How awful — over FOUR HUNDRED were killed on the Highways this Labor-week-end! And most of this Labor-week-end! And most of the drivers were those from the ages of 16 and 25 years of age! I do not know why the Public desires to go places on this Holiday which years ago began with respect and rest for the Laborer by a man named Robert Owen in England in the year of 1833. It spread throughout Europe and it surely was a day of rest for the working individual. Then, Peter J. #### THE PRIVATE "WAR ON POVERTY"

The government's antipoverty program is coming in for much criticism. Charges of "Boondoggle" are common. So far, it is said, most of the benefits seem to have gone to a wellpaid administrative bureaucracy relatively few to the poor.

Meanwhile, U.S. News & World Report observes, ". . . private employers are creating millions of jobs in a 'poverty war' of their own." About 6 million of these jobs have come into existence in the last five years - 2.2 million in 1964 alone. And, to quote the magazine again, . . the private 'war on poverty' has been particularly helpful to those Negroes, teen-agers, and others who were without education, skills or experience."

Whatever the government program may ultimately achieve, the most effective weapon against poverty is dynamic, expanding, socially-conscious private enterprise.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover writes: "Experience shows that swift and impartial justice is one of the most effective deterrents to crime. Yet, swift justice, with all the technical loopholes and unwarranted delays in the law, is almost passe in several jurisdictions, and the rights of peaceful citizens are taking a terrific beating from the 'impartial justice' meted out in some courts. Crime causations are many and varied. Few, however, are more serious than misguided leniencies, including abuses of parole, probation, and suspended sentences. A young bank robber recently blamed such leniency for his turn to serious crime."

President Gerholz of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States our cities in uniform" by enlisting in a federal program of community development when the job could be done faster and better through private investment and initiative. Federal aid, he added, cannot help but inhibit the free play of imagination, originality and innovation within the community.

Hanson W. Baldwin writes in The Reporter: "It is generally recognized in Washington that the military buildup which President Johnson has now launched represents in effect a short term 'stopgap' policy. The administration hopes that increased but still limited escalation may yet bring Hanoi and Moscow to the conference table. If not, it is prepared to move swiftly into what Washington calls 'the second phase' of far greater committment. In short, the new road in Vietnam may lead a long way without a turning. It will require national patience and fortitude to a degree unmatched in any previous war the United States has fought."

The head of Pfizer International, a major producer of prescription drugs, bulk chemicals, and other products, told a Senate subcommittee that American investments in manufacturing plants and distribution facilities overseas, particularly in developed countries, make a very important and growing contribution to the U.S. balance of payments. He urged that government and private programs be undertaken to encourage as many as 10,000 U.S. companies to establish themselves abroad. Capitol Greet Grand Army Veterans. The National Capitol extended hearty greetings to the survivors of the Civil War, this week, in their celebration of the 50th anniversary of the famous review of the Union Army by President Johnson and Gener-Grant, at the close of the war, chief interest centering on the big parade of Wednesday. The line of march for the Grand Army was up historic Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the White House, just as it was when the victorious Union soldiers were mustered out of service 50 years ago. In 1865 the Army, as it passed in review before President Andrew Johnson was 200,000 strong. On Wednesday in the blue ranks as they were reviewed by the first Southern born. President also first Southern-born President elected since the war, there were estimated to be 20,000 men.

Allies Make Great Gains. The last week has been an eventful one in the European War, as it has recorded numerous heavy reverses for the Germans, chiefly on the Western front where the French and English armies have taken the aggressive and made decided advances, regaining considerable lost territory.

Greetings to you:

Know you will be happy to learn that Amos Davidson of the Book-mobile is able to be around again. It was necessary to have his leg suspended and packed in ice for two days, he said, to keep the clots sta-tionary and he is now taking anticoagulant medicine. It will also be necessary for him to wear a type of nylon "sock" which has been ordered. He still does not know when, or if, he will be able to return to the Bookmobile but is going in to the library in the mornings now to get it organized and ready to go on the road. Sure we all wish him well. Address is Route 2, Westminster for any of you who would like to remember him with a card. He certainly does appreciate them.

Afternoon callers at this same home were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and three children of Germantown and in the evening William Burr and his mother, Mrs. William N. It was quite a busy day.

The ambulance and three of the men of the Union Bridge Rescue Squad visited the Sept. 28th meeting of the Union Bridge Scout Troop 330 and gave a demonstration on first aid to the injured. Uniform inspection was held, and refreshments of cookies and cider were served. Wednesday evening by the ladies of St. James Church for the women of the parish was very nice, indeed, and it is really a "darn shame" that more of the women did not attend. We were greeted at the door with a small corsage and a little program book. After opening devotions and two hymns, a panel discussion was held on "The Lutheran Woman—in the on "The Lutheran Woman—in the Community, Employment, Home and the Church." The panel consisted of the four officers of the LCW on the Synodical level. Mrs. Albert, Fischer, president, said that our "community" is all of the world and we need to be is all of the world and we need to be aware, for our children's sake, of the things going on around us. Mrs. Oren Strine, treasurer, stressed that in "employment" the Christian woman must set a good example by working with willingness, respect, gladness. patience, kindness and doing and giving generously. Mrs. Robert Grochau, secretary, stated that a woman's first place is in the "home": not her only place by any means, but definitely her first place. This is where she is most needed and must be a stabilizing influence for her family. Mrs. G. Paul Lottich, vice president, showed, with the aid of posters, how Christian women are in the "church" and the church is in them. That attendance in church each week strengthens for the week to come by helping us gain knowledge to help others with understanding and love. She also reminded us again to "never underestimate the power of a woman.' A time of fellowship was held with all those present introducing them-selves to each other and then enjoying light refreshments together. What a very nice idea for sharing an evening together and getting to know some of the other women in the

Increase Use of Electricity

The sale of electricity during the first eight months of this year has shown a substantial increase over the same period in 1964, according to the report made yesterday to the Potomac Edison Company's board of directors by President Charles D. Lyon. Kilowatt hour sales for this period have increased nine per cent over last year and total revenues for the period have shown the same percentage gain.

Mr. Lyon told the directors that all classes of customers have partici pated in this improved sales picture. Commercial sales recorded the best gain - up 18 per cent over 1964. Resdential sales were 15 per cent above ast year and industrial sales are up seven per cent over a year ago.

"These eight-month figures reflect the generally good economic condition of the area in which we serve," Mr. Lyon said. "We anticipate that this condition will continue at a high level for the remainder of the year."

He attributed a good portion of sales results to PE's efforts to market electricity for home heating. Con-nections of electrically heated homes for the first eight months were nearly 950, compared with slightly over 600 in 1964.

"Electric heating continues to do well in a highly competitive heating market," Mr. Lyon reported.

The utility company president also reported that PE established new all-time peaks in August — both for one hour and 24 hour periods. A one hour high of 471,000 kw was estabaturday Hall, at 9-29-tf V.F.W., Harney, Md.

Observations on the World of Sports -by John Breth

The Minnesota Twins have clinched their first American League Pennant. Right now we would like to tip our hats in the direction of our nation's capitol. A big thank you to Gil Hodges and all the Washington Senators for the way they swooned before the Twins. Maybe they were just awed by the display of power that the Minnesotians display. No matter with the display of power that the Minnesotians display. No matter with the money is going highly-paid political appointees, are called "heartless" and "cru with "no feeling for the poor."

If we oppose the socialization of the money is going highly-paid political appointees, are called "heartless" and "cru with "no feeling for the poor." nesotians display. No matter what the reason was, they just simply rolled over and played dead before the league leaders. Maybe they figured that they had nothing to gain by even trying to defeat the Twins. Well, that was certainly not true, Aren't they trying to jump a notch in the standings? The teams just be-fore them were in the process of being swept in their respective series. So you say, "So what," so what does it matter if the Senators did manage to beat them, so what? Perhaps the Orioles still couldn't have won the pennant. But wouldn't you rather have seen a closer race in the American league? I personally would have. Maybe the Orioles didn't deserve to get first place. We could argue that point all winter. It's true that the Birds couldn't beat the Twins when they had too, but that's not the point. Why didn't the Senators even try to defeat the first placers? They could have at least tried couldn't they? I hate to see any team do that. Why even last year the sad-sack Mets broke up the pennant race by defeating the front-run-ners. All year the Washingtonians have played havoc with the Orioles and the Twins. But when it counts, what happens? the old fold-up. All we can say is, well it would be un-printable. Thank you Washington Senators, we won't forget this next

The first step already has been taken in preparing for the transfer of the LOS ANGELES ANGELS to An-aheim, California. The club has changed its name to the California Angels.

This was on cue from the Minnesota Twins, who don't really play in Minneapolis or St. Paul, but in Bloom-ington, Minnesota. Only the purists and folks living in Bloomington refer to the American League leaders as the Bloomington Twins just as the people in Anaheim, no doubt, will refer to the Angels as the Anaheim Angels.

The second step in the transfer is rapidly nearing completion. That is the construction of a new stadium for the refugees from Chavez Ravine. It is the newest trend in baseball to have at least one new stadium each year. It does wonders for the attendance figures since new stadiums attract curious sight-seers who wouldn't ordinarily go to a ball game.

From all reports that Anaheim stadium is going to be a sight to see. Not as spectacular as this year's new stadium, the astrodome in Houston, but it will have one advantage over the astrodome. There will be no windows to be painted over.

dows to be painted over.

Rising three tiers into the sunny California sky, the stadium will offer spectators in the top rows an excellent view of the surrounding countryside. That's if play on the field gets boring. Some may even be able to spot the towers of Disney-Land, only five miles from the park. only five miles from the park.

The Angels also are keeping pace On Sunday, Sept. 26, 10:30 A. M., Grace United Church of Christ observed Christian Education and Rally Day with the presentation of white Day with the presentation of white the crosspiece of a 230-ft. letter "A" which dominates not only the sta-dium, but a good part of Orange County. They say the 24-story struc-ture will be visible for miles. The scoreboard will be capable of flashing nearly 1,000 messages, and, it will also make sounds, and issue the Southern California battle-cry of "charge." The planned response to Angels homerun is said to be one of the most spectacular in baseball. . . . flashing lights, noise. . . the works. So American League baseball fans now have another reason for looking forward to the 1966 season.

If we oppose debasement of our coinage and discarding of a silver system that has been in effect for 173 years, we are "narrow minded pawns of the silver lobby." (I haven't yet run across that first silver mine

Using this type strategy, the administration, pouring its radical and far-reaching programs into an ultrafriendly Congress at a record rate, has virtually silenced all organized opposition by painting it as "blind obstructionism."

"Concensus" is the key word in Washington these days. It means that everyone, or about everyone, with the exception of a rebellious few, is "go-

ASC Committee Elections To Be Held Soon

Republican of Indiana

Farmers have recently received a reminder about important elections which will be held in Carroll County on October 1st. The elections are to choose ASC farmer-committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm-action programs. According to Sterling J. Leister, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee; 33 Court Street, Westminster, these ASC Community Committeemen have broad important program responsibilities, which makes it all the more urgent that representative farmers be elected to the job.

Programs administered by the committeemen include the Agricultural Conservation Program, acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the National Wool program, and farm storage facility loans. Other duties are as-signed to the committees by the Secretary of Agriculture as the need

NEW YORK STATE, HYDE PARK AND VANDERBILT MANSION

New York State is an enchanting place, rich in history, natural beauty and folk-lore. As we drove along the Hudson River, across the Tappan Zee Bridge and through the Catskill Mountains, the sense of enchantment grew, for we were now in the storied land of "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." Washington Irving, the author of these well-known classics, lived in nearby Tarrytown and used the charming Catskill setting as the locale for both stories. Quaint names of Dutch origin are prominent in this section, due to the early influx of Dutch settlers.

Hyde Park, along the Albany Post tured as "not responsive to the educational needs of youth."

If we oppose foreign aid, we are accused of "having no sympathy for of former President Franklin D. of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Everything in the house is the starving millions overseas."

of Hyde Park, commented that it was run very much like an English manor house, with huge breakfasts, formal lunches, and late afternoon teas, served by butters. Apparently, life there was far from simple. The grounds are beautifuly kept, with lofty old trees, bright flowers, and apple orchards. The Roosevelts must have been very fond of apples, for apple trees even line the driveway. apple trees even line the driveway. A visit to the quietly serene rose garden, where Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt are laid to rest, completed our stav.

Further along the Albany Post Road is the fabulous Vanderbilt Man-sion. This was the country home of Frederick W. Vanderbilt, a grandson of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who built the family fortune in steamboating and railroads. To step into the mansion is to step into a royal palace, for it is one of the finest ex-amples of Italian Renaissance architecture in the United States. Each room is filled with rare and lovely treasures from all over the world. The library, for example, is decorated with wood carvings that were made by Swiss artists brought to this country for that purpose. The furniture in the drawing room is predominantly French, except for the Italian re-fectory tables and the Chinese lamps. The piano in this room is an American Steinway which was sent to Paris to be decorated with gold leaf and medallions of noted composers. All the marble in the reception hall is Italian. The mantle is from an Italian palace, and the old throne chairs around the walls are also of Italian origin. In short, the Vanderbilt Mansion is unique among the great country houses of America, and has well been called "A Monument to an Era."

Going still farther north, we traveled through endless apple orchards, vineyards and prosperous dairy farms. This section of the state also is a virtual paradise for hunting, fishing, boating, hiking and, in the winter, skiing. A combination of mountains (the rugged Adirondacks) and a beautiful lake (Lake George) make

A distinctive roof line is featured on two new Thunderbird models for 1966, the Town Landau, top, and the Town Hardtop. Both cars offer an elegant "town car" look as contrasted with convertibles and the traditional and more sporty Thunderbird roof line continued on 1966 Thunderbird hardtops. New sportiness is reflected in the styling of all 1966 Thunderbirds and in availability of an optional 428-cubic-inch performance engine. Other new options include a Stereosonic tape player integrated into the radio in the center console, and fingertip automatic Highway Pilot speed control integrated into the steering wheel. An overhead console containing door-ajar warning light, fasten-seat-belt warning light, emergency flashers and low-fuel warning light is standard on all "Town" models. All 1966 Thunderbirds will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

There are two ways to get into the rear of every 1966 Ford station wagon — over the tailgate or through the door. Ford's latest station wagon innovation is a dual-action tailgate. Open it with the center latch, left, and it's a tailgate. Open it with the center latch, left, and it's a tailgate. Open it with the handle, right, and it's a door. Illustrated on the 1966 Ford Country Squire Wagon, top, the new feature is standard on all Ford and Fairlane station wagons and is optional on Falcon wagons. The door feature permits easy passenger entry and provides ready access to a lockable storage compartment, while the tailgate is available for hauling or loading cargo. Earlier innovations which pushed Ford to station wagon sales leadership in 1965 — dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflectors — are retained for 1966. # Man for the Time

Lesson for October 3, 1965

Background Scripture: Genesis 30:24; Devotional Reading: Proverbs 4:10-18.

He was a man long associated with big government. His friends were among the aristocracy of the world's greatest empire of the time. He lived centuries ago, and yet he is so mod-any executive position you care to name. He lived in a time and place when people easily believed in miracles, yet no miracles were ever attached to his

Dr. Foreman name or story. His name was Joseph, and if he had not lived and done what he did, the history of the world would have been quite different. What became of the welter of half barbaric little tribes that swarmed along the Mediterranean Sea in those times? Gone with the wind; and the little family of sheepherders headed by Jacob would have vanished too if it had not been for Joseph. No Joseph, no Moses. No Moses, no Jesus. No Jesus . . . !

Turning points

We can pick out three crises in the life of Joseph after he found himself in Egypt, though we know of others and can guess at still more. One was the time when the wife of his master (for Joseph was a slave, though in a very important position), begged him: "Lie with me!" Joseph said No, and she took her revenge by accusing him of attempted rape, a capital crime then and in many places still. Notable is Joseph's reply to Poti-phar's wife: "How can I do this and sin against God?" Joseph knew (where had he learned it?) that sin is not only against others and against one's own true self, but most deeply against God. Living by this assurance, Joseph took the right turning even though the wrong road looked

incident in prison

Potiphar, Joseph's master, evidently did not believe his wife, or he would have killed his slave outright. Instead, he put Joseph into a prison used mostly for political prisoners. Here Joseph rose to the top. The warden took an extended holiday and Joseph was virtually warden himself. The story is too long to tell again here. But the next turning point in the young man's life came with a message from the palace. It is interesting to see what Joseph did when the messenger came. The story says simply: "and he shaved . . ." He did not debate whether he should go. Joseph's praying was done. He had known for two years what he would do if and when he got this chance. So when the moment came, without warning, he just shaved, and went.

He could read men

A third turning point came at a time when he must have been weighing in his mind whether or not to invite all the Jacob-clan down to Egypt. Yes, they were his brothers . . . but no, what brothers?! They had sold him sold rather than killed him only because they stood to make a little money on the deal, while murder would not get them anything. Now they stood before him in his own great house, not suspecting for a moment that he was anything but an Egyptian official of high rank. He had just threatened to keep as a slave their brother Benjamin, and Judah, who once had taken the lead in selling Joseph, now made a plea for Benjamin that brought Joseph to uncontrollable tears. Was Judah sincere? He had been a liar, once. Was he lying now? Joseph could read men; he read Judah, and knew that this was a changed man. It was after this that Joseph gave his invitation to the whole clan to come live in Egypt. It was one of the turning points of history — and it hinged on a man's belief in a brother's sincerity.

Dramatic styling — including a new 2-door hardtop roof line — is shown in these photos of the Ford Galaxie 500 2-door hardtop, top, and the Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre 2-door hardtop, bottom. The "7 Litre" is an entirely new series available in 2-door hardtop and convertible models. It features a new 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes as standard equipment. Both the disc brakes and the new 428-cubic-inch engine are optional on all other Fords. Other features include unique 7 Litre identification, distinctively styled steel wheelcovers, and special "dual accent paint stripes." All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

The third series of changes since it was introduced as a 1965 model 17 months ago mark the debut of the Mustang as a 1966. New styling touches — shown on the hardtop model above — include a new grille, simulated magnesium wheel covers and side ornamentation. A five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features also are standard for all 1966 Mustangs. New Mustang options include a Stereosonic tape player — shown below — that provides up to 80 minutes of true stereo music or the equivalent of two long-playing records. The tape player is incorporated into the car radio which may be used at any time for news or information simply by removing the cartridge. With three Mustang options introduced in April, the 1966 Mustang represents the second enhancement of the Mustang in five months.
