Dear Observer:- I bought a two-piece suit for Easter and I liked it while in the store as I stood before the mirror. One big thing was that it made me appear so slim in the back! I hesitate keeping it for that was the big feature and that's all. What would you do and kindly tell me what your candid opinion is? Thank you! Signed, H. C. Dear H. C. You asked for it and here it is—It's What's Up Front That Counts! Your Observer.

Dear Observer:- You have aided me before and I am coming to you again. My sister would like to live with me as I am a widow and live alone in a large house but she plays TV all day until the last show at night which she did when she visited me and it made me terribly nervous. I only play my TV when I want to look at special programs and never, never late at night due to those loud commercials. Kindly advise me. Thanks a million. Signed, sister. Dear Sister:- You really answered that letter yourself. Why not have a real down to earth talk with your sister and tell her frankly and truthfully as you stated above? Your fully as you stated above?

Dear Observer:- My husband and I are in our late 40's and have been living in a house for 20 years. He is not interested in the house anymore, although he has been a very handyman, even making a Club cellar and so much more. He desires to move into an apartment and I do not want to do so. He has a lovely position and of course we can afford a nice apartment. Feeling the way I do how should I go about this. Thanking you! Signed, V. C. G. Dear Mrs. V.C.G.:—What has caused your husband to lose interest in the nice house you describe? There must be a reason. Is he a well man? Why not ask him and then tell him the reasons that you do not care to live in an apartment for it. would start being unhappy and your letter sounded far from unhappy. Best wishes! Your Observer.

In no time your daughter will marry, as all girls do, and maybe it will then be too late. Go to it and much happiness for all of you! Your Observer.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

CLANTON, ALA., NEWS: "In the United States, the government is forever seeking to make everyone and everything more productive and more efficient. In the Soviet countries, the government is apparently trying to do the same thing. The difference in the results, of course, is the Free Enterprise system, which is the father of ingenuity and initiative. Take away the freedom of choice which we are supposed to enjoy; take away the personal desire to achieve; the individual will to improve and make better, and we have little more than Communism in Socialism!"

CORYDON, IND., REPUBLICAN: "Administration ears-to-the-ground are hearing welcome applause from across the nation in anticipation of the cuts in wartime taxes on 'luxuries' that the President has promised. It's been a long time since V-J Day and citizens have long taken a dim view of taxes designed to put a damper on sales and production and release workers for the war effort."

OPPORTUNITY, WASH., HER-ALD: "It's an amazing thing how the human mind can interpret the same set of facts to suit its own peculiar prejudices. For years now, we have been assured by our selfstyled experts that the reason we in America need to have more government direction of our economy is because it has gotten too complex to operate as a completely free system. The 'cover' story in a recent Time agazine reports on the apparent trend in Soviet Russia to copy capitalism in an effort to increase industry production. There, say Soviet experts, the economy is getting too complicated for central planning!"

FLEMINGTON, N.J., DEMOCRAT: "We haven't heckled Postmaster General John A. (Zip-Zip) Gronouski for quite a spell. . . . We see by the city papers where the Postmaster General has announced that business mail users will have to zip code and presort bulk mail by 1967. Even sooner -by the first of July, this yearsuch users will have to mark sacked mail for zip code sectional centers.

. . Mr. Gronouski, we don't mind doing half your work for you . . providing we get better mail service. But if there has been any improvement it hasn't exactly stuck out like a sore finger."

JUNCTION CITY, ORE., TIMES: "News releases indicate that union leaders throughout the nation have agreed that 'nationalization' of the country's railroad system should be undertaken. The allegation is that private ownership is not sufficiently concerned with service to the public. Logically, the next step would be for the powerful unions in the printing and publishing field to 'nationalize' the field of communications-press, radio, television. This could be the vital step . . . for federal control of mass media (and) could make certain that thorough indoctrination of 'approved' policies would result in public approval and compliance."

AULT, COLO., PROGRESS: "Over the past four or five years a lot has been said, written and proposed for taking care of our Elder Citizens who might need assistance. We have always favored giving where giving is necessary and needed, but, we could never favor an outright step toward socialized medicine or another step down the road toward a Socialistic form of government. We might add, we have always been opposed to the Federal Government taking control of our lives with our money (yours and my taxes paid into the U.S.

Elmer A. Wolfe PTA Meeting "Is tuberculosis on the way out? Headlines will say 'TB declines' but neadlines are sometimes misleading, Mrs. Mindelle S. Moon, Director of Health Education of the Maryland TB Association, told the Elmer A. Wolfe PTA members at their meet-

Wolfe PTA members at their meeting on Monday, April 12.

Maryland today ranks 6th or 7th in the listing of the 50 states in TB cases. In Carroll County in 1964, 3,684 people were x-rayed. Of these, 38 needed further study and three were found to have active TB: seemingly healthy persons with destroyed lung tissue who couldn't be found by looks, sound or their feelings. Seven looks, sound or their feelings. Seven other cases were also found by doctors who suspected the possibility of TB in their patients. For everyone found, it is estimated there are 3 or 4 cases not known. Mrs. Moon talked about a quiz "Score Yourself" which is available from the Carroll County TB Association and commented on the four questions which are most often answered incorrectly. So much is known about the disease, she said, but until the public will help themselves with regular checkups with their doctors and x-rays, it will continue to be a health problem. The film "Anatomy of a Disease" was shown and told how a patient suspected of having TB is tested and treated. This disease is more prevalent in men than women and more often found in nonwhites. Children can be tested using the tuberculin test which is a skin allergy test. The average length to-day of a hospital stay is nine months. To pass on TB germs one must be in the positive sputum stage; any other time it cannot be passed. further information, contact the Carroll County TB Association in Westminster. The invocation was by Rev. Wilbur Whalen of the Holiness Christian Church in Keymar.

In the absence of the president, the business meeting was conducted by the vice president, Robert DePew. An incomplete financial report was given by treasurer, Mrs. Norman Black, on the Antique and Hobby Show which was held on March 24. There are still some bills outstanding but a profit of $400.00 will probably be realized.

A motion was made and seconded to send $50.00 to the Carroll County Scholarship Fund.

The report of the Nominating Committee was made. There were no nominations from the floor so the following list will be sent to the members to vote upon. Texans Think Big-About Weather And Baseball...

Like most Americans, Texans talk about the weather—and baseball. But the folks in Houston have finally done something about the weather. In fact, they've made every day an ideal day for baseball.

That "something" is the Harris County Domed Stadium, home of the Houston Astros and the first indoor baseball home of the Houston Astros and the first indoor baseball field in history. Covered with a network of close to 5,000 skylights of Du Pont's "Lucite" acrylic monomer, the unique stadium guarantees sports fans perfect pre-packaged weather 365 days a year. Come heat, humidity, rain or even a freak snow flurry, spectators will be able to attend baseball, football, circuses, rodeos, trade shows, political conventions, religious services — all in constant-temperature comfort. For the staperature comfort. For the sta-dium is fully air-conditioned, with 6,600 rated tons of equipment in constant operation. What's more — the playing field will have natural grass growing on it, made possible because the skylights permit sufficient sunlight to filter down to the playing field to nourish the grass. An idea literally pulled out of the sky brought about this indoor-outdoor weatherproof roof. Architects took the same concept that Du Pont scientists had developed for the B-17 airplane gunner's dome of "Lucite", brought it down several thousand feet and simply thousand feet and simply thought big — half a mile big Seen through a fish-eye lens, the Astrodome interior is a study in curves. Grass on the playing field is nurtured by sunlight transmitted through skylight panels of "Lucite".

All this is, of course, a far cry from the sports stadium of old — whose builders tried all sorts of methods of beating the heat and other discomforts. The ancient Greeks, for example, tackled the weather problem by choosing as the site of their games, Olympia, for its thick grove of trees. But, when Zeus let fly with a lightning bolt, everyone, spectators inbolt, everyone, spectators in-cluded, donned winged sandals for a cross-country run.

Time and progress brought the newspaper held over the head, the plastic raincoat, the ton Oilers kick off the football season in the fall. Even should mighty Bob Aspromonte strike out, there'll be no gloom in Houston's "Astrodome."

It'll be a rainy day in Texas and a great day for a baseball game at Houston's Harris County Domed Stadium, the world's first indoor-outdoor weatherproof sports arena. Only the sun will be able to penetrate the skylight roof of Du Pont's "Lucite". Inside the stadium 2½-million cubic feet of air will be cooled and circulated each minute.

One of the most famous silhou-ettes of World War II, the B-17 turret, became the identifying mark of the greatest bomber produced during the war. Pro-tected by three layers of "Lu-cite", the gunner still had com-plete visibility. Over 12,000 Fly-ing Fortresses, the workhorses of the bomb squadrons, were produced during the war.

A VOICE FROM THE HOUSE

(Due to lack of space, this article

Midnight, March 30, saw the end of the regular 1965 Session of the Maryland General Assembly, and the end of many needed, as well as many unneeded legislative proposals. There has been much criticism because of the failure of certain bills to pass both Houses so as to be enacted into law, but there was a great amount of work accomplished.

A redistricting bill was passed, as mentioned in a previous column. However, the Senate refused to concur in either of the Reapportionment bills that were passed by the House of Delegates. As a result, a special session must be called to consider the legislation again on the Courts have legislation again, or the Courts have threatened to take it upon themselves to apportion Maryland's House of Delegates and Senate. The Bay Bridge bill failed to pass the Senate after having been amended in the House delete the parallel span and substitute a span from Southern Maryland to the Eastern Shore, which amendment received my support. Many felt no new span was warranted anywhere at this time.

The two Bills which brought the

The two Bills which brought the greatest pressure from lobbyists were the controversial revolving credit and insurance sticker bills. The bill to limit and control revolving credit charges passed the House but failed in the Senate. I had voted against this bill in the House as drawn. It will probably be re-introduced in the next year or so, and may be in more acceptable form. acceptable form.

The insurance sticker bill passed the Senate, but received an unfavorable report by the House Committee on insurance. A motion was made on the floor of the House to force the bill out of Committee for a vote on the floor of the House. This vote failed, resulting in the death of the Bill. After much deliberation, I voted to bring the bill out of Committee for consideration on the floor. There was probably more bad information or misinformation about this bill than any other piece of legislation in Annapolis.

It was stated that at any given time, there are as many as four per cent of the motorists on the highper cent of the motorists on the high-way without insurance. There is no practical way to tell this by obser-vation. To keep these cars off the road, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles proposed a bill that would require the insurance companies to issue a windshield sticker, much like the old inspection stickers, for each car insured. The sticker would be car insured. The sticker would be good for the period for which you bought insurance. For example, one month if you paid one month's premium, six months if you paid a six months' premium and one year if you paid a year's premium. There would be a different color for each month's sticker with the date of expiration sticker with the date of expiration in that month on the sticker.

The State Police, who also supported the bill, could tell at a glance any car that was not insured, or whose insurance had expired by color of the sticker, and could then take the irresponsible motorist off the highway. Insurance agents protested the bill in full force. Most thought they would have to give the sticker for a year and get it back themselves if the policy was cancelled. Actually, the sticker would only be issued for the length of time premiums were paid, and upon cancellation of the policy for valid reasons, the agents would certify cancellation to the Department of Motor Vehicles very similar to that done today.

to the problem was to require everyone who buys insurance to buy extra coverage to protect himself against the uninsured motorist. This would mean you would pay an extra premium to your agent to protect yourself from those who don't have insurance, and may end up in a law suit against your own company to recover for an accident. It would also not keep those who are bad drivers off the highways. This bill also failed.

My thinking was that the sticker bill deserved a trial. It would be a more effective means of keeping the uninsurable motorist off the highway, and would not require additional insurance premiums from the respon-

A proposal to spend a large sum of money to set up a State Educational TV program failed to receive enough support to pass, and was deferred for further study.

Kindergartens have been the subject of proposed legislation. A bill to bring kindergartens into the State educational system received much support, but did not pass this year. Baltimore City and some counties al-ready operate a kindergarten program and are anxious for the State to adopt a broad program so they can benefit from increased State aid.

Community Colleges are being encouraged and aided by new legislation. It is generally felt that to have a good community college, there should be a community of about 30,000 peo-ple which would provide a student body of about 500 students. A smal-ler school would find it more difficult to attract good teaching personnel and to provide adequate facilities. A bill passed the House to give scholar-ships to students in Community Col-leges if they agree to teach for 2 leges if they agree to teach for 2 years in the public schools upon graduation from college.

A bill also passed authorizing a bond issue to build regional community colleges which may be built by the cooperative effort of two or more counties for the students of those counties. Such colleges would serve the less populous areas of the State, or counties that could not provide for a community college of optimum

A relatively new concept of financing college dormitories is re-ceiving legislative sanction. Bond issues have been authorized to finance college dormitories with provision that the fees for residing in the dormitories would be applied to pay off the bonds. This is designed to make the facilities self-sustaining.

The State Roads Commission supported bills to allow that Commission to borrow monies from some State Pension or Retirement Funds so that rights of ways may be purchased in advance of actual need. The funds will benefit by receiving income of 5%, a better than average yield, and the State Roads Commission will benefit by being able to purchase property at a more favorable rate, and before speculators force up the land prices in a given area.

An automobile inspection bill also passed this week. It will provide onpassed this week. It will provide only that any used car must be inspected when it is sold. The main purpose of this bill is to prevent the sale of so called "junkers" unfit for operation on the highways, and to prevent the alleged "dumping" of junkers in Maryland from other states with inspection laws. There was some with inspection laws. There was some support for a more comprehensive system of automobile inspection for all cares, but that proposal did not receive sufficient votes to pass.

What is all this Easter business about? If you listen to the radio or read the newspaper ads, you might think it was a big bargain sale. If you take a look at the people in church, you show. If you read the poetssome poets-you might think this must be a Nature festival celebrating the warm sun, the green hills of April and

Or maybe if you listen to a philosophical sort of sermon, you may conclude that the meaning of Easter is that life Goes On. Well, the pholosopher is nearer it than anyone else but even he doesn't quite hit the real original and imperishable meaning of Easter. For this we have to go back to the first Easter of all.

The miracle

What was new, on that first Easter morning? Not a new thought, but a new thing, a new fact. The first Easter did not begin with an idea, though it left many new ideals behind it. It began with a piece of news. Something happened. Something so wonderful, so totally unlike any ordinary event, that some of Jesus' best friends did not believe it for some time. Something so strange that to this day some people have trouble in their minds accepting the fact as a fact. The story has been told in this column and deserves to be told often, about the professor in Germany who wrote about the life and death of Christ; but when he came to the Resurrection, he just couldn't take it. It could not be a fact, he wrote; for that would have had to be a miracle of omnipotence, a miracle of almighty power. Well, so it was. You can't make anything else out of it. It was indeed a miracle; if it did not happen you cannot understand the rest of the New Testament. There is a famous and learned theologian who finds it impossible to believe in mirne would like to believe in the resurrection. So his writings on the subject, when you boil them down, sound very much like this: "The resurrection is the most important event in the Bible story; but it never happened." Well, Christians are prepared to admit it is hard to believe, but New Testament type Christians are not prepared to believe there was no miracle on the first Easter of them all, HE IS RISEN!

The message

Eastertide brings the world (if it listens) more messages than one. The first and most important, of course, is that God raised his Son from the dead. But that is not all of it. It is striking that Jesus never appeared to his enemies again after his death. He came back to those who believed in him, to those who followed him. So the great message is not merely that Jesus survived death; he came back to be with his own. If you have not responded to Jesus because of what he was, did and taught, you are not likely to be convinced by a resurrection. Preceiving the resurrection, the truth and the glory of it, is not a demonstration to force you into faith. Rather, it is a reward of faith.

The mandate

Another great truth of the Easter season is that the Resurrection gives Jesus Christ the right to command. It was only after this that Jesus said, "All authority is given me in heaven and on earth." It was a risen Christ who said, "Go into all the world-make disciples of all nations." It is only the risen Christ who can say, "Lo, I am with you to the end of the world."

Albert W. Farmer of Elkhart, Ind., CROP director, said he expects about 1,000 acres of "friendship land" to be harvested this year. Most of it will be in corn, but some in beans and soybeans.

Mr. Farmer emphasized that the food and other supplies are distributed by churches overseas on the basis of need only. There is no screening for race, creed or politics.

"It's a real tribute to our rural people that they're willing to share their abundance with the world's less fortunate," he said.

In addition, some farmers will raise a hog or two, a lamb, a calf or some chicks for CROP. In states where there's a great deal of interest in the program, several farmers will get together

WERE YOU THERE?

A well-known Easter hymn is entitled, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" This is a thought-provoking question, and one which all of us should think about especially during this Holy Week.

Let us, first of all, consider the various people who played a part in Christ's crucifixion. Let us then, in the light of our own characters, try to imagine what our respective roles might have been, had we been in Jerusalem during that first Holy Week almost 2,000 years ago.

If we like thrill and crowds and excitement we would no doubt have been in the throng of people who welcomed Jesus into Jerusalem as He entered that ancient city, riding on the back of a donkey. We, too, would have shouted "Hosanna" as we waved palm branches and scattered garments along His road. But then, when Jesus refused to let us crown Him as our earthly king, we would no doubt have been in the very same crowd which, five days later, shouted, "Crucify Him!"

If we are inclined to be proud and self-righteous, it is entirely possible that we would have numbered ourselves with the scribes and Pharisees. These arrogant Jewish leaders hated Christ and were so jealous of Him that nothing short of His death would satisfy them. These men absolutely refused to believe that Jesus was God's only son. If we had been in their midst, we might have bargained with Judas Iscariot, offering to give him 30 pieces of silver for showing us where to arrest Jesus. Or we might have persuaded the fickle mob to shout "Crucify Him" when Pilate asked what should be done with Jesus.

It is even possible that some of us might have been Roman soldiers whose duty it was to beat Christ and then nail Him to the Cross. Crucifixion was the Roman method of ex-ecution. To these hardened men, it

Our role might have been that of a scornful by-passer, who jeered at and mocked Christ as He was dying on Calvary. We might have shouted, along with others, "If You are really the Son of God save yourself and the control of the con the Son of God, save yourself and come down from the cross."

However, had we been friends and followers of Jesus, the situation would have been entirely different. True, we would have forsaken the Master when He was arrested. Like Peter, we would have denied Him. But like him, we would have shed bitter tears over the whole affair. We would have stood at the Cross, heart-broken by the cruel suffering and shemeful And then, wonder of wonders, we might have been among the first to hear the joyous news, "Our Lord is not dead, He is risen!" We might even have peered into the empty tomb on that first Easter morning.

"Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" All

"Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" All of us were there — maybe not in the flesh, but well represented by other people just like us.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, Secretary of State of Maryland, has announced that all individuals now holding no-that all individuals now holding notary public commissions will continue in office until July 1, even though their commissions state that their terms will expire on May 3, 1965.

According to Mr. Simpkins, the terms of notaries have always expired on the first Monday in May of the odd numbered years. During the recent session of the General Assembly, legislation was enacted changing the terms of the notaries. In the future, notary terms will continue to future, notary terms will continue to be for a two-year period, but will expire on July 1 of the odd numbered years. Because of this change in the law, the Secretary of State's office is faced with the almost impossible task of issuing new commissions to task of issuing new commissions to over 30,000 Maryland notaries to cover the period between May 3 and July 1 of this year.

To overcome this situation, language was written into the "term changing" bill automatically extending the terms of all notaries beyond May 3 and until July 1 of this year.

Mr. Simpkins said: "As a result of this legislative Act, the terms of all present notaries will expire on July 1 instead of May 3, as stated on their commissions. During this two-month
