50th CLASS REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of Riverdale Farm and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson of Taneytown spent the week-end at Millersville State College, Mil-lersville, Pa., attending the 50th anniversary of the class of 1913. Mrs. Hesson and Mrs. Cluts were members of the 1913 class as well as a former Taneytown girl, Mrs. Elizabeth Crapster Waltersdorf of Washington, Pa. We met the Waltersdorfs at the col-lege and had breakfast together Sunday morning. The weather was ideal and a busy schedule ensued. There were 186 in the graduating class. At the Golden Anniversary Banquet held at Landis Valley Motor Inn there were 110 in attendance, 65 of these were members of the class accompanied by their husbands or wives.

Two highlights of Saturday afternoon were a visit to Mrs. Clara Bard Leisey's Old Covered Bridge Farm. A tour of the Bard home and a peek into Judge Guy K. Bard's study was a real treat. Guy, a brother of Clara, is a deceased member of our clara, is a deceased member of our class. The setting near the covered bridge spanning the Cocalico Creek, the stately old stone farm home, gorgeous evergreens surrounding the spacious lawn, and the priceless antiques were a rare treat. The other highlight was a visit to Marie Nibel Martin's home in Ephreta; another class mate. Marie and Clara were most gracious hostesses. The only regret, time was a premium.

Coming the greatest distance were Mrs. Martha Stegeman (Ebener) from Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Ethel Deibert MacEwan from Talahassee, Fla. It was their first visit since 1913. Fourteen members have passed to their reward since our 1958 re-

Kiwanis Klaxon

"'Twas a balmy summer evening And a goodly crowd was there That well nigh filled St. Joseph's Hall Just a block below the square."

Not only was St. Joseph's Hall filled with Kiwanians, their wives and guests, but each person present was filled with a tasty, bountiful and well-served dinner, chicken, ham and all the trimmin's to the continuous accompaniment of "Won't you have some more?" and from the gustatory groans it seems that everyone did and as the pleasure and fellowship of a delicious dinner is ever the hapof a delicious dinner is ever the happy prelude to a pleasant evening we would first acknowledge our debt of gratitude to the Rev. Francis P. Wagner of St. Joseph's Church and the goodly number of ladies of his congregation whose service merits the highest praise, their attitude so warm and friendly, and the cooperation of the entire group so outstanding that it leaves us standing in a sort of dumb wonderment. Hence to sort of dumb wonderment. Hence to correctly express our recognition of this excellent hospitality we not only say it was nice or nicer but in the superlative degree "the nicest" and we offer our thanks in the same

The theme of the meeting was "Smiles" and leave it to Kiwanians to bury the urbanities of social exactness and open up the values of friendly facetiousness with the many chuckles of exciting wit and pleasantry, good humor and merriment, and to all the clubs whose members join-ed with us to establish this atmosphere of good fellowship we are debtors. The Mt. Airy Club which waived its regular meeting to attend en masse was outstanding. Division 13 of the Pennsylvania District with delegations from Hanover, Harrisburg, Gettysburg and Upper Allen deserve and are hereby accorded our sincere thanks. Taneytown Club rejoices in the obligation we now have to return these inits and the property of the contract of the o return these visits and enjoy the Kiwan's fellowship of these Inter-District Clubs. Division 12 of the Capitol District was in the "Parade of Chicken Platters" led by Lieut. Gov. Harry E. Kelbaugh accompanied by a fine delegation from the Pikes-ville Club and as the fine club ville Club and as the fine club was the only representative from the 12th Division. We hereby authorize Harry and the Pikesville boys and their ladies to spread the news that a road is now open all the way to Taneytown and they are cordially invited to our Crab and Shrimp feed to be held at Memorial Park, Taneytown, Wednesday, July 17, 6 P. M. EDST when the Taneytown Club will once more follow their "Gourmand Tactics" (All you can eat). Many thanks to the Pikesville Club.

After opening exercises by President Oliver Leakins the Honorable Raymond Perry, Mayor of Taneytown, was introduced and spoke the words of welcome, also introducing two members of the City Council who were present, Mr. Neal Powell and Mr. Carel Frock. Mr. Ray Riley, Lieut. Gov. of the 9th Division and less representing the Westwington Lieut Power Pickey Paindler Power also representing the Westminster Club, was introduced and spoke briefly to prove he is the same old Ray with the big heart and the warm hand, also our old Club-fellow, the Rev. Miles Reifsnyder representing the Frederick Club. After group singing led by Flivver Waggoner the highlight of the evening was the "Sofisticates" of Cumberland with their entertainment which embodied everything from the Classic of Tales of Hoffman to the Ridiculous of Television Advertising. Their medleys of old songs, the artistic dancing of Miss Betsy Hosack and Jim Cumisky with John Clark at the piano, the singing of the trio, the solos, duets, etc., were profusely applauded. The skits which followed with vol-unteers from the audience, especially the Ballet Dancers as well as a quickly trained and equipped "Kitchen Band" brought screams of laughter and turned the whole meeting into a regular fun affair.

The evening closed with the audience singing "Auld Lang Syne" and with the entire assembly joining in expressions of a fine meeting and a very pleasant evening.

FARMERS VOTE "NO"; WHEAT PROGRAM DEFEATED

The 1964 Wheat Program was rejected by U.S. wheat farmers in a nationwide referendum last week. Preliminary results of the May 21 wheat vote, as announced by the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee in College Park, show that Maryland joined most of the other wheat-pro-ducing states throughout the country in defeating the plan

In Maryland, 823 growers voted in favor of the measure, with 3,876 opposed, and 1,252 ballots challenged. This means that only 17.5 per cent of Maryland's voting wheat producers (excluding challenged votes) favored the bill the bill.

Nationwide results show that about 42 per cent of the U.S. wheat growers who actually voted favored the plan. For the '64 wheat program to become effective, a two-thirds favor-able vote was necessary.

All figures are preliminary, with the final count to be announced within the next few days.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

GARNER, IOWA, LEADER: "In last year's appropriation for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Congress allocated some $840 million for the National Institutes of Health. This was $60 million more than had been requested in the administration's budget and $781 million more than the NIH had received ten years earlier - in the 1953 fiscal year. No one wishes to deny adequate funds for research leading to the causes and cure of afflictions - cancer, heart disease, arthritis, and many others that beset mankind. But, this sort of thing is ridiculousthe only inevitable result will be wasteful and extravagant spending."

GLOUCESTER CITY, N. J., NEWS: "Intellectual and political freedom thrive best in an educational system which is not subject to conformity in content and teaching practices dictated by remote control. Only under complete local jurisdiction will education be responsive to the needs and preferences of the community supporting it. Federal interwention will only aggravate and not solve whatever educational problems

TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: .....what makes the criminal mind tick the way it does ..... criminologists know relatively little about what sort of human being is likely to become a criminal. The roots of crime go deep, and in many directions. Their paths have been but imperfectly traced."

OSWEGO, KAN., INDEPEN-DENT: "If this nation wishes to improve and increase labor conditions it can do so by doing away with as many as possible of the business taxes and reports ..... Make it possible and probable for new people, younger people to venture into business on their own and be given at least a fair chance to succeed."

MC CAMEY, TEX., NEWS: "We are told that there is a crisis in education, that a $1.2 billion omnibus federal program is needed. But we spent 6 per cent of our national income on schools, compared with 2.2 per cent in 1913."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "A Presidentially-appointed committee, reporting on 'Measuring Employment and Unemployment,' has pointed out that the present statistical procedure does not go far enough in determining whether a person is truly looking for a job, or to what degree he may be choosing the type of work he will accept, and at what rate of pay he will accept it ..... with so much riding on unemployment statistics these days, it would seem essential that any weakness in the Bureau of Labor Statistic's methods of gathering and reporting their figures be shored up. The purpose of the statistics, after all, should be to point to possible cures for the malady of unemployment."

OWEN, WIS., ENTERPRISE: Featherbedding is one of the two major railroad problems which threaten their existence as private As the editor says at the end, enterprises, the other being excessive regulation. Both sorely weaken the cured by Congress. The first is now up to the unions. The whole nation will be watching to see what happens."

LOUISBURG, N. C., FRANKLIN If some of the labor unions aren't TIMES: "The United States .... riding for a fall, something has gone stands as a bulwark against nationdismally wrong with the thinking of alization and socialism (though we the people of this supposedly free practice some forms of socialism in our government, not calling it by Take, for instance, this recent name). One of the key reasons why we in the United States must keep The little town of Forest Grove, our country strong and continue to

TUNKHANNOCK, PA., REPUB-LICAN: "Congressman Durward G. daylights out of his constituents with a two-page report on governbeen invited to perform in various mental spending, which concluded with this shocker: 'In the length of And what happened? ### Taneytown Mother Killed in Auto Accident

A 32-year-old Taneytown mother of nine children, was one of two persons killed instantly in a two-car collision early Saturday morning on U. S. 140, approximately one tenth of a mile North of Littlestown, Penna. The accident occurred about 3:00 A.

State Police at Gettysburg, who investigated the accident, reported the woman, Mrs. Shirley Vivian Kiser, of RFD 2, Taneytown, was killed instantly when the car in which she was riding, driven by Chas. E. Yingling, 34, of Littlestown, sideswiped another auto and crashed headon into a cinderblock building.

Both Mrs. Kiser and Yingling were pronounced dead at the scene by Adams County, Pa., Coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist.

Police reported that the auto in which Mrs. Kiser was riding and the other vehicle involved, were both traveling South on 140 when the Yingling car attempted to pass the other vehicle. The second car involved was driven by Ray F. Houck, Jr, 26, of Littlestown.

2 KENNEDYS TOUR PARK AT GETTYSBURG ON SATURDAY

grandchild of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower served unofficially as hostess to the children of President Kennedy Saturday afternoon at Fantasyland, storybook park of Gettysburg along the Taneytown Road.

Interrupting a visit at Camp David, the Presidential retreat near Thurmont named for David Eisenhower, Caroline and John Kennedy, Jr., accompanied by two Secret Service men and a nurse, visited Fantasyland Saturday, arriving at 3 o'clock and leaving at 5:30.

Ann Eisenhower, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Eisenhower and granddaughter of former President Eisenhower, "helping out" at the moment at the park, was spotted by Secret Service man Robert Foster, who a few years before had Ann under his charge, and the granddaughter of one President became a guide for the children of another President through the park.

The Kennedy youngsters enjoyed the antics of a chimpanzee, which John, Jr., called "chimpmonk," slid down slides and took numerous rides on the Civil War train and merrygo-round. When they were about to leave Ann Eisenhower ran ahead to become "Mother Goose" for the Ken-

Dictionary Gift Helps Spell Success for Any June Graduate

WHETHER your favorite June graduates plan to matriculate at .college, study for advanced degrees or commence a career, the gift of an up-to-the-minute dictionary is a sure way to help them achieve success.

Illustrating the deluge of new vocabulary which has permeated contemporary life, complicating communication for everyone, Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary, just published, includes 20,000 new words and meanings among 130,000 entries.

This first completely new desk dictionary in ten years, represents the core of Merriam-Webster's intensive word usage study—research conducted continuously by a college-size staff of scholars who check both the written and spoken use of language by educated people everywhere, maintaining the only complete record of English words in action in the world. Swift comprehension of meanings and usage is achieved by Merriam-Webster's vivid defining techniques, synonym paragraphs and word descriptions. Contemporary status of borderline words is clarified at a glance by thousands of usage labels, such as "slang," "substandard" and "nonstandard."

Variety is the keynote of this year's electric refrigerator-freezers. There's variety in size, shape, style, interior arrangement of storage space

There's a 1963 electric refrigerator-freezer to suit every newlywed, large family, retired couple, bachelor, or bachelorette among the estimated 3,815,000 units to be shipped by the manufacturers this year.

Some of the new ones have extra-large vertical freezer and refrigerator sections side by side, while other models have roomy, zero-zone

freezer sections either above or below the refrigerator sections. Inside

As for ice cubes, you can have them any way you want. Automatic ice makers, roomy ice storage bins, self-filling ice trays, and standard ice trays that can be emptied at the flick of the hand are available in various models. In some, ice cubes are "dried" so they don't stick together.

Double and single crispers keep a bushel or so of fresh fruits, vegetables and salad greens market-fresh for a week at a time. Specially cooled meat compartments keep even hamburger and specialty meats fresh for days on end, and zerolow the refrigerator sections. Inside all of them there's plenty of storage space, with even the doors lined with shelves for containers large and small.

More efficient, thinner insulation has added storage space inside the new units without increasing outside measurements. Doors may be right or left hinged and are mounted for easy clearance so no space is needed between the unit and a side wall. Backs also fit snugly against the wall.

Refrigerator shelves, meat containers, crispers, and freezer baskets and shelves glide or swing out for easy access to contents. In some models, swing-around shelves in the refrigerator section not only revolve within the unit, but can also be taken out and used as serving trays. Many shelves are adjustable vertically to accommodate odd-shaped packages.

YOU CAN CONQUER CRABGRASS!

Last spring a contractor's bulldozer and shovel invaded our front lawn to dig up and replace a drainage bed. It was too late to reseed, so we let the area lie fallow through the sum mer months. In no time at all a fine crop of assorted - or should we call them sordid! - weeds had sprouted, where nothing but perennial grasses had been growing for many

One of these protections enables seeds of many kinds of plants to lie dormant for years, waiting for the right conditions to sprout and grow into the next generation of seed-bearing parents.

Many of us, probably, have read of the lotus seeds, which sprouted and grew into normal plants, after lying for hundreds of years in a Manchurian lake bed. And we know about the delicate flowers of the Southwestern desert which sprout and bloom only under special conditions of moisture and temperature.

Crabgrass may not be so romantic as these plants, but through the years it has demonstrated a sturdy ability to persist, even in the face of our stoutest efforts to rout it out, root and branch, from lawn of the special conditions of moisture and temperature.

Bible Material: Nehemiah 8; Psalms 19; 119. Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:9-16

TF YOU believe in God at all, there are only about three ways in which you can think of God's laws. One is to think that God may have a law for Himself or for angels, but not for us human beings. He depends on us to find the right trails by instinct, He trusts us to the extent that He will not dictate to us. He will not intrude upon our freedom. This is not the Bible's way of looking at it. God knows us too well.

Dr. Foreman We are His children, to be sure, and just as parent's who may not try to "run" their neighbors' children may have good rules for their own, so God would be a poor Father if He actually did not care what His human children do.

The handwriting of God

But among those who believe that God does require obedience of men, there is a difference of opinion. Some think that right and wrong are like the rules of a game, they can be changed at will. Children often do this. They will play with chess-men but they will move the pieces in ways that the rules forbid. There was a little girl once who was the pest of the neighborhood. She was always asking people to play some game or other with her, but whenever she found herself being beaten she would suddenly change the rules of the game. No one could ever win a game from her, because if everything else failed she would kick over the card table. God is not like that little girl, making rules for no reason to speak of except that He wants to have His own way.

The Bible knows of no such crazy, selfish God. Right is not right merely because He commands it; He commands it because it is right. His laws are not arbitrary rules that can be changed any time He pleases. They are the pattern of the universe. A carpenter knows the difference between cutting with the grain and against it. God's laws are just the grain of the universe, His universe. His laws are expressed in the way He made it. The handwriting of God is to be seen not in some mysterious secret document but in the laws of mathematics, of science, and of human life. They are written in the realaws, they are written in the conscience of all men with a spark of goodness in them.

Rejoicing in the law of God

The poet who wrote the longest Psalm, the longest chapter in the Bible, wrote it about God's law. That psalm (Psalm 119) has 176 verses and only two or three fail to speak of the law, perhaps using various other words meaning the same thing, such as ordinances, commands, statutes and the like. But this longest psalm not only speaks of the divine law, which for him was summed up in the laws of Moses, it sings of the law. This is a poem of joy. The laws of God are felt to be, not a fence to shut us out from happiness, not a grim discipline like an obstacle course in a training camp for soldiers, but of an expression of the will of the God who wants only the best for His creatures. Years ago Walter Lippmann put the matter quite simply: Morality
—he said—is nothing to crush vitality; morality is what vitality would choose if it knew what it was doing. Put that into Christian terms: Right thought and action is what human beings would choose if we knew what we are doing. God's laws are not chains, they are wings. The law of God is the will of God.

Laws for body and mind

People wonder sometimes why the church is so interested (for example) in the liquor business, why in fact many churches simply make it a rule: No drinking! Christians who stop short of total abstinence speak much of tem-perance. And this not only in alcohol but in all things. A life of excess,—excess of emotions, of eating or drinking, yes too much work or sleep or play — an un-balanced life, this the Christian church knows to be harmful. The church hangs out warning-signs along here not to destroy innocent pleasures but because, as Christ's voice and hands on this earth, the church is concerned to see that life,-of the body, the mind and the spirit—does not weaken itself by disobeying the laws of life which God Himself has made.

What are the reasons for this, and what can be done about it? Dr. Spindler blames teenage undernourishment largely on skipping breakfast and filling up on snacks made up mainly of "empty calories"—foods full of sugar, fat, and starches, but very little protein, minerals and but very little protein, minerals and

Science In The News

Scientific advances of the Twentieth Century dazzle the imagination, but let's never forget that the most remarkable machine of all is the human body.

Take body temperature, for example. Normal is considered 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. In a healthy person, it generally remains around this level, give or take one degree. Many things make the body temperature vary slightly from normal. According to General Electric scientists, when we perspire, water evaporates from the skin and the temperature of the body goes down. Exercise makes the heart pump faster and raises the temperature. Curiously enough, the sensation of heat or cold is due to a change in skin temperature, not of the body.

Functioning well, the body loses heat as fast as it is produced. In mammals, this organic control of heat production and loss keeps the body at just about the same temperature regardless of the temperature of the surrounding air. ture of the surrounding air. Whether you're ice skating or swimming, your incredible temperature control is doing its

This natural mechanism has been the inspiration for the automatic temperature controls built into modern air condition-ing units. On the new General Electric room air conditioners, a sensitive thermostat auto-matically maintains the desired comfort level of the air in which you live. Although a variety of factors tend to cause room temperature to change—number of people, time of day, etc.—these controls automatically regulate the air conditioner's output so that room temperature remains that room temperature remains at the comfortable level selected by the householder.

Humidity control is another major aspect affecting body comfort. The body's cooling mechanism operates by evaporating perspiration into the surrounding air. When that sur-rounding air, however, is aleady high in moisture content, it cannot absorb the additional water vapor from the skin. It is at these times that we realize that it is the humidity and not the heat which is responsible for discomfort. So long as the perspiration, romains perspiration remains on the skin we feel hot and sticky.

Man has helped nature by devising techniques whereby moisture content is drawn from the surrounding air in order to facilitate natural evaporation of body moisture. This is one of the most important functions of air conditioning.

All of the new General Electric Superline air conditioners contain highly efficient dehumidifying systems which can remove moisture from hot, humid air at the rate of 15.9 to 24 gallons per day, depending upon the model. It is this heightened "crispness" which makes air conditioned rooms so much easier to live in, sleep in and work in. Amazing as it would have sounded 50 years ago, today every household can be comfortable regardless of the searing heat and oppressive humidity outside.

C. L. Carbaugh, 59, Burns to Death as Flames Engulf Dwelling

A 59-year-old man burned to death Friday night, May 24, 1963, when flames swept through his two-story brick home on Trevanion Rd., Fair-view, near Uniontown, Md.

Firemen identified the victim as Charles Levine Carbaugh, Sr., a machine operator at the Shower Mill works in Taneytown.

His widow, Evelyn Albaugh Carbaugh, was treated for shock at the Carroll County General Hospital on Saturday. His son, Charles L. Carbaugh, Jr., was admitted to the hospital for treatment of burns.

Firmmen said Carbayah his wife Firemen said Carbaugh, his wife, son and daughter-in-law, and two children who live together at their farm home, went to bed and not long afterward Mr. Carbaugh heard a noise, such as windows breaking.

He said to his wife, getting out of bed, "I wonder what made that noise? I'd better look." He went down the stairs onto the ground floor, smelled smoke and yelled

By that time, his son, Charles, Jr., was out of bed. The stairway was engulfed with flames so the son climbed out a window and onto a porch roof, secured a ladder and rescued his mother, wife and children from an upstairs window.

An effort to rescue his father by trying to enter several doors was unsuccessful. The entire building by that time was enveloped with flames. Firemen found the farm house engulfed in flames when they arrived about 11:00 P. M. They said the fire apparently started in the basement.

Carbaugh's body was found inside the front door. It was removed while the flames were still raging through the house.

The victim, firemen added, apparently tried to open the front door before he was overcome by smoke and

The house and all its contents were destroyed in the blaze. Loss was estimated at more than $25,000.

Members of the Taneytown, Union Bridge, New Windsor, Pleasant Valley and Harney fire companies battled the blaze.

Carbaugh was the son of the late Chas. J. and Mary Warner Carbaugh. Surviving, in addition to his widow and the son who lived at home, are three other children, Mrs. Ruth Black, Union Bridge; John D. Car-baugh, Westminster, and W. Luther Carbaugh, Uniontown. Eight grand-children also survive.

The victim was a member of the Union Bridge Church of the Brethren. Services were held Monday, 27th, at the Union Bridge funeral home of D. D. Hartzler and Sons, conducted by his Pastor, Rev. Glenn M. Baird. Interment was in Pipe Creek Cemetery, near New Windsor.
