CHRISTIAN ENLISTMENT SUNDAY

The annual Christian Enlistment of the Taneytown United Church of Christ will be Sunday, Nov. 13. Also known as the Every Member Canvass, the most successful method for this church has been personal visits of member families in the Taneytown and surrounding areas.

Approximately 30 teams of two members each will be visiting assigned areas. The canvasser will attend an orientation meeting Saturday at 7:30 P. M. in the church Sunday school room, conducted by the Rev. William Wiley, pastor. During the Sunday Church Service these canvassers will also be commissioned for this duty.

Each member has received a pastoral letter, a congregational budget for 1967 as set up by the Consistory, a five-year summary of the church's financial status from 1961-1966, and three pertinent pamphlets concerning Christian Enlistment in the mail to assist him with his commitment intentions.

The Enlistment is planned yearly by the Stewardship Committee, a sub-committee of the Lay Life and Work organization of Grace Church.

The Christian Enlistment is a work pattern recommended by the United Church of Christ, designed to help the congregation raise funds and secure needed personnel for the work of the church within and beyond the local parish.

FIRE DESTROYS STRAW

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed 1200 bales of straw valued at $700 on the John Harvey Farm on Hyser Road off Brown Road. Taneytown Firemen received the alarm at 11:30 Monday night and remained at the scene until 4:09 the next morning. They had 30 men and two engines. Harney Fire Co. responded with one engine, one service truck and 15 men, and Littlestown Fire Co. responded with two engines, one service truck and 25 men.

The straw stack was located about 5 feet from a wagon shed. However, the shed was saved. Zent's milk tank truck furnished some of the water and more was hauled by fire trucks from a neighbor's pond.

"Please donate your attic treasures and come and buy others!" Further details will be announced later.

ONE WOMAN'S OPINION

It puzzles me why . . . anyone would want to:

Turn railroad crossing signs around, bend new road-name signs, roll snow fence out into roads, shoot holes in mailboxes, change speed limit signs from 30 to 80 M.P.H.

These things were observed recently as Halloween pranks in our neighborhood and was evidently done by persons who weren't taught to respect the property of others.

Just last night (Monday) someone took our mailbox and the wheel it was fastened on and threw it, or rolled it into a stream nearby.

I sort of feel sorry for people who have nothing constructive to do.

Also present to see the film were representatives of the senior high classes of the Sunday Church School, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Reindollar, teacher of the eleventh grade church school class, and John Hottinger, representing the congregation.

LCW members and guests participated in a brief discussion of "Conformity" following the 40-minute movie. Results of the Mobile Chest X-Ray Survey

Of 2,218 Carroll County residents who had chest X-Rays on the Mobile Unit in July of 1966 it was necessary to have 32 persons return to the Carroll County Health Department for larger X-Rays. Dr. Theo. R. Shrop, acting Health Officer, reported to the Carroll County Tuberculosis Assoc.

The Mobile Unit is sponsored by the Maryland and Carroll County Health Departments, in cooperation with the Maryland Tuberculosis and the Carroll County Tuberculosis Associations. It provides free chest x-rays to persons referred to the unit by physicians, official and voluntary agencies within the County, school bus drivers, teachers, food handlers and others required by law and the many Carroll County residents who keep a close check on tuberculosis and other chest diseases.

Of the 32 persons getting larger X-Rays at the Carroll County Health Department, the following is the result of the survey:

Number to be re-rayed, 32; referred to another County (patient moved), 1; no response, 1; number being followed routinely at Carroll County Health Dept., 2; number X-Rayed at Health Department, 28.

Diagnosis of Large X-Rays: Essentially negative, 6. Other chest conditions: 1—Far advanced atypical acid-fast infection (not tbc); 1—Hodgkins Disease; 3—Malignancies; 1—Emphysema; 1—Chronic Bronchitis; 5 Cardiacs; 1 Pleurisy; 5—Hilar calcifications (the not proven).

Pulmonary Tuberculosis: 4—inactive (being followed at the Health Dept.).

Health education materials on the above diseases may be secured at the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association free of charge as a Christmas Seal service to you.

LAY LIFE AND WORK COMMITTEE MEETS

The Lay Life and Work Committee of Grace United Church of Christ met on Nov. 4 with George Fream presiding. There were seven members, two committee chairmen and Rev. Wiley present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. George Fream reported for the treasurer that there is in the savings account $2,090.21 and $476.59 in the checking account.

Mrs. Blanche Lookingbill reported that she had all the items to make up the personal hygiene kits, and that to date she had collected enough money to pay for 10. It was decided that the committee would make up the difference if she received no more money. There has been no success in finding a Key Woman for the church as yet.

George Fream reported that Mrs. Mildred Baker had agreed to take charge of the kitchen committee for two of the banquets asked for during the week.

Mrs. Sandra Crouse reported that the Stewardship Committee would be meeting to organize their materials for Enlistment Sunday on Nov. 13. A training session for canvassers will be held Saturday, Nov. 12.

Rev. Wiley is making plans for a missionary, who had worked in Hawaii, to be the guest speaker for the worship service on Dec. 18.

Mr. Ralph Taylor, a field representative from the Church World Service Center, has been secured as speaker for the Thank-Offering Service on Nov. 20.

A motion was made and passed to set $200 as the amount to pay special speakers besides their traveling expenses.

The Committee agreed to pay the postage for the clothing now being collected.

The motion was made and passed to recommend to the Consistory that instead of a night meeting the congregational meeting be held on a Sunday morning after a short worship service. It was suggested that most reports be printed so that the time might be used for discussion, questions and recommendations.

It was decided not to organize an Under Shepherding Plan at this time, but that all should be reminded that it is the duty of each of us to notify Rev. Wiley when we know his services are needed and also when new families move into the area.

Unless something unexpected arises, the next meeting will be the first Thursday of January.

BOZO EXCITED ABOUT LOCAL SHOW SATURDAY

by Barbara Baumgardner

Taller than he appears on television, Stu Kerr strode into WMAR-TV's Television Hill studio lobby Monday afternoon clutching a notebook bulging with correspondence about Saturday's benefit performance of Bozo the Clown in Taneytown.

A broad grin and firm handshake hid any surprise at being cornered unexpectedly by a Jaycette in search of a story.

"I'm really looking forward to meeting the boys and girls in Taneytown Saturday morning. Seven years of being Bozo, and I'm still having as much fun as the kids!" Kerr settled into a leather chair and continued, "I've played to 45,000 children in those seven years—the longest running Bozo Show around. At one time there were 70 to a hundred Bozo's in the country, but we here at Channel 2 hold the record. TV stations purchase the Bozo cartoons, and the rights to the Bozo name and costume; we're still going strong."

Had he any previous experience as a clown or children's show star?

The familiar Kerr grin widened. "I'd done a little children's entertaining—just a bit, really. Introducing cartoons, western movies, etc., but never as a special character. It took me about four or five weeks to make the decision to do Bozo; I wasn't so sure I could do it—the voice change, the clowning, the makeup—and I was very busy announcing for WMAR. But the kids really loved it; and it was fun! They felt they were in on something . . . a big secret . . . we never said I was really Stu Kerr, but they knew and they went along with me as Bozo and felt they knew something no one else knew. It was, and it still is, wonderful."

"We can trust the children to do things, to help out with production. They are 'in' on many of the jokes and love it. One of the unusual things about the show is that we didn't at first include the kids; they were just the audience. But we began having them participate by accident."

"One time the whole skit idea for a show was built around Bozo talking on a fake telephone, pretending it was real. It rang; I answered and then asked if a certain little girl was there in the audience, that her mother wanted her on the phone (her mother and her Brownie leader had asked me to do this). We expected her to come up, answer the phone and say, 'It's just a pretend phone' or 'It's not working now, Bozo,' but instead, she picked up the phone and carried on a whole pretend conversation with her 'mother.' From that point on, four and a half years ago, the kids became a part of the show."

Kerr said that he has ten to fifteen "bits" that have worked well on the TV Bozo Show that he now saves for personal appearances. In all of them, Bozo asks the adults and the children present to help. His TV nephews, Somers, won't be along on Saturday. "With the busy sports schedule in the fall, it's difficult to get a regular sidekick from the staff. And the timing of the jokes gets 'way off' with someone filling in at the last minute."

Kerr says he never admits to being Bozo when the children question him. "If they see me moving props around before a show, I just say I'm along to help. I don't believe in breaking a secret." He feels that getting made up before the children would ruin much of the fun and mystery.

Bozo will perform on the Taneytown High School auditorium stage so that the audience can see him and his props. He prefers that the children sit up front—but not too close to the stage so that their necks get stiff from looking up. Jaycette Show Chairman Carleen Skiles has planned for an aisle between the stage and seats. And, of course, Bozo will bring along a few cartoons plus some special "in person" props. He always starts the show on time—in Saturday morning's case, 10:30.

"I have the route down pat—straight to Westminster and then on to Taneytown on route 97—right? Should be a nice drive. Haven't been to Taneytown before, but many of our letters come from there—very nice letters, too. I'm really anxious to meet the children."

The color TV screen in the lobby's corner signaled the end of Sylvia Scott's women's show, and Stu Kerr stood up, again the busy television personality and businessman. But with twinkling eyes and big smile, the real Bozo The Clown said goodbye 'til Saturday morning . . . in Taneytown.

Lyndon B. Johnson, President: "We must press urgently for the legislation now pending in Congress to help prevent the wrong persons from obtaining firearms."

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

As my friends drove me home from the hospital and coming up Charles Street, there was the gold coming down from the trees plentifully before us, making a gold carpet, spreading beautifully.

It was a delightful day, and as I stepped into the living room, across to the patio, there were the heads held high of those lavender mums which were so drooped when I left.

The night before I left the hospital, at a very late hour, they were rushing a young mother to the maternity which was right next to my room off the elevator for that little cherub next to her heart could not wait for that room and arrived in the lobby of the hospital! The desk attendant came up to tell me, "A little girl had arrived!"

And on Halloween night, there were only so few that came to the door and were so sweet when I told them that I did not have a chance to get out to buy the usual treats and that I just had arrived home from the hospital that afternoon! And to that they said so sweet and sympathetically, "Oh, that's all right!"

And when the milk man arrived he surprised me with this story when I told him about that little cherub, "Well, I'll tell you a funny one which happened down at the Glenburnie Hospital. A friend of mine was taken suddenly with appendicitis and after the operation there was no room so they placed him in the Maternity Ward and on that plastic bracelet they had, 'Mrs.'!"

If you are a worry wart—by all means read the book by Carnegie entitled, "How to Stop Worrying." And, my eldest son, the school teacher in Yuma, wrote that it surely aided him!

Don't forget that "HALO" Shampoo for your hair ladies—nothing to compare!

Remember that little plant that was sent to me from Florida? I had placed it in a larger pot when it started to thrive so beautifully and it is simply lovely. It now has seven beautiful leaves and is most graceful, yet it arrived in a little bent and cracked cardboard box!

Don't forget that "THE SOUND OF MUSIC" closes next month and be sure to see it, for it truly is the best movie of all times and will live forever! I hope to go again as soon as possible. D. V.

How wonderful it is to deal with a concern that makes you feel so confident, for that is the way we always felt toward Mr. Crouse (The Ford Man in Taneytown). And that is the reason I always go back to the Bob Davidson Ford Co., on Greenmount Ave., for there is a gentleman who surely knows his business right there (and I would not consult no other) Mr. Jim Elliott. He truly knows all the answers in his quiet and mild manner. To please any woman driver is something for they always go back. Just notice the next time!

Ladies, those wonderful TAM 'O' Shanters are in again—the very same when I was a growing girl and they truly are most attractive in all colors. And as to hats, there are so many huge ones and most beautiful.

Tried to get to Hutzler's Italian Fieschi but instead had to go upstairs to the room to lie down for I was that weak. So even without any operation to take a well person and put them to bed for them to get up feeling just like that—for that is what happened!

Have a grand week-end, folks. Be so careful when you drive. If you must hurry, try and leave an hour sooner for it will pay and pay and pay!

Until next week, D. V.
I am,
Faithfully yours,
Irene deLeon Love.

GRASSROOTS OPINIONS

CAMILLA, GA., ENTERPRISE:

"A good many years ago, when the first concerted effort was mounted by professional educators to get support for education from the federal government . . . The Enterprise . . .
pointed out that with federal money came control . . . of the minds of our youth . . . The injection of about five to ten per cent federal money into our state school program has given them the right to plan bus routes, order the shifting of pupils, force changes in facilities . . . and submission of each school district to Washington of a plan of how they would operate their schools for the present year . . . Our school people got federal help—but they have lost control of education. You and I will only lose our children."

COLUMBIA, MISS., PROGRESS:

"People have never been equal and never will be. One of the mistakes in some of our thinking and crusading is the thought that all must be equal. Nothing could be worse. We will never all be equal or should we attempt to force all to conform to the same pattern or habits, confusing equal opportunity with individual equality. There should be, still, admiration and respect for those with exceptional talent, skill, and mental capacity. They often contribute more than their share to society and the well-being of all and are the examples we must cite to younger generations."

SONOMA, CALIF., INDEX-TRIBUNE:

"When you read about the new minimum wage law . . . you wonder exactly what . . . spenders in Washington are doing. It has been the pattern in recent years to up the federal minimum wage law every time a major election rolls around or a labor czar snaps his fingers. Yet, every time the minimum is jumped, several thousand people are actually put out of work and on to the federal, state and county welfare rolls.
. . . You can pass legislation to fix wages at any level. But you can't create the jobs to go with the higher pay."

LA GRANGE, TEXAS, JOURNAL:

"The driver who thinks he can stop on a dime and that the cars behind him can do the same should reflect that three steps are required in stopping a car, Michael G. Birmingham of the Greater New York Safety Council declared. . . First is perception of the situation ahead, a recognition of a hazard. Second is reaction. The third factor is braking.
The car doing 60 may travel 300 feet more—the length of a football field —to come to a stop."

HAVELOCK, N. C., PROGRESS:

"No housewife worthy her title has to be told the price of a can of beans, quart of milk or loaf of bread has sharply increased in the past year.
Nor does the husband of local families have to be told he will pay more for Johnny's new school shoes or Sally's back-to-school dress. Inflation in previous years has been . . . referred to as cost-of-living increase. But in the past 12 months the cost of items has increased so sharply that it is now being called by its proper title, inflation."

ELK POINT, S. D., LEADER-COURIER:

"With all the advances that have been made by minority groups for their rights within recent years it is obvious that all is not well.
The drive has turned sour, people are tired of violence and some believe that there are some elements who turn their efforts to their own gain.
. . . All groups are going to have to obey the law. The only way that any real lasting progress can be made is for both sides to make sincere efforts within the framework of our laws."

GERMANTOWN, OHIO, PRESS:

"Japan, vanquished a quarter of a century ago, is today one of the most rapidly advancing nations in the world. The Japanese have a desire to excel, they have a desire to create,
to gain recognition for their nation.
They not only work to earn, they work to produce, for they know there is no substitute for production. In America it is no longer necessary to work hard to earn a wage, or to keep a job, and in many industries the Japanese are leading America."

PROVIDENCE, KY., JOURNAL-ENTERPRISE:

"We don't happen to think the average taxpayer can stand another increase in taxes. And he wouldn't have to if our men in Washington would quit playing footsie with each other and do the job they are sent there to do."

IT'S A FACT!

STATE FAIRS
The first California State Fair in 1854 had such remarkable "home grown" food on display—a 39-inch long carrot that weighed 10 pounds, 73-pound beets and man-sized melons—that the rest of the world did not believe it.

As proof to the world,
a Fair delegation carried some of these Gold Medal winners to Europe and returned with awards from many countries. It was then internationally established that the California awards went only to the best of foods.

This year, California's Gold Medal for Product Excellence was given to the Schilling Spaghetti Sauce Mix. The 1300 judges that sampled the Schilling Mix agreed that the quality was excellent.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Both of our banks are on the "Roll of Honor" of State Banks and Trust Companies, as they show surplus and undivided profits greater than their capital stock.

Presidential vote will be recounted. Wilson is elected on the face of the returns.

Taneytown was one of the districts to hold up its "dry" vote to very close that of two years ago.

A Husking Bee. True neighborliness was shown by a number of persons, neighbors and friends of Harry Cutsail, near Kump on Wednesday, when they gave a husking bee. It will be remembered that Mr. Cutsail underwent an operation some months ago. A sumptuous dinner was served by the hostess and her able assistants. The ladies assisted in husking as well as the men. Those who formed the husking bee were: B. L. Bowers and wife, Thomas Lemmon and wife, Truman Bowers and wife, Edward Harner and wife, Henry Hawk and wife, D. W. Mayers and wife, Frank Study and wife, Mrs. Emma King, Misses Naomi Mayers and Edna Bowers; Messrs. Geo. Bowers, Edward Copenhaver, Filmore Bowers, Wm. Stouffer, Samuel Currens, Robert Reaver, Birnie Shriner, Maurice Bowers, George Mayers, G. W. Krug, David Mehring, Charles Bowers, Clarence Mayers, John Stambaugh, and Edgar Sauerwein.

The Taneytown-Westminster state road has been evenly covered with a coating of flint gravel and some substance like tar, that makes it level and yet not too smooth for horse travel.

A Surprise Party. A very pleasant surprise party was held at the hospitable home of Charles Foreman and family, near Taneytown, on Wednesday evening, November 8th, in honor of their daughter, Elsie. The evening was spent in social conversation while the young folks indulged themselves with music on violin, banjo and guitar, with Mrs. John Shirk at the organ, until a late hour when all were invited to the dining room for refreshments, which consisted of: cakes, candies, popcorn and potato chips. At a late hour all departed for their homes.

Well, I am glad to be back on the job again—had so many things to attend to last week and neglected to write my letter. It seems time rushes on and waits for no one. Everyone is rushing here and rushing there, and still does not get much accomplished; but the most important thing to accomplish in this life is our soul salvation—if we neglect everything else let us not neglect that. How can we neglect so great a salvation.

My husband and I had the privilege of attending the W.C.S.C., Women's Christian Service Council, which was held at the First Church of God, Oak Hill, Md., near Legore; of course this was for the women but some of the husbands attended the services. There were two services beginning at 9:30 A. M. and coming to a close at 3:30 P. M. The morning message was brought by Rev. Summy, a missionary who is home on furlough and serving as pastor in West Penna. eldership churches. He told of his work in Khanjampur and East Pakistan and he told of his work with Dr. Fidelia Gilbert, and that of the former Miss Betty Helwig. In the afternoon he gave us another wonderful message from Matt. 9:36 to 38 and John 4:34-35 of our responsibilities; it was truly a wonderful day. Four of the W.C.S.C. ladies gave interesting talks of their visit in Finley, Ohio, where they attended the W.C.S.C. Summer seminar and told of the wonderful fellowship they had together and how the Lord had blessed them. Those from the Md. and Va. eldership churches of God of North America were Mrs. Rosella Fleagle, Mrs. Kathryn Corbin, Mrs. Joann Rockwell and Mrs. Charles Rockwell. The daily challenge of these W.C.S.C. Women is taken from the book of Micah 6:8 and II Tim. 6:8. Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman, who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth—II Tim. 2:15; and their benediction, now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likened one toward another according to Christ Jesus: that ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Romans 15:5-6. We are looking forward to going back next year, if the Lord willing.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Rauland Hancock and sons, Harold and Richard were supper guests on Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Stair and son, James, near Littlestown, Penna.

Baltimore St., Taneytown were Mrs. Hattie Null and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Null and grand daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Baker and family, Miss Hazel Frizzell and sister, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and children and Miss Marlene DeGroot were supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and family on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mable Smith of Keysville, spent the week-end in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, near Mayberry.

Oh, was it cold this morning (Mon.) it looked like a young snow, the ground was so white with frost—and looking out the window saw a car parked with hood way up in the air and steam shooting up over the car. You could not see anyone else in it. The owner borrowed a bucket and put some water in and was soon on his way. It was frozen up somewhere along the line.

NOVEMBER

Autumn's fires have been distinguished by the chill, somber touch of November. Now the country side is soberly clad in gray and brown, as the earth turns once more to a new season. Sweeping winds and driving rains bring down the last reluctant leaves, and the trees lift naked, shivering limbs to the bleak sky. This is a difficult month to appreciate, in many ways. However, in our section of the world, where the four seasons are so sharply defined, and the weather is to be varied and we must learn to accept the good with the bad.

The harvest is safely in, and nature seems to draw a deep breath before embarking on operation deep-freeze. Plump woodchucks are hibernating, and the gay summer birds have flown. Snow birds begin to visit the bird-feeder and bands of dusky crows congregate noisily in fields and meadows. Any day now, we may hear the honking of the wild geese as they wing their way westerlyward. The pheasants are extremely cautious, now that the hunters are abroad.

Twilights come early at this season of the year, and evenings seem long. However, by way of compensation, they bring us the luminous beauty of a full harvest moon. It is the time for enjoying the warmth of the hearth fire, or the pleasant crackle of the wood stove. I get out the corn-popper and turn out a huge bowl of fragrant popped corn, and even though there are only two here to eat it, the stuff goes like magic!

As Thanksgiving approaches, let us one and all take time out to count our many blessings, or at least, try to count them. Most of us have so many that this is an almost impossible task. This year, I am especially grateful for my wonderful family, kind friends and good neighbors. My whole life has been immeasurably brightened and enriched by their love, encouragement, generosity and understanding. My hope is that in some way, no matter how small, I too have helped give some one else a "lift." I firmly believe that God works through human instruments, that He always has, and always will. -Zola Cantwell

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports - John Breth

The sad thing about JIM TAYLOR playing out his option is that the Green Bay Packers may not even miss him if he goes.

The fuming fallback who has played such a large part in Green Bay championships announced over the week-end that he could not agree on terms with the Packers and was playing out his option. That would make him next free to make a deal for himself next year. It's just possible that the former Louisiana State man thinks New Orleans will get the next franchise in the National Football League. He would be a big attraction there.

However, that is conjecture. What is fact is that Taylor wants out from Green Bay because he can't get the salary he wants. Taylor is said to have asked the Packers to match the big salaries and bonuses paid the two star rookies, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

The Packers don't seem ready to do that. And paradoxically the reason they don't seem ready is not because Taylor is no longer able to carry the ball. Rather it's because Grabowski and Anderson have looked so good in their early-season games.

This is not a new situation in pro football. Big salaries and fat bonus checks given to rookies have caused discontent among other groups of veterans.

It's a tough enough pill for veterans to swallow when the rookies turn out to be good players, like Anderson and Grabowski and Joe Namath of the Jets last year. But when the rookies can't make it in pro ball but are kept on because of no-cut contracts, the veterans really rage.

It's hard to blame them. It's hard to blame Taylor. He has played some tremendous football for the Packers and helped build not only their standing as a team but their treasury. Taylor has been a box office draw.

But he has to take a back seat to a couple of rookies in the pay check department. The biggest single reason for that is because pro football teams like to look ahead more than they like to look back. It's an old gag. On Broadway it's called, "what have you done for me lately?" Left unsaid is, "What can you do for me tomorrow?"

Some experts already have conceded GREEN BAY the Western Conference title in the National Football League because the Packers have a one and one-half game lead. But that could be misleading because the Packers still have six games remaining, and furthermore, rarely is the western division race decided until the final day of the season.

A check of the record shows that in the last 15 years, the Western race has gone down to the final Sunday, 11 times. And three of those times it had gone beyond - to a playoff. In fact, Green Bay had to go to a sudden-death playoff last year before claiming the title.

Baltimore's standout quarterback, Johnny Unitas, says he had no idea he was close to the all-time N-F-L record for passing yardage when he completed the record pass to Ray Berry last Sunday. Berry says: "Maybe John didn't know but I did. It gave me a terrific thrill."

Now in his 11th pro season, Unitas has completed 1,919 of 3,500 passes for 28,375 yards - 36 yards above the former record held by Y. A. Tittle. Incidentally, Berry is the all-time N-F-L leader in receptions with 589 and in yards gained on passes with 8,687.

Chicago halfback Gale Sayers, was asked to compare this season with 1965, when he was the N-F-L rookie of-the-year. Sayers replied: "This season is just as much fun because I love to play football. If there's a difference, it's that there seems to be more people around me when I run."

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins cut his weight to under 200 lbs. this season. Asked if his loss of weight has improved his passing, Jurgensen said: "You don't throw the ball with your stomach."

The hottest quarterback in the N-F-L is Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings. In his last three games, Tarkenton has completed 61 of 98 passes for 836 yards and seven touchdowns. He also has run 22 times for 130 yards and three T-Ds.

Today's Sport Laugh - The president and general manager of the Atlanta Braves, John McHale, laughs at the idea that one ball club gets permission from another to talk to a man about switching jobs as manager or coach.

Says McHale: "They ask your permission, after they have talked to the man and decided they wanted to hire him."

DECEMBER

ACROSS THE FENCE

by ROBERT L. JONES
County Extension Agent

(This marks the beginning of a column that I'll be writing for the weekly newspapers every other week. I'll welcome your comments and suggestions.)

The Extension Service is the educational arm of the University of Maryland. Major emphasis is placed on Agriculture, Home Economics, and 4-H programs in Carroll County. Development of human and natural resources is of highest importance as the county staff works with all county residents as individuals, in group meetings and informal lectures.

"The greatest thing that has ever happened to Carroll County" was the expression commonly heard at the Carroll County Farm Museum's Fall Harvest Day. Mrs. Elsie Baust, Rt. 3, Westminster, did a superb job of arranging the 19 different demonstrations.

With six or seven thousand enthusiastic people viewing the exhibits, it's little wonder the kettle of home-made apple butter failed to meet the demand. Seems as if next year, they'll need several kettles.

While the museum will be closed until next April, groups can still make arrangements to go through by calling the museum office. It'll give a breathing spell to the Board of Governors, headed by Elmer Pfoutz, Rt. 7, Westminster, to get exhibits shifted and rearranged. Much additional work will be done in order to have the main house open for spring.

Alfalfa can be safely cut now and put away either as hay or silage with little chance of regrowth. It's the regrowth which causes the trouble because it takes the strength out of the root system.

Alfalfa seeded this year would be an exception. The top growth can furnish protection against winter injury so it's best to leave these first year stands alone.

Charles Cluts, Keysville, asked if frosted alfalfa was dangerous to feed. Since no poisonous chemical is present in alfalfa, the only danger is bloat which is always present during heavy dews.

Economic growth and development works hand in hand with educational attainment, said Dean F. Tutthill, University of Maryland Economist, at the Governor's Conference on Economic Development. The Englehardt survey, the meeting of industrial leaders and school officials to consider vocational training needs and the announced curriculum study by George E. Thomas, Superintendent of Schools, would indicate that Carroll County is taking a practical look at its educational needs. Good planning for the years ahead deserves our full support.

Apple Pie Time

At this time of year thoughts of pie naturally turn to apple—the spicy, delectable kind grandma used to make. Autumn Apple Pie has that old-fashioned goodness with a space age twist. The secret of the tender, flaky pastry is in a package of your favorite pie crust mix!

AUTUMN APPLE PIE

Makes one 9-inch pie
Filling: 1/4 cup firmly-packed brown sugar, 1/4 cup all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, Dash salt, 6 cups pared, sliced apples. For filling, combine sugar, flour, spices and salt; set aside. For crust, empty contents of package into bowl. Sprinkle water by tablespoonfuls over mixture; stir lightly with fork until just dampened. (If necessary, add another tablespoon cold water to make dough hold together.) Form into ball. Divide dough into 2 parts, one slightly larger than the other. Keep the smaller part for the top crust. With lightly floured rolling pin, roll larger part on lightly floured board or canvas to form a 13-inch circle. Fit pastry loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Trim, allowing 1/4-inch beyond rim. Sprinkle apple slices with lemon juice. Alternate layers of apple slices and sugar mixture over pie crust; dot with butter. Roll other part of dough to form 12-inch circle. Cut slits to allow steam to escape. Adjust crust over filling. Trim; allowing 1/2-inch beyond rim. Fold top crust under bottom crust; flute. Bake in preheated very hot oven (450° F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375° F. and bake 30 to 35 minutes longer or until apples are tender. Serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Union
Sunday School Lessons
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

The Unarmed Victor
Lesson For November 13, 1966

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 36.

Devotional Reading: Psalms 119:89-96

The opponents of truth always seem to be by far the better-armed warriors. The foes of Paul and his gospel had the whole weight of the Roman Empire and the Jewish nation behind them. Galileo was a tiny minority of one before the combined colossus of Church and State. While volume after volume was thrown upon the sinister bonifides of Nazi Germany, no one seemed able to oppose Hitler's brown-shirted

Rev. Althouse legions. So it was when Judah's King Jehoiakim determined to silence the troublesome prophet Jeremiah, and his prophecies. All the power seemed arrayed against truth, its few friends impotent to carry on the fight. Jeremiah, the king ruled, was forbidden to speak any longer in the area of the temple.

More Than Prudent

A prudent man would have quit right there, but Jeremiah was more loyal to his God than prudently responsive to good reason. Forbidden to speak the truth in public, he wrote it on a scroll and gave it to Baruch, his secretary, to read before the ministers of the king. Equally resourceful, the king cut the scroll into strips and contemptuously burned them. Undismayed, Jeremiah wrote his prophecies on another scroll. Scrolls and books may be burned, but truth, no matter how impotent it may seem in its own self-defense, will be the ultimate victor!

In Pasternak's "Jewel, Doctor Zhivago, Uncle Kolia protests that what man needs is not suppression by force, not the lion tamer with his whip to hold down "the beast who sleeps in man." To the contrary, he says, "... what has for centuries raised man above the beast is not the cudgel but an inward music: the irresistible power of unarmed truth, the powerful attraction of its example."

(C 1958 by Pantheon Books, Inc., N. Y., Div., of Random House.)

Truth may appear to be unarmed — and it is in the usual sense of what we mean by "arms" and "weapons" — but it perseveres with an irresistible power over which no man, nation, or civilization can ultimately prevail. We may silence the prophets, we may crush truth to earth again and again, but it will rise again and again and again because it is God's truth.

To Suffer A Season

Men of courageous loyalty, therefore, will link themselves to unarmed truth and suffer with it for a season, even a lifetime, because they know it must ultimately prevail in God's good time. Woodrow Wilson once said, "I would rather fail in a cause I know must ultimately succeed, then succeed in a cause I know must ultimately fail." A farmer put it more picturesquely: "I'd rather chase a rabbit and not catch it, then chase a skunk and catch it." Better to suffer with and for the unarmed truth than prosper with the powerful lie. Truth may seem to stand alone, a frail, impotent creature, but behind truth there stands the awesome power and purpose of God. That is why in the long run this unarmed warrior is the victor.

Friends of Abraham Lincoln advised him not to make a particular speech during his unsuccessful bid for the United States Senate in 1858. The speech, though true, would be harmful to him, they said. But Lincoln would not agree: "If it is decreed that I go down because of this speech, then let me go down linked to the truth."

The friends of truth must be willing to "go down linked to the truth," to pay the price this friendship may require. Jeremiah was such a friend, so was Baruch, and so were the king's ministers who bravely carried to him the forbidden scroll. The contents of the scroll would likely infuriate him, and jeopardize their lives, but, confident that truth would ultimately prevail, they were loyal friends of this unarmed warrior. Are you?

THE FAMILY LAWYER

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

To brighten up a dull afternoon, two men tied an oil can to a dog's tail and set the oil on fire. At the time it seemed hilarious. But the men did not laugh when they were hauled into court and found guilty of cruelty to animals.

Few of us today would quarrel with the court's ruling. Yet, until comparatively recent years, cruelty to animals was not a crime at all. The common law did protect the property rights of an animal's owner, but did not protect the animal itself. Thus:

Supposed A abused B's horse. B, having suffered an injury to his property, could collect damages from A. But suppose B abused his own horse. Or suppose the horse was a stray, with no owner to be concerned. Then the law kept silent. Nothing stayed the brutal hand.

But if the common law did not condemn, common decency finally did. In a striking shift of public opinion, cruelty to animals—in itself—has now been branded everywhere as a crime.

Economics has nothing to do with it. When a man was fined for turning an old horse out to starve, the court spoke not of the dollar value of the horse but of the moral outrage to one of God's creatures.

True, we may still inflict harm on an animal for an honorable reason. Thus we may kill an animal—humanely—for food.

"Otherwise," a judge noted, "one could not slaughter a pig or ox for the market, and man could eat no more meat."

Furthermore, we may hit an animal in self defense. A man who struck a frenzied cat, which had a death grip on his hand, was held to have acted within the law.

Also we may chastise an animal as a matter of training—or perform surgery on it as a matter of health. Nor are cruelty laws carried to unreasonable extremes. Surely it is no crime to swat a fly or bait a hook with a worm.

What the law does denounce is conduct that affronts the modern conscience. One court put it this way:

"Animals whose lives are devoted to our use and pleasure deserve kindly treatment. The dominion of man over them, if not a moral trust, has a better significance than the development of malignant passions and cruel instincts. Human beings should be kind and just to dumb brutes, if for no other reason than to learn how to be kind and just to each other."

EMERGENCY LIVESTOCK FEED PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Government-owned feed grains will be offered to eligible farmers in Carroll County at reduced prices and in keeping with local support levels for the feed grains supplied, according to Gary R. Brauning, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The program is intended to help maintain foundation herds and other eligible livestock.

The Chairman explains that the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to make Commodity Credit Corporation-owned feed grains available to eligible farmers in areas where drought or other natural disaster has severely affected grain, pasture, and hay crops. "Eligible" farmers, according to the law are persons in the affected area who do not have sufficient feed for such livestock, and are unable to obtain it through normal trade channels without undue financial hardship.

This year, the price at which Government-owned feed grains will be offered to farmers or ranchers for foundation herds of livestock—including producing dairy cattle—will amount to 90 percent of the sum of the county loan rate and a set amount per bushel for the grain involved.

Thus for corn in Carroll County, the livestock feed grain price for foundation herds is $1.24 per bu. (90 percent of the $1.17 county loan rate and 19 cents).

For other eligible livestock, the feed grain price will be based on 115 percent of the sum of the local loan rate and the additional 19 cents for corn.

Under this year's livestock feed program, farmers may obtain the feed grains on the basis of a maximum of 5 lbs. per animal unit per day for eligible livestock.

The CCC-owned feed grains, as available, will be offered under the livestock feed program through the ASCS county office. The ASC County Committee is responsible for determining eligibility of producers for assistance.

WALKERSVILLE MAN HONORED

Brigadier General Robert W. Paulson, Commander of the European-African-Middle Eastern Communications Area, recently presented the Air Force Commendation Medal to Major William R. Sell of Walkersville in ceremonies at Lindsey Air Station, Wiesbaden, Germany. The award was made for exceptionally meritorious service as Frequency Management Officer at Headquarters, United States Air Force in Washington from 15th November 1961 to 30th June 1966.

The citation accompanying the award reads in part: "During this period, Major Sell consistently devoted an exceptionally high level of energy, analytical ability, and outstanding leadership to solve numerous complex radio frequency management problems in the Air Force. His extraordinary knowledge, superior problem-solving ability, and outstanding initiative have resulted in significant contributions to the Air Force, the Department of Defense, and the national radio frequency management community. Using his superior negotiating skills, he developed outstanding and extremely effective relationships with the radio frequency management agencies of foreign governments. The distinctive accomplishments of Major Sell reflect credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

During his assignment in Washington, Major Sell served on many committees and Ad Hoc working groups concerned with developing international frequency allocation tables. A well-known figure in the national frequency management community, he has made several trips to foreign capitals as a member of U. S. delegations to negotiate agreements for uses of the radio frequency spectrum.

Major Sell has just recently assumed new duties as Chief of the Radio Frequency Division for U. S. Air Forces in Europe. He and his family currently reside in Erbach, Germany, a small community on the Rhine River on the outskirts of Wiesbaden. A daughter, Mrs. William C. Rice, Jr., resides in Walkersville and a son, William Jr., is attending Shippensburg State College, Penna. (Major Sell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Sell of Taneytown. His wife is the former Geraldine Evans of Hanover, Penna.).

Barry Goldwater, former GOP Presidential candidate: "When white and black and brown and every other color decide they're going to live together as Christians, then and then only are we going to see an end to these troubles."
