JULY FIRST - A DAY OF PATRIOTIC PRIDE (A member of the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown read the following paper at a meeting of the club held at Taney Inn, July 1, 1964, showing the importance of the date, July 1, in the history of Taneytown. —Editor.)

Mr. Chairman, Fellow Kiwanians, and Friends:

I would like to direct your attention to the apparently ominous co-inci-dence of our meeting date tonight (July 1), and, to two very important Historic Events that also occurred on July 1. I refer to two occurred on July 1. I refer to two occurrences that happened in Taneytown's past, separated by a period of 72 years. The first was the visit of President Washington, July 1, 1791, 173 years ago, when he was invited to meet the Local Veterans of the Porculation Local Veterans of the Revolution at Terra Rubra. The bronze plaque on building at No. 8 Frederick Street commemorates his stay in Taneytown for hotel accommodations.

The second historic event was the setting up of headquarters by General George G. Meade, July 1, 1863, from which he directed the initial concen-tration of Union Forces at Gettysburg. The site of his headquarters is on Route 194, 1 mile north of Adam Good's Tavern where Washington stayed over-night, July 1, 1791. Let's find time, before July 1964 is much older, to pause for a moment before each of these shrines, and give thanks for the Washington of 1791 and the Lincoln of 1863 — one the Father, the other the Savior — of The second historic event was the Father, the other the Savior - of great Americans? My image of Washington, I sus-pect is colored by the stories told to me as a lad, and, I fear, no human being could fit those heroic specifi-cations. It would be fitting to read from a letter written by Thomas Jef-ferson (Jan. 2, 1814) to Dr. Walter Jones: "... His integrity was most pure, his justice most inflexible I have ever known, no motives... of have ever known, no motives . . . of friendship or hatred being able to bias his decision. He was, indeed, in every sense of the words, a wise, a good, and a great man. His heart was not warm in its effections bet Mrs. Marion Rue and Mrs. Lena Hitchcock returned yesterday (Wed-nesday) after spending a week with Mrs. Rue's sister, Mrs. Margaret Thomas and sons, New London, N.H. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Neal of Glen Burn Farm returned Tuesday, July 7, ocrity, possessing neither copiousness of ideas, nor fluency of words..... Yet he wrote readily, rather diffusely, Yet he wrote readily, rather diffusely, in an easy and correct style. . . On the whole, his character was, in its mass, perfect, in nothing bad, in few points indifferent; and it may be truly said, that never did nature and fortune combine more perfectly to make a man great." (End of quote.) Your image of Lincoln, could only be, the same as mine—the world has known no greater man.

known no greater man. Let's go back to July 1, 1791, when Washington met the Veterans of the Revolution at Terra Rubra. The old soldiers and their folks had been insoluters and their folks had been in-vited, by couriers on horseback, days in advance of the President's visit. Imagine the excitoments of the president's visit. Refreshments were then served from a table beautifully decorated in a Imagine the excitement! They seemed to come from everywhere. Old Tom's Creek Fighting Cocks, carrying their long rifles, wearing their leather jackets, and with cockades in their caps, swung down the road like tattered ghosts of the past. Dragoons drummers, fifers, and, officers formed to meet the President's procession. Washington came on horseback; it is said that Mrs. Washington followed in the coach, escorted by Thomas Johnson, Thomas Sim Lee, and other important leaders of the times.

STRETCH FORAGE SUPPLY BY FEEDING GRAIN

Livestock producers and dairymen can stretch livestock feed supplies by substituting grain for forages, say animal scientists at the University of Maryland.

Grain can be substituted at the rate of about a half pound of grain for one pound of poor quality hay and about two-thirds of a pound of grain for one pound of excellent quality hay in rations for dairy or beef cattle or sheep.

About 8/10 of a pound of hay equivalent per hundred pounds of body weight is needed to maintain a dairy cow and allow for normal milk production and butterfat test, the scientists say. About the same rate of forage is needed by beef cattle and sheep for normal body growth. While ruminants need a certain amount of roughage in the ration, a high quality forage is not necessary, and roughages as noor as straw can roll County took steps last week to eliminate the "inventory tax" for all existing industry and business over a ten-year period. The resolution which was passed also provided an exemption for all new business and industry which may locate in the County after January 1, 1965. This action was made possible by legislation passed at the 1964 Special Session of the Maryland General Assembly.

The legislation was recommended late last year by the Economic Development Commission when it was apparent that several potential industries over the past few years may have located in the County had not such a tax been in existence. Just recently the Economic Development Commission released information that, of fifty industries interviewed, thirtyfour considered the tax unfair or burdensome The County Commissioners have been concerned over the loss of rev-enue to the County if action to eliminate the tax was taken. Last week however, the County's fiscal advisor indicated that no increase in the real estate tax was likely, in that the loss estate tax was likely, in that the loss over the ten-year period could be approximately $28,000 for the initial year. This, the County Commissioners were informed, could be absorbed in normal growth in the assessed value of new real womenty each year with of new real property each year, without the necessity of an increase in the tax rate. The County Commissioners in taking such action last week also were quick to point out that a special 30man advisory unit of farmers, businessmen and representatives of in-dustry, with few exceptions, recom-mended that the inventory tax be eliminated as provided in the law. some however, asked that the ten-year period be reduced in new legis-lation. It was noted that the future economy of the County was very dependent upon new business and in-dustry, not only from a tax revenue dustry, not only from a tax revenue standpoint, but from the viewpoint of employment.

A public hearing has been scheduled for July 27 at 7:30 P. M. in the Coun-ty Office Building, Westminster, be-fore the County Commissioners at which time further consideration will be given prior to any final adoption of the measure.

SUMMER EVENING

This July day has been unmerci-fully hot, and by the end of it, I feel tired and wilted. As a rule, our old stone house stays quite cool and com-fortable in the summer time, but this terrific heat creeps in everywhere. Despite the fan in the window, the kitchen has become uncomfortably warm, and it is with a sigh of relief that I do up the last dish, and escape to the front porch.

I am just in time to witness one of the most gorgeous sunsets I have ever seen. Old Sol, looking like a burning red ball, slips slowly down in the West, staining the sky with breathtaking colors. There is a ver-unusual cloud formation banked all

'FEDERAL FUNDS"

The Senate recently approved a proposal to write into all spending measures the pointed reminder that the money appropriated comes out of the taxpayers' pockets. Let us hope that the House follows suit and makes this an established edit desirable and in the best interest policy from now on. For the term "federal funds"—which we have seen applied to all manner of activities, and taxation for existing industry and policy from now on. For the term from highways to welfare programsobviously has misled many people. They seem to believe that this money comes from some mysterious herein source which has no relation to them-source which has no relation to them-selves. Well, the federal government can get money only in two ways. One is 19 of the Laws of Maryland enacted by taxes which hit us all hard. The other is by increasing the national debt which will have to be paid, plus interest and administrative costs, by the taxpayers of tomorrow.

The only money the government has, or ever has had, is that which it gets from the taxpayers. It's time 1. much more notice was given to this simple and inescapable fact.

Like always, Freddy dashed home right after school to walk very-best-friend MacDuff. Not in the usual place (Pop's favorite chair), not the kitchen, MacDuff wasn't anywhere Freddy looked.

Mom was about as upset as Freddy. She hurried to the phone, first calling neighbors. Then she called Grandfather, who lived a few blocks away. Right away she got an assuring,

"Don't worry now,

I'll drive around and find the pup."

Problems have a way of disappearing when you lift your phone.

Freddy calmed down, too, when Mom told him with equal certainty that Grandpa would find MacDuff.

Sure enough, in less than an hour ... up the walk they came. A very pleased scotty (he'd had a great ride) in the arms of Freddy's smiling grandpa.

"Well, here he is. I found he'd hiked all the way to town."

So another day ends happily. Just by making that one phone call? Yes ... and the quick, sympathetic response to it that

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION

In this time of great trouble and sorrow we are made to realize more than ever what good neighbors and friends near and far mean to usward. We are reminded of Romans 14:7 "For none of us liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself." We need God and we need one another. We sincerely do say "thank you and may God's blessings be upon one and all for all the kind words of faith and encouragement, prayers, cards, letters, telephone calls and visits." We really never know the true meaning of a burden, broken heart until we ourselves experiences these great burdens. Do remember us and our son and his family and the young mother. We can never repay you, but God will repay at the end of life's journey. A broken hearted Dad and Mother, STERLING AND ANNA

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors, friends and elatives for the cards, visits and food during our recent illness; we also thank the Ladies' and Men's Bible Classes of Keysville United Church of Christ, and the visits from our pastor, Rev. Wiley. Again many thanks.

MR. AND MRS. UPTON DAYHOFF Keysville, Md.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends' and relatives for being faithful to me by voting for me at the contest held at Reindollar Hardware Store. Through them it was made possible for me to win fourth prize, the electric window fan. Again many thanks. DORIS MYERS

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for cards, flowers, gifts and visits while in the hospital and since our return

DEBBIE AND PAMELA SHOLL

"Didn't they teach you to salute in your company?" roared the major to Patrick Malone, who had passed him without raising his hand.

"Yes, sir," replied Pat. "Then why didn't you salute?" "Well, sir," was the candid reply, "I didn't want to attract more atten-tion than I had to, 'cause I ain't sup-posed to be out here without a pass."

"Women are never satisfied. They are always trying either to put on weight, take it off, or rearrange it." —Lee Call, Afton (Wyo.) Star Val-ley Independent lev Independent.

For that kind of a record, a team has to have ability and luck. Baltimore is a team with a solid man at every position. And it also has depth. When injuries have struck such key men as Luis Aparicio, Johnny Orsino and Barber, the Orioles have been able to fill the vacancies capably. And when the starting pitcher fails to go the distance, Bauer can call on prob-ably the best bullpen crew in the where everything goes right." So far, iss the distance, Bauer can call on prob-ably the best bullpen crew in the majors, headed by the baffling Stu Miller. Of course, the team the Ori-oles have to beat are the Yankees. It's normal for the pitchers to get ahead of the batters in the first part of the season but they're overdoing it this year. This one is threatening it this year. This one is threatening to go down as the "Year of the big slump." A number of big hitting reputations have been dented already and hasty repair jobs will be needed to save them.

Taneytown traveled to Bonneauville and had things pretty much their own way as they defeated the Braves, 9-1. Lusty hitting and fine pitching made the victory that much easier. Ed Combs was the hitting hero with four hits and two rbi's. Fred Shank and Don Favorite each had two hits with the former having two rbi's. Walt Donahue was the pitching star Wath the former having two rols. Walt Donahue was the pitching star as usual as he struck out 17 Bonneau-ville batters, walked but two and al-lowed only four hits.

BIBLE

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Not Forgotten

Lesson for July 12, 1964

WHERE IS your God? can be an earnest, even desperate question. Or it can be a sneer of mockery. It can be asked by friends of God or by his enemies. In times of peace and prosperity the question loses its anguish.

Browning's characters, we can sing happily, 'God's in his heaven and all's right with the world." But there comes a time when it is small comfort to think

Dr. Foreman that God is in heaven. That's exactly the trouble, we think. He is in heaven when he ought to be here. This is a sore question even when we ask, Where is our God, Where is mine? When it's your own faith that is about to break, the question about God isn't just a theological problem, it is acute, it becomes the most important question in the world. With all the people who need God's help, where is he? What is he doing?

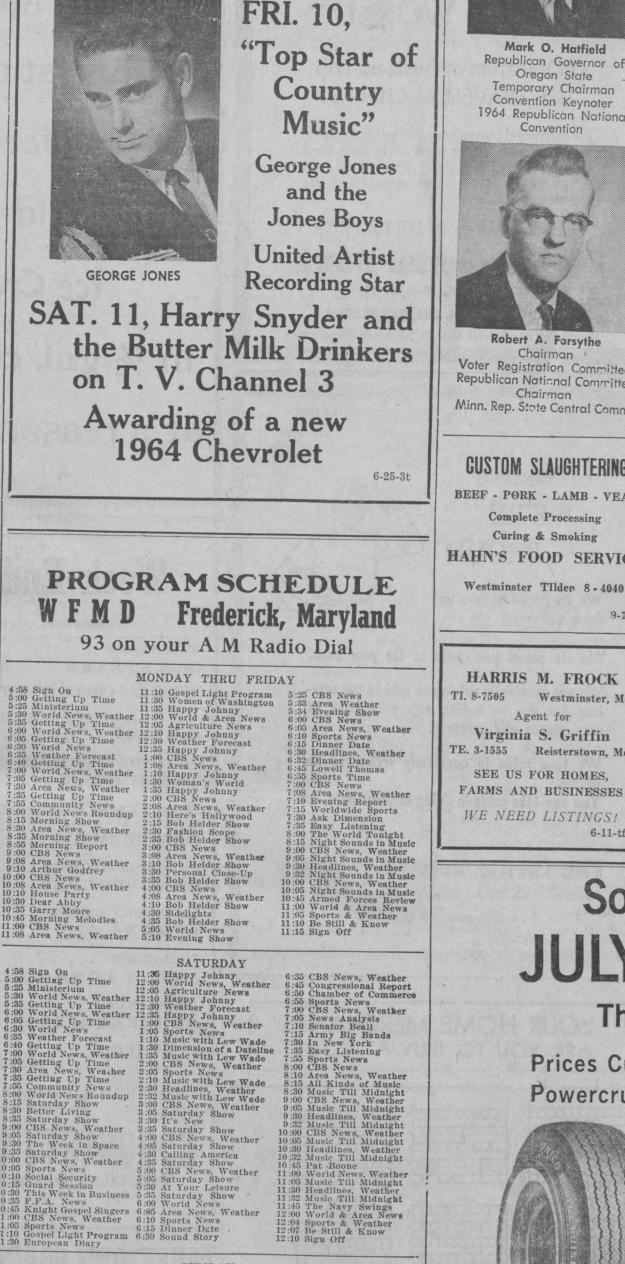

God knows

"God heard ... God remem-bered ... God saw ... and God knew." These words stand out in the two sentences that close the second chapter of Exodus. This is the first assurance the Bible has for us: we do not have a forgetful God, or an absent-minded one. The true God is not a pent-house god with a privately listed telephone. He hears, he knows, he sees, he remembers. He neither guesses nor forgets what goes on in his world.

God prepares a man

©One reason why that question "Where is God?" can be so often asked, is that God never advertises what he is doing. If he did what maintenance crews do on the city street, put up a yellow barrier and a sign: Slow-God at Work! it would be different. But he has his own ways of doing things. No doubt those toiling, sweating, bitter Hebrew slaves often thought to themselves or asked one another, Where is God? He seems to have forgotten us! But God did not report to them, and he will not report to us, every day what he is doing. Maybe if he told us we should only laugh-in the wrong place. What was God doing to help his poor persecuted people down in Egypt? Well, when the time came, he was getting a man ready. (He was readying him in his greatgrandparents, but that's another story.) Where is God? He is seeing to it that a little basket of reeds is not lost in the Nile backwaters. He is seeing to it that a little baby cries just in time to catch a Princess' heart. God was arranging for that child to have the best education in the world. ... Or if you had inquired some years later, you might have been told (if God had cared to let you in on the secret) that God was preparing an old man, a sheep-herder, to become acquainted with every mile of a terrible wilderness country. One day he would lead a nation where now he led his sheep.

God waits for the time

If God knows what is going on, and if God is preparing today as in Moses' time some great man or men to lead us into new promised lands, then why does he not come to our rescue now? The idea that God waits for the right time to come before he takes action is a hard one to swallow; but it is all over the Bible. God does not do everything at once. When God made this universe he made Time with it, and God respects all things he has made. Even Jesus Christ did not come till the time was "fulfilled," as the Bible expresses it. Children have only two hands on their clocks; one points to "now" and the other to "never." But there is another clock, and God made it and he goes by it; it has a hand pointing to "not yet." Moses, you may remember, once tried to help the Israelites by killing Egyptians. He killed one himself for a start. But it was not God's time. Sometimes men come too late to their work; God never does. "Our times are in his hand."

"Sometimes the man who stands on his dignity is arrested for having no visible means of support."—George W. Shroyer, Shamokin (Pa.) Citizen.

It is human nature to put the blame for everything on somebody else but a man begins to make some progress when he blames his shortcomings on the proper person.

A loose nut at the wheel is not often as dangerous as a tight one.
