After singing America and the pledge to the flag, Alice Frock gave the invocation.

As "Travel" was the theme for the month, after a delicious meal, the group sang songs pertaining to travel with Kitty Royer as song leader and Esther Harner pianist. Kitty was substituting for Daisy Pearl Reifsnider who is vacationing at Frederick Memorial Hospital. One birthday for Mrs. Virginia Morelock and two anniversaries, Mrs. Tamsey Stonesifer and Mrs. Helen Nusbaum, were recognized.

President Linda Hopkins welcomed the members, guests and the Keyettes of T.H.S. The Keyettes are a fine group of young people with high morals, good character and ability for leadership. The community can expect much from these citizens of tomorrow. The Ki-Wives are very proud of this fine group of young people whose motto is "We Serve."

The script was written by Carol Piezonki who was the narrator. Such scenes as arrival at the convention, registration, unpacking in their rooms, difficulty with a locked suitcase, talent show, election of officers, dance, retiring and leaving for home were seen. Bobby Hopkins gave a very pretty ballet dance and Carol Koons and Debbie Wiley sang two numbers, "Dreams Come True" and "Let's Get Together" for the Talent Show. The group sang their Keyette Song also a song for the Ki-Wives.

Nancy Stine made remarks concerning their Club and its organization before the program. At the conclusion of the program, she extended an invitation to the Ki-Wives to visit their meetings and told of several worthwhile projects they are pursuing at the present time. From their live movie we draw the following conclusion: they had an uplifting and worthwhile experience and the Ki-Wives are grateful for the part they played in making it possible.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The Subject upon everyone's lips is "S P R I N G!" Never have I seen a display of Eagerness as there is today as to weather and I do hope when the real heat comes along, they will not complain! Eh? The lovely Pussy Willow tree had to be taken down which was too close to the house and that did hurt! Then "Mike" removed a lovely Azalea bush which was underneath the tree on the front lawn and believe it or not, I think it is going to thrive so I named the bush, "Mr. Mike." He also planted the iron pipe in the ground which holds the flag pole and that was due to the fact of the story that I had removed the flag since. Rev. Love placed it on the pole! Such nice people in life and it is truly the little things that count!

Bobby misses the picture windows and seems lost but he is getting acquainted with the children in the neighborhood.

Word comes from St. Pete that the weather is delightful with a 83 temperature! Nice? Well, it won't be long now this side of the Equator.

Walking first to that grand Dr. Grooms, the Chiropractor on Liberty St. just above Lexington who treats your feet so tenderly by taking each foot in his lap just like a baby. Never have I seen any Dr. more gentle and all his patients love him. He never is too busy to hold your coat as you are leaving! He has really what it takes to please every patient. He must have had a wonderful Mother. As I walked up the street to the office of that nice and smart Chiropractor, Dr. Calvin Hornstein, I observed a sign at the Y. M. C. A. which read, "IT IS SURE TO BE DARK IF YOU SHUT YOUR EYES!" Just keep that in mind daily and I think you know just what I mean. The new Cafeteria is now open to the public right in that building and I went in to partake of the food and never have I seen such a meal for one dollar including dessert!

I observed the lovely green lawn at the Cathedral. More green than any other lawn any place.

While in the Chiropractor's office, I read an article by the heart Specialist of our former President Eisenhower, Dr. Dudley White as to the 50 mile hike. He stated that should never be. The first week it would be 5 miles and then increased each week, but never to hike all those miles at one time!

Just to think after the wonderful treatment, the blood pressure went down 35 points! Good for what ails ya! Dr. Hornstein is in the downtown office on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays and in his Randallstown office Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays. Those treatments really give anyone P. E. P.

The picture of "Cleopatra" will be seen in Baltimore early in the Summer.

Two cute little Girl Scouts came to the door the other night with the cookies and they tasted much better than previous years. They dropped 5 cents as to the price, too. The Butter Cookies were delicious.

Making a special trip to see the Gutman Jewelry Collection at the Baltimore Art Museum was well worth the trip and time. The pieces are simply exquisite. And that is the only adjective that could describe them. I think the jeweler on N. Howard Street must copy some of the designs for immediately seeing them. I thought of Oscar Caplan and at times he does have original pieces no matter what the ornament may be.

I could not begin to describe the pieces as it would take many Columns but don't miss this show. You will hear the "Oh's" and "Ah's" from many lips. Such patience the makers must have had in those days—the fineness of it all! The detail of each piece as you stand there in amazement means so much and you will appreciate it, I am sure. There were better workers years ago and so much more patience. Years ago, it took a year to build a home and today they are slapped up in three months!

Ladies, you do not have to spend two dollars or more for fine hand lotion as I have discovered that "WOODBURY'S" beats all! Use it immediately after your hands are in water at any time. It is filled with Lanolin and rich beauty oils and there is never a trace of stickiness. Keep a bottle in the kitchen and in the bathroom and in the basement for after the laundry job! You will have plenty of compliments about your hands and many will say, "Your hands surely do not know of any household duties!" That you will love! It even takes care of the cuticle!

Have a nice week-end. Folks drive carefully and never, never turn the wheel over to that Teen-ager unless you know that he or she is most conscientious. See you next week D. V. Until then.

I am,
Faithfully,

FACTS AND OPINIONS

National Review deals with the business situation in these words: "Business '63 (overheard): Sales and income figures show an easing up of the rate at which business is easing off, which is taken as proof of the Government's contention that there is a slowing up of the slowdown. In order to clarify the cautious terminology of the experts, it should be noted that a slowing up of the slowdown is not as good as an upturn in the downturn, but it is a good deal better than either a speedup of the slowdown or a deepening of the downturn and does suggest that the climate is about right for an adjustment to the readjustment. Turning to unemployment, we find a definite decrease in the rate of increase, which already shows that there is a letting up of the letdown. Of course, if the slowdown should speed up, the decrease in the rate of increase of unemployment would turn into an increase in the rate of decrease of employment. In other words, the deceleration would be accelerated."

The size of the average new home in this country has increased nearly 30 per cent in the past 10 years. Larger families constitute one factor, as does a demand for more ample living space.

To stem the rising tide of accidental poisonings of small children, the American Red Cross urges parents to take the utmost precautions to keep poisonous substances beyond their children's reach. It is estimated that there are 500,000 accidental poisonings a year among children five years old and younger, of which 50 prove fatal.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "For the first time in this century there is little or no cohesion in domestic or foreign policy in these United States. And both allies and enemies have moved into this vacuum of indecision, the former through the compulsions of necessity, the latter in response to the beckonings of golden opportunity. Our drifting first this way then that generates a distrust among our allies abroad and a confusion among our own people at home that bodes ill for the future..."

Near February's end the Association of American Railroads reported that Cuban mercy shipments had passed the 400-carload mark. The latest shipment of ransom goods as of that date consisted of 60 carloads of medicines and baby foods from Central, Western and Pacific Coast areas.

Last year Americans, through local, state and federal governments, spent $2.5 billion on mental health. A population nearly the size of Detroit's occupied our mental hospitals. Yet, says an American Medical bulletin, most mental patients don't belong in such institutions. According to modern psychiatric thought, they belong in their own community — at home — not miles away.

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "It is true, as the President concedes, that our present tax burden 'reduces the incentive for risk, investment, and effort — thereby aborting our recoveries and stifling our national growth rate.' But the way to reduce it is to slash the spending that makes it necessary, not to invite deficits and inflation."

The morning after Charles Lindbergh flew the Atlantic nonstop from New York to Paris, an associate of Charles Kettering rushed into the research expert's laboratory in Dayton, Ohio, shouting: "He made it! Lindbergh landed safely in Paris!"

"He did it all by himself!" Kettering looked up from his work momentarily and remarked: "When he flies it with a committee, let me know."

FLORENCE, ORE., SIUSLAW NEWS: "The philosophy of our federal government has swung away from the philosophy of our founding fathers, inasmuch as the responsibility for social governing was placed as near the people as was possible. Now, under our present government, the responsibility is removed as far as possible from the people, and centralized in dictatorial bureaus in our Nation's capitol. There are laws governing and protecting everything else, maybe it is time now for a law protecting the people from the government!"

CHECKERBOARD service bulletin

Coming soon... spring and summer pasture

Good grass is going to look better than ever this spring... to dairymen who've been short of roughage all winter long. Cows love grass, too.

But here are two tips from Purina's dairy experts that may put dollars in your pocket:

1. Don't lean too hard on grass alone. Remember grass is about 85% water and only about 15% dry matter. It's a good idea to feed a little hay every day; right through the summer.
2. Don't slack off grain feeding. Even though grass actually stimulates milk flow, the surge won't last long unless cows are getting adequate amounts of high energy grain rations. For this job, we recommend Cow Chow D, the high efficiency milking ration, fed according to individual production.

Both of these tips make sense from a nutritional standpoint. And both of them are sound as the extra dollars many dairymen get from more milk produced by following this sensible feeding plan.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Early Thursday morning Taneytown district had a slight experience with both wind and water, which looked anything but pleasant. Rain, driven by a heavy and shifting wind, almost caused fears of serious damage to property, but fortunately the fierceness of it lasted only about ten minutes.

Scott M. Smith and W. H. Poole were swamped while attempting to cross Monocacy bridge, on Thursday morning from the Carroll County side. The force of the current overturned the buggy, but all hands escaped to the bank after a good ducking.

Rev. L. B. Hafer spent several days in Philadelphia this week purchasing the new library donated to the Lutheran Sunday School by Luther T. Sharets. The library will contain about 600 volumes and will be the largest and most complete of the kind in the county.

The citizens of Taneytown, Catholics and Protestants alike, were both surprised and regretful to hear of the transfer of Father Lennon, to St. Joseph's Baltimore, and that the change would take place immediately. Father Lennon has been in charge of St. Joseph's Taneytown, since 1899 when he succeeded Rev. Theodore D. Mead.

Omaha and Dayton Wind and Flood Stricken. A terrific cyclone, which centered in Omaha, Neb., devastated portions of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana on Sunday night. The city of Omaha suffered most, there being about 150 killed and over 500 buildings destroyed causing a loss of many millions of dollars. Following the cyclonic disaster came the still greater devastation by floods in Ohio and Indiana, with Dayton as the chief loss center on Tuesday night.

Diehl-Warner. On March 18, 1913, at the Reformed parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Mr. Howard R. Diehl and Miss Alice E. Warner were married.

A Wedding Reception—A wedding reception was given on Saturday evening by Merl Baumgardner and wife in honor of her brother, Walter Hiltebrink and wife.

Serving as a member of the Nominating Committee of the Elmer Wolfe School P-TA for the year 1963-64, along with Mr. Richard Stultz and Mr. Bernman Weeks, Chairman, I have found just how many ways people can say "no." At this writing another nominee is needed for the job of Secretary, and even Area Representative is a job that is hard to fill. If you would be willing to have your name put on the ballot as a nominee, and we somehow missed calling you, won't you please give Mr. Weeks a call on 775-2215? We three would surely appreciate it and thank you, and your P-TA will benefit by it. —Dharlys Fleharty.

Between the Winter and Summer When the mercury's starting to climb Comes a change in the years' occupation That it is known as "Housecleaning Time."

You roll up your sleeves with a fervor And round up the brushes and brooms Then you scrub from the attic to the basement. The last speck of dirt from the rooms, You pause to survey, for a moment, The fruits of your labors, and then You give the house back to the family To mess up all over again.

My Self

I'll have to live with myself and so I want to be fit for myself to know. I want to be able as the days go by Always to look myself straight in the eye. I don't want to stand with the setting sun and hate myself for the things I've done. A lot of secrets about myself, and fool myself as I come and go into thinking no one else will know. I don't want to keep on my closet shelf the kind of person I really am, I don't want to dress myself in shame I have to live with myself and so I want to be fit for myself to know.

I want to go with my head erect, I want to deserve each one's respect, but here in the struggle for fame and self.

I want to be able to like myself. I don't want to look at myself and know that I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.

I never can hide myself from me. I see what others may never see; I know what others may never know; but I never can fool myself and so what ever happens, I want to be Self-respecting and conscience free.

Do you think kindness is old-fashioned? Do you think it is outmoded? Are you afraid you will spoil someone with kindness? We doubt very much whether many of us will spoil very many people with kindness — we are careful about spreading it.

There are many things to do around my kitchen this morning, but at the moment I am not in the mood to tackle them. Instead, I have stationed myself here at the kitchen window, simply to refresh my spirits and to take note of what goes on in the world of nature today.

Officially, spring has arrived but it doesn't look very spring-like out-of-doors. The first thing that catches my eye is the snow. It fell during the night and traces of it are sticking on the grass and trees and along our lane. Gazing overhead, I observe dark billowy clouds scudding across the sky. Old Sol is bravely trying to shine, but he is almost completely obscured by those heavy clouds.

The trees are putting on a lively dance, bending and bowing to the music of the March wind. The old cedar tree, over by the fence, is the most graceful performer of them all. This ancient landmark has weathered many a bygone storm, and has given refuge to countless birds. It is comforting just to look out and see it there.

Some four-footed creatures are abroad this morning. A little while ago I saw a timid rabbit scurry across the lane and head for safety in some briar patch. It was well that he hid for not long afterward one of our four cats stealthily emerged from the meadow intent on some hunting expedition. Quite possibly, he was trailing Bre'r Rabbit.

From my seat here at the window, I can look down on a murmuring little brook, as it meanders merrily along. So often, during summer droughts, it goes completely dry, but now, due to the rain and melting snow, it is running freely. This small watering hole attracts many birds. This morning there are several black birds down there, rummaging around in search of some choice tid-bits.

The heavy clouds which I mentioned earlier are now sending forth some snowflakes. In a minute or so the sun may be shining. This is a typical March day and I have thoroughly enjoyed my view of it from my kitchen window.

—Zola Cantwell.

Salk Vaccine Prevents Polio

Each of us in Carroll County who has been spared from crippling polio owes much to an American scientist who announced a great discovery just 10 years ago on Monday. Mrs. Gladys M. Wimer of the Carroll County Chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, made this observation in recalling that on March 26, 1953, Dr. Jonas Salk revealed in a nationwide radio broadcast that his vaccine against polio was just around the corner. The Salk vaccine has prevented an estimated 154,000 cases of paralytic polio in the United States with a savings to the nation's economy of more than $6.7 billion, Mrs. Wimer said. She added that approximately 12,000 of those saved from polio would have died had the Salk vaccine not been available. "Here in Carroll County," Mrs. Wimer reports, "we have six patients on our rehabilitation program and our patient aid expenditures amounted to $3,134.00 for the year 1962." Referring to the historic broadcast of a decade ago, the chapter chairman exclaimed that a few months before he made it, Dr. Salk had been working at the University of Pittsburgh under a March of Dimes grant and had inoculated 150 children and young adults. In this small-scale "field trial," Dr. Salk had established that his polio vaccine, as he said over the radio, "appears to be safe" and that it effectively raised the levels of polio-fighting antibodies in the human blood. The antibodies would prevent viruses from causing paralysis.

A little more than two years later, on April 12, 1955, Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., chairman of the epidemiology department of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, announced at Ann Arbor that the Salk vaccine was "safe, effective and potent." Dr. Francis had directed the task of evaluating the results of the March of Dimes mass field trials begun the year before in which 1,830,000 children bravely participated. These composed the army of the "polio pioneers." The United States Public Health Service almost immediately licensed the Salk vaccine for mass production. Since then, more than 100 million in the United States have received Salk polio shots. "And paralytic polio is no longer a major health problem in our country or anywhere else in America," the chapter chairman here said.

EIGHT RULES HELP HOMEMAKER HANG PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPHS

There's no need to draw a blank when it comes to decorating a blank wall. One secret of success is to stand up at the next family pow-wow and suggest that everyone give Mother a portrait photograph for Mother's Day. Then have the photographs framed to personalize the family room, den, living room or bedroom. Even the inside of the hall closet door makes a glamorous family gallery, as shown in the photograph above. Here are eight rules for hanging portrait photographs: 1. First choose frames to complement - not overpower - the subject. Today the trend is to frame photographs like oil paintings, especially if they are to hang in the more formal rooms of the house. 2. Think big. Be sure the photographs you hang are 8x10, 11x14 or larger. As one decorator puts it "Be sure you don't pair off binoculars to see them." 3. Direct color is big news. To be really fashionable, at least one of the photographs should be in color. 4. Spread the framed photographs on the floor to plan your arrangement. Move them around until the result looks good to you. Put paper under the photographs. Trace around them; then hold the paper on the wall as a pattern for driving nails. 5. If special lighting is required, strip lighting, lighted picture frames or spotlights in the ceiling are most satisfactory. 6. Relate the size and scale of the framed photographs to that of the room and furnishings. If your room is of kingly size, the photographs should be too. 7. Studio photographs look well hung alone, with snapshots or with other forms of art like sculpture or paintings. So suit yourself. 8. Be original in your arrangements. You can paint a family tree and decorate it with family photographs or, for a change, hang them on a room divider or screen. Whatever your choice, the whole family will treasure the wall arrangement more each year. It's exactly for them because it is them.

He Will Come

Lesson for March 31, 1963

Bible Material: Mark 13:1 through 14:9
Devotional Reading: 1 Thessalonians 5:1-11.

THE words "Second Coming" always mean one particular Coming. Millions of persons every day in the world come a second time to some place or other; but that is not what Second Coming means. When spelled with capitals, the expression refers to Christ in the future. He came; that is important. He comes; every day that is true. Christians have engaged in endless debates, more's the pity, about the Second Coming, — mostly questions about it that no one can answer beforehand. But whatever their differences, all branches and varieties of the Christian faith agree that Christ will reign; that at long last He will be in fact and not only in hope, the Ruler of this world.

Dr. Foreman

What is said about the Second Coming is not entirely simple and clear. If it were, there would not be so many arguments about it. One question that no one can answer to every one's satisfaction is: Are the predictions and the descriptions of it to be taken literally or figuratively? Taken literally, they raise difficulties. For example, in one of the verses from Mark in this week's lesson, it is said that Jesus will come "in the clouds." Does this mean literal clouds such as you can fly through, and often fly over? Men come in the clouds to every airport. What is special about that? And if you say that these are not ordinary water-drop clouds, but something never seen before, you have decided the meaning must be figurative. But still the difficulty is not gotten rid of; for a figure of speech always means something. We could go through all the expressions connected with the Second Coming, and note the difficulties of understanding all of them;

Literal or figurative?

but let us rather fix our attention on a few points that we can at least partly understand.

The power and the glory

We may not be able to figure out the "clouds" but we know something of what Power and Glory mean. The main truth is here that Christ's Second Coming will not be obscure, humble, unwelcomed by most people, as was the First Coming. Jesus will reign; He reigns even now in the hearts of multitudes, but His reign is not always visible. His Second Coming will reveal Himself to the world with a splendor and force that no man can doubt. Sometimes a wealthy person will fall in love with another person who may be quite poor by comparison. The rich lover may conceal the fact of his wealth. He wants to be loved for himself, not for his stock and bonds. So it may be that Christ, heir to the glory of the heavenly Father, wishes now, in these present days, to be loved for Himself, — to be obeyed out of love and devotion. No one, seeing Jesus in power and glory, would wish to be anywhere else but on His side. So the power and the glory come at the end, not at the beginning.

Live as if—

Jesus said plainly that even the Son (meaning Himself) does not know "of that day and that hour," so we waste our ingenuity making up timetables for Him. He will come when the time is. One other thing Jesus made plain: His followers ought to live every day as if that Coming were to take place before tonight. This does not mean that we must shut our stores and factories and every one go home to pray. It means that wherever we are, if we are on the right trail it is our God-given duty to stay on it. If we are doing a good work it is our duty to finish it, as if He were coming to inspect it at six o'clock.

Live, in short, as in His sight; this is the old and always new command. But is He not always here? Yes—He can and He does live in the heart with the opened door. We have to remember this: God knows exactly as much about our lives, inside and out, as He could know if Jesus in person walked in the door with a fountain pen in His hand to make notes for a report for the Last Judgment.

CANINE CADGER FARES WELL

Although begging is against the law in Italy for humans, here is a four-legged hobo seeking his fortune on an avenue in Rome. He seems to have found at least one obliging contributor, who may just believe that he is out of Mother Hubbard's kennel.

SUPPER IN A SOUP BOWL

A WELCOME IDEA in these weeks of in between, not quite winter, yet far from spring, is a bowl of steaming soup made tender salmon.

Whether or not you observe the Lenten season, you're bound to go fishing more often than usual during the 40 day period of moderation. It's a wonderful way to serve more simple fare and to balance the budget, often bent to breaking point, after the strenuous holiday season.

By simply combining a can of soup and a can of salmon, both staples on every supply shelf, then adding a touch of an herb, a kiss of a spice, a nourishing supper-in-a-bowl is ready to serve in less than 5 minutes. You're saving precious time as well as money, yet you're serving a dish that everyone will enjoy. Try one of these flavorful combinations today.

SALMON CHOWDER
1 can condensed cream of celery soup

- 1 can (7 1/2 oz.) salmon flaked
- Liquid from salmon plus milk to measure 1 1/2 cups
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed

Combine ingredients and heat over simmering water or stir over direct heat. Serves 2.

CURRIED SALMON AND PEA

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- 1 teaspoon curry
- 1 can pea soup
- 1 can (7 1/2 oz.) salmon, flaked
- Liquid from salmon plus milk and cream to measure 1 1/2 cups
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

In saucepan heat butter and in it cook onion and curry until onion is soft. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat over simmering water or stir over direct heat. Serves 2.

HUNTING DOGS

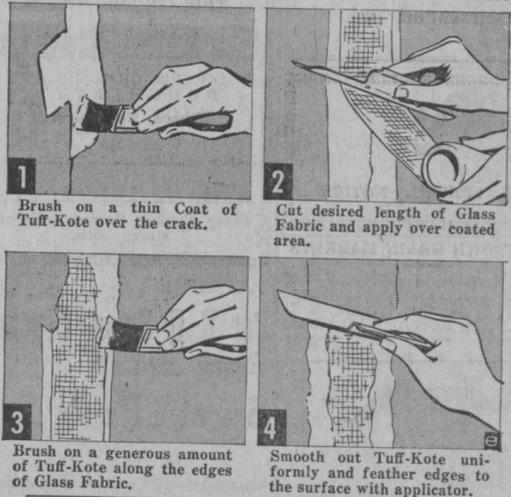

Retrievers are hunting specialists, who gently return killed or wounded game to the gunner. Rugged, expert swimmers like the Labrador Retriever seldom lose a bird — make sure no crippled fowl are left behind.

The Beagle, smallest of the trailing hounds, is the hunter's all-time favorite for rabbit and hare. When on a fresh trail, the Beagle gives forth with its famous "musical tongue." It's a signal game is near!

Records at our Remington Arms Library show that Setters were used on game birds in England 400 years ago! Popular in America since 1874, Gordon, English and Irish Setters are tall and keen-nosed — excellent for scenting pheasant and quail. They, like all hunting dogs, make excellent companions on your fun-filled hunting trip.

HOME REPAIRS:

Bridge Wall Cracks... Don't Fill Them!

1 Brush on a thin Coat of Tuff-Kote over the crack.

2 Cut desired length of Glass Fabric and apply over coated area.

3 Brush on a generous amount of Tuff-Kote along the edges of Glass Fabric.

4 Smooth out Tuff-Kote uniformly and feather edges to the surface with applicator.

If you have cracks in either interior or exterior walls you will be interested in a new product now available to the homeowners. It's called Tuff-Kote and is made by the Tuff-Kote Co. of Woodstock, Illinois. This new pliable patching material bridges the cracks instead of filling them and it consists of two parts—a heavy bodied, white oil-base compound, a roll of special open-mesh Glass Fabric tape and is available at paint, hardware and building supply stores. Suitable for use on practically all surfaces, this new product applies the principle that most cracks are caused by expansion and contraction of the building structure due to shifts in temperature. This causes ordinary hard-drying crack fillers and patching compounds to get "squeezed out" because they don't "give" as the cracks open or close. Because this new material bridges the crack rather than fills it—and because it dries to a firm, paintable finish only on the surface (the underneath remains pliable) this patching material will "give" with each expansion-contraction cycle. The crevice, however, remains sealed, smooth and invisible.

ANNAPOLIS REPORT

STATE SENATOR
E. O. WEANT, JR.

The friends of Western Md. College will be interested to know that we were able to procure $500,000.00 from the State on a matching fund basis to aid the College in expanding its facilities to accommodate 1,000 students instead of the present 700. This request was approved by Governor Tawes and at the time of this writing had passed the Senate. It appears that there should be little difficulty in having it approved by the House.

As previously reported the many controversial Inspection Bills were sent to a special sub-committee for study. This committee recently made its report to the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee but there was little semblance to the original intention of automobile inspection. For this reason the amended Bill was not passed by that Committee. In all probability, the matter will again be considered by the Legislative Council during the summer.

A Bill was passed requiring all new automobiles to have seat belts. There is sufficient time given in the Bill for the manufacturers to take this new law into effect.

Your correspondent introduced Senate Bill 611 which would prohibit any person under 21 years of age from having any alcoholic beverages in their possession in a public place or highway in Carroll County unless in the regular course of business where this possession is authorized by law.

Senate Bill 564, introduced by this reporter, would allow the Department of Correction to institute a "work release" program. This program is to allow prisoners, after careful screening, the privilege of leaving actual confinement to work at gainful employment in the State. Moneys received for this work would be paid to the prison officials and would be used for the payment of food and lodging for the prisoner, support of his or her dependents and the balance to be credited to the prisoners account and paid to him when he is released. It is hoped that this will be a saving to the State in the support of the prisoner, keep the dependents off of welfare and prevent idleness of the prisoner, thereby preserving his dignity and self-respect.

House Bill 1000 would provide for the establishment of a Maryland Veterans Home for the housing of veterans who are too ill or disabled to be self-sustained. The Bill provides for a Board of Managers of the Maryland Veterans Home who shall have the duties to investigate the various areas of the State where the Veterans Home may be established. The Bill also provides for a $3,500,000.00 bond issue by the State of Maryland to be repaid by the imposition of a tax on the wholesale price of soft drinks sold in Maryland. The tax would be collected by the Comptroller and used to defray and repay the amount borrowed.

House Bill 996 was introduced for the purpose of regulating campaign expenditures in the various elections throughout the State. The candidate would be prohibited from expending an amount which would be more than 25¢ for each vote which was cast for the particular office at the prior election.

A Bill concerning the crime of manslaughter by motor vehicle was introduced as House Bill 984. This would establish two degrees of manslaughter by vehicle. The penalties imposed by first degree manslaughter would be a jail sentence of 1 to 10 years and a fine of $1,000 to $10,000. Second degree manslaughter would have penalties of imprisonment for not more than 2 years or a fine of $100 to $1,000. In order to be found guilty of first degree manslaughter the defendant must be shown to have been operating the vehicle in a grossly negligent manner.

Since this will no doubt be the last column prior to the end of the regular 1963 Session of the Maryland General Assembly, we would like to take this opportunity to thank this paper for its kind cooperation in helping us keep the public informed on the happenings in Annapolis. Also we should like to thank our readers for their kind remarks on behalf of our efforts in this regard. After the Session is over and the Governor has signed the Bills into law, we will attempt to summarize briefly in these columns the more important changes affecting the State and Carroll County.

E. O. Weant, Jr.,
State Senator
for Carroll County.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, HAWAII (AHTNC) — Army PFC Philip Kauffman of Westminster Md., and other members of the 25th Infantry Division are participating in Exercise LAVA RIDGE IV, a combined Army-Air Force mobility exercise in the Hawaiian Islands which is scheduled to end April 1.

The soldiers, regularly stationed at Schofield Barracks on the island of Oahu, were flown in round-the-clock operations to the island of Hawaii where they are receiving three weeks of live-fire training.

Kauffman, assigned to Combat Company of the 35th Infantry's 2d Battle Group, entered the Army in September 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He arrived overseas in February 1962. The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kauffman, Rt. 4, Westminster, Md., is a 1958 graduate of Westminster High School.

THE TANEYTOWN LIONS HAVE LADIES NIGHT

The Taneytown Lions had their wives as their guests Tuesday evening. Eric Glass was introduced as a new member by Murray Baumgardner. After the meal Lion Ohler took charge of the meeting. Merle gave the Club the highlights of his trip to the west by color slides. Mrs. Ohler had recorded the comments on tape. As the comments were given on each picture occasionally Merle got behind the comments but soon caught up. There were a few candid camera shots of Lion Hess herding sheep and Mrs. Welker shoveling snow from her car.

President Baer reminded the Club of the Buddy Deane Hop on April 12th with Charles Little as general chairman.

Centennial

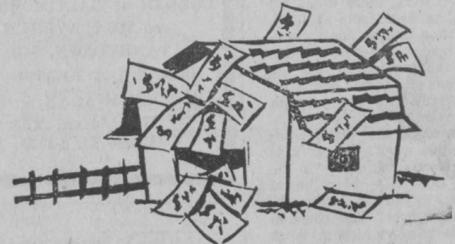

is a word that often goes with "celebration."
And America's banks—indeed, all Americans—have good reason to celebrate the Centennial, or 100th anniversary, of the National Currency Act of 1863. That Act in effect created our present "dual banking system" of state and national banks; and that system has contributed immeasurably to America's progress—through service.
