MISS MARYLAND BALL HUGES SUCCESS

The fourth annual Miss Maryland Ball, held by the Taneytown Jaycees Saturday night at the Westminster Riding Club, was declared a huge success by Jaycee officials.

The guest of honor, Miss Royette Tarry, charmed the capacity crowd of nearly 200 patrons the entire evening. Miss Tarry was a runner-up in the Miss U.S.A. contest, a preliminary of the Miss Universe contest. She was the first representative from Maryland to reach the finals in the seven-year history of the contest.

Miss Tarry was introduced by the chairman, Harry Dougherty, Jr., who presented her with a wristlet corsage, a gift of the Jaycees. Maryland Jaycee officials and guests introduced included the State President John Schiminger and his wife; Vice President Hal Piper and Mrs. Piper; and District Vice President Carville Downes and Mrs. Downes.

The hall was tastefully decorated by the Jaycees, using the New York World's Fair theme. A large unisphere, official symbol of the World's Fair, was centered at the front of a flag-backed bandstand with colored lights playing upon it. Another half-unisphere was featured at the entrance with flowers and greens arranged in the center. Large murals depicting scenes at the Fair lined the walls. A red and white awning, topped with a stack of balloons, marked the entrance to the refreshment area, much like those at the Fair. Red, white and blue banners added the festive touch. Table centerpieces were miniature arches with bases filled with flowers.

A number of door prizes were presented, compliments of Hahn's of Westminster, Dougherty's Super Thrift, Taneytown; Myers' Meat Market, Union Bridge; and the local Coca Cola and Pepsi Cola distributors. Music was furnished by Tony Geiman's Twilight Three.

Our heartfelt congratulations and thanks to Cecil for a fine job as manager and to the boys for their team work and ability. We look forward to another successful year together.

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE' (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Colonial Williamsburg! It was "Take The Greyhound Bus and Leave The Driving to Us!" to visit Colonial Williamsburg, Va., last week! One could not just say "Williamsburg" without the "Colonial" first for it is just like that to every detail. In fact, as I thought and gazed around me, I thought I was living in those days of long ago! The only thing that erases all that from your mind is the sight of the automobiles!

The nice part to see all the buildings by the little bus which comes along about every five or ten minutes and that for free which they call, "Bus Stops" and which are numbered. The little booklet describes each stop which you are given at the "Information Center!" The slogan is "That the Future May Learn from the Past!" And that is all so true which you will gain from the very first visit as you gaze upon the houses of their architecture and the entire restoration that has been carried out. To learn the history plus the story is really re-creating and you will want to return perhaps two, three or four times. It sort of gets under your skin and I think you know just what I mean. I know a lady who has made her 8th trip there! There is such tranquility and I observed as I talked with the real native, those born and reared in this little village that this atmosphere could prevail everywhere. It all is fascinating! But of course, most visitors know that it was through Mr. John D. Rockefeller in 1926 who became interested in the restoration of the 18th century Williamsburg to preserve an entire historic area. I would love living right there!

Everyone knows of the college of William and Mary plus all the history connected with that neat "Colonial Williamsburg." There is the "Wren" building — the oldest academic building in English America which has been restored. The President's House which has been restored which was the residence of every president of the College. The Brafferton house restored which was named for the estate of Brafferton in England by the British scientist, Robert Boyle. You will see The Weaving House, Windmill, cabinet maker, wig maker, blacksmith, bakery, apothecary, printing office and bookbinder, silversmith, boot maker and milliner. You will see the Palace, the Capitol, Raleigh Tavern, the Wythe House, the Magazine House, the Governor's House, Public Gaol where debtors, criminals and pirates were imprisoned, including "Blackbeard's" crew. The most elegant residence of royal governors is, "The Governor's Palace" with the lovely gardens and buildings on the grounds. You will see Brush-Everard House — residence of an early Mayor with handsome furnishings and carved staircase. The garden has the oldest boxwood in Williamsburg. The Raleigh Tavern is one of the most popular taverns of Colonial times which played host to Washington, Jefferson and other great Americans.

You and you will love every bit of it and if possible try to remain three or four days or even a week for you will say, "This is truly living!" Bet-cha, you will desire to go back and back again! For me it just isn't any certain season of the year to enjoy it all—but Spring, Summer, Winter and Fall — to this Observer it means just any old time at all! It would take Columns and Columns right here. For even if snow is on the ground, it's a grand old and new place that I have found! Don't miss it! I even love the beautifully built brick pavements!

See you next week D. V. Folks when I will be writing about my visit to the White House. Until then, I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Columnist Max Freedman writes: "The uproar in Congress over reapportionment is the visible and dramatic proof that the minority on the Supreme Court was right in its forebodings that serious problems would be created by the court's decision. With unavailing logic and legal scholarship, Justice Frankfurter (now retired) and Justice Harlan led the opposition on the court to the judicial settlement of these reapportionment problems. . . . They foresaw the new problems that would arise once the court began to work in these political thickets. Other members of the court, and large sections of public opinion, began to see the wisdom of these forebodings when a majority of the justices later ruled that both branches of a state legislature must have their membership determined by population."

Railroad efforts in a recent military training exercise have been described by the Commander of the Defense Traffic Management as an "outstanding example of teamwork" between the industry and the Department of Defense. The "Desert Strike" maneuvers saw the heaviest movement of troops and materiel since World War II.

Erroneous folk beliefs about plants need to be corrected to prevent accidental poisonings, according to an article by Shirley Baughman O'Leary which appears in an American Medical Association publication. She warns that there are no safe tests for poisonous plants; that what birds and animals may safely eat is not necessarily harmless to man; that heating and cooking do not always destroy the poison—it depends on the poison and some of the most deadly are unaffected, and there is probably no locality that has no poisonous plants.

Winston Churchill once said: "If you will not fight for right when . . . your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival."

The Exchange magazine, which is published by the New York Stock Exchange, reports that Americans never had so much leisure time and never have worked harder filling it. It adds that those who harbor tinges of guilt over time idled away in their favorite pastime can take solace in the fact that the recreation industry "is a key growth factor in the U.S. economy." Early in this century two and a half cents of every consumer dollar went for recreation, apart from vacation travel; now the figure is about five and a half cents.

Approximately one third of the nation's population is enrolled in the various Blue Cross plans. Included are more than 5.3 million people over 65.

Giles L. French in the Moro, Oregon, Journal says: "Magazines recently have been commenting on the boast of this administration that it has discovered the way to prevent depressions and keep everyone prosperous and happy. The method, we note, is by government manipulation of the economy. Incidentally that is one of the things this country was established to prevent."

There's one drilling rig in Texas that will never find any oil or gas. What's more, according to Oil Facts, no one cares. The rig is located at a field research laboratory and its only purpose is to help find ways to reduce the cost of drilling wells. The petroleum industry drills some 40,000 wells a year at a cost of about $2.4 billion.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

A. W. Hesson of Elko, Nev., a brother of D. J. Hesson, is visiting his relatives in this vicinity.

Rev. Chas. W. Hess of Brunswick visited Taneytown the first of the week, and was accompanied on his return by his sister, Mrs. Jacob D. Null.

Rockward A. Nusbaum of Conneaut Lake, Pa., with wife and child are visiting his home folks in this district.

Taneytown is to have another new and up-to-date dwelling this year yet, as John Hockensmith has purchased from Mrs. Mary E. Crapster a 40-foot lot fronting on Middle St. and work on the foundation has already commenced.

H. Clay Englar and wife of Arlington, Wash., are visiting the home of the former, having arrived partly as a surprise on Tuesday.

The fire bell sounded on Wednesday morning creating a pretty big excitement for a little while due to a blaze in a chicken house owned by Earl Phillips in rear of his blacksmith shop. The firemen got there in about two minutes with a stream of water and likely prevented a big fire, as there were many nearby buildings with shingle roofs and a stiff breeze blowing.

Charles M. Angell and wife of Berwyn, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Garner several days this week. Mr. Angell's last visit here was 12 years ago. He is a son of the late Rev. Ephraim Angell, and lived here as a boy.

The season tickets for Taneytown's coming entertainment course are now on sale at McKinney's drug store at $1.25 for five entertainments, the price including reserved seat.

Actual cost of the Taneytown State Road. Official figures given by chairman of Road Commission. In order to set at rest various rumors as to the cost of our State Road, we made a request to Chairman Weller to furnish the figures; very satisfactorily done, and also made clear the conditions of state road contracts. The road cost $11,560 a mile or $19,883.28 for the total stretch.

Bankard—Sterling Luther Bankard, youngest child of Wm. B. and Minnie Bankard, died from congestion of the lungs, Sept. 27, 1914, aged 1 year, 6 months. He was buried at Baust church.

What did Susan learn in school today?

Did she learn the values of thrift and responsibility? How to make dimes and quarters add up to dollars?

These are some of the valuable lessons each child can learn through the U. S. Treasury's School Savings Program.

By putting their dimes and quarters into U. S. Savings Stamps, thousands of American children are saving toward the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds—one of the best investments any of us can make.

A successful School Savings program is based on partnership—the teacher, the child, the parent, the volunteers who make it go. Our country is a partner too—because young citizens who buy Savings Stamps are helping to keep America strong.

Keep freedom in your future with

MARRIED

MRS. ROBERT TEETER CLINGAN

The wedding of Miss Bonnie Lynn Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Carey, Jr., of Salisbury, Maryland and Lt. Robert Teeter Clingan, U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Clingan of Taneytown, Md., took place Saturday, September 19, at eight o'clock P. M. in the Manokin Presbyterian Church in Princess Anne, Maryland.

The bride's uncle, the Reverend Philip K. Foster of Easton, Maryland, performed the double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting. A candlelight reception followed in the Teackle Mansion.

The church was decorated with palms, white gladioli, chrysanthemums and spider mums. The chancel and aisles were lighted by candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of angelmist taffeta, fashioned after the French Directoire period. The empire bodice was made of re-embroidered alencon lace with a scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves. A wide border of the lace encircled the hem line. The cathedral length train was detachable. Her veil of English scalloped illusion, dusted with seed pearls, was attached to a laced back crown with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and bouvardia.

Miss Paye Carey, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of gold pure silk chiffon fashioned with a scoop neckline and brief sleeves. The sheath skirt was fashioned with a ripple back. A matching satin cououred cummerbund encircled the waist and ended in a flat bow in the back. Her matching headdress was of organza roses with satin petals and bouffant veil. She carried a cascade bouquet with a lighted candle, gold foliage and baccara (red) roses.

The bridesmaids were: Mrs. Clarence Johnson of Pocomoke City, Md.; Miss Carol Haina of Hyattsville, Md.; Miss Patricia Downs of Ridgewood, New Jersey. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to those of the maid of honor.

The flower girl was Miss Carey Gaddis of Elkton, Md., the bride's cousin. She wore a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta, fashioned with an underlay lace bodice, round neckline and cap sleeves. It was accented at the waist with a white bow. She carried a white and gold basket with white and baccara (red) roses.

The ring bearer was the bride's cousin, Master Robert Foster of Easton, Maryland.

The best man was the groom's brother, Mr. Richard Clingan of Annapolis, Md.

Mrs. Alan Kleppinger of Easton, Maryland, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." The organist was Mr. John Holland of Tacoma Park, Maryland.

The bride and groom passed through the arch of swords in the recessional and cut the first pieces of cake with the groom's sword at the reception.

The bride received a B.S. degree from the University of Maryland School of Nursing. The groom graduated from the University of Maryland School of Nursing. The groom graduated from the University of Maryland School of Engineering and received his commission at commencement exercises. Hostesses will be Mrs. Ellen Kiser, Mrs. Edith Wilhide and Mrs. Terry Poist. Don't forget to bring some articles to fill the school bags which will be given, via World Community Day services, to children in Africa. Among the things needed are pencils, small spiral notebooks, erasers, crayons or colored pencils, tubes of paste, pads of paper, scissors, rulers and modeling clay. You might also want to consider soap, combs, toothbrushes or handkerchiefs which are also needed to teach the children good health habits.

Miss Jane Wilhide, in nurses training at Frederick Memorial Hospital, congratulations to them also.)

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stonesifer of Rockville, Miss Florence Stephens of Georgetown, Ken., and Joe Rhinehart of Webster, N.C., were visitors in the area last Saturday. Miss Stephens and Mr. Rhinehart are teachers at the same school in Gaithersburg as E. A. (Mrs. Stonesifer) and she and Richard treated them to a sort of tour. They attended the public sale, visited some antique shops and after a fine church supper visited in the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonesifer of Keyville. They were her oldest granddaughter and only great-grandchild, Mrs. Robert Brudin and Michael of Washington and Mrs. Brudin's friend and her son, Mrs. Thomas Keyes and John Charles, also of Washington.

Harvest Home Sunday was observed last Sun. at Keysville Lutheran Church by the giving of various fruits, vegetables and other staples for the Lutheran Church Home for the Aged in Washington. These things, along with those given by St. James in Union Bridge and Mt. Tabor in Rocky Ridge, were taken down to the home this week. The altar flowers were lovely white mums and gladioli, were from the wedding of Judy Kiser and Richard Bowers the previous week. The guest speaker was John Rossler, a student at the Seminary in Gettysburg. He used the 22nd chapter of Matthew — "Which is the great commandment in the law?" as his text. He also asked, "Just how small is your God?" Too many people turn to God as a last resort. When the expression, "Fear of God" is used in the scriptures, it means with humility. We should treat our neighbors as ourselves; be concerned with others and think not only of ourselves.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman, Lewis and Buddy near Detour helped Rex Crouch celebrate his 16th birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Warehime and Helen near Baust Church. You will remember I mentioned accepting the job of Chairman for the Middleburg area for the Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal drive during October. I have broken the area down into small sections so no one would have too large an area to cover and tho' I have made a number of calls, I still have not been able to find someone to help me in Bruceville and Feesersburg. Won't one of you readers call and volunteer? Thanks!

60th Anniversary of TB Association

1904 1914 1924 1934 1944 1954 1964. 1964 IS THE 60TH ANNIVERSARY YEAR OF THE NATIONAL TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION, DEDICATED TO AN ALL-OUT FIGHT AGAINST TB AND OTHER RESPIRATORY DISEASES.

3. EARLY TB TREATMENT METHODS RATED OUTDOOR SLEEPING A 'MUST'. 4. TB, THOUGH REDUCED, REMAINS A SERIOUS PROBLEM. OTHER RESPIRATORY DISEASES AFFECT 12 TO 17 MILLION IN THE U.S.

In 1904 people worried less about their health than they do nowadays. (They also got sick oftener and died earlier.) Today a founding of a new health organization on the scale of the National Tuberculosis Association would have the impact of a major new event. Sixty years ago the meeting in Atlantic City that actually launched the group went almost unnoticed.

Just the same it would be hard not to notice some subsequent events directly traceable to that meeting. Although the anti-TB group was a pioneer in its class—the first national-voluntary group formed to combat a major disease — its founders had sufficient foresight to realize that its best chances of success lay in organizing citizen's groups all over the country to carry out the fight on local level.

The Carroll County Tuberculosis Association, founded in 1950 is one of these groups. Working along the same lines as the national organization, it has seen the new case rate from tuberculosis in our community decline from 20 new cases to 11 new cases in 10 years. As of December 31, 1963 there are 309 cases of tuberculosis being followed by the Carroll County Health Department Clinic, of which 41 are active tuberculosis and 268 inactive or quiescent and 51 are receiving drug therapy. There were 33 Carroll County persons in Tuberculosis hospitals compared to 8 in 1963. There were three deaths in Carroll County in 1963 and two deaths from tuberculosis in 1963. This truly great achievement, as the TB Association is the first to point out, is not due to its efforts alone, but to the joint contribution of many elements in the community. But it is equally clear that it would have never happened in such full measure without the leadership of this enlightened group.

As the present body, the National Tuberculosis Association, celebrates its 60th birthday by preparing to press to the ultimate its remaining fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases, we congratulate both it and its local offspring and wish them many more years of happy, health-producing achievement. Mr. Willard Uhler, Hampstead, is the president of the Carroll County TB Association.

Some American League teams will do anything to prevent the Yanks from winning the pennant. The Yanks haven't won the flag yet, but since Ramos joined the club and provided valuable relief work, New York has moved from third place three games out, to the top. The climb hasn't been just coincidental with Ramos' arrival. As Berra puts it:

"If we had Ramos all year, we'd be seven or eight games in front." WILLIE MAYS... do they love him in September as they did in May? Hard to say. The versatile center fielder of the San Francisco Giants was ballyhooed back in the spring as the man most likely to hit .400 this year. Now the question is, will he hit .300?

Willie suffers from occupational fatigue, the kind of thing that hits truck drivers who have been on the road too long, writers who have been at the typewriter too long, pilots who have been in the sky too long... well, you get the idea.

Mays needs regular relief periods. He is in the middle of one now. Al Dark has kept Willie on the bench the last couple of days, using him only as a late-inning substitute. Mays is down to an average of .298, which isn't much for a player of his reputation and salary. But he does have 41 homers, the most in the National League.

What about this business of Mays and fatigue? Does he play himself into exhaustion? To a certain extent he probably does. When Willie is in the game, he is in it up to his eyeballs.

Are there any other factors? Willie isn't much for talking. But there could be a personality clash between him and manager Al Dark, who doesn't seem to have much chance of holding his job for next year.

How about the business of Willie as team captain? When Dark appointed Mays team captain last spring, Willie was up there flirting with the 400 mark in batting. It's possible that he took his captaincy so seriously that it affected his play on the field. It's always hard to measure those things. But Willie may have been distracted by the occasional problems that confront a field captain.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

(Continued from Page 4) outside studies for sixth graders at a cost of just $8. The children are well-supervised and learn many things. Parent visitors are discouraged. From 7:30 to 8 P. M. on Oct. 12 (before the meeting) parents are invited to visit the room of their choice and learn the schedule or plans for that class. It is hoped anyone wishing to discuss their child with his teacher will call the school to make an appointment to do so. Either in the half-hour before future P-TA meetings or during the school day when Mrs. Rickell will "take over" the class so the teacher can be available for the conference.

Everyone is pleased the new bus schedules are working out very well. Mrs. Danny Zile has been appointed an area representative for Union Bridge to replace Mrs. Donald Brake who has moved away. Letter was sent from the West Carroll Republican Club to the State Roads Commission about the new road coming into Union Bridge below the school and Mr. Funk, Chairman and Director of Highways, responded that a check is being made into the plans and further information will be sent along.

Mr. Robert Lease, Chairman of the Scholarship Fund, has asked each P-TA group to try to raise their donation this year for prizes are rising and more are applying for assistance.

The week of October 5 is National Fire Prevention Week. To discuss Fire Prevention in the Home, a speaker will be contacted for the meeting on October 12. Also on the program will be a demonstration by 7th and 8th grade students of the sample board of a voting machine they have for studies. Tables will be set up by the Membership Committee to register members for 1964-65. Dues are 50¢ apiece.

Next meeting of executive committee will be October 26.

FAIRVIEW

Well, to start with this morning (Tues.), how thankful we are for this good rain. I just transplanted some flowers last week — someone asked, do you think they will root as dry as it is? Well, says I, I will water them but the Lord did it for me for which I am thankful.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock entertained to dinner on Sunday, the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker near Keymar. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and son, Kevin, called at the same home.

We are glad John Williams is out of the hospital and was able to be at worship service on Sunday morning; but sorry to learn Mrs. Herbert Ecker is in the Carroll County Hospital, Westminster. She has been missed several Sundays at church.

We hope Mrs. Ecker will make a speedy recovery and will soon be back with us again. There seems to be so many people at this time suffering with something or other. Mrs. Claude Selby was taken to the Westminster Hospital on Monday for surgery, but was asked to come back home and come back on the 5th of October as it was impossible to take her at this time, as they are filled up.

Mary Catherine and Joyce Adkins spent Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer DeGroot and family near Kingsdale.

God's Way

We are not right because we merely think that we are right. We are not right because we feel right. We are not right because someone who has assumed authority says we are right. Right and wrong are determined by standards, not by feelings or good intentions. We are right only when we are doing the will of God.

We learned the latter part of last week while Rev. Clarence Helwig of Smithville, Pa., was attending the Church of God eldership of their churches he was taken ill and rushed off to the Lancaster General Hospital where he has since undergone surgery. He is getting along fine at this writing. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and sons, spent Saturday morning with Mrs. Carl's Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock. Mrs. Mable Smith of Keysville, spent the past two week-ends in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and family of Trevanon.

I just picked up a church paper with the following item which I thought you might enjoy—as so many people are on diets today, including myself.

Wrong Dieting

A steaming hot, piled-up plate of mince meat, dumplings, potatoes, etc., is life to John Bull who has been out plowing in the fields in biting winds; it spells death to his four months-old baby boy. When I was a school boy there were times when I could not sit down to an appetizing dinner and it wasn't because I was unwell; it usually occurred on a Saturday when we boys with a few coppers between us, would indulge in an orgy of sherbert fizz, stick-jaw, chewing gum, toffee apples, lollipops, ice cream, licorice, nougat candy, etc. (it was surprising what a variety one could get in ha'porths). Mother would say, "there now you've spoiled your appetite with a lot of rubbish that won't do you half as much good as your dinner!"—and it was true if you want a hearty, spiritual appetite be careful what else you feed on! Don't spoil a healthy appetite with a mind full of divorce cases, shocking murders and columns of political pessimisms from the morning paper.

ROCKY RIDGE

We are sorry to hear the death of Mr. Lloyd G. Ohler of Emmitsburg. The family have our sympathy. Mrs. Annie Burrier and children visited her sister, Mrs. Margaret Saylor and family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Pittinger, Sr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Smith on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Myers and sons, Vincent and Anthony, of near Emmitsburg, visited her parents,

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Saylor and family recently.

The children of Mrs. Grace E. Smith gave her a birthday party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annabell Mackley on Sunday. Her birthday was September 30.

Mr. Bruce Bowman spent Sunday with his father at Arlington, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Pittinger, Sr., and Mrs. Charles H. Setherly spent Monday of this week with Mrs. Roland D. Wilson and family of Taneytown.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this means to express my appreciation to those who visited me and to those who sent me gifts and cards while I was a patient at the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

I also want to thank the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Co. for their services.

JOHN G. WILLIAMS.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each and everyone who remembered me with prayers, cards, letters, flowers, candy, gifts and visits while a patient in the Maryland General Hospital and since my return home. It was the prayers of faith of those who know the power of God who saves the sick that I am able to say thanks again from the depths of my heart. My prayer is that God will return a double blessing to each and everyone who had any part in my recovering. May God bless everyone.

MRS. HOYLE WEAVER, R. 1, Reisterstown, Falls Rd., Box 75, Md.

DR. FISHER LEAVES CARROLL COUNTY

Dr. Donald E. Fisher, who has been with the Carroll County Health Department since June 1960, will begin working at the Prince George's County Health Department early in November. Dr. Fisher and the County Commissioners are developing a means by which administrative management of the Carroll County Health Department can be maintained on a part time basis until a full time Health Officer can be obtained.

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

SEVENTH U.S. ARMY, Germany (AHTN)—PFC Charles W. Barnes, Jr., whose parents and wife, Mazie, live on Rte. 6, Westminster, Md., and other members of the Seventh U.S. Army, are participating in Exercise FALLEX 64, an eight-day NATO directed and controlled training exercise in Germany, ending Sept. 28.

The bi-annual exercise is designed to test and evaluate coordination procedures and command communications within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military structure in Europe. Orders and communications between headquarters command posts and the dissemination of information to lower headquarters are being stressed to insure maximum proficiency during the training exercise.

Barnes, a radio teletype operator in the 93d Signal Battalion's Company D, entered the Army in September 1963, completed basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga., and arrived overseas in May 1964.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1963 graduate of Mount Airy High School.

KAMISEYA, Japan (FHTNC)—James M. Tracey, communications technician seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron R. Tracey of 401 East Baltimore St., Taneytown, recently reported aboard the Naval Security Group Activity, Kamiseya, Japan.

The activity provides a link in the communications system supporting the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

It's much easier to spend money than to make it.

II Timothy 1:1-2; Titus 1:1-4.
Devotional Reading: Philippians 2:14-24.

"WHAT IN the world were you reading from?" one of the congregation asked the preacher. They had had a service of ordination at which a number of new church officers had been installed, and the preacher had read from the New Testament in a modern (Moffatt's) translation. "I was reading from First and Second Timothy," the preacher replied to the man's question.

"Never heard Dr. Foreman anything like it," the questioner went on. "Best thing on church officers I ever heard. I had had no idea what Timothy and Titus were all about."

Who?
The short "Books" we call Timothy, Titus and Philemon, were originally letters. Who wrote them? This may not be the most important question but it is one of the most interesting. We run head-on into long arguments when we ask flatly: who wrote these letters? (There's no problem about Philemon; we shall come to that in time. But Timothy I and II, and Titus, present a problem.) The early Christians who adopted these books into the then still growing New Testament (so new it did not have a name) thought that Paul wrote them. Careful study given by many scholars over many years has shown, however, that in large sections of these books the ideas and the way they are expressed, and—what is most remarkable—the very words used, are distinctly different from the known letters of Paul. We can sum up the evidence by saying that there are parts of these letters which read (in Greek, the language in which they of course were written) exactly like Paul and are almost certainly from his pen and mind. There are other sections which do not read like Paul. A conclusion reached by many is that either some one else wrote the letters, quoting extensively from Paul; or that Paul wrote the original letters, and either he or some editor added material from some one else.

What?
The what is more important than the Who? What are these letters-into-books concerned with? What problems do they bring out? What answers do they give? What good are these very ancient letters to the living church today? Such questions will be with us for the next three months. We can give a sort of short statement here at the beginning as to what these small books are all about. They deal with leadership in the church.

Why?
But why this interest in leaders, all of a sudden? The reason is simple. The earliest Christians had no formal organization. They could not have conceived that they would need one. For Jesus was coming soon, they all thought. Today in the church you may hear the expressions like "our children's children" or "future generations" or the "future of man." The earliest Christians would have thought such expressions nonsense. But as time went on and the church's first leaders grew to be old men, it was clear that there would have to be some thinking done about the future years. Some one had to pass on the Gospel. Some one had to be sure nothing of the good in the early years of enthusiasm should be lost. Some one had to be in charge. Some had to preserve the tradition. Some one had to make certain the teachings of Christ and his apostles were not forgotten nor distorted. Time was passing—had indeed passed—when they could say, "We'll dash off a note to Paul or Peter or some one who knew Jesus and they'll tell us." A new generation was growing up. It was felt then, and it is true today, that Christianity could go to nothing, in one generation, unless wise plans were made. So the usefulness of these "Pastorals" is as new as the continuing need for Christian leaders for every generation.
