Letter To The Editor

On last Sunday, Dec. 5, I had the extreme pleasure of attending the regular Service of Grace Reformed Church at Keysville. Needless to say, this visit had many marks of a "home-coming" for me, especially as it was my first visit in several years and only the second since I closed my pastorate of the congregation seventeen years ago. I shared the Services with a goodly congregation, and with all those in attendance, was uplifted and instructed by the very splendid sermon, with a Christmas flavor, delivered by the efficient pastor, Rev. Wiley. Later, at the end of the Service, I had the further pleasure of hearing the recently-installed set of chimes, the gift of the late Mrs. Georgia Reaver. Mrs. Reaver bequeathed the funds for the chimes system in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Duttera, who owned and operated the fine farm midway between Taneytown and Keysville, and in memory of Mrs. Duttera's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myerly, who earlier lived at the same farm. een years ago. I shared the Services farm.

The death of Mrs. Reaver several months ago marked the passing of the last member of the Duttera family, who some years ago were prominent in the Taneytown neighborhood. It will be recalled that her nephew, Dr. Carroll Dern, bequeathed the funds for the air-conditioning system in the Taneytown Reformed Church. A cousin, Rev. Dr. William B. Duttera, was a minister of the Reformed Church, serving pastorates for the most part in North Carolina.

The chimes system, broadcasting its music from the church tower, is

It is needless to say that the clear music, seeming to come from the skies, makes the listener almost feel that he is hearing a message from heaven, just as the shepherds were thrilled by the song of the angels on the night of the first Christmas. Here is a suggestion, although I have no doubt that what I am suggesting has already been arranged; and it is this: That on the night of December 24, at about midnight, such hymns as "Holy Night," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," etc., be broadcast. The music, I am sure, will not wake anyone from a sure, will not wake anyone from a sound sleep, but will be a most inspiring message for the ushering in of Christmas Day. The music is probably audible for covered wiles. ably audible for several miles, so, not only at midnight of Christmas Eve, but every time the music is broadcast, a whole neighborhood is edified and inspired by this "music in the air," as it were. The Reformed Church at Keysville The Reformed Church at Keysville has a most interesting history, having its beginning with the gift of a half acre of land, a part of the "Terra Rubra" estate, by Francis Scott Key in 1828, as the deed states "for school and church purposes." In that same year was erected the first building, probably of logs, occupied on weekdays by the community school, and on Sundays, in rotation, by the four groups of church people living in the Keysville area, namely. Lutheran Keysville area, namely, Lutheran, Methodist, United Brethren and Re-formed. In those days the schools were supported either by the churches or by individual subscriptions by the school patrons. In speaking of the church members, I use the word "group" rather than "congregation," as probably none of the denominational groups at this time (1828) were organized into a regular congrega-½ cup shortening, 1½ cups sugar, 2 tion. The Services were performed by eggs, 1 cup buttermilk, 2½ cups cake ministers from the surrounding comministers from the surrounding communities, probably mostly from Taneytown. Each group had the use of the building one Sunday in four.

This arrangement continued until the organization of the State Public School System in 1868, when school administration in each county was assumed by a County Board of School Commissioners. One condition, governing each county Board was that no school could be operated except on land wholly owned by the school system. Accordingly in 1868 the School Commissioners abandoned the old school house and bought a tract of land 28 feet wide and the length of the church lot, from John Weybright and erected on it in 1870 a new school house. In 1911 the Board of Educahouse. In 1911 the Board of Education bought from Ernest Ritter another lot, also 28 feet wide and erected another new school. This building is now owned by the Reformed Church and is used as its Parish House. A kitchen addition was built to the pair of this building and built to the rear of this building and joined to it some years ago. When the Keysville school was discontinued in 1929 or 1930, the Reformed congregation in 1931 bought the two lots mentioned and the school building.

In 1868 when the original school church building was abandoned by the School Commissioners, it was found to be in such a dilapidated condition as to be regarded as unfit for further use. Accordingly, represen-tatives of the four religious groups having an interest in the building arranged for the erection of a new church biulding of brick, situated a little to the west of the old building and toward the front of the lot. This building, of which only the rear and side walls remain, was finished and in 1903 the Reformed Congregation acquired the Methodist interest for the sum of $300. From that date (1903) the Lutheran and Reformed congregations held joint ownership, using the building alternately for church services until June 2, 1919, when the Reformed Church bought the Lutherans share in the building the Lutherans share in the building for the sum of $500. The Lutheran Congregation then proceeded to erect a new church building on a lot secured from James Kiser (by gift, I think). This new building was finished and dedicated in 1922 or 1923.

To the members of the congregation, especially, as they hear the chime-music, it will be as an inspiration and a source of pride in being a part of a group of people, dedicated to the business of the Eternal Kingdom. Every member of a church of whatever denomination should be proud that he is a Christian.

It should be added that the chimes system strikes or rings each hour of day and night to fing the congregation also proceeded to make improvements. The intended program was modest, but an unexpected gift from the Maryland Classis of $500 encouraged and aroused the enthusiasm of the congregation, so that instead of modest repairs, the program became a complete remodelling of the property. The intended program was modest, but an unexpected gift from the Maryland Classis of $500 encouraged and aroused the enthusiasm of the congregation, so that instead of modest repairs, the program became a complete remodelling of the property. (all windows, thirteen in all, are memorial windows), the erection of a bell tower (the bell the gift of the Stonesifer family) with the ground ability of University of Maryland and other nearby college facilities, including the tower used as the front minor accessories. The total cost, exclusive of the bell, memorial windows and individual gifts, amounted to $8,-500. The church was re-dedicated on May 28, 1920, entirely free of debt. In 1936 another remodelling took place, including especially a general overhaul of the inside of the auditorium, including repainting of walls, ceiling, furniture, together with the laying of new tupleo floor. These improvements were paid for by funds contributed before the work was begun.

Since 1936, many other improvements have been made from time to time, including a new organ, and now this latest improvement, or rather, I should say, this latest addition, so that now the church property is modern in every respect and in excellent repair. The pastor and the congre-gation, which has always been most loyal and dedicated to the interests of the Church and the Kingdom, are certainly due our congratulations.

Although this congregation has always been served by the pastors of the Reformed Church at Taneytown since 1828 (and perhaps before that) a formal congregation was not organized until 1887, by Rev. Henry Ditzler, at that time pastor of the Taneytown Charge.

It may be interesting to those who read this letter to know the names of the various ministers who preached at Keysville (to the Reformed group) since 1828. They are as follows: Rev. George Leidy, 1828-1831; Rev. Dietrich Graves, 1831-1832; Rev. Henry Aurand, 1833-1834; Rev. Dr. Elias Heiner (a native of Taneytown), 1834-1835; Rev. S. R. Fisher (?), 1835-1838; Rev. Daniel Feete, 1838-1841; Rev. Lohn G. Wolff 1841 1850. 1841; Rev. John G. Wolff, 1841-1850; Rev. Charles M. Jameson, 1851-1852; Rev. John G. Fritchey, 1852-1865; Rev. Nicholas E. Gilds, 1865-1867; Rev. Jesse Steiner, 1867-1871; Rev. John Lantz, 1872-1873; Rev. P. Allison Long, 1873-1884; Rev. Henry Ditzler, 1885-1893.

Following Mr. Ditzler and since the organization of the congregation in 1887, the pastors have been Rev. Alexander Bateman, 1893-1903; Rev. David J. Wolf, 1904-1915; Rev. Guy P. Bready, 1915-1948; Rev. Morgan Andreas, 1949-1960; Rev. William F. Wiley, 1961 to the present.

County Commissioners Decide Against Community College

The County Commissioners of Car-roll County, because of its responsibility in providing funds for the many functions of county government, must accept much of the responsibility of determining the limitations on and the extent of public services to be provided. As a rule, any such de-terminations are made in April of each year when budget allocations are approved for the various county agencies or departments. During the current year of 1965, the Board of Education through its Superintendent made a request in July for the establishment of a Com-munity College in Carroll County. The proposal asked for a commitment to be made by the County Commisto be made by the County Commissioners of Carroll County for $39,000 for opening the facility in September 1966. An estimate of $79,000 was given for the second year of operation. If such a facility was to open in September of the coming year it was pointed out that such a decision was pointed out that such a decision was necessary no later than December 1965 in order that a President, Registrar, and perhaps secretarial aid could be selected without delay.

It is at this point, that the County

Commissioners must make a decision which, once made, cannot be retracted or in the future be made in such a way to jeopardize the function of the Community College once established. It is here that the Board of County Commissioners must, regardless of personal feelings or convictions, speak for all the citizens of Carroll County. Whatever the decision, it would not be to the satisfaction of all.

Following a meeting in which the three members of the Board of County Commissioners were present for the purpose of thoroughly discussing the purpose of thoroughly discussing this important request, a decision was reached to delay the opening of the Community College until the following can be provided or determined.

1. The presentation of the results of a special educational study and plan by the consultant firm Englehardt, Englehardt and Leggett. The contract made for such study due to contract made for such study due to commence momentarily and be completed in 1966 will include studies on Community College for Carroll County.

2. The outcome of proposed legislation during the coming session of the Maryland General Assembly which may determine the control of Maryland's Community Colleges as well as change this cost-sharing formula for county, state and the student.

3. Final studies and reports can be

In making the decision to delay the requested 1966 opening, the County Commissioners are in no way opposed to the establishment of Community Colleges. It is hoped, rather, that this decision will strengthen the objective for such a facility in the future by providing time to effectively plan for 200 years ago and served as a comits location, its program, and its Accordingly, this Board is asking that the Board of Education, the Community College Advisory Committee and the citizens of Carroll County carefully develop a program which can be considered by the Board of County Commissioners in its budget preparations one year hence.

YOU WILL HAVE TO PAY

An enormous amount of notice was given to the nominal tax reductions which have taken place at the federal level in the last two years. The question now is whether this moderate measure of tax relief is to be something of a snare and a delusion.

On January 1, 1966, social security taxes are to be substantially increased. This, for great numbers of people, will wholly or largely offset the past reductions.

Then, what will happen in the future is a subject of much speculation wow. For example, in one of his reeent columns David Lawrence wrote that the people know little about . . what burdens for future years will result from the commitments made by the last Congress. Expendiwares to fulfill these commitments will grow year by year in the various fields in which the federal government has heretofore not entered. This will inevitably mean hereafter a bigger and bigger tax burden on the American people."

You may or may not favor medieare, the war on poverty, federal aid be education or any of the government's other ventures into uncharted areas of authority. But you and everyone else will have to pay for them -in increased taxes of one kind or another and, if the government continues to operate on a deficit basis, in a steady decline in the value of the

EXPRESS YOUR VIEWS

The people are reading news items showing that state and federal governments are providing billions of collars for a variety of welfare and spending projects that break all

There may be excuses for much of the spending, but one fact should be made clear in every newspaper report of so-called government largess neither the state nor the federal government have a thin dime to give away that they don't first take from the overburdened private citizen taxpayer. Governments are just agents of the people.

Newspaper headlines and stories should stress: "The taxpaying private | mot the government." If this distinction was made in comment in the press, if the word "taxpayers" was substituted for the words "state" and "federal," "governors" or "presidents," more people would begin to realize that the money government "gives" is first taken from them in the form of taxes.

On much of the taxation, the people never get a chance to vote directly, but they have the right and obligation of expressing their view to their elected representatives, state and national, on measures to tax their earnings and savings.

The more government mortgages the taxpayers' future through extravagance and deficits, the more does it feed the fires of inflation, higher prices and depreciated money.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Since the items last week were typed on Monday—due to my attendance on Tuesday at the Carroll County Council of Homemakers' program planning meeting in Westminsterthe next two items were missed so I include them for you this week.

First, we were all sorry to learn of the fire which destroyed the barn on the William Coshun farm on the Otterdale Mill Road on Thanksgiving Day. This is a terrible thing to have happen and no one can ever really convey with words how sorry everyone is to have had it happen.

And visitors the previous week with Mrs. Raymond Albaugh near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Grossnickle near Keymar, Mrs. James Koontz, Jeann, Charlie and RoseMary; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Barnhouse, son Emory and Paul Grossnickle near Taney-town; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Kline, Robert Spates and Patricia and Robert Dutrow of New Midway; Mrs. Karl J. Smith, Sr., Karl, Jr., Ronnie, Larry, Jerry, Jimmie, Ricky, Randy, Jeffery and Joann Denise of Rocky Ridge. Those who helped with the butchering of two horses at this same heart and some here. Those who helped with the butchering of two hogs at this same home were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martz, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boone, Janet and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Grossnickle, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dutrow, Josh Zimmerman and Pastor Eugene Gardon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubbard and across from the Derrs on the Keys-ville Road. The Gartrells now live came also a food basket to help some on the Gregg Kiser farm.

Christmas shoppers are really busy these days. Last Monday Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Robert Stine with Mrs. Mark Baumgardner and Mrs. Edward Coshun were in Harrisburg and on Saturday Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hobbs and Mrs. Thomas Lambert drove up to Harrisburg also. Old Santa is Harrisburg also. Old Santa is really stepping around.

Surely sorry to learn of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide, Surely sorry to learn of the death of Henry Feeser of Hampstead over week-end and our sympathy to his family. The Feesers formerly had a farm on the Keymar-Taneytown Rd. Neighbor Mrs. Edward Coshun near Detour has been uncomfortable with an ear infection lately. Hope that soon "clears up"

A Visit From Heaven Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the land Every creature was stirring, as Caesar had planned; A census was taken in which every

IN MEMORIAMS

In loving memory of Frank W. Otto, who passed away seven years ago, December 8, 1958.

When one you care for has departed Though you set alone and broken-hearted

There's something in a kindred mind That always leaves a sense behind Of true companionship. We know The pain so great to see you go Yet memories soften everything The grave its victory, death its sting. Treasured thoughts of one so dear Often brings a silent tear, Thoughts returned to scenes long past Time speed on but memories last. A helping hand to all he knew He was kind, and generous, true! A silent thought, a secret tear Keeps this memory ever dear. Time takes away the edge of grief But memory turns back every leaf. On earth he nobly did his best Grant him, Jesus, heavenly rest. His devoted friend, PEARL WALDECK

- In loving memory of my husband, Curtis S. Smith, who passed away two years ago December 11, 1963.

They say time heals a broken heart But no it is not true For two lonely years have passed And my heart still longs for you.

In a book of life are memories Of the happiest moments I've known Are recorded in love and blessings Of a wonderful husband, my own

You are gone but the treasure you left me Is truly a value untold A life filled with deeds of kindness To all with heart and soul.

A happy home we once enjoyed How sweet the memory still But death has left us loneliness That the world can never fill.

By his wife, MRS. JULIA SMITH

Automobile and truck operators in our small communities are often faced with two extremes in driving conditions. Here at home, folks drive in a more leisurely fashion.

Driving to and from other nearby communities, drivers must always be aware of the narrow roads, sharp turns, hills, and the constant threat of not being able to see pending dangers.

However, when deciding to take a trip to a distant city, via the thruways, duals, turnpikes and other limited access highway systems, our local motorists face many dangers not apparent here at home. Travel on these highways generally is at a much greater rate of speed. Coupled with driving fatigue, carelessness and inattentiveness speeds on the modern highways can become a real killer in a matter of seconds.

Many drivers who are unaccustomed to driving regularly on turnpikes are not experienced when it comes to making decisions at speeds of 60 to 65 mph. Others take safe driving conditions for granted, and are often lulled into a state of fatigue or drowsiness because of the monotony of the highway.

Shift your eyes frequently so that your attention does not become focused in one particular spot for long periods of time. Remember at 60 miles per hour, you move up very rapidly on a slower vehicle. To compensate for this, you must allow sufficient time and space if you wish to overtake the vehicle in front of you.

Basically, alertness in driving is the keystone of safe driving. I wish to caution all drivers to stay alert at all times regardless of the rate of speed that you are driving.

Law and the Man Lesson for December 12, 1965

Background Scripture: II Kings 21 Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:9-16.

LET YOUR imagination run loose a minute. Suppose you were a new American President, a very young one. Suppose that for nearly sixty years before this moment the country had been going from bad to worse. The nation's leaders were hardly more than clever gangsters, setting examples of murder, immorality of all kinds. Suppose to all intents and purposes the country had not been lawless, but literally without laws. Then suppose in a dirty old neglected church there was found a copy of the constitution, a book of laws for the entire nation. You had your choice: either acknowledge the Constitution and begin to enforce it, or tear it up then and there and see that no word of it got out to the people. Which would you do? That was the choice faced by the boy king Josiah. You can read the details (Background Scripture) for yourself. Here we only make a few comments which the story suggests.

Laws in man

It was said here a few weeks ago that you never see "justice" on the street, or anywhere, all by itself. Justice is in people if anywhere. You can almost say the same thing about law, only not quite. Law is in a book of some kind, among civilized people (and the ancient Hebrews were people with a well-developed culture, bad as some of them were). But if the only place to find law is in a book or a stack of papers, it doesn't count for much. Law must find living quarters in men's consenting minds, or it might as well be doodles in a sandpile. Law like justice is best seen in the living acts and attitudes of living men. Laws for man

Every good law is for the good of man. This is brought out in our own constitution in America, with its great Bill of Rights. A study of it will convince any fair-minded reader that the authors of our Constitution had human welfare at heart. It was so with the book of law which Josiah's men discovered in the Temple. The Hebrews had several different codes of law, but the one that played such a large part in his life was most probably the code we know as the Book of Deuteronomy. These laws (as the Bible reader may learn for himself) are not always about man, but they are always for man. Somebody wrote a book entitled "Utopia According to Moses," the theme being that if we abolished most of our modern laws and lived by Deuteronomy for awhile, we would be better off than we

The ideal of our systems of law always has been "Government of laws and not of men." What this means you can see by asking yourself a question: Would you rather live in a place ruled by the whim of a dictator, or in a place where even the top men in government bowed to the authority of law even when it went against them? King Josiah was one such man. He even ordered a public confession of sin in which he joined, - the sin of neglecting and forgetting these ancient laws. For he recognized them for what they essentially were: Laws of God. As such they were above him. They possessed an authority which even the King did not wield. In a true sense they represented the will of God. Now this is not saying that every law you can find on some statute book somewhere is necessarily a good law representing God's will for us all. What we can say is that so far as a law is truly for the welfare of man in his life on earth, so far it does speak for God. Or we can go farther and say without apology that unless a human law embodies the same spirit and intent as the laws of the Bible, it lacks the right to be called the will of God.
