Post Office Advice for Christmas Mailings

Postal patrons are again advised that gift parcels for distant states should be mailed no later than Dec. 5 to assure delivery prior to Christmas, and those for nearby areas not later than Dec. 15.

Parcels must be well packed and adequately prepared for mailing. Strong cartons, heavy twine and wrapping materials are emphasized. Parcels appearing to be inadequately packed will not be insured against. packed will not be insured against loss or damage.

Address your parcels clearly and legibly on one side only. Return addresses and ZIP Codes should be included. It is permissible to write the name and address of addressee on a slip of paper and put it inside the a slip of paper and put it inside the parcel, thus, should the wrapping material become damaged or separated from the inner carton, the par-cel could still be delivered.

Greeting cards should be mailed not later than Dec. 15. Unsealed cards with no writing enclosed may be mailed at the 4¢ rate. Sealed cards and those containing writing inside require the first class rate of postage of 5e.

It is essential that all mail be accurately addressed. Failure to observe this rule results in delay or nondelivery of thousands of pieces of Christmas mail each year. Make certain the correct street number is shown, also the city, state and ZIP Code if known. First class mail bearing a return address which becomes undeliverable will be returned to the sender at no additional postage.

Patrons are urged to deposit their mailings as early as possible during the day during the holiday season in order to avoid the 5:00 o'clock rush. The final dispatch of mail leaves Taneytown at 5:45 P. M. each day. Mail deposited too late in the day to be processed for this 5:45 dispatch will be sent out the following morning.

Patrol Contest Winners Final results have been tallied for the annual inter-patrol contest, and winners at 233 points were the Eagles headed by Hahn and Harold Wantz as patrol leader and assistant. For second place there was a 215-point tie between the Foxes (Robert Eckert and Tracey, leaders) and Raccoons (Douglas Dayhoff and Fleagle, leaders). In past years the prize has been a trip to an ice hockey game at Hershey or Baltimore, free for the first-place group, at one-half the cost for the runners-up.

Program and Membership For Wednesday, Dec. 1, the evening's theme was under the charge of Assistant Patrol Leader Tracey, and games the province of Assistant test, having been reviewed by members of the Green-Bar leaders' council a month ago, and, on coming of age Dec. 1, was admitted to the Eagle patrol. Another Troop Board of Review will be required shortly for Scotts aspiring to Second class, First calss, and higher ranks.

Paper Collection Scouts able to help with the scrap drive Saturday are requested to report promptly by 7:45 A. M. In the event of wet or snowy weather, a new collection day will be chosen and announced.

ADDITIONAL OFFICE HOURS FOR MEDICARE APPLICANTS

In an effort to reach all persons age 65 or over who are eligible for Medicare protection, the Social Security District Offices wil be open on the first three Saturdays of Decem per until noon, according to R. W. Hughes, District Manager.

SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Christmas is just about everywhere in the stores and each year they ap-pear more beautiful both on the exterior and interior! It is a wonderful sight just to walk around especially in the evenings after dark. Baltimore is going all out bigger than ever so don't miss it!

It always brings back the time when the boys were little and I used to take them to see Santa Claus in the stores and—oh—what those boys told Santa Claus! One evening, I got in the line of the youngsters and I said out loud so as everyone should hear and you and you should have seen the eyes and the expression on the faces of the children as well as the adults standing there for when it came to my turn I said in a childish voice, adding much plea, "I have been a good girl, Santa!" I think Santa was just as surprised!

Don't be surprised when you see someone holding a leash for you may be looking at a HORSE instead of a dog for there is a farmer who is raising these miniature horses and selling them for as much as $500.00 for act. them for as much as $500.00 for pets! Cute? And they are permitted right in your living room and even taken for a drive in the car! Remember, folks, when I wanted a horse and I waited and waited and finally my dinjeter returned to the heavy my Minister returned to the house and called up to me and said, "Well, here is the surprise that I wanted to bring you for the last two years!"

I quickly looked over to the barn and around the place from the second story window but there was no horse and when I ran down stairs—guess what? There was a horse all right, but a small ornamental one! Then he explained that we could not afford a horse as the food he would eat would mean at the least $35.00 a month! Nothing more in my life have

I wanted as much as a horse!

The other day, I was talking to a friend over the phone and she said. "Oh, two inspectors just came in!"

I recalled immediately that the law tells women not to permit anyone in the house or apartment so I quickly stated, "I'll hold on!" They went down the cellar and came up immediately and said, "I'll give you five dollars if you can tell us where the Street Fire Call Box is!" She could not give the exact location so she did not get the five dollars! I am won-not get the five dollars! I am wondering if they really were from the fire department?

At the recent lovely wedding I attended with the dinner served at "The Candlelight Inn" out in Catonsville, the music was delightful and yet it was only a two-piece affair but they were in the "know how"! A beautiful large accordion and a cello or a ful large accordion and a cello or a base violin as some are called. They walked around to the tables and played favorites. They were the "Buzz Walters" affiliated with Morgan Baer Orchestras.

And thinking of music, there is something about the "Big Bands" on T.V. on Channel 13 at the hour of 10:30 P. M. on Saturday nights. Last week it was Sammy Kaye and it was delightful although it lasted only one-half hour.

half hour.

Did you know that the only way a policeman can call an ambulance is if the individual is laying on the floor and not sitting in a chair!

Dec. 3 is the date for the Debutantes to Meet Society at the Lyric and somehow it always brings back the young man who stands "right" there as they enter the building. He has always admired beautiful women and Baltimore has always had them!

That slogan as to the department stores in town, "A gift from Hutzler's means more!" Recently, I had a hand had from Findlend required as a hand bag from England repaired as to the strap to be securely fastened and never have I seen anything to compare as to the workmanship! They fastened two beautiful catches to match the center lock or clasp and it made it much more attractive as it is an alligator affair. Our President of these United States is truly a "Homey" man for he surely has shown that he loves being on the Ranch in Texas rather than the White House in Washington!

And thinking about Presidents, hope you did not miss on the 22nd of Nov. the "SPECIAL" of one-hour on "The Biography of John F. Kennedy" on T.V. at 10 P. M. I do not think it all should be reviewed as it surely has opened up the wound!
Will be seeing you next week, D.V.

Have a grand week-end and do hope that you will be thanking God each day for many of your blessings! I am, Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

SIKESTON. MO., STANDARD: The role of the free newspaper is misrepresented perennially by politicians who lose elections. Often the distorted picture is deliberate, because experienced public officials know better. They know that the press attempts to be as fair as possible in its news columns. But a publie which does not always understand the various functions of its newspaper my be misled by half-truths. Traditionally, the free editor reserves the right to express his own opinion in editorials. The 'stand' of the newspaper is judged by editorial expression. Yet, in news sections, and in letters to the editor, more space is often given to an opposing view-

AUBURNDALE, FLA., STAR: "Throughout the country there are undoubtedly many people who have mixed feelings about the advisability of our being in Viet Nam, and everyone is entitled to his own opinion in this regard. But to advocate the burning of draft cards and feigning mental sickness and even homosexuality in an attempt to evade the draft is downright repulsive and dangerous to the morale of our fight-

ROCKVILLE, MD., MONITOR: "If Section 14-b is repealed, think this one over: In the 19 States now having so-called 'right to work' laws, some 250,000 workers presently working in shops where union contracts exist but who are not union members will be forced to join up in order to keep their jobs.'

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Do hope each and every one of you had a pleasant Thanksgiving. Do have news of a few family get-togethers for the big occasion

Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ritter and family in Littlestown. Their daughter Mary and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Hurley, are now on their way to Germany with the Army and another daughter, Martha, is in Switzerland. Mrs. William E. Ritter of the Brookfield Nursing Home was able to be with her family for the corresion too. Other family members occasion, too. Other family members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritter and family of Littlestown and the Japanese exchange student, Yoko, who is now living with them; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide of Keysville, Mr. Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide of Keysville, Mr. and Mrs. John Harner, Steven and Brenda of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilhdie, Douglas and Debbie of Indiana, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baile and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baile and children of New Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baile of New Jersey and Mrs. Nowton Schorer and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Newton Scharrer and guest, also of Littlestown. Union and Mrs. Lucille Pheabus, Sharon and Allen of Middleburg for the occasion. Another visitor, who was also an overnight guest, was Terry Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds near Rockville. (Her family were spending the holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnick of Union Bridge.)

ryn Fleharty of Washington, D.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brudin, Michael and Steven of Silver Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wolfgang and Stephan Henshaw of Ginter, Pa. Mrs. Ralph Fleharty returned with the Brudins to Silver Spring for a visit of about ten days.

Other visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of River Dale Farm near Keysville were Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser of the Keysville Road on Story of Christmas," and be presented by grades 5 through 8. Friday evening, Mrs. Charles Harner of Emmitsburg and her grandson, Harry Harner of the University of Maryland on Saturday and Miss Geraldine Boller of Thurmont on Sunday evening.
Miss Nancy Stine, who is studying

Dental Hygiene at the West Liberty State College in West Virginia, va-cationed at home with her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stine

John Harner of Taneytown, was a week-end visitor with her grandparand Mrs. Theodore Ridinger, Rich-Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide near Keysville.

Glad to report that Mrs. Gertrude Warner of Detour is somewhat improved. This is another lady who enjoys cards. Tuesday visitors with Mrs. William Weishaar near Detour were her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Kauffman and her friend, Mrs. Louise Lavere (not sure of this spelling) of Baltimore as well as Mrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour. On Sunday she and son Randy were visited by her children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar Visitors du and Loretta of Taneytown, Mr. and and Mrs. Ho ilies, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar Visitors during the week with Ir. and Loretta of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kump and Mrs. Paul Wildisan, Kevin and Kim of Westminster and Mr. and Mrs. Alice Koon.z, of Westminster and Mrs. and Mrs. of Westminster and Mr. and Mrs. daughter Nancy, Littlestown, Penna.; James Weishaar, Bobby and Billy of and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Koontz rmy, Paul, Mariann and Johnny of Clear Spring at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keifer Reynolds and Ramonda, Mrs. Roy Seibert of Clear Spring, on Sunday Cramer, Littlestown, Pa.; Miss Minfor a family dinner to celebrate the for a family dinner to celebrate the three November birthdays in the family: Daniel and sons Jimmy and Johnny. Wheeler Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Grimes of Union Bridge and formerly of Detour, is now a patient at Kernan Hospital where he has had operations on both of his legs. It is hoped that when all is healed and well again that he will be able to learn to walk. Wheeler enjoys cards so here is his address: Kernan Hospital, Room 211, Windsor Mill Road, Baltimore, Md. 21207.

Sunday supper guests with Mr. and and Mrs. Carroll Hively, Jackie and 19, at 2:00 P. M. at the parish hall.

Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Jane and Beth were Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide, Denise and Renee; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, sons Neal and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engel and Doug all of the Keysville Road and Miss Gladys Ault of Accident, Md., who is visiting with the Clyde Wilhide family for a few days. They all joined in wishing Happy Birthday to Joyce (Mrs. Myron).

Speaking of birthdays, best wishes to Richard Wilhide on Dec. 5, Stephen Feeser on the 6th and Sterling Fritz on the 8th.

Some comments: the Glass farm on Some comments: the Glass farm on the Keysville Road near the Clyde Wilhide property has been sold. There is also a sold sign on the first house on the left from the square in Keysville towards the Monocacy River. Those new mercury lights on the parking lot at the Westminster Senjar High School surely are "mighty" parking lot at the Westminster Senad a pleasant Thanksgiving. Do ave news of a few family get-toethers for the big occasion:

The Ritter family held their annual chanksgiving dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Riter and family in Littlestown. Their aughter Mary and husband. Mr. and hold their Christmas party at the next regular meeting, Dec. 10, with Roxanne DePew as hostess, using the Club House at Bowling Brook again. Three items about the Keysville Lutheran Church Women: don't forget the food stand at the Ritter sale in Taneytown on Saturday morning, Dec. 3; it starts at 11 A. M. Also, the White Gift Service on Monday, Dec. 6. Bring your gift for the Rocky Boy Indian Mission wrapped in white tissue paper; and don't forget your cookies. And—Mrs. Oren Strine did her usual excellent job on Sunday morning when she served as guest speaker for the special Thanksgiving Service with William Fleharty as Liturgist. Eddie Null of Taneytown, as guest soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Strine, who is Maryland Synodical Treasurer for LCW and lives in Walkersville, spoke about being thankful. She went on to tell several stories for examples of how we are usually thankful but do not always remember to let it be known. However, there are times we are not of Music in Winchester, Va., and Mr. Heaps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Heaps of Street, Md., with their grandson, Jerry Heaps of Collegeter than the greatest intentions." ter than the greatest intentions."

(And doesn't this hit all of us?) We should be grateful for all we have and be willing to give of our time, talents and treasures to help show it. -Dharlys Fleharty

PTA Executive Committee Meeting

There were two reports about the planned Community College for Car-roll County given at the Elmer A. Wolfe PTA Executive Committee meeting held Nov. 22 at the school.

Principal Gilbert Perron stressed the necessity of writing to the County Commissioners about how each one feels on the subject: either for or against. A motion was approved to against. A motion was approved to send a letter from this committee. Mrs. William Fleharty reported on the talk made by Dr. Charles Eckard at the Carroll County Council PTA meeting on the 16th, giving some of the details about the project and also telling of the necessity of letters to

Observations on the World of Sports -by John Breth

It's obvious from what happened over the week-end that PRO FOOT-BALL provides its best showing on the gridiron, not in the conference rooms or back-rooms. Sunday's ac-tivity on the football fields around the two leagues left much better im-pression than what went on in the college player drafts conducted by the

The actual drafting and naming of the players seemed incidental, and a bore. The National Football League session dragged through Saturday night and into Sunday afternoon. The American Football League wound up in the pre-dawn hours Sunday. Both

But, throughout the proceedings there was a feeling that much more was taking place outside the huge rooms where the drafting was going on. There were reports of players being chaperoned and cajoled by pro scouts wherever they went, and stories of others being hidden away in lavish hotel rooms where the opposition could not get at them.

At one point, three Illinois football players appeared at American Foot-League draft headquarters and said they had been flown into New York by the National Football League, which was picking up the tab for their week-end in the Big City. The NFL said the players had been brought to New York merely to see the Giants' game with the Chicago Bears. But, newsmen wondered what would happen to the poor fellow whom the league had assigned to watch the three Illini players.

The New York Jets of the American street watch the three street watch the three street watch the three street watch the street wat ican Football League had some uneasy moments when the player they had hoped to make their number one choice, Michigan tackle Bill Yearby, seemed to have dropped from sight. They were sure a National League club had him hidden away somewhere. club had him hidden away somewhere. A representative of the Jets scoured Detroit, Yearby's home town, looking for him. But, to no avail. When Yearby did show up in New York, he was accompanied by an NFL man. However, the Michigan tackle went straight to the Jet office, where his straight to the Je lawyer already was at work negotiating on a contract. As it turned out, the Jets drafted Yearby and, signed him almost at the same time, then heaved a huge sigh of relief. The Jets management, like many others in both leagues, must be wondering if there is some better way of avoiding this annual madness.

Extra weight around the middle is not supposed to help a ball player

Dave McNally

but it apparently worked wonders for DAVE McNALLY, Baltimore Oriole

Halfway through the 1965 season McNally stopped smoking and immediately started to gain weight. He had been having a mediocre season but almost overnight it turned into a good season. His weight went up and so did his won and lost record. On July fourth Dave weighed 188 pounds and had three victories and four losses. That's when he stopped smoking. He began to put on weight at the worst possible place, the waist line. He went up to 202 pounds. His won and lost record at the end of the season was record at the end of the season was eleven and six, which means that he won eight of his last ten decisions.

How to explain all this?
Well, even McNally is puzzled. He says: "All I know is that the more I gained weight the better I pitched.
When I'm hanny I don't feel as good. When I'm heavy I don't feel as good as when I'm lighter but I pitch better. Maybe it's because I'm stronger and don't know it."

McNally does remember that in his best year in the minor leagues, with Elmira in 1962, he won 15 and lost eleven and weighed 205 pounds, the heaviest ever for him.

Dave did a double take the other day when he received a letter from the Baltimore front office instructing him to report to spring training weighing 190 pounds. That is only two pounds more than he weighed last July when he had a three and four record.

He says: "I will do what they want but if I don't get off to a good start I'm not going to worry about it if I gain some weight."

Today's Sport Laugh - Pro golfer Al Geiberger was talking about his habit of eating peanut butter and jelly sandwiches while he plays. Geiberger said: "If you forget and leave them in your golf bag you can still eat them the next day. You can't do that with an egg sandwich."

If you think you have a very intimate friend, don't get into a business deal with him.

The world is jammed with people who do not know as much as they MABEL REAVER | think they know.

Statesman

Lesson for December 5, 1965

Background Scripture: Isaiah 1:6 through 7:9: 30:15; 31:1-3; 36 through Devotional Reading: Isaiah 26:1-9.

IF THE prophet Amos was at the bottom of the heap, Isaiah was on the glittering top. Amos was a man unknown, from the wrong side of the tracks, so to speak, a man who felt in his own near-starvation job all the pressures of an unjust system. Isaiah was a contrasting type of person, the stuff of which playboys are made, yet no playboy. He had wealth, social position,

Dr. Foreman he knew all the best people. And yet he too became one of God's prophets. God can use, and has used, as his spokesmen and champions not only poor and obscure men like Amos, but patricians and aristocrats like Isaiah.

Prophet's Patriotism

A rare combination was this Isaiah; he was both a preacher (which, it will be remembered, was the meaning of "prophet") and a statesman. We sometimes find Christians in public life. It is worthwhile to think about Isaiah as an example of a statesman who was also a man of God. We can define a statesman, to begin with, as a man of wisdom who plans wisely for his country and countrymen.

Prophet's plea

A true statesman not only sees that something is wrong with his nation, but what is wrong. Isaiah saw the uncleanness, the pride, the silly and stupid use of wealth which could have been used for help of the distressed. He saw the hypocrisy of the temple services, where there was pageantry and liturgy in plenty, but mighty little heartreligion. He saw the neglect of the poor, the hardships of the unemployed. He spoke plainly about these things. He knew the remedy too: a return to God.

Now politicians and demagogues often mention God. They may even talk like evangelists about a "return to God." But when a mere politician talks like that, he does not mean very much except a kind of emotional binge, a witch-hunt to find the villain who is causing all the trouble. A politician never admits anything is wrong with the voters; it's always the other party that's to blame. A true statesman has the courage to say to his countrymen: It is you the people who have gone wrong. It is not a party, it is we ourselves, all of us, who need to open our Bibles at the Ten Commandments and see what God has to say.

Prophet's prospective

Your true statesman-prophet always brings the light of God to bear on the life of man. And because he knows God and can see, as it were, through God's eyes, he is often hated and scorned by the very people he is trying to help. Many a statesman is not recognized as such until after his death. One mark of the statesman-prophet is that he realizes that God has an interest in mankind, humanity, all men and every man, and not one party or nation alone. And just because he has this wide vision that considers mankind, and not one part or fraction of it, he is called sometimes a traitor and an enemy of his country. What was it Lincoln did (or hoped to do) which brought down on him the anger of his own party in 1865? He wanted to treat the states conquered in the Civil War in a Christian way. What was the "crime" of Woodrow Wilson? Dreaming of a League of Nations. What was "wrong" with Dag Hammarskjold? He gave his great mind and heart to serve all nations rather than one. Statesmen are often martyrs; but what makes them hated is often the very quality which later generations will praise. God send us more leaders who see men in the light of God.

Remember The "Blues" For Jams

Remember how good blueberry jam tasted on hot biscuits last year and how, around January, you wished you had more of this fresh fruit spread on your jam and jelly shelf?

This summer take advantage of this plump and colorful berry when it's in season and make a good supply of Blueberry and Currant Jam. Consider making extra glasses to use as hostess gifts.

Blueberry and Currant Jam Yield: about 10 medium glasses

4-1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe blueberries and 1 pt. fully ripe red currants)

6 cups (2 lb. 10 oz.) sugar 1 box (1-3/4 oz.) Sure-Jell Fruit Pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Crush thoroughly about 1 quart blueberries. Stem about 1 pint red currants and crush thoroughly. Combine fruits and measure 4-1/2 cups into a very large saucepan. Then make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Mix fruit pectin into fruit in saucepan. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Immediately stir in all sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with 1/8 inch

What's New For Christmas?

What's new for Christmas? If you don't mind doing your shopping in a service station, it's an 18-inch battery-powered toy yacht that runs equally well on land or on water.

What, you might ask, is the connection between service stations and toy yachts? It's simply that Phillips Petroleum Company executives were so impressed with the number of pleasure craft which Americans pleasure craft which Americans owned last year-nearly 8 million—they decided a lot of people would come in to their 23,000 retail outlets to get a real bargain in a toy boat, a $10-$12 value for $4.98.

The Phillips 66 Power Yacht is an authentically designed cruiser made from rugged plastic. An ingenious development permits it to be operated amphibiously, using only a single

ZONING ORDINANCE EXPLAINED

(This is the eleventh in a series of articles on the new Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance.)

In looking over the series presented concerning the Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance it is interesting to note that the eleven discussions published have been and are concerned with the following aspects of the ordi-

Series 1—General format and appearance of the Ordinance.

Series 2—General provisions section of the Ordinance.

Series 3—Special provisions on parking, signs and mobile homes. Series 4—Special provisions on Extra-active Industries, Cluster Subdivisions, Industrial Parks and the Planned Unit Development.

Series 5—The administrative provisions of the Ordinance. Series 6-The Board of Zoning Appeals and its functions.

Series 7—The Agriculture "A" District provisions of the Ordinance. Series 8—The three Residence "R" Districts provisions of the Ordinance. Series 9—The two Business "B"

District provisions of the Ordinance.
Series 10—The two Industrial "I"
District provisions of the Ordinance.
Series 11—The Conservation District, height, lot area, and yard requirements, rezoning and areas of responsibility.

The "C" Conservation District is primarily created to protect the major stream valleys of the county from high density development. For the most part those areas so shown in the "C" District are wooded and the topography is such that grades exceed 10 per cent. Principal permitted uses include agriculture, forests, wild uses include agriculture, forests, wild life preserves, publicily-owned or private parks (non-profit), water supply or flood control projects, fish and game hatcheries and single-family dwellings provided a minimum of three acres or more is maintained. Conditional uses requiring Board of Zoning Appeals hearing concerns public utility structures (other than essential equipment as defined) and trap, skeet, rifle, or archery ranges, including gun clubs provided 1000 feet is maintained.

The matter of height requirements is one of the subjects that has been is one of the subjects that has been left for this final series discussion. In all districts farm buildings are excluded from such height restrictions. All buildings in the "C," "A," "R-20,000" and "R-10,000" and "B-L" Districts are restricted to 35 feet (2½ stories). The multi-family ("R-7500" Residence) District height maximum is 40 feet. The "B-L" General Business District and the two Industrial "I-R" and "I-G" Districts have maximum height requirements of fifty feet. There are exceptions to height requirements as set forth to height requirements as set forth in Section 15.4. For instance, the requirements do not apply to belfries, steeples, electric and telephone poles, television or radar towers, monu-ments and the like. Likewise, in the "A," "R" and "B" Districts, height may be extended to forty feet if side yards are increased. Public or quasipublic buildings may be increased to 120 feet provided side yards are in-creased one foot for each foot in height above the prescribed limit.

Yard requirements are important. Zoning certificates will specify building lines (set-backs), however, any person proposing to build should plan for the building set-back minimums from front side, and rear lot lines. All uses whether residential, business, industrial or public must adhere to the proposals unless given variance by the Board for good and sufficient reason. The following yards are required in the various districts for residential and most uses:

Yard Yard Yard Conservation Agricultural Residential "R-20,000" 40 Residential "R-10,000" 35 Residential "R-7500" 25 40 35 35 Business "B-L" Business "B-G" 10 30 Industrial "I-R' 30 30

In addition to the above two items discussed on height and yard requirements the Ordinance specifies the lot width and lot area for most uses permitted in the Ordinance. Many uses, such as schools and hospitals, require a minimum acreage. It should be re-membered that the basic lot size for single-family residences is 20,000 square feet. Lots located in "R-10,-000," "R-7500," "B-L" and "B-G" Districts may be reduced below 20,000 feet if public water and/or sewerage is provided.

As a final point in the discussion, the matter of "rezoning" will become a common term. A change in zoning district boundaries is possible through the procedure outlined in Article 19 of the Ordinance. In adopting the Ordinance, the Country Commissioners provided this procedure with a procedu provided this procedure with an awareness that some flexibility must be possible to meet the changes that will be seen in Carroll County over the years. The term "rezoning" is given to the District changes. It is also possible to amend the text of the Ordinance from time to time, but in both instances a public hearing must be held by the County Commissioners prior to any final determination. Next week will see a final discussion on the Zoning Ordinance. In this instance, logical and frequently asked questions will be presented along with the answers.

Leftover egg whites can be used in the following cookie recipe:

OLD-TIME KISSES

2 egg whites, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup finely chopped walnuts; grease cookie sheets, line with ungreased heavy brown paper, beat egg whites until foamy, add salt and cream of tartar; beat until stiff; beat in sugar, a tablespoon at a time; continue beating until meringue is very thick and glossy, it should hold straight stiff peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold in vanilla and walnuts. Drop teaspoonfuls of the meringue, several inches apart, onto prepared sheets.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 15 minutes or until tinged tan color. Makes 2 dozen.

MOVIES IN THE COURTROOM

The jurors were duly impressed when the attractive young plaintiff described the leg injuries she had suffered in an auto accident. She was so crippled, she said, that she was forced to wear low heeled shoes at

In short order, the opposing attorney called for the courtroom to be darkened for a movie. Taken secretly, the movie neatly punctured the plaintiff's claim by showing her ar-riving at a party—wearing extrahigh heels.

Courtroom movies have found their greatest use in deflating injury claims that are either false or exaggerated. However, they have also proved useful in establishing claims that are valid—for instance, by clarifying the conditions that led to an accident, or by demonstrating the effects of an

In fact, movies are so revealing that, though offered by one side of a lawsuit, they may aid the other side even more

For example, in disputing the claim of an injured boy, the defense showed movies of him playing baseball to demonstrate that he was still able to take part in sports. But the movies also showed, more poignantly than words, the handicaps he did suffer in chasing fly balls and running bases. Of course, the law's concern is not which side is helped but whether justice is served. There is real danger in the very fact that movies are so persuasive, for they may influence a jury beyond fair limits. With that danger in mind, the law insists on careful conformity to the rules of evidence. Authenticity and accuracy of the films must be proven. Relevancy to the issues must be established. The trial judge may, at his discretion, rule out films that don't meet these tests.

In one case, a film of a stretch of highway was offered to show that the injured pedestrian should have been able to see the oncoming car.

However, it turned out that the picture was made in the wintertime, when intervening trees were bare of foliage. Since the accident happened in the summertime, when the trees were in full bloom, the film was excluded by the judge.

But with legal safeguards, movies have an important role to play in the courtroom. Like many other scientific developments, they open new paths in the law's search for truth.

And so it is that I view the first snow-fall with varying emotions—with fascination, for there is something so delicate and ethereal about those feathery-like flakes—but also with concern, for heavy snow-falls and high winds mean, for us, a drifted road. Accordingly, while trying to concentrate on the quiet grace of this special winter gift, I also, in a more practical frame of mind, haul out boots, gloves, jackets, and the snow shovel, and put an extra helping of sunflower seed, suet, and corn on the bird feeder. # The CARE and FEEDING of BUSINESS

We know that "feeding a little money" into a business for inventory or expansion often helps "take care" of immediate problems.

However, over the years we also know that business men need somebody they can turn to and that a man-to-man discussion of their financial business problems and local trends is often worth more than money.

We are ready to talk business any time. You are invited to come in and use the facilities of this bank to further your business progress.
