DEMOCRAT DRAWS FIRST BLOOD

Standing firm on the principle of budget cuts before tax cuts, Virginia's Democratic Senator A. W. Robertson rose in the Senate to show Congress just where $5.9 billion can be trimmed out of President Kennedy's $98.8 billion budget.

He predicted a $10 to $12 billion deficit by the end of the next fiscal year even if Congress rejects a tax cut but passes the President's "spending schemes."

Passage of the President's "spending schemes," he said, would mean a deficit of $10 to $12 billion without any tax cut, and added: "I could not with a clear conscience vote to impose a $10 billion tax cut on a deficit of those proportions."

Getting down to cases, as the President had invited his critics to do at his press conference the day before, Senator Robertson would save nearly $2 billion by merely eliminating Mr. Kennedy's new welfare proposals. He listed these savings as $1.2 billion on Federal aid to education, $200 million on medical school construction and medical scholarships, nursing homes, hospital renovation, housing for the elderly, rural housing credit insurance and rural recreational facilities.

He would save $100 million on the Kennedy youth employment scheme, another $100 million on mass transit. He would eliminate the proposed $350 million increase in area redevelopment loan authorizations, cut back new loan funds for REA and civilian research activities of the Government.

The Senator would take a $1.8 billion bite out of the foreign aid request, and trim the defense budget by $1.258 billion "without seriously impairing our present military posture."

To round out the picture he recommended a five percent reduction "across the board" in Federal employees.

Republican budget-cutters, doubtless a bit rueful at having a Democrat beat them to the punch, will surely overtop Senator Robertson's performance when they get around to it. Ohio's Rep. F. T. Bow, who heads up a GOP task force on this problem said detailed budget-cutting plans are now in the hands of Republican members of appropriate committees. Minority Leader Halleck declared: "We'll give them a bill of particulars when the time comes, and we'll be responsible about it."

But we shall wait to see how "responsible" either party can be in resisting tax-cut legislation.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

From the New York Times: "The 17-nation disarmament conference... is to give priority to the nuclear test ban talks broken up by the Russians in New York, but the prospects for success are slim because the scene is now dominated by the Soviet maneuvers to exploit the Western differences for their own ends. What these ends are is bluntly stated by the United States Arms Control Agency... In a report forwarded to Congress by President Kennedy, the agency accuses the Soviets of making their disarmament proposals solely as an 'extension of their foreign policy objectives aimed at expansion of Communist influence by gaining military advantage' and showing no desire to reach agreements 'to insure the security, freedom and independence of all nations.' That is why, regrettably, the United States has resumed underground tests."

According to a Department of Agriculture publication, the persistence of a relatively high birth rate, a low death rate, and a moderate amount of immigration have made it likely that the U. S. population will rise to 245 million or more by 1980. That is 30 per cent above the present population of 187.5 million.

According to the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, if Federal expenditures were controlled at current levels the country could have tax cuts and still expect a balanced budget within a year or two. This conclusion was reached in a critical analysis of Administration budget proposals for 1964. That budget—of $98.3 billion—would be 29 per cent above that of 1960, the last full budget year of the previous administration.

The Philippines Republic has swapped position with Cuba as America's No. 1 source of cigar imports, says the Philippine Tobacco Board.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "Just about every thinking person in these United States, from the President on down, is deeply concerned with our tax situation and what it is doing to our economy. A current cartoon epitomizes the issue rather well when it depicts a taxpayer leaning over a fence to watch an attractive federal taxcut prospect, while a horse of local and state taxation approaches with teeth a-gape to take a big bite out of his, the taxpayer's, rear. And so it goes all over the nation. The higher taxes so blithely voted in past years now return to clobber us where and when it hurts the most."

Food chains with two or more stores had a sales volume of $27.535 billion last year, according to Chain Store Age—a gain of 3.8 per cent over the previous year.

From the Carlsbad, New Mexico, Current-Argus: "Half of the U. S. women getting married now do so before the age of 20, and the men they wed are two and a half to three years older. Assuming that this pattern continues, there will be about 90,000 more women than men of typical marriage age by 1965. The following year, maidens will outnumber youths by almost 365,000. That will be the high point of imbalance, but as late as 1968: the young women are still expected to be substantially more numerous than the young men."

Secretary of Labor Wirtz says the public will demand compulsory arbitration of labor disputes unless unions and management devise better ways for settling their arguments.

According to the Washington Daily News local taxpayers increased their debt from $3.8 billion to $12.1 billion for schools from 1952 to 1960.

Electricity Helps Gardeners Achieve an Early "Spring"

Heated soil speeds up early seed germination. Thermostat controls heat in window boxes. Plants bloom sooner, can be set out weeks earlier.

Impatient garden clubbers and commercial growers anxious to get to market, can both take heart: Now there is a way to speed up the spring growing season.

Electricity provides the answer in the form of a thermostatically controlled soil heating cable which you can plant in hotbed, cold frame, window box or flat. Strung in equal loops, throughout the full planting area, the cable will dissipate a heat of 3 watts per lineal foot, accelerating plant growth. This should enable you to transplant weeks earlier in the spring.

Built into this Easy-Heat soil cable is a pre-set soil thermostat which maintains growing temperature at a uniform 70°.

You plug the unit into any 120V outlet—and forget it. Electric current shuts off automatically when soil is right for achieving proper growth of seeds, bulbs, vegetables or flowers.

It might be an interesting project for your garden club to find out just how many green thumb reputations are created by "planting" electricity along with the sprout bulbs or the seed.

Garbage Removal Franchise

THIS AGREEMENT Made this 31st day of December, in the year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-two, by and between The Mayor and City Council of Taneytown, Maryland, hereinafter called City, and Walter Benchoff, hereinafter called Benchoff.

WITNESSETH that for and in consideration of the sum of Ten Dollars ($10.00), and of the mutual benefits herein contained, the City does hereby grant to Benchoff the exclusive right and privilege to collect and remove garbage for a charge within the Corporate Limits of Taneytown for a period of Five (5) years from and after the date of this agreement upon the following terms and conditions.

1. Benchoff will collect garbage twice weekly, on Tuesday and Saturday of each week. However, should Christmas Day fall on a regular collection day that collection may be omitted.
2. Benchoff will collect garbage from the City's waste receptacles, the waterworks and park whenever necessary, without additional charge to City.
3. City shall have the right to terminate this agreement should Benchoff fail to properly make the collections or if his manner of collection be unsatisfactory to City.
4. Benchoff has the right to refuse a single garbage collection or part thereof if the item or container is too heavy for one man to handle or he may refuse service to a customer who is three months or more in arrears in his garbage bill.
5. Should Benchoff die or become disabled during the period of this agreement his wife and/or children shall be permitted to continue the collection and removal of garbage in his place and stead upon the terms and conditions herein contained.
6. City shall have the right to review and approve all rate changes before they can become effective. In the event both parties cannot agree upon the charge this agreement shall be void.

WITNESS the execution hereof by the parties hereto.

Authority

Lesson for March 17, 1963

Bible Material: Mark 11:1 through 12:12
Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 13:5-10

IT USED to be that men were ranked high because they had authority over other men; the more men, the more authority. This still is the case. We call such men executives and we pay them fabulous salaries to run the great corporations of today. A man may build up inside these corporations what is called an "empire" of men who are under his control in some way. But there is another kind of authority, and it is sometimes more highly prized: it is authority on something. Men who have this may not be paid so well; they are usually less interested in money than the tycoons are. But they get a great deal of satisfaction out of life, and they seldom want to change places with the men who have authority-over...

The authority of Jesus

Jesus had both kinds of authority. But His was a rather extraordinary power. What made it extraordinary (among other causes) was this: He had none of the gimmicks, the special marks, the keys, ribbons, chevrons, the letters after His name, which mark men of authority, then and now. He was just Jesus of Nazareth, and His friends called Him Teacher so often that that was what most people called Him. His family had no influence. He had not had a scholar's education. He had no money. His real friends were mostly poor. He never met a payroll. He had no "empire" in the style of a Napoleon or a "Captain of Finance." Yet in spite of these handicaps, people did respect Him with an enthusiasm unbounded.

For after all, Jesus did have an empire, in the hearts of men. His friends felt this, and so did the masses of the people. It is important to note where Jesus' authority was—what was His authority on, or over?

The kingdom of the mind

Jesus was one who had authority in the invisible kingdom of the Mind. As one gospel writer says, He knew what was in man. He could tell what people were thinking. He knew what to say to persuade people, and He knew too when people were not to be persuaded. He knew people from the inside. Because He knew this, He was also an authority over people's minds. Not that He told them what to think,—thought control or hypnotism were not in His line. He used no tricks. He did not make His points by shouting, or by saying the same thing over and over as a cheap politician does, till finally he begins to believe it himself. Not a bit of that was in Jesus. His way was to speak the truth—just as simple as that; only unlike some teachers and preachers, who can make any truth sound dismal and dull when they get through thrashing it to chaff, Jesus made the truth not only interesting but unforgettable, not only interesting but often startling.

The kingdom of the spirit

Jesus had an authority that went deeper than the mind. Deeper, that is, if you think of "mind" as most people do, as being what you think with. There is a something in man, and soul may be the best word to describe something that cannot be seen or felt but known only from inside,—there is a something which is more than mind; something that reaches beyond the stars—beyond the kind of existence we know, reaches out to God Himself. Jesus was master of men's souls as He was of their minds. He was an authority on them, and over them. We can put this in another way by saying that in religion and morality, Jesus had the last word. To this day, even among persons who are not Christians, there is an insight into right and wrong that was not known before Jesus' time. No one who lived in the same century, who was a teacher, was able to teach so enduringly as He. No other name from the first century,—Christians would say no name in all history, is as influential today. Life brings us many questions, but the most serious, searching, burning questions are those that science cannot answer. What is the purpose of living? How can I please God? How can I find God? How can I come to terms with God? When I have slipped into the mire, what power can make me clean? These are the heart-questions; and Christ is lord of the heart.

Auto Safety Facts

Eleven states now issue "safety" license plates, tags coated with a material that reflect headlights of approaching cars. These plates, which can be seen from almost a half a mile away at night, reduce nighttime accidents.

Professional driver training schools were asked for safety suggestions: One: Why don't cars have rear-window wipers, so drivers also can see through rear windows during a rain storm?

The National Safety Council claims that 5,000 lives a year could be saved if drivers and passengers used seat belts.

Dutch Chocolate Delight

Cloud-Light Dutch Chocolate
Cream Cheese Dessert
(Makes one 9-inch cake or approx. 10 to 12 servings)

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------|
| 2 (8-oz.) packages cream cheese | 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten |
| 1-1/2 cups crushed vanilla wafers (approx. 38 wafers) | 1 cup (1/2 pint) sour cream |
| 1/4 cup melted butter | 4 egg whites |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1/3 cup sugar |
| 1/2 cup Borden's Instant Dutch Chocolate Mix | 1/2 cup heavy cream, optional |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | 2 tablespoons sugar, optional |
| Dash salt | Shaved chocolate, optional |

Let cream cheese soften at room temperature. In a large mixing bowl combine crushed wafers and melted butter. Press crumb mixture evenly on bottom and sides of a well-buttered 9-inch spring-form pan. Place in refrigerator to chill. In large mixing bowl cream the cheese until fluffy. Combine the 1/2 cup sugar, chocolate flavored mix, vanilla extract, and salt in a small mixing bowl. Blend into slightly beaten egg yolks. Add chocolate mixture to cream cheese, keeping mixture smooth. Stir in sour cream. In a medium-size mixing bowl beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in 1/3 cup sugar. Continue beating until whites are stiff enough to hold a peak, but are not dry. Gently fold into cheese mixture. Pour into chilled crumb shell. Bake in a slow oven (250° F.) for 2 hours. (DO NOT OPEN OVEN DURING BAKING.) Remove from oven. Set away from drafts until well cooled. Remove sides of pan. Refrigerate several hours or overnight to develop best flavor. Whip heavy cream with 2 tablespoons sugar. If desired, garnish cake with whipped cream and shaved chocolate.

NOTE: This dessert cuts best with moistened cake breaker or thin, sharp knife, as the texture is light and moist.

ANNAPOLIS REPORT
STATE SENATOR
E. O. WEANT, JR.

Since there has been a great deal of publicity concerning House Bills 149 and 150, I thought it advisable to state our position on these matters. These are the Bills which are more commonly known as the "Public Accommodations Bills." They were originally passed by the House of Delegates and then by the Senate after several amendments which included a Referendum for Carroll County.

In a few words House Bill 149 provides that it shall be unlawful to refuse service at any place of public accommodation providing food and lodging, with some exceptions, as a result of or because of race, creed, color or national origin of any person. House Bill 150 establishes the interracial Commission as an investigative body for any alleged discrimination against any person on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin. The powers of the Commission to investigate, make recommendations and, also, to refer violations to the respective States Attorneys are also set out.

As your elected representative to the Senate, it is my duty to give these measures every consideration and study. This I have done; and, in doing so, have found two very divergent views regarding their adoption. Contrary to most pieces of legislation, it is most difficult, if not impossible, to reconcile the two concepts. Those who feel that the rights provided for by these Bills should be established by law are opposed just as strongly, and, I think, just as sincerely, by those who feel that other rights are being taken away by force to set up the new ones. Unfortunately, the months of agitation that have proceeded this and the threat of future turbulence have only served to make both groups more unyielding about their respective positions.

Aside from those who are sincere in these beliefs, there are those who urge the passage of the measures strictly for political expediency. There are also those who oppose the passage of this legislation because of prejudice. However, I do not share either of these positions as I think that my vote or any other vote, on this matter should not be a political one nor do I share the preconscious opinion.

Further, some consider the Bills to be discriminatory, in that their effect is limited to a small segment of public accommodations and apply to Baltimore City and only thirteen counties of the entire State. Opponents of the entire State. Opponents and proponents have voiced concern over financial reverses for our community, depending on their point of view. To further complicate the decision in this matter, we have the fact that the members of the House of Delegates from Carroll County were split two to two on the passage of these Bills in that Body.

I agree with a recent editorial in the Baltimore Sun that this problem, which undeniably exists, cannot be solved by compulsion. Still, I believe that there is sufficient unfeigned sentiment on both sides of the issue to warrant referring the decision of this subject matter to the voters of Carroll County. Accordingly, I have suggested an amendment to these measures which would put the adoption of these proposed laws up to the will of the people.

This amendment provides that a referendum election shall be had in Carroll County on these questions at a time to be fixed by the Board of County Commissioners of Carroll County and in no event later than the regular congressional election in the month of November, 1964.

E. O. Weant, Jr.,
State Senator for Carroll County.
