FLASH!

At a meeting last night, the Taneytown Park Board pledged $5,475.00 to the Pool Fund, bringing the Fund's total to $22,197.66 in pledges and donations to date.

The "big push" is on in Taneytown and vicinity to garner as many donations and pledges as possible for the construction fund of the Taneytown Swimming Pool before March 15, 1965. On this date the Executive Committee of the project must decide if construction is possible this Spring so that the pool can be used during the Summer months. Spring construction will only be possible if the fund goal of $60,000 is subscribed to by March 15.

The pool's general contractor, the Ira C. Rigger Company of Cockeysville, can begin excavation April 1 and have the pool completed by Memorial Day if sufficient funds are available, in the form of denations and able in the form of donations and pledges. However, if insufficient pledges and donations are received by the Executive Committee by the dead-line, construction will be delayed un-til the Fall of 1965, providing the goal is met by August.

The Committee will only delay construction if it appears that the goal is in sight; otherwise, the future of the entire pool project will have to

The big push for funds reviewed at the February 25 meeting includes a complete house-to-house canvass of the Taneytown rural areas, covering about nine square miles; intensified appeals to businesses and industries for support; appeals to all firms doing business and offering services to ing business and offering services to the area, not located in the com-munity; and requests to all area or-ganizations and churches for finan-

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS SUCCESSFUL

Figures released from the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association by Mrs. John C. Schaeffer, 1964 Seal Campaign Chairman show that the Carroll County Christmas Seal returns total $12,747.50. In 1963 Carroll County final returns totaled $12,290.33

Funds raised in the Annual Christmas Seal Campaign are used for local and State programs of Health Education, Case finding, Mobile X-Ray unit, Research, Patient Service other special services. The Car-County TB Association granted Western Maryland College $850. in 1964 which was the second grant to the College. The College is now continuing on the second phase of the study of tuberculosis in Carroll County. This makes a total of $1800. from the Christmas Seal Campaign toward

WEEKLY REPORT FROM ANNAPOLIS

Sen. O'Farrell

This being my first of a series of weekly Annapolis reports to the people of Carroll County, I would first like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Democratic State Committee, as well as to those who contributed in any way, for my recent appointment as Carroll County's Senator. You can be assured that I will ator. You can be assured that I will certainly do my utmost with dignity and courtesy as well as bearing in mind what is best for our county and state. Also special thanks to those who have been so kind in extending me their congratulations on this appointment.

The following bills were the high-lights of this past week's discussions: ELECTIONS — Administration backed bills were introduced in both the House and Senate to change

CONGRESS — The House also readied for final approval a plan to redistrict the state into eight Congressional Districts instead of the present system which has seven districts and one Congressman elected

DRUNK TEST BILL — A Senate committee has approved a bill under which drivers would have their li-censes suspended for three months if they refused to take a test to determine if they were intoxicated. The measure was amended so that it will apply only to test by Maryland State Police. Several committee members expressed misgivings about "putting this tremendous power" in the hands of local police forces, which often are relatively untrained.

WAGES - A bill to give Maryland a $1 an hour minimum wage law was introduced in the House. Under the proposal, the wage would rise to $1.25 an hour in four years. AUTO INSURANCE - A

"Beware The Ides of March..."

The fifteenth day of March has held special portent in ages past: Julius Caesar was assassinated on that day by his Roman Senators; until recently, this day was the deadline for filing income tax returns. This year-1965-the ides of March will determine the outcome of eleven months' work on the Taneytown Swimming Pool Project. On March 15, 1965, the Executive Committee of the Project must make the long-awaited decision on whether or not to build the proposed pool this Spring. The pool contractor, the Ira C. Rigger Company of Cockeysville, MUST know that day in order to schedule construction in April

So, the big push is on! The Taneytown Pool Fund goal of $60,000 must be met by March 15. We cannot begin construction this Spring unless the goal is subscribed to by then. The community has eleven more days to pledge or donate additional funds. The Executive Committee has just eleven more days to encourage businesses, industries and residents to support the Project.

Too little time, these eleven days? No! Eleven days is ample time for Taneytownians to finally decide if they will support the Pool Project . . . eleven days PLUS the eleven months they've heard and read and talked about the pool.

By March 15, the young people of the community will know if you REALLY care about them. By March 15, the Jaycees and Jaycettes will know if their work has been in vain. By March 15, the future and prestige of Taneytown

"Beware the ides of March . . ." warned the Soothsayer. Caesar said, "He is a dreamer; let us leave him: pass." But then, you all know how wrong CAESAR was.

PUSHING US AROUND

What is an address?

This is a question that Congress may soon have to decide if Postmas ter John A. Gronouski continues his hell-for-leather campaign to make zip code numbers mandatory on the mail he is willing to handle for us.

The Postmaster announced to business mail users in a recent speech that they would have to zip code and pre-sort bulk mail by January 1, 1967 and would be required to mark sacked mail for zip code sectional centers as of July 1, this year.

Next, of course, come the firstclass mailers who will be discovering (if the Department's plans go through) that a five-cent stamp will no longer be good enough without the addition of a zip number.

How do you find these zip numbers? The P.O. has magnanimously offered to supply them free for addresses in multi-zoned cities during 1965 — if mailers will submit their lists typed individually on 3x5 cards. After that, this service will cost $1.50 per thousand. And if you want zip numbers outside of these big cities, go find 'em yourself!

It would seem from what lies ahead for those who would like to use the mails, that our telephone systems are going to have to add another "service number." It just won't be enough to be able to dial "Operator" and long distance, and information and weather and time. We gotta have anothersuch as PO4-6836 (POINTEM, P. O Information-Needed-to-Expedite-Mail). Just dial the number, ask for the zip code number of anybody TODAY at Taneytown Pharmacy. anywhere, and the voice-with-thesmile at the Post Office will give it to you instantly. (No doubt.) If an address is no longer an address to the P.O. unless it bears a zip number, it begins to look as if we might better have stayed in the trees and never learned to write. But, dependent as we are on the written | $\psi 3$ Bedrooms - Brick word at this late date, perhaps Congress had better decide just what the responsibility of the Post Office Department is in moving the mails.

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

David Lawrence writes: "One of the principal reasons why the United States has been experiencing a considerable outflow of gold is the foreign-aid program. Although the President has asked for only $3.4 billion for the coming fiscal year for foreign aid, there is an estimated $6.5 billion in unexpended balances from previous years. So almost $10 billion would be available for spending in 1966 and later years. It is the presence of this unexpended balance which may be having a psychological effect on those who speculate in the gold market."

The average retail price of gasoline, excluding taxes, dropped nine per cent in the past six years, while the overall consumer price index rose 8.9 per cent.

Writing in the Oregon Voter, Ralph T. Moore says: "There always seems to be an abundance of those who are eternally looking for something for nothing and a scarcity of those who are willing and anxious to put forth the requisite effort to get ahead. Progress exacts its high price from every generation of men. It decrees that man, to progress, must also work hard. This probably explains why progress comes almost always from adversity and almost never from affluence. And yet the whole atmosphere of this so-called war on poverty is to the effect that the key to progress is held by the common government, which in its superior wisdom, now comes forward to save us all from hard, grueling labor by arbitrarily doing away with poverty via fiat and education."

According to an American Medical Association news release, the athelete - including the week-end golfer or skier - who experiments with pep pills, whiffs of oxygen, odd dietary supplements and other such fads in the hope of improving performance is doomed to disappointment and may even be courting bodily harm. It adds that for safe and effective performance there still is no alternative to the fullest utilization of one's natural resources through good personal health practices, top physical conditioning and confidence in one's ability based on careful coaching and good medical supervi-

The Phoenix, Arizona, Republic says: "We believe it would be unfortunate for Congress to repeal rightto-work, thereby forcing workers to join labor unions. We believe that compulsory unionism infringes upon an individual's freedom of association, freedom of choice, and freedom of conscience. It can no more be defended than compulsory membership n a particular religion or a particular political party. And it is incompatible with a free society."

An average of $12.6 million a day in health insurance benefits was paid to the American public by insurance companies in the first nine months of 1964, the Health Insurance Institute reports. This was an increase of $1.3 million a day over the comparable period of 1963. The 1964 payments were ahead of the previous year for all five types of health insurance - hospital expense, surgical expense, regular medical expense, major medical expense, and loss-ofincome insurance.

FOR EARLY BREAKFAST

Frosty winter mornings are perfect for piping hot cereal. Its warmth happily sends off the family with an inside glow. Its nutritional goodness supplies energy to start the day's activities. A wise choice, hot cereal is a familiar breakfast table face.

Even the most imaginative homemaker may fall into the routine of serving bowls of steaming cereal day after day. Yet, variety keeps mealtime interesting. So, brighten breakfast with this new and delicious recipe prepared with an established early morning favorite. Cook the cereal a day ahead using CREAM OF WHEAT Quick Farina. Before serving, simply assemble with an easy filling Quick Farina. Before serving, simply assemble with an easy filling of butter or margarine, brown sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Then, bake in an orange juice and brown sugar syrup. With fruit and crisp bacon, coffee or milk, luscious Syrup-Baked Cereal Squares will spark an early breakfast or late brunch menu.

SYRUP-BAKED CEREAL SQUARES

34 teaspoon salt 1 cup CREAM OF WHEAT Quick Farina

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1¼ cups light brown sugar
1 egg, lightly beaten
2 cups orange juice
¾ teaspoon ground cinnamon

DAY AHEAD: Bring milk and salt to rapid boil. Slowly sprinkle in CREAM OF WHEAT Quick Farina, stirring constantly. Cook according to label directions. Remove from heat; add 1 table-spoon butter or margarine, ¼ cup brown sugar and egg. Blend well. Quickly spread in a generously greased 15½x10½x1-inch baking pan. Cool. Refrigerate overnight.

NEXT DAY: Over medium heat dissolve 1/4 cup brown sugar in NEXT DAY: Over medium heat dissolve ¼ cup brown sugar in orange juice, stirring occasionally. Cover; simmer 10 minutes. Meanwhile, blend remaining brown sugar and 3 tablespoons softened butter or margarine with cinnamon and raisins. Cut prepared CREAM OF WHEAT Quick Farina in half, lengthwise. Spread raisin-sugar mixture evenly over one half. Cover with second half. Cut into 12 portions. Carefully separate on pan. Pour 1 cup heated juice between squares (not over). Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Baste after about 20 minutes. Lift onto serving dish. Add syrup from baking pan to remaining juice in saucepan. Bring to boil. Pour over squares before serving. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Miss Elizabeth Crapster gave a miscellaneous shower on February 26th, in honor of Miss Isabella Mc-Kinney, whose marriage to Mr. Henry Reindollar occurred on Tuesday.

As showing the charitable spirit of the community, it is worth while mentioning that on the death of Aunt" Louisa" Hill's horse, last week, her neighbor, William F. Bricker, circulated a subscription list for the purpose of buying her another, and the response were sufficient; so the respected old colored lady will again be able to come to church and to deliver her washes.

'65 CHEVROLET

These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

Each of these beauties is the lowest priced in its line. But the ride doesn't show it. Or the interior. Or the performance.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite inter-mediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

Chevy II got a lot smarter for '65—but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Mrs. Charles Cluts, who is still a patient at Western Maryland Hospital, spent from Thursday until Sun-day at home at River Dale Farm. She and Mr. Cluts received a number of visitors during the four days. Thursday was their 50th wedding anniversary and it couldn't happen to a finer couple. They received many lovely cards and gifts for the oc-

Two dates to remember are Friday, March 5, for World Day of Prayer to be observed at the United Church of Christ in Keysville with Pastor Mark-ley as the speaker, and March 6 (Saturday morning) will be the bake sale for the benefit of the newly re-activated Boy Scout Troop #330 in Union Bridge. The sale will be held on Main Street in Union Bridge. And yet a third date is Wednesday evening, March 10, for Lenten Service at Mt. Tabor in Rocky Ridge.

Visitors (and workers for they "did" chickens) last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road were her mother, Mrs. Daniel Seibert, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Miles of Clear Spring, and her great-aunt, Mrs. William Bloyer, with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Warren Middlekauff and Warren, Jr., of Hagerstown.

The baptism of Patrick Wayne Myers and Thomas Eugene Ridinger took place at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ridinger.

The Keysville Lutheran Church Women met on Monday evening with Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Mrs. Loren Austin as leaders of the program. The film, which had been requested about six weeks ago for the evening, named "Harambee" did not arrive and in its place was shown a film-strip, "Farm Boy in Africa." This This was about a young boy and his family who live in Tanganyika. This is large British Trust territory in Eastern Africa whose people speak the Swahili language. Crops raised by them include beans, peanuts, rice and maize. Their dry plains are known for the big game. The Church's mission among new nations was the evening's theme. In closing, Mrs. Wilhide sang "Song of Peace."

Under old business during the busimess meeting mention was made of the Seminary Auxiliary membership drive ending this week. Mrs. Clyde Wilhide reported the flower arrangements for Mrs. Dayhoff and Mrs. Stonesifer had been taken care of and President Mrs. Edward Coshun told of putting a copy of Focus, new LCW paper to be printed five times a year, on the bulletin board.

Each organization will be asked to give a one minute talk on something their group has done in the way of social action. Dr. Falkenstine will lead the devotions stressing "The Way, The Truth and The Life." Election of a District Chairman will also be held. An invitation will be sent to the ladies of Rocky Ridge, who do not have a LCW group, to attend the Assembly. Cards were signed by all those present for Mrs. Cluts and also Mrs. Floyd Wiley, who has been ill. —Dharlys Fleharty

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Addie Shoop of Baltimore and was buried on Saturday morning. She was formerly Addie Clingian. our very deepest sympathy.

Well, today is "doughnut day",
Tuesday. In days gone by they said if you make doughnuts on this day you would have good luck but if you didn't bad luck would follow. Just superstition in my way of thinking superstition, in my way of thinking they are nothing to reduce on; so those of you who want to put some weight on - make plenty of them.

Transformed by the Book A Bible Colporteur was held up at the point of a revolver in a Sicilian forest in the dead of night. He was ordered to light a fire and burn his books. Having lit the fire, he asked if he might read a brief extract from each book before surrendering it to the flames. From one he read Psalm 25; from another, the parable of the good Samaritan; from another, the Sermon on the Mount; from another, Paul's Hymn to Love, etc. After the reading of each extract the brigand exclaimed, "that's a good book! we won't burn that one, give it to me." In the end not a book was burned. They passed one by, one into the brigand's hands who went oft, books and all, into the darkness. Some years later he turned up again, but this time as an ordained Christian Minister and telling his story to the colportur, he said, it was the reading of your books that did it."

The harvest of the Bible is the harvest of changed lives all over the planted by the redemption of whole The Reaper. communities.

Bits of Advice (Taken from a church paper) Cultivate the habit of gentleness. Do not shun the lowly because they Prefer to appear capable, rather than smart. Be generous in words and acts of forgiveness. Resolve to do better each day and then do it. Keep up courage when others begin to show signs of discouragement. Make it the rule of your life to think kindly of others, no matter what they may think of you.

Remember that we live in thoughts and deeds rather than in breaths and years. Stand firm for the right at all times and in all places.

Consider the time that you spend in Bible meditation and worship well

One reason for that may have been the fact that he caught so many games. It was common for Tillman to catch both ends of a doubleheader. While his hitting was improving his catching was also. He worked long and hard in spring training with the veteran Al Lakeman to learn the tricks of his trade and he picked up quite a few. He handled the pitchers better and he learned how to keep rival base runners under reasonable restraint. The Red Sox now corporation will hire an additional and the Office of Tenebrae.

THE WAY I SEE IT ...

Observations on the World of Sports
—by John Breth

Taking due notice of the trouble National League Champions have in repeating, the ST. LOUIS CARD-INALS are trying to beef up their weak spots for the 1965 season.

That is what is behind the recent deals the Cards have made. They lacked pitching depth last season and won in spite of it, thanks to a strenuous effort by their "Big Three", Bob Gibson, Curt Simmons and Bay Sadacki

Ray Sadecki.
Those three pitchers won 57 games and lost 32 among them. Sadecki won 20 and lost 11. Gibson was 19 and 12. Simmons had a record of 18 and 9. Gibson, Simmons and Sadecki among them started 22 games of the

The two major additions to the mound platoon the Cards have made through recent trades are Tracey Stallard, acquired from the new York

Stallard, acquired from the new York Mets and Bob Purkey, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds. They are expected to take a turn on the starting line for the Cards in 1965.

The Cards parted with a pitcher, Roger Craig, in the Purkey deal. Craig won 7 and lost 9 for St. Louis last season and Purkey was 11 and 9 for the reds. At first glance it might seem the Cards picked up 4 games in that trade but things aren't games in that trade but things aren't quite that black and white.

Stallard had a record of ten victories and 20 losses for the Mets and was the number one loser in the league. However, it must be remembered that he was pitching for the number one losing team. He will find the Cardinal infield somewhat dif-

COMING SOON - a new expandsports page for the Carroll Rec-

Fred Shank to Coach Tigers

One of the truly great baseball players to wear the Taneytown uniform will assist the Tiger batsmen this year as Taneytown prepares for the coming baseball season in the South Penn league.

It seems that Fred has been playing baseball forever and that may-be he helped Abner Doubleday invent the game. Actually coach Shank started playing in 1934 under man-ager Fern Hitchcock from whom he learned his fundamentals and learned them well. Fred started in the field but wound up behind the plate before long.

From the start Fred loved to play baseball so much that he played for two leagues and two teams at once. It was in 1939-40 when on Saturdays he toiled for Gettysburg and on Sunday for the local nine. In 1941 he was player-manager for Woodsboro and on third base. It was with this team that he attracted scouts from the Pittsburgh Pirates. But the major league career was not to be as he found himself in the Army along with many of his countrymen. After Uncle Sam released Fred, he went back with Taneytown where he stayed until that team disbanded af-ter the now famous "fight" with Fairfield. The local boys who still number one losing team. He will find the Cardinal infield somewhat different from the group he had in back of him on the Mets.

The Cardinal pitching staff was no better than sixth in the National League in the team pitching tables. But the team which led the league in pitching, San Francisco, could only finish fourth. The Cardinals won the pennant. You might say that was 18 fairfield. The local boys who still wished to play ball went to Union Bridge and it was there that coach Shank enjoyed his greatest success. Famous number "7" broke up many a game with the "long Ball." One year that team won 25 straight games in one season and first 3 in next year for an unequalled record of 28 straight wins. Fred hit an amazing pennant. You might say that was pennant. You might say that was .489 that year and this has to be his flying in the face of the percentages. Obviously, the Cards would like to fly with them next year. That's why they are building up their pitching staff.

Like the time in 1962 when a rookie catcher for the Boston Red Sox, BOB TILLMAN, was being interviewed on the radio and was asked about his hitting in the big leagues.

Tillman: "Oh, I do all right with the fast ball but I couldn't hit a curve ball with an oar."

Among those listening was the manager of the Bosox at that time, Mike Higgins, who growled: "I don't see why he has to tell every pitcher in the league about it."

Apparently every pitcher heard the last two years.

In closing we would like to answer those people who ask why Fred wer those people who ask why Fred to be passed up — a player who makes every game is to be cherished —a player who is a fierce compettion is to hold on to. Speaking on behalf of the Taneytown Baseball club, we say: "Thank goodness he still wants to play."

The solicitors will make every attempt to contact all residents within their areas; however, bad weather, poor roads, and lack of time may prevent them from contacting all persons before March 12. Those not visited who are interested in contri-buting or pledging to the Taneytown Pool Construction fund are asked to send their pledge or donation to "Taneytown Pool Fund, Taneytown, Maryland" no later than March 13, 1965. Checks should be made payable to "City of Taneytown Pool Fund."

The Project's Executive Committee hopes that the residents contacted will welcome the solicitors, recognizing the great effort they are making to garner funds to build the pool that will benefit the entire area.

MANY ARE THE WAYS AND MEANS . .

Taneytown Pool Fund Needs Spur Groups to Contribute By Barbara Baumgardner

Suddenly it's Spring! - or "almost" Spring, and Taneytown's fancy has turned to thoughts of the community's swimming pool project, still $44,000 short of the $60,000 construction fund goal to be met this month if construction is to be completed by Memorial Day.

Taneytownians are rallying around Taneytownians are rallying around the cause with united expenditures of time, effort and talent. "The changing face of Taneytown" today might best be characterized by the posters, banners, flyers and signs urging support of the pool fund and support of the many projects under way to benefit the fund that line the main thoroughfare, East Baltimore St.

"Whether people are for it or against it, everybody's talking 'pool' these days," reports one factory worker.

"Folks' attitudes have changed a bit," claims a storekeeper. "At first, they didn't think there was a doubt that the pool project would fall flat on its face, but now the big question seems to be whether we'll make it by Spring—not whether we'll make it at all."

A prominent businessman states, "I told the Committee I thought it could be done, but that it would take more than one year, last Fall. I still wonder how they'll raise the rest of the money in time, but I think they'll make it this year."

"We kids just couldn't get excited about the pool at first because we didn't believe it would ever be built. 'What's the use of getting our hopes up and then be let down?' everybody at school felt. Now that we know there's a chance to have the pool this Summer, the kids are more enthused," says a high school senior. "It'll really give us something to do and someplace to go."

The big push to raise as much money as possible for the pool fund is being spearheaded by a complete canvass of the rural area around Taneytown March 2 through 12. This follows up the "in-town" canvass in January which netted over $6,000.00. "We kids just couldn't get excited

Businesses are being solicited again for donations and pledges; very few responded to the first and second appeals for funds. Even those firms not centered in the community but which supply the area with commodities and convince are being asked for ities and services are being asked for contributions.

Area organizations have been visited by the project's Presentation Team, have been asked via special mailings and personal contacts for mailings and personal contacts for support and are sponsoring numerous benefits. The Future Business Leaders of America chapter at Taneytown Jr. - Sr. High School is donating part of the proceeds from the play, "Take Your Medicine," to be presented March 12 and 13 in the high school auditorium.

The high school P.-T.A. is planning an auction. A "white elephant" auction was held Tuesday evening by a bridge club for members and guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Thompson. The parents of the Youth Basketball participants are hoping to have a benefit all-star game soon. The Jaycees are producing an old-time melodrama April 1, 2 and 3 in the high school auditorium and selling program-book ads, the Jaycettes the high school auditorium and selling program-book ads, the Jaycettes are holding a hat sale this Friday at Pool Headquarters. An elementary school homeroom sold popcorn and candy last week. An indoor carnival is planned by two high school groups. Yes, many are the ways and means to make the Pool Fund grow. Several organizations have not had to sponsor special fund-raising projects, but

Why We Work Lesson for March 7, 1965

Background Scripture: Matthew 19 and Devotional Reading: Matthew 20:20-28.

SOME of the parables of Jesus sound crazy. Let's face it: the "plain and simple" teachings of Jesus are often neither clear nor simple. Reader and listener have to wrestle as best they can to

One thing the Christian reader is sure of: These parables are not crazy. The Lord meant something true in each one. One story is particularly Dr. Foreman strange. It is about a grape-grower at harvest time who hired workmen in the morning for a denarius a day. (An average daily wage in New Testament times. The "denarius" was a small silver coin.) At intervals through the day he hired more men, telling them he would pay what was right. Finally an hour before quitting time he hired some more without promising them anything at all. Then, at the end of the long twelvehour day, he paid off, giving each man the same amount, whether he had worked one hour or

Working for the paycheck

This parable is not intended to teach us what a day's wages should be in our day and time. It is not intended to tell employers what kind of wage scale is the right one. (What would become of a farmer who regularly hired workmen as the man in the parable did?) The point is in the different motives men have for working at all. The point is indeed a kind of double one. It makes us think of the different motives men have for working-Now some people work for purpose. They keep his commandments, they do kind deeds, they help worthy causes, only because they hope there is a book-keeping angel who will see to it that they get credit for every good thing they do. Now it is not wrong to work for a paycheck, even God's. What is wrong is having this as one's only and sufficient reason for working at all.

Easy money

On the bottom rung of the stairway to heaven, below those who work only for pay (here or in heaven) stand those who hope the stairway is an escalator that will take them to the top floor without their having to climb. In terms of reward, these are the people who live for easy money. They are the rice-Christians. They are the ones who, not content with getting credit for every single good deed they do, want credit for what they don't do.

Working in faith

The last men hired that day had no promises at all. No denarius, not even "what is right." The only motive they could have had was confidence in the man who hired them. They trusted him, and when he ordered them into the vineyard, they went, not expecting much. Now the point of the story (as we said) is a double one. Here Jesus is telling us that what a man is worth cannot be measured entirely by his visible accomplishments. Motive is a very important part of any action. If human beings could see clear into the hearts of men, as God can, they might arrange their payrolls differently. But in real life there is no computer yet made which will calculate what percentage of credit for a good deed is due to motive. No man can guess it precisely. But there is a final Judge, supreme and infallible. It is God who sees the heart. All that our neighbors guess at but never see is clear to God. Only God pays off in the end. And before his judgment throne the greatest rewards may come to those who expect them least.

EASTERN BOARD DECLARES DIVIDENDS, HOLDS AREA MEMBERSHIP RATES

Delegates attending a regular quarterly meeting of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association at Syracuse February 24, approved ac-tion by the Board of Directors in declaring member dividends of $100,-000 for the fiscal year.

This figure, according to the dele-gate from this area, Wade Brown of Littlestown, Pa., represents cooperative earnings above operating expenses for the year ending March 31. Twenty per cent will be refunded to farmer members in cash dividends while the remaining 80 per cent will be allocated in the form of certifi-

According to Delegate Brown, these dividends have been made possible by careful management and prudent spending, even though membership dues have been kept at a minimum.

Another resolution from the delegate body was a move to fix the Eastern membership dues to Federal Order No. 2 members at not more than one cent per hundredweight—the same rate currently in effect.

Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, a milk bargaining organization, has membership of approximately 8,500 dairymen throughout the major markets of the Northeast, principal of which is the New York-New Jersey marketing area.

YOUTH BASKETBALL FAMILY NIGHT PLANNED

A "Family Night" is planned for this Friday evening in Taneytown for participants in the Jaycee-sponsored Youth Basketball program. The affair is scheduled for 8:00 P.M. in the Taneytown High School Gym. The Youth Basketball project was undertaken this year by the Jaycees on a more or less trial basis and without too much fanfare. The response was extremely gratifying, in fact, far beyond the expectations of the committee. The boys have been meeting each Saturday morning to learn the fundamentals of basketball, to improve their skills, and for good, clean, supervised recreation.

All of the boys who have participated in this activity the past few months are invited to attend the affair Friday night with their parents fair Friday night with their parents and families. There will be several basketball games, both in the younger basketball games, both in the younger ten to twelve-year-old age group and in the older group of boys thirteen to seventeen. Ten awards will be presented for boys outstanding in the program and those excelling in certain tests. Teams will be coached and the game refereed by Jaycee members. Refreshments will be served everyone attending.

Letters We Like to Receive

Best wishes and congratulations on the fine contribution your informative paper makes to Taneytown and the community.

Sincerely, Grace Witherow Washington, D.C.

I think John Breth's column, "The Way I See It," is a fine addition to The Carroll Record. I'm sure the many sports-minded readers of the paper will agree with me. So, Mr. Breth, keep up the good work! Your news is timely and lively, and goes far toward helping make The Carroll Record a well-rounded publication.

Sincerely, Zola Cantwell Taneytown

EVENING SOUNDS

Rusty the cat (peacefully sleeping) and I (enjoying Thoreau) are the sole occupants of the living room on this bitter winter evening. No raucous din of radio or television shatters the calm. No roar of traffic resounds without. No merry laughter or gay conversation echoes within. Even the telephone is strangely silent.

And yet, all is not absolutely quiet. On the contrary, I hear many reassuring sounds. Perhaps the most pleasing to my ears is the ticking of the miniature cuckoo clock. That I have this hand-carved timepiece at all is a miracle. Coming as it did, from the Black Forest in Germany, I waited six weeks for its arrival in the mail. One look at the badly smashed container convinced me that the long-awaited clock was hopelessly ruined. Yet, outside of a badly entangled chain, its condition was generally good. It required the deft fingers of our teen-aged daughter, however, to start the pendulum swaying properly. Once started, it has only stopped once or twice, due to lack of

The angry wind tries each door and window, and then roars threateningly down the chimneys. The space heater answers it back only mildly, but Hercules, in the kitchen, sputters and crackles in open defiance of his ancient foe. These sounds make my living room seem a cozy and secure haven, indeed.

As I write, Rusty is favoring me with her peculiar little feline song. For centuries, the purring of a cat has been associated with the hearth, and domesticity. To me, it is a most relaxing sound.

Solitude and quietness, if not overdone, are healing, but I do not enjoy being completely alone at night. And so perhaps the most comforting sounds I hear are Skippy's bark (much worse than his bite), the hum of the milking machines, and finally, familiar footsteps coming down the familiar footsteps coming down the

These pleasant evening sounds are a part of life's pattern out here in the country. How I enjoy hearing each one of them!
