Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal

County residents should mark October 1 on their calendars as an important date to remember.

On that date, the Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal will launch its annual campaign for funds in our county. This money is needed to enable the 47 agencies of the Community Chest and the 21 services of the Red Cross to carry on operations next year.

The occurrence of individual and increase. family problems is on the increase. This is evident in the fact that more and more people are seeking help from community agencies.

Carroll County is no exception. All of us have a direct interest in our community, through our families, friends and neighbors. The United Appeal supplies a method by which we can show tangibly that this in-terest is more than just a token ges-

As county campaign Chairman Joseph Hahn, Jr., recently pointed out, a gift to the United Appeal is really an investment in your community, yielding the greatest possible returns. Contributions will help the young, the aged, the sick and distressed of our county who must rely on the services of private welfare for assistance in times of need. Through this once-a-year campaign, each of us can reach vital causes that help everyone from the smallest infant to the oldest senior citizen. It is important that we Carroll Countians lend our full support to this year's drive.

The reason is quite simple: The monies we will give will be used in the county, on Carroll residents, and enable agencies operating within our boundries to continue their services

Last year generous Carroll residents gave $25,189 to the United Appeal. This contribution was realized through payroll deductions, executive and corporate gifts, and just plain door-to-door bell ringing.

Let's take a look at just a small part of what this investment bought for our county residents: The Kernan Crippled Children's Hospital took care of 29 Carroll youngsters in 1962, giving them medical services that cost $15,448. Children's Aid and Family Services spent $1200 to provide assistance to ten county families. Our aged were not overlooked, for Pickersgill Home for overlooked, for Pickersgill Home for the Aged had an elderly county pa-tient for the entire year at a cost of $2343. Some 1821 boys were able to take part in Boy Scout activities at a cost of $10,240, while 769 girls were in the Girl Scouts and taking part in a program costing $6,829. Agencies operating here such as the YMCA and Salvation Army have been giving and Salvation Army have been giving similar services to our residents.

This is only a partial list of the benefits that your donations last year made possible to your families, friends and neighbors. It shows the value of an "investment" to the United Appeal.

The campaign in Carroll County will start October 1 and continue through November 5. We feel this worthwhile drive is worthy of your

As Chairman Hahn stated, "Be generous with your contributions to the United Appeal, for your gifts will spell help to distressed people who need this assistance badly.

Residential customers, particularly those in rural areas and those with lower electrical usage, will benefit most from the reductions. The new schedules filed by PE eliminate three existing residential rates and institute a single residential rate which is considerably lower than any presently in effect.

Under these new schedules, each residential customer served by Potomac Edison in Maryland will receive a reduction. Over half of the total rate cut is being applied to the res-idential field, affecting over 76,000 customers. Small commercial and rural commercial customers also stand to benefit substantially by the lower rates. Two existing commercial rates are being cancelled and a new, lower commercial rate will be applied. Substantial reductions are also being made in several categories of industrial and lighting customers. The new rates filed by PE are temporary, pending completion of a full review of the utility company's rates by the PSC. They will conform with a previous agreement with the Commission that PE would endeavor to

FACTS AND OPINIONS

In these turbulent days a few words scholar and educator, Booker T. Washington, should be recalled: "The wisest among my race understand that the agitation of questions of social equality is the extremest folly, and that progress in the enjoyment of all the privileges that will come to us must be the result of severe and constant struggle rather than of artificial forcing. No race that has anything to contribute to the markets of the world is long in any degree ostracized. It is important and right that all privileges of the law be ours, but it is vastly more important that we be prepared for the exercise of these privileges. The opportunity to earn a dollar in a factory just now is worth infinitely more than the opportunity to spend a dollar in an operahouse.'

At the time this writer was discussing the dangers to children of discarded refrigerators, with the president of an Oregon organization to promote the removal of doors on such refrigerators, three boys between the ages of 5 and 11 died of suffocation in an abandoned freezer in Independence, Oregon. Unused refrigeration units with doors on them are traps set for unsuspecting children. - Ernest Hofer.

According to Tom Henry in This Week magazine, it costs the United States $500,000 a day to store the six billion dollars worth of wheat, corn, cotton, butter, skim milk, and other farm surpluses.

Dana L. Farnsworth, M. D., Director of Harvard University Health Service, believes vacations have definite therapeutic value. While many administrators scoff at vacations, in his opinion: ". . . the use of time off does serve to increase a man's capacity to withstand pressure and to enable him to do more work than he could accomplish otherwise. The balancing of intense activity with privacy and time for contemplation should occur regularly during the work year. Longer periods of purely pleasureable activities, characteristic of vacation seasons, will go far to promote the objectivity and perspective so necessary for good judgment in the capable executive."

In recommendations to the President's permanent Advisory Commission on Narcotics and Drug Abuse, the American Medical Association and the National Academy of Sciences urge that medical considerations take precedence over punative measures in treatment of addicts.

The Wall Street Journal points out that "Since electric power is available to just about every farm in the country, it would seem logical for the Rural Electrification Administration to stop expanding. But since political instrumentalities are not necessarily logical, the REA is busily financing the building of more and bigger electric generating plants."

A new study containing a six-year analysis of the more than 8,000 newfield wildcat wells drilled in 1956 shows that less than 2 per cent uncovered commercial quantities of oil or natural gas. The average well costs roughly $55,000 to drill-whether or not it finds oil or gas. In less accessible areas, the average goes considerably higher. A typical offshore well costs nearly $400,000.

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 15TH

Sunday, Sept. 15, 1963, marked the start of the fall 1963 fire season, during which, until Dec. 15, 1963, the 4:00 o'clock open-air burning regulations are in effect.

The regulation prohibits open-air burning before 4:00 P. M. (EST) when within 200 feet of woodland, or inflammable material which could carry fire to woodland. Burning between 4:00 P. M. and midnight (EST) is permitted if there is a safety strip 10 feet wide, free of inflammable material, around the area to be burned, and sufficient tools and men on hand to keep the fire under control, until the last spark is out.

District Forester Henry E. Stasiek

The critical 1963 spring fire season is still fresh in the minds of citizens, local fire companies and the Maryland Forests and Parks personnel. It is hoped that all citizens personnel. It is hoped that all citizens practice safety and follow the law regarding open-air burning.

Open-air trash burners are not exempted from this regulation, outside the limits of incorporated towns. This has been a frequent cause of wildfires, necessitating the attention of forest fire personnel, and local fire companies

BROADWAY COMEDY
"A THOUSAND CLOWNS"
AT FORD'S FOR ONE WEEK STARTING SEPTEMBER 30th

When "A Thousand Clowns" burst uproariously on the Broadway scene last season the critics cheerer for one of the freshest, sassiest comedies in years and for a brilliant new playwright in Herb Gardner — the same youthful laugh-maker who created the unforgettable cartoon characters, the Nebbishes.

"A Thousand Clowns" — voted
"The Freshest Funniest Comedy of the season!" by Time Magazine — is the comedy of a willfully unemployed television writer (Dane Clark) fighting a last ditch stand against re-employment by a syrupy TV kiddie show, despite the urgings of his precocious 13-year-old nephew and ward (Barry Gordon) and a lovely social case-worker (Margaret O'Brien) who comes to investigate the lad's environment and stays to be his uncle's ady-love. Howard Taubman of the New York Times proclaimed "A Thousand Clowns" to be "A Delightful Winner!"; Life Magazine hailed it as "Irresistable!"; the New York Journal American found it merely "The Best Comedy of the Season!" and the New York World-Telegram counted "A Thousand Laughs!" in Herb Gardner's romp.

Dane Clark returned to the New York stage last year after a distinguished film career to win raves off Broadway in "Brecht on Brecht" and hearty applause uptown in "A Thousand Clowns." Miss O'Brien — after a career as a top child movie actress -has recently blossomed on the stage and TV as a new and brilliant grown-up ingenue. "A Thousand Clowns" with Dane Clark and Margaret O'Brien, is presented by the distinguished Broadway team Fred Coe and Arthur Cantor, with Mr. Coe's original Broadway staging. The settings and lighting are by Geo. Jenkins and the costumes by Duth Mealey. by Ruth Morley.

Koufax. Last year, the Los Angeles Dodgers didn't have Koufax and lost the Championship to the San Francisco Giants. This season, the Dodgers have him and have stood off the challenge of the St. Louis Cardinals. It's as simple as that.

In 1962, the magnificent 27-yearold lefthander with the blazing fast ball and the sharp-breaking curve, won 14 games and lost five and was 7:30 on his way to the major league 7:00 strikeout record until he was side-P. Koufax tried a comeback late in September, when the Dodgers were battling the Giants for the pennant, but his finger hadn't healed sufficiently to enable him to grip the ball properly. In his brief appearances, he was knocked out of the box early, and with him went the Dodgers' pennant chances.

Koufax's brilliance the other week -he pitched a four-hit, 4 to 0 shutout over the Cardinals in a game St. Louis had to win-locked up the pennant for the Dodgers. When Koufax is healthy, there probably isn't a better pitcher in baseball. He's held the Dodgers together. He's the main reason they're in first place. He leads the major league in victories with 24, in shutout with 11, in strikeouts with 288, in complete games with 20 and also in innings pitched.

Not since Grover Cleveland Alex ander turned in 16 shutouts in 1916 has a major league pitcher had more than Koufax. His 288 strikeouts is a National League record. But it wasn't so long ago that Koufax despaired of ever being a real pitcher. He had a strong arm, which he says was his greatest asset but also his greatest liability. He always tried to fire the ball past batters, instead of pitching with his head. When Koufax decided to become a oitcher instead of a thrower-on advice from his former batterymate, Norm Sherry — he became almost unbeatable.

Now says teammate Don Drysdale: "When Sandy's right, you're just overmatched. He's the only pitcher I've seen if he pitched a no-hitter every time I wouldn't be a bit sur-prised. If somebody gets a hit against him, I'm surprised.

So are a lot of other people. When the New York Yankees start action in the 1963 World Series it will mark their 157th game in World Series Action. That is a record that no other team has ever reached. In their previous 156 games the Yankees have won 97, lost 58 and tied one. Yes, that is correct. There is one tie. That came about in 1922 when the second contest was called at the end of ten innings by the umpires because of darkness.

The Yankees were the patsies of the American League until the 1921 season. Then the Dynasty which has lasted to this day got into action.
With many great stars, including Babe Ruth, switching uniforms from the Boston Red Sox to the Yankees, the club won the American League pennant for the first time. Even then the Yankees were known for their

THUNDERBIRD FOR '64

Ford's Thunderbird-already noted

Ford's Thunderbird—already noted for a decade fo styling leadership—offers more industry first for 1964 in both design and function.

"Underneath the most famous roofline in America is all-new styling to give the 1964 Thunderbird a fresh, new personality of its own," said Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division genvice president and Ford Division gen eral manager. "But the new styling of the Thunderbird, in classic car tradition, evolves from the character and outstanding features of its pred

The 1964 Thunderbird has been given a longer hood and a shorter roofline, while the all-new body side panels are highly sculptured. The front end features a more forceful power dome, wider spaced and higher set headlights, and a fully integrated bumper and grille.

The rear end has new rectangular taillights set within the massive integrated rear bumper.

Completely new in interior styling, too, the 1964 Thunderbird features a cockpit styling motif in the driver's compartment. Instruments are set in separate pods and the speedometer has been redesigned for easier reading. All major controls are illumi-nated by a soft green light for night-

The standard equipment offered last year, including a 390-cubic-inchengine, power steering, power brakes, and swing-away wheel, have been carried over in 1964. Many options also are available, including air conditioning; AM-FM radio; a reclinged passenger seat with extendible headrest that provides living-room comfort on wheels; and a safety-convenience control panel with vacuum door locks, doors ajar light, and emergency flasher.

The 1964 Thunderbirds will be introduced in Ford dealerships Friday. September 27.

Eye-catching new styling is combined in the 1964 Thunder-bird with unique luxury features including thin-shell bucket seats and the auto industry's first retractable seat belts. A longer hood, integrated bumper and grille and rectangular taillights enhance its traditional look of elegance (top photo). New features of its cockpit motif interior styling (bottom photo) include separate instrument pods, a distinctive new command console, and coved rear seats. An optional reclining seat for the front passenger includes an extendible head rest for complete relaxation on long trips. A new Silent-Flo ventilation system includes a vent at the bottom of the rear window on Landau and Hardtop models. The new Thunder-birds will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.

Life of Faith

Lesson for September 29, 1963

Bible Material: Genesis; Psalm 105: 1-24; Galatians 3; Hebrews 11:1-22. Devetional Reading: Psalm 105:1-11. FAITH" is despised by people who don't have it and don't understand it. Faith is caricatured as an attitude of ignorance. It is compared to taking a chance or going on an errrand that is bound to fail. Faith is said (by people who have none) to be

Faith has been compared to a blind man going Dr. Foreman down into the cellar at midnight, without a light, looking for a black cat that isn't

Faith's uncertainties

Nobody who has long lived the life of faith is bothered by such misunderstandings. For one thing, he knows very well that the man who tells you he believes only what he can test with his own five senses does not really mean it, because if you believe only what you can personally test, you will have an unhappy time of it. Suppose you try eating breakfast without faith some morning. The label on the cereal box says it has riboflavin and vitamin B and a lot of other things. Do you know that none of these is poisonous? Do you know they're all there? You know nothing of the sort; you believe it. You go to the hospital for an operation; do you know the surgeon's hand won't slip? No, but you trust yourself to him all the same. There can't be any more certainty than the certainty of faith, in most circumstances of

The men whose lives have been briefly before us in these past few weeks, Abraham, Jacob and Joseph, knew what the uncertainties of faith can be. Abraham went "not knowing whither he went." Jacob had no assurance that his God would prosper him. He hoped so, to be sure; but to the end of his days there were questic marks in his future. So with Joseph; for long years, though the word is not written large in the stories of him, the fact of his faith is there. If Joseph had yielded to the tyranny of the obvious, he would have stayed a slave. He lived by what he did not see.

The certainties of faith Did you ever fly, as a passenger, in a little plane just big enough for two? Just for a joke, while you were fastening your may have sung a verse or two of "Dig my grave with a silver spade." But you buckled that belt and up you rose into the scary sky. Now you believed in a lot of things. You believed the engine would not "conk out," you believed the wings were fastened with something stronger than glue, you believed the tail assembly would hang together, that the direction-finder and the altimeter and the dozen or so other gadgets on the instrument board were accurate, you believed in all the radio control towers and beacons you overflew; but when you come right down to it, what you really put faith in was not a what, it was a who. You trusted the pilot. You (not being a pilot, and not used to flying perhaps) could not predict what he would do next. If you never studied aerodynamics, the chances are that you didn't even know exactly how the plane stays aloft. You certainly could not read the inside of the pilot's mind. But you trusted him all the same.

God is the pilot You see there are a lot of things to trust in even a small airplane. But you don't really trust the things, but the pilot, a person. You trust him (among other things) to check everything about the plane, you put your faith in his knowledge and in his skills. If you couldn't trust him, you couldn't very well trust the plane.

The life of faith in God is like that. There are many things we have to believe in, on our flight through this life. But essentially, religious faith is faith in a person, our Father in heaven. We can't see what He is doing, we can't understand all He does even when we see Him do it, we don't know why this or that happens. There's a great deal more that we don't know than we do know. But we trust Him. The great difference between God and any airline pilot is that even the boldest and most skilful pilots know there are kinds of clouds they dare not enter, weather conditions they cannot control. The best of them can be grounded. But the true God is never grounded, for no cloud is too dark and storm-swept for Him.

Hero!

It's easy to be a hero when you can bring help in emergencies as quickly as the telephone can.

Even so, we hope you won't have to call on your phone for more than small acts of heroism. Like finding a lost dog. Or changing plans at the last minute.

It is reassuring to know, though, that when seconds count . . . you can count on your phone.

It's a built-in value of low-cost telephone service.
