Over 40 boys between the ages of 8 and 13 turned out on October 9th to make the Punt, Pass & Kick contest

Enthusiasm and hopes were high as each contestant knew that the farther and straighter he would Punt Pass & Kick the football the better his chances of winning one of the 18 prizes that were being given to the local winners — or maybe he would win a trip to a National League football game for his parents and himself — or maybe, just maybe, he would become the National winner.

HOW TO GET BLED WHITE

Food, shelter and clothing are the MENTING MEN basic necessities of life. They represent a major part of the total spending of the American people.

But a still larger part of the national spending goes for very different purposes. This is spending by government.

During 1965, the First National Bank of Boston reports that spending by local, state and federal governments will come to $203 billion. The outlays for food, clothing and shelter, on the other hand, will be $183 billion—or $20 billion less. Fifteen years ago, the Bank adds, the reverse was true.

All that government spending must eventually come out of our pocketsor, if collection is deferred through borrowings, the pockets of our children.

Much of the enormous increase in government spending can be attributed to efforts to create a welfare state at any and all costs. If that kind of acting and thinking prevails, we'll be bled white.

"GRASSROOTS OPINIONS"

LANCASTER, S.C., NEWS: "Printing plants can borrow from the government but newspapers are barred because the Federal government does not want to be in the position of taking possession of a newspaper in the event the loan is not paid. That sounded like good Constitutional reasoning until we got a report from Michigan this week that $188,000 in Federal funds has been allocated to establish a weekly newspaper in Willow Run, Mich. The new paper, whick will compete with four others in the area, proclaims that its purpose is to provide 'honest and true reporting' on matters the government feels are of interest. A sort of TVA yardstick to measure the press?"

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, MINN., JOURNAL: "The coming of medicare will cost men and women workers $5 billion a year next year, with more later as the rates rise. Someone has discovered that this sum is just $300 million more than the $4.7 billion cut recently ordered in federal excise taxes. Enjoy the tax cut while you can. It will be all eaten up the first 1 of next year, when the medical care levy takes effect. Washington gives and Washington takes away."

TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: "One more good word is losing its reputation through misuse: 'protest.' Of late many perpetrators of disorderly conduct and even crime have excused themselves as making 'protests' against some policy they disliked. . . . Such an attitude is far off base, however. Protests have an honorable history, and have helped to abolish many tyrannies. The word is too good a one to be soiled by irresponsible lawlessness."

TEMPE, ARIZ., NEWS: "From now on, draft age men between 19 and 26 who get married may find the bell is tolling for THEM. . . . Married men with children will still be exempt. And the college student, also. Which boils down to the fact that if you were quick enough to utter the phrase 'I do,' and bright enough to carry a 'C' average in some state normal college, you, too, will never know the joy of carrying a rifle or pulling KP. Or, heaven forbid, getting shot at by real bullets in a place called Viet Nam."

HEALDSBURG, CALIF., TRI-BUNE: "In driving through the states of Oregon and Washington, this writer was bugged by a 'missing ingredient.' What is there about REINDOLLAR HARDWARE these routes that makes for such enjoyable driving? It took a bit of mental gymnastics. It was one of those things that you don't appreciate until you become aware that it has been eliminated. In this case, the beauty of the roads existed because of the lack of billboard signs."

GARNETT, KAN., REVIEW: "Because of their ever-increasing voter strength, labor unions command a much greater voice in government year after year. Any proposal they make, regardless of its effects on employers, is given consideration and usually passed. Antitrust laws have been ruled, in most cases, as not applying to them. Even the union leaders themselves are beginning to realize that some of their demands are becoming excessive. Unless Congress wakes up and recognizes that both sides of a labor issue need protection, the economic future of our country may be in danger."

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "Farm failures were the prime motive behind the dismissal of former Premier Khrushchev; continued food shortages could cause another shakeup in the Soviet hierarchy. But of more immediate importance is the historically proven fact that while the Soviets are going through one of their periodic food crises, they generally behave themselves in world affairs lest they disrupt imports."

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Back in the groove again after a three-day trip to Virginia. A number of folks commented to me about the shortness of last week's items and that is the reason for it. My husband and I, along with my sister Carol Wolfgang and friend Bill Burr of Washington, drove down to Danville, Va., on Sunday (17th) and toured the Dan River Mills on Monday morning. It was really a most fascinating and worthwhile tour and we enjoyed it so very much. In the afternoon we tour-ed the American Tobacco Plant, where Lucky Strikes are made, in Reidsville, N.C. Tuesday we came home via the Skyline Drive after lunch with friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Ponton and son John Robert, in Charlottesville. All-in-all a most enjoyable trip and one we had been talking about for over a year. Sort of an anniversary "treat" to us for fourteen years of

Mrs. Raymond Albaugh near Detour (whose address is Route 1 and zip code 21725), who recently suffered a heart attack, is still very much a shut-in and appreciates cards, so next time you got some and precide the cards, we have time you get some cards ready, why not remember her with one also. cent visitors with her have been Mrs. Matrona Keefer, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Grayson, Boone, Janet and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Grossnickle, Le-Roy Coshun, Miss Lois Dougherty, Mrs. Nettie Stone, Jess Smith, Jr., Ron-Karl Smith, Sr., Karl Smith, Jr., Ron-Jerry Jimmie, Ricky, mie, Larry, Jerry, Jimmie, Rick Randy, Jeffery and Joann Denise.

The paper drive by the Union Bridge Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will be on Saturday, November 6, starting about 8 A. M. If you live within the town limits, just put your things on your front porch or walk for pickup, but otherwise, please call one of the above numbers for separate pickup before the 6th. Tied bunhelp to make the drive faster and easier for the boys. And thanks, so much. The troop entered a float in the Union Bridge Hallowe'en parade on Tuesday evening and marched behind in a group. They tied for first place with the 4-H float. Many thanks to Charles Trout and son Bob for their help in the project. Speaking of Boy Scouts, 12 members and their scoutmasters of Troop 330 had an overnight hike and camp Saturday and Sunday on part of the Appalachian Trail in Pennsylvania. On Friday evening (22nd) the mem-

-Dharlys Fleharty Homemakers Club Meeting

The topic "Fiber and Fabric Fantasy" was presented to the members the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club by the clothing leaders, Mrs. John Blanchfield, Sr., and Mrs. Andrew Baughman, at the meeting on October 20 at the home of Mrs. Mark Sanders with Mrs. Baughman as co-

A fiber is the smallest part of a textile fabric, Mrs. Blanchfield said, and a fiber should be strong, flexible, elastic, absorbent, inexpensive and cleanable by some method. No one fiber possesses all these qualities. There are two classes of fibers: natural and man-made or manufactured, and Mrs. Blanchfield and Mrs. Baughman told of the many different kinds available in both classes and some of their characteristics.

of Women" and talked of the many roles women play today in both family and community life. Interesting statistics: a woman's life expectancy in 1900 was 48; in 1965 it is 74. Nine out of ten women marry and eight out of ten work sometime during their lives. In Maryland, 36 per cent of the women work.

There were twenty-three members present and one guest, Mrs. John Dupel of Taneytown. Dates to remember are Nov. 4 for the joint meetng at the Methodist Church in New Windsor and the Christmas Workshop windsor and the Christmas works top in the basement of Keysville Lutheran Church on Nov. 17. THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports -by John Breth

There should be plenty of action the Cincinnatti Reds and the New

Wes Weestrum probably has the nside track for the Met post, chiefbecause he did a fairly good job when he replaced Casey Stengel when the veteran pilot fractured his hip. Dick Sisler was given the boot very quickly as soon as the Reds fin-ished their campaign. It is believed that Don Heffner—a coach with the Mets— may inherit the job. There also are many other changes in the works. Of course, the biggest one will be the official transfer of the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta. Despite a flock of court harrassments, the Braves will soon be out of Milwaukee and headed for Atlanta where a new ball park awaits them. There should be plenty of deals in in the weeks to come.

There are quite a few names being brunted around at world series headquarters-names like Roger Maris, Al Downing, Jim Bouton, Frank Robinson, Jack Fisher, Al Jackson, Billy Williams, Dick Ellsworth and Roberto Clemente.

Names are thrown about quite often when general managers are looking for new faces.

But it is seldom the names of the ones concerned are discussed openly. Generally, it involves a player who is greatly surprised that he was the traded one. And not the one whose name has been in the spotlight. So fans can look for quite a few surprises in the weeks to come.

Most of the world famous track men who have gone into pro football have gone out with the same kind of speed that they entered with. The reason being that you need more than boys this year and he also seems to have brought a couple of other things. One being football savvy. And the other being a burning ambition to score touchdowns.

When you add those last two things to the kind of early foot that enabled Hayes to run 100 yards in nine and one-tenth seconds as the world's fastest human, you have a potential star. Bullet Bob certainly has been covered with star dust in his first two games, scoring three touchdowns. He out of town. flew down the sidelines for one score against the New York Giants in the opening game of the season and made two more against Washington.

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys thought enough of Hayes when he signed him to trade off no less a speedball and pass catcher than Tommy McDonald. Nobody misses Tomgames of the season

Landry says: "If Hayes keeps coming up with those big plays, he'll fulfill my hopes. And he'll be Rookie-of-the-year in the National League. That young fellow can use speed to the best advantage of any player I ever cilities in Carroll County and the terms of the present time toward the establishment of community college factorial county and the terms of the present time toward the stablishment of community college factorial county and the present time to a report made by John F. best advantage of any player I ever cilities in Carroll County and the tar-

He already is labeled so dangerous as a pass receiver that the officials of the existing community other teams will almost certainly have colleges. Mr. Wooden explained to the to put two men on him. That may slow him a little, but it will very likely open the field for one of the other Dallas receivers.

ZONING ORDINANCE EXPLAINED

Being A Fool Lesson for October 31, 1965

Background Scripture: Judges 13:2

Devotional Reading: Psalm 1. How to be a fool in six Easy

Lessons. This might well be the title for the story of the life and adventures of Samson. In rough times, he was more than a match for the roughest men. An angel had foretold his birth, had intended him for a deliverer of Israel. Israel needed delivering; their hostile neighbors the Philistines were Dr. Foreman a year-round menace. The Israelites could never be free unless they could solve the Philistine problem. Samson was to be the man; but instead, he turned out to be what a modern writer calls a "negative religious hero," the opposite at every point of what God's chosen leader ought to be. Born to be a hero, he ended by being a stunt-man, a clown.

One for one

A trio of adventures (creatures of their author) lived by the motto, All for One and One for All. If Samson had had a motto it might have been One for One. He never worked with a team, he was strictly Samson for Samson. He killed Philistines by the thousands, but always for personal revenge. He could kill a lion with his bare hands, ("He was a young lion and didn't know who he was roaring at"), he could kill a small regiment of Philistines all by himself, he could pick up a city gate at midnight and walk with it forty miles uphill before sunrise. His strength was fabulous. To this day if a manufacturer wants to name a product with a name suggesting strength, he is likely to give Samson's name to it. But none of these exploits delivered the Israelites. Even though in his spectacular death he killed two thousand of his enemies, Israel was still years and years from freedom. Revenge Samson knew. Showing off his strength was his great pleasure but it was always a loner who was in action. He never built up a following. He did not have the organizing gifts of David or even of Saul. He was without the patriotism that helped to make Samuel great. It was always Samson for Samson.

Destiny to dustpan

If you could imagine a person who owns a beautiful, perhaps unique crystal vase, koocking off that vase on purpose or out of sheer stupidity and not bothering to look at it, asking some one to sweep it up. "Into the dustpan with it!", - that would be utterly foolish but very much like Samson, and too much like ourselves to be funny. He was born to a high destiny, a Deliverer in the line of Moses and Joseph and Joshua; and he ended a blind slave, by his own fault. It wasn't that he tried valiently to achieve his destiny and found the way too rough. He never tried. Even in his crashing last moments, when Philistines were carried down screaming under the rubble, he thought of what he was doing not as a victory for Israel, but strictly as vengeance for his lost eyesight

They never learn

One of Samson's ailments was that he could not learn from experience. Delilah wormed out of him his fateful secret, with the tearful plaint, "You don't love me any more . . . if you did, you wouldn't keep a secret from me." If the big clown had had any sense, he would have thought, Where have I heard that before? This was not the first time that tune had been played. But no, a man like Samson never learns until too late . . . Well, there you are. How to become a fool, in six easy lessons. But why did we say six? These three are enough. Live for yourself alone; throw into the dustpan your best possibilities and live like the animals for pleasure alone; and never learn from anything that happens to you. Listen to what you want and not what God wants - and you can become a fool without even trying.

year's Hallowen hand-medowns hore's a solution downs, here's a solution that promises lively entertainment for partygoers of all ages. Really extraordinary costumes can be built around super strength aluminum foil head masks made by molding over an inflated balloon. When completed, these clever disguises slip over the head and rest on the shoulders.

If the children choose to trick or treat at night, you can feel at ease about their safety since aluminum foil reflects the gleam from street lights and car headlights.

Making masks is great fun — and so easy that the children can do their own. Plan to get your Halloween costumes out of the way early this year by setting aside the next rainy day as Mask Making

Day.

To create the mask above, all you need is a large balloon, a single roll of Alcoa Wrap aluminum foil and a few simple props. The balloons sell for 10¢ in most 5 & 10¢ stores.

Blow up the balloon to provide the needed size of mask. For medium and small children, this should be 10 to 12 inches in dianceter. Place the inflated balloon neck up at the center of a stack of three-foot-long sheets of Alcoa Wrap aluminum foil. Have at of three-foot-long sheets of Alcoa Wrap aluminum foil. Have at least 10 or 12 foil sheets.

Bring the first sheet up on either side of the balloon, turn the balloon and bring up the next sheet. (Foil should always overlap for easier hold, crush loosely.)
 Continue turning until balloon is completely covered.
 Crush two sheets of foil — one into shape of nose and the other to add to the top of the head to make it pointed. Fasten them into position with cellophane tape.
 Then mold next sheet of foil over nose and rest of head to hold them in place. Now use rest of foil sheets. Tuck in edges at tip to form and secure opening. Be sure to leave it large enough to get your head through. Then let

PUMPKIN HEAD PARADE BY DICK MANSFIELD

"Little Feet Can Lead To Big Trouble!" This warning from the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission is given to parents to remind them of the many dangers that beset children on the streets and highways at Halloween. Halloween is an exceptional Night Traffic Hazard-there are many more children on the streets and groups of little folks will be out to "Trick or Treat." But the excitement of the occasion, the costumes they will be wearing, and their complete concentration on their celebration are all factors that can reduce their safety. Youngsters have a tendency to forget about traffic dangers and this is especially true when they are wearing masks and dark costumes. Safety rules practiced at other times go by the board. Therefore, parents should be certain that the Halloween costume is light in color and that masks are not worn on the street-That all Trick and Treating is done in the daytime-And Youngsters should be entertained Drivers are urged to be on the alert for young masqueraders roaming the streets, both in the daytime and at night. PLEASE BE ESPECIALLY CARE-FUL for Children on this Hallowed Eve-WATCH FOR THEM! THINK FOR THEM! PROTECT THEM!

A Trip to Niagara Falls

Mrs. Thelma C. Yingling and daughter, Donna and Mr. and Mrs. George Shriver of Harney, Md., recently took a trip to Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada. Leaving Harney at 3:45 P. M., Friday, October 8th and driving as far North as Mansfield Pathat day and staying at the Rikipi

We then took a sightseeing tour of Proposet Paint and the famous "Goots"

We could see the "Maid of the Mist" a pleasure boat taking visitors with their bright yellow raincoats and caps and then went beneath the falls and back to the Canadian side.

By the time we finished our tour of Prospect Point and Goat Island which was named because one Winter was so severe that the goat was the only animal to survive the New York's frigid climate.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

DUTY OF A DOCTOR

Imagine what would happen if a doctor, awakened by urgent knocking at the front door of his home at midnight, refused to give medical aid to an auto accident victim who later bled to death on his doorstep.

In such a very unlikely event the cries of indignation would ring out mightily. The doctor's indifference would outrage both the ethics of med-icine and the morals of religion.

Yet, the doctor would not be acting unlawfully. For a doctor has no legal duty to "take all comers." Unless he has some special, pre-exist-ing relationship with an individual patient, he has the right to turn him down. For various reasons, part historical, part practical, our law does not ordinarily require a doctor (or anyone else, either) to lend a helping hand to the stranger in distress.

But once a doctor does take over, his legal position changes. From then on, he owes the patient an affirmative duty to be diligent.

Consider this case:

Consider this case: A physician applied a cast to the fractured arm of an elderly woman patient, who immediately complained that the cast was too tight. Despite did not split the cast. He then left the country for a two-week vacation trip without arranging for another physician to care for the patient. As result, she suffered partial parralysis of her arm.

For the physician's negligence and abandonment of the patient, a court later held him liable for damages. On the other hand, even after a doctor takes a case, his duty to be attentive has reasonable, common-

The court decided that, in these circumstances, the doctor had properly fulfilled whatever duty he owed. As one judge commented: "After all, doctors are human."
