HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

At the recent graduation exercises at Taneytown High School, Nancy Wargny was announced as the valedictorian of the class of 44 seniors. Ned C. Musser, principal of the school, named the following students as ranking second, third, fourth and fifth in their class: Carol Piezonki, Marian Dunham, John Shorb and Bonnie Wood.

The scholarship award was awarded to Nancy Wargny by Mr. Musser. This award is given to the member of the senior class who has maintained the highest scholastic average over a period of four years at Taneytown High School.

Other awards presented to the senior class were as follows:

1. The Activities medal is awarded to the senior boy or girl who has accumulated the largest number of points by participation in extra-curricular activities during the 10th, 11th and 12th grade years. John Shorb was the recipient of this award.

2. The American Legion Citizenship Medals were presented by Kenneth Bair of the American Legion Post #120. These medals are awarded to the boy and girl of the senior class who have demonstrated to the school that they are good citizens by excelling in the qualities of courtesy, helpfulness, honor, leadership and service. Travis Dutterer and Marian Dunham received these medals.

3. George Motter, representing the Alumni Association awarded the Athletic Trophies to Travis Dutterer and Audrey Wilhide. These trophies are awarded to the senior boy and senior girl who have demonstrated proficiency in athletics and who have adhered to the principles of good sportsmanship and school citizenship.

4. Barry Dayhoff, president of the Key Club, presented the Sandy Ninger Gold Medal to John Speak. This medal is awarded to the boy or girl who made the most of his or her ability, personality, physique, handicaps and circumstances between the time he or she entered high school and graduation.

5. The Daughters of American Revolution Certificate awarded to the senior girl who has distinguished herself in the traits of cooperation, dependability, leadership and patriotism, and who has written a good essay was given to Nancy Wargny by Miss Liza Carpenter, representing the DAR.

6. The commercial medal is awarded to the graduate who is the most efficient and accurate in all commercial subjects and who is a good all-around citizen in the commercial department. Bonnie Wood was the recipient of this medal.

7. Dotty Lea Bailey received the Home Economics award for being the most outstanding student in this field.

8. Representing the band parents, Henry Alexander awarded to John Shorb the Arion Music Award. This is presented to the senior or outstanding musical ability and achievement in the band or orchestra.

9. A new award presented to a senior who has shown proficiency in the field of English Composition was given to Keith McCurley by Deborah Wiley, president of the Keyette Club. In a competitive examination given to nine of the top seniors Keith proved his ability in the selection of a mature topic, his organization of material and the presentation of his ideas in a clear, concise manner.

Three members of the Taneytown High School chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America leave on June 14 for Washington, D.C., where they will attend the thirteenth annual FBLA National Convention. Around 1,000 high school and college members and sponsors from all over the United States are expected to be in attendance at the meeting. The theme of this meeting of high school and college business students is "Developing Career Competency."

Friendly competition will be generated at the convention in the election of national officers for the 1964-65 school year and in a whole series of competitive events between chapters and between state delegations. Events include public speaking, a spelling relay, parliamentary procedure demonstrations, and the selection of a Mr. and Miss Future Business Leader. Awards for the national winners will be presented Tuesday night at the Awards Banquet.

Members of the Taneytown High School chapter will be participating in discussion groups, business meetings, and general sessions. Miss Frances Flohr will be representing the Maryland State Chapter in the Miss FBLA contest. Barbara Motter will also be attending accompanied by Mrs. Homer Myers, club sponsor.

Time for recreation has also been included in the convention activities. Chartered buses will transport the convention participants on a half-day tour of Washington to include stops at the White House and Smithsonian Institution.

FBLA is the national youth organization for high school and college students who plan to enter careers in business or in business education. The national organization has chartered over 3,200 chapters in the United States and has a membership of approximately 80,000 students. It is sponsored by the National Business Education Association as a part of the school system.

Kiwanis Meeting

"The Question Box" the special feature of the meeting of June 8rd proved valuable as well as thought provoking. The box containing unsigned questions deposited by members of the club was opened by president Paul (Smockey) Morelock, each question read and discussion invited.

Such questions as: "Is the town helped by the use of parking meters or should they be eliminated?" The unanimous decision was that they should be retained for many reasons, but it was also recommended that a "Master Meter" be installed so that those receiving parking tickets can without any ado or legal fanfare go and pay their fine by depositing required sum in the Master Meter.

Another question, "Why is the speed limit in Taneytown 30 miles per hour going in one direction and 25 miles per hour going in another direction?" Does not this lead to confusion, danger and innocent law breaking by the motorist unacquainted with this inconsistent variance or want of uniformity? It was also proposed and recommended that "Slow Down" blinker lights were necessary as a safety precaution at other locations in the municipality.

Numerous other interesting questions were offered, discussed and some of them referred to committees that will present these ideas and recommendations to the proper authorities that definite action pro or con may result.

This demonstration of ideas propounded by citizens of the community reveals an interest and attitude of service that is commendable in that it pictures a better community in which the welfare not only of the resident but the visiting citizen as well, are and should be of vital interest to everyone locally.

To build a better community by the interchange of ideas and united efforts of its Service Clubs and citizens is the goal for which Kiwanis works. Cooperation is the highway to successful achievement in the battle for better things.

GOLDEN RULE CLASS MEETING

The Golden Rule Class of United Church of Christ met at the home of Mrs. Elwood Simpson with Mrs. Alice Reifsnider on Monday night, June 1, at 8 o'clock. There were 10 members present.

The President, Mrs. Reifsnider, opened the meeting with reading of the 67th Psalm by Mrs. Simpson, followed by prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Kaye Mohney read in the absence of the secretary, Mildred Parker. Many inspiring songs were sung.

The treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Eckard gave a financial report. Many projects were discussed and ways of making money reviewed. Mrs. Wiley is to be the hostess of next meeting, August 3.

The program consisted of a reading by Alice Reifsnider, "Advice from the Kitchen, and two from Kaye Mohney, "Why I Teach" and "It Won't Hurt." Mrs. Frock, teacher of the class, read some tongue twisters and humorous questionnaires. There were interesting contests given by Mary Simpson and Alice Reifsnider. Prizes were won by Mary Baker, Rhoda Smith, Alice Reifsnider and Kaye Mohney.

The meeting adjourned and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

MARYLAND MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CONFERENCE HELD

The following report was prepared by Councilman George Naylor, Jr., and is submitted to the citizens of Taneytown for informational purposes:

The 16th annual Conference of the Maryland Municipal League opened in the Commander Hotel at Ocean City, Md., on Sunday, June 7, 1964. The Maryland Municipal League is composed of 137 incorporated towns and cities throughout the state of Maryland. At this Conference delegates representing cities and towns from our state gather to hear and discuss the latest problems and gather useful information affecting town governments. Delegates representing Taneytown were Mayor Perry and the writer.

On Sunday, sessions were held on the services that towns and cities can obtain from State and National Municipal Association, on financial aids and grants that can be obtained from the State and Federal Government and on Urban Renewal, Municipal Planning and the Evolution of a Local Planning and Urban Renewal Program. The City Engineer of Frederick spoke on the organizing of a Public Works Department, while the City Engineer of Cambridge discussed the Equipping of a Public Works Department. Water and sewer problems were discussed concerning improvements, maintenance, extending of lines and the relationship of town to home developers and lot holders. Street improvements were touched upon, also various methods of improving streets were discussed, special equipment needed by towns to perform services were talked about, whether to purchase equipment or let out work on contract bids. All was very interesting.

Sunday evening at dinner, Thomas B. Finan, Attorney General of the State of Maryland gave a report on the recent session of Legislature and some of the bills that would affect the cities and towns of the state.

On the human interest side, during the dinner and while our table of 10 was waiting to be served, a waiter with 10 dinners held high above his head on his right hand tipped the entire tray down on the middle of our table as he was passing by. Our side of the table received the full force of the accident while the other side escaped entirely. Mayor Perry was completely covered with food (front and lap), Mrs. Naylor's dress was hit along the right side while Mrs. Perry and myself got off with just a small amount of splattering. It was one of those accidents you think about but figure will never happen. Quite an experience! The Mayor of Loacona and the New Windsor delegates were also with us.

Monday morning, sessions were held on New Developments in Code Enforcement (housing, plumbing, electrical, redevelopment), New Developments in Budget Control and Accounting and New Developments in Urban Renewal.

After lunch, Mayor Hugh Cropper of Ocean City welcomed all to Ocean City and wished all a happy visit. John Funk, Chairman-Director of the State Road System, spoke on Future Financing for Municipal Streets Systems and the additional need for more state-shared revenues being returned to the municipalities. A session was held on all cities and towns concerning themselves with the need for more Municipal Open Space (parks and recreation facilities), keeping in mind the great building boom that is contemplated for the future.

A panel discussion was then held for all towns under 5,000 population. These discussions were on Leadership Through Citizen Groups, Anticipating Community Growth, Town Street Programs and Federal-Community Facilities Programs available to small towns. These were very educational and informational and many ideas presented by other small communities may lend themselves to our town.

In the evening, a Clam Bake, buffet style, was served, followed by a dance courtesy of the Mayor and Council of Ocean City.

Tuesday morning sessions were held on bills affecting municipalities that were recently passed during the past term of the State Legislature. Also discussion was held on the need for new municipal revenues. Another session was held on the Relationship of Town Councils to its Professional Staffs and Employees.

At the luncheon on Tuesday, The Honorable J. Glenn Beall, incumbent Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and The Honorable Joseph D. Tydings, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate gave their Position Statements on Federal Programs that Affect Maryland Cities and Towns. As Senator Beall was called back to the Senate floor to vote on three very important amendments to the Civil Rights Bill at the last moment, he sent his Administrative Assistant, who in turn read the Senator's address.

This Conference was well-attended and much information was made available to all delegates for use in their town governments.

Mayor Perry and myself are very appreciative in having the opportunity of attending this Conference and hope that some of the worthwhile information gathered can be put to use.

MYERS RECEIVES ARTS DEGREE

John Myers, Rt. 1, Box 320, Westminster, was awarded the Associate in Arts degree in accounting by the Baltimore College of Commerce at its commencement held on Wednesday (June 10th) in the concert hall of the Peabody Institute. Mr. Myers was a member of the graduating class of 1959 at Taneytown High School.

Christian Day Kindergarten

The Church Council of Trinity Lutheran Church at its meeting last Tuesday night authorized the appointment of a committee to implement the establishment of a Christian Day Kindergarten.

The Christian Day Kindergarten Committee will be responsible for setting down the philosophy of the kindergarten, helping establish the curriculum, securing a qualified teacher, publicizing it, etc. The committee will work under the supervision of the congregation's Committee on Education and Organization and the Church Council.

The committee, which is being appointed, will have as its first task to determine if there is a need in the community for such a kindergarten as the church proposes and if the community will support one. The kindergarten will be open to 4 and 5 year olds. Enrollment will probably be limited to 20 youngsters. Firm details will be forthcoming after the committee meets.

The idea of the Christian Day Kindergarten was initiated in the congregation's special committee on Long-Range Planning and Special Studies, whose chairman is Kenneth Crouse. The idea was researched by Mrs. E. Wayne Baumgardner and Miss Lois Brown, both of whom visited other church-sponsored kindergartens in the area. The plan was further endorsed by the Education and Organization Committee, Dean Sholl, chairman. Tuesday night the Council gave its approval to proceed.

MEETING OF LADIES AID SOCIETY

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney, held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, June 2.

The meeting was opened by singing, "I Need Thee Every Hour," and "What A Friend." Mrs. Chas. Bridger read 13 verses from Psalm 37 for the scripture, followed with prayer by Mrs. Wilbur Reifsnider. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, followed by roll call with 24 members and two visitors present. A thank-you note was read from Mrs. George Clingan from the planter she received from the society while in the hospital. Mrs. Reifsnider thanked the committees that had charge of the mother and daughter banquet, there were 120 present at the banquet. Mrs. Doris Harner gave suggestions for markers in the hymn books. It was discussed to purchase some furniture for Rev. and Mrs. Sterile. A committee was appointed to look about purchasing something for them.

The next regular meeting of the society will be Monday evening, June 29 at 8 o'clock in the parish house. Note the change of the meeting night, due to other activities conflicting in the community. Those to arrange a program for the next meeting: Mrs. Armour Leatherman, Mrs. Geo. Marshall and Mrs. Chester Moore. Mrs. Armour Leatherman to read the Bible and Mrs. George Shriver to have prayer. The following program was given: two selections on the piano, "Faith Of Our Fathers," and "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," by Miss Judy Clingan; another selection on the piano, "Moon Shadows," by Miss Brenda Harner. The meeting was closed by all singing, "Work For The Night Is Coming," and all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

After the meeting the men of the Brotherhood invited the ladies to the parish house for strawberries and ice cream, cake, cookies, coffee and punch. The ladies wish to thank the men for their very nice treat, it was enjoyed by all.

FLEAGLE FAMILY REUNION

The John Fluegel Family Reunion will be held June 20 at Baust Church, Tyrone, opportunistly one day prior to Fathers Day.

The Fleagle Orchestra of Frederick and Hagerstown will be on hand for music besides a general song service including the Fleagle Reunion Song. The Fluegel-Horn invented by an early ancestor in Europe, will be played by its owner, Bruce Mac Tammany, aged 9 years, of Providence, R. I. His mother, Carol, previous to sailing for Europe recently, did some research work at N.Y. University library on the scholarly attainments of those by that name from Bern, Switzerland, and nearby Germany across the border before the first fathers came to this country in 1738.

She aimed to follow this up in Europe and on last writing was finding and visiting German-Swiss relatives of that name. She will give a report of her findings at the Reunion.

Miss Peggy Fleagle of Mayberry and Mrs. Fred Linker of Pikesville will preside at the piano. Mrs. Rena Fleagle Kennedy is in charge of the program, in the absence of the president, Lt. Roger Fleagle of Hagerstown. The program will begin after a family box-lunch with refreshments later in the parish house at Baust Church.

All are welcome to contribute family history and help make the occasion interesting. Fresh verses to the Fleagle Reunion Song would be welcomed . . . to the tune of the Scotch National Anthem.

HESSON-SNIDER POST TO HOLD OFFICER NOMINATION

The Hesson-Snider Post will hold nomination of officers for the coming year on Thursday, June 18. The same evening delegates to the State Legion Convention in Baltimore will be selected. A special film on sports will be shown by a National Brewery Company.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE'

(Your Chatty Column)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It was June — the month of roses and honeysuckle and just one dozen years ago when your Minister was assigned to The North Harford Charge of The Methodist Church of The Baltimore Conference.

You and your Minister and daughter left Carroll County so early that Sunday morning for the first service in the new appointment. Many of those from Carroll County said, "You are going to a wonderful county, the people are just fine!" The rain was coming down in buckets! The nice District Superintendent gave you the choice of three appointments and you chose Harford County immediately. The large roomy and charming parsonage with the four acres of ground looked across a wide open field and there as you gazed upon all the beauty; were the cows in the field and the sheep in the meadow! As you stood there on the lawn before entering the parsonage taking in the breathless view with reverence you said softly, "Thank you, God for everything!" It brought back the days when you were much younger, the many times driving through Harford County on the way to your cousins in Annapolis right down Broadway — that beautiful tree lined narrow street in Bel Air and you used to say, Oh! if I only could live in Harford County!" and, then to have it all come true!

The delightful aroma of the pink and white Peonies at your feet on the parsonage lawn filled your nostrils with their wonderful fragrance as you still stood right there. You then entered the parsonage and you knew you were going to love it all! As you climbed the stairs to the bedrooms to prepare the beds, a lovely little lady — the president of the WSCS—Mrs. James called to greet and welcome you. She was a charming Southern lady and you knew you were going to be close friends. She stated many times since that she knew you were going to love the Assignment that very day she met you. You went down to the kitchen after she left to place food in the refrigerator and as you opened the door of that huge box what to your wondering eyes did you see but that box filled with all types of food, even to the ice cream for dessert! It made you think of the story your Dad used to tell you when a child about the two little orphan children.

As the days went on, you learned to love the substantial Harford Counties and the beautiful wide open spaces for those six wonderful years serving until day was done!

Nothing can compare with being "The First Lady in the Parsonage" not even "The First Lady" of these United States! And you think how much you miss it all but you feel happy and glad that you had the wonderful experience right there.

There is always the same feeling as you take the drive that somehow you are going home and you find yourself wishing that it was all over again, leaving out the days of sorrow. You remember how much your minister loved every minute of it and how much those grand people loved him!

Something, you don't know why but you feel stronger in every way since all the experience. One big highlight that will always linger with you was the following Monday after all was over and you walked the streets of the town of Bel Air as though you were in a trance not knowing just what to do and suddenly you were led by "The Strong Hand of God" into the office of a perfect stranger — Mr. Lawrence Harris and there you found a friend who was a friend in need and a friend in deed!

And, now Folks — the tears are coming fast and I cannot write anymore but I know that you know!

Until next week, D. V. Love one another! Life can be beautiful and you can make it so right here on earth!

I am,
Faithfully,

A TIME TO BEGIN

Once again this spring graduation day approaches in schools all across the land. It will be an exciting, proud and unforgettable day in the lives of millions of youngsters and their families. Each of us remembers this day in our own life. For it brought recognition of achievement and a time to say goodbye to many friends and familiar surroundings. This year's graduates will experience these same feelings and they will move on to meet the challenges and the opportunities of the world before them.

Today man's sum of knowledge and applications of it move ahead at an unprecedented pace, so graduation exercises now as never before mark not an end but a beginning. Young people must keep with them always, as a way of life, the habit of learning and growing that took them through their years of education. If they keep this as the most important lesson learned in school, the world will be theirs to shape.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

According to a leading insurance company report, "One of the most vexing questions in highway safety today is what percentage of the total number of persons killed and injured in highway accidents each year became casualties as a result of alcohol. . . . From a study of the reports prepared by the various state motor vehicle departments it can be determined that approximately 85 per cent of the casualties occur in accidents which involve driver violations. Undoubtedly, many of the violations are motivated by liquor but how many is a question that is difficult to answer."

John E. Swearingen, president of Standard Oil Company (Ind.), said, "It is hardly surprising that corporations have tended to grow in a country which has elevated growth itself to the status of a national goal; and growth we have surely had, ranging from the unprecedented in population to the breath-taking in technology. In the process, corporations—as one of our key social institutions and themselves a prime source of growth in wealth, techniques, and ideas—have also increased in both number and size."

Senator Beall of Maryland . . . says problems affecting those who are needy can be solved without besmirching the true picture. . . . President Johnson estimates 35 million Americans are poverty-stricken, then asks for $963 million for the first year of the "poverty war" . . . this breaks down to an average of $27.51 for each person so classified.

Paying one of the nation's biggest industrial tax bills, American railroads turn over to federal, state and local treasuries all revenues received for nearly 40 days of the year—a total of $900 million.

"Testifying before a Congressional Committee, an official of the Social Security Administration was asked exactly where the fund stood. His answer was that if social security were stopped today with no more contributions and no additional obligations, it was in the red $300 billion. Many years ago I heard President Lowell at Harvard say: 'A civilization is seldom murdered; it commits suicide.'—Ernest G. Swigert, Chairman of the Board, Hyster Company, Portland, Oregon.

John R. Heyke, president of Brooklyn Union Gas Company, says, "It's incredible that any part of the Government should operate on the peculiar principle of investing taxpayers' funds in projects that will decrease the potential tax income. But it's happening."

"Milk" made directly from vegetable matter without the help of a cow is expected on the market shortly. Dr. H. B. Franklin, leader of the scientists who have been working since 1956 on the manufacturing process, claims that almost 80 per cent of the protein in suitable vegetable matter can be extracted and made digestible by his process, compared with the waste of four-fifths of the protein in grass by the inefficient cow. Looks like the cow is going to be out of a job.

Thurman Sensing says, "Responsible citizens in communities north and south, east and west, cannot allow this country to be taken over by a handful of lawbreakers and left wing extremists who, to prove a point, would give American cities a blood-bath. . . . Congress should let the agitators know that it will not be intimidated into passing legislation that would not only regiment responsible citizens but would give irresponsible, lawless elements the privilege to disrupt the nation. Preservation of the Republic requires an alert citizenry that will not tolerate social terrorists who hide behind the label of 'civil rights'."

IT'S BETTER THAN MONEY

1. You wander through a wonderland of gleaming pavilions, exotic temples, serene gardens and cascading fountains. But suddenly your visit to the World's Fair may be shattered. Your pocket can be picked.

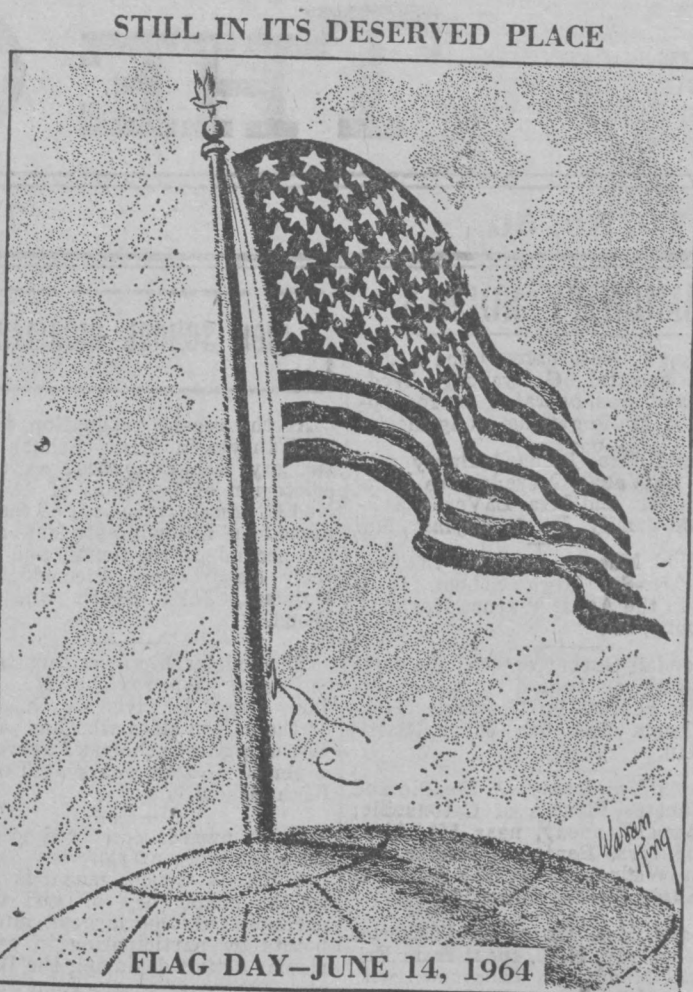

2. Pickpockets usually work in "mobs" of three, with the "stall" bumping into you to distract your attention.

3. Then the "dip" reaches for your wallet or purse.

4. The "duke" takes the "haul" immediately so that the "dip" won't get caught with the "poke."

5. But they get nothing and you get a refund if you carry First National City Bank Travelers Checks instead of money. What's more, First National City Bank will be the only bank at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

6. All three later divide the "take" equally.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

The roaring noise heard on Monday evening before the rain storm, is supposed to have been a tornado high above the ground. For a short time those who heard it feared that it meant a path of destruction.

Keyville... Chester Eyer has returned to his home in Union Bridge after spending a week with his grandparents, Edward Knipple and wife. Chester and his grandfather had great fishing adventures, catching "sunnies."... Samuel Fleagle and wife of Copperville, visited their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Fox.

Uniontown... Mrs. Melvin Routson gave an enjoyable entertainment to her class in music Saturday evening; a fine supper was served... Paul Devilbiss is home after several months stay in Florida.

The following new Telephones have been added to the Taneytown Exchange: Taneytown Garage Co., 39K; Daniel S. Crabbs, 32-21.

Miss Ethel Sauerhammer passed the examination of her junior year at West Chester, Pa. State Normal School with a mark of 94, leading a class of 279.

Westminster's combined attractions — College Commencement, State Firemen's Convention, Home Coming Week, and a murder trial — made the town quite lively this week, attracting many visitors and considerable extra business. A number of Taneytown firemen and other citizens attended the demonstrations.

Mrs. Greenberry Null received a dislocated shoulder as the result of a fall down the steps from the second floor in D. J. Hesson's store last Saturday night.

David F. Eyer met with an accident, on Tuesday, as he was going out of town on his way home, that might have cost him his life. He was driving a pair of mules attached to a wagon, and the animals becoming frightened, wheeled suddenly, broke off the tongue and threw Mr. Eyer out. He was considerably cut and bruised about the head.

From PURINA Research..
BIG NEWS
FOR HOGMEN!

Purina researchers have announced improvements in Purina Early Weaning Chow, Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena. A series of 34 separate research tests on 827 pigs proved the following benefits:

- 12.4% faster gains
- 5.2% savings in feed
- 5% reduction in scours

Test pigs gained an average of 1.18 lbs. per day on the new ration... only 1.05 lbs. on the old formula. It took only 200 lbs. of total feed to produce 100 lbs. of pork with the new formula as compared to 211 lbs. of feed on the old ration.

Research also indicates these improvements aid in the maintenance of weight gains in the presence of rhinitis. New and improved Purina Early Weaning Chow, Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena now are available at our Store with the Checkerboard Sign.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you: Monday the 15th is the first day of two weeks of Vacation Bible School at Keysville Lutheran Church from 9 to 11 A. M. each morning. Mrs. Anna Haileigh will have charge of the Kindergarten group (pre-schoolers) with helpers: Mrs. Bernice Wilhide, Mrs. Daisy Pearl Reifsnider, Mrs. Cindy Coshun, Joanne Glass, Judy Stambaugh, Linda Schaffer, Darlene Bowers and Betty Dean. Mrs. Ruth Wilhide will have charge of the Primary group (those having finished grades one through three) with helpers: Mrs. Marian Coshun, Mrs. Mignon Weishaar, Mrs. Geneda Conover, Nancy Stine, Cindy Crouch and Kathy Kantros. Mrs. Dharlys Fleharty will have charge of the Junior group (those having finished grades four through six) with helpers: Mrs. Olive Young and Beverly Young.

Children's Day Program will be presented on Sunday, the 14th, at 10 A. M. at the Keysville United Church of Christ. On Wednesday Mrs. Carroll Wilhide brought her mother, Mrs. Emory Yoder, from White Hall to Detour for a visit until Sunday. The purpose of her visit was to attend granddaughter Audrey Wilhide's graduation exercises from Taneytown High School on Thursday evening. On Sunday Miss Elizabeth Yoder of White Hall visited with the Wilhides and took her mother along back with her.

Cub Pack #459 of Union Bridge is doing just fine with their float commemorating the Civil War. On the 3rd they won a prize of $30.00 for best non-firemen's organization at the parade in New Windsor. Visitors for awhile at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide, Denise and Renee near Detour are her mother and sister, Mrs. Charles Pheabus and Sharon Lescalleet of Union Bridge. Mrs. Pheabus is recovering from recent surgery at Annie Warner Hospital and coming along fine.

Sunday supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar and Bobby of Detour were Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy of Forest and Stream Club Road, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildman and Kevin of Westminster and Mrs. Walter Shipley and son of Taneytown. Miss Carol Wolfgang of Washington, who was enjoying vacation time last week, was a Wednesday overnight visitor with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and children near Detour.

There were Friday overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road. They were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keifer Selbert of near Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stonesifer of Rockyville were week-end visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonesifer of Keysville. The Union Bridge Lutheran Parish Men's Chorus will hold a Hymn Sing in the Rocky Ridge Park on Sunday evening, June 21, at 7:45 P. M. Mark this date on your calendar and plan to attend.

The Children's Day Program at Keysville Lutheran Church was well done as usual. Appreciation must be extended to all the teachers of the classes which participate for it does take extra time and effort on their part, as well as to the children who learn their "parts" for the event. Congratulations to newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Shildt, who were married in Linwood on Saturday. Mrs. Shildt is the former Miss Barbara Wilson of Union Bridge. I understand they will make their home for the time being with his parents in Detour.

Did I mention that the home owned by Mrs. Dennis Myers of Westminster (formerly Mrs. Rachel Bostian of Detour) now has a For Sale sign in front of it? It is listed with Creager Real Estate of Frederick. We have some travelers in the area. Donald Shoemaker of Keysville, Neal Wilhide of the Keysville-Taneytown Road and Melvin (Pete) Bostian of Detour left last Friday for a visit to the World's Fair in New York. They are due back about Wednesday of this week.

Miss Jane Wilhide is among the nursing trainees at Frederick Memorial Hospital who are visiting this week in Long Island with two classmates whose homes are there. They expect to visit the World's Fair, Jones Beach and various other points of interest while they are there. They will be returning Friday. A new front has been built onto "Jimmy's Restaurant" in Taneytown, on-the-square. It is on the side facing York Street and has an old colonial appearance which is most attractive. Makes one want to go in and see how it looks on the inside.

The red geraniums and white petunias are in the planters at the office of George Harner, plumber, in Taneytown again. They always look so bright and pretty. Speaking of plumbers, have you ever noticed how beautiful the yard of Mr. and Mrs.

Carroll Wantz is? They live on the corner next to The Birnie Trust Co. The roses in the wagon wheels at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sell of Keysville are lovely right now and so are the roses and peonies in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser of the Keysville Road. -Dharlys Fleharty.

Fred Horner called on Mrs. Levi Frock on Wednesday afternoon and Mrs. William Corbin called at the same home on Thursday.

Rev. Whalen of Keymar called on Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker and son, Douglas, also called at the same home on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock and children, Steven and Debra, spent one evening recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Doble and son of Keysville.

We are so glad to learn Mr. Robert Goodwin of Littlestown is out of the hospital. We do hope he soon can be back in S. and Church. We are sorry to learn Mrs. John Williams of Trevanion has been quite ill and under the doctor's care. We wish her a speedy recovery. Mrs. Arnold Weeks and daughters called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock one evening last week.

Don't forget this Sunday, the 14th, is the SEELY and ROWE reunion at the Memorial Park at Taneytown. A basket lunch at 12:30, but if the weather does not permit it will be held at the Baust Church parish house near Tyrone, along the road leading from Taneytown to Westminster, but we are hoping for a nice day. Reunions are a very fine thing, as that is the only way we get to see a lot of kin folk we no otherwise get to see, this way we at least see them once a year.

We are so thankful for the little showers of rain we have been getting; it doesn't seem like much but maybe little ones will eventually bring bigger ones. We are so glad to see our neighbor, Mr. Edward Turner is now able to drive his car again after being somewhat indisposed for a few weeks.

Man With the Consecrated Car He couldn't speak before a crowd; he couldn't teach a class, but when he came to Sunday School he brought the folks "in mass." He couldn't sing to save his life, in public he couldn't pray, but always his "jalopy" was just crammed on each Lord's day. And although he could not sing, nor teach, nor led in prayer, he listened well, he had a smile and he was always there. With all the others whom he brought, who lived both near and far - and God's work prospered - for he had a consecrated car. -Author unknown.

Was It You?

Someone lifted a load today from off a heavy heart; Someone carried a lighted torch, where all had been cloudy and dark. Someone entered a prison cell Where hope was well-nigh gone; Someone called at a hospital ward and sang a cheerful song.

ROCKY RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. David P. Saylor of this place spent several days recently at the New York World's Fair. SOCIAL SECURITY

By Robert J. Myers, Chief Actuary Social Security Administration

Not too long ago I had a conversation with a knowledgeable young man that began something like this: "I know social security is a good thing," he said, "my folks are getting it, and the monthly check makes the difference between a comfortable old age and just getting by. And they got a real bargain. They've already collected much more than Dad paid in."

"As far as I'm concerned, I know that in essence I'm buying protection for my old age, for the wife and kids in case I don't live to be old, or if I should be disabled. But one thing I'm just starting to pay into social security, and if I'm lucky, I'm going to be paying in for a long time. Just how much am I getting for my money? Could I do as well if I took the same amount and bought my own insurance? And how about the matching amount that the employer pays in?"

These are not only very good, but also very timely questions, because they are probably being asked by many young people. There's no pat answer because if old-age, survivors, and disability insurance were voluntary, how many people would actually purchase for themselves the protection that it provides, and how many employers would match the contributions of their employees?

Furthermore, I know of no commercial insurance company that offers in one package - or even in a combination of policies - exactly the same benefits as under the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance system. But I could assure my young friend that, assuming he is Mr. Average, he is getting more protection than his own social tax dollar is "buying." On a broad group basis, taking into account mortality rates, disability rates, family status possibilities, retirement, etc., the employee tax purchases only 80 to 85 percent of the potential old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits for each new young entrant into the system.

As with all averages, some workers will realize a greater return on their social security "investment;" some a smaller return. If my friend, who is married and has three small children, should be unfortunate and die at an early age, his family would receive benefits far in excess of his contributions. This would also be the case if he and his wife are fortunate and live a goodly number of years after his retirement. Of course, if he should die in his early sixties and was not survived by eligible dependents, his "return" would be far less than his contributions. However, he would have had the protection of survivors and disability insurance during his younger years and the potentials protection of retirement benefits if he had survived to retirement age.

What about the employer's contribution? If the average young worker pays for 80 to 85 percent of his potential benefit, it might be said that his employer is paying for only 15 to 20 percent of it. What is the remainder of the "average" employer tax used for?

It is being used in the manner intended by the designers of the social security system. It is being used, in large part, to pay for the benefits of those who retire in the early years of the program. In order to make the program quickly effective, full-rate benefits, based on average earnings and not on total contributions, were provided from the very beginning of benefit payments. A person retiring today can get a benefit as large as a person retiring 40 years from now, even though he might pay in only one-fourth as long. To make this possible, and keep the system self-supporting, the future contribution of employers must, in essence, be used to pay for the benefits of those already middle-aged or elderly when first covered by the program.

The same thing is done in private contributory group pension plans. Employees retiring in the early years of operation are given credit for past service without being required to make contributions for that service. The older employee will pay for relatively little of his own benefit; the younger employee will pay for most of his own benefit. Thus, the employer's share is spread around among his employees in an unequal fashion.

During our discussion, my young friend came to see that his employer's social security contribution is not directly assignable to him, and it is not put aside specifically for him. Rather, it is "pooled" for the benefit of all employees, including those already retired. It is this feature that allows his parents to reap the full benefit of the program. Although he cannot expect to get the "bargain" that his folks got, since he is likely to be paying into social security for 40 or more years, he was reassured to learn that he is getting protection greater than the value of his own contribution.

Finally, I told my young friend that an Advisory Council on Social Security Financing, made up of distinguished representatives of employers, employees, the self-employed, and the public, stated in a report dated January 1, 1959, that it is appropriate that a substantial part of the cost of the program be borne by the Nation's employers.

"Protecting the members of the labor force and their dependents against loss of income from the hazards of old-age retirement, permanent and total disability, and death is, at least in part, a proper charge on the cost of production," they pointed out. "Moreover, business enterprises that orderly provision is made to meet the needs of their employees and their families for income when their working lives are over. The early contribution for social security is a recognition of this stake. The direct contribution gives employers status in the program and a clear right to participate in the development of the program and in the formation of policy."

And, of course, there is the consideration that employers can deduct their contributions under the program as an expense of doing business when figuring their income taxes.

COMMUNITY LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Nusbaum and daughter, Cynthia, Taneytown RD 1; Mr. Nathan F. Grippi, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Waybright and Mrs. Sheridan Grimes, Littlestown RD, Pa., were among the many guests who attended the baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies last Sunday at Frostburg State College, Frostburg. The Nusbaum's daughter, Miss Charlotte, was a graduate receiving her bachelor of science degree in elementary education.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Uppan, near town, entertained the following out-of-town guests on Sunday, June 7: Mrs. Marie McCulloch, Palm Springs, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitfield, Wilson, N.C.; Rev. and Mrs. David Williams and daughters, Deborah and Pamela, Finksburg; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ashley, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morris and sons, Kenneth, Jr., and Terry, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hittel, Baltimore; Mrs. Isebella Kelly, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. William Conroy and children, Glen Burnie; Mr. Richard Grenagle, Woodlawn; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hittel and daughter, Ann, Baltimore; and Mr. and Mrs. William Bolesta and daughter, Kelley, Baltimore.

MARRIED BUCKLEY - DUPEL Mr. Franklin D. Buckley and Miss Deloris A. Dupel of Taneytown were married in the EUB Church of Taneytown on Saturday, June 6, by the Pastor of EUB, Dr. Paul E. Rhinehart.

LEISTER - McMASTER Mr. Robert Leister of Taneytown, Md., and Miss Louise McMaster of Hanover, Pa., were married in the EUB Church on June 6 by the Pastor, Dr. Paul E. Rhinehart.

FRITZ - GLASS Phyllis Anne Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Glass, Sr., near Keysville, became the bride of Norman Edward Fritz, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Edward Fritz, II, of Westminster, Md. Rt. 1, on Friday night, June 5th at 9:00 o'clock in St. Bartholomew Lutheran Church, near Silver Run, Maryland. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Harold Crawford, McSherrystown, Penna., the bride wore a street length dress of pink taffeta, with pink overlace, with white accessories. Miss Linda Ohler of Taneytown, was Maid of Honor. She wore a street length dress of blue chiffon with blue accessories. Donald Yingling of Littlestown Rt. 1, was best man. The immediate family and close friends attended the ceremony. The groom is employed at Kessler Shoe Factory, Westminster, Md. The couple will reside at 240 1/2 E. Main St., Westminster, Maryland.

BUDGETING: "DO AS I SAY - NOT AS I DO" President Johnson's high-souled suggestion that Federal Government workers help low-income families learn more about budgeting has been greeted with some hilarity. The Administration housekeepers who it is proposed would tell other Americans how to get the most for their money have a background of four consecutive deficits, totaling more than $26,500,000,000. Would these fiscal missionaries counsel their pupils to reduce their incomes, promise to cut expenses, increase their expenses and spend themselves into prosperity? Heaven help the bankruptcy courts should the present Administration in Washington inflict its own brand of fiscal management upon our households! Please, Uncle, I'd rather do it myself!

Sincerely yours, J. GLENN BEALL

SOUTH PENN LEAGUE

Taneytown climbed into a tie for first place with New Oxford by soundly beating Harney, 9-2. Strong pitching, daring base running and a nine-hit attack led the way for the victory.

Walt Donahue gained his fourth victory for Taneytown by striking out 11 enemy batters and allowing only five hits and his one hit also drove in three runs. Don Favorite was the big hitting star however with three safeties. Paul McNair and Ed Combs had two hits apiece to help the cause.

The locals ran wild on the bases with a total of seven steals. Paul McNair had two to lead in that department.

CAMBRIDGE RUBBER SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Cambridge Rubber Co. is sponsoring four softball teams for their employees. The teams and manager—Targets, Don Favorite; Hi Strides, Bill Eyer; Hurdles, LeRoy Fogle; Carroll Shoe, John Stuller.

The games will be played on Monday nights at the old high school diamond on Maple Avenue in Littlestown and on Thursday evenings on the high school grounds in Taneytown.

GAME No. 1 went to the Targets, 15 to 4 over the Hi Strides. Meredith Gross was the big man with two hits and five rbi's. Most of the runs were unearned, due to errors and walks. Both teams were playing their first game and the looseness of play was due to inexperience.

Observations on the World of Sports

The familiar refrain, "The Moose is loose," is being heard again around the American League. And that can mean only one thing — BILL SKOWRON is on a hitting binge. Skowron always has been a terror against American League pitchers, but the Washington Senators had to be a bit skeptical about him this season. Last year, after nine successful seasons with the New York Yankees, Skowron was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League.

For most of the season, he nursed an aching back and a deflated ego, and batted only .203, with four homers and a mere 19 runs batted in. The figures were all well below his average Major League totals. Not only were the Senators worried that he had lost his "batting eye," but they were preoccupied about Skowron's back injury which had caused him to miss many games with the Dodgers. Furthermore, Skowron was reluctant, at first, to play with a last-place club. Now, the Senators couldn't be happier with the "Moose." He already has doubled his home run output of last season, with ten, and has almost doubled his runs batted in total. His bat has been acting up, but not his back. And, he particularly likes being back in the American League, especially playing in D.C. stadium. He says he likes to hit in Yankee Stadium or Chavez Ravine. Skowron hits a lot to right center and left center fields. In Yankee Stadium, many of his long drives were long outs. And Chavez Ravine, home of the Dodgers, is not conducive to home run hitters. Apparently Skowron is fitting in with the long tradition of fine first basemen in Washington. Among the outstanding Senator first basemen have been Mickey Vernon and Roy Sievers.

The gage about "Who's on first" hardly ever has been a Washington problem. Only the line about, "First in war, first in peace and last in the American League," still holds true. By the way, keep "Moose" in mind when you vote for your choice on the All-Star team.

One night last November, JIM GENTILE was relaxing at his home in Baltimore, chomping on an extra large sandwich and enjoying it immensely, when the telephone rang. When he answered it, the voice on the other end greeted him by saying, "Hello, fatso." Instinctively, Gentile pulled in his stomach, and asked who the wise-guy was. The caller replied, "This is Charlie, Charlie O." To the uninformed, Charlie O. is Charles O.—for owner—Finley, the owner of the Kansas City Athletics. He was calling to tell Gentile he had been acquired by the Athletics in a trade with the Baltimore Orioles. The A's had given up Norm Siebern in the deal. But Finley had more than that bit of news on his mind.

He noted that the official American League records listed Gentile as 215 pounds. Finley questioned the accuracy of that, and Jim didn't argue with him. Then, Finley got down to business. He said he would make it worth while to Gentile if the big first baseman showed up for spring training at that listed weight, 215 pounds. He asked Jim how much weight he would have to shed to make that limit, and Gentile said five pounds. Actually, it was closer to 15 pounds, but when Gentile stepped on the scales at spring training, the indicator stopped at 213. Finley was happy, but he wasn't satisfied. He had another deal to offer Gentile.

The Athletics owner said if Gentile stayed at that weight, he would get a bonus of $125 each week. That sounded fine to Big Jim. So, every Tuesday, Gentile gets on the scale in the Kansas City dressing room, his weight is checked and duly recorded. So far, the bargain has worked out fine for Jim. Gentile has been at the limit or under it every Tuesday. He has collected more than $800 in bonus money. If Gentile keeps at it, this could turn out to be a profitable year for the slugger—who has found that losing weight can pay off.

There haven't been too many pleasant surprises for the Boston Red Sox this season. They have been floundering around deep in the second division. But in EDDIE BRESSOUD, the Red Sox have had many a happy moment this season. In fact, his hefty batting average is one of the big surprises in the American League. He is up among the first five with his bat. Bressoud had done quite a lot of kicking around during his career, dating back to 1950 when he broke in with Springfield in the Ohio-Indiana League. He first joined the Giants in 1956 when they were stationed in New York.

Bressoud spent several years with the Giants before he was shipped to the Houston Colt .45's in the expansion. In late 1961, the Red Sox traded shortstop Don Buddin to the 45's for Bressoud and have never regretted the deal. Bressoud is not 32 years old but is playing like a younger made in the majors. And as for Buddin, he soon disappeared from the Houston scene. Manager Johnny Pesky is one of Bressoud's biggest supporters. Says Pesky: "He is an ardent student of the game and never wastes a moment, whether in practice or in the game." That is high praise from a manager.

As for Bressoud, he doesn't know what to make of his high batting average. He says he is not that good a hitter. But grins and says the hits just continue to drop in. And that is all any ball player can ask for—let the hits drop in.

Remember When Dept. — Voting starts on June 15 for "Our" All-Star team. Listings for the starting positions and pitchers for both leagues should be brought to The Record office or mailed in. Balloting lasts for 10 days, 'till June 25.

Today's Sport Laugh — Arnold Palmer announced recently that he was going into the laundry business, and added: "If I don't play well in my tournaments from now on, I can blame it on dishpan hands." —John Breth.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — Airman Third Class Dale L. Feeser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Feeser of 293 Pennsylvania Ave., Westminster, has graduated from the technical training course for U.S. Air Force data processing machine operators at Sheppard AFB, Tex. Airman Feeser, who was trained in control panel wiring and the operation of punched card data processing machines, is being assigned to the Military Air Transport Service's (MATS) McGuire AFB, N.J. His new unit supports the MATS mission of providing global airlift of U.S. military forces and equipment. The airman, a graduate of Westminster High School, attended the University of Maryland.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

OKINAWA (PHTNC) — Marine Staff Sergeant Charles P. Garber, son of John W. Garber of Taneytown, Maryland, left this month for the Far East aboard the Navy transport USS General Mann from San Diego, California. He will serve a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division, Okinawa.

Okinawa, the center of American activity and interest in the Far East, is an island within the Ryukyu chain. These islands stretch about eight hundred miles along the coast of the Asian mainland. The northernmost islands approach the southernmost Japanese main island, and the southern part of the Ryukyu chain is just 40 miles east of Taiwan.

The island is only 65 miles long and varies from two to 17 miles in width. It is about 960 miles from Tokyo and 900 miles from Hong Kong, China. The battalion, about 1,000 strong, commanded by Major Edmond G. Darning, will stop in Hawaii and Japan for liberty while on the way to Okinawa.

IT'S A FACT!

For centuries, man has been plagued by rats! Farmers lose millions of dollars each year in grain spoilage and livestock diseases spread by rats. Urban areas also feel the effects—in disease, fires caused by rat-chewed wires, and rat-bitten children.

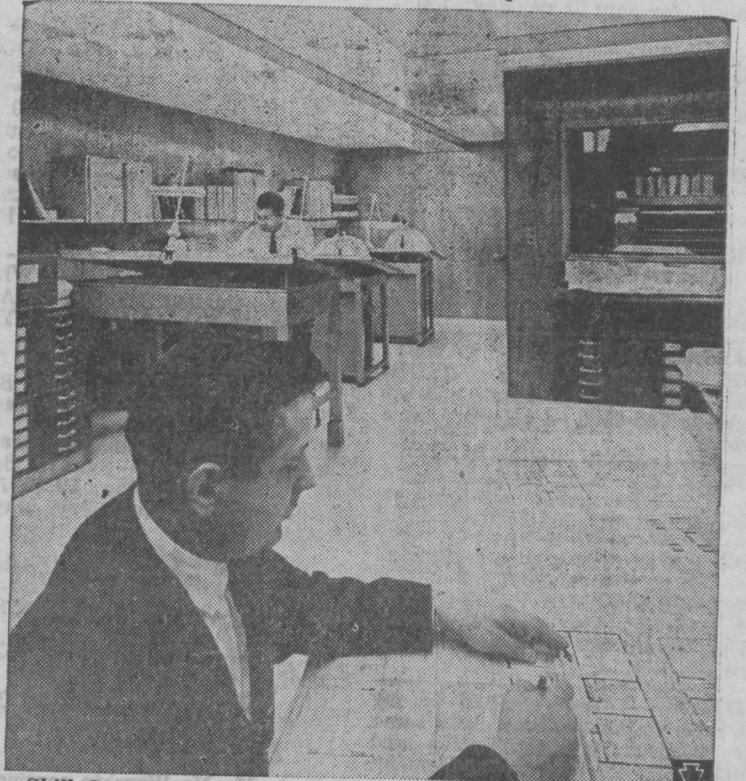

Rats exist everywhere—thrive in dirt and dark. To detect them, look for signs of gnawing around doors and windows; holes and fresh diggings; droppings and tracks. They're a formidable enemy—one pair of rats will produce 150-200 offspring a year!

Today, a high quality, anti-coagulant rodenticide, Tri-Ban, is reducing the dangers caused by rats, and saving millions of dollars annually. Tri-Ban nuggets in meat and grain flavors please the tastes of Mr. Rat—the nest-nuggets also make handy carry-home favors to eradicate the entire rat family back at the nest.

Home Construction Easily Modified

Skilled architectural draftsmen at Ridge Homes revise home plans to suit preferences of customers. More than 80 percent of their homes sold in 1963 had modifications of basic plans.

CONSHOHOCKEN, PA.—Last year more than one-fifth of all homes built in the United States used manufactured components. And the trend toward building homes of materials produced and assembled by efficient production-line techniques is moving at such a rate that authorities on the subject say that half of all new houses in 1975 will be of this type.

The answer, say architects and construction experts here at Ridge Homes, is in the value resulting from production and erection efficiencies plus the fact that more and more buyers of manufactured homes are offered a variety of choices to make each home distinctively different.

Ridge Homes, manufacturer of 42 different homes, from the sprawling ranchers to the small vacation cottages, was a pioneer in offering this variety. This feature is largely responsible for the company's rapid growth in the Eastern states. Through Flexi-Plan, their buyers are able to plan their homes easily and to their own preferences. They may select floor plans, doors, windows, roof styles, colors, siding and other modifications of basic plans for each model.

To provide personal attention to a customer's preferences, these homes are sold only through local franchised dealers. The dealer handles details which can be taken care of only on the site of the new home, no matter who actually erects the house. Ridge experts stand ready with professional support, at no cost.

A workbook, with floor plans for all models, drafting overlay paper in scale to the basic plans, makes light work of helping a prospective home buyer put his ideas on paper. It is available free by writing to "Flexi-Plan" Dept., Ridge Homes, Conshohocken, Pa.

Ideas for Interiors

by Mary Davis Gillies, Senior Editor, McCall's Magazine

Decorating Ideas from the Near Past

The middle sixties is a period of exciting revivals in interior design. We are reaching back to the near past and selecting the cream from the design world of the twenties.

It was a gay, exciting, adventurous time, and not without its air of elegance.

The revival is not as conservative in its total effect. Today we use a freer hand. The blend of contemporary and traditional, a more lavish use of wall-to-wall carpet, large window areas and a dramatic use of accessories inject a casual but more sophisticated air.

A new enthusiasm for surfaced walls is one of the high points of the revival. Wallpaper is one of the greatest magic-makers available to an interior designer. With wallpaper patterns, you can create a thousand illusions, change a box of a room into a bold 17th Century statement or into a quaint Victorian parlor. The introduction of pattern on walls can compensate for the lack of interior architecture, can camouflage a room's irregularities or modify its dimensions. Pattern can give a room a feeling of elegance, grandeur, gaiety or whimsy.

Pattern is also being used in floor coverings, in fabrics, upholstery and walls on a scale not seen for forty years.

The rules for combining patterns are simple. If several figured surfaces are used in a room, one should dominate. It is always safe to combine a floral, a geometric pattern such as a stripe, check, dot or circle, and a plain or textured surface.

A beautiful living room recently finished has walls surfaced in a white-on-white damask-type wallpaper, the wall-to-wall carpet is red and the upholstery is black, red and white. It is a dramatic room but easy to live in.

In a dining room, above a white dado, red flock wallpaper was used. Draperies are red, the floor is black and white vinyl, there is a crystal chandelier and the draperies are red with white fringe trim. It is a handsome room.

Another dining room in a country house seems all mellow forest greens. It, too, has a dado, this time painted deep green, picked up from the mural wallpaper used on the upper walls. The cafe curtains are curly yellow, the furniture is colonial cherry.

A charming bedroom just completed has a brown stencil wallpaper, brown woodwork, beige carpet and draperies. The beds have brown chintz flounces and pink bedspreads with cherry red bolsters. In the corner by a big window is a big cherry red wing chair. It is a room that could have been designed in the twenties, but the two oversized oil paintings bought in Mexico and framed with five-inch-wide white frames spell the sixties as do other accessories picked up on junkets abroad.

Today's room is personal, and even though it may reflect some mood or design facet from the past, it seldom loses its identity with the possessive present.

Peacemakers Lesson for June 14, 1964

Background Scripture: Micah 4:1-5; Matthew 26:47-56; Romans 12:14-21; 1 Timothy 2:1-2; Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-9.

WHAT CAN I DO for world peace? It is a question most serious-minded persons, young and old, have asked themselves. Too often the answer is, Nothing. I am only one of two hundred million American citizens, and very few of us have the authority or the power either to start a war or to stop it.

Dr. Foreman like Russia and China? Faced with such simple arithmetic, most persons simply give up. To judge from the actions of the American public, it seems to be the general opinion that "Que sera, sera," what is to be will be, and if we just stop thinking about the problem of war, it will go away.

For all in high positions War is one problem which has existed since long before the Bible began to be written. We might expect the Bible to say something about it, and so it does. For one thing, the Biblical pictures of an ideal world are invariably pictures of a world from which war has disappeared.

there wasn't a Christian king in the world when Paul wrote this—and for all in high positions, "that we may live a quiet and peaceable life..." If you believe in a real God, "King of Kings," and if you believe in prayer, of course the thing to do is to pray for those whose decisions make war or prevent it.

Overcome evil with good Governments of every kind reflect the character and the wills of their people, in the long run. A government has to do more or less what the people want and understand, even when a nation's leaders are a bad lot.

Peacemaking institutions Blessed are the peacemakers, Jesus said. If this is right, then it is right to stand by and support peacemakers. There is space here only for a bare mention of two institutions which in different ways are working for peace, and deserve the support of all Christians.

THE NAVY LOG

FACTS FROM COMPTONS

The U.S. Navy has regulations even about naming its ships. The 45,000-ton Essex class aircraft carriers are named after famous sea battles (Midway, Coral Sea) and famous Americans (Franklin D. Roosevelt). The 60,000-ton Forrestal was named for our first Secretary of Defense.

The largest cruisers are named for U.S. possessions and territories (Guam). Heavy and light guided missile cruisers carry the names of large cities (Des Moines).

Submarines, says Compton's Encyclopedia, are normally named after marine creatures (Skate, Shark). The newest nuclear driven, ballistic missile subs, however, are named for great early Americans (Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson).

For Warmth Today

'Bundling' Gives Way To Current Method

Descendents of the ingenious New Englanders who invented "bundling" as a way to keep warm are just as smart as their ancestors when it comes to comfort. Nowadays they're turning to electric heat for winter warmth.

Not only home owners, but growing numbers of apartment dwellers now enjoy the clean, consistent comfort of electric heating. Take Maurette Manor Apartments in the old New England town of Newington, Conn., for instance.

A Colonial-styled development consisting of 68 garden apartment units, it is completely heated by electricity. It's also equipped with modern electric appliances.

According to Maurette Manor's builder, Frank T. Ferrigno, "I wanted to give my tenants the most modern and comfortable apartments available; that's why I made them all-electric, but I also wanted to make them as economical as possible to maintain. That's why I installed mineral wool insulation and wood windows and doors. It has paid off, too. After a year, I found that heating costs averaged about 25 per cent less than expected."

Ferrigno explained that wood windows are preferred for electrically heated houses because wood is a naturally warm material that is slow to let heat or cold pass through it. He added that wood windows are weather-tight because they lend themselves particularly well to built-in weather stripping.

"However," he added, "even if I hadn't installed electric heat, I would have used wood windows because they're traditional with Colonial architecture."

The double-hung windows of ponderosa pine used at Maurette Manor have removable sash that can be lifted out and replaced easily to permit washing both sides from inside the house.

"Hey, Where's The Hot Water?"

That's the cry heard round the world—at least on wash days. And for good reason. Each washing machine load of laundry uses almost the entire capacity of the average home's hot-water heater. So while mother does the wash, the rest of the family is in crisis—there are showers to be taken, baths to be run, and dishes to be washed . . . but no hot water. Frustration ends with the use of Cold Water "all," new heavy-duty liquid detergent unconditionally guaranteed to get the entire family wash clean in cold water. This new detergent soothes mother's temper, too, for it does away with "special" laundry loads. Elastized garments don't weaken in cold water washing, and colored pieces won't fade, streak or run as they do in normal hot water detergents. Even sweaters and T-shirts hold their size better when washed in Cold Water "all." It's a scientific breakthrough that makes wash day smooth-sailing—and gets the family back in hot water.
