 1963.

At that time the privilege enjoyed by newspapers for the past century or more of mailing their publications free of cost to subscribers residing in the county of publication came to an end and a "per pound" rate, or a "per piece" rate depending upon whichever is the greater, has been put into effect. At the same time the "zone rates" for subscribers residing at varying distances from the publication point has also been increased. These postal increases affecting the mailing of The Carroll Record as well as all other mailing which is necessary in the operation of such a business, have made it which is necessary in the operation of such a business, have made it imperative that we ask our subscribers now to assume a reasonable portion of this additional financial burden.

We are striving to give our readers and subscribers the best weekly paper possible in our area. The few cents more a week they will be required to pay for The Carroll Record is negligible when considered alongside of the satisfaction received in reading a home publication. We want, and we trust you do too, to continue to publish The Carroll Record and to that end we must ask your cooperation in making it possible for us to produce it. When it is recalled that most other things have doubled and tripled in cost over the years, the price of The Carroll Record is still very low in comparison.

Accordingly, effective March 1, 1963 and thereafter, the cost of THE CARROLL RECORD will be $2.00 per year (West of the Mississippi River $2.50 per year) in advance. 5ϕ per single copy.

DINING OUT AT HOME WITH FROZEN FOODS

You don't have to be an heiress or a gourmet cook to treat yourself and your family to an elegant meal. Right in the freezer cabinet of your local supermarket are rows and rows of frozen prepared foods, at prices way below what they'd be if you dined out. Ranging from entrees to complete meals, and packed in sizes to serve from one to four, these delectable foods require little more than heating to make foolproof chef's specialties.

chef's specialties.

Busy homemakers also find that frozen prepareds are a boon on meeting or party nights when dinner is a hurried affair. A frozen dinner or entree can be left to heat, virtually unattended, while you dress. Serve it whenever you're ready or add the extra-special touches that make it a truly glamorous party meal.

Try this gourmet frozen food menu on your next special occasion:

Frozen Turkey Divan Supreme Cheese-Topped Frozen Biscuits Celery Sticks Frozen Fruit Compote Frozen Chocolate Cake

FROZEN TURKEY DIVAN SUPREME

Heat package of Supreme Sauce on Sliced Turkey Breast as package directs. Cook package of frozen broccoli until just tender. On a heat-proof platter, arrange drained hot broccoli. Cover with sliced turkey breast and spoon supreme sauce over all. Place under broiler until sauce is golden brown.

This mean can be varied by wice cover of the same and the same and the said by wice cover of the same and the said by wice cover of the same and the said by wice cover of the same and the sa sauce is golden brown.

This menu can be varied by using one of the many other frozen prepared poultry dishes, such as frozen chicken and noodles, frozen chicken breast cacciatore, or frozen chicken pie. You might serve these with Frozen Broccoli with Lemon Butter, made by combining a tablespoon of melted butter with a tablespoon of lemon juice and pouring over

CHEESE-TOPPED FROZEN BISCUITS

Remove as many biscuits as needed from package of frozen biscuits. Dip tops of biscuits into melted butter and then into grated Cheddar cheese, Bake in 425°F, oven for 8 to 10 minutes until golden brown.

FROZEN FRUIT COMPOTE

Remove package of frozen blueberries and package of frozen sliced peaches from freezer about two hours ahead of time. Stir the two fruits lightly together and spoon into sherbet glasses or dessert dishes. If desired, top each serving with a dollop of sour cream.

ANNAPOLIS REPORT

STATE SENATOR E. O. WEANT, JR.

There are apparently some of our day in September. This would greatly readers who do not understand the reduce the time between the Primary procedure followed in the passage of and the General Elections.

Assembly. We would therefore like to briefly describe this process.

The first step, of course, is to have the legislation prepared, either by the legislator himself or by the Department of Legislative Reference. This instrument is then put in the "hopper." It is next brought to the floor of the body in which it has been introduced as House of Maryland during the months of March and April of every year.

The Carroll County Delegation has introduced a Bill known as House Bill 535 which would make it illegal to shoot any game bird or game anitoshoot any gam committees for study. The committee then decides whether to give the bill a favorable or unfavorable report. A favorable report will generally assure easy passage through the body receiving this report. An unfavorable report generally means disaster. After the report of the committee has been adopted, with or without amendments, the Bill is printed for third reading and final passage. Even on third reading, however, a bit of legislation can be defeated despite the adoption of a previous favorable report, although much reliance is put in the results of the committee's study. Senate Bill 376, recently introduced

Senate Bill 376, recently introduced into that body, would set up a uniform minium resale price for the sale of liquor and wine at off premises consumption in the State of Maryland. It would provide for the filing by manufacturers and wholesalers of a minimum price schedule with the Comptroller. No sales could then be made below the prices set out in the schedule. It does not apply to beer or sale by County Liquor Control

A bill was introduced to remove the requirement that all license plates issued in Maryland shall have the expiration date thereon. This apparently is a result of the effort to have "American in Minature" on the new license plates.

A bill, Senate Bill 371, would provide that all Primary Elections in Maryland be held on the second Tues-

Assembly. We would therefore like has been introduced as House Bill' to briefly describe this process.

The first step of courses.

House Bill 526 provides that any resident of the State of Maryland who is on leave from the Armed Forces of the United States may be allowed to hunt during the hunting season without securing a hunting license. He must procure a permit from the Clerk of the Court where he resides indicating that he is a mem-ber of the Armed Forces on leave.

Committee meetings, open to all, have been scheduled as follows: Senate Finance Committee, March 12; ate Finance Committee, March 12, Department of Forests and Parks, March 13; Department of Tidewater Fisheries, March 14, Department of Game and Inland Fish and Water Pollution and Control Commission, March 15, Planning Department, Hause Ways and Means Committee.
