

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

There was a general rush, this week, to get furnaces and stoves in commission, due to the frosty and generally cooler weather.

Jacob Grove of Missouri, an old war comrade of John E. Buffington, visited him one day this week, the first time they have met since the close of the war. Mr. Grove was 1st Sergeant of Company A, 6th Md. Regiment.

Miss Ellen Long has returned as a student at Irving College, Mechanicsburg, Penna.

Next Tuesday, October 10, is the last day for Registration this year. Everybody should vote for President and Congressman, besides the saloon question comes up again to be decided by the voters.

HAMME - KING — A very beautiful wedding was solemnized on the lawn, which was lighted with Japanese lanterns at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. King, near Kump on Thursday evening, September 28, when their daughter, Miss Fannie Krezelle, became the bride of Mr. Harry G. Hamme, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamme, of Seven Valleys, Penna. Rev. Milton Whitener performed the ceremony.

(Advertisement) GREAT Inter-State Fair at Hagerstown, October 10th to 13th, inclusive. Maryland's largest fair. Racing purse, $7,000. Poultry show, largest on earth. Brilliant fireworks at Night.

Tyrone . . . Mrs. Levi Maus returned home Thursday from Baltimore, after having her foot operated on and about an inch of a needle was removed from her foot, which she stepped in a few weeks ago. . . . Edward Keefer, wife and daughter, Grace and son, Vernon, of near Silver Run, spent Sunday with Ira Rodkey and family. . . . Mrs. Deborah Flickinger and William and Samuel Flickinger of Copperville spent Wednesday afternoon with Charles Welk and family. . . . Mrs. John Marquet was taken to the Woman's Hospital, Baltimore, to be treated.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing has been scheduled on Monday evening, October 17, 1966, at 7:30 P. M. in the auditorium of the Westminster Senior High School for purposes of reviewing a proposed master plan for public school facilities through the year 1980. At this hearing Dr. N. L. Engelhardt, Jr., of the firm Engelhardt, Engelhardt and Leggett will make the presentation to the general public and be available for any questions relative to the proposals.

Comments will be received at the public hearing and may also be submitted in written form to the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Board of Education thereafter.

Your SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE AGENCY

1966 PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF STATE-WIDE REFERENDUM.

WHEREAS, at its regular Session of 1966, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 517; and WHEREAS, Petitions were filed under the provision of Article XVI of the Constitution of Maryland...

CHAPTER 517 AN ACT to repeal and re-enact, with amendments, Sections 120, 122 (c), 123 (a), 126 (a) and (b), 129 (a) and (b), 136 and 137 of Article 89B of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 Edition and 1964 Replacement Volume), title "State Roads", subtitle "Bridges, Tunnel and Motorway Revenue Bonds"...

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland that Sections 120, 122 (c), 123 (a), 126 (a) and (b), 129 (a) and (b), 136 and 137 of Article 89B of the Annotated Code of Maryland (1957 Edition and 1964 Replacement Volume), title "State Roads", subtitle "Bridges, Tunnel and Motorway Revenue Bonds" be repealed and re-enacted, with amendments, to read as follows:

120. Constructing and financing bridges, tunnels and motorways.

In order to remove the present handicaps and hazards on the congested highways in the State and to facilitate traffic between the different sections of the State, to promote the agricultural and industrial development of the State, and to provide for the construction of modern transportation facilities...

122. Definitions. (c) The word "project" shall mean any bridge, tunnel, crossing or motorway or any improvement of any thereof constructed by the Commission under the provisions of this subheading...

123. General Grant of Powers. The Commission is hereby authorized and empowered:

(a) Construction, maintenance, repair and operation.—To construct, maintain, repair and operate bridges, tunnels and crossings under rivers and navigable waters which are wholly or partly within the State, and motorways at all locations within the State as may be determined by the Commission and improvements thereto.

126. Issuance of Bonds. (a) Bond issues authorized; terms and conditions of bonds; forms, signature; negotiability; sale.—The Commission is hereby authorized to provide by resolution, at one time or from time to time, for the issuance of revenue bonds of the State for the purpose of paying all or any part of the costs of any one or more projects or any part or parts thereof, and the cost of improvements...

There are roasts and roasts, but practically since the time of Adam, the rib variety seems to be man's favorite dish. It is thoroughly enjoyed, of course, by women as well, but generally it calls for a man's carving knife and masculine appreciation. Now, it can even boast the hearty flavor of masculine cooking. A covered barbecue kettle does the trick. These days, without being underfoot in milady's kitchen, the man of the house can show off his culinary art in his own backyard to company. Indirect cooking by reflected heat of the covered barbecue kettle permits the amateur male chef to turn out a deluxe standing rib beef roast rather than the usual barbecue fare of hamburgers, hot dogs or plain steak.

Insects Gnawing on Your Lawn?

Ever wonder what is causing those ugly dead patches in your lawn? An old saying goes, "There's nothing more evil than an underfed weevil." Yellow or brown patches of dying or stunted grass may be due to a number of causes, but usually they are a sign that soil insects have been using your lawn as a banquet table.

To prove it, try to pull up the dead grass. If the turf comes up easily with no roots attached, insects are probably present. If the dead grass still has attached roots, something else may be turning the grass brown.

Fall is a good time to get rid of soil insects—before they gorge themselves again next spring.

The offender may be grubs or larvae (the worm stage) of hard-shelled beetles. Grubs can usually be exposed by rolling back a few inches of sod.

The Japanese beetle grub has a ravenous chewing appetite for nearly every plant root it can find. It spends most of its life as a white C-shaped grub in the soil and usually feeds on grass roots. By June the grub changes form and emerges above ground as a green metallic beetle with copper brown wings.

The female lives a little over a month, then lays her eggs in the grass roots. Grubs hatch in about ten days and feed on the roots until freezing weather forces them to burrow deeper in the soil for protection.

Other common kinds of grubs are the larvae of June beetles, also known as the June bug or May beetle, and the European chafer.

To keep these and other pests on a strict "no lawn" diet, apply chlordane insecticide as a dust or as granules mixed in the top few inches of the soil, or as a liquid spray. To fertilize your lawn and control insects in one application, use a combination product containing chlordane and fertilizer. If plans call for making a new lawn this fall, or renovating an old one, chlordane can help you get off to a pest-free start. After all, your lawn was meant for better things than insects.

Covered Kettle Rib Roast

Covered Kettle Rib Roast

Standing rib beef roast, at least 5 pounds. (Allow one pound for each adult.)

- 1/4 cup peanut oil 1/2 cup white wine or 1/2 cup water
4-5 peppercorns, crushed Meat thermometer
1 teaspoon salt

For best results, select a roast of at least two ribs. Be sure meat reaches room temperature before cooking. Rub outside of roast with peanut oil and season with salt and coarsely ground pepper. Insert meat thermometer in solid portion of the meat. Avoid touching any fat or bone for true reading. Place 25 charcoal briquettes on each side of the barbecue kettle tray. Place roast on grill directly over the foil pan; put on kettle cover and start to cook. Allow 15 minutes per pound cooking time. Every hour add eight briquettes to each side of the fire.

To make sauce, discard the fat from the dripping pan. To the remaining juices add the white wine, or 1/2 cup of water, and salt and pepper to taste. Stir and scrape the pan. Stir in carving juices, and heat without boiling. Allow the roast to stand at room temperature for 15 to 20 minutes after it is done before carving.

Make Raisin-Nut Muffins For Breakfast or Brunch

When the weekend approaches, it's time to think of fixing a relaxed breakfast or brunch. As a special treat for family or friends, make something different to serve with the usual bacon and eggs. Raisin-Nut Muffins will star at any brunch. You make them from a base of packaged graham cracker crumbs, orange rind, raisins and pecans. The recipe easily can be doubled and baked ahead of time. Serve piping hot with sweet butter. Here's how:

Raisin-Nut Muffins

- 1 cup Sunshine Graham Cracker Crumbs 1/2 cup seedless raisins
3/4 cup milk 1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 egg, beaten 1/2 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon grated orange rind 1 1/2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
2 tablespoons shortening, melted and cooled 1/4 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 425°F. Soak packaged graham cracker crumbs in milk for 10 minutes. Add egg and orange rind and beat well; stir in melted shortening, raisins and pecans. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add to mixture and stir until flour is moistened but not smooth. Do not beat. Pour into 10 medium-sized muffin tins, oiled on bottoms only. Bake for 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from pans at once. Serve hot or cool. Yield: 10 muffins.

Atheism Of Deeds

Lesson For October 9, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 5: 28; 22.
Devotional Reading: Colossians 5:16-25.

Jesus said it and history proves it: "A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and in his own house." (Matthew 13:57 RSV) He might well have added: "... and in his own age!"

Prophets are usually greatly admired... after they are dead! The dead prophets are revered while the live prophets are ignored or condemned. Today it costs us nothing to lionize men like Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Amos. Yet few of us could have tolerated them if we lived during their periods of ministry.

John Ruskin has said, "To see clearly is poetry, prophecy, and religion, all in one." The Hebrew prophet was all three of these: poet, prophet, and religionist. His task was to "see clearly," particularly at those times when the vision of others was clouded and limited.

To Interpret Present We too often think of the prophet as a man who sees grand visions and hears heavenly voices. Prophets often have experiences such as this, to be sure, but their eyes were fixed not only upon the future, but also upon the present. God gives them the gift to rightly see and understand the meaning of present conditions and diagnose their implications for the future.

This explains, of course, the unpopularity of the living prophet. It is possible to tolerate dire predictions for the distant future, but when the prophet begins to analyze our present conditions he finds that he has struck a vital nerve!

Isaiah discovered this in his own ministry. He had a God-given gift for seeing things clearly and when he spoke to his contemporaries about what he saw, they could scarcely contain their wrath. They much rather would have had him speculate on the future than to see so clearly and openly the mess of the present.

What was it he saw so clearly that upset them? You are living like people who believe that God is either dead or away! Their enemies claimed that their God was dead, unable to help them. But you people, he said, are living that way. Their atheism of deeds is just as blasphemous as some people's atheism of words and ideas.

If we could overcome our fascination with the prophets of other times and listen to the prophets of our own day, we might find that they are saying much the same thing to us. Perhaps it is true that we too, like the people to whom Isaiah was sent, speak like committed Christians and live like convinced atheists.

Many of us today find ourselves upset because a small group of theologians is saying that "God is dead." We find it shocking that some should brazenly proclaim that there no longer is a God. Yet maybe all of us ought to ask ourselves whether our lives don't make the proclamation to those around us. One non-Christian observer remarked that the "Death of God" theologians are only saying what many Christians have been indicating for a long time.

We don't like to hear that kind of analysis of our present, do we? The thundering prophet looks attractive in retrospect, but not in the present. It is one thing for Isaiah to tell his people that they are insincere and superficial, that they have traded their monotheism for moneytheism, but for a contemporary prophet to tell us that about our society, . . . well, we feel as threatened as the prophets' contemporaries.

The Christian atheist does not say "God is dead!"; he just acts that way. What about you?

Keep out of the kitchen—California Style

An outdoor party with a California motif is always a treat, no matter where you live. California hospitality means gracious and easy living at its best. The primary goal of outdoor dining is keeping out of the kitchen, so use as many disposable accessories as possible. This would include a paper tablecloth, paper napkins, paper plates, beverages in throw-away bottles and cans, and disposable utensils. To chill beverages quickly, take the largest bucket you can find in the house, fill with cold water and plenty of ice cubes and place the beverages in it. Within 20 minutes you'll have ice cold drinks. Now take the biggest waste basket you can find for disposing of your paper accessories and put it in an inconspicuous spot in the party area. To highlight your California party table, California Pottery design paper plates are in order, adding the popular Spanish touch with the convenience of disposable plates. Made by Fonda, and available at your grocery store, these plates come in a beautifully vid, authentic pottery design and are the strongest paper plates made. Using Standard Packaging Corp.'s Firmex process, the plates will not buckle, sag, crack or bend no matter how much food is served on them. They also have a heavy plastic coating, preventing soak-through of hot sauces. A terrific Golden State menu should include a buffet of an easily prepared meatball dish*, rice, a tossed green salad and fresh fruit for desert.

*MEATBALLS
1 lb. chopped meat
½ c. Corn Flake Crumbs
1 large egg
1 chopped onion
¼ c. ketchup
1 c. beer
½ c. raisins.

Mix meat, crumbs, egg and onion. Roll into meatballs and place in large casserole dish. Then mix ketchup and beer and pour over meatballs. Cook for 45 minutes on medium flame. Add raisins. Serve immediately or freeze and reheat when ready to use. Serves 4.
Easy meal! Beautiful plates! California, here you come.

Make Yourself An Ice Cream Soda

THE HIGHER THE TEMPERATURE, the more delightful sodas are as an instant refresher. Made at home, you can have many flavor combinations, too. In fact, because Easy Sodas are made with Kool-Aid Instant Soft Drink Mix, you can choose from eight flavors — black cherry, cherry, grape, lemon-grape, lemon-lime, orange, raspberry, or strawberry. Each envelope will make six delicious sodas for thirsty adults or children.

EASY SODAS
1 envelope instant soft drink mix, any flavor
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold water
1 bottle (1 pt. 12 oz.) club soda, chilled
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Dissolve instant soft drink mix and sugar in water in a large pitcher. Stir in soda. Place a small scoop of ice cream in each of 6 tall glasses. Stir in soft drink mixture. Top each serving with another small scoop of ice cream. Serve immediately. Makes about 2 quarts or 6 large servings.
