How beautiful the weather is right now, but everyone knows that there will be many hot days still ahead. And that reminds me, many friends have returned so disappointed as to the "World's Fair," stating that they just could not stand the long waiting lines to get into the various buildings and returned seeing very little! Ugh! I think the Fall would be an idea! time to go for many reasons and the bus trip seems to be the best from all I have read for the saying is a true one, "Leave the driving to us?" They have all wonderful type of trips making it a real package af-fair and if I go, Folks that is the way I'll take it. My-oh-my how Zola Cantwell makes me wish for living in the country! Folks, if you have a banjo clock (as they are very rare) do take care of it. Place a clock in any room and the whole room lives! The name of Simon Willard is almost invariably associated with fine banjo clocks since according to historical records, he invented the banjo clock design in the year of 1801! Because of their wide adaptability and decorative value, banjo clocks are still regarded as prized possessions. Of course, there are all different sizes and it.

there are all different sizes and it-truly is a clock to treasure. Ladies, are you doing those leg-exercises? If you really want to re-duce other parts just do without one-meal a day and drink a can of "SEGO". Then when you do ext., just eat about half the usual amount. If you are considering a new re-frigerator, Mrs. housewife—no other can compare with my favorite, "RCA-WHIRLPOOL!" It now makes: ice, too, like magic and automatically replaces every cube you use!! It never becomes noisy no matter how old and is built beautifully. You don't need ice trays in that refrigerator. The part I like about my syear old one that it is noiseless!

Although, Ava Gardner shines im "The Night of The Iguana" (and I never knew she was so beautiful) I did not like the story but the acting of Richard Burton as an unfrocked Episcopal Priest is superb He surely makes a hit with all the ladies with his grand manner, his voice and much else. His voice is really musical and his style — well, is all his own! He manages to take Tourists on bus trips as a professional guide. The acting also of Deborah Kerr (pronounced Car), and Sue Lyon who played "Lolita," if you recall is excellent. But we wonder about the story! Nuff Sad!

the story! Nuff Sed!
As to the show, "A HOUSE IS NOT A HOME," quite surprised meas I really did not expect that kimi of a story. It is a true one of a so-called female named, "Polly Adler" and it leaves a bitter taste after viewing it all. Years ago—this, no doubt was part of New York as wicked city! Now, that I recall I was given much advice "Not to talk to a living soul no matter what they would say to me!" in the many visits there when I was a teen-ager! I surely do hope the Police Department in that city today is warrent.

partment in that city today is very, very much different. Although there were many S T A R S such as Shelly Winters as this so called, "Polly," Robert Taylor. There is no moral to the show and it is far far. moral to the show and it is far, far from inspiring—not one tiny bit However, when I made a survey coming out of the theatre to make inquiries as to the opinions of many others they said, "Oh, I liked it because it was a true story!" This confidence was reciprocated by the citizens. Within the limits of human nature, both assumptions were correct, and well validated.

Today, Government seems to assume that all citizens are dishonest. There is some evidence that, too, is reciprocal.

In war time, free enterprise-or capitalism, if we want to be forthright-was loaded with the forcedlabor expense of the withholding tax. Never having seen the withheld money, many workers still do not realize it is part of their earnings.

Now, the Government is engaged in coercing some citizens to tattle on others regarding dividends received. Once more, untold man-hours are taken from productive effort in business-again without compensationand must be added to the cost of doing business. Everyone must furnish each dividend or interest-disbursing agent, whose acquaintance he has made through thrift and effort, with his social security number, or a reasonable facsimile.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

After a fine two weeks vacation, it is good to be back saying "Greetings to you" again. My family and I traveled for a week going as far north as Erie, Pa., where we stayed three days and on the return trip visited with various of my relatives who live in Pennsylvania. These in-cluded my dad and step-mother in Ginter, my aunt in Halifax, my aunt and uncle and a cousin and her family in Millersburg, and my paternal grandfather in Elizabethville as well as my maternal grandmother who in a nursing home in Amity Hall. What "they" say is true: it's good to go away for awhile but it is even better to get back home. Do hope all you readers have had good vacations or are going to have one shortly. This is such a busy season for every-one right now with all the garden produce to be canned and frozen. It s also a "tasty" season.

A number of her friends and relatives attended a bridal shower Saturday evening given to Judy Kiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kiser of the Keysville Road. Judy and Richard Bowers will be married in September. Richard is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbaugh of the Keys-ville Road near the Taneytown Road. Belated happy birthday wishes to two of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun of Redland near Detour. Terry's was on the 15th and Libby's on the 22nd. On Tuesday afternoon, Ellen Fleharty and Randy Weishaar were guests of Libby and enjoyed a chicken dinner together to celebrate her becoming eight.

Sorry to hear one of the Kiser twins is ill. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kiser of Naylor's Mill Road.

Understand Mrs. Coral Cover has returned to her home with her daugh returned to her home with her daughetr and family in Rochester, N.Y. Hope she soon feels well again.

Some more visits to Carter Barron Ampitheater in Washington have been made. Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and Mrs. Carlton Catlin were down on the 8th to Henry Man-cini and Johnny Mathis show. On the 21st Mrs. Carlton Catlin, Mrs. William Fleharty, Miss Vallie Shorb and Mrs. John Lambert attended the operetta by Johann Strauss, "Wiener Blut."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar of Detour upon the birth of their second son, John William, on the 18th. Bobby has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar of Forest and Need any cards? That is all-oc-casion or Christmas. Mrs. Terry Poist, Mrs. Robert Stine and Miss Nancy DeBerry each have a line of cards available to show you. Just give them a call.

Sorry to have to report this week that the fine lady everyone knows, Mrs. William E. Ritter of Taneytown, on Sunday and broke her hip. On Monday, at the Annie Warner hospital, a pin was placed and I'm sure we all join in wishing her well and a rapid recovery. You just know how much she will appreciate cards, so let's get some off to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Berman Weeks and family who live on the Bark Hill Road, Union Bridge, are buying a house in Keymar. Mr. Weeks is the very able Cubmaster of Cub Pack 459. I might add that the Pack had a fine time together on Sunday the 9th when they had their picnic at Rocky Ridge Park.
Speaking of picnics, the Monocacy CYP had one on the 16th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Peterson of Harney.

Well driller is at the site of the Larry Stambaugh home in Keysville and the foundation wall is rising at the new home next to the Carroll Kiser home. Guest speaker at Keysville Lutheran Church was Theodore Wachhaus, who is a student at the Seminary in Gettysburg. Mr. Wachhaus spoke about God knowing everything we do; that God knows what we go through. We often say "If God loves us so much, why does He let 'bad' things happen to us?" To love God, we must not expect protection but rather BE part of His new creation which is undestructable. The opposite of faith is despair and the opposite of belief is not to ask about God.

School starts on Wednesday, Sept. 9, this year and everyone to whom you speak tells you he, or she, is not ready to go back to school yet. However, the bells will ring and classes will take up for another school term in less than two weeks. The changing of bus schedules sounds good, and will surely be a lot easier for the little "tackers" who go to first and second grades. Do hope it will be possible for it to work out at Elmer Wolfe in Union Bridge. The P-TA Executive Committee of

Elmer A. Wolfe School met on Monday, August 24, with a number of items to discuss. Principal, Mr. Perron, and Berman Weeks assured the committee that the new By-Laws for the P-TA will be ready by the time school starts. Mr. Weeks attended Carroll County Council Workshop in Westminster during the summer the Summer Conference at Hood College in July and told about them.

Mrs. Rickell gave an interesting report: that seven years ago there Also many thanks for floral trib-were 52 per cent of the pupils of the utes, to relatives, friends, neighbors school below their reading level. Now 30 per cent are below. This is certainly a fine improvement and it is hoped it will continue to improve.

Mr. Perron read a copy of the letter which was sent to the Board of Education requesting construction for a new cafeteria. It told the reasons for this request which will both eating and working conditions. The Treasurer reported a balance of $308.03.

An enrollment of 446 is expected for the 1964-65 year. Mrs. Sloop, fourth grade, resigned and Mrs. Broman has been hired as her replace ment. Miss Forwood will also be a new member of the faculty and will teach third grade. A number of the teachers have been taking summer school courses.

Union Bridge, where it will stop. A new bridge will be built and the road widened to the Gulf Station. The date for completion of the road on to Keymar is unknown at present. Letters have been sent to Mr. Funk, Superintendent of State Roads, requesting the building of an under-pass when the road continues for the use of the school children so it will not be necessary for them to cross the road. No answer has been received as yet.

Maryland Parent-Teacher Bulletins are being ordered, and paid by the Treasury, for all members of the Ex-ecutive Committee. Publicity Chairman was authorized to purchase a scrapbook in which to keep record of P-TA activities.

Discussion was held on the new bus scheduling and times. Elmer A. Wolfe will be in session from 9:10 A. M. to 3:27 P. M. If the new times for buses are correct. Everyone is asked to give the new arrangement a fair try for it will surely correct a num-ber of problems that have been present.

Ideas were requested and discussed for Ways and Means. Among them a used book sale, card party, sample party and another Hobby Show. The show seemed to have the most possibilities and will be discussed further at other meetings. Next meeting will be Sept. 28 at 8 P. M. -Dharlys Fleharty.

THIS AND THAT

August days in Maryland, as a general rule, are real scorchers, but recently we have experienced a most unusual cool spell. (However, at this writing, the temperatures have again soared up into the 90's.) As a matter of fact, Garrett County reported frost, and some sections of the U.S.A. even had snow! I notice that some of the trees here at Wood Burn have already started to change color. It is hard to realize that so little of the summer remains, and that before long, autumn will begin to light her blazing bonfires in real earnest.

While in New York City, we rode on the subway several times, and I must say this is a speedy and inexpensive way of getting around this huge metropolis. For 15 cents, one can ride for miles, for New York has the world's most elaborate network. the world's most elaborate network of subways, with the present day system covering more than 271 route miles. Perhaps this unique, underground method of transportation would help solve some of the traffic problems in Baltimore. I believe it would be worth problems in Baltimore. I believe it would be worth a try.

Central Park, an enchanting bit of country-side, is set like a green emerald, right in the very heart of New York City. It offers a lake for boating, lots of trees and rocks, many paths (perfect for walking, horseback riding, or cycling), and convenient benches, where one may sit quietly and feed the walking. and feed the well-known Central Park pigeons. It seems a pity that such a lovely spot should also be such a dangerous one, but apparently it is, especially at night. Muggings, beatings, robbery and even murder take place with dismaying frequency in our large city parks all over the country. Such actions are real blots against our present-day society, in which violence seems to be taken for granted. The Museum of Natural History is a fascinating place. Here the native animals of New York State are stuffed and mounted so skillfully that they actually seem to breathe and move. Many are placed in their natural settings, and every flower, tree and bird used in the scene is also identified. The section on birds is also most interesting. Sometime I would like to take my bird book there and spend an entire day and spend an entire day, or even longer.

We visited some relatives in Freeport, Long Island, which is not far from Jones Beach. Long Island, it seems, serves as a "playground on the ocean" for New Yorkers and visitors. There are beaches all over the place, but none more beautiful or famous than Jones Beach. It was dark when we were there, but I have never seen another beach to compare with it. We were told that on week-ends, the place is packed and every parking lot is filled.

New York City, it seems to me, is the great melting pot of the world, for as we traveled around we heard many different languages, and saw all kinds of people. The thought all kinds of people. The thought struck me that despite language or appearance, all human beings are alike in this respect—every one is a child of God, for He is the Creator of us all.

Observations on the World of Sports

The PHILADELPHIA PHILS are driving hard for what they hope will be their first National League pennant since 1950 and the man supply-ing the power is rookie Richie Allen. When the National League flag race got under way, the youngster from Wampum, Pa., was touted as the one most likely to be named Rookie of the Year. On the basis of his form to date, it is difficult to see how anyone can beat him out of the honor.

Allen is a modest 22-year-old per former. He is letting his big bat tell the story for him. But manager Gene Mauch isn't reticent on the subject of his prize E. third baseman. Says March:

"First of all, let me say that if he hadn't done what he's done, there'd be no pennant to think about. He or a good day go to his head."

Allen has been the apple of everyone's eyes in the Philly organization ever since he was first spotted by scout Johnny Ogden. That was when Allen was only 16 years old and the shortstop for his high school team in Wampum. Ogden thought enough about Allen to offer $70,000 in bonus money to get him.

He started out with Elmira in the New York-Penn League as a short-stop. His fielding didn't set the loop on fire but his batting average of .281 was quite respectable. The 1961 campaign saw him bat .317 for Twin Falls in the Pioneer League where he played second base. His next posi tion was as a centerfielder for Wil-liamsport in the Eastern League. There he batted .329 and had 20 homers with 109 runs batted in.

Last season, the Phils made him a leftfielder in training camp. But the Philly officials decided he needed more seasoning. So he was sent to Little Rock in the International League. Allen's average dropped to .288 but he had 33 homers and drove in 97 runs. There was no question about the Phils using him this season. The only problem was where. During the winter months, Mauch made the decision. Allen was to play third.

Richie spent the winter months studying the problems of third base. And when the spring training season rolled around, he played the hot corner like a veteran. And that is what impresses everyone about Allen. He is only 22 but he plays like a veteran.

Promised Land Lesson for August 30, 1964

Background Scripture: Deuteronomy 34; Joshua 1 through 6; 21:43 through 24:33. Devotional Reading: Psalm 76:1-11.

66 PROMISED Land"—what does that suggest to most people who read or hear the words? To many it suggests a land of rest, a perfect paradise, the Utopia, the never-never land of heart's desire. This was not the original meaning at all. It referred to a definite area on the surface of this planet, about the size of the state of Vermont, land which most American farmers would consider far from the best,

Dr. Foreman a land without good roads, a land of very crude culture compared with our own. It was promised to a rather unpromising set of desert tribes, children of slaves. They needed a place in the sun, and the Promised Land was it.

The land

The land is still there, much changed, with the dust of centuries of misuse thick upoe it, and yet a land which today is beginning to blossom again. When the Israelites began to edge their way in, it was a fresher land than now. There were forests in which men might be lost, there were clear streams, there were wild beasts such as lions. Partly, it is still there. You can buy a ticket to places in it. Some of the towns mentioned in the Bible are still in existence. This writer has telephoned to Jerusalem from the top of Mt. Carmel. You can drive the length of the whole ancient kingdom of the ten tribes in an afternoon. But while the centuries have made many differences, and the wars and neglects of man have damaged the land in many ways, the Promised Land is still there, with the same rivers and mountains, desert and sea-coast that were there when Joshua was fighting his way in. One notable difference between those days and these is that instead of being split into dozens of tiny city-states, each city almost a nation to itself, there are now only two, Israel and Jordan.

Palestine is not now a peaceful country, it almost never was. If Jew and Arab are at each other's throats today, they are only keeping up with an ancient tradition. Joshua found the cities of the land in league against him, but if they had not been fighting him they would have been fighting question. Today wars of extermination are regarded by all the world as criminal. We have a name for what Joshua tried to do: genocide, the complete slaughter of a nation. Can we today approve of genocide when Joshua committed it (or tried 'to-the attempt was not wholly successful), while thinking of it as a horrible crime today? One thing we can say: A Christian, even a non-Christian in a world which has long had the influence of Christianity, has a light which Joshua did not have. Joshua had never heard of the Sermon on the

In song and story

The "Promised Land" has cap-tured the imagination of people who make poetry out of history. The conquest of Canaan has been idealized, romanticized, spiritualized, out of all resemblance to its actuality. One of the oddest uses of the Historical conquest by the Israelites is to take Jordan as a symbol of death, and Canaan (the Promised Land) as a type of neaven. Considering the bloody cruel ugliness of what actually went on, one hopes that heaven is not like what the Hebrews found and did in the Promised Land! It would be better to take chose wars as an example of how God can bring good out of evil, using "the wrath of men to praise him." Let us be grateful that victory came not to the sprawling tribes who worshipped animals, but to a people who for all their faults and sins still were aware of a God of purity and justice, a God of truth, King of all the Kings and kinglets of this earth.

How long do you have to hold it to get $50?

Ask your Uncle Charlie this question and he'll probably say 10 years. Which is how long it used to take back in the '40s.

Things happen faster nowadays, though. It takes just 73/4 years for today's Series E Savings Bonds to reach full value, or what is called "maturity."

Of course, Uncle Charlie is not out anything if he does wait 10 years. He just earns extra interest under the Treasury's automatic extension privilege.

Naturally, neither you nor Uncle Charlie have to wait until maturity if you need the money sooner. The closest bank will turn your Bonds into cash anytime after the first two months. You'll get back everything you put in plus accumulated interest.

Also, as Bonds help you grow richer, they help your country grow stronger. A good reason for buying them in the first place, don't you think?

> Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can buy Bonds where you work or bank.
