Juniors and Seniors Attend Career Day Assembly

The Junior and Senior classes of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School at-tended a two-hour session of lectures and discussions concerning their mili-and discussions concerning their mili-tary obligations and college prospects on Thursday morning, Feb. 13. Representing four of the five arm-ed services, Donald O'Hara of the Army, Leo C. Mitchell of the Air Force, Harry W. Schuble of the Navy, and Kenneth Day of the Marine Corps space to a majority of the students spoke to a majority of the students in the school auditorium. Speaking to the rest of the stu-dents in the school cafeteria, the representatives of the two colleges present, Mr. Stewart of Strayer and Mr. Waltermire of Thompson, addressed those students interested in commercial activities.

The program began with an intro-duction by Mr. Bernard Thrush, the school's guidance counselor. The busi-ness minded students then met with the college representatives in the cafeteria. After a brief presentation by Air Force Sargeant Mitchell, the remaining students divided themselves into groups to listen to the advantages of each branch of the armed services. Given the chance to change servicemen during the pro-gram, many students listened to more than one aspect of their mili-

PROPOSED TAX BILL REDUCES COUNTY INCOME

A spokesman for the petroleum industry said that passage by the Gen-eral Assembly of legislation increasing the State gasoline tax from 6¢ to  $7\phi$  per gallon would actually re-duce funds available to counties and municipalities for local roads and streets streets. S. H. Tevis, Jr., Chairman of the Carroll County Petroleum Committee predicted "an annual loss to Carroll County of \$48,500, beginning in the fiscal year 1965." He added: "Municipalities within the county would stand to lose a total of \$3,300 annually, about a third of which, ap-proximately \$1,100, would be lost to the City of Westminster." Despite the fact that the county and city treasuries would be penalized the new legislation would cost Carroll Countians an additional \$220,000

Mr. Tevis said a "joker" in the legislation (Senate Bill 39) reserves all of the revenue raised by the proposed one-cent tax increase to the State Roads Commission. Heretofore gasoline tax revenues have been shar-ed on a 50-50 basis with political sub-divisions for local road needs. He explained: "My predictions are based on the sales loss experienced in other States which have increased their tax rates which have increased their tax rates from 6 to 7 cents per gallon. "For every gallon of sales lost, Maryland loses not only the addi-tional penny, but the full six cents of the original tax as well. "It is this six cents which is shared by the local governments, and they will bear the brunt of the loss."

"LET THERE BE LIGHT"

All morning the sky has looked gray and threatening on this late February day. Now, as I gaze from my kitchen window, the heavy clouds let down their white burden. The whole world looks raw and cold, as the snow piles up deeper and deeper At the moment, spring seems quite far away. However, despite the frigid weather nature has already sounded her alarm clock. A magic touch is summoning the plants from the earth, the birds from the south, and the animals from their snug beds of hibenation. What is this magic touch? For years, people believed that it was heat, or the re turn of warm weather, which awak-ened the earth from its long, mysteri-ous slumber. Scientists and biologists have since proven that the main timing device is light. Temperature is fickle. It varies sharpiy from day to day and from year to year. Light, on the other hand, is completely reliable; every year on a given day, the duration of light is the same and has been for millions of years. When I checked my calendar, I found that the first day of February was 10 hours and 8 minutes long. Today-the 25th-the hours of day-Today—the 25th—the hours of day-light have increased to 11 hours and 5 minutes. These additional hours of light are slowly, but surely, breaking winter's grip. Already, deep under the snow, the blood-root and skunk cabbage plants are pushing upwards. Before long, the roots of all growing thing are still cover and skunk cabbage plants are pushing upwards.

Senator Weant's Report

Withholding State Funds - A bill to authorize the State Comptroller withhold all payment of monies to any political sub-division which does not comply with the terms of any order issued by the State Board of Health and Mental Hygiene has been introduced into the House of Delegates. The funds would be withheld until the political sub-division complies with the order issued. Al-though there is a constitutional ques-tion raised by this bill, it would give a large club to the State Board of Health and Mental Hygiene if passed.

Joint Legislative Budget Committee — This bill would provide for the appointment of a Joint Legislative Budget Committee consisting of 12 members. It would be the duty of this Committee to carry on a con-tinuous review of the State Budget tinuous review of the State Budget in order to keep the members of the General Assembly informed of the budget operation for better under-standing. The bill contains an ap-propriation of $75,000 for the year 1964 for the use of the Committee. This piece of legislation was appar-ently prompted by the voluminous matter of the budget and the diffi-culty that many have in understand-ing its provisions.

ing its provisions. Motor Vehicle Inspection — An-other motor vehicle inspection bill was introduced in the House of Dele-gates. This would provide for an annual inspection program of all motor vehicles registered in the State of Maryland. It would be adminis-tered by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and would be carried on in buildings which are to be leased by the Commissioner. The Commissioner would be authorized to establish rules and regulations to implement the in-Motor Vehicle Inspection and regulations to implement the in-spection procedure. An annual in-spection fee of $2 is established and a penalty not to exceed $500 is pro-vided for failure to abide by inspection procedures. Unemployment Insurance-A hearing was had this past week on a bill that would increase unemployment insurance benefits and at the same time reduce the insurance rate paid by the employer. This unique situation apparently occurred through an increase in the insurance fund by the bill 19 which was designed to cut out some of the "chiseling" that had been going on against the fund.

Uninsured Motorists Fee - This bill would be effective when an in-surance policy is cancelled subsequent to the issuance of motor vehicle li-cense. It would provide that the amount of the uninsured motorists fee levied under the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund for that year shall automatically become a lien against the automobile. This lien would be superior to any other lien placed against the vehicle.

Congressional Reistricting -Be cause of a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States it is felt that it is imperative to realine the Congressional Districts in the State of Maryland prior to the coming election. For this purpose a Special Committee of 16 members of the Legislature has been appointed to work out a suitable plan. It is suggest legislation to postpone the May Primary. This would provide time to formulate and pass a Rebelieved that districting Bill prior to the next elec-tion so that the members of the House of Representatives in the State of Maryland would not be forced to run "at large." Work Release for Prisoners - Last year your correspondent introduced and supported a Bill which was passed by the Legislature to provide a program under which prisoners sen-tenced to terms of not more than 5 years could be granted the privilege of leaving actual confinement during necessary and reasonable hours for the purpose of gainful and private employment. This program has been such a success that we have now introduced a bill to remove the 5 year sentence limitation. It is felt that there are many long-term prisoners who would be suitable for this pro-gram. Since those inmates partici-pating in this plan are required to pay for their keep at the institution and also to provide for support for their dependents out of the money they make, it is financially beneficial to the State and to the prisoners as well as being a good morale factor. Excusing Pupils for Religious In-struction — This bill would permit the local Boards of Education to excuse pupils from school with writ-ten consent from parents or guardian for religious exercises or instruction away from school property. Pupils so excused would not be deemed absent in computing daily attendance, except that no pupil could be excused for more than 4 days per month.

CARROLL GOP PICKS BUSHEY FOR CARR JOB

In a surprise move yesterday, the Carroll County Republican State Central Committee recommended James L. Bushey, a dairy farmer, to fill a vacancy on the Board of County Commissioners.

Leading candidate for the post until he removed himself from consider-ation was Charles E. Saylor, a form-er Commissioner who missed a seat on the board in the 1962 election by only 30 votes. Saylor said he would accept the post only in the event of a deadlock, leaving Taneytown Mayor Raymond J. Perry as the front-runner. Perry also ran in the 1962 election, missing a seat on the board by less than 300

The Central Committee met Monday in an attempt to choose a suc-cessor for Mr. Carr, but after a three and one-half hour session failed to name a man.

The recommendation must be approved by Gov. Tawes.

FBLA to Present Annual Play

"Calling All Girls," a farce in three acts by Vivian Mayo, has been selectacts by Vivian Mayo, has been select-ed as the play to be presented by the FBLA on March 6 and 7 in the high school auditorium. The cast for the play is as follows: Molly Ricker, Frances Flohr; Dolly Ricker, Janet Kint; Polly Ricker, Becky Gartrell; Jim Hilton, John Dickinson; Julius, Pichord Class: Starr Marfield Tinia Richard Glass; Starr Mayfield, Tinia Fleagle; David Ricker, Edward Koons; George Ricker, Robert Mil-ler; Norma, Genevieve Kiss; Rita, Diana Smith; Bethie, Carole Koons; Maioic Linda Hahn Maisie, Linda Hahn.

The action of the play centers around Molly, Polly, and Dolly, three maiden aunts, who have devoted their entire lives to pampering their nephew, David. David is young and nandsome, but is more interested in the stars of the heavens than in young women of marriageable age. His wealthy uncle, George Ricker, decides that the only way to save David from himself is to get him married. Fur-thermore, if David does not marry, he must forfeit a sizeable inheritance. The three aunts are not in full agree ment with George's plans for David, and they conspire to get David married in their own peculiar way. After much confusion and seven girls later, it seems that David has married three girls. How could he make such a blunder? Everything ends on a happy chord, and Uncle George sees the error of his ways.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

QUAKERTOWN, PA., FREE PRESS: "Congress may not have fattened the law books much in its last session, but it did chop billions of dollars from spending requests-to the tune of about $139 per family. . . . But one of the biggest of the Congressional triumphs for economy may turn out to be a somewhat hollow victory. True, only . . . $3 billion was appropriated for foreign aid, instead of the $4.5 billion requested. But foreign aid officials are cheerful, because they now report they have $670 million on hand, appropriated in earlier years, and available to be spent, lent, given away or wasted in the usual fashion."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "Governor Romney voiced the fears of many . . . when he termed the Nationwide contract between the Teamsters Union and the trucking industry 'an excessive concentration of power.' And he is precisely right. The contract involves some 400,000 men in 400 locals, working for about 1,000 companies. figures alone are potent, covering they do the major firms in the trucking business. . . . If there is an avowed determination on the part of teamsters not to use the power which the pact gives them, why was there such a dither to get it?"

ONTARIO, CALIF., REPORT: "On the New York Stock Exchange tobacco issues have gone down somewhat.) But in many areas cigarette sales have gone up. Apparently some chain smokers were afraid that their favorite commodity might be taken off in a valiant effort to keep up with a jet airliner which was taking off. Published every Thursday, at Taneytown, The motorist was on his way home from a party and mistook the runway for a freeway. It could happen to anyone."

> AFTON, WYO., INDEPENDENT: "Theme has been much controversy as to how states which have enacted right-to-work laws compare economically with those which have not. Expert manipulators of statistics can make a case for either side of this controversy, and can thus confuse voters. . . . The important thing, we believe, is the direction we are heading with regard to the preservation of freedom. And Wyoming's rightto-work law is a step in the right direction. It should be defended by all who believe in constitutional freedom and basic rights of the individual."

showed us pictures of her father and mother and grandparents. As we were about to leave, she said she would show some of the most inter-esting features of the home. We took the stairway down. We first went to the Sanctuary where at any time they can go for meditation and pray-er and where they receive Holy Communion. Then we were taken to the Chapel which had rows and rows of comfortable chairs. She told us they had a wonderful organist, a Miss Eva King, who is 83 years of age. Lastly we were shown the dining room, a beautiful room with 26 large tables; then on back to the kitchen with all modern equipment and a huge place to work. The sitting room is as long as the building, with lots of comfort-

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor,

How many of your readers re-member when a few Carroll County citizens made a timid assault on POVERTY? The record is on file at the Westminster Methodist Church. In March 1958 the County Commissioners after some discussion ap-pointed a Study Committee of outstanding citizens, who reported and recommended in June 1958 that the recommended in June 1958 that the County Commissioners appoint a Housing Authority under the auth-ority of Article 44A of the Code. A public meeting was held. Many citizens supported the Study Commit-tee as a beginning to improve the condition in which many of our citi-zens lived through no fault of their own

The County Commissioners have never acted on that recommendation. And there has been no appreciable improvement in the problem, which left to solve itself has remained unsolved. This would be a good time for This would be a good time for public spirited citizens to get together again and begin a DO-IT-OUR-SELVES project with a massive as-sault on local conditions of poverty at the HOUSING front! We still need a Housing Authority for the most troublesome area housing for low in troublesome area, housing for low income families and unemployables. We could also interest local organiza-

You played shortstop that first year, but it was generally an unproductive season. The following year, you were Ken Hubbs who had been demoted to the Wenatchee, -some rapidly and others more slowly. Progression from one reading level to another may take place at the end of the year or any time during the school year as growth warrants. Normally, a child would progress through reading levels of the primary Wash., team in the class "B" league. There, they converted you from a shortstop to a second baseman and you spent hours practicing the douschool in three years and through the complete elementary school in six. Some, however, may require more time in the primary levels and some ble play. You pa learned thoroughly. You got your big chance in 1962 when the Cubs traded away Don Zimmer and Jerry Kindall. You responded with surprising skill in the field and at het You became Ken Hubbs the may require seven, rather than six, years to complete the course of the normal elementary school experience. It is hoped, however, that more time spent at the primary level will en-able many children to acquire a bat. You became Ken Hubbs, the Cubs' new second baseman. And you amazed the baseball world with your firmer foundation in reading and, consequently, enable them to make more rapid progress at higher levels, both in the elementary school and in slick fielding and your sharp hitting. On June 13, 1962, you fielded a grounder by Smokey Burgess of both in the elementary school and in later years of high school. Recently three teachers from the school, Mrs. Betty Gass, Mrs. Nov-ella Phillips, Mrs. Louise Riffle and Principal Frank Wargny, visited the Villa Cresta School, a nongraded school in Baltimore County. funds at low interest. We should encourage renewal and community planning.

But as a beginning, let us urge the Carroll County Commissioners to ap-point a Housing Authority, who can buy land and borrow federal funds for financing. Every Carroll County citizen should assure the Commissioners that they will be supported in taking this action.

This is an opportunity to demon-strate that we mean it when we say, "We like to do things for our-selves in Carroll County." We can not justify our independence if we continue to let the local housing problems remain unresolved any longer.

AMOS RETIRES FROM FBI

Howard W. Amos of 1505 Ash-downe Rd., Columbus, Ohio, who re-

said there are two fundamental conditions necessary for good teaching of reading: 1. A "nongraded" reading program, so that each child advances as he masters various levels-and not according to age or the general achievement of his class. 2. An outstanding library program-"which may not take more than 1 per cent of your total budget.

Build Child's Confidence

In the traditional graded program, every class of 30 pupils marches together-the bright, the average and the slow.

"It is much better to build a child's confidence by giving him books he can read and understand than by putting him in over his depth," Botel said. "Surely, we don't think we're fooling the child, do we?"

Botel said: "If we can discover and work with reading problems no later than the third grade, we have a 70 to 80 per cent chance of correcting the problem.

grade, it may be only 20 to 30 per cent. "If we wait until senior high school it is almost hopeless. By this time we are dealing with psychological problems which probably grew out of the reading disability recovery."

Botel also said: "Phomics has not been taught well, and bad teaching of phonics is one of the reasons we are having trouble. A good, tight, top-notch phonics program is essential, but it shouldn't be overdone."

The important thing, Botel said, is to make sure children aren't asked to handle books which are beyond them. Some kids have been in the wrong books every year they have been in school. It's a hopeless, frustrating experience for the child.

Members of the Taneytown staff involved have undertaken a study of the nongraded school as a means of helping our children and are considering the establishment of organizing a nongraded primary school. The school would be happy to receive questions or comments from parents concerning the proposed nongraded plan.

Head of the House Lesson for March 1, 1964

Background Scripture: Luke 10:38-42; John 11:1 through 12:11. Devotional Reading: John 11:1-15.

PICTURE-MOTTO often seen, A though it is many years old by now, starts this way: "CHRIST IS THE HEAD OF THIS HOUSE." It usually shows a picture of Christ, but such pictures are the work of imagination. What is not imagination of this house,

Dr. Foreman your house. In the Gospels Luke and John we are given glimpses of a home where Jesus was really the head of the household, even though that expression itself is never used. It was the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus.

Seeing things his way That Jesus was the head of . that household, that family group, does not mean that he interfered with their work or their arrange-ments. We all dislike meddlers, and Jesus was not a meddler. He would lean over backwards, so to speak, to keep from being one. When they had him to dinner, you remember, Martha got quite tired and cross working hard over the dinner. Jesus (had he been inclined to take over running the house) might have ordered Martha to put out the kitchen fire and let them eat sandwiches for once. He might have demanded that she sit beside Mary and listen while he talked. But he let them each do it her way, he did not put in his oar till the right minute. And when he did, it was in the most tactful and affectionate way possible. He didn't say Martha was wrong. What he said was that she was "anxious and troubled"—unhap-py, in short. He didn't say Mary was better than Martha, he said simply that she had chosen the 'good portion," the "better part." He was inviting Martha to look at things his way. Ten days, ten years, half a lifetime after that dinner, Mary would remember what Jesus had been saying, but who would remember what they had to eat? A glowing true thought often remembered is worth far more than the finest foods perfectly served. See it my way, Jesus said. Histway of doing This was not the only occasion Jesus worked with some member of the family to see things as he saw them. But consider another point. Jesus had his own way of doing things, and he was not being conceited when he urged others to do likewise. Take the incident John tells of this Mary's pouring out upon Jesus an expensive box of perfume. What a waste! Some of the men said. But Jesus did not think it a waste. He himself was often known to do the same thing,waste a great deal that was precious, out of sheer love. He told his disciples many things that they never remembered. He made many a plea for understanding and support that fell on deaf ears. In time of death and sorrow It is particularly remarkable how Jesus dealt with the great trial and tragedy in that home. Don't most of us feel awkward, embarrassed and silent in the time when death and great grief come to those we love? Jesus certainly did not talk to Martha and Mary, after Lazarus died, as if death were not real. He did not try to distract their attention by trite remarks-we all have to die sometime, we must remember what a good man Lazarus was, and all that. What Jesus did was to say in effect: "Think of Me. I am the Life." He brought comfort by bringing-himself. Now maybe we can see a little better what it means to say "Christ is the head of this house." A home where he is welcomed, in spirit, every day; a home where every one in it comes more and more to see things his way and to do things as he would do them; the home where "Love thyself last" is the daily rule; and above all, the home where in time of crisis and grief, and even in the hour of death, Christ comes foremost in the mind,-this is the home where he is truly the head.

Teens Should Know Their Fashion Types

Finding your fashion type, accepting it, and then dressing to suit it can be tougher than a math exam, but it is rewarding. Do you accept the challenge?

First, find a full length mirror and take a good honest look at yourself, head to toe. If you're short, stop wishing you were tall and make up your mind to investigate all the wonderful new fashions that are being styled for petites only.

If you're the well-scrubbed type, stop wishing you were a femme fatale and start wearing the clear bright colors that will give your fresh complexion more sparkle than the sophisticate's rhinestone necklace.

Got the idea? Every girl can be beautiful, and beautifully dressed, if she pours her energies into making the most of what she is. fashion perfec-

Favorite Foods At The Fair

More hot dogs and mustard will be consumed beneath these "abstract air flowers" than anywhere else in the world, ac-cording to The R. T. French Company of Rochester, N. Y. This famous mustard company will be celebrating the 60th anniver-sary of the introduction of its mustard when the New York World's Fair opens in April. — Although there will be a variety of restaurants to take care of the more than 85,000,000 expected visitors to the Fair, the 25 refreshment centers, serviced by the Brass Rail and symbolized by the abstract air flowers rising 75 feet in the air, will serve the food all America loves. Here, you'll find, in addition to hot dogs in mustard, hamburgers, Sloppy Joes, Chow Mein on Rolls, Baked Beans, French Fried Potatoes, Pizza, and Chinese Egg Rolls. — Americans consume about 71 hot dogs per person per year, or more than 13½ billion annually. The Fair years, however, are expected to bring to an all-time high, the consumption of America's favorite outdoor food — hot dogs 'n mustard.
