South Penn League Meets

With representatives from all the league's teams present, The South Penn League held its first of two pre-season meetings in Gettysburg, on Thursday, February 11th.

President Bob Miller opened the meeting with a discussion of the problems concerning umpires this season. It was finally decided that each one of the team representatives seek out some men that are interested in umpiring this Summer, and have them contact Jim Herring of the Cash-town team.

Next, with the league diminished with the folding of the Ardentsville entry, representatives from Bendersville applied for membership. The league voted unanimously to accept them, thus once again filling the league to 10 teams.

A salesman from Grove & Sechrist, in Red Lion, Penna., approached the meeting for the purpose of mass purchase of baseballs. This also was okayed by the entire membership.

The nomination for the South Penn League officers was then the next order of business. For president, Bob Miller; vice-president, Bob Weaver; Secretary-Treasurer, Chuck Bream, Clyde Crouse and Dick Selby.

John Breth, of WTTR radio, then addressed the meeting about publicity for the league. The teams were to choose nicknames and report back on their choice. A central reporting point for the scores of games and the names of the teams' parks were to be decided at the next meeting. President Miller then announced that he would again this year, appear on station WTTR on the day of the league opening (April 25), to publicize the games.

At the close of the meeting, it was decided to hold the next gathering on Sunday, March 7th, at 2:00 P. M.

In attendance for the Taneystown Baseball Club, were the president, John Breth, and the manager, Bob Fogle.

Letter To The Editor

February 10, 1965

Dear Mr. Stonesifer, I do want to let you know that your publication of "Surprise Wedding Anniversary" among the "Fifty Years Ago" items in the February 4 issue of The Carroll Record has brought back to me many pleasant memories. These pertain not only to that particular evening but also to individual members of the group over many years. Undoubtedly it has done the same for my brother and others of those present who are now among your readers.

You may be interested to know that the gift of the group to my parents that evening was a silver tea service. It is of quadruple plate, decorated with a dainty spray of flowers, hand engraved, and, I am told, is one of the earliest pieces of hollowware made by the Rogers Silversmiths. I have had it resilvered and it is an admired set which I greatly prize.

Sincerely,
Grace A. Witherow,
Washington, D.C.

Swimming Pool Committee News

A By-Laws Amendment increasing the membership to a total of 20 Jaycees and Jayettes was passed unanimously Wednesday night, February 10, at a special meeting of the Taneystown Swimming Pool Project's Executive Committee. The previous membership of 16 was enlarged so that the Committee could operate with greater efficiency.

Plans to canvass the rural area around Taneystown were discussed by the group. The Pool Fund stands at $13,108.19, with an additional $53.39 in the Operating Fund provided by the sponsoring clubs. The resignation of Argyle Kaufman from the Committee was accepted with regret, and Harry Dougherty, Jr. was appointed to serve as acting treasurer until a special election can be held February 25.

Larry Heltebride, a new Jaycee, and Ronald Hopkins have been appointed to the Executive Committee by Jaycee President Dean Brown.

Plans for an intensive publicity campaign to coincide with the rural canvass were discussed, and Planning, Design and Construction Chairman Cecil Lewelling reported on bath-house plan progress. Donald Wantz, local electrical contractor, will donate all the bathhouse electrical work and fixtures; Wantz is a member of the Junior Chamber.

Mrs. Harry Dougherty, Jr. announced that free swimming lessons will be given during a two-week period at the Taneystown pool this Summer, providing the pool is completed, by the American Red Cross. Free adult swimming lessons are also planned if enough persons are interested to form a class.

Ideas for special fund-raising projects were proposed by the Finance Committee. These were suggested by interested persons from the community and include an auction, placement of canisters in area stores, and the selling of Taneystown Pool Booster Buttons. The Committee was enthusiastic about these suggestions, and hopes that various civic groups will undertake their sponsorship. Further ideas to raise money for the Pool Fund will be welcomed by the group; contact Harry Dougherty, Jr. in order to present them.

The next meeting of the Committee will take place at Pool Headquarters February 25, 8:00 P. M.

Olympic Champion Writes to Youth of Community for Pool

(At 15, the author of this letter won three gold medals in the Tokyo Olympics this Fall. Sharon swims butterfly and resides in Arcadia, California, where she has participated in Age Group Swimming, a program of competitive swimming on a local level in community pools with the swimmers' best times recorded and posted in other swimming clubs and groups. There are now nearly 300,000 American teen-agers and youths in this program, which now covers the entire country. Here is Sharon Stouder's letter.)

To The Youth of Taneystown: It has come to my attention that you have promoted a swimming pool project for your community. Without reservations, I heartily recommend this project, for swimming should be enjoyed by all.

Anyone adept in the water will find many new pleasures. It's refreshing and relaxing, a pleasant pastime for the Summer months.

Naturally, I endorse competitive swimming. The rewards gained through participation far exceed the work involved.

I do hope you will continue your interest and enthusiasm for this project. Your pool, when completed, will be a source of happiness for your community.

Sincerely Yours,
Sharon Stouder.

P. S. I am pleased to have a part in promoting your pool. It certainly would be all right to print this letter if it will help the project further.

I have a few recommendations for the pool if it is to be used for competitive swimming: Don't round the corners and make sure the ladders are removable. Good luck! I'm sure it will be a success!

Yours truly,
Sharon.

WEEKLY REPORT FROM ANNAPOLIS

Legislative Bills Reviewed by Senator Weant

We are pleased to report that a Resolution has passed the Maryland Senate calling for Congress to call a convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution of the United States in order to provide that nothing in the Constitution shall prohibit any state which shall have a bicameral legislature from apportioning the membership of the one house of such legislature on factors other than population, provided that the plan of such apportionment shall have been submitted to and approved by a vote of the electorate of that state. It further provides that nothing in the Constitution shall restrict or limit a state in its determination of how membership of governing bodies of its subordinate units shall be apportioned.

This Resolution was prompted by the Supreme Court's interpretation of our Constitution that the apportionment of both Houses of a bicameral legislature must be based on population. The courts have also indicated that this theory may be used in determining the membership of governing bodies such as county commissions or members of county councils. Also, the Supreme Court has said that the people of a state cannot, even by their own vote, provide for apportionment of a legislature on other than a population basis.

At this writing the Resolution in the Maryland General Assembly has passed the House Judiciary Committee with a favorable report. Since the smaller and rural counties stand to lose the most by their diminished representation in the Senate through the proposed reapportionment, it is likely that they will stick together on the vote on this important Resolution.

A new bill affecting public accommodations has been introduced in the House. This bill would extend the coverage of public accommodations by deleting the "traveler" exception to the law. House Bill 334 would also extend coverage to motion picture theatres, sports arenas, gasoline stations and cafeterias.

House Bill 332 would prohibit discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin in the sale, lease, rental or financing of housing in the State of Maryland. This law would be administered by the Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

Senate Bill 112 which would have provided for the mandatory death sentence for a person convicted of first degree murder where the murdered person was a police officer who at the time of his murder was acting in an official capacity was amended to take out the mandatory sentence provision. However, the election which is now available to the jury to recommend "without capital punishment" was removed in such cases. This would mean that the sentence of death would be left up to the discretion of the judge.

Senate Bill 128 would provide for the conviction of "manslaughter by automobile" in the event of the operation of a motor vehicle in a negligent manner. This would remove the requirement that is presently in the law that the operator must be guilty of gross negligence before conviction of "manslaughter by automobile."

Your correspondent sponsored Senate Joint Resolution No. 8 which calls upon the Council of State Governments to make a study of the educational systems throughout the United States, both public and private, for the purpose of bringing about more uniformity throughout the various educational systems. It is felt by many that this action should be initiated by the states rather than having it brought about by the Federal Government. The Council of State Governments is in a position to make such a study if called upon to do so by resolutions of the various states.

Also, we sponsored Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 which would call upon the Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters to make a study of taxation of interstate business. The purpose of this study is to provide for suggested legislation that eliminate double taxation in the case of organizations doing business in more than one state. Such legislation is being contemplated on the Federal level so that it was thought advisable for Maryland to get its house in order along this line before being pre-empted by Federal statutes.

State Senator for Carroll County.

CLASS RINGS TO BE ORDERED AT KEY

Members of the Junior class at Francis Scott Key High School will order their class rings this week. Students in the Junior class have the privilege of ordering a class ring if they do not have more than two "D's" in their school work when mid-year grades are given out. A student who has an "F" in any subject for his mid-year mark does not have the privilege of ordering a class ring. Students who do not order rings this year are permitted to order at the beginning of their senior year. It is anticipated that approximately 75 juniors will order rings this week.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

Mr. Charles L. Stonesifer was the recipient of a United States Treasury Department Citation at the regular monthly meeting of the Taneystown Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening, February 15. The Citation was in recognition of Mr. Stonesifer's Carroll County Chairmanship of the U.S. Savings Bond program for the past two years. The Citation read "For Patriotic Volunteer Service in Support of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program."

The presentation of the Citation was made by Mr. David Kramer, Maryland State Representative, Savings Bonds Division, United States Treasury Department.

Following the presentation, Mr. Kramer offered some very enlightening remarks concerning the Savings Bonds program. He noted that Maryland is the 4th ranking state in the Continental U.S. in Savings Bonds Sales and that Carroll County is 5th in the State under Mr. Stonesifer's tutelage. No attempt is made here to repeat Mr. Kramer's remarks but it is interesting to note his explanation of the purpose of U.S. Savings Bonds. Their purpose, he said, is to "maintain a portion of the public debt in the hands of the individual."

During the business meeting that preceded the presentation and Mr. Kramer's remarks, considerable discussion was held on many pertinent and timely problems confronting the Chamber of Commerce. However, no action was taken on the matters discussed at this meeting.

Members of the Chamber are reminded that notices of meetings are no longer sent to members. Therefore, every member should mark his calendar for the third Monday of every month. Meetings are dinner meetings held at Taneystown and starting at 6:30 P. M.

TRAIN UP A CHILD IN THE WAY HE SHOULD GO

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Solomon wrote this wise proverb over 2,000 years ago, and yet the words ring just as true today as they did then. Leading child psychologists and educators enlighten us a little further on the subject. They claim that a child's personality and behavior traits are practically set by the time he is five or six years old, and that 90 percent of his lifetime personality profile is complete by this time. A small child's mind is surprisingly quick at absorbing impressions, whether they are good or bad ones. Psychologists say that it is these early impressions which really "stick" with the child. We can readily see, then, how very important it is for us, as parents, to begin the correct training of our youngsters at the very earliest possible age.

Special emphasis should be placed, particularly, upon the spiritual training of our little ones. This phase of childhood training should begin primarily in the home, of course. But, by and large, it is the Sunday School which plays the most vital role of all in helping to mold the spiritual background of our children.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who faithfully attended Sunday School as a boy, says this about it: "The injunction, To build faith in our children, take them to Sunday School, is one which I hope will receive an encouraging response from parents throughout the country. For the early training and education which children receive in Sunday School are a firm foundation upon which they can build useful and happy lives as adult citizens." Billy Graham, world famous evangelist, says, "I am convinced that the Sunday School is the greatest single agency in the world for teaching people God's Word, as well as a tremendous, evangelistic force in its own right."

Even a very small child can learn simple Bible truths through play and praise in Sunday School. Then, as he is promoted through the various departments, he will be able to more firmly grasp the meaning of what he learns. He will be able to apply these Bible truths to his own personal life. It is seldom the boy or girl who receives a thorough religious training who becomes a juvenile delinquent. The Sunday School teaching which he or she receives as a child will almost invariably remain throughout the years. This is precisely what Solomon meant when he said, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

—ZOLA CANTWELL.

CARROLL COUNTY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

The 1965 edition of the annual Carroll County Basketball Tournament will be unveiled on Saturday evening, February 20, at 6:15 P. M. in Gill Gym on the campus of Western Maryland College. In addition to this first game, two other contests will follow at 7:45 and 9:15, respectively.

The tournament semi-finals will be held on Tuesday evening, February 23, with the finals being staged on Friday evening, February 26.

For the first time in the 15-year history of the event, tournament officials are experimenting with a Saturday evening start. Steven Lerda, principal of Westminster Senior High School, Tournament Chairman, Herbert Ruby, the supervisor of physical education, are experimenting with the change in starting day with an eye toward future years.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Spring and the Boat Show! That is just how it appeared entering the Army as to the weather outdoors plus the boats on two floors. This year it was quite different as the large boats were placed on the lower floor due to great difficulty other years getting them inside on the main floor. The smaller boats were displayed on the main floor. And it truly was "Everything that Floats" right there and a huge crowd attended daily and evenings. It was the 11th Annual affair and it seems that each year it grows bigger and more enthusiasm shown and always the same as to the young and elderly men as to their love for boats! Women are showing more interest each year; so, Mr. Husband, you will finally get your wife to be as big a sport as you. Just have patience!

Much enthusiasm is being shown as to the restoring of "Ford's" theatre in Washington as I have written in a previous Column and that will surely bring the Visitors from every state in these United States, I am sure!

Now, there is talk of Baltimore losing another downtown theatre, that of the Stanton. What a pity for you and you know that used to be the Academy of Music and was opened in 1875! Only the finest plays used to be acted with the top Dramatic Stars plus at times the finest Musical Shows. Your Observer attended many in visiting relatives in Annapolis. Never will I forget "The Little Aged Flower Lady" holding out the bouquet or corsage from the big slat basket for your Escort to purchase for his lady. That little lady's smile, I will always remember for it was so beautiful as the fresh flowers she sold! Those days, it was really evening attire for the ladies and gentlemen and it was most attractive as one followed the usher down the aisle to be seated. The last Musical I saw there was a Parisian story — the S T A R S — Irene Bordoni and Maurice Chevalier!

In Sunday's paper, a story was written as to "Carvel Hall" in Annapolis to be razed! That would be such a pity! It was the home of Wm. Paca one of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. Many a wonderful evening was spent there. It really would be taking part of Annapolis away! Yes, I even love the bricks of the pavements as so much pleasure all over Annapolis can be recalled.

There is one beautiful "Love" story which was told to me by an elderly cousin about Carvel Hall which she attended when she was a very young girl as one of the guests and here it is — A young couple invited about 200 guests or more for their wedding. The groom was a very handsome and very wealthy man. The girl was a beauty. It was to be a wedding! The guests were seated. The Minister and woman all were seated. The Groom announced that the marriage now would take place! There was a Bible, a wedding ring, a real Bridal attire and in fact everything in keeping, but the Minister! The couple went through a real wedding service holding their hands upon the Bible repeating word for word the marriage vows! No children came from this union and in fifty years they returned to celebrate that Anniversary as much in love, if not more so, as the years went by. When the wife passed away, the husband soon followed!

Ladies, even if those lacey hose are being worn by many which are all the style or fad right now, do not attempt to wear them if your legs are even a little plump for they are really for the slim girl!

Next week, I'll be writing of "The Acquarius" those born from January 20 to February 20th inclusive.

Have a grand week-end and don't grumble if the weather becomes bitter cold for you know that you cannot do anything about it and remember that Spring is really not so far away.

Do make some one else happy and then you will be happy, too!

Until next week. D.V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

Local Pastor Addresses Kiwanis Club

In observance of "Brotherhood Week" Kiwanian Carl Frock, chairman, Support of Churches Committee, presented Rev. William M. Hendricks, pastor of Taneystown Presbyterian Church.

In developing his thesis Rev. Hendricks referred to the origin of man from one pair, Adam and Eve; and from this common ancestry, created by God. If then we accept God as our Father, then must we accept all men as our brothers.

From the scripture countless references to the origin of man from Adam, the first man, and Eve, the first woman gives proof of the national brotherhood of man.

From Science all evidence points to the common characteristics of man viz: body functions, body temperature, pulse frequency, cranial and dental characteristics, fertility of the species and even susceptibility to the same diseases.

From History, from Physiology, from Psychology, from Language, and overwhelming proof of common ancestry of men which constitutes the grounds of natural brotherhood and we are our brothers keeper.

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

Writing in the Cincinnati Journal of Medicine on government regulation in the drug industry, C. Joseph Stetler says: "There is no doubt that the industry has been hurt by the Drug Amendments of 1962 and subsequent regulations. . . . Ten major U. S. pharmaceutical firms have reported curtailment of research and development operations, and even those which report increased expenditures in these fields claim that they have had to cut back on the number of substances being investigated because of added costs and paper work. We believe it is necessary, at long last, to challenge the steady erosion of our freedom by a regulatory agency; in effect to attempt to halt the steady descent of the pendulum."

A government survey says that railroad capital spending in the first quarter of this year will reach a $1.7 billion annual rate as compared with $1.4 billion rate in the comparable period of 1964.

David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report: "The United Nations is no longer an effective international instrument and never will be as long as its principal members are unwilling to speak frankly about the paralysis of the organization and act courageously in pressing for solutions. There is no reason why the United States should bear the burden of maintaining peace all over the world. . . . What is needed is a leadership among the free nations, which must organize themselves into a broad alliance that will be effective not merely on diplomatic but on economic and military lines. There is enough power in the free world to bring about peace without the needless sacrifice of human lives."

What must be a unique survey was recently conducted by Lloyd's Bank of London. It had to do with the use of 100,000 paper clips. It revealed: 14,163 twisted or broken during phone calls; 17,200 used to make temporary clothing repairs; 5,434 as toothpicks, 5,308 to groom fingernails; 3,196 as pipe cleaners; 19,143 as chips in card games; thousands dropped on the floor and swept away. Only 20,000 were used to clip papers together.

Columnist John Chamberlain observes: "Dr. James B. Conant, the former president of Harvard, has been doing yeoman work in his effort to focus attention on the qualitative deficiencies of American education. Before our Washington, D. C., legislators begin pouring in the money to subsidize current educational practices, they might fruitfully ponder what (the) effect of too much money to support the existing institutional arrangements is likely to be."

The family physician has the key role in the care and treatment of mental retardation — a condition "fully as subtle and complicated as that of open heart surgery or organ transplants" — according to a report from the American Association Conference on Mental Retardation. In terms of magnitude, it points out, mental retardation is the most handicapping of all childhood disorders. Yet perhaps 50 per cent of the cases are preventable.

Last year the American Red Cross spent more than $1.8 million a week in carrying out a diversified program of community and world-wide services.

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "The Federal government is spending 167 times as much in a single year as it was in the year before we entered World War I. Will every President, every year, be expected to think up more and more functions for the Federal government to take over from the private sector to the 'public sector', until there is no private sector or initiative left?"

TURNING OUT THOSE WHITE HOUSE LIGHTS hasn't seemed to do much good, according to HUMAN EVENTS, which quotes Chairman Bob Wilson of the House GOP Campaign Committee.

"Not only is he (the President) asking Congress for $1 million in supplemental funds to run the executive office this fiscal year, but his new budget request to Congress seeks a total of $29.1 million next year for the mansion — a boost of $6.2 million over two years ago."

Perhaps Mr. Johnson should see if some of the spigots are leaking?

Two Sundays have passed and I'm sad to say only THREE memberships have been taken at Keysville. We in this parish would be in rather sad shape if we did not have the Seminary on which to lean. It not only supplies our pastor, we also rely on it for guest speakers. Let's have some more memberships taken on the 21st and the 28th!

By the way I have been meaning to mention the new clock with a thermometer on the other side that continuously turns at the Birnie Trust Co. in Taneytown. There is also a new sign now in front of the remodeled restaurant at the hotel in Taneytown owned by Mr. and Mrs. "Jimmy" Baumgardner. Looks good!

We surely have had a mixture of weather since Ground Hog Day; as if that had anything to do with it. First it was so cold, then we had Summer like weather, then ending up Sunday evening with snow flakes coming down and leaving a pretty white blanket which I am sure will not stay long as the weather man predicts temperature in the 40's today (Monday).

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Walter Smith. The family has our sympathy.

Pa., spent the past week in Va. visiting friends and relatives and on their way home stopped in Taneytown, Md. to give us a telephone call and let us know they were on their way home. Mrs. Mae Buffington of New Windsor and daughter, Marie of Pearl River, N. Y., called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock Saturday evening.

I can imagine some disappointment this morning (Mon.) when the children learned there would be school. They have thus far have not had very many days off due to snow.

Colds, colds, every where you go you hear people say they have such a bad cold I am sure we will all be happy to see Mr. Red Robin come bob, bobbin along.

We send our congratulations to Mrs. Roy Adkins of McKinstry's Mill who is celebrating her birthday today, Monday, February 15th. Many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Martha Winters and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winters, and grandson, Terry Shuttler of York, Penna., spent last Wednesday in the home of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Forney of Copperville, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anders and children, Harry and Joan and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sherry Anders, spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Forney.

Mrs. Donald Carl and sons, David and Danny, spent Monday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock, while Mr. Carl attended a church meeting at Frizzellburg.

Oh, and look at the broad-faced sun, how he smiles.

On the snow-covered earth that smiles in his rays, or does it smile? Perhaps not as it will soon be gone.

But on the leaking waters and gay young isles.

Ay, look, and your gloom will pass away with his smiles.

Southern States Taneytown Cooperative Will Give Refund

Over $6,270 in $2 bills will be paid out on February 23 and 24 by Southern States Taneytown Cooperative as a refund of capital book equities owned by patron members.

George C. Flohr, manager of the cooperative said "this money is a cashing of the capital book equities issued by the cooperative for the 1953-54 year to the patron members as part payment of the patronage refund for that year. If a member received a patronage refund in that year from the cooperative," Flohr said, "chances are he may still own some of these equities."

Patronage refund will be from 8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. on February 23 and 24.

"Patrons should come into the cooperative on these two days," Flohr said, "to see if they have payments due them. No telephone inquiries will be answered."

All payments will be handled at Southern States Taneytown Cooperative. Patrons will be paid by check which will be cashed for them on the spot in $2 bills as far as practical.

Organized in 1942—Southern States Taneytown Cooperative—is one of 125 local farm supply cooperatives franchised to handle Southern States Cooperative's supplies and services over a five state area.

The cooperative is owned and controlled by about 695 members. It supplies them with a complete line of farm supply items, feed, seed and fertilizer. For the fiscal year ended last June 30, the organization had a total dollar volume of $399,407 and had a net worth of $219,879.

In the past 13 years, the cooperative has paid a total of $104,437.88 back to its members in the form of patronage refunds. Total dividends and interest on stock refunded to members during the same period has amounted to $771.66.

The present board members are: Murray Roop, chairman, of Emmitsburg; Martin Zimmerman, vice chairman, Percy J. Bollinger, Carl E. Weant and Luther Senft, all of Taneytown. Also Bernard Hess of Littlestown, Penna.; and Myron Wilhide of Detour, Maryland.

You are invited to an old fashioned meeting at Mayberry First Church of God to hear the old fashioned message of God's never changing grace. The meetings will be each night at 7:30 P. M. Feb. 28 thru March 14 with Rev. Argyl Dick. Remember, these services are for you. Rev. Ralph Jamison is pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

The Bible Lesson—Sermon in all Christian Science churches this Sunday will feature the story of Moses leading the children of Israel into the promised land, showing how his reliance on God resulted in what are considered miracles. This is amplified in a citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 200): "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind."

The subject for the day is "Mind," and the Golden Text is from Matthew (22:37): "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all my mind."

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports by John Breth

No fewer than 15 men batted .300 or better in the NATIONAL LEAGUE last year, the second highest total in the last quarter of a century. The only time it was topped was in 1933 when 15 National Leaguers hit .300 or more. Those who did this year were Rico Carty, Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Lee Maye of the Braves, Lou Brock, Curt Flood and Bill White of the Cards, Ron Santo and Billy Williams of the Cubs, Ron Hunt and Joe Christopher of the Mets, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, Richie Allen of the Phillies, Orlando Cepeda of the Giants and league-leading Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

When Maury Wills of the Dodgers stole 53 bases last year it marked the fifth year in a row he has led the National League, an all-time record. In five campaigns Wills has pilfered 282 bases.

The director of the Major League Film Bureau, Lou Fonseca, says there have been more requests for prints of the World Series films than any year in the past. The Trans-World Airlines has shown the series pictures in such far-away places as London, Paris, Rome, Lisbon, Tel Aviv, Athens, Amsterdam and Frankfurt. Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Reds is about as hot and cold as you can get as a player. Here are Pinson's batting averages for the last six years. In his first year, 1959, he hit .316. In 1960 he dropped to .287. He was up to .343 in 1961 and down to .292 in 1962. He climbed to .313 in 1963 and fell to .266 last year. Note that he was good in the odd years and mediocre in the even-numbered seasons. This year is an odd year.

The Houston Astros' pitching staff was the stingiest in the Major Leagues last season in handing out bases on balls. The Houston pitchers handed out only 353 walks last year and 53 of those were intentional. Hank Aaron of the Braves, a feared slugger, also has become a feared base runner. After stealing a total of 20 bases in his first six seasons, Aaron has stolen 105 in his last five.

When Rookie Jim Hart of the Giants hit 31 home runs last year it was a club record for round trippers by a third baseman for the San Francisco Club. However, the all-time Giant record, counting their many years in New York. That was set by Mel Ott in 1938. That was the season Mel moved from right field to third base.

In 1954, when Paul Richards managed the Baltimore Orioles, he traded BOB TURLEY to the New York Yankees in one of the biggest player deals in baseball history. Until recently, Richards had tried unsuccessfully to get Turley back. At last, he has succeeded, but under different circumstances.

Eleven years ago, Turley was a pitcher with great potential. In 1958, he realized his potential, winning the Cy Young award as the best pitcher in baseball. Now, after a one-year absence from active competition, the veteran right-hander is attempting a comeback.

Meanwhile, Richards went from manager to general manager of the Orioles and then to general manager of the Houston Astros. When Turley was released as pitching coach of the Boston Red Sox at the end of last season, Richards met with him in New York and offered him a chance to pitch again with Houston. Turley quickly accepted the offer.

To get back in playing condition, Turley has been pitching batting practice in the field house at Tufts University. Sometimes, some of the Red Sox players are there loosening up and always there are the Collegiate Athletes.

Turley knows this is his last shot to make it as a pitcher. But he also is smart enough to realize that if he doesn't have anything left on the mound, all will not be lost. Richards has guaranteed Turley a job as the Astros' Minor League pitching coach.

DID YOU KNOW THAT — Bob Johnson pinch-hit for Wally Bunker four times last year and hit safely four times — on two of those occasions he drove in the winning run late in the game.

TODAY'S SPORT LAUGH — St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, Ron Taylor, was discussing his former teammate, the great Stan Musial. Taylor said: "He was just tremendous, but we usually went different ways. He'd go to the bank, and I'd go to the finance company."

Star-spangled key to a home of your own

A key to your own home is a mighty nice thing. Especially if it has stars and stripes on it.

The way to get one is to save U. S. Savings Bonds for the down payment. Or if you're beyond that point, for furniture or appliances, or the other things inside a house that make it a home.

A nest egg in Bonds can go a long way towards providing a nest and its contents—because each Series E Bond pays back $4 at maturity for every $3 you save.

Another thing you'll get is a nice red, white and blue feeling. The kind you get by giving your country a financial hand while you're saving.

It's easy to start saving Bonds today. A call to your payroll department, or a visit to your bank will do it.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds
- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

Peek-A-Booth* Offers World's Fair Visitors "Instant Fashion"

Puritan Fashions Corporation, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of women's apparel, has invented a unique Peek-A-Booth display which will enable a woman to instantly see how she looks in a specific dress or sportswear outfit. The Peek-A-Booths, there will be ten of them, will be located in the six major Brass Rail restaurants at the New York World's Fair. Puritan Fashions will put on daily fashion shows in these six restaurants. The fashions are made with Fortrel® polyester, a Celanese fiber. There are three panels in a Peek-A-Booth. The center panel is a full length mirror. On each side panel, there is a full color reproduction of one of the garments featured in the fashion show. However, the reproductions have circular mirrors instead of faces so the woman looking at the garment can see exactly how she looks in that particular style. Instant Fashion!

AMERICAN AIRLINES OFFERS SPECIAL FAIR PACKAGE TOURS

American Airlines chairman C. R. Smith (left) and Robert Moses, president of the New York World's Fair, after the airline purchased 100,000 tickets to be sold through ticket offices in 55 U. S. cities at a special discount of $1.35 for adults and 68 cents for children to age 12.

NEW YORK—American Airlines is offering a wide variety of low-cost package tours designed around the New York World's Fair. The packages range from week-end tours (three days and two nights) upward. Rates begin at $15.50 per person and include the most modern hotel accommodations and one admission ticket to the Fair. Optional sightseeing features vary — from a cruise around Manhattan Island ($2.50) to a United Nations tour ($1).

Some other American "Holiday On Wings" packages include a choice from 39 New York hotels in four price categories, multiple admissions to the Fair and multi-choice sightseeing of New York.

A typical five-day four-night package includes accommodations with private bath, a general admission ticket to the Fair, tour of the Fair grounds, World's Fair guide book, Monorail ride and a tour of the United Nations. And rates for this package begin at $59 per person based on double occupancy.

Information on any or all of the packages plus air fare to and from New York can be obtained through American's ticket or sales offices located at 55 U. S. cities. American recently introduced family discount fares for both coach and first class seats especially for the Fair.

Way Out West

LAW ENFORCEMENT

It was every man for himself when the first white men ventured out West. Fists and guns were the law. Most men carried their version of the law strapped around their waist.

Then came sheriffs and marshals to help establish law and order. But not every town was big enough to support a regular sheriff, and marshals had to cover huge territories.

Today, law enforcement is a highly organized business. Television's "Sky King" is often called upon to help local law enforcement officials in his action-packed series. The western pilot-rancher's ability at the controls of his aircraft is one big reason for this.

Ideas for Interiors

by Hilda D. Sachs, Publicity Director, Window Shade Manufacturers' Association.

Wallpaper and Window Shades Make a Wonderful Team...

It takes just a few touches of individuality and imagination to give a room a custom look — and an astute combination of window shades and wallpaper frequently does the trick.

Wallpaper sets the mood of the room. Used on one wall, it contributes a contemporary flavor, where beauty is found in proportion and in contrast of texture. Wallpaper hung from the chair rail up lends an Early American feeling, creating the cozy, friendly room that prevailed at the time of the first settlers. Wallpaper from floor to ceiling gives a traditional English or French flavor, reminiscent of the period when homes emphasized elegance and formality.

Window shades, now available in so many handsome colors and textures, can pick up and carry on the decorative excitement of any style room, in a galaxy of fresh and interesting ways. If the paper features a bold pattern, the shade can match the paper's background. Or the do-it-yourselfer can appliqué cutouts of the paper's design along the hemline of a solid-color shade, bringing unity by repeating the pattern in a controlled manner. Both of these are subtle ways to enlarge a room's horizons.

Wallpaper borders can give a handsome lift to a room. In a room papered with a subtle pink stripe, try a white border printed with lush pink roses all around the window frame. Add pink shades in the color of the wall stripes, and run the wallpaper border across the edge of the hemline of the shade! The effect is stunning, easy, and inexpensive.

Much of today's wallpaper is now treated to be as washable as vinyl-impregnated shades, so the duo is as hardy as it is handsome. This sturdy combination is ideal for a family "rec" room that usually takes a lot of rough treatment. For a switch, use solid walls in a bright, cheery color — try red or yellow — and use window shades striped in the same color. A cut-out border of a lively design around the window will complete the "rec" room; it will be bright and gay and extra durable! A good idea to hide inevitable clutter in family-room bookcases: mount the same striped window shades over the cases to pull down when things should look tidy. It's a practical as well as a pretty touch.

These are just a few of the infinite variety of ways to team paper and shades effectively. Used imaginatively, they will add individuality and charm to any room in the house

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lessons BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

What Christ Means Lesson for February 21, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 16. Devotional Reading: Philippians 2:1-11.

UNDER THE spreading shade trees of a little mountain resort called Caesarea Philippi, a conversation occurred which had echoes and raised questions for a good nineteen centuries.

The two men in the conversation were Jesus of Nazareth and his stout friend Simon Peter. Actually Peter was a nickname, and it was during this conversation that Jesus gave his friend the name

Dr. Foreman Peter. He had been born Bar-Jonas, the same as our Johnson; Jesus gave him a name which like all nicknames gives an impression of the person, what he is like. What did Jesus say to Peter? What did Peter say to Jesus? And more important, what did Jesus and Peter mean by what they said to each other?

Protestants think one way about these questions, Roman Catholics another. Still, we are agreed on one point. We see eye to eye about what Peter said and meant.

The question

So let us stick to Simon Peter's answer to the question which Jesus asked. Jesus approved Peter's answer, indeed assured the probably astonished man that his answer was the right one. Peter, who talked so often without thinking, must have been surprised as he was pleased to think that for once he was right the first time. Jesus started by asking who people thought he was. Jesus knew he would strike people, thoughtful people, as having more depths in his nature than could be seen with the naked eye. The simply answer: "People know your name is Jesus and that you came from Nazareth; why should you ask?" Jesus didn't mean that. He meant: Whom do I remind people of? Who is, so to speak, my spiritual twin brother?

Jesus was not content with asking what "men" — "people" — thought of him. He already knew, perhaps, what Peter told him; that the people thought of him as a kind of second Elijah or Jeremiah or even John the Baptist (who also was dead). Jesus made no remark about the people's opinions. He brought the question down to ground level: Who do YOU say I am? That's what counts. Jesus did not want to be a question-mark only.

Can Jesus be classified?

Peter's answer said more than meets the modern eye. Messiah is a word without meaning to most men on the street. Christ has come to be a proper name. Most persons do not realize that when Peter said, You are the Christ (or You are the Messiah — they mean the same) he was as good as saying: You are not in any class of mankind. There is no one, absolutely no one, in the same class as yourself. There have been other healers, other teachers, other preachers; but no other Messiah. Once in history once and never again, once and never before; once the Messiah comes, there will be no others. This is the center of human history. So the Christian church ever since has resisted all efforts to label, classify or pigeonhole Jesus. He is a prophet, yet (as he said) more than a prophet. He was and is always more-than anything that we can say about him.

At least this!

But can't we say more than this? Must we call Jesus only a plus-X, a mysterious additive to ordinary humanity? Mystery he may be; but there are some things we can say "Messiah" means even though his full meaning eludes us. At least this: He speaks with the authority of God; he is the representative Man and also the Representative of God. He is God as man, God in man, he is what God wants us to know of himself. Alongside this, there shines another meaning in the simple title "Christ." The name in the Old Testament always had the sound of Victory; God's victory would at last be won by the Messiah. Christians to this day believe that the great war between God and evil will not be a draw; Christ will win the last struggle. He is the Voice and the Victory of God.

Tale of the Trouser Ever since skirted Romans conquered the "trousered barbarians" of western Europe, trousers have been worn by men. Since those early days, they've been flared at the ankles, worn close, called "tights," and have been worn with false calves under them. The long trouser was violently opposed when introduced in the early 19th century. The "breeches-less" men of the French Revolution wore them first. Until the close of the 19th century it was not fashionable to have trousers creased. This was the mark of ready-made trousers that had lain folded on a shelf. But times have changed, and ready-made slacks with sharp creases are now worn by the well-dressed American male. The latest advance is an amazing new flexible fabric used for Mr. Leggs "Comflex" slacks. A blend of Dacron polyester, worsted and Lycra spandex, "Comflex" goes along with every movement, returns to shape smoothly and instantly, and is incomparably wrinkle-resistant. K

MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education of Carroll County held a regular meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 10, 1965. President DeVries R. Hering presided and action was taken to approve the minutes of the January meeting and the current financial transactions, including the financial statement.

The Board approved contracts for the employment of teachers for the coming year 1965-'66 including Marilyn S. Mooshian, Wayne I. Reisberg, Cleo B. Rill, Linad L. Kemper, Brian L. Lockard and Lynda M. Tinsley.

The Board acted on a number of matters connected with resignations or separation of teachers from service effective at various dates, including the resignation of Dale W. Sloop, substitute teacher in the mathematics department at the Westminster High School. Mr. Sloop was replaced as of February 1 by the re-employment of Audrey M. Buffington in the mathematics assignment formerly occupied by Lyman D. Earhart, deceased.

The Board took miscellaneous actions in connection with certification and reclassification of teachers.

The Board heard a report with respect to the support of junior college students who are residents of Carroll County attending junior colleges located in adjacent counties, including the Baltimore Jr. College, the Catonsville Community College, the Fredrick Jr. College and the Montgomery Jr. College. The report followed during the current school year involves the payment of the county share of tuition costs for Carroll County students who are attending these institutions. The Board was advised that there are 45 students from Carroll County attending community or junior colleges. This information was emphasized as having some relationship to current discussions and considerations being given to the organization and implementation of a junior college for Carroll County. The Superintendent reported that by virtue of a recent action of the Board, the President and Superintendent had designated selected citizens of the various communities to participate in an examination of the need and a study of the administrative and financial problems connected with a community college. The Board gave approval to the committee as named and requested the Superintendent to hold meetings with this committee during the spring months for the purpose of bringing out a report to be used in future moves toward the community college project.

Named to the committee were: Mr. Landon C. Burns, Chairman of the Economic Development Commission; Mr. John E. Chenoweth, resident of Myers District; Mr. Chester G. Elder, Principal of the Mt. Airy High School; Mr. James C. Snyder, resident of the Manchester-Hampstead area; Mr. Gilbert L. Gardner, resident of the Freedom District area; Dr. Joseph R. Bailer, Professor of Education, Western Maryland College; Mr. Stephen A. Lerda, Principal, Westminster Sr. High School; Mr. John F. Wooden, Jr., Director of Instruction Carroll County Schools; Mr. Thomas E. Shilling, citizen from the Hampstead area; and Mr. George Grier, Administrative Assistant to the County Commissioners. This committee, along with the Superintendent, will engage in discussions as promptly as meetings can be arranged.

The Board took action, after consultation with Mr. Paul Wooden, Wooden, Benson and Walton, auditors; and after hearing a report from Dr. Charles I. Ecker, Assistant Superintendent, to approve the revised budget for 1965-'66. The various items of the budget had been earlier considered and approved and steps had been taken to incorporate into the budget the revised salary structure approved by the Board at the last regular meeting. Instructions were issued to the administration to continue with physical preparation of the budget and submit it to the County Commissioners as requested by them on or before March 1, 1965.

The Board heard a report from the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent regarding a recent meeting called by the County Commissioners with the representatives of various county commissions and the legislators, related to the present and future needs for the expenditure of capital funds to provide schools and other facilities. This meeting had been held on January 15 and was earlier reported to the press.

Action was taken by the Board to direct the Superintendent to give consideration to the use of adjacent farmland at the Francis Scott Key School if a satisfactory arrangement can be made with the County Commissioners.

The Board took a number of actions in connection with the planning for school facilities and the acquiring of land. This action was taken as related to the information contained in a special release regarding school enrollment and building needs issued in January.

The Board was advised regarding arrangements for the attendance of designated members at the Convention of the National School Boards Association in April.

The Board gave substantial time to consideration of proposed inclusion of the school cafeteria employees in the Retirement System. The Superintendent was directed to advise the County government regarding the request for this participation of these employees and the cost to the county for the support of it.

The Board recessed for a brief period to visit the Westminster Jr. High and William Winchester Schools during the lunch hour when many members were given the opportunity to visit classrooms.

transfer of a transportation contract from Mr. Sheldon Shealer, Keynar, to Mr. Donald VanFossen, Taneytown. Consideration was given during the afternoon session to the problems related to the reassignment of teachers on leave of absence when they are available for return to service. The Board took action to give discretionary responsibility to the Superintendent in all such cases.

Meeting was adjourned at 3 P. M.

SENATE BILL NO. 31

(The following is the last of four articles written by Judge Emory H. Niles in explanation of the Senate Bill 31. —Editor.)

The System That Gets Results

If there is any proposition on which you can get almost 100 per cent agreement, it is that Maryland needs, wants and deserves the best possible judges. The only point at issue is what political system should be used to accomplish that result.

Maryland has a system which has been altered by law and patched up by voluntary rules of practice to the point where it hasn't yet broken down—but which, in the opinion of those in a position to know best, is vulnerable.

On the other hand, some of our States have a new model of judge-making mechanism that is much safer and surer and has proved itself in operation for a good many years.

Perhaps if we referred to this Plan for improving our selection and tenure of judges as the "Missouri Plan" instead of the "Niles Plan," we would emphasize the fact that we are proposing a practical system for selecting judges which has been successful in Missouri for 24 years and, for shorter periods of time, has been in effect in Kansas, California, Iowa, Alabama, Alaska and Florida. Also, it was adopted, in part, in Colorado in the November 1964 election. Active movements to adopt the Plan are already under way in Rhode Island, Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania and New York. If we adopt the Plan in Maryland we will be neither "experimenters" nor "visionaries." At the same time, Maryland will not be among the last to adopt a good idea.

Therefore, let us look upon this Plan simply as a piece of political machinery designed to accomplish a desirable end—the selection of the best judges. We should subject the proposal to precisely the same tests that we would apply to any piece of machinery that someone was trying to persuade us to buy: "Does it do the job better than the machinery we now own?" And: "How much will it cost us?"

To answer the last question first: The Plan involves no new paid jobs; all the members of the Nominating Commissions serve without salary or other compensation just as do the Regents of a University, the Trustees of a hospital, the members of a School Board or the Directors of a charitable organization.

As to whether this Plan will do a better job of selecting judges than our present "machinery," the evidence from the States where it is now in effect seems to point to a unanimous "YES."

Mr. Robert Martineau, now an Assistant Attorney-General of Maryland, in 1962, as a member of a Committee of the Maryland State Bar Association, made a trip to Missouri to check up on their 22 years experience with the Plan.

Mr. Martineau reported:

1. Factional influences have been almost completely eliminated from the selection of judges.
2. No unqualified judge has been selected since the Plan was adopted.
3. The lawyers who have been nominated by the Commission represented many different backgrounds; both large and small offices, holders of public office, and from all types of practice.
4. Some lawyers who would not have accepted judicial appointments under other systems, have become judges.
5. No Governor had attempted to influence the decision of a Nominating Commission.
6. Individuals appointed to the Commission were independent public spirited citizens, not subject to political influence.
7. Appointments to the Commission and judges actually nominated were approximately evenly divided among the two political parties regardless of the political affiliation of the Governor who made the appointments.

While the other States which have adopted the "Missouri Plan" have had a shorter period of experience, in each case the Plan has proved as sound in actual practice as in theory. It seems clear, therefore, that the objective of securing the best judges for Maryland would be well served by adopting, in its entirety, the Plan which has worked so well wherever it has been tested by use.

Keefe — Copenhaver

Tuesday afternoon, January 28th, 1902, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Copenhaver, near Mayberry, was the scene of the marriage of their oldest daughter, Miss Daisy L. to Mr. J. Roy Keefe. Sixth Annual Report of C. C. P. & Zoning Commission

The Carroll County Planning and Zoning Commission submitted its sixth annual report of operations, and noted that during the year that it adopted the Master Plan for Carroll County as well as a Water and Sewerage Plan for the County. This, according to the Commission is one of the main purposes for which any Planning Commission is formed.

The Commission continued its successful association with Western Maryland College whereby student participation proved extremely beneficial to both the county and the college. It noted that much of the preliminary drafting of a comprehensive zoning measure had been accomplished although its presentation would be in early 1965.

During 1964, subdivision activity was heavy, in fact according to the report, the Commission received and reviewed forty preliminary subdivision plans which resulted in 29 final plats being filed. This indicated a doubling of the previous years activity in the field.

The report also included the activities of the Zoning Administrator and the Board of Appeals. A total of 1054 applications for building permits and/or zoning certificates was received during the year of which 116 were referred to the Board of Appeals. The Board of Appeals held 26 different meetings involving public hearings on 98 applications.

The Board of Appeals membership included Raymond P. Buchman, Chairman; J. Harry Koller and James W. Davis, Wm. Leon Etzler was Zoning Administrator.

The Planning and Zoning Commission membership included E. Miller Richardson, Chairman; Celius L. Brown, Russell L. Royer, Walter L. Harner, and Francis J. Crawford. During the year Mr. Brown was appointed replacing the late Clarence H. Shaw. George A. Grier was Planning Director and Ralph G. Hoffman was Counsel to the Commission. Mrs. Nancy Shoemaker served as secretary to both the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Board of Appeals.

State's Attorneys' Association Meeting

T. Bryan McIntire, Carroll County State's Attorney, last Friday attended the midwinter meeting of the State's Attorneys' Association of Maryland. The meeting was held at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore and was attended by State's Attorneys and their aides from the State's 23 counties and Baltimore City. McIntire, one of four Republican State's Attorneys in the State, is secretary of the Association.

Following a speech by the Attorney General, the Maryland prosecutors engaged in a long and serious discussion of the current crime situation and took upon themselves the responsibility of improving the morale of police and to take positive action to overcome public apathy toward crime problems. Also addressing the convention was Prof. William W. Greenhalgh of Georgetown University. He spoke on the recent changes and decisions in the laws relating to search and seizure. He expressed the opinion that the Association should demand equal time to answer a recent program dealing with the conviction of innocent persons.

The State's Attorneys spent half the day debating legislation now before the General Assembly of Maryland. They voted to support a proposed law raising the maximum for second degree murder from 18 to 30 years, a resolution calling for a review of the law relating to drug addiction, a bill increasing punishment for multiple offenders, a bill raising nine misdemeanors to felonies and a proposal to lower the juvenile age in the counties.

The State's Attorneys also favored a resolution calling on Maryland's representatives in Congress to support a federal law restricting mail-order sale of weapons.
